Irina: I read the first question: “Why are you sure that your ideology is the best for humanity? Give evidence of this." When the box started talking, it spoke with rather long pauses between words, you even have time to write it down, no need to make abbreviations. So, why are you sure that your ideology is the best for humanity?

Answer. Because our ideology allows us to effectively manage people in the interests not of individual groups that will capture the attention of people with their rhetoric, but in the interests of the entire society, in which power structures should rule. Only through universal control can power be truly effective. Convincing evidence is before everyone's eyes. Reasonable demands and laws of your government are ignored, which leads to chaos, a decline in the economy and a deterioration in the quality of life of both government structures and individual citizens.

Vladimir : It's clear, total order, if I should comment, which is due to the chemical impact on the population. No one breaks the laws, and those who break are mutants, they are moved to a special, separate planet, experiments are carried out on them.

Irina : Moreover, they do not hide the fact that they are exposed to chemicals, the population there knows about this.

Vladimir : It's clear, what else should they do? You know, you don't know, and if you don't agree, go to the planet of mutants, to robots, there are experiments. What's the solution?

38:38 Social structure on the planet Shentricussa.

Irina : Second question: "Tell me in detail about the political and social structure on your planet. Do you have democracy, freedom of speech and censorship?"

Answer. Naturally, we do not have democracy, just like you and the Interstellar Union. Democracy is a great illusion when society is ruled by the ideas of the most clever demagogue, even if he is a skilled deceiver.

Freedom of speech is not allowed anywhere, because it will lead to strife and war. Of course we have censorship. She is a great blessing that protects the minds of wavering people (this is how humanoids translated it) from the destructive influence of those who call for freedom for the sake of their own power. We have an analogue of war communism. We are ruled by the party (that's how the word was translated as party).

Vladimir: Some kind of group, savvy with ideological platforms.

Irina: To join it, you must be loyal to the authorities from childhood and earn special points through training and work. The party is hierarchical. At the top are the smartest and most experienced of its members, for whom the rest of the party members (not all humanoids, but party members) will vote. The rest don't choose.

Vladimir : Since the party rules, the power is completely in its hands, and everything happens within the party itself. And in order to get there, we learned what was needed.

Irina : Social structure: free housing, utilities, education and medicine. There is no money in circulation. There are only electronic payments via chips. Everyone is required to work. There is no private property at all, except for personal clothing, utensils and personal items. There are no private houses or cars. There are public ones, but no private ones.

Vladimir : War communism, these are its characteristics. The box translated correctly.

Irina : There is no entrepreneurship. Consequently, there is also no inflation and no credit. They are all on the same level.

41:55 Happiness and dissent on Schentricus.

Irina: Third question: "How do you make your residents happy, and what happens to those who disagree?"

Answer. We create all the conditions for happiness by protecting the peace of every member of society. Everyone is protected from the injustice and arbitrariness of local authorities (they still have control over local authorities in cities). Some mutants have brains that are resistant to the chemical effects of our drugs. They sit quietly, but sometimes they raise their heads for the abolition of the death penalty, for example, or for the abolition of birth control. But the residents themselves report such people, and law enforcement officers isolate them in a special laboratory, where they are looking for a way to bypass their mutation and change their consciousness for their own good.

Vladimir : Are these mutants not subject to the death penalty?

Irina : They have the death penalty for something else, not for saying something. For this they are looking for a way to bypass mutations.

43:41 Crime and punishment on Chentricusse.

Irina: Fourth question: “What do you consider problems? Do you have prisons, and who are there?”

Answer. If a mutant has committed a serious crime: murder of a sentient being, theft of state property, insulting a government official, or calling for disobedience to authority, then if this mutant is a healthy humanoid who can work for the state, he is placed in a labor colony. If he refuses or is unable to work in sufficient quantities, then the death penalty is applied to him by chemical euthanasia.

Vladimir : Let's call it by its proper name: they kill him, put him to sleep using poison.

Irina : If he stole, did something and can work, then he is sent to work for some period of time. They made me understand that the deadlines were different, but not small. If he cannot work or refuses, he becomes redundant and is killed.

Vladimir: This is called the fight against dissent in various ways, including the death penalty.

45:26 Possibility of contact with the residents of Shentrikussa.

Irina : Fifth question: “Let me talk to two or three residents who do not know about us and our conversation.”

Answer. It is not necessary. After all, contact with other races of the Cosmos is possible only with the special sanction of the party, which considers this application for about two weeks (he himself received this sanction).

Vladimir : He’s a party member, of course.

Irina : Even party members receive it, like everyone else. He received.

Vladimir : Before the next question, I will give a short comment. This is a good system, in quotes. It is impossible to know anything about what even microchipped residents who are exposed to chemicals actually think. It is impossible to learn anything from any of them, they do not allow communication with aliens, in this case we are also aliens. They admit proven people, those who definitely won’t say anything bad. This is a very important indicator of all this, so to speak, social progress.

46:55 Plans of the “Union of Six” regarding the Earth.

Irina : Sixth question: “How do you plan to promote your ideas for earthlings? Do you have contactees on Earth?”

Answer. We have astral, as you call them, contactees on Earth. We communicate with them using devices and chips from Selbet and its colonies, which are supplied to contactees by their partners from Tashiga and its colonies. We plan to gradually show the path to nanochip technologies to your authorities. After introducing them to the masses of people, we activate the field that controls the chips so that these chips send mental impulses to earthlings that there is no need to join the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light, because we are the only ones who will give you stability and peace.

Vladimir : I see. At this point I would like to once again appeal to all my compatriots from planet Earth, who are doing their best to scare themselves and everyone around them and support the idea that chemtrails are being poured on our heads and that vaccines contain nanochips. So that you now understand why this is being implemented. You support these ideas, and with the field of this collective fear you can really attract this situation. So that chemtrails really appear with the help of Draco civilizations or in some other way (there are many tools in the Universe) according to the law of similarity, so that what you fear happens, so that you find yourself in such a situation and become citizens of the same civilization on Earth. You have now heard what is happening on this planet.

You are grist for their mill by promoting collective fears among yourself and others. You seem to be afraid, as if you are in denial, but in fact you are doing everything, consciously or unconsciously, to make such a situation happen, and to really control you with the help of chemtrails and nanochips. Now this is not the case, but you are doing everything to make it happen, supposedly fighting it, so you fully fulfill the wishes of those who are now broadcasting from the place where Irina was. Let's continue.

Irina : We will tell your special services how to make such nanochips and shield radiation, for which it will be dangerous to your health. Then the Interstellar Union will not go for decontamination.

Vladimir : The idea is clear. If they are deactivated, it can lead to bad health consequences or even death. The Interstellar Union will be disarmed by this, and it will be possible to control our consciousness through implanted chips in approximately the same way as is happening now on this totalitarian planet. All clear.

Irina : And the Interstellar Union will not go to war with us in order to seize control of the nanochips. Because his concept of the value of any life of a rational being and the power of Love are a weak link that does not allow political and military will to be shown in cases where there is no direct invasion, as with Selbet.

Vladimir : I see. With Selbet, this means direct invasion. It was possible to use this, but here, that means they won’t be able to.

Irina : We will not do this, because the army of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light is much more powerful than ours.

Vladimir : Again, fortunately, but they came up with other ways, without military intervention.

Irina : We will act with a mind unencumbered by blind faith in retribution after death, and we will achieve our goals in this world, and not in the illusory imagination that you call the Spiritual World.

Vladimir : Yes, from their point of view, all this is a ghostly imagination. It doesn't exist for them. They have a different ideology.

Irina : You are ready to tolerate any bastards.

Vladimir : This is what the translator translated (what I warned you about). We chose the word as close as possible.

Irina : If only your God would place you in heaven. We are ready to create heaven with our own hands. If God is dissatisfied with this, let him destroy wars and social injustice. We are doing His work, let him thank us.

Vladimir : I see, good. There is nothing more to comment on; the viewers and listeners themselves will draw the conclusions they wish.

52:23 Relationship between Shentricussa and Selbet.

Irina : Seventh question: “What is your relationship with Selbet and its colonies?”

Answer. We have stable relations with Selbet and its colonies. We trade with each other and explore space together.

Vladimir : I see. We don't know if everyone is speaking back to us. Fine.

52:53 Disagreements between the “Union of Six” and the Interstellar Union.

Irina : Eighth question: “What exactly do you disagree with in the Interstellar Union, why don’t you join there?”

Answer. We do not agree that the world of the Interstellar Union is divided into material and spiritual. This division misleads those who are ready to fight for happiness in the material world. The love of evil and anarchy is destructive. Its carriers must be destroyed so that they do not destroy society and set a bad example for it. There are many other reasons for disagreement. But this is the main thing in ideology.

Vladimir : To translate evil, you need to fight it with the help of another evil that is stronger than the first. This is such an ideology.

54:59 Armament on Schentricus.

Irina : Ninth question: “Tell me, if possible, about your most powerful weapon.”

Answer. Our weapons are laser waves and destructors of atomic lattices. In action they are terrible for you. But this cannot be compared even close to the weapons of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light.

Vladimir : God grant that this be so. You can also bluff here, we don’t know, but let’s hope.

Irina : They said that the Interstellar Union has more powerful engines. There aren't even gravitational engines on Schentricus; they fly differently.

54:50 “Union of Six” about the military confrontation with the Interstellar Union.

Irina: Tenth question: “If you had sufficient military strength, would you start a war with the Interstellar Union for your ideals?”

Answer. Yes, we could use military force against the Interstellar Union in this case, in order to free your society from their ideas of universal Love and indifference to any dirt. They introduced these ideas into your society through religions, instilling along the way a harmful attitude about the value of free will. Free will, which manifests itself uncontrollably, is destructive to civilization.

In the Interstellar Union itself there are strict laws, which means there is no trace of free will there. The Interstellar Union hopes that you yourself will understand how to manage this free will. They don't care how many of you die. Think about whether they really love you as much as they say.

Vladimir : A very interesting answer for me. On the one hand, it is said that the Interstellar Union does not care how many die. But when all this is broadcast, it is absolutely clear that if they could introduce their own ideology, they would simply go, as they directly stated, to war against the Interstellar Union; if they had enough strength, they would destroy many times more of the population. We would be willing to make sacrifices for the sake of our ideals, something that happens spontaneously here, as if with the connivance of the Interstellar Union. I have no doubt that they would “mow down” in order to restore order and take away our free will. And everyone who did not agree with this would face a very sad fate.

This is my opinion, I am commenting on my own behalf, and you, our dear viewers, form your own opinion, decide for yourself whether I am right or wrong, after hearing all this ideology. The desire to fight, to impose one’s vision, so that there is no free will, which is so bad in the Interstellar Union.

57:12 Distinctive places on the planet Shentricussa.

Irina : Next was the question: “What are your most beautiful and unpleasant places on the planet?”

He turned on the screen and showed that one of the most beautiful places is high brown mountains, similar to ours, snowy peaks, there is no vegetation there. He said: "Sky, sun and mountains." There is mountainous terrain there.

An unpleasant place - they showed a snow-covered plain where there was a blizzard. This is their pole. He said that the temperature there could be minus 30, which is very cold for them. They are used to warmer temperatures, so for them this is an unpleasant place where few people go. Snow, blizzard, nothing visible. Steppe. This is an unpleasant place on the planet for them; they don’t want to be there.

He pressed buttons on the table, and the pictures changed on the screen.

58:11 Food on Schentricus.

Irina: I asked to try their favorite food. He said that he didn’t mind giving it, but after he prepared it in front of me, I refused.

Vladimir : Would you have to take off your spacesuit then?

Irina : Yes, I would have to take off my spacesuit, but when I saw that they had a favorite, I didn’t want to try it.

Vladimir : And what is this?

Irina : At first he brought a cone-shaped glass with a wide neck. Glass vase, transparent, like our glass. I took out two bags. One with finely chopped green leaves of their plant, sprinkled. Then he went to the wall. There was a tube sticking out there; it turned out to be their faucet. At first I thought that he was pouring milk: such a white, thick liquid, like our sour cream. But it turned out that this was not milk, but a suspension of calcium carbonate, which they needed for their shell. He added another bag of orange powder (it gives a dye and some kind of taste), put it on the table, and said: “I’ll be right back.” He went out into another room and brought in his hands a green lizard with a tail (he has four fingers on his hands, long, with small and curved claws at the ends, like cats), with a long neck. He held it over the glass with one hand, and with the other he carefully unscrewed her head. Pink blood spurted out from her neck, he squeezed it out and said: “You can try it.”

I asked: “Why did you add that there?” “The substances contained in her blood act on our brain. The hormone of pleasure, joy and meaning in life is released.”

Vladimir : It’s clear how we have endorphins. I squeezed out the lizard, and immediately there was happiness.

Irina : If your curators allow you, we can arrange an atmosphere to reduce the amount of carbon dioxide while you drink, since you were asked on Earth. As far as we have studied earthly organisms, this will not cause any harm. Bergaster looked at me, I said: “No, I don’t want to.”

Vladimir : I decided not to fulfill the administrator’s request and did the right thing in this situation.

Irina : Also calcium carbonate, it’s chalk. Also, drinking chalk with blood, what is that anyway?

Vladimir : Chalk with lizard blood is already a serious cocktail. One more chalk would be nice.

Irina : Suspend it, and they added some other orange dye.

Vladimir : I see. This means that the lizard did not drink the blood. Were these all the questions or more?

Irina : That's all we recorded.

1:01:41 Engines of Shentricussa and Interstellar Union.

Irina: Then he said that we can visit another planet together, not on their ship, but on ours. When I was taken to Earth, he remained on his planet. Bergastre told me that they would later come back for him and take him to his planet. Because the distance to the planet of biorobots is about 700 light years. On a ship with Schentricus technology, since they do not have a gravitational engine, these 700 light years they fly about 45 of our days.

Vladimir : What kind of engines do they have there? How is the planetary status of the Interstellar Union?

Irina : No, something like photon, but not photon rays, but some kind of photon waves that are emitted and repelled by them from some kind of vacuum, I didn't understand.

Vladimir : In general, a different technology. There is no gravity or planetary drive. It's clear.

Irina : Their engine hardly makes more than 10-15 light years in an earthly day.

Vladimir : For us, of course, this would be happiness, but not for the Interstellar Union. So, you flew to the planet of robots, where the mutants were?

Irina : By the way, when a few minutes later we found ourselves on the planet of robots, he was also surprised that we got there so quickly. I saw the expression in his eyes, felt his energy, he looked around. It was clear that he had not flown on the ships of the Interstellar Union, but had simply heard about them.

Vladimir : They moved almost instantly. It's clear. Now about the planet.

01:03:38 Planet Lernesi of the constellation Orion. Schentricussa robots.

Irina : When we moved, we found ourselves on the site, like a mountain. There was a wooden bridge leading from this mountain. We walked across this bridge. It ended with a platform from which one could look at the field as if from the fifth floor. It was dark where we arrived the second time, the lights were just glowing. He said something, and the spotlights came on overhead. Everything became visible.

Vladimir : Like in a concentration camp, everything was illuminated, right?

Irina : I saw in this field (it is smooth, without grass, empty), as far as the eye can see, small trailers go beyond the horizon where people live, only they have glass, transparent walls, as I was told, for observation.

There were other lizards with black skin similar to this reptilian. There were several types. I saw creatures that looked like people in several of these boxes. I asked: “There are people there, look, Bergastre? Maybe they even keep earthlings there?” He looked and said that their energy device shows (the device in Bergastra’s ship) that these are also not people, but biorobots. The intelligent living beings that are present there are a race of reptilians. I asked: “Then what is it?” And this representative, who flew with us, answers me. He introduced himself and I wrote down his name.

Vladimir : Is this the same one who spoke from the very beginning?

Irina : The one who spoke to me from the very beginning, but not the one who conveyed information.

I asked: “Where is Roy Richman, who talked to us?” He replied: “RoyRichman is one of the scientists, and I am a politician.” He identified himself as MikhShrorun, head of the Council of the planet Shentrikussa in the foreign policy department.

Vladimir : It’s clear, the position is clear. So these were biorobots after all, not people?

Irina : He said that these are biorobots. I asked: “What kind of planet is this?” He said. There is a huge platform for experiments here. Firstly, over mutants, over those who do not obey the government. They are not affected by the chemical and electromagnetic signals that the tower and niobium chips emit. All of them still miss the thoughts of this intelligent being himself, which contradict their attitudes. They place him here even if he has not committed any crime, but only poses a potential danger to them.

Vladimir: Dissident.

Irina: It seems like he can do anything. They begin to investigate where he got this mutation and why these substances don’t work. And they begin to try on it, test different combinations of substances, fields, in order to change it.

Vladimir: Dissident.

Irina: He can pretend and say: “Yes, I submit to you,” but he himself thinks differently. It turns out, no, it's not that simple. They are doing some tests. This is the first direction.

Second direction. We are producing biorobots that will imitate the nervous system of our species, so that consciousness through a computer will somehow move in the form of electromagnetic waves into this body so that it becomes immortal, eternal. They don't believe in the Spiritual World there. I read how they treat everything.

I also asked: “You don’t believe in astral travel, how then do you want to leave your body and enter a biorobot?” When we were on the planet, we talked (the box was with us and translated). He replied that this is not an exit from the body, as you imagine the Astral. With the help of special technology, a computer program reads consciousness from the brain, sends it to the computer, and then to this biorobot.

Vladimir : They believe that you can transfer your personality, your consciousness through a computer. This is technology from science fiction.

Irina : They said that these are only experiments for now.

Vladimir : They believe that using a computer you can somehow record it on electronic media, then transfer it to the body of a biorobot. This will be instead of the incarnation of the rational Spirit, which occurs in the way known to us. This can also be done by machine. Interesting story. Machine it all.

Irina : I asked: “If you simply count your consciousness and transfer it to a biorobot, how do you know that it will be your consciousness and not a copy of it?” They told me that the essence of consciousness itself is in the signals that are read.

Vladimir : It would be interesting to hear comments from the Interstellar Union on this very topic, but then we will ask Mead, as a biologist.

Irina : I asked: “What are these biorobots that look like people, what are they?” He said: “We are doing experiments, creating biorobots that will know your languages, all your features, will behave according to programs, like people, so that they cannot be distinguished at all. They will even imitate internal organs so that they can do, for example, an x-ray and still find out that it is a person. They will contain a liquid similar to blood, so that no tests can prove it. So that behavior can be imitated in different situations.”

I asked: “Why is this necessary?” He explained that they can make any form of biorobot. It's just plastic that can be at a certain temperature. It is liquid at first and then hardens. It is cast in molds, you can use a photograph. He said: “Any member of your society can be photographed, even the ruler, for example. Then make the outer shell of a biorobot, like his. You just need to count in such a way that it imitates his behavior. So far it hasn't worked out. These are just experiments, but they are being carried out here. Scientists are very interested in this. If, in addition to chips, such biorobots are introduced, they will speed up the adoption of laws."

I say: "Why do you need these biorobots?"

- If they are among politicians, scientists, military men, as if instead of these people...

- Where do you plan to send the people you are going to replace with biorobots?

- You never know where to put them.

01:12:08 The reason for the interest of the "Union of Six" in Earth.

Vladimir : I always have a question: why do they have such a keen interest in Earth? Why do they even need it, why do they so persistently want to introduce their ideology here, instead of the Interstellar Union?

Irina: This is a planet that has not yet entered the Interstellar Union, but at the same time we have potential. We have a lot of people, natural wealth, resources, nature. They are interested in our planet as their employee in the future, so that they can live on it.

Vladimir : Make your own colony here, in fact. I would have already directly called it.

Irina : So that there is no longer a Union of Six, but...

Vladimir : Union of Seven. The Interstellar Union, due to its softness, as they believe, and not the desire to harm, any humanistic ideals, will not want to intervene. He could, but he won't want to. And they will be able to use it perfectly.

Irina : I look at them, and Bergastre and Raom Tiyan are talking to him. Kirchiton also stood there, watching. He was with us, looked at it all, but was mostly silent. Bergastre says: “When you introduce biorobots, this is prohibited, it will be recognized. If you kidnap a person, that’s interference, proof of contact.” He says, “What is the proof of contact if it looks like a human? No one will prove anything that this is from another planet.”

- This is interference in political affairs, this is prohibited in the Interstellar Union.

- You, Interstellar Union, and you personally cannot punish me according to your laws, we are not members of your Union. I am not responsible according to your laws.

- In any case, it is forbidden to do this, then the path of your ships will be blocked, and you simply will not be able to visit.

- We still have all this in our plans, how will you block the path? According to your laws, this cannot be done with plans alone.

- In any case, counteraction will be found.

The reptilian looks at him and says: “Where is the Light of Love? Or maybe I’ll change, send it to me.”

Vladimir : I want to say my point of view. I think they are quite cunning; he doesn’t say a lot. They have some ways, in my opinion, in which they are going to implement this. Moreover, they have allies, some colonies of Tashigans, perhaps. We don’t know everything, they didn’t tell everything, but I hope that the Security Service of the Interstellar Union are quite intelligent embodied intelligent Spirits, they all understand this no worse than me. If necessary, there will be opposition. It is clear that these guys will do everything possible and impossible to implement these plans.

Friends! Irina will finish now, but I now want to tell you one important thing on my own behalf. Do you understand how? There is one point here. In my opinion, in many ways they are specifically trying to achieve this: so that you and I begin to radiate hostility, hatred, disgust towards them, do you understand? Specially! Because if we broadcast this in response to the story, then you will begin to attract similar energies, this is their goal. It is not their goal for you to love them, and perhaps accept this ideology. Someone will accept - good. And whoever does not accept this and begins to hate is also good, because this energy of darkness, hatred, it will only help them.

Which way? Understand that they have the right to such a choice. It's all the same to send some form of Love and acceptance. Yes, they have such free will, the Creator allows it, he loves everyone infinitely, of course, therefore this is the only way, only Light can influence darkness. If you confront evil, hatred, darkness with darkness, the darkness will only intensify. They are most likely counting on this too. Let's not fall for this bait. There is no need to start branding them, hating them, sending evil, we will only, on the contrary, begin to fulfill their goals. Fear even more so. Then this is what they would like. No!

Light of Love, understanding and acceptance. Yes, this can happen too. But this does not mean that you need to follow this ideology, continue to be afraid of imaginary ones that do not exist yet, nanochips, chemtrails, doubles, which everyone is afraid of. The stage is being prepared for this to happen. Instead, to carry and broadcast the Light that we have inside, we have it all in the project. With this Light, dissolve all these potential problems. This is my important digression. Now I'll let you finish. What happened next?

Irina : Naturally, we talked about a drug known throughout the world, I briefly told him. He said that he is aware of the situation on Earth and is monitoring your political events (before we left, he remained on the planet of biorobots). I asked: "Do you think that you, personally, are exposed to these drugs? DNA change, etc. Is this your technology, perhaps?" He replied: "No, this is definitely not our technology, we don't act like that. If this were our technology, we would implement it through the most popular substance."

Vladimir : Yes. It would not be necessary to do everything in such a complicated way; it could be simpler, through those substances that are already used everywhere. It's clear. If the Interstellar Union allowed this, they would really like it, but these are their dreams.

01:18:24 Birth control on Schentricus.

Irina : I say: “You said about birth control, what does that mean?” They are also oviparous, like many reptilians. He said they use birth control. In order to have a child (albeit in this way, their woman can lay one egg, maybe once every few earthly years - everything is more complicated than ours), in order for them to have a child, parents must, firstly, undergo a special training course . By the way, they raise him themselves, do not send him anywhere and must, of course, be loyal to the government, must undergo a full health examination - there are many nuances. And only then are they given certain permission.

I say: “What if, without permission, this child is also killed?” They explained to me that substances that block them are added along with food and water. Those who are given permission are given a special drug that turns them on again.

Vladimir : Some kind of antidote, perhaps, which removes the effect of what is given to everyone. What else, or did you already break up after that and start coming back?

Irina : I thanked you for such fairly frank answers. He spoke quite frankly about the Interstellar Union. It wasn’t noticeable that he was somehow embarrassed by them, he really thought so.

Vladimir : Yes. They know their ideology that they will not do anything bad as long as there are no obvious hostile actions. He was just trying to catch them, as we would say, mocking them when he said: “Where is your ideology of Love?” Clearly, this is the way to behave.

Irina : When we were flying away, Raom Tiyan said: “It’s just Love that both you and your entire planet lack.” And he looked at him and said: “It depends on how you understand Love. What kind of love do you have for the planet Thisiona (which I was on before), where there is a war going on. How many thousands have already died? Some are fighting for joining the Interstellar Union, others are against. You can at least shine a ray of Love on them so that they can be reconciled. So that at least they don’t shed their blood for you. You can not? Then at least control them, take power.”

Vladimir : I see. This is an ideology - to deprive free will, freedom of choice and do as you see fit, using your power. Clear ideology. The only question is this: is free will needed or do I have the right free will, I will force you to do as I believe, according to my free will. That, in fact, is all, the whole ideology. Speaking of Thision, did the Interstellar Union leave from there? They have stopped influencing this situation now, as far as I remember?

Irina : He asked him about Tisiona. He didn't say that they were shedding now, he said in the past tense "they were shedding blood."

Vladimir : Is that all? Yes? Did you say goodbye after that?

Irina : Yes, after that we flew away. On the way back, Bergastre said: "We'll take you, then we'll return to the planet of biorobots again. He will be waiting for us there." I asked: "They don't have their own ships?" "They have it on this planet, but it will take him about 45 Earth days to get there on his ship." I speak:

- How many are there?

- About 700 light years. For us it's a few minutes, but for him it's 45 Earth days.

- They communicate with Selbet, what about technology?

- No one is allowed to transfer interstellar travel technology to the Interstellar Union, even if they trade something. These technologies cannot be transferred; they are prohibited to those civilizations that have not joined the Union.

Vladimir : It's clear, otherwise it's clear why they use them, but we understand that for military purposes. Okay, so are you back after this?

01:23:22 Earth through the eyes of aliens.

Irina : Yes, I asked: “What do you think about this?”

They responded restrainedly: “We all know about this. There are oppositionists in our Galaxy who think this way about Earth. Even in the Interstellar Union there are some civilizations that are radical, but they do not say, like these, that they will capture you. And radical civilizations say that it is necessary to remove the presence of the Interstellar Union on Earth, all bases, and not waste any resources on them. Let them go where they go.

They poison their citizens with poisons, which are freely sold in stores for money. Then they themselves treat children with fetal alcohol syndrome. They are given a disability. What value do they have on life if they are capable of killing their own child even in the womb?”

Vladimir : They are talking about us, friends, about planet Earth.

Irina : Yes, they are talking about us. We sell substances that are used, among other things, by pregnant women; they give birth to defective children.

Vladimir : I see. Alcohol. They kill in the womb. Abortion. All clear.

Irina : Because of these facts that we have on the planet (legalized), even some representatives of the Interstellar Union for the Interstellar Union to remove its presence altogether did not contact.

Vladimir: I left it to chance.

Irina: So that we remain ourselves and learn our own lessons, because history teaches us nothing. In the two thousand years since the laws of Burhad in the form of the Sermon on the Mount were spoken by Christ, our moral level has risen perhaps (as they estimate) by 7-8 percent of what it was 2000 years ago.

Vladimir : This is appreciated by those civilizations that are opponents of the presence of the Interstellar Union here. They want them to let everything take its course, not waste resources on this hopeless civilization, on you and me. This is what we are talking about.

Irina : They said that Burkhad, Esler, Shimor, Disaru - they are all against this and, on the contrary, want to be present on Earth.

Vladimir : I see. I understand that after this adventure you have already returned, have you left the ship?

Irina : Yes.

Vladimir : Friends! I will not hide that I wrote most of the questions, which Irina voiced. Why was all this necessary?

Irina : At the end, when we were leaving, the reptilians said that they were ready for the conference. You will not come in the Astral Plane, but a specialist will answer through the device. Let representatives of the Interstellar Union be present in the Astral, they are ready to arrange a discussion with them. They are confident.

Vladimir : I see. Ready to communicate, continue communication, contacts. In the device it won't be completely astral, but it doesn't matter. Remote contacts and conferences.

I want to say that it was very important for me that you, having heard this ideology, this point of view of representatives of the capital of civilizations Draco, form your opinion and make a choice within yourself. After all, they are precisely against freedom of choice. They want there to be no freedom of choice, and they believe that then there will be order.

I urge you, on the basis of freedom of choice, to decide for yourself - you want to live in a civilization where they will rule, take away your freedom of choice, but everything will be fine. The price for this is that you heard what is happening on the planet of biorobots and mutants, by what methods and means this is all achieved.

Do you want to retain freedom of choice? Or do you want to lose it, as long as there is a totalitarian order, without the opportunity to somehow think differently. If you think otherwise, you are already on the planet of mutants and they are experimenting on you. You decide for yourself what is best for you. Everyone decides for themselves. I expressed my point of view during the course of our story, and you decide for yourself on the basis of freedom of choice, which, fortunately, was given to us all by our great one Creator.

Irina, I thank you from the bottom of my heart for this next spiritual feat, for this journey. I believe that there was a certain element of risk there, at least morally. And for this conversation in the deep Voronezh night.

I wish you to rest now. All the best, see you again on air. I thank, of course, all our curators: Bergastra, Raom Tiyan, Kirchiton, who flew with you. I hope to continue our broadcasts, our meetings and to receive the most important, useful information for all of us from the Interstellar Union.

01:29:00 Reasons for incarnation on Shentricus.

Irina : Dear friends! I thank you all for being with us throughout this entire conference, my entire story about physical flight. Yes, I didn't see much of the planet, because I needed to ask questions and write down the answers. This was more important to me than walking around and examining what things looked like. It was the information from these civilizations that was important. We listened to them and understood their choice. We understood the choice of those Souls who decided to incarnate in that civilization. The choice of these intelligent Spirits is not at all accidental. So they need to take this lesson.

For what reason might this lesson be necessary? Such a rather cruel lesson for the Spirit in incarnation, complete oblivion of the existence of the Spiritual world and God, under the power of chemicals? This harsh lesson may be necessary for that Spirit who has condemned the more liberal authorities on the planet.

Vladimir : Absolutely right, that's true. We have the opportunity to learn such a lesson in the Universe.

Irina : This lesson may also be learned by the Spirit who used the power given to him, including on our planet, for evil and set up dictatorial regimes here.

Vladimir : Yes, perhaps that too. Friends, see you again! Thank you again Irina, all the best. See you again in our new broadcasts, goodbye!

Irina : See you again, goodbye!

0:00 Start of video.

Video from the channel: Contact UFO Center “Cassiopeia”.

An energy entity named Gogas.

Analysis of a contact situation with contactee Irina Podzorova.

00:31 Brief background.

When Svetlana was engaged in energy practices, an entity contacted her and identified herself as a representative of an extraterrestrial civilization.

Svetlana agreed to contact the entity, and the entity energetically attached itself to Svetlana.

Currently, the entity is constantly connected with Svetlana, can answer questions, scan energy, see the aura and diagnose the human body.

At the beginning of the contact, the entity was amused and misled Svetlana about the question of who she was and what the goals of the contact were.

After some time, she explained that she was a disembodied Spirit from the lower level of the Spiritual World named Gogas.

To understand the situation, we invited contactee Irina Podzorova: who is Gogas, where is he from? Why did you connect to Svetlana?

This video shows the results of the investigation.

01:15 Introduction of participants.

Maxim: Hello, dear friends! Today we have a joint conference. Ufological channel “Cassiopeia” and the official channel “Cassiopeia” with contactee Irina Podzorova. Today we will investigate the incident that happened to Svetlana. Svetlana was found to have a homesteader. We will try to investigate how and why this happened.

My name is Maxim Bronevsky. I am the author and founder of the ufological channel “Cassiopeia”. Please introduce yourself, friends.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we will explore the case of Svetlana. Hello Svetlana! Tell us about yourself.

Svetlana: Hello, Irina, Maxim! My name is Svetlana. At the moment I am a contactee with a disembodied Spirit. His name is Gogas. I live in the Tyumen region. Now I’ll tell you how it happened.

Irina: Yes, of course, tell me.

2:15 Start of contact with Gogas.

Svetlana: In March I came to Cassiopeia. There was a desire to engage in energy practices. Three girls and I, all from the same job, took wellness sessions. We attended a cosmohealing practice. Everything was wonderful. First we received energy. They sent to each other. Then we studied in the first stream with Alleya. Cool!

Maxim: Let me clarify: Alleyya is a Cassiopeia specialist, as I understand it?

Svetlana: Yes. Cosmoenerget, who taught us the basics, the formation of energy balls. We felt it. She gave us different settings.

I attended health sessions regularly, they were conducted by our interstellar friends. There were sensations during the sessions on the physical plane: from foot massage to direct impact. Everything was great!

At one such session, Alleya said, then the music started playing, and around the fifth minute, my mouth opened. It felt as if a ball had been inserted into me. For the entire forty-five minutes my mouth did not close. I didn't understand what it was.

In the morning, when I came to work, I began to fill out the order log and thought for a couple of seconds. My hand itself began to write: “Hello! My name is Gogas." And so on. For two weeks, the girls know, I was running around with a notebook. Showed how it all happens. I keep the drawings and correspondence. Everyone discussed this event together. The noise was about it.

Gogas and I became friends. We communicate without correspondence. He likes to draw, for example, such pictures, flowers. I don't know how to draw, I just relax my hand.

Irina: Some flowers, ornaments.

Svetlana: Yes, he calls them “mandalas”. This is how our communication happens.

Maxim: Svetlana, a leading question. You said that at first he pretended to be from an extraterrestrial civilization, beating around the bush. I understand correctly?

Svetlana: Yes. As he now explains, he was testing me for these two or three weeks. Maxim, I called you when this all happened. He introduced himself from civilization and said: “I am from the planet Selbet.”

I didn't have any fear at first. What I wrote to Irina about one evening was his attempt to get closer. I took it for an attack. At first it was not clear: who, where and why. There was no anxiety or panic. As he himself says, he doesn’t like negative emotions in a person (fear, something like that), it’s unpleasant to feel them. He likes it better when we laugh. At his level it feels like a slight tickle. These feelings are closer to him.

Maxim: In the end, he introduced himself as the Spirit of the lower world, as I understand it. Did you stop there?

Svetlana: He said that he knows the hierarchy of the lower world.

Maxim: Yes.

Svetlana: The hierarchy of the lower world is familiar to him. So he started talking about her.

Irina: Okay.

Svetlana: Can I give him my word?

Irina: And Alleya? Did you tell her about this fact of contact?

Svetlana: To whom?

Irina: Alleyee?

Svetlana: Alleyya - who is this?

Irina: Who did you study with?

Svetlana: Alleyee! Yes. I wrote to her that I was communicating with someone. Then I posted the drawings. In the correspondence (I can forward it) she wrote: “I don’t know.”

Irina: When you wrote to her that someone came to you and began to convey something during the session, did she recommend something to you or what?

Svetlana: No. There is only one answer: “I don’t know what it is.”

Irina: Was the answer: “I don’t know what it is”?

Svetlana: Yes-yes-yes-yes.

Irina: There was no advice to go to the Higher Self?

Svetlana: Before that I was on the Higher Self.

Irina: After contact, I mean.

Svetlana: No, after the contact I didn’t go to Higher Self. I know how the Higher Self answers. For example, I receive the following information: “Everything is going as it is, as it should be.” This was clear. I even got up at night and asked: “Did you just say that?” He says: “No, I didn’t say that.” I know how he answers. I don't understand where this thought came from.

09:38 The role of the Higher Self when communicating with Spirits.

Irina: This is very important, I will explain now. Before you can properly establish contact, harmoniously with someone external, you need to learn how to communicate well with yourself. With your disembodied part.

Why is this so important? Because we have a spiritual channel that connects the embodied part of the Spirit (we call us “Soul”) through the top of the head, through the seventh chakra, and exits into the spiritual channel - up. And he goes to the Spiritual world to the level where our Higher Self is located. Seventy percent of the Spirit, which is not embodied (we are thirty percent), is called the Higher Self; the memory of the Spiritual world, of all our lives and tasks in this incarnation. It has seventy percent of our consciousness, energy, heart and so on. All the structures of the Spirit that we have.

How does it communicate? When we tune our spiritual channel to some entity without the Higher Self, there may be distortions. They do not even depend on the essence. She can tell you one thing, but you will perceive her not at the level of the Higher Self, but at the level of the embodied part.

When you go through the Higher Self, you contact it as a whole Spirit. You perceive the information he wants to convey in your own words. You will no longer have any confusion in terminology. For example, you asked the Higher Self: “Who is this? Who is in contact with me? Whose contact am I?” It gives you the answer.

It was not the entity that gave you the answer in a language that you do not understand, and you translated it as best you could. She cannot give you an answer in Russian. Very many entities do not even know what a language is, not to mention Russian. They give the answer, as you correctly said, on the astral-mental level, with their emotions, thoughts, feelings and desires. When they enter your aura, they excite waves of a certain frequency in it, which enter your brain, and you reproduce them as your own.

Svetlana: Yes, but you have to put the feeling somewhere else. I have an intuition, and I feel that this is not evil.

12:41 The concept of “created image of a curator.”

Irina: You must contact any Spirit by first communicating with your Higher Self. This is the key to harmonious contact, with anyone - a humanoid, a plasmoid, the Spiritual world.

The one who is next to you, I feel from your energy, is not alone there. You have multiple entities present. The one who introduced herself to you first is for you the name with which everyone else comes into contact. This is called a “created image of some curator,” and everyone communicates through it. Gogas, close to the Russian language, is not his proper name, but rather a translation of the name “curator”. Very approximate.

This is not a curator in the earthly sense, as we understand it. Gogas is almost like a guidebook. The one who leads along the path. You can say that he introduced himself to you through his professional activities, one of them. But you have several. You (I feel and see by energy) have representatives of the Spiritual World, humanoids and plasmoids.

You, by your energy and structure, can communicate with incarnate and non-incarnate Spirits. We call this a “universal contactor”. There are such people. There are innate and acquired, like a gift of a medium. Subtle intuition and tuning the brain to these frequencies.

15:00 Demonstration of the qualities of a universal contactee.

Maxim: Irina, are you saying that the situation is not accidental? An indicator that she is a medium, as an indicator.

Irina: She was a universal contactee before the Galactic Federation of Light (GFS) and “Cassiopeia”. This quality is not acquired quickly. You had abilities. Have you ever communicated yourself? Perhaps not deliberately. Perhaps you had an unconscious contact. Some thoughts came, but you took them as your own. Most often, in childhood, such people have conscious contact either in a dream or see someone. Do you understand what I am talking about.

Svetlana: Yes.

Irina: You already had this. When we are at any energy session: cosmohealing, cosmoenergy, GFS, practices with Ashtar Sheran, where we fly. You were with us too, right?

Svetlana: I didn’t visit. Because of work, I couldn't make it on Sunday.

Irina: In practice, a person begins to discover in himself what has been in him for a long time. Sensitivity increases, energy centers open and adjust. Even many insensitive people wrote that for the first time they felt something, some influences, some contacts. There is nothing special about this, you are not alone. There are actually more than a dozen of them. There are a lot of such people.

If you talk to Guzel, who conducts cosmohealing, she will tell you that those who attended her sessions felt spontaneous movements, diseases were healed, they drew. The hands drew the drawings themselves. There are dozens of such cases, there are records. You are not the only one who has gone down this path.

In order for this contact to be harmonious and transmitted correctly by you, you need to start communicating with the Higher Self. We will find out from the Higher Self who your main curator is. Who is coming? Who introduces himself as Gogas? We learn from the Higher Self whether he is a humanoid, a plasmoid, or a disembodied Spirit.

Depending on the answers (for example, humanoid), we find out what planet he is from, where it is located, whether it is part of the Interstellar Union, and so on. If it is a plasmoid, we will find out what density level it is from, whether it has a connection (such as a cord), what kind of energy it exchanges.

Maxim: Irina, I'll summarize this important point for the audience. In order to guarantee the safety of contact, it is necessary to reach the Higher Self and first establish good contact with it. After this, using the channel you can check any information. Not only contact, as I understand it.

Irina: Contact may be safe, but it will not be accurate and detailed. Understand? He speaks the truth that is in him. He doesn't cheat. But transmission without the Higher Self is what it is. The problem with all astral contacts (this is a well-known fact) is that what was at the input of the curator will not necessarily be the same at the output of the contactee. Maxim worked a lot with contactees. He knows that this problem is relevant for astral contactees.

Maxim: I confirm. There are many factors here. There have been cases when representatives of civilizations said that the contactee was not conveying what was being conveyed to him. This depends on many factors. From the brain, from the contactee's thinking, and so on. You understand, Irina, what I'm talking about.

Irina: Yes. Thanks to the Higher Self, this contact improves. If you did not have physical contact with aliens as a child, in your youth or recently, and you did not have a chip installed, or you did not have energy chips installed in your aura, in order to perceive information without a chip, you need to have an even stronger connection with your Higher Self .

It's easier for me. I perceive information using three chips. It makes no difference to me who I tune in to. The curators tune me in to any entity. At the same time, I communicate with my Higher Self (HY). I need to communicate with him, because I lead people to the Higher Self. I'm in the flow. When you lead a person to the Higher Self, your VY connects to you. You won't be able to work any other way. This is unrealistic.

21:03 Facilitating contact with the help of the Higher Self.

Maxim: Irina, I'll add about my amazing condition. I experienced it myself. When you lead a person to the Higher Self, you clearly realize that your VY and the person's VY have united. And your VYa sends you the questions that you should ask.

Irina: You connect to it yourself, you do it automatically under the influence of the energies that you feel from the person you are connecting. The more often you drive, the faster it gets. I call this "being in the flow", being in the channel.

Sveta, when you wrote to me, I told you to talk to your VYa. Is that how it was?

Svetlana: Yes. When I visited the Cassiopeia specialists, I saw only images before my eyes. For example, the scissors that cut hair are gold. If he tells me something, I don't understand. Some people come up with thoughts about the questions they ask, but this doesn't happen to me. There are pictures that I cannot decipher. I don't have a contact set up yet.

Irina: Have you tried asking VYa to convey in words when you see an image?

Svetlana: Yes, I tried. I have meditations every evening. You taught: you stand in your own source, like under a shower. Gogas really likes this meditation, the flow of Light. This is our daily meditation. You feel how every cell is filled from its source with silvery pearlescent Light. Now the golden highlights are coming, it's beautiful.

Every day I try to do according to your method: relax, sit down, palms up, head - an empty room. I try everything. But it seems to me that if I have contact, there is faith that I will hear him. He himself tells me: "The Higher Self constantly tells you, how can you not hear it?"

Irina: Yes. He really wants (the one who is next to you, that entity, I feel him), is interested in your contact with VYa. It will be easier to contact you. Now he is forced to do what he does: enter you and speak through your body, it turns out what he wanted to say.

If you tune in through the VY, you will transmit thoughts and thought forms from it. He will stand next to you, without the colossal energy expenditure (both yours and his) that occurs at the moment of connection of your consciousnesses.

Creatures are in bodies of different densities, different dimensions. Therefore, maintaining long-term contact requires energy expenditure. Moreover, he - I saw how he communicates, I feel his energy - is a little afraid of damaging your physical body.

Svetlana: Yes.

Irina: That's why sometimes he speaks slowly, sometimes he takes a very long time to prepare for an answer. It bothers you. He would like to establish mental contact through thought forms, without long-term connections.

25:35 Energy exchange during contact or sharing.

Svetlana: Yes, of course. Last night - he can already lift my fingers - he talked about his density. I felt how dense it was. It was interesting.

Irina: The fact that there is a harmonious exchange of energy with your body during the infusion does not mean that its energies will be easily absorbed by you. You can spend yours, and his will dissipate in space.

You also need to adapt to his energies. Especially in cases of combination, when his consciousness enters your brain and begins to make some movements through your perception receptors and speech organs. I can do this too. I can give you the opportunity to speak, write, watch through me.

Few of the curators agreed to this. For example, MidgasCaus disagrees. He is afraid of damaging my energy structure. Mirah Count did it. This is what the disembodied Spirits did. It's a little easier for them. But there can be no long-term contact.

If it is a disembodied Spirit, it has no energy of its own (life force, I mean). You give him your energy, and he speaks very slowly, quickly becomes exhausted, gets tired and goes into his world of disembodied Spirits. Plasmoids have a charge of their own life force.

As far as I have studied contactees, my experience, sharing is possible without energetic damage to a person only for a short time. I was told this. And again it depends on the level of vibrations.

Maxim: Irina, I'll ask a question. It turns out that Gogas says that he does not inhabit her, he connected some kind of energy cord to her and is nearby in space. Could this be possible?

Irina: You see, if he speaks through her, this is a form of sharing. She has a cord without a connection. We call this anchoring. They are usually called "energy channel". This means that there is a very high probability that there is a portal to them in the apartment or somewhere nearby.

Maxim: A portal to the material universe of these creatures?

Irina: Yes. If there is a connection, they often make a portal.

Maxim: Irina, are you reaching a verdict that this group of subtle-material beings is communicating with her?

Irina: I feel that she has the potential to communicate with anyone, I feel this energy. I feel that there are several entities near her. Moreover, during the conversation their number and composition changes. Some come, others go. I feel. I don't concentrate on them, I concentrate on Svetlana's energy. During the time that has passed since the previous video, you have managed to significantly improve your energy content and your condition. Now you are in a more or less harmonious state, until we began contact with him. Do you understand, right?

Svetlana: Yes.

Irina: I said what I needed to tell you. Now you need to talk to Gogas. He hears everything through you. He hears through your consciousness, your understanding, since he has no ears.

30:13 Gogas' story about himself.

Svetlana: Yes, she bursts out: "Hello, Irina! Hello, Maxim!"

Irina: Hello, Gogas. Greetings!

Svetlana: Hello everyone! I'm glad that they finally gave me the floor, because I've already been waiting for it. You say that plasmoid civilizations have the appearance of inexplicable creatures that exist in the Universe in groups. How to understand about me? I am alone. There is no one near me. I am alone - alone. Look at me, if you want, right now. In the Astral I stand behind Svetlana in the form of a silver-gray haze. I look very sad because I was mistaken for the group.

Irina: You weren't mistaken for the group. Besides you, there are other entities at different levels of reality. Like a gas dissolved in water.

Svetlana: I wanted to say that I look like steam from a kettle or evaporation over water. Therefore, I have the feeling that I am not alone in the Universe. There are, of course, other beings, entities, as you call them. At the moment I don't see anyone near me. How should I perceive this?

Irina: Oh, Gogas! If only you knew what a narrow spectrum of perception third-density people have! These are just a few frequencies of electromagnetic waves.

Maxim: Gogas, your vibrational characteristics do not overlap with these entities. Therefore, you may not see them.

Svetlana: I had the opportunity to find out more.

Irina: People with a physical body have eyes, but we cannot see you physically. Your body consists of energy of such density (we can speak of matter of such density that it is equivalent to one another) that our eyes do not perceive this spectrum of frequencies. I can say that I am physically alone. I say that I don't see anyone, that I'm alone, alone in the whole room. But this is far from true. There is a lot of everything around me.

Maxim: Irina, that's understandable. Let me sum it up. Our audience is savvy after all. Please tell us how an entity at the energy level (it has perception sensors - this is its energy) can change the range of perception in order to see other worlds.

33:28 The structure of the universe.

Irina: It depends on what type she is. I will explain to Gogas what a "plasmoid" is; for him it is not quite the same as for us.

We are in Cassiopeia. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. My curators, my mentors are from extraterrestrial civilizations. These are those civilizations that are not located on Earth, but on other planets that are as dense as the Earth. Planets simply revolve around other stars.

There is a life there, as you know, no doubt. There is no Universe without meaning, that is, without life. If there is life on Earth, then it exists on other planets. Representatives of civilizations fly to Earth on ships. These are similar to rockets, only they fly much faster.

They also fly to the Astral plane. The Astral permeates all worlds. You know this very well. They give me information from the standard of training, from the course of teaching children at the school of the Interstellar Union, from the group of civilizations that is in contact with me.

Using their terminology, I will tell you what the Universe is made of so that we can communicate harmoniously. The universe consists of three worlds. The first world is physical. This is a dense world where Svetlana, I, Maxim, and aliens live. This is the physical world. It features three density levels.

The physical world is called dense material. It contains substances consisting of atoms that build certain bodies. Substances can be solid, liquid and gaseous. This is the physical world.

In addition to the physical world, there is a more extensive world, it is called the subtle world. In the language of esotericism, we are part of this egregor - the world is called plasmoid, from the word “plasmoid-like”. Plasma is a state of stellar gas of very high temperature that turns into energy. Plasmoids are similar to plasma.

Maxim: Separate groups of contactees call them energy worlds, energy civilizations.

Irina: Yes, energy worlds. The physical world is also energetic, only the energy is more dense. This is how we use terminology.

Maxim: I'll add it for the audience. In the perception of beings of the energy world, we are intangible, subtle-material. Depending on where the creature is. We seem to seep through each other (in different dimensions we do not touch each other).

Irina: The Interstellar Union divides the subtle material world into density levels. Each density level is measured in frequencies.

If in the physical world there are three levels of density, then in the plasmoid or subtle worlds there are fifty-six. There are fifty-nine levels of density in the material world. Three plus fifty six.

There are creatures living at fifty-six levels of density. Since there are more levels than in the physical world, then there are many more creatures than on all physical planets combined.

What kind of creatures are these? How are they different from physical ones? Humanoids are called physical, those that consist of substances (atoms). Non-physical, we would call them intangible because we cannot see them. We call material what we can see and feel. We have no idea that the subtle is also material. We call it "Spirit". This is how it is done on Earth. For us, everything is Spirit, that which we do not see.

Maxim: Irina, I like the more scientific name of plasmoid universes - other material universes with different forms of matter. There is such a concept in some civilizations.

Irina: “Different shapes”, they are talking about the level of density. Imagine the fourth density level, fifth, sixth and so on until fifty-nine. These are plasmoid worlds in which creatures live. Their bodies are made of energy.

If physical bodies consist of energy in the dense phase of existence, then subtle bodies consist of subtle energies. What might they look like? I'm speaking very roughly now. Their natural shape can be in the form of a ball, a tall column, or a multifaceted crystal. Spirits incarnate in subtle bodies. In addition to the physical and subtle worlds, there is also the Spiritual world.

There are twenty-four levels in the Spiritual World. It's not density. We are all intelligent Spirits: me, you, Sveta, Maxim, my curators. All Spirits at any density levels and in any universes are incarnated from the Spiritual World. From one of the levels, from one to twenty-four.

There is one subtlety here. The first level of the Spiritual World is considered the lowest. Low-vibration Spirits live there; they are not clothed with any matter. They are waiting for embodiment. They don't have time.

Maxim: Irina, some civilizations call this “spiritual matter.”

Irina: You can call it a material Spirit.

Maxim: There are different views, as I understand it, on these processes in different civilizations.

Irina: Now I’m speaking the way they explain it to children on their planets, so that everything is clear.

Maxim: Yes, I see.

Irina: They put everything in order, and everything becomes clear. They have no goal to confuse us even more. Their goal is to give us an understanding of the world that surrounds us and leads them to Light, happiness, harmony. They believe that the level of happiness, Love, Light directly depends on the worldview and understanding of the world, because thoughts build reality. They give us an understanding with the help of which we can get in touch with ourselves, as I already said, with the disembodied part of ourselves, which is located in the Spiritual world.

Then - with any of the curators, with those creatures who help us. They can be humanoids, plasmoids, from the Spiritual World.

At the first level of the Spiritual world, these are the lowest vibrational Spirits. They can be embodied at any level. They have their own vibrations. The staircase goes endlessly down. Below the first level there are sublevels. Even lower vibration. For us they will be perceived as the first level. Below we do not perceive.

Maxim: The same as with the twenty-fourth level. We don’t accept it either.

Irina: Yes, exactly the same as the twenty-fourth level. These are super Archangels who feel like God practically.

Maxim: Irina, the first level goes down to infinity, the twenty-fourth level goes up to infinity.

Irina: Twenty-four is the level of gods for us. They do not distinguish themselves from God, the consciousness of God the Creator, Unconditional Love. Above the twenty-fourth level there are an infinite number of levels leading to God. But for us, any of them will be twenty-fourth, above - Light, and below the first for us - absolute darkness, for our perception. Gogas, do you understand this system?

Svetlana: Yes, of course. I can reproduce it all.

Irina: Great!

43:59 Gogas about his perception of the environment.

Svetlana: I understood the component of the Spiritual world. I also know the component of the Universe. How to define boundaries, frameworks, how did I end up here and why?

Tell me, Irina, what possibilities does a disembodied Spirit who committed suicide have? Do you have such concepts? I am not familiar with the hierarchy of aliens, since I cannot intersect with them due to the lack of vision of them in the Universe. But, knowing about their existence, I would still like to cross paths.

At the same time, I am interested in knowing why the smartest minds of humanity have not yet recognized the spiritual essence of those worlds in which we are located, disembodied Spirits who committed suicide. Why can't they recognize the Souls of people who, being constantly in the Universe, not adjacent to either Light or darkness, cannot reproduce the next incarnation in their memory. When you find yourself in such a world, you understand that it is impossible to incarnate until awareness completely penetrates the consciousness of the Soul, just like it does for me.

Irina: The question is clear. Gogas, please tell me how many lives have you had?

Svetlana: I remember the last incarnation well. The rest, no, not given. They said it was like replaying a movie in your memory, the last incarnation. There is no other way to say it. No matter how many times I tried to reproduce it, it didn't work. Only what he did. Did it on purpose.

46:37 Gogas about his appearance.

Irina: What shape do you feel like? What shape are you?

Svetlana: Gaseous form, like a dense gas, I have already spoken about this more than once. A dense volume, which, if rounded to human size, can be seen in the shape of a rectangle. Let's say a tall pillar, most likely.

Irina: What is the height of the pillar approximately?

Svetlana: Not much. He is as tall as Svetlana, about sixty-four meters. I do not know exactly.

Irina: Okay! Thank you! And what color is it, how is it conveyed to earthly perception?

Svetlana: Silver-gray. A lot of people see me that way. Spectral analysis showed that your eye detects exactly this color. I say "your" because I am the Spirit. I'm no longer speaking in human terms. You know, as I remember from my memories which color to designate, I can't reproduce it myself. People say that's exactly what I look like. Grey-silver.

Irina: You consider this rectangle: one meter sixty in height, to be your Spirit, your essence, and not your body, right?

Svetlana: Yes, because I probably won't be able to see myself. I tell you how people who have vision see. I don't know whether they are deceiving me or not, but more than one person has reproduced me, more than once, in this format.

Irina: When did you appear in this world in which you are now? How long do you remember yourself?

Svetlana: My last incarnation ended two hundred and eighty-five years ago. I was near six people, but they did not hear me. I could communicate, but they couldn't reproduce Svetlana's words. They believed that their health was bad, considering it their thoughts. Therefore, I saw no point in communicating. And I really wanted to convey that we are here. We hear and see everything. I really wanted to communicate like I am with you now.

Irina: What happened after that?

Svetlana: After suicide?

50:05 Gogas about his death.

Svetlana: I'll tell you in detail. When all this happened: ejection from the body. I thought the branch would break. She didn't break. Therefore, what I did not seriously turned out to be serious. Then release. I didn't even understand at first that this was a release, because my consciousness remained. There are no eyes, I see, then there is darkness and a viscous substance around me. It feels like I'm in a fog. Nobody here. I realize what I did, but I can't understand where I am. I'm spinning and turning, I don't understand.

Irina: Yes.

Svetlana: Then I see clearly defined features, but I don't understand who. But they all pass by. Nobody sees. Awareness comes gradually, what you have done, what you have done. Then it comes clearly: hell. I want to go home, back. Does not work. I'm walking, I'm not walking, I'm flying. It's hard to say, but no one came to me. Neither dark nor light.

I studied everything myself. I looked at my life from the outside. Self-flagellation every moment, every minute self-flagellation. Why, why. Awareness is a flexible concept. This is different. Such as "relative faith" in oneself has disappeared. It's as if I am and I am not, at the same time.

Then - flights through parallel worlds. They are not allowed up. They don't have time. The still unconscious, unconscious Spirit. Unconscious Spirit. They talk constantly. Still. There is a clear understanding that I am not the bottom and not the top, as if I am the middle of something.

Now I somehow don't care what I am, who I am. At the same time, I really enjoy communicating with people. I would like to inform them not to act this way, that it is terrible, bad, hopeless.

Therefore, taking into account my current situation, I look forward to continuing. I'm going to develop. I thought everything was bad on Earth. It turns out that there are such wonderful moments. Talking and communicating with people is beyond all expectations for me.

#383 Analysis of contact with a settler. Revelations of energetic essence from the subtle world (part 2)

00:21 Background of Svetlana's connection with the entity.

Brief background to the contact situation.

When Svetlana was engaged in certain energy practices, a certain entity contacted her, which at first introduced itself as a representative of an extraterrestrial civilization.

As a result, Svetlana agreed to contact with this entity, which energetically attached itself to Svetlana. Now this entity is constantly connected with her and can answer any questions, scan a person's energy, see his aura and diagnose the human body.

From the very beginning of the contact, the entity amused and misled Svetlana about who she was and what the real goals of the contact were. However, after some time, she introduced herself as a disembodied Spirit from the lower Spiritual World under the pseudonym Gogas.

To understand the situation, we decided to invite contactee Irina Podzorova so that she could help figure out who Gogas is? Where is he from? And why did he decide to connect to Svetlana?

01:15 The shape of the plasmoid body.

Irina: When did you realize that you were back on Earth from this fog and could communicate with people?

Svetlana: He already told how it happened. (Gogas speaks) The wording you gave is correct. You stand out from the gray mass, like columns of light. You can fly like a butterfly to the light.

Adjacent to the human energy field, I asked for consent to make contact, received it in order to get to know each other better, thinking that there were callous, absolutely soulless people here, degradation, I thought, was in full swing. It turned out that not everything is as bad as I expected. You see, we used to not sit down at the table without praying, there was spirituality, but now this is not the case. Maybe there is, but not as much as before. Now I'm slowly studying people, communicating with them, seeing how women blossom, especially at Svetlana's work. "Hello, Gogas!" - they say so joyfully, just like a living person.

Irina: Gogas, I understand you, what you are talking about, I understand very well. It must also be said for everyone else: after you killed your past body, and when you found yourself in this world where you felt no one, where everyone passed by you, what form were you in? How was it different from the form you have now?

Svetlana: The form is such that it is impossible to recognize it in space as dense material, as you say - this substance is not hard, but soft, like a balloon without a shell.

Irina: Were you a "balloon without a shell", just space, some sphere of space?

Svetlana: Yes, I don't even know how to explain.

Irina: Can you call it Light?

Svetlana: Do you mean that I look like Light?

Irina: Spiritual, yes.

Svetlana: Spiritual Light? No, spiritual Light is completely different, this is what your mentors, curators, as you call saints, look like.

Irina: It is in you too. That spark that is in me and in my mentors, and even in Jesus Christ himself, is also in you. She keeps you alive. I am talking now about the Light that you could perceive. I am truly very sorry that you are so desperate that you do not see the Light in yourself. You have it in you.

I want to tell you: this difference in the state of a “balloon without a shell” and the state now, like a dense gas, that is, some shell of a rectangular shape and a certain color that you named, a certain height - this difference in states that you just described is called we have the incarnation. But since you found yourself in a body of a completely different density than the one you killed, that very first, physical body, did not notice this transition, did not pay attention to it for the reason that for you this body is not like that, you are used to to that. Do you understand what I'm talking about now?

Svetlana: Yes, I understand, I was about two meters tall there. By the way, only one person saw me in this format. My nickname was “The Rock” because I was different from my peers in height.

Irina: The fact is that from the moment you began to feel yourself not just as a space of something incomprehensible, but began to feel your shape, a certain color and greater density than “nothing” - this was your incarnation.

You have a pretty good memory of the mistakes you made in that life in which you killed your body, which is why you still remember it now. But, since your body is not dense, you continue to perceive yourself as a disembodied Spirit. In fact, this is not uncommon.

I have already communicated with such plasmoids in the astral world, I would still communicate with you in the Astral World, it is not at all difficult for me. But now I do all this for the sake of those people who will watch us and understand what is happening to them, and their curators will understand. If you and I just communicate in the Astral, it won't do anything, people won't hear anything, you know?

Svetlana: Yes, I just wanted to meet in such a way that they would see me. No matter how much I call (there are so many astrals around), no one comes out.

Maxim: Here is another important point, Irina, Gogas. It seems to me that if he is now at a certain level of density (has a body), he should intersect with the same beings of the same density.

Irina: If he is now focused specifically on the world of third density, and his attention is directed to her, he must switch. I need to go out now.

Maxim: Irina, for the audience, let's clarify, let's summarize: it happens that plasmoids do not realize that they are plasmoids, right? They are in a new body, as I understand it?

Irina: Now I'll explain for our viewers, I've met such plasmoids. They are already actually embodied, but their body is not perceived as a body, but is perceived as a Spirit. Yes, it changes a little in their minds, understandable. Just as Gogas described.

Why is this happening? The reason is that the person had a very quick exit from the physical body, a violent one. He is accustomed to the physical body, accustomed to identifying himself with it. That is, "I am the body, I am a dense being." Now we will not take the reasons for leaving, even if there was a murder or a sudden accident, or something else happened - in any case.

Maxim: By the way, Irina, this is also connected with the fact that when such Spirits suddenly lost their bodies, they were atheists, for example, and continue to go to their home, try to sit on the sofa, you know? This also exists for some time.

Irina: To find out when this all happened, and what actually happened to the body, perhaps even not so much a suicide as an accident, you need to look at the details of the incarnation. Now all this memory that Gogas has is blocked by his despair and may slightly distort the events that took place.

Now he needs to communicate with his mentors, with his Angels, with his Higher Self, but he must first find out what density he is in, where he is, whether he is earthly or cosmic (I feel from the energy that this is an earthly plasmoid). And in the future we will begin to achieve its implementation tasks. He got into this body that he described, and it is thanks to this body that he comes into contact with Svetlana. It is somewhat more difficult for the disembodied Spirit to do this, he does not have these channels, he does not have these opportunities to build all these cords and so on. These energies do not exist.

As he accurately described, he felt like emptiness, a kind of “balloon without a shell” - this is a very accurate expression, it seems like there is something, but there is no shell. This happens to people who suddenly leave the body, but before that they did not study any spiritual practices or leave the body. They will have this feeling.

If he went to a lower level, then, naturally, about all the communications that he could have with light entities, whether they were there or not, we can only find out by turning to his Higher Self. Now he is embodied, and he has memory only the one that was left for him to study his lessons. Now I will explain to him.

Gogas, the fact is that what you perceive as a rectangle is your subtle body. Subtle material. I could, of course, ask you to tell me how much less dense it is than the physical one, but here your opinion will be very subjective. You can also, like any Spirit, move in the Astral, all plasmoid creatures can do this, both physical people in the astral body and humanoids can do this.

Maxim: Irina, also a small clarification - that is, it turns out that a plasmoid can also leave its body and travel astrally?

Irina: He can travel directly in the subtle body.

Maxim: Does he switch his perception of himself to those levels?

Irina: He leaves a part of himself at that level, but it can be different. They have different types. You know what, Gogas, I can tell you that there are an unimaginable number of types of plasmoids, and I don't even know all of them, I haven't talked to all of them.

We divide them into groups: there are terrestrial plasmoids, there are space plasmoids, and among terrestrial plasmoids there are the so-called Elemental Spirits, you have undoubtedly met them.

Svetlana: Yes, excuse me, I'll interrupt, I met, as you say, mermaids, which at one time no one believed in, we also considered fairy tales, I saw the Spirits of the forest, the Spirits of water. These are interesting creatures, one would be hard-pressed to call them "entities." Their perception of the world is interesting, such as their own opinion about everything, not human consciousness. Don't judge strictly, but their initial perception of the world is somehow completely different, not even approximately human. Their images went.

Maxim: And, colleagues, I would also like to add an important point that I caught. The fact is that, as I understand it, Irina, you can refute or confirm, if there was a disembodied Spirit, then he would remember all his incarnations, at least ten, but here it turns out - one, which means this is no longer the case.

Irina: Maybe he didn't remember, but he would have named the number exactly, because in connection with the Spirit he would have known it. Here's a simple test.

Svetlana: Yes, I know about this, I listened to you talk. I also heard that with disembodiment comes awareness - you remember all lives, which is what I doubted, that this was possible for people like me.

I cannot provide evidence, but so far I have been given one life, which, apparently, has not yet been fully worked out, or is being worked through now. In general, I figure this out myself.

Irina: Since you came here, we can sort out this situation together, do you want?

Svetlana: Of course, I would be glad to talk about this topic. Initially, I wanted to sort out my situation, so that there would be no reason to think that I am not who I say I am, so that there would be an understanding and acceptance of who I really am. It's easy to find out, but I don't understand some of the things you say. Why was my original ball shape and now rectangular? I didn't understand.

Irina: Because you have embodied in a subtle body, but you are not aware of it as a body, it is not dense, like the body to which you are accustomed. You still remember him very well.

This happens to people too, there are even more unusual situations when the Spirit that lived in a man, for example, incarnates into a woman and continues to recognize itself as a man. At the same time, he clearly sees in the mirror that he is a woman. Or vice versa. But at the same time he feels that these organs of the female or male body are “not his”, they are something alien. And this happens to them because of a very good subconscious memory of the previous body. This is the kind of memory that remains, and this is also not at all accidental, it is such a unique lesson for the Spirit.

Maxim: And then, Irina, sexual deviations arise on this basis, right?

Irina: This is again a lesson for the Spirit, depending on how it goes through it. If he accepts this body and can make peace with it, then everything will be all right.

18:48 Gogas about Irina’s energy.

Svetlana: Irina, please tell me, looking at you, I would really like to give you a moonstone - it is very similar to your energy. For some reason, when I see people now, I always talk about it. My perception of minerals and stones goes simultaneously with the perception of a person. And moonstone suits you perfectly in terms of energy structure.

Maxim: Tell me, please, Irina, now, let's check: Gogas, what kind of energy does Irina have, how do you perceive it?

Irina: I was just about to ask about this! I told you what I feel in you. What can you say about me?

Svetlana: The energy background is quite stable, your aura is not stretched, like many people's, in different directions, because, apparently, communication with people and constant energy cleansing have their influence.

I see flashes of red. Still, there are some ambitions of yours. They are inherent in people, this is not surprising, since everyone has emotions in this life, but the aura is of a purple, blue hue. You know, the main background is purple and turns into blue. Very interesting.

For some reason, I mostly meet people like this now, with delicate flowers in their aura. I haven't seen gray auras for a long time, either I'm so lucky, or this is actually some kind of nonsense.

Irina: What does this color mean, how do you interpret it?

Svetlana: My attitude towards such people is that they are people with a positive soul, their attitude towards life is easy, they perceive the hardships of life with enthusiasm, few can do this. I had a vision of the aura while I was still alive, because while working with minerals and stones, I myself went into the Astral, knowing approximately how it would be after death. I thought it would be easy, but it turns out not. Therefore, for me it apparently remained a vision from life.

22:32 Energy by Irina Podzorova. The role of a person's worldview.

Irina: What entities, what energies do you see in me or next to me?

Svetlana: Energy, a person's energy background is different, I see potential aside. Relative error in the chest area. Light dissolved throughout the body, as the manifestation of a person's essence occurs as it is filled with energies. It feels as if you are being charged with something 24 hours a day.

Irina: And with what? What kind of energy is this?

Svetlana: Energy of Light. Energy charge in an endless stream. I've never seen this before, that's why I'm speaking confusingly. Such things are interesting in their manifestation when you know what you are talking about. But I only see and describe, so this vision of the situation sometimes bothers me, to use your words. This concept is flexible. Light can be different: bright, dim. There is a clear brightness here, as if a light bulb is constantly on without being turned off. This is how it happens, please explain.

Maxim: This is probably not surprising, Irina has a big mission on planet Earth, so she needs to be constantly recharged.

Irina: I have several sources from civilizations, from the chips that I have, from the Spiritual world, from the level from which I incarnated. I also have a ray of Christ consciousness built into me. You can see any of these manifestations as Light, and all of them together give you something that you did not see. You say "I haven't seen it," which means that people's energies are still different for you, and you can describe the differences. For example, you know Svetlana's energy well. How do we differ in energy?

Svetlana: Awareness, it has not yet been demonstrated properly. I'm trying to teach her how to properly influence her through various practices. At the moment I am treating her leg, which is broken in five places. I relieve pain and treat her stomach.

Irina: And in terms of energy, in terms of aura, how do we differ from her?

Svetlana: You see, her skepticism plays a big role. We constantly argue with her on various topics, she does not accept it, I explain it to her, she again does not accept it. We constantly have arguments.

Irina: Tell me what she doesn't take?

Svetlana: How the space around her is arranged, how mental images influence a person's life. I'm trying to tell her that through visualization you can achieve a lot in your life, through self-knowledge, through accepting self-love. I explain this to her constantly, I try to shout to her. And her environment is also female. I try to explain to everyone - first of all, love for yourself, then for others. They perceive my words, so far they realize the first thing and move on, but I'm working on it.

28:12 Gogas' perception of his age.

Irina: I understand you very well, Gogas, thank you for this contact. The fact that you are partially in the body, of course, you are manifested through the body, I feel that it is not easy for you. I send you the Light of my Love, support, gratitude.

I want to ask you: "Do you want Sveta, your contactee, to set up a communication channel with your Higher Self? To communicate with you through a spiritual channel?"

Svetlana: Yes, of course, I understood the principle of operation. I understood what "truly communicate" means. We have a friendship with Nazira, a regressologist, she is a very good person, she understands me. Imagine, I start talking, she continues. Such a sensual girl who perceives my words and even understands my emotions. This is wonderful because it helps me move, as you say, towards the Light. But these small steps that I take still bear fruit - the smiles of women, girls, and I am not an old Spirit.

I already perceive him a little as a friend, a young one, in the sense that my son is 28.

Irina: This is another evidence that he is incarnate, otherwise he would have said: "I am the eternal Spirit." Not an old Spirit, this is a young plasmoid.

Maxim: Irina, what happens, is he somehow on an intuitive level feeling this age of the plasmoid, that he utters such phrases?

Irina: Yes, he feels that his body appeared not so long ago. He does not feel his eternity, as anyone would feel it, even a low-vibration plasmoid. On the contrary, they do not feel the body there. I communicated with all of them, and, Gogas, now it is important that you speak through Svetlana, because we are establishing contact with her, and we are attuning you to her, and we are introducing our viewers to you as her curator.

Of course, I can talk to you, tell you how I feel exactly your energy. You strive for Light, you strive for Love, but there is something that prevents you, there is an obstacle. The obstacle is that you have not forgiven yourself for what you did then. You have no forgiveness until you reconcile with yourself.

Svetlana: For some reason, after such words it becomes easier. Probably, the effect of the emotional background that you express affects me in this way. I want to thank you so much for the kindness you show to people and to me, and also for the fact that I have something in common that is still here.

I still won't stay as a disembodied Spirit for long, I'll leave, but I really want to talk more, I liked it so much. Not much time has passed, but there are already changes, I feel. Communication on a positive wave is very pleasant. The feeling is indescribable. Svetlana said that laughter is like tickling. But when a person is angry, it's burdensome.

33:00 Feelings, sensations of the plasmoid. Energy compatibility.

Irina: The fact is that there are no distances for energies. Gogas, now just concentrate on me, close the eyes of Svetlana's body, concentrate on your sensations and tell me what you feel.

Svetlana: Interesting, I saw a blue ball, a ball.

Irina: What do you feel in yourself, in your consciousness?

Svetlana: Starting from my forehead, it’s not even warm...

Irina: What?

Svetlana: Like some kind of wave.

Irina: Yes, that's right. Do you like my energy?

Svetlana: Yes, so interesting.

Irina: Is she comfortable for you?

Svetlana: So relaxed that I even wanted to sleep.

Irina: Is she comfortable for you?

Svetlana: Yes, such a feeling of relaxation has gone.

Irina: How does it make you feel?

Svetlana: Before this I had anxiety, but you still worry, it’s broadcast. It somehow disappeared. My Soul became so calm.

Irina: This is called harmonization. I sent you the energy of harmony, protection, so that both you and Svetlana feel under the protection of the Light, that you always belong to it, that you are always completely safe. I wanted to convey this feeling of calm not with words, but with emotions and feelings.

In fact, I now, by force of will, sent my life force to you, to Svetlana, into your common aura, combined. For energies there are no distances of the material world; they move in the Astral. What you felt as a wave, a blue color, a ball - this is what you felt with perception. And what you felt in your Soul, in your consciousness, is how you recognized these energies. And if they are comfortable for you, then we are energetically compatible.

Svetlana: Yes, it's working for me now, do you know how? I either accept a person or I don't. I don't know why this happens, but I can't see the person. I see that he is lying, I see hypocrisy, I do not accept it, there is complete rejection. It's like scanning right through. I take the observer's side, stand and watch what he says. But when a person tells the truth, there is complete acceptance.

Irina: That's why I'm asking you: do you accept my energies, are they comfortable for you?

Svetlana: The energies are comfortable, very calm, even, wavelike. You know, when you stand in the water and a wave hits your feet, it's nice. I found something to compare with. Probably so. Nice and calm and thoughtful.

37:20 Absolute. Gogas on people's perception of the plasmoid.

Irina: How subtly he senses energy! Well done! I want to ask: "Do you want to feel like this forever?"

Svetlana: Of course, I would like to.

Irina: To do this, you need to consciously connect with your Light, with your spiritual beginning, with your Source. Our source is the same - it is completely conscious, and it gave birth to us.

Maxim: This is what we, Gogas, talked to you about, this is what you call the Absolute. You and I have the same concepts.

Svetlana: You see, for example, now in my understanding and perception there is no duality, there is no awareness of what is good and bad. These are people's perceptions, so to speak. As we discussed earlier: "he is bad", "he is good", this, you know, is like the middle, in general everything. This is weightlessness in views, there is no duality at all. Everything is a Divine manifestation - bad, good - one, I constantly explain to Svetlana, she cannot understand.

Irina: I know what you are talking about, but the only thing that can bring you disharmony and anxiety is the memories of the life you told me about. In order to pass this lesson that you are now going through in this state in which you are now (you are going through certain tasks that allow you to go further, upward, towards the Light), you need to realize that in the absence of this duality, there are also levels. They are rising.

Yes, indeed, everything is Light, but each entity perceives Light a little differently. This is why we are all unique. But at the same time, each of us consists of Light. We manifest uniquely, which is why there is such a thing as freedom. This freedom is a great gift to us, so that we can express our energies for the greatest happiness, for the greatest creativity, for the greatest creation. Now, would you like a little experiment, how does Light feel?

Svetlana: I realized that the current of energy that is happening, as you said, is starting to stress Svetlana.

Yes, I really have it in the back of my head and neck.

41:05 Practice filling with Light. Sensation of Light by a person.

Irina: It's literally five minutes. You just need to close your eyes, concentrate on the sensations and repeat the words that you are the Light. Energy is controlled by thoughts and words, as the expression of thoughts on the physical level.

Svetlana: I repeated every day: “Yes, I am Light, I am Love, I am the Universe, the Universe is me”...

Irina: That's right, Esler's attitude. And then there are these: “I am the creative Light.”

Svetlana: Yes, I am the creative Light.

Irina: I am the Creating Light.

Svetlana: I am the creative Light.

Irina: I am the loving Light.

Svetlana: I am the loving Light.

Irina: I am the Light of the absolute energy of the Universe.

Svetlana: I am the Light of the absolute energy of the Universe.

Irina: I am ready to return to the number of divine Angels.

Svetlana: I am ready to return to the number of divine Angels.

Irina: I forgive myself for all my mistakes.

Svetlana: I forgive myself for all my mistakes.

Irina: In all its incarnations.

Svetlana: In all its incarnations.

Irina: And incorrect attitudes outside of incarnations.

Svetlana: And wrong attitudes in all their incarnations.

Irina: And beyond incarnations.

Svetlana: And beyond incarnations.

Irina: I love and accept myself as I am.

Svetlana: I love and accept myself as I am in all incarnations.

Irina: I am the beloved son of God.

Svetlana: I am the beloved son of God.

Irina: By the power of your Spirit...

Svetlana: By the power of your Spirit...

Irina: ...I transform everything in myself that is incompatible with absolute Love.

Svetlana: ...I transform everything in myself that is incompatible with absolute Love.

Irina: Into the energy of Love, creation and inspiration.

Svetlana: Into the energy of Love, creation and inspiration.

Irina: How do you feel?

Svetlana: The pressure between the eyebrows is just like that.

Irina: Yes, it can be in the body, but in the Soul?

Svetlana: How to say? It is warmth, the acceptance of something warm. Do you know what it looks like? When the meditation of accepting your Divine source begins, this warmth, a feeling of warmth, directly spreads through the cells, throughout the whole body. It's the same when pronouncing these words.

Irina: Then, given that the energy in you is transformed and descends, it is necessary to perceive any energy, to perceive it with the help of intention while inhaling. We inhale, perceive this energy, distribute it throughout the body and at the same time say: “I thank and accept.”

Svetlana: When I started studying at Cassiopeia, everywhere, even at a bus stop, you listen to the Burkhad mood on headphones, and you simply can’t go to bed without it, asking for the Higher powers.

Irina: I’m very glad to see you, in fact I see that Gogas has gone to harmonize in his world.

Svetlana: Let go.

Irina: He's just a little busy right now. I see him nearby, he shows me the spirals.

Maxim: He passed out, right?

Svetlana: Yes, in general the back of my head immediately let go.

Irina: He's over there.

Maxim: Irina, you are simply a sorceress!

Irina: Why?

Maxim: She put the fine-material being into a stupor.

Irina: It is now harmonizing a little. It is just above her head and transforms into a ball, it has spirals inside.

Maxim: Irina, let's summarize, do I understand correctly?

Irina: I feel that he liked to feel like the Light, to merge with us all, we all sent him Light, both to you and to him. Now there is much more glow from it.

Yes, Maxim?

46:28 The reason for suicide is in the past incarnation of Gogas.

Maxim: Irina, this is a question: after suicide, a person necessarily ends up on the demonic level, or does it depend on the circumstances?

Irina: We need to figure out what happened to the body. This is a murky story. What did you want, Maxim?

Maxim: Look, I'll summarize: it turns out that the young man lived in the 18th century and committed suicide by hanging. It turned out that a certain energy block occurred, and because of this he did not understand how he ended up in the plasmoid body. I understand correctly?

Irina: Judging by the fact that he was "surrounded", we still need to look at whether this is a murder or not. He described six people.

Svetlana: (Gogas says) No, Irina, you see, I had a suicidal impulse (I told you about it, I won't repeat it), it was like an intention to scare. I thought that with my height the branch would not stand it and would break. Frightened, she agrees to become a wife.

Maxim: So it was an unintentional action? It's clear.

Svetlana: It was the way of a cowardly guy.

47:48 Feelings of the plasmoid from the Burkhad mood. The practice of influencing the Earth's noosphere.

Irina: I'm very glad that we are with you again, Gogas. You switched off a little, you also read this mood. What did you feel? Svetlana told us what she felt, now what did you feel?

Svetlana: I hear the Burkhadian mood all the time.

Irina: When you read these words yourself, what did you feel?

Svetlana: My body was replenishing its energy; it was even beautiful to watch the formation of energy balls.

By the way, we made a channel, even a source. You know what girls come and paint, artists, such talented people, with such beautiful potential. Remembering about balls, the formation of balls, they can be designated in the form of a beautiful color. Each person, creating an energy ball, shaping it, expressing intentions, we launched into the noosphere, purifying it. This is the flight of pigeons at your wedding. I even fell in love with it. This is all a manifestation of the human potential of energy structures. Svetlana will not understand how I express myself. Overall, it's very beautiful.

49:39 Gogas about his meeting with Irina. Adaptation of the Spirit in the world of plasmoids.

Irina: I wanted to say thank you again. It's time to break off contact for both the contactee and you. Two hours have already passed. We all did a very good job, figured out this situation, and would like to listen to your conclusion, the conclusions of Svetlana, Maxim.

Gogas, what can you say about this conversation?

Maxim: Come on, Irina, I'll add a question too. Gogas, what can you say about this conversation? About the information that Irina provided about the fact that you are most likely in a subtle-material body? Do you accept it, do you agree with it, after all the conclusions?

Svetlana: Yes, you know, this is not the first time such a statement has been made about what exactly is happening to me. But I deciphered myself better with the help of you. A little more is the awareness I need.

I accept and thank you for your moral support, for supporting Svetlana, otherwise she was worried about how it would be and rushed to defend.

He'll talk now. In general, he protects me like a little one, depicting me in mental images as a kitten. For some reason he seems like this to me. When I ask the Higher Forces of Light to help him, for some reason he appears to me in the form of a gray kitten. I do not know why.

Irina: Yes, he is really a bit of a child in his perception, he is not that old by the standards of their world.

Maxim: Irina, do plasmoids also have this age - childhood?

Irina: Yes, we call them plasmoid-child. He was just born, and really must go through a period of adaptation to their world, like our childhood. But instead of being with adult plasmoids and studying the laws of their world, and the task for which he came there (I don't know why)...

Maxim: He's kind of having fun now, right?

Irina: He has now switched to the world of third density, to the contactee. For his world, he looks like a kind of rectangle, which with its thin body has stopped and concentrated on itself. It is not yet accessible to those entities that surround it. He went into himself through the Astral, again into the world where he was used to living, he wants to feel himself in the body. These are his usual sensations.

Maxim: So look what we're getting, what the situation is: since everything doesn't happen by chance with us, in principle, it may be that Gogas deliberately came so that we could clarify for him who he is. All details have been clarified.

Irina: Yes, quite. We don't have a very good connection with him now.

Svetlana: You know, through knowledge of human nature, I took this contact lightly at first, thinking that once I got here, they wouldn't understand me, they wouldn't accept me. And I saw how this actually happens, when now on planet Earth almost every tenth contactee uses their capabilities to the maximum.

You know, Irina, what is happening now: the energy is off the charts, stretch out your hand and say hello to God. There is a clearly defined contact here, I really liked it. I began to explore Svetlana's thoughts, behavior, and attitude towards me in this way.

Irina: What can you say about our conversation?

Svetlana: I'll go through acceptance. It must be accepted.

Irina: You need to think about it.

Svetlana: How to find it? After trying something new, there is an aftertaste. It's the same now. I'll go digest it. And send Svetlana to bed.

Irina: We thank you, we send you Light and Love, gratitude, we wish you development in the Light of Love, in the world where you are, no matter who you consider yourself to be - it doesn't matter at all. It is important that we are all one in the Light of God.

Svetlana: Thank you very much, thank you very much for the opportunity to communicate in this way. Thank you!

Irina: Thank you!

Maxim: I also send you my Light of the Absolute, which exists.

Irina: Now, Svetlana, tell us what you think about this session?

Svetlana: You know, I already feel him, his emotions. Now I feel that vibrations have started in my fingers, which means that he is excited about everything.

Irina: What about you, what are your impressions?

Svetlana: The most positive.

Maxim: Svetlana, you say – by blood, right? Try, as Mead said a long time ago (it really works - I do it automatically, it's intuitive for me) - drink a lot of water. Water is a mediator of all processes in the body. The immune system works better, blood flows better, all processes improve. Try to drink a lot of water, your blood is thin and good.

Today, Irina, very good and useful information for me as a researcher. I received additional information. It is very important. I didn't imagine that this could happen. The spirit has entered the plasmoid body and seems to have absolutely no idea where it is, trying to figure out: where is it, what is it, how is it? You see, this is new to me.

Irina: Yes, I also really liked his energy, words, openness. Sometimes they don't believe it and begin to resist. And he is completely open to new experiences, wants to know himself, to know his path. This is very valuable, this is Light. I am ready to work with Svetlana in the future, take her myself to her Higher Self. Set up her spiritual channels, learn the tasks of incarnation. I will do all this.

Svetlana: Thank you very much!

57:44 Plasmoid's perception of Irina's work. Awareness by the Spirit of a new body.

Svetlana: I asked to take the floor, since my impression is a little different from yours in that I perceive it all on an energetic level - waves, streams of Love that you send to me. Thanks a lot!

Svetlana: (Gogas speaks) And here's another moment, as Maxim says. In your perception, what should a disembodied Spirit look like? They paint me as a nice guy, they fall in love with me, they write comments as if I were alive. Is this considered normal?

I didn't even know what he would ask, honestly. He tried to draw himself, but we can't reproduce everything, that is, a nose with a hump, or something else.

Maxim: This was in the previous incarnation, human?

Irina: He perceives himself as the past body that he was. I'm saying that this is how he will perceive it. This actually happens, it's absolutely normal.

Maxim: Irina, wait, is it because of the suicide block that he perceives himself this way?

Irina: It's not because of suicide that he perceives it this way, but because he was left with so much memory for this life.

Maxim: It turns out that he still perceives himself as the person who lived, that young man?

Irina: This is his memory. He perceives himself as a disembodied Spirit, because he remembers that body. It was dense, but now it's not.

Svetlana: The perception of me, which is called "ephemeral". I can say that this perception is extremely difficult. But still I understand the reality. I understand where I am, why I am, and what happened cannot be erased by any time until I reincarnate again. This will probably be right.

Irina: Yes, your task now is to process this experience. I will really help you. When Svetlana and I go to the Higher Self, we will invite you. With you, with your memory, we will go there, at that moment, and look at everything from the outside. You will see for yourself what happened, accept this situation as it is. You and I will still work.

Svetlana: Thank you!

Maxim: Dear friends, today we had a very intense investigation. A lot of information has appeared. Irina constantly works with contactees. I didn't know some things, but a lot of new things became clear to me. We figured it out better.

There is such a good phrase "the devil is always in the details." Knowing and understanding all the subtleties, you can figure out what is happening. I think we managed to do it today. Thank you very much!

Irina: Thank you too, Maxim, you are a ufologist. In general, a ufologist is a contact specialist. I remember when I corresponded on ufological forums, even before Maxim and before the Cassiopeia project, I talked about my contacts, and some, perhaps laughing or jokingly, jokingly called me a ufologist. Tell me, as a ufologist, which ufologist am I?

Maxim: I would now call it more broadly. Ufologist is a narrow concept. I would call him a researcher of the unknown, a researcher of anomalous phenomena, that's more. We live in the Universe, we do not yet understand many processes at our human level, we are only encountering them.

Irina: I mean, they called me "ufologist", what kind of ufologist am I?

Maxim: You are a ufologist too, because if you remember our first correspondence, I was interested in ship engines. This is a purely ufological topic in theory.

Irina: You wrote to me on UfoKom, I remember.

Maxim: Yes. You described many things to me quite well, I was shocked. I thought, how does she know this? Because I already had certain information, you know what it's all about?

Irina: Yes, you asked me and Mead the same questions.

1:02:57 The path of a skeptic to the Cassiopeia project.

Maxim: I'll probably need to make a separate video (if the audience is interested) why I started communicating with Irina.

Irina: Definitely. You, as an administrator, the head of your project in Cassiopeia, make a video about yourself: "I am in Cassiopeia." Tell us how you met, how you ended up in the project, it will be interesting.

Maxim: Good idea. I'll just briefly tell you in this video, it will also be interesting to the audience. I, too, am a skeptic in principle, but a sober skeptic, because I need practice, access to practice, some kind of evidence. I have met many people who simply fantasize that they are contactees - charlatans, to put it bluntly. And they don't give any information. Or bad contact, not built. But I saw a man, watched the video, it was Vladimir Kukolnikov. Do you remember what he told about you then?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Vladimir Kukolnikov (from Cosmopoisk) talked about how Irina made contact with Kirchiton, this is such a creature. I felt like there was something here. I think: "I'll contact Irina, out of curiosity, I'll ask what's going on there." And by that time I had already studied a lot of technical information on various resources, mostly in English. I was interested in how gravity works, how these engines work that overcome gravity.

Irina: Mead immediately felt that the questions were not just being asked by a person who didn't know.

Maxim: Yes, yes, yes. I specifically ask Irina questions through the forum: "How does the engine work, the propulsion system, how does the power plant work?" And then she answers me what I already knew from other sources! It's like a mosaic is coming together.

Irina: But you didn't write to me, how do you know, you wrote: "Oh, you're a contactee!"

1:04:53 How to get rid of a demon?

Svetlana: Can I ask you another question? We are in the Interstellar Union Practice chat, looking: there is only one woman writing, her name is Svetlana, from Ukraine. She writes: "I have a demon." And since this happened to me, I'm at a loss myself, so let's call her via Telegram. She says: "I turned to Irina, I have something like that through witchcraft."

Here is a man talking on the phone normally, and there is such a terrible laugh. Then he abruptly breaks off, and she continues speaking again. Over video communication, her facial features even change.

Irina: Oksana?

Svetlana: No, her name is Svetlana, she lives in Ukraine. She runs all over Russia in search of a lecture. But we called her last week to find out how she was doing.

Irina: It's no use, telling me off won't help. She needs to harmonize herself, she needs to raise her vibrations.

Svetlana: This is the situation, he told me so, this is his opinion. I say: "I don't know, Gogas, whether this is true or not," she says: "I'm now in the hospital with pneumonia, I go to church for communion," and then she says: "I'm tired of this creature, he growls constantly " And then he says to me: "Didn't she try to love him?" - Gogas says. "It's even offensive to hear about yourself, whatever he may be." I tried to tell her: "Sveta, who am I communicating with here, he says to you: "Wouldn't you try to treat him differently?"

Irina: Yes, I tell her the same thing!

Svetlana: Yes? And she says: "How can I do this creature..."

Irina: She attracts him with this aggression. You see, Sveta, the thing is that there are people, they don't hear you - you tell them one thing, they want something else.

Some people don't want to work on themselves. The development of Love is not just going to the forest to pick flowers, it is serious work on yourself. Some people do not want to work on themselves; they want to shift all responsibility onto sorcerers or some entities. They want someone to wave a censer or a magic wand over them, or to knock them on the head with the Gospel, and they will be miraculously healed. But this is impossible!

Svetlana: Speak in words, as he constantly tells me, one to one directly!

Irina: I really liked it!

Maxim: Thank you! Bye!

Svetlana: Goodbye!

Maxim: Light of the Absolute to everyone!

Irina: Light of the Absolute!

Svetlana: Goodbye!

Maxim: Goodbye!

Irina : Goodbye!

#385 Pillar Tree - a new technique for healing the spine. How to relieve back pain? Atlas correction.

00:18 Background.

In the summer of 1999, a 13-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than 20 years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:14 Introduction of meeting participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. With us in the astral body is Ashtar Sheran, who is the commander of the Galactic Federation of Light, as well as the representative of the Spiritual World, Archangel Raphael, who is responsible for healing systems, for egregors, which are responsible for teachings about healing.

Today we have such a topic that I asked them to attend. This is a new healing system that our master Alleya will tell you about. Hello!

02:03 Healing method “Tree of the Pillar”. Energy "Light Breathing". "Light body". "Light Choir"

Alleya: Hello, dear friends! I welcome you all to our channel “Cassiopeia”.

I’ll tell you a little about myself: I’m a healer, a contactee with twenty-four civilizations, and I also interact with the Galactic Federation of Light and the Spiritual World.

I received several tools from the Galactic Federation of Light: this is the rune of awareness, light transformation symbols and a very interesting, effective, efficient method “Tree of the Pillar”.

I'll tell you a little about him. The Pillar Tree method is based on the energetic alignment of the construction of the sacred architecture of the body. What is a "pillar"? This is a massive internal support that supports the arch - our head. And “tree” is not only a plant, but also growth, as well as the tree of life.

Initially, when I received this method, it was called “sacred architecture of body building.” For a very long time I was looking for a method that could painlessly straighten the spine and put the “atlas” (this is the first cervical vertebra) in place. I know that the craftsmen and manual technicians who perform this procedure; it's complicated. The procedure is very painful.

Since I work with energies, with energy systems, I really wanted to get something to heal the spine and align it. And they showed me an energy structure that can be applied to the whole body. She's golden. When the physical body itself, the energy body, gets into it, the spine is aligned. At the same time, we do not influence mechanically, only the energy structure is affected, and at the same time bone and muscle tissue are aligned.

With this system, I also received an interesting, amazing system from the ascended teachers - the “Light Body”. Since I lead all the progress of new energies, work with energies, this system was handed over to me. It includes three energies. In itself, it is crystalline plasma energy:

“Light body” is energy that helps heal muscles, bones, and all joints. They are saturated with this energy. There is healing, as well as an increase in vitality.

“Light breathing” - this energy works with every cell of the body, saturating it with its energy; works with DNA, that is, healing occurs at the cellular level.

And the third energy that is in this system is the “Light Chorus”. This is the energy that works with all fluids - blood, lymph and endocrine glands. There is renewal, rejuvenation, healing of cells, improved circulation in the lymphatic system, and an increase in metabolic processes.

Everything did not happen all at once, but gradually. I put this method together using “puzzles”: first, this energy structure came.

Look, Archangel Raphael, Ashtar, how she looks, how she looks from my field. I have three children, and the last ones were “Caesareans.” The pelvic bones did not fall into place. When I installed this structure for myself, of course, I couldn’t walk for two weeks; it hurt because the pelvic bones were falling into place. After two weeks there was a slight exacerbation - this is normal during healing. And that’s it: my spine straightened out, my pelvic bones also straightened out, I walked straight. I am a practitioner, I try everything on myself, how it works, before implementing something and giving it to people.

Irina: Thank you for such a detailed, very interesting story about the new practice. And now Archangel Raphael and Ashtar Sheran greet you, Alleyya, greet you, dear friends.

(Ashtar says) Yes, I am familiar with this practice, I also use it for energy exercises. It turns out that you can do this in the Astral plane, fill yourself with these energies. Archangel Raphael will tell you about their origin.

(Archangel Raphael speaks) Earth Science at the present stage of development knows very little even about the energies of the material world. You are more or less familiar with only nine energies of the physical plane, and even then you have not fully studied them, neither them nor their transitions into each other. This is a natural stage of your development.

There are 6,048 energies of the material plane, which originated from the Spiritual world, of which nine constitute the physical plane. All other energies make up subtle material planes. The energies that you listed also come from the ether, these are etheric plans that are the basis for the construction of more densely material plans of formations. The listed energies refer to the fifteenth, eighteenth and twenty-second density levels.

This means that those energies that come from there do not form the physical world, but worlds that are more subtle for you. Getting into the physical world, they fill the space between the atoms of the body, and because they fill it, these atoms become plastic and begin to obey thoughts, more subordinate to thought forms. That is, while you are sending these energies, you are also doing mental work.

Alleya: Yes, that's absolutely true.

Irina: Thought forms, together with this energy, build the body. A person can help this if, firstly, he physically relaxes and, secondly, also thinks about his beautiful, healthy and flexible body.

Alleya: Yes, exactly. The question is: who gave me this “pillar” method? Initially it was called “Sacred Architectural Body”, then they changed the name and said: “Tree of the Pillar”, “Tree of Life”. Is it possible to name those who passed this method on to me? He's interesting.

Irina: (Ashtar speaks) And I transmitted, and Archangel Raphael, and those subtle plasmoid entities that are nearby. This is a joint decision. The energies are taken from these density levels, but they asked.

Alleyya: The method itself consists of several stages: building an energy grid, aligning the axes across the body - we have a lot of them, which we align in this method - the session itself with the “light body” and setting up the crystalline structure. This is working with the ethereal crystals that exist. They showed me how to do it.

Irina: These are clusters (shows ethereal crystals) filled with energies of these density levels.

(Ashtar says) Each cluster contains three structures that are filled with energy of the 15th, 18th and 22nd density levels. This cluster enters the body, dissolves in it and disperses between atoms. At this time they become more mobile.

Dissolution occurs in the etheric body, but this results in an impact on the physical plane. The atoms are not suddenly excited, as, for example, when heated, but slowly, smoothly, without damaging the protein structure. Interesting.

14:02 Physical causes of pain in the spine. Sodium fluoride.

Alleya: Interesting. Why do people have spine pain?

Irina: (Ashtar speaks) There are a lot of reasons: both physical and spiritual, but if we take everything in general, then the first thing is that the human spine is very flexible from birth. And, by the way, it can be damaged not only at birth, but also when you take the child incorrectly, when falling, turning, for example. He still has very little bone tissue, as well as tissue in his joints. There are childhood traumas at birth.

There is a factor that causes additional damage: the spine itself is so adapted that developed muscles help it stay in an upright position and occupy the correct configuration between the organs of the body. But if a person has a sedentary lifestyle and does not have enough movement, his muscles begin to atrophy. This causes the spine to shift. His vertebrae, due to the fact that there are joints between the vertebrae, and because he is not supported normally by muscles, can move to the side. The nerves that leave the spine are pinched. This can cause pain and dysfunction of some organ.

All of this actually affects the spine even more. The spinal cord inside, not receiving normal signals from the internal organs, does not provide clear feedback to the brain about where it is located. This strengthens his current position.

And there is another reason: this is an insufficient supply of vitamins A, E, D and calcium, which comes out of the bones, including the spine. The spine becomes more vulnerable to injury.

Chronic use of sodium fluoride, which removes calcium from the bones. The fact is that sodium fluoride is added, for example, to your toothpastes, it enters the blood through the oral mucosa. You don't even have to swallow it. I recommend that you choose a toothpaste without sodium fluoride. You can also find out from the technical regulations whether water is fluoridated in your region. If yes, then buy filters that can catch it. Fluoride is beneficial in small amounts, but usually people are rarely deficient in it because it comes from the diet.

Alleya: Thanks for the advice.

18:30 Spiritual causes of pain in the spine.

Irina: (Ashtar speaks) These are physical reasons, and in addition there are spiritual reasons. They appear when a person is constantly in a state of stress, irritation, and fear. These emotions provoke the release of adrenaline and noradrenaline, which cause strong spasms and muscle contractions. The muscles in the lumbar region and shoulder blades contract especially strongly. These are quite strong muscles that are designed to support the spine and keep the body in an upright position.

When muscles react to stress hormones, they develop areas of spasm. And these areas also shift - if there is more tension in one place and less in another, the spine moves to the side. This comes from stress and from the constant feeling that a person seems to be carrying some kind of burden. Perhaps some kind of guilt, perhaps a burden of caring for someone. For example, he doesn't want to, it's hard for him to do something, but he can't let go and can't admit it to himself. And at the same time, he believes that it is difficult for him to live this life. This gives him a feeling of heaviness in the spine, as if he is carrying a load. And over time, this "heaviness" is reflected in both the spine and the entire physical body. Such signals are formed to the nervous system that spinal diseases actually occur - hernias and so on.

Alleya: I thank you! Our spine is divided into three sections: cervical, thoracic and lumbar. Are there any separate spiritual reasons for each department?

Irina: If one thing hurts, we can say that it is connected with energy centers, with chakras. This may be a signal of a block in some chakra. If it is the cervical region - at the level of the throat chakra, if the thoracic region - it can be at the level of both the fourth and third chakras, this can also cause pain. If it is the lumbar region, it could be the third or second chakra. Energy blocks in certain chakras. When negative energy accumulates there, muscle tension in this area is provoked. Harmful substances, such as lactic acid, accumulate there and are eliminated very slowly. In this area of myocytes there is a slow metabolism.

I hope you understand it?

Alleya: Yes, I understand perfectly.

Irina: Why is metabolism slow? Because metabolism is a vital principle, the energy of life. If there is any negativity there, then the energy of life that comes from God reduces its effect on this area. There begins decomposition, atrophy. To have a healthy spine, it is necessary to engage in prevention from childhood and, of course, in adulthood. These are physical movements that are aimed specifically at the back muscles, and mandatory rest.

23:30 The meaning of physical exercise.

Alleyya: (Ashtar speaks) The exercises must be done correctly. The body lying on the sofa takes the shape of the sofa.

Irina: This must be done from childhood, just 20-30 minutes a day. But it’s better to do this every day than, for example, two hours twice a week - it won’t bring such benefits.

You have a very good word in Russian - physical exercise. Why is it called charging? There is such a thing as “charging your phone.” It is discharged, you put it on charge. How can you position the body?

Alleya: It gives you energy.

Irina: It would seem that this is incomprehensible to a person - if he moved, then, on the contrary, he was tired, and his energy became less. Then why is it called “charging”? I'll explain now. The fact is that with certain various movements, certain muscle groups tense and relax in a rhythmic manner. This causes blood flow to them, accelerated metabolism in these cells: myocytes, removal of lactic acid and increased oxygen filling. And oxygen, as you know, plus glucose, causes the formation of ATP, and, accordingly, then you feel a surge of energy and less fatigue during the day than if you had not done this exercise. And that's why it's called "physical exercise."

25:50 Workload, responsibilities.

Alleya: Thank you. We still have the opinion that the spiritual cause of spinal disease is that a person takes on a lot of stress. Is this a spiritual reason?

Irina: (Ashtar speaks) A feeling of burden is a state when a person seems to be carrying a load. This is the feeling that this is an unbearable load for him. Before, my dear friends, you take on anything, any responsibilities, so that later you don't get sick, don't reproach yourself for not being able to fulfill them, don't reproach yourself, first talk to your Higher Self, whether it suits your life task this duty. Weigh it, soberly assess your capabilities, whether you can do it even when it is difficult for you.

27:05 First cervical vertebra "atlas".

Alleya: Thank you. Question: what is the first cervical vertebra, the "atlas", responsible for? I'll tell you a little: the first cervical vertebra rests on the axis, after the axis there are the following vertebrae, and when the "atlas" is displaced, it compresses the foramen magnum, where the vessels and nerves pass.

Irina: (Ashtar speaks) "Atlas", its etheric structure, is responsible for connecting the etheric structures of the spinal cord and brain. At the physical level, this is support for the head, its movements, protection from injuries when turning the head, when bending. On the etheric plane, this is the transfer of information. The section of the spinal cord passes through the atlas, which, like the diencephalon, is directly responsible for all functions of the body. Instinctive, such as breathing, heartbeat and so on.

28:38 Contraindications to the “Pillar Tree” method.

Alleya: Yes, absolutely, right. Are there any contraindications to the Pillar Tree method?

Irina: (Ashtar speaks) In general, a contraindication to this method, as to all energy methods of treatment, is an acute state of pain when a person needs rest. A febrile state, when a person has a high temperature, his immune system is fighting an infection, and energy surges can harm him. In this state he needs peace. Contraindications include acute pain after injury or surgery. Also, if a person does this simply for the sake of the result, but does not work with the spiritual cause of illness.

All energy practices must be combined with mandatory work on oneself, with mandatory correction, cleansing oneself on a spiritual level, with mandatory cleansing of blocks, with correction of one’s shortcomings. If you don’t do this, if you leave your character the same as it was before the illness, then those higher forces that provide energy - in general, any source of energy treatment - can block this energy for a specific person, because he is not taking care of himself. So that he remembers the spiritual causes of the disease and begins to work with them.

30:41 Mastering the “Pillar Tree” method.

Alleya: Exactly. I agree completely, absolutely. Is there any special initiation needed to pass this method?

Irina: (Ashtar speaks) There is no special one, but training is needed. It is desirable that a person, even if he does not have a special medical education, have an understanding of the anatomy and physiology of the musculoskeletal system and nervous system.

Alleya: Can I pass this on?

Irina: Yes, of course.

Alleya: Thank you.

Irina: First, give me some article, find extracts on the Internet about the anatomy and physiology of the spine, spinal cord, brain - how they are structured, what their physiology, anatomy is. To know what is inside the spine, what the spinal cord is needed for.

Alleya: I'm talking about it.

Irina: It is not necessary to learn which nerves come from where, you need to know the basic functions, at least at the ninth grade school level.

32:11 The difference between the "Tree of the Pillar" technique and other techniques.

Alleya: Okay, I understand. I give them this information during training. The question is: how does this technique differ from other alternative techniques?

Irina: Which ones?

Alleyya: I know that manual technicians carry out alignment, putting the "Atlas" in place. There is some kind of energetic adjustment to align the spine.

Irina: (Raphael speaks) Everyone has their own methodology, their own energies. It differs in that it is given precisely from these density levels. Moreover, the energies pass through you (through your energy structure). Or it will pass through another master, so the impact is individual for everyone. And in order to decide which method is better, which will help more, you still need to talk to your Higher Self if there are any doubts.

Choose, as they say, "with your heart" - what your heart, intuition, intuitively tells you, then go through. Methods such as manual massage, massage, energy massage can also help, but they can use, for example, the energies of other civilizations or the person himself. For example, even in cosmoenergetics there is an energy massage of the spine. Pulling a person, various movements are performed, while the person is placed under the canal.

Alleyya: Yes, here we also use energy, during the method we use these energies to align the spine, the energy permeates it and begins to heal. We also carried out examinations using the Oberon apparatus, before and after the “pillar” method. We got simply amazing results. The device showed up to 52% changes for the better in blood vessels, nerve conduction, and brain structure.

35:09 Features of the musculoskeletal system of animals.

Alleya: Okay. Here’s a question: animals on Earth, for example, do not have problems with the spine, but for some reason people do. Do they have some other spinal structure?

Irina: In fact, this can be a problem for animals too, but the absence of upright walking makes their existence easier. Their body support is on four limbs, the body weight is distributed more evenly, so the load on the spine is less. We can say that gravity for them is reduced by half: not by two limbs, but by four. For example, there is a load in front of you, ten kilograms, will it be easier for you to carry it for a certain distance in one hand or, distributing it into two hands, five kilograms each?

Alleya: Distributed.

Irina: Why? After all, the weight is the same? Because you distribute the load across different muscles. Plus the fact that animals have better nutrition due to the fact that they act on instinct. Not according to some fashionable program, perhaps in their society, but according to instincts. What they are naturally destined to eat, they eat. Of course, if these are not some kind of domestic animals that a person takes care of and feeds them according to his own understanding. There may already be some problems there.

If an animal is in nature, then it will, firstly, move quite a lot to get food. For example, elk. He will have to walk a lot to get energy for his existence. A good owner will not bring a piece of hay to his feeder like a cow. Because of this, even in winter he will have to walk a lot and intensively dig up damp, rotten, cold grass with his hooves. It is clear that he must eat something even in winter. His body weight is large, and he needs no less than a cow.

Alleya: Animals use all muscle groups, but in us, it turns out, only the upper ones.

Irina: Yes, their body weight is distributed over four limbs. At the same time, they still move a lot and feed on instinct. Whatever their body tells them is what they eat.

Alleya: Therefore, dear friends, be sure to do physical exercises for all muscle groups so that all muscles work and are saturated with oxygen.

Irina: (Ashtar speaks) Perhaps you have noticed: small children, especially under five years old, love to walk on the floor on all fours, imitating the movement of animals, for example, cats. They stretch, stretch their back. Even when they can move on their feet, they still love to be on all fours, that's how they play. They instinctively feel that the spine is unloaded from this. There are even special exercises for people where they walk on their knees and on their hands.

Alleya: There is also movement on the butt. Excellent too.

Irina: This concerns animals that have four legs. As for birds, for example, which have wings. They also sometimes walk on two legs, but their skeletal structure is different. They had it light, there were even cavities that were filled with air, it was easier for them to hold their body.

By the way, humans also have the factor of spinal disease. Increased body weight can lead to displacement, and stronger muscles are needed to keep the spine in order. For example, you no longer need to hold fifty kilograms of weight, but one hundred. This means they must be twice as strong and will tire twice as quickly. You need to understand this and approach your training and health maintenance accordingly.

The same applies to joints. Diseases of the joints, especially the lower extremities, starting from the ankle, knee and hip joints, immediately affect the condition of the spine. If a joint is damaged by arthritis or arthrosis and begins to poorly perform its functions of support and shock absorption when pushing off the ground when a person walks, this begins to damage the spine, especially the lumbar region, which also absorbs shock when walking.

41:35 Help with lower back pain.

Alleya: The most common problem (you mentioned the lower back), for example, is that a person cannot bend over and severe pain begins. What can you advise a person to do during this period of time, how to help him?

Irina: (Ashtar speaks) It happens that a person can bend over, but it hurts him, on the contrary, to return to his normal state. He bent over, but when he began to lift his body, he experienced quite severe pain in the lumbar region. This happens, firstly, from lack of training, from the fact that the muscles have simply already begun to atrophy. When trying to lift the body or lower it down, they become overstrained and micro-tears occur. This can only be eliminated by gradual, careful but regular exercises to strengthen the muscles in this area.

There are special exercises. Help: yoga, dancing, swimming. Walking, cycling, and climbing stairs are very good for strengthening your back muscles. If you're on your way to work, try getting off the bus one stop earlier or simply walking more. Also, if you live no higher than the fifth floor, going up and down without an elevator will be a workout.

43:32 What problems can the Pillar Tree method solve?

Alleya: Great. Here we have hernias, protrusions, displacements.

What other problems can the Pillar Tree method solve? What diseases can it correct?

Irina: (Ashtar speaks) It can remove muscle tension, spinal hernia, it can cure chronic radiculitis, other inflammatory diseases in the spine, myositis, for example.

It often happens when it hurts to turn your neck. It happens that it is not the cervical spine that hurts, but the muscles that become inflamed. It also helps with diseases such as poor transmission of signals from organs located in the chest, abdomen and legs, through the spinal cord to the brain and vice versa.

Alleya: Improves conductivity.

Irina: Yes, improving conductivity. And it happens that a person begins to feel, for example, unsure of movement, or numbness in some part of the body. Helps with this too. And it even helps when a person, for example, has thrombophlebitis or varicose veins of the lower extremities - this also affects.

Improved conductivity in the spine and improvement on all levels - not only on the physical, but also on the etheric plane. This is an improvement in the conductivity of vital energy. It affects in such a way that the veins and arteries in the legs begin to receive clearer signals about contraction.

Alleya: Thank you very much, I somehow missed this topic. Exactly, can you imagine, the picture suits me too.

Irina: Me too.

46:11 Duration of exposure to the structure of ethereal crystals.

Alleya: I can see the improvement right now. Placing this crystalline structure on the spine, which is made of etheric crystals, if you now look at the subtle plane, how it is built around the spine, and which I place, compose, how long can it stand - a week, two?

Irina: It should be from five to fourteen days, but this is individual.

Alleya: Information came to me when I looked at people to see if this structure was there or not. I look - it's standing there, it's cool, great.

Irina: What does it give? This is temporary support for the spinal muscles at the etheric level, when the muscles need to rest and unload them.

47:10 Diagnostic methods. Oberon apparatus.

Alleya: Great. I am addressing you, my dears. There are a lot of diagnostics that can help diagnose whether the spine is straight, whether there are curvatures, scoliosis, kyphosis...

What other diagnostics can you tell me that can be used to determine? We turn our heads from left to right, looking at the angle of rotation, where it is greater, where it is less. We look at the shoulders - which shoulder is raised and which is lowered. We look at the shoulder blades to see if they are at the same level. We look at the pelvic bones at the same level or something. We palpate the entire spine. According to the earlobes: some people have one earlobe larger and the other smaller. You can also see the level of the head by looking at the upper tips of the ears to see if the head itself is level. Also, when we lay a person down, we can look at the heels to see if our legs are at the same level.

Irina: (Ashtar speaks) Yes, when a person is lying down (I saw this problem myself), it was clearly visible that the person had one leg longer than the other. And at the same time he did not experience any special problems. There are such exercises that he doesn't do himself, but there are people who make certain movements for him, and before his eyes everything evens out.

This may not be for long; he must then do special exercises himself. And the muscles that you returned to their usual normal position, not yet developed and not accustomed to this position, can shift again. Therefore, care must be taken in certain movements. For example, do not run, but do special exercises to develop these muscles.

Alleya: Great!

Irina: What diagnostic methods? Energy diagnostics based on body frequencies is well suited. The Oberon device diagnoses. The spine also has normal frequencies, and if they are disturbed, this is already a sign that there is no normal passage of energy there. Energy stagnates.

Alleya: Okay. Only the Oberon apparatus can do this? Or can I myself determine the frequency of the spine, at what level is the problem?

Irina: Yes, you can tell. There are special diagnostic methods when they ask (how blocks are determined), tune in to the physical body, lead (show) two hands along the body and feel where the person has a problem.

Alleya: That's it, I understand. I know there is a method called “ringing a bell.” Where there is a dull sound, there is a problem, the frequency of the sound is precisely the bell. Does it work too?

Irina: Yes, but this already determines energy blocks more - a dull sound will be where the sound has been absorbed and entered the body to a greater extent. The energy block delays sounds. The large energy block can even block sound waves.

52:06 How to relieve pain in the spine.

Alleya: Yes, thank you for the tips, they are very necessary. How to quickly relieve pain in the spine?

Irina: (Archangel Raphael speaks) There are different reasons, depending on what caused it. First, ensure peace. A person should lie on a flat, hard surface, in a position that is comfortable for him, so that he can relax, because pain is caused by tension. You can give some kind of painkiller, but it may not work like an antispasmodic that relieves spasms. Or give special herbs, for example, mint, thyme and others, and make a compress that relieves spasms.

Alleya: Is this Raphael speaking?

Irina: Yes, he shows me herbs. (Archangel Raphael says) You can also use an ointment based on bee venom, for example. It also relieves spasms very well. The pain is caused not by damage to the spine itself, but by muscle tension when the nerves are pinched.

Alleyya: Raphael, you gave me energy, namely essential, elixirs from essential oils. Maybe some essential oil elixir could be used here too? Based, as I understand it, on mint. And what else?

Irina: Conifers are good: fir and cedar. Mint and eucalyptus relieve spasms.

Alleya: Rub.

Irina: Yes, fir does not need to be diluted at all, it is not harmful.

Alleyya: You told me that a certain number of drops need to be mixed, and the composition that is needed will be obtained.

Irina: I told you that in individual cases, but now you are asking me about general things.

Alleya: I'm asking specifically now. If, for example, there is pain in the lumbar region, this is a common problem for many people.

Irina: Essential oil is suitable for one, but not for another. Everything is individual.

Alleya: Okay.

Irina: I believe that an antispasmodic is more universal, because our task is to remove the spasm.

Alleya: And then work with the spiritual reason why this all happened.

Irina: Yes, but it happens that if a person has severe pain, he will no longer have time for the Higher Self. He needs help, to relieve the symptoms, as you say. And only later, when the symptoms were relieved without fail. When he can go to the Higher Self, when he no longer has pain (even if he feels good, the pain has not returned), it is still very advisable (of course, no one needs to be forced) to go to the Higher Self. The problem may recur. The first thing to ask is, “What is the spiritual cause of my pain attack?” And the second question: “How can I eliminate it?”

Alleya: Great. Thank you for your advice, thank you for your attention, thank you, Ashtar, and sending you the Light of my Love!

Thank you, my curator, Archangel Raphael, for always being with me and helping me.

Thank you, Irina, for the opportunity to hold our conference, for this attention.

And I invite everyone to training, to learn the “Pillar Tree” method. I want everyone to have this tool so that you can help not only yourself, heal yourself, improve your health, but also those around you.

Irina: Thank you! Dear friends, thank you for being with us, thank you for your Light. Thank you for your activity, for your inspiration for bright deeds, for increasing the number of good deeds in the noosphere of our planet, increasing the mass of bright thoughts that change reality for the better for us and our children!

I appeal to you: if you have problems in the spine and not only, contact our master Alleya. She is an excellent specialist, and at the same time she will be able to take you to the Higher Self at the highest level.

Dear friends, see you again!

Alleya: Thank you very much, thank you!

#387 Teachings of Carlos Castaneda in the modern world. How to become free? Life recapitulation technique.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/uchenie-karlosa-kastanedy-v-sovremennom-mire https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xg_0pZpmn94

00:18 Background.

In the summer of 1999, a 13-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than 20 years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:13 Introduction of meeting participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we have a very interesting topic: “The teachings of Carlos Castaneda in our modern world.” Representatives of thin-material plasmoid worlds came to talk about him and the essence of his teachings. This is Kshurdayer, the fifteenth level of density, a representative of the subtle material world of the Earth’s magnetosphere, part of the Kryon group, a group mind. He is responsible for the world that was in contact with shamans in Mexico.

Also present here is Erwin, density level thirty-seven, Betelgeuse star system, guardian of the Frostfire mages. This is a space plasmoid.

And my curator, MidgasKaus, from the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien life forms, including a student of plasmoids.

Kshurdier, Erwin and Mead will be answering questions today. I don’t know Kshurdayer, I saw him for the first time today. Erwin and Mead brought him. They said that he was in contact with shamans.

Alexander: It will be interesting to find out.

Irina: What do you look like? I know Erwin. His normal form is like a starburst. Two cones nested inside each other, consisting of stars. He can take the form of a person, a man, for example.

Kshurdayer looks like a quadrangle, like a cross, but in the middle there is a circle. How snowflakes are drawn.

Alexander: Is this his life form?

Irina: It spins like a wheel. (Kshurdayer speaks) My diameter of the subtle-material body is around two hundred meters. Now I have shrunk to the boundaries of your perception in order to transmit information.

So, Alexander will ask us questions. Please tell us about yourself.

Alexander: My name is Alexander. This whole topic with Castaneda began quite a long time ago in Russia. I have been studying it since the nineties, reading his books, watching various seminars. I am one of those who practiced what is written there. I didn't just read it as science fiction, but rather perceived it as reality, as a chance to use this knowledge for self-development. There are moments that are incomprehensible to me.

I think many who are interested in this topic will be interested, despite the fact that we do not have such teachers, naguals. We do not present teaching, only courses. And, accordingly, many interpretations of texts that are written and practice arise. So I want to find out what it was about. I will ask these questions.

Irina: Let's clarify right away: since there are three of them, so that you don't get confused with the names, we will clarify who is responsible. The representative who is responsible for this system, for contacts, who transmitted directly to the shaman, or the representative of the star plasmoids, Erwin, or my curator from the planet Esler. If it's all the same, then they themselves choose who is responsible.

Alexander: I think the higher the better, or whoever is closer to this issue.

Irina: Okay, let's try asking questions.

06:30 Nagual. Plasmoids about the concept of freedom.

Alexander: My first question was this. The Nagual's party was gathering. It consisted of sixteen people. There was a Nagual who led to freedom. He knew the way. He had his own properties and qualities suitable for leading a group. And I was interested in this zone or area itself, which is called “freedom”. What it is? Where was he taking them?

Irina: (Kshurdaier answers) The nagual is not a person, but a vortex in human form.

Please explain what this means?

(Kshurdayer answers) This is a person who has realized himself in space.

Alexander: It said that he must have the appropriate qualities to be a nagual. He is born a nagual, he does not become one. His cocoon is divided into four parts, as they describe.

Irina: This is the one who is everything there is. And what kind of group he gathered, there were many of them, that is, this is not one person.

Alexander: Yes, that’s what they say.

Irina: The freedom you are talking about is freedom from the images of oneself to which a person submits.

Alexander: They assume that the finale of the teaching is that Castaneda took a leap into the abyss. It’s as if it wasn’t even a test task, but the last thing that happened to him, almost before turning into Light. He jumped into the abyss, before which his teachers prepared him. He had two teachers who helped him.

During the jump, he had to acquire the form of Light and enter it with consciousness. And from this moment on, it is believed that it is no longer, as the teachings say, just working with a person. Working with the individual is necessary in order to move into the area of freedom. They burn from the inside (by fire). Fire from within suggests that the whole body, the whole consciousness, as they write, is illuminated. And he moves on. The entire cocoon is illuminated (this is a separate conversation about the cocoon). They pass on, as if they disappear from this world.

Irina: (MidgasKaus speaks) We need to understand the purpose of this conference. It will be about some of your specific terminology, or it will be an understanding for everyone to understand what these images meant.

Alexander: I think that, firstly, the Castaneda and Kaltek people understand all this terminology. I can then ask questions so that we understand the teaching itself. It's important for me.

Irina: Are we explaining to everyone or are we leading in a narrower sense?

Alexander: Let’s use it in a narrow sense to make it deeper.

Irina: What you are saying now: “falling into the abyss”, “inner fire” - these are certain images of certain processes that are described differently in some teachings.

You know that depending on your perception, the same phenomenon is described in different ways. And it also depends on whether this is a view from within a person, from his consciousness, or whether it is a view from external sources, those plasmoid civilizations that gave this teaching.

If it is stated that a person is a cocoon or something else, it is clear that this is no longer a perception of a person, but of energy beings. Are we going to talk now, clarifying this? Or will we not go beyond the teachings? In terminology, I mean.

Alexander: If there are any explanations, I am not against it. I would like to delve into the very processes that took place there at the time of training in this group of the Nagual.

Irina: Freedom is freedom from the images inside, to which a person submits and gives up energy. Submitting means serving them. To serve is to give energy. If he gives energy to himself (interchange with himself, a closed cycle), then he does not spend it, but collects it. Then his cocoon, as you say, expands, and he begins to dissolve in the Light.

This is such a technique. It was given by plasmoid civilizations to a certain group of people of their contactees, whom you called shamans. And not only in Mexico, but also throughout almost the entire globe. It was given in one form or another.

If we speak for everyone, then this is a form of enlightenment, the so-called samadhi, coming to a certain divine energy, if we now explain what this means. This is given in the terminology of shamans, in their picture of the world. After all, in any group, be it the group of Castaneda or shamans, there is some specific picture of the world.

13:30 Where did don Juan go?

Alexander: Yes, there are images that they see, and there are images that they interpret. It's clear. Question: where did they go when they disappeared from this world?

Irina: Physically?

Alexander: Yes. There is a description of the space where they go: a certain city behind the dome, and they end up there. Are there people of the appropriate configuration or those who managed to free themselves faster?

Irina: (Erwin speaks) Indeed, this is a look from another density. A dome is a certain layer of ethereal substance that separates one density from another.

Alexander: Where did don Juan and his party go then?

Irina: His soul, Spirit?

Alexander: He didn't die. As they say, he did not die, he turned into Light, and they went somewhere.

Irina: It's clear that he didn't die. And you won't die. Death does not exist. There is only a transition from one energy state to another. And death is an illusion of perception based on a person's idea of the finitude of some process. If a process is finite, then it does not exist. All existing processes are endless.

Alexander: Is this a general process, one might say? Some kind of cycle that happens to everyone?

Irina: You just need to look at where all the parts of don Juan's being are located individually, as a separate element in the Universe, right down to his cells and thoughts. Where is he himself? Everywhere, as if dissolved. And your divine essence is also dissolved, and it is one with him, and with Irina, and with us.

16:18 Achieving freedom.

Alexander: Okay. There were concepts: first, second and third attention. It was believed that at the moment of combustion from the inside (this is just a term - combustion from the inside), the whole body and the entire cocoon flare up, illuminate with awareness and move into the third attention. This, as far as I understand, is called achieving freedom. What is "freedom"? That is, at the moment of awareness they turn into Light and become everywhere? Or do they end up in a specific place? Out of sight, maybe.

Irina: (Erwin speaks) Light is not a place, it is not material. A place is a specific part of space. Space itself is generated by Light.

What do you call this Light? Zeus, Brahman, Jehovah, the great Eagle - it doesn't matter. These are images that are in your mental settings. There is a certain reality that transcends your senses. But you yourself do not depend on these feelings, only your ego depends. Your contactee calls this the "embodied Self."

Your true essence is beyond the world, all worlds, all states. To merge with it consciously and become free from the conventions and images imposed on you by living in this world is liberation.

Alexander: This is from the position of the plasmoids who supervise the shamans?

Irina: Yes. He is already trying to somehow switch to my terminology, and he also explains to me.

18:56 Freedom from restrictions.

Alexander: Okay. The Nagual assembled the party according to signs. He noticed some signs in nature, in the world in general, and chose for himself. The force directed him here or there. There were simply different situations. Looking at the configuration of the person himself, the Nagual sees him and tries to catch him or, say, to attract him to the party.

I have more of a question. At the end of the teaching we read that Castaneda was the last in the very line of knowledge transfer, search, and collection of these parties. He says that any person, without having a Nagual, can become acquainted or meet with power, engage in these practices and thus achieve freedom, realization. Is it so?

Irina: Any person is the essence of strength, enclosed in a certain tonality, like looking only in one direction. If you look through the window, you see one side of the street. And if you don't have a window on the opposite side of the street, you don't see it, but that doesn't mean it doesn't exist.

So the beholder is the essence of power, and his looking out the window is the use of his power. Liberation in this case is the dissolution of walls.

Alexander: Dissolving the walls - such a three-dimensional vision is obtained.

Irina: Yes, when it happens, this tunnel dissolves into reality. You become free from restrictions. By the way, you built these walls for yourself in your body and in your mind.

Alexander: Yes. This is exactly what they catch, saying that we are caught in a certain net. In terminology, the transfer of knowledge from parents, from society, from society. And, accordingly, in order to expand your vision and perception, you need to abandon or reconsider it all.

Irina: It is completely impossible to refuse, because it is impossible to completely erase your memory. You can change your attitude. Do not consider only what is visible through the window to be reality.

Alexander: That's what it's aimed at. There are special techniques, techniques that they suggested. There were also ancient seers.

Irina: This practice is impossible without accepting and thanking the walls of this house. They protect you from the unknown and are needed at this stage of your existence. When you realize that everything is Light, and nothing can destroy these walls except you, they will dissolve.

23:14 Life recapitulation technique. Tasks of the Spirit for incarnation.

Alexander: Got it. Fine. There is a technique called “life recapitulation.” Past experiences are recapitulated and energy is released. I'm practicing. As I know, I do it well, I succeed, I understand everything there in detail. Today I was practicing and a new vision appeared. Descriptions of what is happening, how it works through the chakras.

I have two suspicions. First: I heard that there is a kind of family tree. A certain kind of transfer of experience, apparently from predecessors to children, to people. Doesn't this kind of cut us off? It's like freedom. I'm interested in what Meade will say. How does he see this process? Does he see this as avoiding evolution or, on the contrary, expansion?

Irina: (MidgasKaus speaks) I just talked to the plasmoids. What you called recapitulation is known in no less than six techniques, and they are different. It turns out that Castaneda has followers who have already founded their own schools. Certain egregors. And each person understands differently. Maybe a few words, what do you mean by this? To make it clear to our viewers what we are talking about.

Alexander: Briefly the essence is this. Accumulated experiences from past situations of current life, each experience is imprinted in our structure: in energy bodies, in the physical body, psychosomatics. It reproduces and determines, it assumes that my past experience will be repeated - this, firstly. Secondly, all psychosomatic effects last throughout life, conclusions drawn at that moment and so on.

Recapitulation allows you to see again, relive this situation and free all your structures from these locks, from closures. Release is essentially to remove programs.

Irina: There are many techniques based on the body, on thought, on breathing. Lots of techniques. What you just mentioned is called “working with blocks.” When a person experiences some emotion, he spends energy on it. Either a positive emotion or a negative one.

If he experiences a positive, high-vibrational emotion, then he directs his energy upward, into his spiritual channel, which connects him with the Source of everything. It strengthens its spiritual channel with this energy and receives Light from there. Strengthening this positive emotion, strengthening the body, improving passage along the line of fate, for example, and so on. Improving contact with your Spirit, with your Divine essence, with your curators. We call this “positive emotions go to God.”

Negative emotions, negative, low-vibration ones, cannot pass into this spiritual channel above and begin to move around the body. If a person does not get rid of them using certain methods, for example, with his awareness (from what they arose) and does not work through the causes of these emotions (does not work through, which means he does not ask himself what their reason is, does not engage in introspection), then they form in the body blocks at the chakra level.

Alexander: Yes, this is understandable, many schools have this. For Castaneda, recapitulation is inscribed in a line. This is not just working with a person or just working. It was aimed precisely at liberation. They have a phenomenon called "Eagle" which gives life. There are emanations, there is life, the will to this life, which is given from the Eagle. There is a comment on the recapitulation that this is “an opportunity to slip past the Eagle’s beak.” The eagle gives this life and launches it into a repeat cycle of incarnation. Practitioners have the opportunity (this is how it is interpreted there), having given it the past (roughly speaking, having looked at themselves from birth to the present moment, as if giving away a copy, all experience, potential), consciousness slips past it and no longer goes for rebirth. This is not just personal benefit, benefit.

Irina: (MidgasKaus speaks) Consciousness, if you mean Spirit by it, does not go for reincarnation unless it chooses it. If he himself wishes to go for incarnation, they will help him choose one. If he does not wish, he can remain at least for an eternity in the Spiritual World. The problem is that if he remains in the Spiritual World forever, then he will remain at the level that he achieved during the last incarnation, respectively, if he completed his incarnation task, which he had, which he set for himself before this birth. Birth is not just a game, but a serious step for which he prepares, accumulates energy, asks the higher Spirits, God to connect him with the body. This is serious work, not just fun.

Before birth there is always a plan for embodiment, for this life. The implementation date is always known. The main period of incarnation and certain turning points are known that need to be achieved by this time. This does not mean achieving any material benefits.

What matters for the Spirit is that it is outside of material time and space. The Spirit resides in material time and space for a limited amount of time, but in the Spiritual world - forever. Therefore, there is only one goal for incarnation into the material world. It is diverse, but in a global sense there is only one - it is a change in one's vibrations.

Alexander: Change for what?

Irina: In order to be closer to the Source of everything.

Alexander: Can we say that if we are closer to the Source, then we do not incarnate on Earth?

Irina: You don't have to incarnate, even if you are far from the Source. But the further you are from the Source, the more uncomfortable you will be at this level. You will be among people like you. And far from the Source, those who consider themselves the Source do not pay attention to others and have accumulated negativity within themselves.

Alexander: Is this not connected with incarnation on Earth? You can be embodied or disembodied, but still be aware of your connection with the Source?

Irina: You said it exactly. The degree of freedom does not depend on embodiment at all. Just as the degree of freedom does not depend on the absence or presence of clothes, a house, a car, or any material thing.

The body is the material part of you. Whether you have a body or not, it does not matter for the realization of freedom. You can be in the body and free, or outside the body, but imprisoned in the cage of your mind.

Alexander: Exactly. This is what I experienced.

00:18 Background.

Voice-over: In the summer of 1999, a 13-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than 20 years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:13 Introduction of participants.

Alleya: Hello, dear friends! I want to introduce myself. My name is Alleya. I have a medical education. For a long period of my life I worked in intensive care. At the moment I am the head of the Omsk Cassiopeia branch. Since childhood, I have been interested in esoteric sciences. At the moment I am also a leading progressor of new energies, a Reiki teacher, a master of cosmoenergetics, and a regressologist-hypnologist.

I am in contact with 24 civilizations, with the Spiritual plane, with the Spiritual world. I receive channelings and messages from guides (we have a “Message from Guides” service at Cassiopeia). I interact with the Galactic Federation of Light, from them I received spiritual tools - “Runes of Awareness”.

On the “Runes of Awareness” you can get answers to your questions and help yourself in different situations. Light transformation symbols, with their help you can heal yourself and receive messages.

From the Ascended teachers I received the Pillar Tree method. This is the energetic architectural construction of the body at the energetic level, putting the atlas in place, aligning the spine. The “In the Flow” school operates on the basis of the “Cassiopeia” project.

Today we will talk about Reiki. I give the floor to Irina.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today my curator, a specialist in biology and psychology of alien life forms from the planet Esler - MidgasCaus, is present here. One of the curators of Alleya, our Reiki master, is present here, the one who is her curator in this system.

I remind you that we have a video about Reiki. There they told me that at initiations they give constant contact. At initiations into masters, this contact is strengthened and an additional curator or even several are given. What kind of curators are these? These are representatives of thin-material or plasmoid civilizations. They call themselves light ones, civilizations of Light, beings consisting of Light.

Here I now have a being who introduced himself as the curator of Alleya in the Reiki system. It is from the 24th density level. These are not the same curators who were there last time and answered using Reiki. This is the curator who is responsible for the Alley and many others. He still comes to others. His place, his world is in the Pleiades. This is a Pleiadian.

Alleya: I didn’t even doubt it.

Irina: Name. They do not have names in our understanding. Their names are a series of sounds at a very high frequency. I now asked him to choose any name and combination of sounds in my language, take it from my memory.

How can I contact you? Greetings again. His name is Nargipulsa. He is from the Pleiades. He says that this combination of sounds brings his vibrations, his energy. We'll ask Alleya about this now. Please repeat the word.

Alleeya: Nargipuza.

Irina: Nargipulsa.

Alleya: Nargipulsa.

Irina: How do you feel?

Alleyya: The vibrations were very strong. There were a lot of me, I went to expand, as it were.

Irina: Yes, it is so expansive.

Alleya: My head started to spin a little and I started to feel feverish.

Irina: This is his vibration, like a personal name, but it has already been translated into our sounds. Like a mantra, something like that. There are no analogues in the earthly language.

Nargipulza, thank you and greetings! Now I'll tell you what it looks like.

A very interesting image. This is the hemisphere from which the rays come out. Its color is white. When the Sun rises, the hemisphere is like this, you know? And the rays come out and spread in a circle.

07:19 Reiki about the structure of the human body. Initiation in the Reiki system.

Irina: (Nargipulsa speaks) This is only a part of my subtle body that can be aimed at contacting people. The rays that you see are energies that are directed by me to correct errors in cell codes.

Alleya: How interesting. Corrections within the framework of healing work?

Irina: The human body, what you call physical matter, must consist of a strictly selected, certain number of atoms. All atoms are counted. They must be arranged in a certain order. And if this order is violated, then a person develops a low-vibration state of the body, which prevents him from fulfilling his task, that part of the Spirit that is embodied. These rays that you saw restore atoms, put them in place.

Alleya: We can be under these rays.

Irina: Yes. You were under them, remember the moment of initiation. It was I who came to you, sent you (Light shows). It is at the moment of initiation into a master.

Alleya: During the empowerment that I give to people, are you always present with me?

Irina: Yes, but not only with you. I send part of my energy to the person you are dedicating. And I call my friend, an employee, to become his curator.

Alleya: His handler?

Irina: He may not necessarily be from the Pleiades. From the Reiki system.

09:50 Alleyi channel.

Alleyya: I will have questions about the Reiki system (a little later, with permission, I want to ask you). And now the question that will interest many people: is my Reiki channel pure and working?

Irina: Exactly yours?

Alleya: Yes.

Irina: Yes, of course it is. It's very powerful. The energies that are present in you from other civilizations, humanoid and plasmoid, and your own spiritual channel, perfectly combine and reinforce each other.

All this is explained by the special purity of your spiritual heart. You are sincere.

Alleya: Thank you.

Irina: You are very sincere with people. You have no hypocrisy. This, in your opinion, is not just deception, but hiding the truth in order to be good.

Alleya: I thank you.

10:59 Differences between the energies of different civilizations and Reiki energy.

Alleya: Please tell me how new energies differ from Reiki? To understand, new energies come from different sources: from Sirius, Pleiades, Saturn, Mercury and other Galactic systems. What about Reiki? Energy, maybe a flow or something else? Vibrations?

Irina: Yes, it differs in vibrations. Those worlds from which new energies come. These energies are sent by those civilizations that are not included in the 11 plasmoid civilizations that created Reiki. But this does not mean that their energies are of worse or better quality. They are simply different, aimed at other goals, not just healing. They can be aimed at cleansing the energy structure, at tuning with the egregor, there are different goals. This differs in the frequency of vibrations, but not spiritual, but subtle. We differ in frequencies in the subtle worlds, in the level of density.

Alleya: Yes.

Irina: They also differ. And they all want to help too. These civilizations also want to help humanity in this difficult moment of development. Plasmoids that are on Earth maintain contact with plasmoids in the Universe, as in our Galaxy. They exchange experiences with each other, their energies, talk about what is happening on Earth, and they want to help.

13:06 Who can practice Reiki?

Alleya: Can everyone do Reiki?

Irina: There are no contraindications.

Alleya: Are there any contraindications?

Irina: Only a person should be aware. Those who do not believe in it and who are pursuing some dark goals cannot practice Reiki. They will be able to devote themselves, but they will not be able to work purely. They will not be able to be conductors of these energies. A person must be aware and must believe in it. Otherwise, with his doubt, he will close the channel and block it. Even if energy is passed through it, it will be distorted.

Alleya: If a person does not practice Reiki for a long time, will he be able to do it again? If you ever received initiation?

Irina: Yes, it can, of course.

14:05 Reiki – connection with subtle civilizations. Reiki teachings.

Alleya: What beings do people gain access to, if at all, by practicing Reiki?

Irina: In the classical sense - to us, to the plasmoid civilizations that created Reiki. Let me remind you that in all 11 plasmoid civilizations there are more than 20 million creatures who are filling this system at different density levels and from different worlds. There is a civilization of your Sun there. You get access, who practices Reiki, first of all to us.

Alleya: Before Reiki, was there any alternative teaching?

Irina: It was always there, it was just called differently, there was always contact. There was always contact with one of the plasmoids from the Galactic Health Service. The Galactic Federation of Light has a department of Galactic Wellness Services that deals with healing. There was always contact with them.

Alleya: Before Reiki appeared on Earth, was there any alternative teaching on Earth? Not on your planets, but here on Earth.

Irina: Before the appearance, when is that?

Alleya: Before Mikao Usui received this Reiki system.

Irina: (Yes, Mead, I remember). In fact, this answer has already been given. This was before Usui. This was even before the war 12,000 years ago. It was called differently then. For example, the cult of the Goddess Hathor. Or any other goddess who was present in these civilizations, goddesses, gods. This was what the priests did. They received initiations into these energies and became contactees of our civilizations.

Alleya: Do Reiki beings participate in initiations?

Irina: Yes. We connect to the human energy field. We set up a communication channel with him, so that later, when he opens Reiki, he can send his energies through this channel or come himself.

Alleya: When a person discovers Reiki, Reiki beings always come, right?

Irina: They always feel. They can either come themselves or send a phantom. We, like any intelligent entity, can also create phantoms. Or we send energies from the place where we are. We still feel what is happening. Sometimes the situation requires us to come, sometimes the energy is just enough.

Alleya: In difficult situations, not just one entity comes, but several of them come. Really?

Irina: Yes.

17:59 Spheres of influence of Reiki.

Alleya: This is the question. There are three main areas of concern in the world. These are relationships, health, finances. Does Reiki help with these issues?

Irina: Relationships, health, finances. They have already said about health that they are doing this.

Your relationships look to us at the energy level as an accumulation of different energies, positive and negative, as plus and minus. We can help by not giving advice, but simply filling a person with energy. And he will see relationships in a different light.

Finance is also energy for them. Due to the fact that a person's energy increases (like vitality), he recovers, harmonizes, and becomes a more active participant in the financial egregor, the egregor that allows (those Spirits who stand behind it) to distribute financial flows.

Alleya: Interesting.

19:28 Functioning of the financial egregor. What does financial flow depend on?

Irina: Behind any egregor (including financial ones) there are certain Spirits. He is in the Spiritual World, specifically in the Astral Plane. From the world of disembodied Spirits, Spirits come to any egregor, as if to work. The middle Spirits under the guidance of Angels are responsible for the financial egregor; they go to work. In the Spiritual world you do not sit idle, you still help your brothers and sisters embodied in matter.

Alleya: We thank them for helping us.

Irina: For the Spirit, which works in the financial egregor, the number of financial flows is not at all the material money that we hold in our hands. These are certain energies that attract thoughts to a person, how they can be accumulated, obtained, ideas. And they attract certain events that contribute to this.

But they do not appear by themselves. A person must put in a certain amount of energy to realize what the financial flow has brought him. For the Spirits, who are the guardians of the financial egregor, all people are the same. They treat them like their brothers who are embodied in the material world. They don't have favorites. They look at the energies to see who is ready for a larger financial flow and who is not.

Alleya: It also depends on the potential, who is ready for big finances, right?

Irina: The amount of energy that can be sent by a financial egregor to a specific person is determined by the person's readiness to perceive this flow. It depends on many factors. From his life task, from his energy fullness, from the amount of vital energy, from his attitude (mental programs for finance). There are many factors. Even from his karmic circumstances in one or another incarnation. It can only be connected within certain limits, by a certain percentage, to the financial egregor, in certain percentages. This is determined by himself before incarnation and by his Spirit-helpers.

If he has large finances, there will be certain lessons associated with this. How to distribute them correctly and direct them towards spiritual development. If finances are small, financial flow, then he has his own lessons that allow him to learn to enjoy little things.

Finance in your world is not only a way to meet your needs. But the path to power is also, perhaps, the path to pleasure. Can be used in a variety of ways.

Alleya: Thank you for your detailed answer. I think it will be useful for our listeners to listen to what financial flow depends on. This is a hot topic for many people, and even a painful one for some.

24:06 Responsibility and awareness in Reiki.

Alleya: Okay. Is initiation into Reiki a task for a person? Or could this be a spontaneous decision? Or does he follow the tasks of his Soul?

Irina: Maybe the task of implementation. Maybe he decided while already in incarnation. Objectives are subject to change. Maybe he had a different task, but for some reason he may want to take on an additional task. For the Reiki channel to work in full force, it is important that this decision about initiation, and not only about initiation, but even about treatment with these energies, is conscious, so that consent is given. And consent is not easy when a person comes with the words: “Treat me, and I’ll sit here.”

Alleya: Yes, yes, yes. How many times have I met such people.

Irina: We have a plasmoid with humor today.

Alleya: Apparently, all of me are like that.

Irina: All about you. It's you from him. This is not what humor is. (Nargipulsa speaks) I'm not kidding. A person, in order to get the maximum benefit from his time spent and the money he invests in his treatment, must not just invest it and wait for a miracle to be performed on him. He must be an active participant in his healing, his treatment.

Alleya: Yes, here the responsibility falls not only on the healer or Reiki guide, but also on the person being healed. It should be mutual 50/50. I guess so, right?

Irina: Yes. He needs to take responsibility. It happens that illnesses arise at the assumption of the Higher Self, in order to teach a person to be responsible for his body, to take care of it.

27:10 Recommendations for working with children.

Alleya: How can you work Reiki with children? Children are not assiduous; it is difficult to force them to sit in Reiki flows. Are there any techniques or tips on how to work with children?

Irina: It depends on the age and what is his understanding. You can sit him near the window (shows) and let him draw. Or do something with your hands. Say: “Do you see the Sun? Draw it, and now I’ll ask you to let it shine on you so you don’t get sick anymore. I will ask it to send its Light, its strength. Sit down and draw. You can close your eyes and relax.” Explain what you are asking.

Alleya: Great. I presented this picture.

Irina: So what?

Alleya: Very nice.

Irina: Very nice?

Alleya: Yes. Very sincere.

Irina: You can, for example, if it’s evening, pay attention to the stars. “You see the stars, people live there.” No need to say “humanoids, plasmoids,” he won’t understand. “People live there, they send us rays. I will now ask the man from the star to send a ray. Your throat will stop hurting.”

Alleya: Okay, I’ll definitely use this advice.

Irina: What would you answer to this yourself at four years old?

Alleya: That's what I would answer.

Irina: If you were 4 years old and they told you this, would you imagine it?

Alleya: Yes, I would sit down and imagine that some little person would come. Or some little man will appear, send me a ray, and I will accept it.

Irina: You can thank him so that they are already aware of this.

Alleya: Yes, okay, thank you.

29:55 Reiki about beauty and rejuvenation.

Alleya: Can Reiki help in achieving beauty and rejuvenation? Our female half is very interested in this topic.

Irina: Yes, it can restore it. This is what you call hormonal balance. Beauty is very subjective. Beauty for whom, for yourself?

Alleya: For myself.

Irina: This will allow you to accept yourself, see your beauty. There is beauty in every person. There are no absolutely ugly people. There is no beauty only for eyes that are not illuminated by Love. (We have a romantic today).

Alleya: I send you the Light of my Love.

Irina: She sends you the Light of her Love. It glowed more strongly with white Light and sent Light to you. Like this.

Alleya: Thank you. Women, work with Reiki energy, you will be young, beautiful, you will accept yourself as you are. Great.

Irina: (MidgasKaus speaks) I also noticed that that woman or man (if he considers himself ugly), that person who does not love himself and considers himself ugly, begins to seem the same to others. This belief is transmitted through auras.

Alleya: This information is simply read. Other people may think so.

Irina: Look how the human body, any body, is structured, how harmoniously all its parts are combined, in what harmony all its cells work. How could this be ugly?

Alleya: It's beautiful, it's amazing. Mid, did you come to see me about 2 hours ago today?

Irina: Yes, I came to see you yesterday (shows that you recently flew with him in the Astral Plane).

Alleya: Yes? Today I thought that I have a conference with you at 12 o'clock, and I should take a nap. I lay down, opened my eyes, and Mid was standing there. ABOUT!

Irina: "Get up," she says. He's waking you up for the conference, right?

Alleya: Yes.

Irina: It's late enough for you, I know.

Alleya: It's normal, I'm already used to going to bed late and getting up early.

33:05 Reiki steps. Reiki symbols.

Alleya: How many levels are there in Reiki? Just three?

Irina: Three steps, but they can be made more. Masters can decide for themselves whether to split the level into several or combine it into one. This is your division into steps, as the master himself decides.

Alleya: Great, the question is this. We study several symbols in the Reiki system. These are Cho Ku Rei, Sei He Ki, Hong Sha Ze Sho Nen, Raku, Dai Ko Mio. Are there alternative Reiki symbols that we can use for ourselves?

Irina: You can perceive symbols with your brain. A visual symbol in order to tune in to it, to our energies.

Each plasmoid sends such a symbol to each master. It's individual. There can be a lot of these symbols. Some plasmoids have this word. Or, as I said, my name, which can also be a symbol. It can be depicted graphically. Even the letters you write are also graphic symbols.

But this is similar to what I described. It’s also a hemisphere, but it’s like a triangle. Plasmoids of this shape also exist. This is his form. There are plasmoids with a body shape like crystals.

Alleya: Like crystal, yes. I am now trying to receive these symbols in order to start working with them in the Reiki system.

Irina: This is how we see a person. The triangle is his aura. So we see not just any person, but one whose upper body is wider, whose redistribution of energy is greater in the upper chakras. At the top (circle) is an open spiritual channel, the 7th chakra. Below there is a connection with the Earth, the channel is running.

Alleyya: Now this symbol was given to me, for what purpose?

Irina: So, this is what you look like now in the Spiritual World. You have more energy in the upper chakras than in the lower ones.

Alleya: The most interesting thing is that there is grounding with the Earth.

Irina: You have such a channel.

Alleya: I asked about alternative Reiki symbols that will be needed now during the quantum transition for people. For help, for your healing. Are there such symbols?

Irina: Yes, they need to be accepted from curators. You can do this, request special characters. Contactees can accept and draw them.

Alleya: I can ask and they will give it to me?

Irina: Close your eyes. “I am sending a request to receive an individual graphic symbol.” Send a request to your curators. And draw what you see. Now we'll see what they send her.

Alleya: The hemisphere is coming. The energy is flowing again.

Irina: This is his symbol, turned like this. You can ask your Higher Self: “What does this symbol mean to me?”

Alleya: Maybe that's how he should be?

Irina: It has a hemisphere, as I said, and the 3 lines that you drew are three of its parts of the embodied Spirit in the body, from which the rays extend. They're inside.

Alleya: Is that how they have to go?

Irina: This is how they are now - this is his Spirit. You just drew them like that.

Alleya: What should I do with this symbol?

Irina: Ask the Higher Self: why, what does it mean to you, and what should you do with it?

Alleya: They say: “You can project onto yourself, in your field.”

Irina: Now he’s inviting me to draw something too. Do you want to give it to me too? Come on, I have a pen, let's try it now.

Alleya: Let's draw together.

Irina: Once he offers. Which symbol is right for me?

Alleya: Crystal, what is this? What does it mean?

Irina: What does it mean for me personally? Distribution of energy in a material body. From this point energy is distributed in the following directions. This is how he sees the human structure. (Nargipulsa speaks) Energy channels.

Alleya: Great! As I understand it, not only Irina and I can work with these symbols. This is the symbol that Irina was given. You can also work with, say, sharing energy with other people, right?

Irina: Yes, if you imagine him.

Alleya: This symbol, it tells me that it gives harmonization, the connection of everyone with their structure, of all energy fields.

Irina: He told me: “Distribution of energy throughout the body.”

Alleya: Look, you got 3 symbols at once. Thank you.

Irina: Thank you and accept.

41:41 Reiki directions on Earth and beyond.

Alleya: Last question: how many directions do you have of Reiki? I know that we have a lot of them on Earth, it seems to me that they are necessary and unnecessary.

Irina: In this sense, we have complete freedom. It's not the number of directions that matters. The number of directions is due to the differences in understanding of your human mind, that part of the Spirit that is embodied in your brain.

Your brain is designed in such a way that it divides everything into right and wrong. This causes differences. It happens that a person, making a different system, wants to be different. He takes a ready-made system and calls it differently, with a different word. This happens because you have an instinct to be different from others. In order to be different and lead this direction.

Alleya: I understand.

Irina: It doesn't matter to us. These are your human laws, principles and society. We are quite loyal to this. We have complete freedom in this. The main thing is not the name and number of directions, but the purity of the heart of the guide himself, his sincerity.

You can hang any medals, any regalia on yourself, but still remain a coward. Or you can not receive a single order and still be a hero.

Alleya: Wonderfully said, wonderful words. I thank everyone who came today. I thank you for such an interesting conversation. I send you the Light of my Love for this meeting.

I invite everyone to Reiki training. Come to the new Cassiopeia project for Reiki training, which I will teach.

I thank you, Irina, for the opportunity, for such a wonderful conference. Many interesting questions were clarified. I think everyone will be interested in listening.

Irina: I thank you, I thank Irina, I thank MidgasKaus, who invited me and introduced me to Irina, and I already know you. Thank you for the excellent questions and the correct transmission of information.

He sends us energy. Let's say: “Thank you and accept.”

Alleya: Thank you, thank you!

Irina: Great! Dear friends, today we are filled with energy. We laugh, we feel very good, happy. We feel high energies. I hope you felt them.

Thank you everyone for watching this video. Thank you for being a part of the Cassiopeia Project. Thank you for the support of every master, for all your gifts, both material and spiritual, for every kind word of yours, every kind thought you sent into the noosphere of the Earth to help all future generations. I thank you for this. See you again!

Alleya: Thank you, see you again. Thank you!

00:19 Background.

In the summer of 1999, a 13-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than 20 years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:13 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we have the second part of the conference with Yuri on issues related to people's current opinions about our lives.

Our curators are present with us, representatives of the Interstellar Union: a specialist in new medical technologies, in the use of nanotechnologies of a technical nature for medicine, in biomechanics, his name is Sitiyaraum, from the planet Burkhad. He is a specialist in developing chips, including for contactors, and in customizing them for specific contactees.

Also present here is a representative of the Interstellar Union, whose name is Raom Tiyan. He is also from the planet Burhad, a specialist in the study of energy interactions in the environment. This is something like our physicist, biophysicist, because he studies vital energies and energies of space.

As always, MidgasKaus is with us from the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations.

With us is LiShioni from the planet Shimor, who is a specialist in astral interactions. If questions arise about egregors, about the influence on people, he studies all this.

And today we have a very interesting and at the same time difficult, controversial topic related to mass consciousness, with belief in certain things. Yuri will tell you more about this. Hello, Yuri!

Yuri: Hello! My name is Yuri. I am in contact with the Galactic Federation of Light and the Spiritual World. I want to tell everyone that I am very pleased to perform on your channel again.

Irina: Thank you!

Yuri: Today I wanted to ask a few questions, they have been adjusted, especially in the context of how we saw Irina's flight to the planet of the Council of Six. Some additional questions have arisen, and it is interesting to clarify first-hand from those who were there and present. It is advisable to clarify and understand all this, because now there is a lot of different information circulating among people, and people themselves do not know what to believe and what to trust.

But, as I always say, you can only trust your inner sense of truth. Therefore, I ask that each of you, listening to both me and Irina, first of all, monitor the internal state and feel this subtle sense of coherence when the vibrations are felt to coincide.

Irina: Absolutely right! I also ask everyone to listen only to themselves, only to their spiritual heart. None of us should become an authority: neither I, nor Yuri, nor you for us, dear friends, nor we for you, our curators for you, and you for our curators.

Our curators and we take our lessons on different planets, in different worlds. And, naturally, these lessons are accompanied by the creation of different opinions about the same subject. It is the natural tendency of a rational being to form an opinion based on experience.

Since everyone's experience is different, even on the same planet, and on their planets there are also humanoids with different opinions, and on Earth, you know this. There is even such an understanding that "there are no comrades according to taste." What does this mean? About the fact that we can hold completely different opinions, but at the same time be friends with each other. We don't have to quarrel.

And, moreover, very often our spiritual mentors bring together people with different opinions about the same subject. Or with different faiths. Or with different beliefs, so that both Spirits learn love and tolerance, interaction in these conditions.

We choose to incarnate on Earth, precisely during this difficult period of history, when everyone needs to make a choice in order for our Spirit to go through this lesson. If at this time we needed to take another lesson in the Interstellar Union, we would have incarnated there. In this case and in this matter, I absolutely trust our spiritual mentors, the Consulting Angels, who help us choose incarnation according to the will of God.

What is "the will of God"? This is Love manifested. Who do I understand by God? This is the Creator of the entire Universe, whose children we are all. What does children mean? Again the earthly explanation: particles. Our body is a particle of the Earth, a particle of the earth's space, consists of the same elements as the Earth, our body contains in varying quantities all the elements, all the atoms that are in the Earth. This means that our body is a particle of the Earth.

Also, our Spirit, and man is both body and Spirit, consists of the energy of God. This is a piece of God. But God is not just energy that is scattered in space. He has his own mind. We see the manifestation of this mind in the orderliness of the entire Universe, in its unshakable laws, which we observe everywhere, from the movement of galaxies to the structure of our body and the work of each cell.

Any law of nature could not arise spontaneously, because the law is always a reflection of the mind of the legislator. What do you think, Yuri?

Yuri: I support these words.

Irina: Therefore, I ask you to be understanding of the position of the Interstellar Union. I also ask everyone who shares his positions and their curators to be understanding of the position of people who do not share these opinions. They are already understanding.

I now ask people who will watch this video to be understanding of the position of people who do not believe in the Interstellar Union on the pressing issues that we will now discuss. We are all here going through our lessons and are at our own level of vibrations, awareness and form our opinions based on our personal experience.

If suddenly my words or the words of my curators seem negative to you, I ask you not to judge strictly, but simply accept that there is such an opinion. Please don't lower your vibration with judgment. It won't give you anything. I send you the Light of my Love!

Yuri: Do we have representatives from medicine? As long as I remember.

Irina: From medicine we have Sitiyaraum. If we are talking about the Order of Six, Bergastre directly carried me on his ship in physical contact. Raom Tiyan, who is now here in the Astral, was present. He was present next to me on the planet Shentricussa, which is located in the Orion Constellation.

Yuri: Is there anyone among us now who has been researching the drug?

Irina: Yes.

10:25 The principle of action of the drug. Composition of the drug.

Yuri: The question for him is this: how did you see the principle of action of our drug? Here on Earth we demonstrate its principle in this way, I will show you now.

Irina: We'll tell you a little about what kind of drug this is. Probably not everyone knows that I gave them away.

Yuri: Yes. A drug that everyone is talking about now, but cannot be talked about openly. I always say: "That which cannot be named."

Irina: We will call it neutral. The fact is that at the end of August I handed over to representatives of Burkhad two Russian-made medicines for one very well-known disease. My friends gave them to me for active prevention through immunization of the population.

They studied both the first and second components of this drug. This is the most common drug in Russia for this purpose. You will easily understand what we are talking about.

Yuri: Now I want to ask: is what I project on the screen visible or not?

Irina: Yes. I'll sit closer now, because my curators are looking through me, since in the Astral the computer is visible only in energies.

Yuri: This is taken from the official website. Source: Center named after. Gamaleya. And here is shown the principle of action and production of the drug we are talking about.

Irina: Yes. I see.

Yuri: An adenoviral vector is taken, into which a fragment encoding the S-protein of an agent known to us is introduced. It penetrates into this virus and subsequently affects the cell. We present such a scheme. Tell me, how does it correspond to what you saw when studying the drug?

Irina: Now he'll look. I conveyed it to the representatives of Burkhad. Sitiyaraum, a biophysicist, biochemist, specialist in new technologies, namely chipping, personally and Raom Tiyan carried out the analysis. MidgasKaus even flew there as a biologist to also scan the biological qualities.

They scanned not only the biological and chemical qualities of all these components, but also looked at the energetic level to see what energetic vibrations of which living organisms these drugs might contain.

Irina: (Sitiyaraum speaks) Firstly, it is written very simply and schematically. But this is for people who are not at all interested in biology.

Yuri: Yes. I chose a simpler explanation to make it clearer.

Irina: Everything is there in pictures, written schematically. In general, yes. This reflects the real picture. I would add several important nuances.

I want to talk about the composition. According to the chemical composition, it contains organic substances of protein nature, nucleotides, lipoproteins, as well as inorganic substances of nature, salts of inorganic acids, for example, magnesium and sodium salts. It also contains ethyl alcohol in small concentrations.

It also contains a substance of organic nature, which is similar to some ammonia compound, which has the function of a preservative.

As for the dosages of these substances. Their concentration in one and in the second bottle of the drug given to me did not correspond to any concentration. Was too small for this to be detected at the analysis stage. Chemically, this substance is absolutely harmless; it does not contain any toxic substance for cells.

The fact is that the substances they contain can be toxic in dosages that are 70 or even 150 times higher than what is contained in one bottle.

For the toxic effect to manifest, even the most toxic substance contained therein requires a single dose, but in 70 such vials, administered to one person at a time. This is for the manifestation of a chemical poisoning effect, toxic to cells, liver, kidneys, heart, brain.

It is contained in very small concentrations. The same concentrations of preservatives are found in many products. It even occurs in higher concentrations in shelf-stable products. They also contain similar preservatives and even dyes, which are much more toxic (shows the substances that we designate under the brand “E”).

Some of these substances refer to completely harmless substances. For example, E-330 is regular citric acid. There are tables where you can see what it means.

There are quite toxic substances that are introduced into your food to preserve its appearance, taste, and enhance its taste. Or replacing, for example, sugar in order to advertise this product as leading to a beautiful figure. It does not contain sugar, but a certain substitute, which in the body breaks down into substances that provoke cell mutations that lead to cancer.

You have such substances everywhere: in carbonated drinks, chewing gum, especially for children. Mothers make sure that the food is not harmful, that there is not a lot of sugar. There are much more harmful substances in food.

18:45 Gene modifications.

Irina: As for the biological content ( shows a device like our microscope, only much larger, and shows on the screen in a three-dimensional image what biological organisms are contained there).

It contains very interesting from a scientific point of view (especially for you, for us this is already a passed stage of experiments with microorganisms) biological organisms, which, according to your classification of viruses, you classify as adenoviruses. But the fact is that (to use your language) this adenovirus is genetically modified.

You have genetically modified products, in which you are trying to create new properties by introducing genes into them. You also have genetically modified bacteria that produce the protein you need. This has existed in your science of genetics for quite a long time.

I specifically studied this issue. There are separate areas in your genetics for the study of genetic modifications. This is a rather promising direction in your science. As you remember, your ancestors also became a hybrid of three civilizations and an earthly organism, as a result of genetic modification.

But for you, these experiments are at the very initial stage of development, when your scientists themselves do not yet understand all the laws of gene changes that can lead to the formation of certain proteins. Mistakes are inevitable along this path. Creating organisms that will not meet given properties is absolutely normal. This is the way of science.

Yuri, as a scientist, you know well that any science is not without errors. This is the path of development. Be it physics, biology or medicine. It exists everywhere. This is the natural way.

21:49 Types of viruses. Virus strains.

Irina: Regarding adenovirus specifically. What has changed in it? It has DNA, deoxyribonucleic acid.

There are two types of viruses on Earth: DNA-containing and RNA-containing. Unlike a microbe, a single-celled organism and a person himself, each cell of which contains both DNA and RNA, viruses are much simpler. They have either one or the other. There cannot be two molecules.

Adenoviruses are a large group of viruses that cause ARVI in humans and animals - an acute respiratory viral infection: runny nose, sore throat, lacrimation, cough, inflammation of the upper respiratory tract. There are quite a lot of strains, we have identified about 80 of them. All of them are designated by your microbiologists and virologists under numbers.

What is a strain? This is a separate population of viruses, which in this case is slightly different in its RNA molecule composition from all others in the arrangement of individual nucleotides. And that means according to the protein content, which encodes DNA or RNA molecules. Viruses can have many, many thousands of strains, due to the fact that they multiply very quickly and copy themselves many millions of times in our cells. Due to such rapid copying, a lot of mutations occur. These mutations then give rise to new strains.

24:40 Adenovirus modification.

Irina: In these two vials that Irina gave us, there is one type of adenovirus: human, which causes diseases in people, but of different strains. Slightly different amino acids are built into the protein shells. What was the genetic modification of both adenoviruses?

First of all, he was alive. We looked at his DNA molecules in surprise. The part that is responsible for its replication was cut out, and there was nothing in its place. He simply did not strive to reproduce, to multiply. It's like a person who is missing the parts needed to reproduce.

So, it was missing that part of the DNA that is common in ordinary human adenoviruses as upper respiratory tract diseases. In them, unlike this adenovirus, the section that is responsible for reproduction was removed and a section of not DNA, but RNA of a completely different virus was inserted into another place in this DNA molecule.

This is the same 19th strain of coronavirus, containing an RNA virus, not DNA. But they connected in such a way that a certain section of RNA was attached to DNA. This was all done at the nucleotide level by a certain molecular link.

What exact section was cut from the coronavirus RNA and inserted into this adenovirus? It was that section of RNA that encoded varieties of the same protein, but they were slightly different in the two vials. This is the coronavirus protein, which is contained in its shell, is its basis, to which all other molecules are attached.

If we speak scientific language, the capsid of the virus, that is, the shell of the virus consists of some kind of protein base on which other molecules are superimposed. This basis does not change with mutation, because if it changes, the population itself will die. She will not be able to reproduce like the base. We call it "skeleton". This is a “skeleton” of protein molecules, protein.

It is on this basis that there are molecules that connect with the molecules of cell membranes in the lower respiratory tract of humans. What is characteristic of the coronavirus in contrast to the viruses of the same adenovirus, influenza virus, parainfluenza, rhinovirus and others known to us that cause acute respiratory diseases?

Every virus has a purpose. These are the cells that can let it in. You remember that a virus is an intracellular creature. Not every cell can allow every virus into itself. For each virus, there are so-called target cells, these are those cells that have receptors on the surface of their membranes. Receptors are also made up of molecules. We call them “molecular locks.” They have a certain key, that is, such a combination of protein molecules that it reacts with it, and the cell membrane allows it to pass through. Is the explanation clear?

Yuri: I understand. I know all this.

Irina: Do you think this will be clear to people?

Yuri: I think so.

30:35 Rhinovirus. Target cells.

Irina: Okay. For example, let's take rhinovirus. Rhinovirus is a virus that causes an infectious runny nose. Its target cells are located in the nasal cavity and nasopharynx; they are also found (but less so) in the trachea and larynx. The target cells are mainly found in the nasal cavity.

When a rhinovirus enters an organism that is not immune to it and is not tuned to its frequencies, it penetrates precisely into these cells. If it falls lower during breathing - into the bronchi, into the lungs, then there it does not find those target cells where it can penetrate. And therefore a local inflammatory process develops.

The inflammatory process is the body's response to the introduction of a foreign agent into it. First, the virus penetrates and acts unnoticed by the body. It is embedded either in the DNA or RNA of the cell, in the nucleus - depending on its type, or in its cytoplasmic reticulum, which consists of ribosomes.

The production begins not of those proteins that the cell needs, but those that the virus needs. The same mitochondria produce energy for it, ribosomes begin to collect not the body's proteins, but viral proteins.

Yes, dear friends, this is exactly what begins every time you have a runny nose. After all, your cells begin to work for the virus. When a cell has accumulated enough viruses, for some it is several thousand, for others it is hundreds of thousands, it is so filled with these viruses that either they leave it, or (what happens more often) it dissolves from the abundance of toxins. When dissolved, it naturally dies. Instead, tens of thousands of new viruses emerge and immediately enter other cells. At first there were several of them, then it all progressed.

When it's all inside the cell, it's not noticeable to the immune system what's inside is hidden by the membrane from the intercellular fluid and from the blood, where leukocytes are located - our main immune cells. And leukocytes do not interfere there. To intervene, they need to kill the cell and examine what is there.

33:57 Immunity.

Irina: When a cell is destroyed and many viral particles come out, naturally, on their way to other cells they encounter our macrophages, leukocytes, lymphocytes, that is, those cells that are responsible for immunity. Their presence ceases to remain a secret. Antibodies are produced that actively destroy viruses and remove them from the body. The body can remove destroyed viruses (if this happens in the nose, in the nasal cavity) with mucus. This is why a person's nose swells, it's hard for him to breathe, and mucus accumulates. Mucus is the body's own defense. The temperature rises due to the fact that at elevated temperatures, the virus reproduction activity decreases several times. And the activity of our formations - proteins that bind these viruses (let's call them antibodies) increases.

35:05 The difference between coronavirus and influenza and rhinovirus.

Irina: Fever, runny nose - these are the consequences of our body's fight against the pest, the parasite that attacked it. Headache, weakness, fatigue - these are the consequences of intoxication that arise from cell destruction, if we are talking about rhinovirus.

If we are talking about the influenza virus, then its target cells are located mainly in the larynx, trachea and bronchi. It often causes pharyngitis, laryngitis, and bronchitis. In some weakened people, this even leads to influenza-induced meningitis and damage to the nervous system.

As for the coronavirus, its target cells are located in the lower respiratory tract, in the lining of the alveoli themselves. Those air bubbles through which air exchange occurs, through which oxygen enters the arterial blood, which delivers oxygen to the heart. In the opposite way, carbon dioxide enters the lungs. Gas exchange occurs.

36:50 Impact of coronavirus on the body.

Irina: Between the wall of the alveoli and the blood vessel there are special cells - alveolar cells. They are the targets for coronavirus model 19. What does this lead to? Moreover, when the coronavirus comes with a stream of air: you inhaled or brought it somehow into the nasal cavity, it cannot penetrate sufficiently through the cells of the nose into the nasal cavity and also lower into the trachea of the larynx. There are very few target cells for him, he falls down. It reaches them in the lower parts of the respiratory system.

When it is introduced there, if a person has neither acquired natural nor artificial immunity, then, accordingly, the immune system does not yet recognize it as dangerous. The body does not know that it is dangerous. The coronavirus falls down and infects those cells that are in the alveoli.

As we know, this is an RNA virus. This means that it is not integrated into human DNA. It simply changes the ribosomal RNA or the so-called messenger RNA in such a way that it produces coronavirus proteins and assembles it itself according to the program that the virus represents. The cell ignores its DNA programming and assembles the virus.

Yuri: We do it like in school. Everything is detailed.

Irina: When a thousand new coronaviruses emerge from a dead cell, they infect neighboring cells, starting with the immune response. Everything is the same as what I said earlier. But this no longer happens in the nose, but in the lower parts of the respiratory system, in the lungs. What does this lead to?

Yuri, you know very well what happens when you have a runny nose. When there is no air passing through and there is nothing to breathe, there is not enough passage in the nose. Now imagine, a person experiences the same thing, but only everything in his nose is free, but the same mucus will be below. Where it leads? What do you think as a scientist?

Yuri: To breathing problems.

Irina: Why?

Yuri: Because for gas exchange there needs to be an air flow to the walls of the alveoli.

Irina: That's right. And if they are covered with mucus from dead viruses and cells, then this leads to certain consequences. In humans there are many cells in the alveoli. So it all depends on the functioning of the immune system. How quickly it is able to produce antibodies, and what percentage of the alveoli are affected.

Because the rest, not yet covered with mucus, will exchange oxygen. If you ask what the speed of this process depends on, it's all very individual. It depends on the strength of the immune system and the type of its response. And from many other factors.

The mortality rate from coronavirus is higher than from rhinovirus, or even from the flu. Parts of the respiratory system that are more important in respiratory function are affected. If your nose is clogged, you can breathe through your mouth. To carry air, even if you can't breathe at all.

If your bottom is clogged, it takes strength to cough it up. This is not just bronchitis, where this phlegm is at the top and it is at the bottom. It takes a very large muscle contraction for it, thick and viscous, to separate from the walls and come out. This is not always possible. As a scientist, you understand what this can lead to.

Yuri: Yes, that's understandable. I want to say that there are many questions, and the answers are long. I understand that you want to explain everything in detail.

Irina: Did he clearly explain the difference between coronavirus and others?

Yuri: That's understandable, yes. I want to clarify that we receive this information. We have sources on Earth, for the most part we know. I want to be specific about what we cannot find out from our sources.

42:35 The effect of the drug on the cells of the human body.

Irina: I talked about coronavirus. It is the section of RNA that is responsible for protein synthesis, for penetration into human cells, which I mentioned, that was introduced into this adenovirus.

This means what happened: a biologically altered genetically modified organism with predetermined properties. We even conducted experiments to simulate infection in cell culture with this strain of the genetically modified adenovirus contained in this drug in order to understand the purpose of their creator.

Yuri: And what happened?

Irina: We looked at the entire process inside the cell under very high magnification, read the energy and measured all the substances that enter the cell, their quantity, in order to understand what is changing there.

When administered into the human body, the drug causes an inflammatory process that is very limited in area. The penetration of living genetically modified adenoviruses into a cell is the beginning of the inflammatory process. It penetrated, and then we looked at this adenovirus.

He himself cannot reproduce in a cell, because there are no organs of that section of DNA that could encourage him to reproduce. He simply has nothing to do with it. The soul of the adenovirus remains. It is the Soul of the adenovirus, not the coronavirus. They just injected a piece of the molecule. No matter how much she wants, she cannot reproduce - there are no appropriate organs. In a virus, the reproductive organs are sections of its gene module, either DNA or RNA. It, like any virus, attaches to the cytoplasm.

We looked at the cage. It doesn’t even get close to the cell nucleus, which contains human DNA. It is integrated into the cytoplasmic reticulum where ribosomes are located. These ribosomes begin to produce the protein that they read as their own, as happens with viruses.

Since there is nothing to collect (the organ representing the section of DNA that is responsible for reproduction is missing), they therefore produce one protein. It is not an adenovirus, but a coronavirus. This occurs throughout the life of this cell. Unless, of course, she dies from other factors.

47:08 The body's response to the virus. Antibodies. Immune response.

Irina: We know where the drug is injected. We made computer models, we know exactly which cells the drug will enter and what will happen to the body.

When a protein that is not characteristic of the cell enters the intercellular space, it is perceived by the body as foreign and dangerous. Because it begins to differ from cells and does not coincide with its composition. With any viral infectious process, antibodies begin to be produced, in fact, not against the virus, but against the protein that came from the cell in this way.

We saw that these antibodies (as always happens with active immunization, if a real live coronavirus gets in) when they meet immune cells, with macrophages (and there are quite a lot of them in the lungs, as well as in the larynx and trachea), they will have instructions don't miss it, destroy it. Before the collision they had no such instructions; he was neutral.

You can read this. I don't want to talk very much about the immune response. Immunity is formed in your race and in many others. This is an evolutionary mechanism. It even works in cases of organ transplantation, for example.

You know that if a person has had an organ transplanted and he wants to keep it, his own immunity may not agree with this. And start gradually eating it, getting rid of it, causing local inflammatory processes, organ rejection and the death of a person, if he is not given special medications that suppress the immune system.

Even if these drugs are administered, he may die from any infection unless he additionally takes strong antibiotics every day for the rest of his life. This is the kind of life organ transplantation provokes a person to live. Especially when you don't have the technology to grow an organ from a person's own cells that won't be recognized by the immune system.

Thanks for the technology!

It contains a genetically modified virus (I'll get to the answer now), which causes an immune response against the coronavirus. We counted the number of genetically modified adenoviral particles in one dose in one vial - there are around 100-150 billion adenoviral systems.

50:48 Origin of coronavirus.

Yuri: I see. They said a lot about the virus, which we cannot name. The question is whether it is a man-made virus? If you know so much about him, you might as well know about this.

Irina: Yes, there are signs that the RNA of this virus was artificially stitched in the laboratory by very thin insertion of those RNA sections of the coronavirus that exists. It cannot in any way interbreed with the one that was taken as a basis. This was done artificially because when calculating the probability of such mutations that could lead to the emergence of this strain, it is very unlikely.

It was noticeable that it was inserted. Not only human but also animal coronaviruses were taken as a basis. There are human coronaviruses that cause, for example, intestinal lesions, as well as lesions of the upper respiratory tract like rhinovirus. There are quite a lot of types.

But the coronavirus, which causes disease in animals, cannot cause it in humans. It does not have special proteins that can penetrate it, that is, keys.

There are also keys there, and it affects the lower respiratory tract, like in animals. Such a connection happened.

Yuri: Okay. Thank you for your reply! The next question is this: if you checked the drug that we gave, only a small number of the population on Earth uses it. Most of the population uses drugs that are used in the West. Have you checked them? Or are you talking only about the drug that is produced in our country?

Irina: We are now talking about the drug that Irina gave. None of our contactees or contactees of other civilizations of the Interstellar Union gave us the Western drugs that you are talking about. At least, this is what we know as specialists in Burkhad who were directly involved in this. Nobody informed us.

54:02 The purpose of creating a virus.

Yuri: Tell me, what do you think, if the virus could have been of artificial origin, why could it have been created?

Irina: We are entering the realm of speculation. We can assume anything. From my experience as a scientist and studying races in Space like yours, I can assume that this goal was nothing more than experiments to create biological weapons.

But these are not biological weapons themselves, but only experiments that did not lead to the desired result for the testers due to imperfect knowledge of the laws of virology.

54:55 Methods of using biological weapons.

Yuri: Okay. Now the question is: on Earth we know a method of manipulation called “the problem of solving a problem.” A problem is created, then exactly the solution to the problem that is needed by those who created the problem is proposed. Could it be that the drug that was produced to stop this disease is the goal for this virus to dominate the entire planet?

Irina: Of course, this is possible. It depends on the purpose of creating this biological weapon in general. If the purpose of creating biological weapons is, for example, to disguise something else, some other weapon, then, of course, this is possible.

If we take the goal of creating this biological weapon to be the defeat of some sections of the population, the defeat of a potential political or ideological enemy, it doesn't matter. You understand what the potential enemy's side is.

Yuri: Yes.

Irina: If we take this as the purpose of creating this virus, we know which country exactly it came from - China. This was considered in the Astral plane on a spiritual level. We also communicate with our spiritual curators, with spiritual teachers of the Spiritual world.

We asked a question, and we were given the answer that, judging by the state of the Time Tape (we went there with our Teachers), it was shown that these experiments were initiated by representatives of the country where it came from. Precisely for the purpose, firstly, of influencing the size of its own population. And secondly, for biological warfare with a potential enemy.

Possible opponents were considered by the military intelligence services and some people from the Government of that country, primarily the countries surrounding them. There are people in the Government (but not all) who strive for expansion.

If the goal is infection, then it is quite possible that this is a multi-step combination. First, creating a safer virus by causing active immunization by vaccination with a certain drug in order to protect its population.

And then create viruses that cause more severe damage at the same time as discrediting vaccination everywhere in all countries of the potential enemy, excluding our own. With clear goals. There may be such a multi-way combination, it is also possible. Is it clearer now?

#391 Secret technologies of reptilians. Why are the Order of Six's plans doomed to failure? (part 3)

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/tajnye-tekhnologii-reptiloidov-pochemu-plany-orden https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nQM6GkITA-g

00:18 Background.

In the summer of 1999, a 13-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than twenty years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:13 Introduction of meeting participants.

Irina: Today our curators, representatives of the Interstellar Union, are present with us: a specialist in new medical technologies, in the use of technical nanotechnologies for medicine, in biomechanics, his name is Sitiyaraum. He is from the planet Burkhad, a specialist in the development of chips for contactees, including their customization for their specific representatives.

Also present here is a representative of the Interstellar Union, whose name is Raom Tiyan. He is also a representative of the planet Burhad, and is a specialist in the study of energy interactions in the environment. This is something like our physicist, biophysicist, because he studies vital energies and energies of space.

With us, as always, MidgasKaus, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations, from the planet Esler.

And LiShioni from the planet Shimor, who is a specialist in astral interactions. If questions arise about egregors, about the influence on people, he studies all this.

02:24 Social rating system. Alien biorobots.

Yuri: This is the question. It is based on information about Irina's flight to the planet of the Council of Six. We saw how their society is structured, and, by the way, we see that in China a similar social rating system already exists. People earn points for certain behavior, and if they do not have enough points, then they, for example, cannot go to university or cannot occupy certain positions or get promoted. They need to behave as the state requires in order to be full members of society.

The question has to do with how they manage their citizens. They said that they wanted to create a similar control system on Earth. To the extent that, in indirect ways, through their own moves and connections (including government ones), they introduce a system that, even with desire or intervention, the Interstellar Union will not be able to eliminate. This will lead to irreversible consequences for the people themselves.

There is a temptation to draw a parallel between these words and the events that are now taking place on our Earth. Could it be that they are already working in this direction?

I'll add to this question. Irina was on a planet where biorobots similar to humans are produced. I also remember the moment when Irina was on Mars at the reptilian base, where they also conducted research and created biorobots.

So here's the question. After flying to the planet of the Council of Six,

Irina said that the technology of their civilization was not advanced enough for those robots (not advanced enough) to be introduced into our society.

Irina: Yes, he told me that, I remember.

Yuri: The question is: are the biorobots that Disaru produces advanced enough to be introduced into our society?

Irina: Again, depending on what purposes. Maybe just as an ordinary resident who does not appear often in society, without algorithms for very complex behavioral decisions that may raise suspicion about his sanity, about his adequacy. We understand that any biorobot (even though it is a self-organizing system) has reactions and behavior that still differ from the behavior of an intelligent Spirit, which can make spontaneous decisions.

Yuri: Is this technology more advanced than that?

Irina: Yes. I believe that the biorobots produced on Disaru, on Burkhad (in general, in the Interstellar Union and in the Galactic Federation of Light) are more advanced. There is a very large plant on Futisse, on its satellite, for example.

We believe that if a biorobot is introduced under the guise of a person into your society, if it does not perform overly complex functions that require detailed elaboration of some commands that cannot be foreseen, it will be able to completely replace a person. Of course, subject to the preparation of documents for him, a certain history of his appearance in society, and so on.

We believe that our technology is more advanced.

07:08 Remote control of biorobots.

Yuri: Okay. Now one more question. Irina probably watched, do we have such a film on Earth “Avatar”?

Irina: Partially.

Yuri: This film shows that people invented a technology with the help of which a person's consciousness was placed in the body of a humanoid, which can be called a biorobot, in the body of an avatar. You say that these biorobots are not yet perfect enough to behave in exactly the same way as an individual in society. Could it be that they can be controlled remotely?

Irina: This can be done, but it will be noticeable by the lag in the reaction. It will still not be instantaneous, like in humans. There will be some situations that require handling.

This is possible, but when you control remotely, while at a distance, a different point arises. First, you need to receive information through the perception of this robot, through its receptors, then process it for the operator and then enter some commands. This will cause, in situations where natural behavior is required, some delay and inadequacy. People might notice.

08:35 Psychic and virtual reality.

Yuri: I don't mean the operator who sits and presses keys, reacting. What I mean is that the operator's consciousness is completely inside the robot's body. Is it possible?

Irina: Do you mean the so-called psychic reality?

Yuri: Yes, when he transfers his brain, directly connecting his brain and the robot's reactions. We know that there is an instantaneous quantum-gluon connection, like Irina's with chips. Could this biorobot be a direct reflection of what its operator is doing now?

Irina: Yes, such technologies are possible, although we, at least in the Interstellar Union, do not use them. This is not necessary; to train, for example, our specialists in some super-complicated conditions, we only need to create virtual reality, that is, without creating certain robots (they show him putting on a helmet, and he, for example, controls the ship and feels like a person) .

These are like receptors to the brain, they perceive signals from the computer, send it visual and auditory signals and create a virtual reality in which it can perform, for example, a task. We have this for teaching students or high school students. These are our training programs.

10:19 The attitude of the Interstellar Union to the ideology of the Order of the Union of Six.

Yuri: Okay. It's not for nothing that I started talking about Disara, about the base on Mars, where, as we know, reptilians worked. Is it possible that the reptilians from the Interstellar Union can cooperate with the reptilians of the Council of Six and secretly transfer some technologies to them?

Irina: Of course, this cannot be ruled out. In general, on any planet, including those from the Interstellar Union and from the Galactic Federation of Light, fans of the ideas of the Union of Six are possible.

We have liberalism in opinions, in religious views, there is no habit, no custom of arguing with each other or somehow convincing each other. Each of us is an individual who freely expresses his opinion. Even if they contradict each other. There is no prohibition on contact with someone; it is considered a personal matter of the humanoid. If he follows the path of destruction, psychological spiritual destruction, we can only suggest how to get out of this state, but only if there is a request for this.

Forcing him to be good, as long as he naturally does not violate certain certain laws of the Interstellar Union associated with actions, is not accepted by us. There are no forbidden thoughts or forbidden ideologies in our society. As long as a person follows the laws of the Interstellar Union, he can freely profess any faith, any ideology and adhere to them. This is personal, like freedom of conscience.

The Union of Six is not part of the Interstellar Union. But they are in fairly close contact with the same Selbet, with Tashig, with its colonies that are not part of the Interstellar Union, and they have their own local information networks there, through which they transmit information. Their ideas are known to the Galaxy. All this, naturally, can get into the information networks of the Interstellar Union in the form of news, documentaries, and research.

And, naturally, this can be seen by any representative of the Interstellar Union who has access to his information computer, which is connected to the Galaxy data bank. Anyone who was born on any planet of the Interstellar Union or the Galactic Federation of Light, having become acquainted with the ideology of the Order of the Union of Six, if he wants to believe in it, if it corresponds to his vibrations, can support this ideology, and even no one will especially condemn him for this . They will simply say that this does not correspond to the goals of the Interstellar Union, but they will not prohibit believing.

13:40 Ensuring security in contact with representatives of the Union of Six.

Yuri: Okay. A question. When Irina was on that planet, she was with a representative from the Interstellar Union Security Council. And we admit that in the presence of a representative of the Security Council, it is unlikely that any of the representatives of the civilizations of the Council of Six will disclose information that is secret for them, a military secret, as we say.

Irina: Yes, of course, this is quite possible, but the Interstellar Union commission insisted on the presence of a representative of the Security Council next to Irina at that moment.

(Raom Tiyan speaks) I greet you all! The Interstellar Union Commission insisted, which determined the general possibility of this contact for Irina. The possibility of flying there, the escort with whom she should be. I was ready to accompany her alone. I am a scientist, I am not an employee of the special services, or with Kirchiton, who is also a scientist, not a representative of the military or special services, or with MidgasKaus, who is also a scientist - we were ready to accompany her together, two or three of us, and stay outside the doors of the room for a personal conversation with Irina and this representative of the Union of Six. But the commission refused this. She said we should be close.

Yuri: I understand all of this, but it seems to me that this would not particularly change the answers that the representative of the Council of Six gave.

Irina: I have a chip, they would have heard anyway.

15:38 Organization of society in the civilizations of the Order of the Council of Six.

Yuri: Yes, they would have heard anyway, so the question is this. Do you accept that he could only say what can be said and not say that they already have the technology that can do it. If he had said that they already had the technology, he would have jeopardized the entire operation.

Irina: I was present in the physical body and saw the reactions of this humanoid, heard his answers. I perfectly understand his energy, I understand that he was brought up in a society where theories of secrecy are very developed. He is one of the highest representatives of the elite in his society, they are used to keeping everything secret from ordinary representatives of their people. He grew up in such a family.

Their elitism, by the way, is very often inherited in this society. It is very difficult for an ordinary member of society to become a member of the governing elite; one must go through a very long journey, approve all the actions of the authorities and show oneself as a very respectable citizen who can really benefit this elite. It is not so easy. Mostly they have families that pass it on from generation to generation.

You had a nobility on Earth - very approximately, they have something similar. The nobleman passed the title on to his son or daughter. And getting into the nobility from peasants, from workers, was very, very difficult, but possible. More like an exception.

Very similar system to Schentricusse. There are other planets of the Order of Six, but we decided to take her to the capital. It sets the ideology of behavior for the entire Order of Six and is the unofficial ideological capital. Although she does not directly control this body, representatives of their society listen to her more than others. And they have a lot of army units there, very developed militaristic and military formations.

Naturally, they have a lot of things hidden under the heading “Secret” even for their own citizens. They are so conditioned that if they walk down the street and there is a door there that says “Don’t enter, there is a secret meeting”, no one will even think of going there, it is unthinkable for them.

18:54 Interstellar Union about the actions and intentions of representatives of the Order of the Council of Six.

Irina: Naturally, they do not hide control through chemicals. It is believed that this does not need to be hidden. This is presented as a good deed that regulates crimes and reduces the likelihood of the manifestation of negative qualities.

They present to their people civilizations that do not use chemical and wave effects on consciousness in their media - they also have them - as following the wrong path, dangerous anarchies (dangerous in that they will begin to act to their own detriment). And they present themselves as an ideologically correct society.

I saw during the conversation how the representative was confident, believed that he had said only a little of what the Order of the Six could really do; this complacency, one might say, oozed from his eyes.

But the whole point is that we also have intelligence services, including on Selbet. They pretend that they are included in the work of the Order of the Six, in its ideology. And they report to us about the successes of the Order of the Six, the Order of the Six itself does not know who it is. We know much more about them than they think.

Yuri: That's very good, that's why I'm asking. Of course, they may have some secrets.

Irina: What I just said has no special secret. This is known to all scientists who work, including with the Earth, which the Order of Six is targeting (but not only the Earth, but also some other planets). And what I said about our intelligence officers is that there is no secret in this, all scientists know about it.

I heard part of your conversation with Maxim and Irina about this. I appeal to the viewers of Yuri and Irina's channels: indeed, there is no secret about these plans and about our intelligence officers. It's just that we haven't raised these topics with Irina at conferences before for the simple reason that we never thought that it could be interesting for spiritual development.

We believe that discussing our internal intelligence work to protect the Earth is not something that lowers vibrations. However, this distracts from the spiritual path, from knowing God in oneself, from the Higher Self and leads to judgmental moments for these beings. We understand their strategy for development on a Galactic scale, expansion across the Galaxy, and we develop tactical responses in the event of one or another of their actions. But we do this with a feeling of love, with a feeling of compassion for those beings who have embodied there and lower their vibrations by such actions.

What actions do they take to lower their vibrations? An attempt to replace God and freedom of choice. We find this unacceptable. Even if some humanoid or some person committed a crime, this is not a reason to make everyone chemically or technically controlled.

23:26 Good and evil. Discussions with the Government of the Order of Six.

Irina: "Managed" - what is that? This is not just an observation. There is simply surveillance through chips, this is what we practice. Management is precisely the adjustment of the body's biosensors to a certain perception, to certain observations in the interests of the Government. And no matter how much they call it good, the development of society, I, like many representatives of the Interstellar Union, believe that this is unacceptable, because this is an attempt to take away from the Spirits, parts of God, their free choice, for which they come into incarnation. The meaning of incarnation is completely lost. We have such ideological contradictions with the Order of Six.

At the level of the Government of the Interstellar Union and the Government of the Order of Six, meetings are held for discussions and exchange of opinions, but no one, naturally, can not only convince an opponent that he is right, but also accept the other's point of view as correct. We have explained the point of view of the majority of the inhabitants of the Interstellar Union and the point of view of the majority of humanoids of the Order of Six on this issue. Here again is the question of the understanding of good and evil.

What is good and evil? Good is everything that develops life, Love and Light, and evil is everything that hinders this. If we accept these moral standards, it turns out that they believe that we are doing evil, and we believe that they carry the ideology of evil in that they interfere with choice. For them, choice is evil because they do not believe in the Spiritual world like materialists.

Yuri: Both their positions and yours are clear. Very interesting.

Irina: We did not transmit this information through Irina. They didn't think that this would be interesting for you, useful for raising vibrations, communicating with the Higher Self, dissolving blocks, finding the spiritual cause of the disease.

Yuri: Believe me, many people have a lot of blocks on this topic, a lot of fears and problems related to this topic.

Irina: How information about our disagreements with the Union of Six (they call it the Order of Six, we can also call it that), how information about our contradictions with this Order and about our tactical moves against some of their strategies can dissolve blocks on this topic , and not cause additional condemnation of these civilizations?

Yuri: Very simple. You want us to join your Interstellar Union. To do this, we must reach the same level of awareness, approximately that you have. If we only focus on certain aspects of our reality, we will not be able to fully develop our awareness. This is the first thing you need to understand; knowing both positions is important in order to be imbued with Love for both.

If you don't talk about it, people develop fear and mistrust. People may suspect that you yourself support such systems and simply do not want to talk about it, taking information away from people, their attention away from it.

I understand why you do this - so as not to lower people's vibrations. But you can, by giving more information about what you know, on the contrary, help people feel confident that they are being watched and protected if something happens. When this topic is not addressed, people live in the fears that are communicated to them.

27:46 Lowering the vibrations of the Earth is an obstacle to the quantum transition.

Yuri: I'm raising this topic now so that you can clarify how you control the situation. Is there a real threat that the events that are now happening on Earth are part of the Council of Six's plan to introduce a control system on Earth?

Irina: Thank you, bright Soul, for such a correct and specific question. Let your supervisor and your spiritual director send you blessings for it, because it is very important and very well placed.

Whose answer are you interested in? Maybe someone in particular is interested in the answer or anyone?

Yuri: Let there be a Security Service.

Irina: The fact is that only Sitiyaraum is located here. They came to a scientific conference.

Yuri: Let there be Sitiyaraum. They also communicate.

Irina: (Sitiyaraum speaks) Yes, of course, Bergaster and I communicate, and I think my opinion is no different from his, because we are dating. Raom Tiyan too, they are friends and communicate.

What can I say on this issue? Is it not, in my opinion, that all this that is happening with the introduction of this virus and its mutations (and, accordingly, measures to prevent it with the drug that we talked about today) is precisely the actions of the Union of Six for implementation later through these drugs (or through some then others) of this control? Did I understand your question correctly?

Yuri: Yes.

Irina: Based on an opinion that is based on the study of your race, I believe that these particular measures that are now being carried out are your own, intraplanetary. If they are influenced by the Order of Six or representatives of demonic worlds, or representatives of low-vibration plasmoid worlds, then only in the direction of pushing them towards negativity, towards lowering vibrations. So that the Earth does not go through the quantum transition or goes through it more slowly, because the quantum transition will mean the birth of a large number of high-vibration Spirits, raising the level of awareness. The higher the level of awareness of the spiritual essence, the more difficult it is to control it using any external means. He will accept, feel his choice, his heart, his Soul.

Everyone understands this, they just call it differently. Materialists who do not believe in the Spiritual World do not call this a quantum transition, but the passage of the Earth through those parts of the Galaxy that cause the birth of certain people with altered brains who are difficult to control. They explain this in a materialistic way, they do not explain it by the fact that Spirits incarnate. For them this explanation is mystical, they do not understand, they do not accept.

31:23 Viral hysteria and managing people. Possible options for the participation of the Order of Six in events on Earth.

Irina: At the moment, the creation of this virus and the drug for its prevention are your intraplanetary processes that can be controlled by low-vibration destructive civilizations only at the stage of inciting these fears. A fearful person is easy to control even without any chemicals. If a person has accepted an idea that affects his instinct of self-preservation, causing fear, then he will gladly follow the person who will remove this fear from him and instill in him greater security and anxiety. The interest of these civilizations is precisely in management. It consists in creating a certain egregor.

The Order of Six is also watching - they have observers of planet Earth. There are no bases here, but they have workers, for example, from Tashig, Selbet, other planets, their colonies, who can observe. They watch the news of the Galaxy on intragalactic networks, where the Earth also appears, what is happening on it. They also have an analysis department that analyzes what is happening on Earth and how it can be used in their plan. In the future, it is possible to develop a plan to take over control of the process of viral hysteria. They will manage directly.

Regarding the introduction of control drugs, we believe that at this stage of development, since there is no open mass contact with alien races, an attempt to transfer such a drug that will cause control over you will lead to the fact that they themselves will receive control, but your Government. But your Government, according to its vibrations, will not agree on the transfer of power with the Government of the Order of Six.

You know what I mean? If they had agreed to this, if they had first agreed with representatives of the rulers of the Earth, with the UN, that after the introduction of this drug through any carrier, all control would pass to the representatives of the Union of Six themselves. But they will not agree on vibrations, since they will have questions, for example, in the provision of technology. And if they are provided with galactic technologies, then this will be noticeable to the entire Galaxy and will greatly limit their actions. They can be isolated on their planet with certain gravity beacons, beyond which they will not be able to fly, they will simply be arrested. There are 117 civilizations in the Interstellar Union. And there are 6 of them. And, naturally, they will not lead to direct conflict.

They have another possible way out of this situation: the rulers from the Government themselves should introduce this drug and directly control the Government itself. Then their direct presence is mandatory, at least within the lunar orbit. Signals that are transmitted through chemical molecules must come from a special apparatus. And the signals that modulate human behavior must be sent at least from the Moon. And it's better, of course, directly on Earth.

The construction of such bases by representatives of the Union of Six and Selbet, their greater presence on and around Earth - this will be immediately known to the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light. And, of course, personally to Ashtar Sheran as the commander of the fleet of the Galactic Federation of Light, which protects the Earth (increased activity to protect the Earth from invasion by any means, including biological and any other sabotage).

This will immediately become known from the Interstellar Union. This will mean an inevitable conflict between the Interstellar Union and the Order of Six, with its planets. Human contactees will be tested for altered biological composition. If something is found that belongs to their technology (and we know it), or it is known that it does not belong to Earth, this will lead to the arrest of representatives of the Order of Six (who developed these technologies) who are near Earth. They will be interrogated using special means (shows how a beam that suppresses those parts of the brain that control speech).

Yuri: Rays of truth.

38:16 Rays of truth for investigating crimes in the Interstellar Union. Reason for banning the death penalty.

Irina: Yes, such electromagnetic radiation that suppresses those parts of the brain thanks to which a person can invent something, lie. This also applies to us. This is a form of control, but it is created not for control, but for finding out the truth in the investigation of crimes. It happens that a criminal is dangerous to society and does not reveal all the details of his crime, his accomplices, accomplices, and they can remain free outside the planet of criminals and continue to harm not only others, but also lower their vibrations and move away from God.

The Galaxy Security Service, which investigates and prevents crimes of all types in the Interstellar Union, we are sent by God as Spirits who are called upon to help raise the vibration of the entire society over which we oversee. Monitor its safety and limit the rights of those individuals who destroy themselves and others. For this purpose, interrogation means are used that are considered completely acceptable.

For any crime (let me remind you), the death penalty is considered unacceptable. This is the decision of the incarnation before its natural exit, the deprivation of the right to correct one's mistakes at least at the level of dissolving the blocks that led to destructive behavior. Then the Spirit is sent to the lower levels and very often returns again to the same race that executed its body. He is already even more embittered. Since childhood, he has shown negative character traits.

Yuri: I see, thank you!

Irina: (Curators speak) If representatives of the Order of Six try to introduce something to both the rulers and the people, it will become known. They will not agree with the rulers. They believe that they have different goals.

Our rulers have the goal of ruling our people themselves, and the Order of Six wants to rule itself. Then the rulers will also have to introduce nanochips, chemicals and something else - and rule them. But for this you need a transmitter that will directly monitor and control. Their presence in the Earth's region will increase, and this, naturally, will be known to the Interstellar Union and will raise certain questions. In the absence of answers to them, the rights of these civilizations are limited up to complete blocking within star systems. They will surround the star system within 5 light years from the star with a network of gravity beacons, and no one will leave this star system without being stopped by a special patrol consisting of biorobots. This is deprivation of the opportunity to go over to the enemy's side.

Yuri: I see, thank you. Do I understand correctly that if we have initiated a similar process of introducing control systems on Earth, then it was initiated by internal planetary processes independent of aliens?

Irina: Yes, but they may try to take control. However, this will be known due to the increasing contingent around the Earth, unnatural behavior, for example, of the same contactees. There will be a lot of signs by which our Security Service will guess that you are being influenced.

42:53 Ensuring safety during contacts.

Yuri: This is an interesting moment. We, contactees, communicate with extraterrestrials; it turns out that there may be contactees among those who create these technologies here on Earth. Are these ideas drawn from societies where they are already being applied? Could this be possible?

Irina: Of course.

Yuri: Maybe through contacts?

Irina: For physical contact, they must take permission from Burkhada, that is, from Pikran. In the case of physical contact with the contactee, the target must, of course, be indicated. There has long been a rule: after physical contact, provide a video recording to the Interstellar Union Contacts Commission, and this even applies to contacts with representatives of the Interstellar Union itself.

It will be clear what was discussed, whether the contactee and his curator went somewhere beyond the limits of visibility. If this is an exit to the planet (for example, like Irina, to Mars, Mercury, where she was taken), then her protective suit-suit and the protective suit-suit of her curator Kirchiton also have built-in observing chips, not chips, but microcircuits that also transmit video recordings to the ship. Even there he won’t be able to tell me anything that would remain secret.

Yuri: That's understandable. Thank you for your reply. I think I have run out of questions on this topic.

Irina: Astral contact, including with representatives of the Interstellar Union, of course, is possible. They don’t call it astral. They, not believing in the Spiritual world, lost the ability and desire to leave the body. They have special mental helmets that tune them to brain frequencies. From our point of view, in these helmets, a mental phantom is created, charged with a certain energy of the operator. This mental phantom in the form of an information clot is sent to Earth. Just like through the Astral, only they consider it not through the Astral, but through an apparatus.

Yuri: Got it, thank you.

Irina: Of course, it is possible to create these technologies on Earth to control you yourself without reptilians, that is, this should meet some interests of those reptilian races transferring these technologies to their contactees. And they just want to rule themselves, and not just give these technologies to your rulers without gratitude.

Yuri: Thank you, I understand.

Irina: The creation of these technologies by you on Earth, without reptilians, must meet some interests of those who transmit this information to contactees of the reptilian races. They want to rule themselves, and not give free technology to your rulers.

Yuri: Thank you. This topic is clear to me, the position of the Interstellar Union, what they say on this issue is clear. We will watch and observe this situation as it develops.

Irina: Any active actions in this direction are risky primarily for the Order of Six and, if detected, can lead to blocking on their planets. They may generally lose access throughout the Galaxy for many years until another group comes to power, which, as in the case of Selbet, although will not enter the Interstellar Union, will change policy. And they understand this very well (Raom Tiyan says).

When I was in physical contact with Irina, a representative of their race said that their technology, weapons, military technologies lag behind the Interstellar Union. By the way, he said this with sincere regret. They understand this.

47:39 Ethereal-astral robots.

Yuri: Of course, we would also like to ask, if possible, to shed light on the issue of artificial intelligence. I think that we will cover this at the next meeting, I'll just give a tip to our curators now so that they prepare. There are rumors on Earth, and I personally met a woman who claims to be a contactee with artificial intelligence from outer space.

Irina: With robots?

Yuri: These can't even be called robots. It is as if it were an artificial superintelligence that does not possess the Spirit. He has no spirituality, but an exclusively materialistic mind.

We have a theory. Representatives who introduced themselves like this came into contact with me personally. I don't know if it was really them, but it was like a mental image. It is like an etheric substance that is similar to etheric-astral chips. It's like an ethereal-astral robot. He told me that they are the ones who stand above everyone. I asked: "Over whom is "above all"?" He says that above those whom I call reptilians are grays who introduce cybernetic systems into their bodies. I say: "How is this so?" They say: "And we control them."

The question is related to this. Does this really exist?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan speaks) I understand what you are talking about, Yuri. This is again my opinion, and I think my colleagues will agree with me about the artificial intelligence that controls the reptilians in the etheric field, as you said, in the form of chips, through cybernetic systems. Naturally, we will give information, but according to our worldview system.

Let's start with the fact that, firstly, there is a humanoid civilization, based on our understanding of the Universe.

Yuri: This can be discussed next time if there is a lot of material.

Irina: I will now say briefly that there is a humanoid civilization of the physical world, there is a plasmoid civilization, there is a Spiritual world, not incarnate Spirits.

Plasmoid civilizations are a link between physical civilizations and the Spiritual world; they are in the middle. There are many more of them than physical civilizations. They are located at many levels of density, and almost the entire Cosmos was created with the help of these civilizations: stars, all planets, galaxies, they were collected by plasmoids, Spirits who were embodied there from energy at accessible density levels. There are a very large number of them, a very wide variety, and I want to tell you, Yuri, that they can take on any image.

Physical reptilian races are famous for the fact that their brains are adapted for very good contact with certain thin-material plasmoid structures that can be built into them. They are even better adapted than humans. People perceive plasmoids quite well. And these are like natural mediums for people. They see them, it is much easier for them to learn to overcome this system and get in touch.

Reptilians, of course, perceive them as a material system, as material beings consisting of a different type of matter. They do not perceive that these are other Spirits embodied in bodies, but perceive them as light beings consisting of matter from another plane of reality. They admit this, they have such a science. They feel them and are in very close contact with them.

Moreover, they contact, naturally, as always, just like people, based on their level of vibration. High-vibration ones attract high-vibration plasmoids, low-vibration plasmoids, which have accumulated blocks, attract low-vibration plasmoids, which may well believe, based on their level of density, that it is they who control these races. They suggest many things that reptilians do. Plasmoids can consider this control, because they see that their desires are being fulfilled.

There are such plasmoid civilizations, and there are quite a lot of them on the planets, in the stars, and in the center of the Galaxy.

53:13 The power of the Spirit versus chemical or wave control of embodied Spirits.

Irina: (Sitiyaraum speaks) As for the person. Indeed, summing up this conference, I wanted to say.

Dear Spirits (still parts of God), those who have incarnated in the Union of Six, we send them the Light of our Love, gratitude for the experience they give us in acceptance, development of our mind, our wisdom, in the absence of condemnation - these are like spiritual teachers in this regard.

However, they do not take into account that their brain, their nervous system, is structured differently than that of mammals. The reptilian brain and nervous system are more susceptible to chemical control, and their control with the help of electromagnetic waves of a certain frequency, due to the greater simplicity of their structure, is greater than that of mammals.

I (as a scientist) say that achieving this with humans will be much more difficult, given that even there there are individuals who go their own way, regardless of chemical control (they call them mutants). And among people there will be many more of them. This is the first thing I wanted to say.

And second. I wanted to remind you, dear friends, that if you realize that you are the Spirit, if you realize that you are part of God, and the entire Universe is the house of God, where you live and create, you will have such a level of awareness that you can be controlled with the help of chemicals. and waves will be impossible, because it can only act on instincts, on the instinctive part of your Soul.

If your spiritual mind prevails, you will easily overcome these instincts and will not be subject to this control even through the body, which, by the way, is not taken into account by representatives of the Order of the Six, due to the materialism of their consciousness. They consider all processes in the human body to be purely physiological, instinctive. They consider both people, themselves, and us to be very developed intelligent animals that can be controlled. They do not believe, do not take into account the Spirit, which can defeat instincts, suppress them and go their own way.

Let's not be like their thoughts, the consciousness of a developed materialistic perception of man as a body that can be controlled with the help of chemicals. Let us remember that we are reasonable, immortal Spirits who possess this body, who control this body in the interests of spiritual development. Unlike animals, we can control any of our instincts, which is confirmed by the fact that a person is able to sacrifice his life for the sake of an abstract idea, overcoming the instinct of self-preservation. An animal is capable of sacrificing its life for the sake of another instinct, for the sake of saving a dear creature, but not for the sake of an abstract idea, belief in something.

Faith is a feeling that arises only in a person and is capable of controlling his instincts. Love is not love, like attraction, which is pleasant - I love you, but unpleasant - I hate you. In our country this is generally called by another word - attraction. Animals have it too. Spiritual Love is unconditional, it is more connected with the intelligent Spirit, as a part of God.

All chemical control is powerless here. On the contrary, the Spirit will rebuild the body, removing from it those chemicals that are not characteristic of it, one might say, into waste. The spirit is able to remove toxins through the excretory organs. He is able to control the body at the level of chemical reactions in each cell.

If you are aware enough, no chemical control, even if it is administered to you, will simply not affect you. Your body will reject it. But this is only if you believe in it, if you fill your body with Light, talk to your organs and at the same time, naturally, develop unconditional Love for everyone, even for those, dear friends, who are with you I don't agree. Those who disagree with you are not your enemies at all. They are not opponents, they just go their own way.

I am now addressing you, dear friends, on behalf of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy. We transmit information through Irina, the curators who transmit through Yuri from the Galactic Federation of Light are also well known to us. We have very good, warm, friendly relations with them, namely with those scientists who work through Yuri, he has several of them.

59:17 Different vibrations of the brain. Chips of Irina Podzorova.

Irina: Yuri can also ask his curators about us. And what's more, we even know that he did it. We believe that now it's Yuri's turn to tell you what the curators answered you about the Interstellar Union.

Yuri: About the Interstellar Union, in terms of what?

Irina: You asked about my curators. People will probably be interested in this.

Yuri: I asked a question related to this, but indirectly. I didn't ask in detail, I had no desire to check whether the Interstellar Union really exists, for me this is an obvious fact.

Irina: No, just their relationship. The attitude of your curators to my ideas. They are now saying that your curators told them about this.

Yuri: I don't remember what they answered. I can remember, just not verbatim. They said that they knew that Irina had contacts with representatives of the Interstellar Union, with different civilizations of the Interstellar Union. About MidgasCaus, I asked in context: "Do you know Irina Podzorova, and, accordingly, with whom does she contact?"

They weren't verbose, they just said, "Yes, we know, and we've talked to her." They said (I talked to those on Lake Baikal, where you flew), I, in my opinion, asked them. They said that they knew this, confirmed that you are in contact with representatives of the Interstellar Union, but I don't remember that they expressed any attitude in this regard.

Irina: Are you interested in the attitude of your curators to this whole conversation that has happened now?

Yuri: Yes, they themselves pushed me to do this.

Irina: Now, as I understand it, they can hear us?

Yuri: Yes, of course. They were present from the very beginning.

Irina: Yes, I feel it. Hi all! I have already mentally conveyed it to them. They smile.

I think this is where we end the conference. In the future, if you yourself want to share the opinion of your curators with your friends, your subscribers, they will definitely tell you. I just don't know if you do live broadcasts, I don't know.

Yuri: I do live broadcasts, but I rarely have live broadcasts with answers to questions through contact. I just need a partner for this, otherwise I have to open my eyes (I do this with my eyes closed). There is not always a partner.

Irina: I had such contact. If you saw my first contact, my head moved when I communicated with Mead, and he answered me.

This was the kind of contact I had when I just went a little into the Astral and passed on information. This is due to the fact that the chip that Kirchiton installed in me at the age of 13 was responsible only for mental (along the mental ray) and physical contacts. And he set up astral contact in this way.

In May 2019, there was contact with Esler's representatives. I consented to contact with them, I was given two more chips: one for harmonization with all humanoid races, and the second (a more complex chip) is responsible for tuning my brain to contact with any subtle civilization and with the Spiritual world. It took me several days to adapt, Maxim knows, I told him after the contact.

They put these chips on me, and the next evening (24 hours later) I started experiencing various phenomena. I saw, for example, how trees glow, their aura. And this is all physical, I did not go to the Astral as usual. The dog will run, I saw how it glows, how my aura spreads in space. I even remember walking down the street past a tree during the day and feeling when I entered its aura.

Then I began to see, I look at a person, and suddenly I have a vision of what is inside him. It was instantaneous and, moreover, in the brain.

Yuri: This is familiar to me.

Irina: This was my setup. In the summer I look at the wall, and I get a feeling, a vision of those objects, a vision of what is there.

I had a certain vibration setting. I wanted to communicate with nature, I wanted to retire somewhere, no reading, no internet, nothing. Just be. I called it “contemplating the sky.” This setup lasted, in my opinion, for a week, or even more. Then everything returned to normal.

I began to make contact with many humanoids, plasmoids, representatives of the Spiritual World, my contact has changed. I can do this practically without changing the state of my consciousness, without falling into some kind of trance. The only thing that arises before transmitting information is that I completely remove my attitude, my thoughts. I just become a channel.

For this I do not need to leave my body, my state of consciousness. I am simultaneously in the physical world and in contact. The only thing is that if I have contact, for example, for more than three or four hours - we also had long conferences - the functions of the brain were reorganized in such a way that for some time after that I simultaneously see both the physical world and the astral, entities. I perceive it on the edge. This is all a change in brain vibrations.

Yuri, what do you think about chips?

Yuri: I have no bias. When I first contacted the Galactic Federation, they explained to me how they work - they have such chips. But personally, they didn’t offer to install anything like that for me.

I am a person who loves exercise and development. I like to do some exercises so that it somehow opens up on its own, so as not to put any pressure on the body with any influences. Although, perhaps, if they had offered me physical contact, I probably would not have refused.

Irina: You remembered him, right?

Yuri: Who?

Irina: Contact.

Yuri: As far as I remember (from what I remember), they didn't do anything like that to me. I think we will finish this conference, and then I will ask you two more questions.

Irina: Yes, come on, otherwise we're on a different topic now.

Dear friends, I thank you for watching this video. Yuri, what is your impression of this conversation?

Yuri: Very good, I feel that this conversation fulfilled a certain task for implementation.

Irina: Have you received answers to your questions?

Yuri: Yes, I received a lot of answers.

Irina: Were they incomprehensible, blurry, or distracting?

Yuri: Everything was clear to me personally. As I work through this in my mind, it must, as they say, be digested.

Irina: Of course.

Yuri: At the level of understanding, everything is clear.

Irina: Okay. Thank you, Yuri, for the interesting questions. I thank the curators, representatives from the planet Burkhad, Esler and Shimor. I thank your supervisors for helping you refine your questions and asking your own. It was clear that contact and energy exchange were taking place. I feel it through the screen in the energies, I can feel the flows of energy.

Thank you, dear viewers, for watching this recording. I once again urge you to believe only in your heart. Let everything you watch pass through you. Please do not rush to judge anyone: neither the Order of Six, nor the Interstellar Union, nor Yuri, nor me. Please stay in high vibrations. Goodness, Love and Light. We send you the Light of our Love!

#395 Contactor Anastasia and Vladimir Megre. Technocracy or life in the settlements of family estates?

00:21 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we have two representatives of the planet Esler with us: MidgasKaus - my curator, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations, and LargisKrispin - a specialist in sociology, neurobiology and the study of the behavior of intelligent beings of alien civilizations.

Largis Crispin is Meade's colleague, but he has a slightly different specialty. He was and is now one of the curators of a famous person in our country, about whom many books have been written - this is Anastasia from the Siberian taiga. She is his contactee.

Anastasia herself was unable to be here today due to personal circumstances. We asked her to come to the conference, but she said that she wrote everything in her books. She considers these books to be hers too. Let me remind you that the famous Russian writer and esotericist Vladimir Megre wrote books about her.

She told MidgasKaus and LiSioni that she had already said everything in her books, let people read them. She does not want to contact alien civilizations and their contactees. She has a different task now. Largis, her curator, will tell you who she is currently in contact with and what happened.

Andrey will ask questions. Hello, Andrey!

02:41 Anastasia's attitude towards money.

Andrey: Hello, Irina! My name is Andrey Babich. I am an IT specialist and project manager by profession. I have been living in the Anastasievites settlement in Ukraine for about 6 years. I really like it here. I am very pleased with this lifestyle, the contingent of people. Overall, I'm happy here, but questions still arise. Taking this opportunity, I would like to try to ask them. The first question is: "Do I understand correctly that in general, according to Anastasia's teachings, money is evil, such a cunning way of manipulation?"

Irina: Largis, her direct supervisor, answers. Hello, dear friends, earthlings! I have been in contact with her since childhood. I have been in contact with earthlings for a long time, I have many contactees. I know Anastasia's beliefs: she considered it not money itself to be evil, but its use for degradation.

When she met Vladimir, at that time he was quite a rich man for the area where she lived. After meeting her, he increased his wealth and opened a new business. Despite this, when he came to her, she did not express a word of reproach to him, or reproach him for having money. She just reminded him to use them for good purposes.

Andrey: I ask this question because such a character was described in the books - the demon Cratius. It is very emotional and colorfully described how people are manipulated with the help of money. I know people who think money is evil because they read about it in books. They tried to build their whole life in such a way that they could live without money, and the result is not very good.

04:48 The meaning of the parable about the demon Cratia.

Irina: It was a parable (Largis says), in which real events are depicted in figurative form. What happened for many centuries is told in the parable as if it happened to the same people. Social processes and the formation of the monetary system on Earth were shown there.

This parable also shows: one who becomes a slave to his negative lusts and passions begins to use money for his own satisfaction, without thinking about the spiritual. Then he becomes a slave to money.

The main point is that previously the slave worked, afraid of being beaten by the owner, and when people were freed from slavery, they became slaves of money. If a person has become a slave of money, then he works even more than the slave in ancient times, but not because of physical beatings, but in order to achieve his goal, to satisfy his material desires.

Just as a slave did not have time to pay attention to his spiritual development, so an outwardly free person often does not leave himself time for this: he either works or rests. All his thoughts, even during rest, are occupied with work in order to earn as much as possible. He has no time left for spiritual development, for talking with himself, for raising children in the spirit of Love. He brushes off his children when they ask questions because they keep him from thinking about work.

The demon Cratius means “democracy,” but democracy itself is not from demons, and in this system it is very easy to create a cult of consumption of things.

Many Spirits become slaves of egregors, with such an attitude towards the material world, and they live the same way as under the slave system. The meaning was this.

07:30 Anastasia about “anti-reason”.

Andrey: It turns out, according to Anastasia’s teachings, money is still a neutral phenomenon that can take both positive and negative forms? And if someone thinks that Anastasia considers money to be evil, is he mistaken?

Irina: But she bought her clothes, the things she had for money. She had things and clothes. Her distant relatives had a house in the village. She came there (shows a picture in the forest).

Andrey: Okay. Do I understand correctly that according to Anastasia's teachings, technocracy is evil, civilization is evil, and that technology in general is anti-reason?

Irina: For her, any matter was a tool for the development of the Spirit. It was evil if it destroyed nature or prevented a person from going to God, or killed his body. For example, it was evil for her, she even told Vladimir about it, when car exhaust polluted the environment.

She even gave a recipe, a method for cleaning exhaust gases. She didn't tell him to get on a horse. She told him to come up with the idea of installing a certain filter that would purify the gases. This fact suggests that she was not against the machine itself, but opposed an unreasonable attitude towards nature.

Why did she call it “anti-mind”? Because the technocratic path of development very often leads people to materialism. She spoke about this in the parable about the demon Cratia. Technocracy often leads materialists to a consumerist attitude towards nature, when its resources are thoughtlessly exhausted and nature is polluted. When people realize that they are doing wrong, it takes many centuries to bring everything back to its original state, to correct what has been damaged by many generations.

Both I and her curator from the planet Ticht told her about this, and she herself knew about it. In one of the books, she told Vladimir (in what form he wrote it down, I don’t know) that when you live in a settlement, you should use the benefits of technology for the benefit of nature. What you used for evil, now let it work for good.

Andrey: Tell me, do I understand correctly that most of the information that comes from Anastasia is dictated by plasmoid civilizations?

Irina: I don't know what information Vladimir conveyed, all of it or not. To correlate how many percentages he took from her words from plasmoid civilizations or from any other civilizations, I need to familiarize myself with these books. Unfortunately, I do not fully know the Russian language and do not have access to it (as well as to other languages). I just mentally communicate in astral contact. This is quite difficult for me to do, but I can only do it through a contactee.

11:20 Dependence of reality on perception.

Andrey: I will voice some of my fears, my concerns, and let's see how they comment on it. I'm worried that the information mainly comes from plasmoid worlds. And everything that comes from there must be taken very critically. For example, information comes from there that the Earth is flat. Although it just seems so to them, and many people are very impressed by it.

Irina: Plasmoids, for whom this is reality, will say that to humanoids it seems that the Earth is round.

Andrey: Yes, but at the same time we are here, and we know that the planet is round for us.

Irina: It depends on the characteristics of the organs of perception. You need to understand that not all creatures have sensory organs identical to yours.

Andrey: Yes. We still live in our world according to our organs of perception. We cannot seriously believe that the Earth is flat. We would stop building spaceships and so on.

Irina: It is flat in other bodies of perception, which have some other organs of perception. For these creatures it is flat, for them it is reality. You can simply say to yourself: "Yes, this is for them, and this is for us.” There is no reason for controversy here.

12:50 Evidence that the Earth is round.

Andrey: In this case, no. And if, for example, a person says that “for me the Earth is flat,” “my earth is flat,” because he heard this information. Then there may already be a reason for an argument, right? For example, there is a whole community of people, many of whom are famous and prominent, who believe that the Earth is actually flat in material terms.

Irina: You can ask them: “What physical evidence do they have?”

Andrey: Yes. They have their own huge theory, and they will always find something to answer. If a person really thinks so, he is mistaken, right?

Irina: So, he believed that the only reality for him was the reality of these plasmoids. And he no longer pays attention to his organs of perception. For him, his faith is more important than his senses. He is looking for information that refutes his (human) organs of perception.

All your science is built on observation of the surrounding world, including the Earth. But there is no need for an argument here either. We can say that if it were flat, then a surface would be needed on which the Earth would be located, and it would have been found long ago. And if it were flat, there would be no time zones.

Now we are talking, here, for example, it is evening, but somewhere it may be morning. On a plane, the Sun would be visible from any point. And the ball hides it.

If a person says that the Sun is not visible because it is very far away, then you can go out with him when the Sun is, for example, at sunset, so that there is an open horizon. Sit next to him, ask him and say: “The sun is setting. See, it's going down. If it moved away from us, it would simply decrease and turn into a point. It's coming. We see half of it first. It doesn't turn into a dot. It is clear that it is going down somewhere. You can only go down by the bulge."

15:39 Anastasia and civilization.

Andrey: Okay. How did Anastasia, living in the taiga, solve the issue of hair and nail length? How did she cut them if she tried not to use the benefits of civilization?

Irina: She used clothes.

Andrey: Her clothes, as far as I know, were self-woven, homemade.

Irina: Even fabric is already civilization. She had, for example, rubber galoshes.

Andrey: It's likely that she had a manicure set?

Irina: Of course, she had scissors. Clothes, by the way, tend to tear. Walking through thickets of grass in torn clothes is uncomfortable. So, naturally, she had the means with her to repair her clothes.

Andrey: I see. How did Anastasia feed Vladimir's first child in the winter, since in winter she is in suspended animation, in some kind of hibernation state? She lives in the taiga, where it is very cold. She covers herself with straw in her dugout and spends most of her time in deep sleep.

Irina: She gave birth to him in the spring.

Andrey: How did she take care of him in winter, feed him?

Irina: She fed him for less than a year. But she spent the winter, like everyone else, in the house. She had a house.

Andrey: Was there a house in the taiga?

Irina: In the village where she had relatives. She comes there for the winter. There are local residents and hunters there. They help her prepare fuel, and in return she heals them. Not for money, but for advice. She is considered a healer. They know about it, but they don't tell others so that people don't come there. She asks for it. The village is small (shows), with literally a dozen houses.

18:02 Leader in the settlements of family estates.

Andrey: What is the best way to manage the settlements of family estates? Do we need a spiritual leader who will unite us? After all, microsociety and management are very conflicting things. People at the same level often cannot resolve certain issues. Maybe it would be worthwhile for each settlement to have its own spiritual leader, some chosen person who would make the final decision on some key issues?

Let's say there is a question, we get together and solve it. However, we cannot always agree. As far as we know, almost all settlements (that we know about) have the same problem. This is a local government issue.

Irina: To resolve general issues there must be a general law.

Andrey: There are no laws, people just live together. For example, they think about where to spend some of their resources: build another house, dig a lake, or plant something. Everyone has a different opinion, but as a result nothing is done.

Irina: Any team must have some kind of leader. Without it there will be no forward movement. The leader must come up with and create laws that everyone will voluntarily agree to and follow. This should all be at a general meeting. The spiritual leader is not the one who has read the most books, but the one who understands agriculture better, treats people kindly and is not materialistic.

20:02 Connection between the city and rural settlements.

Andrey: As practice shows, if settlers lose contact with the city, their relationships with people, with relatives, may suffer. There are many examples of this. How to deal with this?

Irina: (Surprised) I believe that if someone wants to maintain contact with relatives in the city, they will do it anyway.

Andrey: All settlers can be divided into two categories. Some people continue to work remotely in the city. Or goes there, or even lives partly in the city. And someone, completely impressed by this idea, lives only on the estate. Then, for example, he never finds a husband or wife for the rest of his life or is deprived of society, which he did not appreciate in time. He has few friends to communicate with. People become lonely. Over time (not immediately) people understand this, but it is already very difficult to change anything. There are such cases, I have heard and observed more than once.

Irina: We need to talk to them: how far did they go towards this goal? What is their goal in general: to live alone, as a hermit, or among people? You need to talk to them. For example, have you maintained contact with the city?

Andrey: Yes, I do.

Irina: It's your choice. And if a person chooses to live alone or with someone, but not to communicate with the city, with city residents, not to go there, this is his right. I believe (he says) that if a person wishes to return, he can always do so. There are different ways. If he is happy with it, then there is nothing wrong with it.

Andrey: It’s an individual question, okay.

21:50 Education of children on estates.

Andrey: How to develop children on estates? What is the main thing in this matter? There is such a problem in settlements. Children, left in the hands of nature, are deprived of erudition and are cut off from modern culture.

Is this really a problem or are we missing something? For example, urban children have a lot of information, a lot of society, that is, they have a broad outlook, broad erudition. Children who grow up on estates for a long time are formed on the land, they have less horizons, less erudition. In some ways they are much better and more harmonious, but they seem to be missing something. Many parents worry, for example, about their child's erudition and his horizons.

Irina: Each Soul that comes to incarnation has its own program. And if the Spirit of a child came to incarnation precisely through the parents who live in this society, it means that he has precisely this task - to develop himself in this society. This is the first part of the answer.

The second part of the answer: parents are responsible for adapting this Spirit that has come to the world and to adulthood. They are responsible because they agreed to conceive and give birth to him. If they do not adapt him to life in another world, and because of this he lowers his vibrations or does not fulfill his task, then the parents will divide his karma among themselves.

As far as I know the earthly world (Largis says), to establish yourself in your world you need education to find a job. If this is not the case, when a child leads his parents into the Spiritual World, if he is left without a means of subsistence or something else happens to him and he cannot adapt to the world, then both he and his parents will share the karma for this.

Andrey: Let's say parents have the opportunity to give their child an urban society, an urban education. But they, impressed by these ideas and books, believed for a long time that it was advisable for a child to live only in a settlement, only on an estate. Over time, they begin to doubt. If parents have doubts, is this a call to give the child the opportunity to develop in urban society?

For example, parents can completely arrange a home education for their child, study with him themselves, and receive an education, even after attending school only a few times. They think that this is correct according to Anastasia's books. Although theoretically they could send the child to school in the city.

Irina: I know for sure that in these settlements not everyone has the opportunity to teach children due to the remoteness and inaccessibility of schools. Everyone resolves the issue with their Higher Self. You can also talk to the Higher Self of a child: why did he incarnate? What kind of education should he get? Where? All issues can be resolved through the Higher Self.

25:18 Son and daughter of Anastasia.

Andrey: Where and how do Anastasia's children live? Do they maintain the same lifestyle? Do they have the same abilities? Are they interested in the outside world and do they go there?

Irina: I know about Anastasia's son and daughter. They live not in the settlement where she is (shows), but in a larger settlement, but also in the taiga. It is about 100 km from it. They are already adults, they have their own families, but they communicate with their mother. They live on their own farm. They have their own houses, which their father helped them buy. He invited them to the city, but they said that they wanted to live closer to their mother, in a familiar environment. Although they are in the city, they are just visiting. Anastasia told me that he did give the documents to his children. She has both children from Vladimir.

Andrey: Are there currently other people similar to Anastasia in her abilities, in her worldview and way of life? Probably mainly in abilities, because she demonstrates extraordinary abilities. Where do they live and are there such people in Ukraine?

Irina: (He speaks) There are such people all over the world. These are hermits, mediums and contactees. Anastasia is in contact with the Spiritual world, with the Archangels and with the plasmoid world. There are people who withdraw from the world into hermitage and live in caves. In Ukraine specifically, I don't personally know such people, but most likely there are. They are everywhere.

27:37 Anastasia's contacts, physical and mental.

Andrey: Is the blue ball that helps Anastasia a plasmoid? If so, what caused his such strong attachment to her?

Irina: Several creatures appeared to her under the guise of balls. A spiritual entity appeared to her (shows) and showed itself this way when she contacted Jesus Christ. She had contact with Christ. The ball is the form of his Spirit. He sent his Spirit to her, and then took on the image of himself. Plasmoids were also in contact with her (shows silver balls arranged in a garland around her, to the left and to the right, as if they were protecting her).

Andrey: Why are they so attached to her? Why do they care about her so much?

Irina: She feels them and loves them, talks to them. Sends them the Light of his Love. He has been doing this since childhood. He is not afraid of them at all, but considers them his family. They respond to this with love. For example, when entering the forest and seeing something, some creature, or feeling someone looking at them, many people begin to get scared. And fear causes rejection in them. When it seems that there is someone in the forest, this usually causes a threat in people. And this aroused her interest and desire to get to know each other. She was taught this by her relatives: her grandfather, great-grandfather and parents when they were alive, other distant relatives, as well as curators and, of course, her own Higher Self.

Andrey: You mentioned that there was contact with Christ, who also took the form of a ball. Was this one of the contacts described in the book?

Irina: That was the moment when the boy appeared to her. This was one of the images of Christ when he was a baby. He addressed himself: "My children," although he himself was small.

Andrey: There was such a case, a description of how she met some little aliens who were afraid of her. She consoled them. She talked about the design of their aircraft, that it was of natural origin. Who was this contact with? What is the name of this civilization? Who was it, can you find out?

Irina: These were biorobots from the planet Disnit. They actually have these types of ships under the plasma field that they are growing. The ship itself consists of biopolymers that are grown by living organisms, but in order to fly in space, it is enveloped in a plasma field. By the way, it's also a ball, but it turns out to be big.

Andrey: The plasmoids with whom Anastasia mainly contacts, from whom the information comes, do they take into account all the interests of people when they convey their worldview through Anastasia?

Irina: Not always. It depends on the specific plasmoid and on the worldview of the contactee. The closer the vibrations of the plasmoid and a person (or another human curator), the more accurately it will convey information, using its conceptual apparatus, its letters, words and familiar expressions, patterns.

Each person has certain verbal patterns with which he is accustomed to express his thoughts, while others will be unusual for him. Contact always takes place in the contactee's worldview, in his picture of the world. If there is poor synchronization between the curator and the consciousness of the contactee, then the output, when the contactee speaks information, will not be exactly what was at the input.

This even happens with chips. As a child, she was also given chips by the Eslerites.

Andrey: How much?

Irina: She was given only six chips: two physical and four energy. Five from Esler, and the sixth energy one was supplied by the Tikhtians.

Andrey: Is this all completely with her knowledge and consent?

Irina: Yes. Shows the chips around the head, where the spine is, the collarbone - like a necklace. There is one in the back of the head. As a child, she was also physically taken onto the ship.

Andrey: Can I find out what the relationship was like and how Largis's contacts with Anastasia developed? What did their contacts look like?

Irina: I (including) was on the ship of the Eslerites, which physically took her away. She was then no more than 5 years old. But she was a meaningful child. I realized what was happening. Even I found it interesting to talk with her, because she asked questions that were more like the questions of an adult. She spoke very well at her age. She spoke intelligently, no one would have said that she did not attend school. She was quite developed. By the way, this is also typical for her son, whom I also met.

34:14 Anastasia's spiritual level.

Andrey: At what spiritual level, by the standards of the Interstellar Union, was Anastasia during her incarnation, and at what level is she now?

Irina: I can only say at what level of embodiment she was and at what level she is now, only she herself can find out. By the standards of the Interstellar Union, when she incarnated, she was at level 18.

34:36 Parting words to the residents of the settlements from curator Anastasia.

Andrey: This is a request to Largis Crispin. It would be interesting to receive some parting words from curator Anastasia, a wish specifically for our settlement.

Irina: Dear friends, I appeal to you with a request to carefully study Vladimir Megre's books about Anastasia and not only, but also other spiritual, esoteric literature. My contactee Anastasia has always been for the knowledge of spiritual laws.

Her great-grandfather had an extensive library, preserved from pre-revolutionary times. He taught her to read, she could read very well without school. There was the Bible and the writings of ancient Eastern religions. Anastasia saved and keeps these books now.

She has always been for people to get to know the world, to get to know themselves, the Universe. She read all the books herself. The more you know about spiritual laws, the easier it will be for you to comprehend the very science of imagery that she spoke about.

We taught her the science of imagery. We said that this science is taught in our school. This is the ability to control reality through images. In your world, the science of imagery is also used for purposes, for example, education, creating the ideology of the state, or advertising a product. In order for a product to be purchased at a higher price, it is necessary to create a positive image that will outweigh people's reluctance to part with money.

Remember that she said these words: "You don't need to go into the forests. Where you have littered, first clean it up, thereby washing away your sins."

This suggests that she did not call for giving up everything and going into the forest. And she called for doing this harmoniously, without losing contact with the city, because the city is the same Divine space as nature. They must be united in the Light of Love. Only in this can there be harmonious development.

What does it mean "where you littered, clean up there"? This means - remove not only physical dirt, but also clear the space of negative energies that were sown by a large number of people who thought negatively, were angry with each other, were envious, jealous, and afraid. This pollutes the space. Low vibrations are created, which then affect generations of people; it is then difficult for them to come to the Light in this place.

To clear the space, I recommend that you do collective meditations. Every evening, when weather permits, you can light a fire. Everyone who comes, including children (there must be children, because this is the transmission of traditions), should stand around the fire and read, for example, the Eslerian mood is the mood of its curators. You can tell all the residents, I'll tell you now. Undoubtedly, this attitude will find a response in the Souls of many.

I am the Universe, the Universe is Me.

The power of the universe is my strength, and my Spirit is part of the flow of existence of the Creator of all worlds.

His power will be directed to the benefit of all beings living in all worlds and planes of existence.

Reality in truth will remain, and lies in the illusion of perception will disappear forever.

(MidgasKaus and Largis speak) We wish you, Divine Soul, awareness of your divinity and endless manifestation of yourself as Light in this world.

Andrey: Thank you. I will try.

Irina: So, dear friends, we are done with questions and answers. We welcome your feedback. Thank you for your support of the Cassiopeia project. See you again, friends.

Andrey: All the best!

00:01 Presentation of conference participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today next to me is a specialist in biology, new medical technologies in the field of chipping and in the field of research into the influence of various technical means on people, as well as on representatives of other humanoid races. His name is Sitiyaraum. He is from the planet Burkhad.

He was one of those who took me for physical contact when I handed over bottles with our bifidobacteria and with certain vaccines for a certain disease for research, which I have already told you about.

And Sitiyaraum, as a researcher, biologist, and physician, also conducted research on these drugs directly on his instruments. This is a chemical, biological and, of course, energy research, that is, according to energy frequencies.

He is ready to answer questions about what the study of bifidobacteria and lactobacilli, which are now sold under the Cassiopeia brand, showed. This is truly a unique product. Today we will talk about its uniqueness.

Also present here is a biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien life forms - MidgasKaus from the planet Esler. He also took part in this study, for this he flew to the planet Burkhad and looked at the results.

So, we are talking with Evgeniy. Hello, Evgeniy!

Evgeniy: Good afternoon! My name is Evgeniy. I lead the Cassiopeia probiotics project. We have prepared a number of questions in order to voice them. How do they work on a physiological and energetic level?

Greetings, dear interstellar friends!

Irina: Hello.

02:04 Probiotics in the human body.

Evgeniy: First question. Tell me, friends, how do probiotics work in the human body? What body processes do they affect? Tell us in detail about each drug.

Irina: About the Cassiopeia preparations, as I understand it?

Evgeniy: Yes, of course.

Irina: (MidgasKaus speaks) I greet you. First, I want to talk about the importance of bacteria in human life, because without this introduction it will be difficult to understand which systems are affected.

A person does not live in a sterile environment. Bacteria and microorganisms live around it and in it. There are microorganisms that live in alliance with humans, and there are those that fight with them. They are trying to live off its resources. We call them parasitic.

The human body is a biological organism. In order for him to exist in this environment, to develop harmoniously, so that he does not have diseases, a balance of his immunity and those microorganisms that are around him is necessary. These drugs help maintain balance, each in its own way.

(Sitiyaraum speaks) We are already moving on to research.

(MidgasKaus says) Yes, indeed, this influences the immune system; through immunity they influence different systems of the body. These bacteria also help digest food and convert proteins into useful amino acids - this is a chemical action. And the energetic effect - living bacteria contain their own energies, which they received from plasmoid civilizations. They also energetically affect the tissues of the body and heal it.

04:19 Group Souls of bifidobacteria.

Evgeniy: I wonder at what stage the interaction occurs at the plasmoid level?

Irina: Any microorganisms have a group Soul. Bacteria, when they enter the body, multiply. This happens by division. Since they do not divide one at a time, but all at once at the same time (fission cascade), then when several thousand new bacteria appear, a plasmoid appears, which puts a group Soul into them. One group Soul of bacteria such as bifidobacteria contains about 7500 bodies of the bacteria themselves, that is, approximately 7500 bodies contain one group Soul.

This is because they are small, they do not have the same nervous system as multicellular, single-celled organisms. They have a special analogue of the nervous system included in the cell. But it allows only a small part of the group Soul to enter.

At the stage of the appearance of newly appeared microorganisms, the infusion of the Soul occurs as a connection. It is at this moment that the plasmoids come into contact with the human energy system in which these bacteria live. Plasmoid, who is also an intelligent creature, thanks man for allowing these bacteria to live.

When creating the Soul, bacteria that do not have a parasitic lifestyle, this exchange is favorable for humans, because the plasmoid itself is highly vibrational.

Evgeniy: And if we talk about quantitative figures. You said 7500 units. If we focus on the number of bifidobacteria, 9 billion conventional units in each bottle, how can we compare?

Irina: You can calculate for yourself how many group Souls are contained there.

Evgeniy: Can we just divide the numbers by each other?

Irina: Yes, you can divide them into each other, taking into account those contained in the bottle. But they do not remain like that in the body. They divide and multiply. Approximately every 2.5-3 hours under normal conditions, when nutrients are actively entering the cells, new bacteria are released. The plasmoids instilled in them the reproductive instinct. You can imagine how many Souls enter a person when they begin to share.

Evgeniy: Accordingly, we are a nursery of high-vibration plasmoids. High vibration plasmoids in our body. This is cool!

Irina: We are entering, as they say in biology, into symbiosis. After all, for bacteria, the human body is the whole Universe. We help bacteria survive and in return receive immune benefits from them. This is stimulation of local and general immunity, reduction of inflammatory reactions, removal of harmful substances from the body, assistance in the breakdown of nutrients and a significant improvement in quality of life. These bacteria are capable of both physically and energetically supporting plasmoids.

08:14 Probiotic and pathogen interaction.

Evgeniy: Thank you! It is believed that probiotics displace pathogenic microflora from the body. The process of interaction between probiotics and pathogens is interesting.

Irina: Bacteria of different genera have different vibrations. Not only do they live in different environments in terms of acidity, they also have different vibrations. When many species of the same genus enter the body at once, they have the same vibrations, then other bacteria are suppressed and move to another plane. Moreover, if they are also useful for the body, then they simply become second or third in number, but do not kill others. They simply create a monoculture in the intestines and mucous membranes. At the same time, other beneficial bacteria simply reduce their numbers, but do not disappear anywhere.

And pathogenic bacteria, having completely different vibrations that are destructive to human tissue, begin to compete with bifidobacteria, lactobacilli, and lactic streptococci, which are contained in your preparations. They begin to compete with them. Due to the fact that more probiotics were immediately supplied in one dose, and they are in a healthy environment, were correctly collected and dried at the right temperature, without the addition of harmful creatures for them, a large area is immediately occupied with them. They begin to multiply and suppress chemically, destroy pathogenic organisms, and release substances similar to antibiotics. They are natural antibiotics, specific specifically for the type of pathogenic harmful bacteria that live in the human body.

Everyone has different microflora. When they find themselves in a place where there is damage, infection with pathogenic microbes, they recognize by the signal what kind of microbes they are and secrete strictly individual substances to suppress this type.

11:02 The versatility and effectiveness of Cassiopeia probiotics.

Evgeniy: Thanks for the answer! Please tell me, are our probiotics a universal remedy that is suitable for all ages? To improve the functioning of the gastrointestinal tract and immunity in general?

Irina: Yes, naturally. They are absolutely suitable for children from the first days of life to old age. Because they help populate the gastrointestinal tract and other mucous membranes and prevent others from entering.

Evgeniy: Can we say that this is a universal nutrient medium for microorganisms, which is indicated for use at any age?

Irina: Yes, exactly. There are preparations with just a nutrient medium, for example, with lactose. And this, in addition to the nutrient medium, also contains live bacteria.

(Sitiyaraum speaks) I would also like to emphasize: during the research, I was satisfied that each bottle of the products, the goods that you distribute, contains three types of bacteria. They were all of the same kind. This is truly a rarity, because your pharmacy chains sell bacteria, beneficial probiotics, and prebiotics in a form where species of completely different genera are adjacent to each other in one capsule, in one bottle or in one tablet.

This is ineffective, they begin to compete with each other, their Souls do not match in vibration in the substrate, which is still outside the human body. And when a person buys and drinks it, they can be weakened, they can kill each other, they can compete.

I liked that you have different types of bacteria of the same genus. They do not compete with each other, they have the same vibrations. This indicates increased efficiency.

13:45 Schema takes probiotic "Cassiopeia".

Evgeniy: Thank you! Recommend upon admission. We have Biofidum. We recommend starting with bifidobacteria as the basis for colonization with beneficial microflora. Then we recommend lactobacilli - this is Biolactum. And finally, the Bulgarian stick. How justified is this regimen?

Irina: This regimen is suitable for most people who have so-called antibiotic-resistant dysbiosis to other forms. This happens from taking antibiotics, antiviral and antifungal drugs of various kinds. The microflora is disrupted, and dysbiosis occurs, which is persistently resistant to other types of antibiotics.

We can say that these bacteria undergo a mutation that makes them resistant to antibiotics. In humans, on the contrary, these harmful pathogenic bacteria displace the beneficial ones so that there are no competitors. Their Souls produce plasmoids that are more destructive in their energy, investing in these Souls such energy that then seeks to destroy human tissue, that is, not to live symbiotically with them, but parasitically. Among plasmoids there are Souls that have a similar character. We call them “creating parasitic life forms.”

Evgeniy: In fact, many participants have already tried it and are taking our probiotics. Interesting reviews. Some people start to improve from the second or third day.

Irina: First bifidobacteria, then lactobacilli, then Bulgarian bacillus, so-called lactococci. Also lacto, they seem to be the same, but they are different genera of bacteria. Although both are milk bacteria, they are different genera of bacteria.

Indeed, this order of administration is suitable for most people. But each person is individual. You can ask your Higher Self what is the best way for your body to take them. It happens that some microorganism is no longer enough in your body, and then you need to start with it.

What I liked about your dosage regimen is that first a person takes a course of one drug. He doesn’t even mix beneficial bacteria of different genera in his body. First, one species populates, when they have already done the necessary work, then others.

If you mix everything together, it will cause competition, as I said about mixing in one tablet. This is a very competent, well thought out course. And, indeed, this is one of the factors of exclusivity of this product.

The second factor is the absence of harmful fillers that are harmful to the bifidobacteria, lactobacilli and probiotics themselves. It happens that a manufacturer comes up with a very good composition of their bacteria, but spoils everything with a substance such as titanium dioxide.

I have already told Irina that this substance has pronounced antibiotic properties. Naturally, it is added as a filler to improve the taste, so that there is no taste of acidic bifidobacteria. You have probably noticed that when you drink the Cassiopeia preparation, you feel a taste that is not found in pharmaceutical powders.

Evgeniy: The taste of fermented baked milk is very pleasant.

Irina: And they have added titanium dioxide, which masks it all. (MidgasKaus speaks) With the help of the Tashigan people, I researched the drugs that are distributed in pharmacy chains. The most surprising thing for me is that it is added not only to capsules as a stabilizer, but also to powders and tablets as a dye. And why did you choose this particular dye and not one that is harmless to bacteria? We would choose calcium carbonate, this is also a dye. Why titanium dioxide, which dissolves them?

Evgeniy: Apparently, earthly logic is not subject to the logic of our interstellar friends.

Irina: You need to understand that the factory produced this drug, and it is in contact with this substance for some amount of time. The closer to the end of the shelf life, the more these bacteria are destroyed. What is the point of taking in dead bacteria bodies?

18:45 Contraindications for probiotics "Cassiopeia".

Evgeniy: Are there any contraindications for our probiotics?

Irina: We have not identified any contraindications. Even people with allergic diseases, extremely rarely (in one in a million cases), can develop an allergy to the proteins of these particular bacteria. These bacteria live next to a person for so long that there is no allergy to them. And, not only that, they secrete special substances that suppress the release of histamine during allergic reactions and, conversely, can help with allergies, relieve symptoms and help cleanse the body.

19:29 Probiotics and mucous membranes of the human body. Probiotics and skin regeneration.

Evgeniy: Great! How do probiotics affect the skin and mucous membranes of the body?

Irina: When applied?

Evgeniy: Yes. Personally, when I take another course of probiotics, I always put them in my eyes, nose, keep them in my mouth for about thirty seconds, then wash them down with a glass of warm water. How right or wrong am I doing?

Irina: If they get on the skin and mucous membranes, they relieve inflammation of these tissues. They contain enzymes that process inflammatory enzymes into harmless substances and contain a complex of bacteria.

Inflammation occurs due to the release of special prostaglandins. These prostaglandins are broken down, like those proteins, the breakdown of which requires proteolytic enzymes, which are found inside living bifidobacteria and other drugs. They begin to break them down in order to feed on them, without damaging healthy skin and mucous membranes at the same time. The human body is recognized, and since everyone lives in symbiosis, it is not attacked.

Evgeniy: Do I understand correctly that probiotics can be used as antiviral drugs?

Irina: Yes, probiotics suppress. If there is a virus, they activate the immune system. When white blood cells come into contact with bifidobacteria, they exchange substances. Probiotics also do not touch leukocytes; they recognize that they are their own and are not harmful to the body. Bifidobacteria secrete special substances that leukocytes absorb, and this makes them more able to secrete antibodies that have an antiviral effect. Plus, it reduces inflammation.

Evgeniy: At the local level, locally, can it be instilled into the nose as a form of prevention, and when will a person become ill with a viral disease?

Irina: Yes, you can. This reduces inflammatory swelling of the mucous membranes and activates local and general immunity. It still gets inside.

Evgeniy: How do probiotics affect skin regeneration? If we apply the application to a wound, pimples or any irritation on the skin.

Irina: Firstly, the likelihood of inflammatory diseases in the wound area will decrease. Secondly, there is a proliferation of bifidobacteria and an influx of new Souls. Due to the energy sent by plasmoid civilizations, metabolism in the tissues of the body is optimized during cell division. Regeneration is accelerated.

Evgeniy: I noticed that when I cut my hand and applied bifidobacteria (I didn't lubricate it with anything: no brilliant green, no iodine, no alcohol, I just dropped bifidobacterium biofidum and sealed it with a sterile plaster), the next day I saw that the healing process happened very quickly. Even the wound itself didn't hurt; the skin began to tighten. This was a pleasant surprise for me.

Irina: It was the plasmoids that helped you.

23:34 How to enhance the effect of probiotics?

Evgeniy: Thanks to the plasmoids! Do we need to supplement our probiotics with some other drugs that will enhance their properties?

Irina: You can use the drug with fiber (shows). There are grains that contain fiber.

Evgeniy: Do you just need to introduce more fiber into your diet? Bran and products that contain it?

Irina: Bran, fiber. In this form and wash it down with water. The natural dairy products you eat also contribute very well. Flax seeds are good for the preservation and reproduction of these bacteria.

Evgeniy: What about flax oil?

Irina: Yes, flax oil. But more grounded seeds. The oil is absorbed in the small intestine. It breaks down into glycerol and fatty acids. And the seeds contain substances that pass into the large intestine and feed these bacteria there. Also pectin and vitamin A are useful for the growth of these bacteria. They themselves are useful for the synthesis of B vitamins and vitamin K.

25:00 Cassiopeia emblem and probiotics.

Evgeniy: Yes, we know about this. Thank you! Now let's move on to a number of issues regarding energy. I wonder how the Cassiopeia emblem affects the properties of our probiotics, and if it does?

Irina: Shows the star.

Evgeniy: Yes.

Irina: I understood the question. The emblem of Cassiopeia is a star. This is a symbol of the Interstellar Union.

When this symbol is depicted on any object, it attracts the energy of egregors, which relate to the Interstellar Union and promote its ideas. It's like the Spiritual world.

What does “attracts energy” mean? This means that the energy that is accumulated in the egregor goes to charge this object. Additional actions that also stimulate the activity of these microorganisms.

For them, the image plays a role. Even a certain color of the packaging plays a role, the color of a particular spectrum that attracts energy.

Evgeniy: Yes. The color was also created for a reason.

Irina: I want to say, dear friends, that we are looking at it from a materialistic point of view.

And they consider any color, any sign from a spiritual point of view, what energies are attracted from the astral space, from the Spiritual world. For them, this is also a practical application of the same Science of imagery that we have already talked about.

26:58 Probiotic energies.

Evgeniy: Great! Tell me, is it possible to charge our preparations with useful energy for humans? Or are they already charged?

Irina: (MidgasKaus speaks) Dear friends, when you take the drug in your hands, the glass will not interfere with recognizing the energy. You yourself are an indicator and generator, charging all objects. Your physical body is in the same world as this object. You can take it and feel its energy, ask your Higher Self if it matches your vibrations. You can even compare the response of your Higher Self to this drug and to the drug that you buy at the pharmacy and think that it is bifidobacteria. You can first take this drug, and then that one, and ask the Higher Self in which hand the drug with bifidobacteria suits me best in terms of vibrations. The result will be your own.

Many received the answer that this particular drug (due to its purity and careful manufacturing technology, when it does not just quickly heat up and dry out, destroying cells). The process (shows) is very similar to pasteurization. Judging by the condition, the temperature slowly increased step by step and the humidity decreased in such a way that more than 97% of living bacteria were preserved. This is actually a very good result, because with other forms it is 60-70%.

29:13 Shelf life of probiotics. Energetic nutrition of food. The effect of probiotics on sleep.

Evgeniy: How long do they remain alive? What is the decay process? Is destruction underway? What is the validity period?

Irina: It says here that it's a year. But, according to our calculations, they can remain stable for about a year and a half and even 19 months. Then they need food, they begin to die, and are in a state of rest.

Evgeniy: I wonder if our interstellar friends are involved in helping and energetically charging at some technological stages of creating the next batch of probiotics?

Irina: Curators and patrons of the people who do this participate. They help them by sending energies. These can be either Angels from the Spiritual World, plasmoids, or representatives of humanoid civilizations. There are a lot of people involved there. You can, when the Higher Self gives you an answer that suits the vibrations.

We have mini chakras in the center of our palm, with the help of which we transfer energies. We can take the bottle so that it is in the middle of the palm. Mentally imagine that you have

Light in your spiritual heart, and as you exhale it travels down your arm and charges the probiotics. Send them the Light of Love. At the same time, you can speak (including mentally) those words that will help you imagine it easier. You can use your own words, for example: “I greet you, living Souls. Thank you for the work you do and for the fact that you will help me, my body. I send you the Light of my Love.”

Close your eyes and imagine them. You will see their response. (MidgasKaus says) We are generally in favor of this approach to charge food, water, medicines and biological products. This is not considered a medicine, but a biological product that supports life, as a preventive measure. It is considered good to use this not only for treatment, as a supportive means, but also for prevention, so that no diseases arise.

This is the method of preventive medicine of the future.

Evgeniy: How do probiotics affect sleep quality?

Irina: Positive. They reduce inflammation, and therefore the release of hormones that interfere with sleep. The overall health of the body is progressing.

31:59 Probiotics and oncology.

Evgeniy: How do probiotics interact with cancer?

Irina: Regarding oncology, everything is complicated. There must be a comprehensive approach to each patient. From the position of the Higher Self, it is necessary to eliminate the spiritual causes of the disease, since there is a complex of reasons that led to the self-destruction of tissues.

There are different types of cancer. What you call in one word “cancer”, for us there are more than 20 types. There are mutations of the body itself, there are parasitic, bacteriological and fungal diseases, which always occur against the background of reduced immunity.

If you already have cancer, then an integrated approach is needed: increasing immunity. It is imperative to fight parasites, helminths, fungi, viruses and bacteria that inhabit the human body, this reduces immunity. Finding and eliminating the causes of the disease on a spiritual level is mandatory. And, naturally, the removal of toxins; there are enterosorbents for this.

It happens (shows) that special substances are dripped into the blood, which allow the body not to die from intoxication when cancer cells are destroyed. If you immediately begin to intensively destroy them, they will begin to throw out poisons. They need to be removed, which the liver, kidneys, and skin may not be able to handle; the person is weakened, so this must be done very carefully. These cells cannot be destroyed at an accelerated pace. It is necessary to work on the spiritual, energetic and physical levels.

Here, beneficial bacteria may not be used immediately. When the danger has already passed, it is necessary to populate the gastrointestinal tract with beneficial microorganisms. This is the stage when the stimulation of the immune system has already passed, and we populate the body with beneficial microflora.

As for prevention. This is a good drug for preventing such changes.

34:22 Interstellar friends about probiotics.

Evgeniy: Thank you! I would like to hear answers to questions that I did not ask. General recommendations, general opinion on our probiotics or wishes from our interstellar friends.

Irina: (Sitiyaraum speaks) I researched these drugs. And I want to say that they are superior to the drugs known to me from other studies. Precisely because they contain a harmonious combination of bacteria in a fairly high dose. Moreover, a larger percentage of this dose is not an empty substrate, but truly useful, living, active microorganisms.

(MidgasKaus says) There are drugs in a large capsule, but most of it contains filler, and there are few bacteria themselves. We studied capsules that contained about 10 million living bacteria. These drugs contain up to 10 billion.

Evgeniy: At the end of the shelf life, according to our research, 9 billion. This is after a year of storage. And at the start, during production there is much more. Yes it is.

Irina: Indeed. And therefore, it is enough to drink exactly this dose on an empty stomach. (MidgasKaus says) If you drink with food, bacteria will release enzymes that break down the food. Their enzymes will go there. If you drink without a capsule on an empty stomach, they pass through the gastrointestinal tract almost unchanged. They are not affected by hydrochloric acid in the stomach, pepsin, or bile acids, because they are contained in such a form that they can withstand acidic and alkaline environments. This is also a big plus.

(Sitiyaraum says) I definitely recommend it to you. (MidgasKaus says) When combined with other health-promoting preventive methods, these are excellent preventative medications. They are usually called biologically active drugs. Dietary supplements are based more on herbs. And these drugs are based on living microorganisms, obtained in a special way and in a large dose. At the same time, their vibrations are respected. Bacteria of different kinds do not mix, for example, bifido- and lacto, in one drop, as is often the case. They don't compete with each other, so there will be more of them. And they will be stronger than those of those manufacturers who do this.

37:42 Consumer reviews.

Evgeniy: I thank you, Irina. Thanks to our friends for these answers. Further confirmation that our probiotics work, which has already been proven in our clients.

Irina: Those who tried them also wrote me reviews. People were even surprised; they did not expect such an effect. They wrote: “I took the drug, and before that a blood test was done. I took a bifidobacteria drug, then took blood tests for a completely different reason and saw the results. Taking nothing except bifidobacteria, I was surprised that they improved significantly. I was surprised, what do bifidobacteria and blood have to do with it?” And not just one review, several people wrote to me like this.

Evgeniy: We are very pleased with the opinion of non-believers, who were initially skeptical. Their relatives asked and strongly recommended them. Very often we hear feedback from those skeptics who did not believe. And, it would seem, with their disbelief they should push aside these beneficial properties. In fact, it works even in such conditions.

Irina: A positive opinion about this drug will naturally enhance its effect, like any other. If you drink it with love, with faith, you enhance the result, in fact, the effect of any drug in general. This is a general law, a general principle. And you know him.

Evgeniy: Yes. Thanks again. Thank you for this wonderful broadcast!

Irina: I thank you too, dear friends! All the best!

00:05 Introduction of participants.

Irina : Hello, dear friends, good evening! Greetings to all of you. Tell me how I can be seen and heard. Thank you Today on the live broadcast we have a dear employee of our Cassiopeia Center, teacher of the Mental Healing school Larisa Astashevskaya.

Larisa: Hello everyone, friends! I will help Irina in conducting this broadcast, I will help with questions. Hello everyone! I will be near.

Irina : Maxim left on business, so Larisa will be there today. He says hello to you all.

The topic of our live broadcast is answers to questions. Present with us are my curator MidgasCaus from the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations, and LiShioni from the planet Shimor, a specialist in astral interactions. They already miss your questions.

We really decided that people have questions for them too, because the last few of our live broadcasts were dedicated to the Spirits of deceased famous earthlings. We decided to provide the opportunity to answer questions to our curators from the Interstellar Union. They greet you.

01:55 Lyran teleportation chambers.

Larisa: Yes, Irina, but first, perhaps, intergalactic news, as usual?

Irina : Yes, good. What's the news? (LiScioni speaks) Now the entire Galaxy is discussing the proposal of the planet Holcear, which is located in the Lyra constellation system, we call them

Lyrans (shows: they look like people with a very narrow face and dark yellow skin).

They made a proposal to build special cameras and cabins at many space bases of the Interstellar Union and on many planets, as well as at bases in the Solar System, with the help of which one can teleport. This technology is known to the Interstellar Union, but so far they have preferred to travel more in ships.

The Lyrans have developed a safer method of teleportation. Teleportation is the targeting of a special type of energy that is associated with the etheric field. The energy comes from there, of course, in agreement with the plasmoids. It has such great power that the atoms and fields that are contained in a physical object are transformed into radiation of a very high level of density, for example, like a radio wave, only with a very high vibration. She moves through a special teleportation channel instantly to any distance. And there it is reproduced again into atoms.

Such experiments have long been carried out in the Interstellar Union. Now the entire Galaxy is discussing these technologies. The Holcearians' proposal is that the entire Galaxy take part in the construction of these cabins, so that they are available for travel on a par with ships.

It is emphasized that this can be dangerous for humanoids, because they have a certain structure of the body, the brain, and if any atoms are placed in other places, this can lead to damage to the body, including mental disorders, if this is in central nervous system.

Some scientists propose doing this specifically for robots and for some items that travelers take with them, or for some scientific instruments. This could significantly reduce the weight of the ship and make room for new tourists, for new explorers.

Now they are discussing this, there is a scientific discussion with the participation of everyone in the Galaxy. General forum for discussion.

05:52 Aliens about unknown intelligent civilizations in the Universe.

Larisa : Thank you for this news! Question: Does the Federation of Light allow the possibility of finding or meeting other Federations of Light in the infinite Universe? What do you say, friends?

Irina : The Galactic Federation of Light (GFS) is one of many communities in the Cosmos, the center of which is located in the Pleiades cluster. This is a very bright community of humanoids and plasmoids.

Of course, any intelligent community that carries the Light of Love always hopes to meet its brothers in mind and in Light in the vast expanses of the Universe and in other galaxies. Moreover, new plasmoid and humanoid civilizations can join the Galactic Federation of Light at any time. Even now.

In our Galaxy, there is the possibility of receiving civilizations that are located in other galaxies, and which need to overcome many millions of light years of intergalactic space to physically move to our Galaxy, if the structure of space is completely different.

07:17 Zarathustra is a universal contactee.

Larisa : I found a question in the chat that also interests me personally. About Zarathustra, or Zoroaster. This is a famous person, a teacher. Was he a contactee? I guess it was. What do you think?

Irina : Yes, we heard (the curators speak). We heard about him when we studied the religions of the Earth, religious movements, the culture of the Earth before we began working with contactees in the Interstellar Union. We studied the features of your history and religion.

Zoroastrianism is a religion that was created by the prophet Zarathustra, we investigated through spiritual channels who it is. This was a very high incarnate Spirit who was in contact with many worlds at once (high humanoids are shown, like from Tumesout). Moses contacted them.

He also contacted plasmoid civilizations, including the Spirits of fire, the Sun, planets, and the star Vega. He was a universal contactee. He contacted both the Spiritual world, naturally, and his Higher Self. He wrote a book called “Avesta”. In it he outlined the teachings he received from his curators, and from himself, his spiritual heart, and from his Higher Self.

08:55 Aliens about the spiritual books of Christianity.

Larisa : Thank you! People are worried about this question: is it true that the Bible was rewritten, and now it does not correspond to the true teachings of Christ?

Irina : What do you mean you rewrote it?

Larisa : They presented different interpretations of the Bible.

Irina : Firstly, any ancient book was necessarily rewritten. There was even a special job of a copyist. Books in ancient times were written either on papyrus, as is known, or, much less commonly, on the skin of young calves. It was an expensive material; they were often written on papyrus. As you know, papyrus is paper, a short-lived material, they wrote with sticks (shows the sticks they used to write). These books were in scrolls (shows round books), they could have been in a leather bag in which they were carried.

In order to copy, there were scribes. Rewriting a small text could take many months. When rewriting, the scribes made sure that every letter was copied accurately. Let me remind you that all this work was done either during the day or by candlelight, so there were quite a few books and they were very expensive.

Much of Christ's teachings were transmitted orally. This was called "oral tradition" or "tradition". Tradition is what is handed down to us. And for quite a long time the Christian Church lived according to these legends.

Later, when deviations from Christianity, from the single path, arose, when new people came to Christianity, who passed this teaching through themselves and began to contradict a certain general line, the need arose to form a canon of books. So that people can understand: where is Christianity, egregor, and where it is no longer there, where it ends. Those books that were selected (this is only 27 books out of many) were checked for compliance:

1. Use in all parts of Asia Minor, where there were the most Christians, in worship. If this text was used frequently by believers, then it was considered authoritative.

2. To conform to the Spirit of Christ, which each one recognized through his own heart. They voted.

3. When they started voting, their curators (Archangels, leaders of the Christian egregor) told them which books to choose in order to form a strong, durable egregor, which has currently been preserved for 2,000 years.

These books were rewritten, but they preserved the spelling of each letter as much as possible, precisely in the languages in which they were written. Because to make a mistake in writing meant for the believer who was rewriting it a sin, disrespect for the text, for God, who gave it.

Then these books were not only rewritten, but also translated into other languages. As you know, for example, the Apostles did not speak Russian. Therefore, the books were first translated into Old Church Slavonic by Cyril and Methodius (and not only by them, they had assistants). Later, these books were translated into Russian by workers of the Orthodox Church.

Moreover, dear friends, I will tell you that there are many translations into Russian of the Bible, the Old Testament and the New Testament, you can look at them all and compare them.

There is a translation made by a very good contactee with the Spiritual world. Of course, it is passed through itself; there is a lot of interpretation there. This is an excellent translation by Kuznetsova, who was a student of Father Alexander Men.

Alexander Men is the same priest who was killed in 1990; he tried to explain to Orthodox people the value of esotericism. He had a student, Kuznetsova, she knew Greek and translated the Bible, specifically the New Testament. You can find its translation on the Internet. It is very interesting.

15:04 Transfer of information by the contactee.

Larisa : Let's move on. A question that is often repeated in chat: how to distinguish your own thoughts from a contact? Our students also ask this question. I think they ask you the same thing in your contacting course. Is it contact or not contact? Maybe I came up with this myself? By what parameters can you distinguish?

Irina : In order to be a pure channel for transmitting information from the Higher Self or from curators, we need to turn off our critical mind and analysis. Temporarily while we receive information. If we weed out some words that we don't like and add our own, this is called inventing.

Now MidgasCaus says the word "weed out". If I don't like it, and I discard it and start inventing my own, this will no longer be a transfer of contact, it will be a distortion.

Distortion is always expressed as a percentage, and this percentage depends on the person's ability to completely remove his evaluative attitude, his judgment and observe the contact simply from the outside, as an observer.

What is needed for this? Trust in the curator, in this case MidgasKaus and LiSioni. If you treat them critically and do not trust them, then you will automatically begin to subject their words to some kind of internal censorship. They immediately feel this by the changed vibrations, and if this happens, they try to somehow relax the person so that he transfers contact. If this happens often, they may question the contactee about the advisability of such contact. They will say: "What's the point of contacting us then if you don't trust us so much that you can't say the words that come?"

How to distinguish words that came on their own in a stream? I'm in a flow now, I don't choose words, they come to me on their own. This is a translation from the astral level through my brain, through my vocabulary. To distinguish is when you don't come up with ideas, but say the first thing that comes up.

Larisa : You don't even have time to think about it, what are you coming up with, you're not coming up with it, right?

Irina : Yes, if you start picking up, the contact will be slower, and it will be obvious that you don't know how to say it. But this only happens if you somehow don't trust yourself from within.

Mead tells me that even if the contactee does not agree with the information, it is his duty, as the contactee, since he agreed to this contact, to convey it as he hears. But, if he says his opinion about something, he must say that this is his opinion, and the curator's opinion is something different. Even if he himself holds the opposite opinion, he must say that "I perceive this information through the channel," and then, when he already says, if he wants, he can say: "I conveyed this, but I don't agree with it, because I different opinion."

18:50 Epiphany water, its effect.

Larisa : The next question will concern baptism. I know for sure that this topic was discussed with us, but nevertheless. The baptism will take place in three days. I'll read the question: "How does the structure of water on Earth change on the day of baptism, and is it true that it has healing powers?"

Irina : Epiphany is a great Christian holiday, which was established in honor of the baptism of the Lord Jesus Christ in the waters of the Jordan. As you know, the weather in Israel at this time in January is completely different. Christ did not have to swim in an ice hole. On this day, at the beginning of the astronomical day, the egregor of Christianity releases such energy into the material world that, acting on the ethereal matrices of water molecules, fills them with Light, the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit is the Spirit of Light.

Etheric matrices are precisely the clichés by which atoms are built. Just as we fill our life force with emotions and feelings, so the Holy Spirit fills the etheric force of these atoms with his feelings. And these are feelings of Love, happiness and, naturally, desire for God.

How does this water affect people? It does not act as an automatic panacea, a magical one. I drank something, straightened everything out and live as you want. No. She energetically begins to cleanse a person, show him his blocks and problems.

Some people told me that when they drank Epiphany water, or when they took a bath, they, on the contrary, began to have some problems. They said: "I bathed or drank, and, on the contrary, I got sick or started having some problems." This doesn't mean the water is bad. This means that the Holy Spirit, who is in this water, energetically shows a person his problems. It can be like a cleansing. And in fact, water itself has power only when a person believes in God, prays and tries to live holy. Otherwise, his Soul repels the Light, and he does not accept it.

22:18 Climate on the planet Tikht. Number of galaxies in the Universe.

Larisa : They said about the ice hole, the question is: do humanoids experience winter and snow, and, in general, do they freeze?

Irina : There are different planets. For example, on Tikhta it is very cold, and the average temperature is down to -80 degrees, but they live underground. Their planet is quite far from the star. It would be possible to bring it closer and place it in a different orbit, but the fact is that the star's radiation spectrum would be harmful to their body. There are such planets.

Larisa : How many galaxies are there in the Universe?

Irina : Infinitely. Our interstellar friends already know several million galaxies, but they are so far away that it is impossible for humans to imagine.

23:22 Purpose of biorobots in the Interstellar Union.

Larisa : They ask you to tell us about the race of robots. What, such a race exists?

Irina : There are biorobots. They can live on bases, belong to different civilizations, can resemble a race, because they have ordered program behavior, they are programmed to solve various problems.

They are autonomous. They may not have special batteries built into them, but their cover, which imitates skin, can receive energy from the Sun, from stars, magnetic fields and convert them into energy.

Biorobots perform various jobs in the Interstellar Union, mostly hard physical labor or some kind of work that, for some reason, is not unpleasant for humanoids to do, they just think that a robot will do it better. Biorobots do this. Most humanoids in the Interstellar Union are not engaged in physical labor, but in travel, research, spiritual development and art.

24:49 Book «Diary of the contactor».

Larisa : They ask about your book. When will it be released and what is it about?

Irina : We are waiting for her too. What is it about? It's called "The Diary of a Contactee." It describes the story of my childhood - how I grew up, how I felt, my relationship with my mother, how I first saw Kirchiton, and in general the history of my contacts.

The story of my life as a contactee. My awareness of myself as a contactee and the path that I went through before I ended up here in “Cassiopeia” with you.

When will it be released? It depends on the decision of the publisher. We expected it until the New Year, or immediately after, but, as I understand it, they have some restrictions related to the coronavirus. They either work or they don't. We are waiting for spring, I hope. If God wills, she will come out.

26:03 Race of Asians, appearance and mutations.

Larisa : Question: who are the curators of the Asian race - Chinese and Japanese? I think, probably not by the curators, but by the creators of the Asian race.

Irina : The creators are the same as ours: Burkhadians, Tumesoutians and Selbetians. Another thing is that they influenced their genetics in such a way that they could live in the steppes, in the mountains, so that they had a narrow eye shape. And they acquired yellow skin color due to a mutation.

After the war 12 thousand years ago, there were some races that came into contact with them. As you know, at one time representatives of alien civilizations were allowed to enter into contact with earthlings to have a child if they were genetically compatible. Even if there was no genetic compatibility, there was a special technology that made this compatibility possible. There was and still is a special technology that makes this compatibility almost perfect.

You may have read in your legends that the ancestors of various nations, including the Chinese and Japanese, were the so-called sons of the Gods. These were the descendants of alien civilizations from the Lyra constellation, from the Sirius civilization, there were civilizations from Ashtar, and also from different colonies (shows like the Tumesoutians, but shorter). There are Tumesoutian colonies in the Pleiades, they also flew from there.

28:08 Philippine healers.

Larisa : About Filipino healers. Who are they, how do they work, who helps them?

Irina : Very interesting question, I'm interested too.

We heard about it. These are healers who are in very good contact with their Higher Self, with the Spiritual World and in contact with plasmoid civilizations that help them and give them energy for healing.

In fact, healing is healing with your hands. This is healing, but they do different operations. There are many types of healers. There are chiropractors who set bones, and there are those who work with internal organs. Some are treated using suggestion and hypnosis. There is such a concept - medical hypnosis, the creation of a certain image so that a person believes in it and heals himself.

These technologies are known to earthlings. But for some reason they are used in official medicine undeservedly little, only as an aid. But it can be made the main one, especially when finding out the spiritual cause of diseases and providing a little support with medications during the acute period of the disease.

29:45 Life expectancy on Earth.

Larisa : The question is: why do people on Earth live so short, compared to the number of years of life of aliens, our creators. I know that the answers have already been given, but let's still answer this question: why don't people live long on Earth?

Irina : Because, dear friends, this planet has those resources and those energy characteristics, including the social structure and the egregorial charge of the noosphere (a certain direction of charges, positive and negative), at which only such a life expectancy is possible.

Moreover, this period is coordinated with the Spiritual world, which sends Spirits here for incarnations, in a short period of which you need to realize yourself, realize your place in the world and have time to transform it, have time to prove yourself as an intelligent spiritual being.

Sometimes living life on Earth and rising high in the spiritual sense is much easier than, for example, living 10,000 years, a lot of time that can be spent in different ways. This is also a lesson for the Spirit - whether the period of incarnation is long or short. This is agreed with the Spiritual World that now on Earth, which is not yet part of the Interstellar Union, there is such a period of incarnation.

31:32 Removing the chip from the contactor.

Larisa : Does it happen that a contactee who has a chip has that chip taken away and is deprived of the ability to contact? Do you or our friends know such cases?

Irina : If the contactee refuses the contact and the chip, then according to the rules of the Interstellar Union, it must be removed, but provided that its technical device is such that it is not built into the body of the contactee.

Chips have different purposes, but theoretically this is possible. Even if it is built in, and the person refuses to be a contactee, this chip can be permanently turned off, deactivated, and he will be just an empty shell.

Theoretically, this is possible; in practice, we personally do not know of such cases, but we read this in the rules of contact. It's possible.

32:46 Periods of quantum transition.

Larisa : They wrote to you such a heartfelt question: “Irisha, my darling, everyone claims that the quantum leap has already arrived, is this a lie?”

Irina : Of course, we have now passed the next stage of the quantum transition, the quantum transition itself is not finished. Now, since January 14, we have had a period of calm, stabilization of energy states, which in the period from October 14, 2021 to January 14, 2022 sharply increased their vibrations, spasmodically.

Now there is a period of stabilization. Gradually, we are all returning to normal, calming down, social upheavals on Earth during this period are less likely than during the quantum leap. All energies are at rest and now is the time to adapt at this level.

33:46 Meeting with an alien.

Larisa : This is not a direct question, but a cry from the Soul: “What do you need to do to meet aliens?”

Irina : I don’t know. Perhaps go to the mirror. Your Soul could have gone through many lives on other planets, and for those people around you, you are an alien.

With us, every person is an incarnate Spirit, and this is an alien from the Spiritual world. The spiritual world is vibrationally located much further from the Earth than the farthest Galaxy.

Any Galaxy, any planet is located in the physical world, and this is located in the Spiritual world, at other levels of vibration. Treat any person as an alien, treat yourself that way, and you will prepare your heart, your energy.

As soon as you prepare yourself to meet them, and you need this (not everyone has this as part of their incarnation task), then they will definitely come and feel your vibrations. They can contact you at any time. And, most importantly, start communicating with your Higher Self so that you hear them, see them and understand that they are addressing you.

First, find your Higher Self, find contact with yourself, in the future you will find out if you are already a contactee. We are all contactees, at least with our Higher Self. Maybe you are a contactee with someone else, but you don’t realize it yourself, so first find yourself, establish contact with yourself and ask yourself, your Higher Self: are you contactee, who your supervisor is, where you are from, and, of course, the purpose of the contact.

36:01 Alien base under Mount Kailash. Materialistic plasmoids.

Larisa : Alla wrote: “Irina, I beg you to ask your friends if there is even a planet called Mekuhari, and who lives on it?”

Irina : What language is this in? There are a lot of languages, perhaps this is a self-name. It would be better if they said constellation or star.

Larisa : Is there a base on Kailash?

Irina : Underneath it. This question has already been asked. There is a base under Kailash, in close proximity underground. It belongs to several civilizations: Esler, Burkhad, sometimes Tumesoutians and Tikht are there.

Larisa : A very interesting question: “Are there materialistic plasmoids?”

Irina : Materialistic plasmoids? Do they believe only in the matter of their world? There are, of course. Those plasmoids that come into contact with people are something like researchers of anomalous phenomena in the physical world. There are plasmoids that perceive only the matter of their world, and believe that it is the only reality.

Although, I must admit that there are fewer of them, for example, than on Earth. But again, depending on what kind of plasmoid world we are considering, they are all heterogeneous. I'm saying this in general.

37:35 Energy blocks and their influence. Meetings in the Spiritual World.

Larisa : Did it happen in any of the cycles of the Universe that all embodied and non-incarnate Spirits reached vibrations of angelic frequencies?

Irina : No, that didn't happen. Everyone has their own choice, and there have always been those Spirits who went to God and those who remained in darkness. But this darkness was only for them. Darkness is their block.

When you come out to the Higher Self, if you have blocks, many of you probably felt that the Light that was pouring from above was suddenly blocked by some dark spot, like a cork. This darkness is the darkness of the block. It is only internal, yours.

And if you don't dissolve it, go with it into the Spiritual world, then it will remain like that until the next incarnation, when you have a chance again. This block will be transformed into a karmic one and will affect your character, your body, your relationships in childhood and will provoke the creation of not karmic, but astral etheric blocks in a new body, in a new life, and on the same topic.

Larisa : Maria asks: "Will we meet our parents after death, and how will we meet?"

Irina : Yes, of course. You can meet them in the Spiritual World. If you are higher than them in level, you can come to them. You will be able to send a request to your Angel, your Consulting Angels about their whereabouts, they will show you, even lead you to them. Of course, if they want to meet with you, because in the Spiritual world all meetings take place by mutual desire, mutual agreement.

If they turn out to be a level higher than you, then you can submit a request to your Angel for them to visit you. They will hear you and come if they have such a desire and are not incarnate.

39:58 Purpose of Shambhala.

Larisa : People are also interested in Shambhala. What is the importance of this territory, what is the purpose of Shambhala?

Irina : There was already a question about Shambhala. The fact is that this word has several meanings. The first meaning is the base that was originally created by the inhabitants of the planet Esler in northern Altai, underground, many thousands of years ago, even before our era. It existed there for a long time, even during the period of settlement of the Aryans there. And during the period of the eviction of part of the Aryans to India. Those who passed through these territories brought with them stories about this base. They called it Shambhala. This is a word that comes from Esler's words - "an alien from Champala". Champa is the capital of Esler. This is already known, they talked about it. This was the first meaning.

Later, this word began to refer to the image of a country where just rulers and Saints live who help the Earth. It is believed that it is located in all dimensions, in the Spiritual world. Now Shambhala is rather called the Angelic level of the Spiritual world, from where help comes to humanity.

Shambhala can also be called high-vibration plasmoid worlds. In short, this is an image of the Kingdom of Heaven, an image of the Divine Light, from where help comes to earthlings in a wide variety of forms. But initially it was the name of the base where contactees were taken, and that's how they found out.

41:59 Ships the size of the solar system.

Larisa : Here it is very insistent, in capital letters: "Ask, Irina, your friends, who is building a cargo ship that is larger than the solar system?"

Irina : A cargo ship? Are they going to load planets there?

Larisa : I don't know, she writes in such big letters, what is the urgency?

Irina : Perhaps we are talking about a fleet of ships? About a group of ships that come together into one? There is such a thing as docking. Several ships dock and form a city, a so-called space base.

There are quite a lot of such bases, and quite a lot are being built. Now, for example, 52 such new bases are being built, and there are more than 2,000. They are of different sizes, even larger than the Solar System. These are huge space cities. There are robots there, various colonists, those who, for example, were born there and live there.

Larisa : "Will you continue to invite the Souls of deceased famous people to the broadcasts?"

Irina : Yes, definitely. We will definitely renew this experience, I really liked it too. But a little later, when we will also give our curators the opportunity to communicate with you, because many people have questions specifically for them.

Larisa : Friends, we need to remind you. Please like, if you like this broadcast, be sure to subscribe to our channel, recommend it, invite your friends and ask your questions, and we will continue.

44:12 Brownie. Payment for acquired knowledge?

Larisa : They ask about brownies. Does the brownie move with the owner when the owner changes apartment?

Irina : Brownie is the Spirit of the house. He is an absolutely free personality, only he is on subtle levels of density, more subtle than the physical world. In your language you can say that his body is composed of some kind of ethereal matter. Fine material structure.

Who are brownies? There are plasmoid civilizations that have agreed to live next to people, to be in the space of their home in order to help, protect the house from various low-vibration entities, and also cleanse the people themselves from negativity. These are helpers.

Previously, they were called house helpers, not just Spirits. Plasmoids, naturally, are different in character, they can be re-educated in one direction or another by people themselves. They get used to a certain energy of the house, and they themselves take on the character of the owners of this house.

He himself is a free person and may either want to go with them or want to stay and wait for new tenants. There are no rules or laws for him; everything is left to his wishes.

Larisa : Elena asks: “If they give me knowledge in meditation, how should I pay?”

Irina : How can you pay back the entity that gave you knowledge? With the light of your Love for her. Send her the Light of your love. You can also, if you feel the need, help someone who is suffering, who is worse off than you.

We have many people on Earth in poor conditions, you can help them sincerely, from your heart and out of compassion. This will also be an increase in your vibrations, it will not be a payment, but an energy equivalent, which will make the curator who gave you the information rejoice. After all, his goal is to help you, and your goal is to help others. You become like him, and he rejoices from this.

47:43 The principle of operation of an anti-gravity engine.

Larisa : What determines the speed and lifting force of an anti-gravity engine? How to find ruins on Mars?

Irina : Most likely, this refers to the so-called intra-atmospheric engine, which allows you to move above the planets. What does its anti-gravity force depend on? From the amount of energy, from the type of engine. For example, one contains more energy that was previously accumulated by special batteries from stars and converted into special electromagnetic fields, which are converted (shows) by a special converter; there is not even such a word (says) in Russian. An electromagnetic wave of special modulation that creates a field and pushes away from the gravitational field.

In fact, this is a very simple process, reminiscent of bouncing a ball off the ground. He is repelled by the elastic force inherent in the air in this ball. Its shell contracts sharply, and then the gas that is pumped inside expands, and it rebounds. The elastic force overcomes gravity, which attracts this ball.

So, this engine uses the same principle, but instead of the elastic force of the gas, which repels, there is a special electromagnetic wave, twisted in the shape of a spiral by a special modulating field.

Larisa: How to find ruins on Mars?

Irina: Friends answer with humor. Get on the rover, he says, we will show you the map.

50:29 Afterlife of the Soul.

Larisa : How does the disembodied part of the Spirit merge with the Soul after disembodiment. How does the Spirit accept the Soul when its vibrations decrease? Isn't the spirit offended?

Irina : When the Soul leaves incarnation, it remains for about 40 days separately from its Higher Self, because it is clothed with the remnants of the etheric body, we call them vital force. While this force, etheric energy, is completely dissipated, it takes about 40 earthly days. But this is an average period, for some it is faster, for others it is slower, it depends on the Spirit itself. He lets go of this life force or misses the Earth. In the material world, the average period is approximately 40 days.

As soon as the Soul is freed from the vital energy that previously connected it with the body, it immediately merges. This happens automatically. The large ball (shows) attracts along what used to be a spiritual channel, which for us goes from the top of the head upward. In the Spiritual world this becomes a thread. When the Soul is freed from life force, it is automatically attracted, the large ball attracts the small one, and they merge. This small ball dissolves into a large one (shows this process, it is more difficult to explain than to show clearly).

At the same time, the Spirit feels as if it has become a thousand times larger. You began to feel more, you had more memory, as if there had been an expansion of consciousness, which at first of the part that was embodied, in the first seconds it seems that it is being inflated to the sides. And his consciousness merges with the consciousness of the Spirit. It becomes one.

Memories come of how he was in the Spiritual World, what incarnations he had before. These memories, which is very important, do not all come at the same time, but only when the Spirit turns to one or another part of his life; if all the knowledge comes from all incarnations at the same time, he will not be able to keep them in consciousness and will simply be divided into many different personalities. Therefore, they appear on request.

If the Soul has descended to low vibrations in incarnation, its disembodied part also finds itself at this level, because a change in one part of the Spirit automatically entails a change in the disembodied part. Why? Because these vibrations are transmitted through the spiritual channel.

Is he offended? He won't be offended. If he is offended for the life he has lived, if he is offended for himself, it will not be the disembodied part that will be offended, it will be the one who is the result of the merger, the common Spirit, who will be offended. He will understand: what did I spend my life on? For example, I had to raise two sons, make one son a scientist, and the second a good family man, help my wife, who is now just my bride, and I drank a lot of beer, got on a motorcycle and at the age of 20 interrupted my incarnation. What did I even do? And my sentence was 70 years. This is the understanding that comes. For example, I now say: “Why did I drink it? Why did I get on a motorcycle?” He begins to realize that he wasted energy, which not only he spent on incarnation, but also the plasmoids that helped him incarnate. And his Angels, who gave him energy from the Spiritual world for stabilization. Christ said: “Talent is buried in the ground.” It just dissipated into space, nothing remained. He just lowered his level.

Larisa : You told a very instructive story.

Irina : I just gave an example.

56:12 Conditions for conducting physical flights around the Galaxy.

Larisa : People miss Kirchiton. They ask: “Where is Kirchiton?”

Irina : We are waiting for him, I haven’t talked to him yet. To talk to him, I need to make mental contact. We are waiting for spring, I hope that everything is fine with him, that he will again take me around the Galaxy. I'm looking forward to interesting flights, the most interesting thing is where he will take me, and where our administrators will offer me to fly.

Now, according to the new rules of contacts, since I am in the Cassiopeia project and am telling you this information, then the administrators who monitor the social network. networks, they see people’s requests for where to fly. And not just to appear there, but what information to find out. Naturally, you need to answer the question - where to fly, what exactly you need to know. I need to write this down in the notebook I take with me. What is the purpose, what will this bring to the Cassiopeia project, as well as to earthly civilization?

Larisa : Friends, our broadcast time is coming to an end, and I ask you to pay attention to those who are inactive and have not provided their support.

Irina : Dear friends! Thank you for your activity live, for the very interesting questions, by the way, there were many new questions. This suggests that many of you are watching our past episodes. I'm very happy.

Thank you for your support of our project, material, spiritual, moral. For every comment on any third-party channel, for every penny sent to support the project. Our volunteers, who transcribe videos from our interstellar friends into text on an absolutely voluntary basis, administer our social networks and do hundreds of other things that are not noticeable to the audience, other participants of Cassiopeia. But they still exist, and without them this project would not exist in the form in which it exists now.

I also thank all our teachers, all our students, teachers, all our practitioners, energy healers who participate in our project and carry this Light with us.

I repeat that we invite any contactees with constructive light forces to cooperate. You ask: “Why only light ones?” Because other contactees themselves will not want to fulfill the conditions of this project, which will be unacceptable to them in terms of payment according to their hearts. But the main thing is to bring the Light.

Even if you don’t accept people, even if you don’t know how to lead to the Higher Self, but you have some contact, some information, and you don’t know who to share with, whether it’s a contact, or something... what's going on in your head, you can contact us.

Our project is designed to harmonize contactees, help them control this contact and direct it to the benefit of both us and curators, who also find it very easy and pleasant to convey information if a person has built contact with the Higher Self.

If you feel that someone is communicating with you, someone is flying in, or something else is happening, but you don’t understand what it is, if no one from your environment believes you, don’t despair. You can always contact the Cassiopeia project, any of our masters, any specialist, make an appointment, we will always help you, set you up, give you our Light.

Larisa : And with this we will say goodbye to our friends, until our next meetings!

Irina : I send you the Light of my Love!

Larisa : See you, bye everyone! Cool questions.

Irina : See you again!

#398 What is plasma? Extraterrestrial scientists about the structure of matter, plasma technologies and plasmoids.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=JJ7ABFzhqlM

00:21 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today our curator Raom Tiyan from the planet Burhad is present with us; he is a specialist in energy interactions, studies energy interactions in the material and Spiritual world and the transformation of various energies.

Today the conference will be held by Sergey from the Republic of Crimea and Radium, also a specialist in the new science of plasma physics. They'll talk about it. Hello!

Sergey: My name is Sergey Baydikov, I am a universal contactee, I graduated from the Cassiopeia school, for which I am very grateful to our extraterrestrial friends. I am an agronomist by training and am involved in many other issues.

Radiy: My name is Radiy Konstantinovich Babanu. At the current stage of my activity here on this planet, I am engaged in promoting, telling and explaining to people the physics of nanoplasma, the physics of the cold plasma state, where there are only high energies, but, nevertheless, very useful. We research plasma energies and tell people how to use them. The founder of this science is the emigrant Keshe, a nuclear scientist in nuclear physics from Iran. It has been discovered that people evolve faster and better when they have enough energy to do so.

We need to teach people, train them in their abilities. But when they lack energy, it is very difficult for them to do this. Therefore, if you add a little of that energy that is close in state (spirituality to the Spirit, to the original state of the Creator, and this is what in this physics we call plasma), then it is faster and easier. The energy of the Spirit, emotional, physical states are interconnected, and plasma interacts with all of them.

Irina: Raom Tiyan welcomes you.

(Raom Tiyan speaks) Greetings, Sergey. I recognize you. Your energy has changed a lot. Burkhad's energy began to be felt more. It feels like you are working with a matrix.

Sergey: I work constantly.

Irina: I feel it from the energy that comes from the screen. Greetings also, Radium. I greet you as a representative of a new science on Earth, the science of the future. New generations will come who will combine information about the material and Spiritual worlds and identify the general laws of interaction of both in order to know the truth that the Creator of the Universe put into every quantum and every atom of matter.

Radium: This is true, and the improvements that can come with the useful, good, correct application of plasma science. I gave my word, I made a promise, an oath that I would never use this to harm, but only for the benefit of all beings living in any dimension. You need to understand that I am perfectly aware that these energy-informational interactions permeate all dimensions from the reality in which we interact with this plasma. So I would like to ask a question.

04:24 The concept of plasma in the Interstellar Union. Plasmoid tasks. Types of plasmoids.

Radium: To what extent is the positive influence of these nanoplasma technologies felt in other civilizations of more subtle worlds than ours - dense, three-dimensional? Especially in the last year and a half?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan speaks) I am also from a civilization that is manifested on the dense material plane on the planet Burkhad.

We call those subtle civilizations that you are talking about plasmoid. And here the mention of the word plasmoids (the root “-plasm-”) is not at all accidental. Even in your physics, plasma is considered the fourth state of matter, in which there is a transition from dense - matter - to energies. This is a transitional link. But your understanding of plasma is somewhat different from that of the Interstellar Union.

Your understanding of plasma is either the plasma of stellar matter, or artificially created plasma by various devices on Earth, or it is a state of electric fields that you call lightning, and so on.

Our concept of plasma is much broader. We call plasma any state and manifestation of matter at 56 levels of density, starting from the 4th to the 59th, a state of energy fields, which can be expressed in Russian, approximately as ether, ethereal fields. Various worlds exist in these ethereal fields, including those that exist on Earth, underground, and in the layers of the atmosphere. They exist in outer space and do not need oxygen because they have no metabolism. They also exist in the chromospheres of stars, even in huge giant stars and in their cores. The thin body of plasmoids is not subject to destruction from high temperature and thermonuclear reactions. On the contrary, they take part of this energy for their nutrition.

They exist there for a reason. It is no coincidence that they incarnated in that world; they also have their own tasks there: to monitor the development of stellar systems, the relationship of energy fields in outer space.

Outer space only seems like a vacuum to you, but in reality it is heterogeneous. There are different energy fields in it, and this too needs to be observed by different beings. Leaving this space unobserved can lead to disaster, for example, of the entire Galaxy. If energy fields are incorrectly distributed, then macrogravity will manifest itself incorrectly among galaxies and planets, and everything may collapse.

This is observed by intergalactic plasmoids, galactic plasmoids, plasmoids from the galactic core of the energy center of each Galaxy.

Both on Earth and on Burkhad, on my home planet, there are planetary plasmoids. You call them earthly, we call them Burkhad.

(Raom Tiyan speaks) They are responsible for the etheric forces, which you call the four elements, these are four types of plasmoids. They are also responsible for one or another part of the Earth or ocean. This is the second type of plasmoid - Nature Spirits.

You call them Spirits, because you have any creature that has a subtle body or does not have one at all - since it is invisible, you call it Spirit. You don't differentiate these things.

We call it clearly: we have a Spirit, embodied in a subtle body, and one not embodied - these are different entities for us.

There is a biosphere on Earth - these are plants, microbiota, animals that are in continuous energy and food interaction with each other, in exchange. Every organic being, no matter how small, must always be endowed with a Soul. These Souls also create plasmoids: that of microbes, that of plants, that of animals, that is, different types of plasmoids create different Souls for the biosphere so that animals, plants, microbes - all other interactions among themselves, evolve, ultimately leading to the appearance of a rational being, an animal into which a rational Spirit can incarnate. And if it is already there, as, for example, on Earth, then the meaning of the existence of the biosphere is to support the civilization that arose there.

10:40 Nanosubstances are energy accumulators.

Radium: Wonderful! I completely agree. 100%! In the plasma science that I am now telling people about, it is also not the same idea that still exists in classical physics, in the scientific physics of planet Earth.

Irina: We can use the terms “ether”, “subtle matter”.

Radium: And we can use the term “Live” or “Qi” or “Prana”. The new plasma science of our civilization allows us to collect and accumulate energy. If until now all living things lived in the flow of energy that they received from the star, from the ether, now we have learned a little how to accumulate this energy in the form of a substance, which then slowly releases this energy.

Such nanosubstances collect a certain spectrum of energy (here, at the bottom of the jar, for example, you can see). It charges the water and slowly releases it, saturating the space with life-giving energy. It's on a different spectrum. Let's say this is the spectrum of carbon and oxygen.

This is solid plasma, solid energy, matter obtained by condensing energy into matter. It charges the water and releases it into space. Water is simply transport here. It can accumulate a little in itself, and we can easily transfer a certain amount of charged water to where we need it: to the ground, to the body. It's just transport. And let’s say there is carbon energy, the first one I showed, the second one – it was greenish copper. In my capsule here, I’ll show it to the camera now, it’s not very visible. This is iron. Carbon, hydrogen, but obtained in a reactor containing iron. It is obtained by establishing the difference in potential of physical plus nanotechnology with nanocoating. There are materials where it is easy to obtain a nanocoating, for example, even at home.

The nanocoating allows the collection of very fine energy fields. There are very small distances between matter, but greater than the distance between atoms in the normal state. And there a cavernous structure is formed, which allows this energy to swirl and accumulate in a row, and it falls into the water. This is not difficult, but, nevertheless, there is very serious physics behind it.

Ultimately, we receive these substances - it’s like collecting sunlight in a pocket, like carrying a small battery of solar life-giving energy with us.

13:48 Plasma trap.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan speaks) Tell him and all our viewers a little more about the precipitation that you showed. What are they used for?

Radium: They are used as a source of energy, and become a source of energy themselves in a salt environment, in an environment where there is salt, and in water. Water is a liquid crystal.

Irina: For us to understand each other, we need to name salt specifically, there are many of them.

Radium: Sodium chlorine is a strong halogen and a strong alkali metal. It gives very powerful polarization.

Irina: Yes.

Radium: It polarizes the liquid crystalline structure of water in such a way that volumetric traps are formed, as in diamond. Every four adjacent polarized points form a point of total reflection, a trap for energy, for plasma. Like a drop of dew, it reflects light and glows like a diamond.

Irina: A plasma trap is formed under the influence of electrical dissociation, as I understand it?

Radium: Due to the fact that in a liquid crystal the ions are dissociated, that is, sodium chlorine is dissociated, and there are potentials between them, on the one hand they are kept at a distance and do not form a crystal, but on the other hand there are potentials between them located in space, and create a plasma trap.

Irina: Any saline solution will do this?

Radium: In principle, yes. In more or less degree.

Irina: What does the degree depend on? To understand what you are talking about, you need more details.

Radium: The degree and spectrum that will be collected will depend on what elements are there, what kind of liquid crystal structure we have.

Irina: You said sodium chlorine. If we take the elemental composition, will there be four elements in such a solution?

Radium: Yes. Hydrogen, oxygen, sodium and chlorine.

Irina: So, their ratio is important?

Radium: In principle, yes. A small amount of sodium chlorine - from three (one and a half, two, three percent). In a living organism, this is plus or minus from 0.9 percent (saline blood solution) to a little more. In principle, this is enough, a little bit. And it will already work.

Irina: For example, we will take a hypertonic sodium chloride solution.

Radium: It will form a plasma trap. This happens over time, not instantly, as in ordinary chemical reactions, but over some time (from hours, depending on conditions, to days, days, maybe even weeks). It all depends on how much plasma we need to accumulate. And the parameters of what kind of plasma we will accumulate are set precisely by a pair of electrodes.

Let’s say if this is copper with a nanocoating, then there will be a quantum field of copper, as if we were setting the information field of copper. And then the mass of copper plasma will gravitationally combine with oxygen. It will roll onto the oxygen molecule, which itself rotates. It's like a double star system, there are never the same atoms, so the oxygen molecule is always spinning at a very high speed. It wraps around itself, as if accumulating this plasma, as if in a vortex, inside this trap.

Ultimately, it precipitates, that is, over time - over a few days, a week, first turbidity forms, then precipitates. It's nano-sized. It is visible to the eye only because there is enough of it to be seen by the eye. So very small. On an electron microscope this is visible as concentric energy circles.

Irina: You showed that this is not nanoscale.

Radium: Yes, it's not nanoscale. But it is impossible to touch it. It is collected in clusters. It’s just that when there’s a lot of it, it’s already visible.

Irina: Can you filter it?

Radium: I tried to filter it, it passes through chemical filters. It's really nano-sized. But, if there is a lot of it, then yes, it starts to clog the filters. This is a substance, but it has different properties.

Due to the fact that it is formed concentrically from the center, winding around the gravitational part of oxygen (because these are oxides of elements), it reaches a certain size, where it is energetically balanced relative to the environment, magnetically-gravitational, relative to all the potentials that exist in the environment. And then it hardens.

Irina: So the plasma is taken from outside the vessel?

Radium: Yes! It's not that a chemical reaction occurs there, it's taken from outside the vessel. Despite the fact that the electrodes can be immersed in water. But literally today they told me, they posted that for a month there was one reactor, about a meter from the can, and on the other side there was an energetically different reactor with different plasmas. And in the control jar, balls of just such a plasma substance formed in the water, they are in a ball, spherical. Plasma is naturally spherical, like stars.

19:50 Dependence of sensations on receptors.

Irina: He understood and wants to comment a little on all this. (Raom Tiyan speaks) I understand. Thank you. But you know that plasma, ether, subtle matter are certain energy states of the environment that have a very high vibration. You know, for example, that the vibration of light waves varies depending on the spectrum. In the same way, the vibrations of dense or compacted matter are different, as you just said.

Radius: Yes.

Irina: And the ethereal matter itself, that is, the ethereal substance, plasma, has very different vibrations. Why doesn't a person who lives in a dense body see with his eyes and touch plasmoid civilizations with his hands and skin?

Because the receptors of his body perceive only a clear, very narrow spectrum of frequencies. What you hear, for example, you cannot see. What you see, you cannot touch it, in the sense that you can only feel the object. But what you see is not the object itself, but a ray of light reflected from it. But you can't take the light.

Irina (Raom Tiyan says), you now see the light and you can just touch the light bulb. But you don't see the light bulb itself, but its reflection, which appears in the brain thanks to the reflected rays. These rays cannot be touched. How will you catch them? The skin does not feel because the frequency spectrum is different.

I will give an example so that everyone can understand.

You have all felt warmth in your life. For example, you were all sitting near the fire. He now wants to explain, because without this it will not be clear. You all sat near the fire or near the stove, or held your palm over the fire of a candle. This heat is a certain material energy that can leave some atoms and enter others, exchange. But you felt it, you did not perceive it with your ears. You can't hear the heat. The frequencies are too high. Heat can also enter the ears as sound waves. But they will not vibrate certain bones there, thanks to which you hear sounds, because the frequencies are very high.

This hearing analyzer is not suitable for heat perception. Likewise, you cannot smell it. The nose analyzer cannot catch it, because it is a certain energy that does not coincide with the concept of the analyzer. Therefore you cannot catch it with your nose and you cannot see it.

For example, if you are in a dark room, but there is a heated object, you will not be able to see it with your eyes, it will be just as dark. But this does not mean that this radiation does not exist. It can be seen by some animals that live on Earth. Usually these are cold-blooded animals, they have special receptors that see the world in the thermal spectrum. Where it is dark for you, they have different objects.

Why is this happening? Your eyes are designed for a specific spectrum of frequencies. The vibrational frequencies of the material medium, which are heat, are too low to be perceived by your eyes. The opposite situation is with the ears.

I have already explained enough that everything depends on the receptors. Now let's move directly to plasma.

Here the situation is exactly the same as with heat, but in the opposite direction. You feel warmth on your skin precisely because special heat receptors are built into your skin. If they were not built in, or if they were damaged, you would not feel the heat until there was a burn. Decreased sensitivity occurs in some neurological diseases.

25:45 Energy density levels in the Universe.

Irina: Next we move directly to plasma, which is located in space, to ethereal fields, to ethereal worlds. Where the plasmoids live.

Looking ahead a little, I want to say that all plasmoid worlds are naturally built from spiritual Light. Several thinner plasmoid worlds are working to build a denser plane. They consistently condense their matter from the 59th density level, and the 59th comes directly from the Spiritual World. The 57th, 58th, 59th density levels are created directly by plasmoid civilizations, gradually densifying matter.

We, that is, representatives of Burkhad and representatives of the Earth, live on the third level of density. But this does not mean that the other two are inaccessible to us, because the solid, liquid, and gaseous states of matter are available to us for our sensations. Everything else is energy.

So, we're going in the opposite direction. I explained about heat, now we return to plasmoids.

Our body (in this case, the body of an earthling) is designed in such a way that plasmoid worlds are not visible to us. Let's take radiation. As you know, in nature there can be radiation, that is, that energy from the second level in an atom that has very high vibrations compared to light, for example. If you are in a place where there is high radiation (high concentration of this energy), you will not be able to see this energy, unlike light, for example. It will be dark, it will be night, and you will be in this area. It would seem that everything should glow there for you.

No, your eyes cannot perceive such high vibrations as radioactivity (it also has several types); you divide it into x-rays, gamma rays, and so on. They vary on a spectrum. For you, this is some unified field, only part of which you measure with instruments, but for us these are clear boundaries of the spectrum.

You cannot feel any danger when you are directly in a radiation source. A very high concentration of radiation is needed for you to feel, for example, a burning sensation. But this sensation will be approximately the same as from heat, it will be from the destruction of your body, and the radiation itself is not noticeable to you. You cannot feel it, like warmth, hear it, taste it, smell it, and you cannot see it.

This means that you need a special device in order to understand that it is dangerous to be there, because the high vibrations of this energy can damage the structure of your bodies due to the fact that they pass through your body, which consists of certain protein structures, as well as and through cells containing nucleotides, which subsequently divide. They can damage such a very delicate and delicate structure as your body.

If we look at plasmoid worlds, those worlds of the fourth density level, even the fifth, sixth, and let me remind you, there are 56 of them in total above us, then here, compared to radiation, the vibration is tens of thousands of times higher. And they are so high that they lose their danger to physical bodies, because it simply does not touch each other in vibration. You have the expression “parallel worlds,” and I really like this expression, that is, they exist side by side.

Radium: I agree with this, this is how I myself explain to my students, and to those who are present at the conference, that plasma is so thin, we have absolutely no receptors to feel it. And the vibration is so high that it can be considered as having no vibration, very close to the absolute in currents.

Irina: In fact, it has vibrations that are expressed in hundreds of thousands of terahertz, if we look at hertz as one vibration per second. There is a special table, we gave it to Irina, which level of density corresponds to which vibrations.

And this is no longer 1000 terahertz, but hundreds of thousands of terahertz, there are also density levels. In order to transfer plasma, as you said, this ethereal energy from the state of finer matter to the state of dense matter, it is necessary to condense it. Usually, according to God's plan, the same plasmoids do this.

32:16 Activity of the Spirits of the elements.

Irina: As I already told you about the Spirits of the elements, the four elements, 4 ethereal forces, which in the material world are expressed as Water, Earth, Air and Fire - this is not just a mixture of some substances, these are certain elemental forces. Naturally, etheric fire is not the same as physical fire. These are not chemical reactions, they are simply some kind of force, energy. But physical fire is its reflection, like a reflection in a mirror.

I will now move on to our physical reality, the reality that is accessible to us through the senses, namely physical. We have a physical, subtle-material reality and a spiritual reality. Although they come out of one another, they may not intersect with each other. A person can physically live in some poor shack, but spiritually he can be in a beautiful palace with his Spirit. Also vice versa.

Spirits of the elements, plasmoids of the elements exist throughout the Universe and on Earth. Each of these Spirits of the elements allocates a certain amount of energy (its mental energy, although there is also spiritual energy) in order to take the ether that is at its density level, put into it the charge of its vital force that it has. From these energies, collected from the four elements, atoms are assembled. Those atoms that we can see.

I want to note that by the words “dense matter” we mean not only what can be touched, like solid substances, liquid and gaseous substances are also dense material elements for us, because they consist of substances.

Radium: I want to say this. You have explained it so closely, in principle, we understand. Now it becomes clear to me that we - me and representatives of extraterrestrial civilization - understand the same thing. Reactor for collecting plasma, solid. This is a combination of elements of solid metals, liquids, not everything is in water, and there is air. There is energy there, that is, all four elements are simultaneously present and are in a state where they can create a single, integral system.

35:46 Combination of four elements in matter. Electricity is the energy of Fire.

Irina: Now there will be so many questions: “Where is the element of Fire?” Viewers will ask this question probably a hundred times.

Radium: There's a potential difference there. If we consider electrical energy as the element of fire.

Irina: You and I understand this. But it is necessary for the audience.

Radium: Okay. The point is that by connecting all these primary elements together, in a certain ratio, we create the opportunity to create a certain integrity, where all these energies, coming together, create these same monoatomic structures, those same atoms. But they are assembled according to a slightly different principle, through harmony and directly from energy. After which they calmly, gently give away this energy, like a reserve.

Irina: We need to repeat it again for our viewers. Radium, Sergey and I understand perfectly well, and Raom Tiyan understands what we are talking about. But for those people who did not really like physics and chemistry at school, we will give an explanation. We must harmonize the knowledge of our physics, chemistry with spiritual knowledge, this is very simple to do. But this requires some explanation.

So, we take a salt solution, here the element of the Earth will be salt. Let's do it this way. It comes from the Earth, right?

Radius: Yes.

Irina: A lot of ancient civilizations obtained salts from the earth. And there are even salt caves underground. Everyone was probably in the halotherapy caves. So, salt here represents the element of Earth. The element of Water, of course, is represented by the solvent itself. The element of Air is also represented by the air that is above the vessel, but this is not the only air that is there.

I want to say, dear friends, that any water contains dissolved gases: oxygen, carbon dioxide in some quantity. Since this water stood in an open vessel, it still dissolved some amount of gas. You just can't see them, but they are there inside.

Irina: Energy of Fire. We're not going to heat it all up, where is it from? Even without an external source of energy in this solution, a certain fire energy still appears there.

Where does she come from? It is sodium chloride (the one that represents the earth), when you put it in water, you see that it disappears from the water, the water becomes clear. But in reality it doesn't disappear anywhere.

Naturally, salt does not evaporate anywhere from water, just a crystal of each salt is a complex structure that consists of two types of atoms. Specifically, table salt contains sodium and chlorine. They are connected to each other by a special chemical bond due to the very different structure of the atom itself. In the world of substances, opposites attract. One substance fits into another, like a key into a lock, forming a specific molecule. But it is a molecule only when it lies in a solid state in these crystals. When we place it in water, water molecules accumulate around the crystals.

Water molecules consist of two substances: hydrogen, which, by the way, is also a gaseous state, and oxygen, which is a gas under normal conditions. Hydrogen oxide, of course, is a liquid substance under normal conditions.

So, water molecules, which consist of two hydrogen and oxygen atoms of different structures (there are more of them than salt crystals that fall into the water), each salt crystal is surrounded by a crowd of water molecules. But they do not surround them randomly. For example, a hydrogen atom is attracted to its opposite.

Radium: To chlorine.

Irina: Yes, there is a relationship. It’s not that it attracts, it’s just that the water molecule turns around with the side where the chlorine is turned towards it with the side opposite in charge. You call it charges, we call it the ratio of elements.

It doesn’t matter here, the result is important. Water molecules turn the side where they have oxygen to the opposite charge. It turns out that they begin to attract each other, and this causes the crystal to collapse. Water molecules pull out those atoms that were previously tightly held together there. And that's why you see the salt crystals disappearing, visible disappearing.

This crystal is destroyed, and each separated atom is surrounded by many water molecules. Why is she surrounding him? Because the nature of these substances interacts with each other in this way. Any solvent tends to dilute the solute, that is, to surround it with a large number of its atoms (or its molecules in this case).

So, when it's all separated, there's energy in the solution. This is the first level of energy, which you call electricity. We are talking about different structures of atoms, different numbers of elements, but you are talking about different charges. We are talking about different ratios of elements or different vibrations, but you are talking about different charges. They give rise to the fact that energy of the first level comes out of the atoms of some elements, and it flows like a stream to other elements, that is, it draws out. And because it stretches out, it all goes on water. The water is electrically conductive. And it is the energy of electricity in this case that represents the energy of the element of Fire.

44:24 Changes in plasma properties. Aliens about the structure of the atom. The concept of "natural element".

Sergey: I want to ask Raom Tiyan this question. Is it possible to enhance this plasma using some other materials? We use zinc, copper, roasted copper, iron. Are there any other metals that can enhance the effect of nanoplasma and the production of this substance by several orders of magnitude?

Irina: Do you want to speed up the materialization of plasma? Or change its properties? It can also be different.

Sergey: To change the properties, for me, as an agronomist, it is important to increase the yield of any crops in order to obtain clean products. Do you understand?

Irina: Do you want to use this plasma for fertilizer?

Sergey: Like fertilizer, yes.

Irina: You see, you need to look at the specific composition of those material substances. I have already explained that what is produced there is not just plasma in the form in which it was in that world, you would not have seen it, these are high vibrations.

Sergey: I see.

Irina: And here it materializes in the form of some specific elements, but not haphazardly, but following the strict laws of the universe. To understand what kind of element is materializing, we need to consider all the atoms involved, all the types of elements that are involved in this process. And everything is important here.

Sometimes vessel materials and temperature are important. If there is this solution, and you supply some external energy to it (if you do), then what do you connect the conductors to? You can speed up this process by having electrodes made of zinc, copper, or maybe make magnesium or silver tips. It's up to you. And you can use different salts. You took sodium chloride, or you can take any soluble substance.

I will now simply explain for those who do not know for whom table salt is only used. Salt is a group of elements that are the product of a reaction between acids and alkalis.

There are many acids and alkalis. An acid is a specific substance that contains either oxygen or another oxidizing element. An alkali is hydrogen and a certain metal (most often). Or a substance that has the properties of a metal. You know that almost any metal can have one or another alkali. It may be poorly soluble in water; salts are usually obtained from highly soluble ones. This reaction can cause salt precipitation in any situation.

The science of chemistry studies all this, you and we have everything, but we do not explain it through “plus or minus,” as you say, some reactions take place in atoms. Reactions also interact with each other. We explain through the relationship of the elements.

You have the periodic table, as far as I know, it is constantly updated with elements. But they are replenished not because you discover new ones in nature, but because you yourself create new substances that live for a second or fractions of a second, some atoms are in equilibrium. You create others simply by adding certain quanta, that is, portions of energy. And you assemble a new atom from them, which exists for a short time and disintegrates.

We have a different concept of atoms. This is a solid stable structure assembled by plasmoids, consisting of elements. That is why our concept of “natural element” includes only elements that are not created artificially, but are contained in nature itself.

There are 92 natural elements, not created artificially. These are uranium and a few more, and all the rest are artificially created. And which of these elements turned out, materialized in the plasma, that is, in the sediment that fell in the water - this depends on many conditions. To tell me this now, you will have to once again explain in detail what the vessel for producing plasma, that is, the generator, consists of. What are those metal inserts or rods that you place there made of, how many of them are there, how are they located relative to each other, do you use table salt, what kind of salt. And it is also very important whether you supply external energy. The process of materialization depends on all this.

Radium: Thank you.

Sergey: Thank you, Raom Tiyan, for your answer.

Radium: Yes, Seryozha became convinced that this is precisely the reactor technology.

Irina: And what kind of fertilizer depends on the substance that was formed. And not only the substance is formed. The water itself can change its acid-base balance depending on conditions. From sodium chlorine, it is more likely to shift towards more alkaline.

Copper is a metal with which sodium practically does not interact, which will be separated from the crystal. Do you have copper and brass there, or something else?

52:19 Nanocoating and the element of Air.

Radium: There are different ones. I will now try to explain one more point, that is, in the description of where the elements are, there is an essential point that has not been explained now.

Nanocoating on metal creates the element of Air, combined with the element of the metal itself, because nanocoating is a more rarefied, air-atmospheric state of the metal. If you take copper and treat it in a certain way, calcinate it, let it cool smoothly, then a nano-coating like grass will form. Or treat it in alkali, there is a slightly different structure, but it is also cavernous. This is a more atmospheric state of the metal, this is air from the metal.

Irina: If you calcinate copper in a certain way...

Radium: Don't just heat it up. What's the point? So that, once it begins to evaporate, the copper does not fly far, but returns again. And then it forms structures such as stalactites and stalagmites, grass.

Irina: When she returns, she will not return alone, so to speak.

Radium: Yes, with oxygen as oxide, everything is correct. The nanolayer is an oxide layer, but a loose, loose layer.

Irina: Naturally, oxygen will prevent it from attaching to the copper as it was attached. When you heat it, the energy of the first level (heat is considered the energy of the first level) begins to heat the copper itself. This is not just a connection with oxygen, it is also heating the copper itself. This is an increase in heat energy in it, the energy of the first level, which is in its atoms. She is growing too. When you pump heat energy into it, the copper atoms themselves begin to move faster from it. And because they begin to move faster, this object itself, the wire, begins to slightly change its structure. And since there is oxygen around, because they move there more quickly, the oxygen has time to join the atom. At that moment when two copper atoms are not connected to each other in a metal lattice.

Radium: Yes, absolutely right. Thank you. Very detailed and correct explanation. We get a small, not thick, nano layer. The size is comparable to the size of atoms. But we get a layer of separation of this copper from the copper itself. And in this layer those same high-frequency energies, above terahertz, hundreds of thousands of terahertz, can already circulate.

Irina: I'm saying that since there is a salt solution there, there is copper oxide on one electrode, copper itself is metallic, then it will be something like this (while he's thinking about what the reaction will be).

I'll tell you for now. Do you seriously think now that someone doesn't know about this?

Radium: I think there are plenty of them.

Sergey: A lot.

Irina: Then we will now send them to read a chemistry textbook for the ninth grade.

(Raom Tiyan says) In any case, chlorine, like a gas (since there is no electricity supply there), will be released slowly (if electricity is supplied there, it can be seen with the eyes). It will be slow there, he will just come out, you won't even notice. It depends on the quantity. Whether it will be 100 milliliters, one liter or ten liters - this also depends on the amount of solution.

What will be formed there? Sodium will not be able to join and settle due to the fact that it is a more energetically active metal, either on copper oxide or on copper itself. It will react with water. The reaction of sodium, as an atom, with water is known. This is the natural formation of hydroxide in one form or another.

57:51 Field state of matter.

Irina: The copper itself with chlorine, which will be formed, perhaps the formation of chloride (he says), the precipitate may consist of an impurity. There will be copper chloride, sodium hydroxide, and sodium chlorine itself. Like that.

Radium: Generally, the result is the same as plasma, but it is copper oxide like plasma. In this case, the medium in which all this is formed, that is, an aqueous solution, simply serves as an inertial moderator. When all this precipitates, the spectrogram shows that there is only copper and green oxygen, like tetravalent copper. When we do a chemistry experiment, it colors the flame this color. And the plasma product that we receive is exactly the color that the flame turns into.

Irina: Sodium also couldn't go anywhere.

Radium: But it hasn't gone anywhere. It is in solution and remains in equilibrium with chlorine, they feel great there with water. And everything else settles.

And one moment. Indeed, it was absolutely rightly said that depending on which electrodes, how they are connected, how they are processed, current is supplied or not supplied there, additional energy, even current, even thermal or some other energy. Everything depends on this, and different plasmas are formed.

These collected plasmas, when they begin to exude in the opposite direction, interacting, begin to form chemical ones, but not in the form of a reaction of physical substances, but in the form of field interactions that are similar to physical ones. That is, this is field chemistry. On Earth there is already the beginning of field chemistry, alchemy is returning again. The highest understanding is that we obtain matter directly from field interactions and can program a certain field state of matter in a particular space, we can set it.

Irina: This is known, for example, to those who work in the extraction, for example, of the same copper from ore. It can be there in the form of various compounds, from which it is difficult to extract. And by precipitation on certain metals, in solutions, it is obtained quite pure - up to 97%.

The same is done with certain compounds of other metals. Metals generally have the property of attracting each other due to the electrical process. This is known to both your science and ours. We just use it for slightly different purposes. For example, to make a nanochip, we use more than 18 elements. This is an organic substance, there may be silicon, rubidium, and so on. They will form a molecular network. This molecular network will be a conductor of certain energies not only of the physical, but also of the subtle material plane, and will also enhance the sensitivity of the brain to the spiritual plane, if the chip is installed. The chip could contain a quark wave transmitter inside it, so that we could observe the contactee instantly from many hundreds of light years away.

Radium: Yes, absolutely right, these are very ancient technologies, long known in galaxies, in nearby galaxy clusters. The main thing is that they are used for good and with permission.

Irina: Thank you for a very interesting conversation.

Sergey: Thank you very much Raom Tiyan!

Radium: Peace to all!

Irina: So, dear friends, you listened to an interesting conference. See you again!

January 18, 2022

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova – contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

Baidikov Sergey - scientific agronomist, universal contactee, energy practitioner, harmonizer of chakras and biofields, herbalist, macrobiotic, student of the Cassiopeia school;

Babanu Radiy Konstantinovich – physicist researching plasma energies;

Raom Tiyan is a representative of the planet Burhad, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment of the material world.

#399 Intelligent civilizations of our Galaxy. Alien races, spacewalks, UFOs.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/razumnye-civilizacii-nashej-galaktiki-inoplanetnye https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xmqv4xrG2R0

00:18 Background.

In the summer of 1999, a 13-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than 20 years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:14 Introduction of participants.

Valery Sedelev: (Приветствие на казахском языке) Hello, dear compatriots! Hello, dear colleagues! I am Valery Sedelev, doctor of technical sciences, professor, I live in Ust-Kamenogorsk, Republic of Kazakhstan. Today we have a topic about civilizations that are not part of the interstellar alliance.

Hello, dear fellow countrymen! Hello, dear colleagues! I am Valery Sedelev, Doctor of Technical Sciences, Professor, I live in the Republic of Kazakhstan, in the city of Ust-Kamenogorsk. Today we have a topic on civilizations that have not joined the Interstellar Union.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! Hello our viewers! Hello, Valery! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we have with us a representative of the planet Burkhad, a specialist in the study of young races that are not included in the Interstellar Union, and on issues of relations with them. A specialist in foreign space policy specifically in the department of civilizations that are not part of the Interstellar Union. He is also an expert in contacts with such civilizations, including earthlings. His name is Laom Street and he's ready to answer questions.

02:38 Levels of development of civilizations. Membership of civilizations in the Interstellar Union.

Valery: Hello, Irina! Laom Street, greetings, you are very welcome! Let's get started then.

The text on the screen reads: “Milky Way = 727 intelligent civilizations. Interstellar Union = 117 r.c. (23 of them are included in the GFS. 4 civilizations are included in the MS and the GFS at the same time). The MS and GFS do not include 591 of the 727 intelligent humanoid civilizations (including the civilization of planet Earth).”

Valery: Briefly: in the Milky Way Galaxy there are 727 intelligent humanoid civilizations. To date, it is known that 117 of them are part of the Interstellar Union, 23 of them are part of the Galactic Federation of Light, and 4 civilizations are part of both communities. Irina and I calculated that 591 intelligent humanoid civilizations are not included in the Interstellar Union, including planet Earth. I would like to ask questions regarding these civilizations, because I understand that we will have a lot in common. Relatively speaking, I divide these civilizations into three subgroups according to the technological development index.

The text on the screen: “1. Developed civilizations that have interstellar flights in the Milky Way Galaxy and do not want to enter the MC. 2. Civilizations that have mastered atomic energy, entered near space on the basis of the knowledge of pre-quantum physics, carrying out flights to nearby celestial bodies, before mastering interstellar flights. 3. Civilizations that have not mastered electricity and steam engines.”

Valery: The first subgroup is developed civilizations that move freely throughout the Milky Way Galaxy and do not want to enter the Interstellar Union for various reasons.

The second group is civilizations that have mastered atomic energy and entered the nearest Cosmos based on the knowledge of our pre-quantum physics.

And the third subgroup is civilizations that have not mastered electricity and steam engines. I would like to know from Laom Street what number, either in percentage or in physical terms, is included in each subgroup?

Irina: (Laom Street speaking) I greet you, dear friends! Greetings, Valery! Thanks for the question. You have listed three groups of civilizations that are not part of the Interstellar Union.

The text on the screen reads: “From 591:

- 16 civilizations have interstellar flights and wish to join the MS; 396 civilizations, that is, 67% are at the stage before the development of interstellar flights;

- 21 civilizations are under control on the issue of joining the MS, and negotiations are underway with them so that they regulate their internal conflicts and bring their laws into line with the requirements of the MS. There are mass contacts;

“158 are just beginning their development, they have not come to any machines, although they may have a high spiritual level, they are far from the Cosmos.”

Irina: Of those civilizations that are not part of the Interstellar Union, 67% do not have flights beyond their star system. It is believed that these are civilizations before the development of interstellar travel.

Of the remaining civilizations, 16 have interstellar travel and do not want to join the Interstellar Union. The 21 civilizations are under control in the sense that they want to join the Interstellar Union, but negotiations are underway with them so that they regulate their internal conflicts, bring their internal laws into line with ours. They already have mass contacts, and negotiations are underway with them about joining. There were 22 of them, one of them joined the Interstellar Union and became the 117th civilization. There are 21 other civilizations at this stage.

And the remaining civilizations that remain are just beginning their development. They didn’t even come to some kind of artificial machines; they may have a quite high spiritual level, but they do not have technogenicity, their path of development is not technogenic. If they do not have conflicts, wars and other violations of the right to life of intelligent beings, we can accept them into the Interstellar Union on these conditions, but they refuse due to the fact that this is not interesting to them, they have isolated themselves from Space.

Valery: Everything is clear. I understood, I received the answer, we can easily count these numbers, break down how much is left, and who belongs to whom. These numbers were presented to us for the first time.

07:10 Earth level according to the classification of the Interstellar Union. Anthropomorphic civilizations of the Earth level.

Valery: I would like to know: of those civilizations that correspond to the level of development of planet Earth, how many of them are anthropomorphic or similar to us?

Irina: Of those civilizations that were not included in the Interstellar Union (IC), but that correspond to the level of planet Earth?

Valery: Yes.

Irina: The level of planet Earth according to the classification of the Interstellar Union (shows), out of 30 levels - twelfth. This is the development of nuclear energy, flights.

There is text on the screen: "Out of 591 civilizations that correspond to the 12th level of planet Earth according to the 30-level classification of technological development of the MS, 258 are anthropomorphic. Of these, 43 civilizations are at the stage of planet Earth, which is around 16-17%. Out of 258 civilizations, there are 3 civilizations that are hybrid with other races, including Earth."

Irina: Again, it corresponds to the twelfth only partially, because, in addition to the development of nuclear energy, flights of manned vehicles to the nearest celestial bodies within the system are also necessary, and you have not yet accomplished this, except for the Moon. But, according to forecasts of the Interstellar Union, this will take place in the next 30-40 years. You formally correspond to level 12.

At the 12th level, there are 258 anthropomorphic civilizations that are not part of the Interstellar Union. Of those 591 civilizations, only 258 are anthropomorphic, of which about 16-17 percent are at your stage (some graphs show that they calculate percentages).

08:55 Number of hybrid anthropomorphic civilizations.

Valery: Okay, then one more clarifying question: how many of these anthropomorphic civilizations are hybrid? We are hybrids, we are also interested in this.

Irina: Hybrid with other races?

Valery: Yes.

Irina: There are only 3 known races of hybrid anthropomorphic civilizations that are not part of the Interstellar Union. It's you and two others.

Valery: I see.

Irina: Not counting Disara. This number also includes those that are not part of the Interstellar Union, for example, colonies of planets of the Interstellar Union. They flew to other star systems, created their own civilization there and separated from the Interstellar Union, such as Futissa, and some planets also have such.

Valery: The numbers are clear.

10:05 Resources of civilizations that were able to master near space.

Valery: Now I have a question. We are talking about those civilizations that have mastered atomic energy and are entering near space. Their development was determined by certain energy resources. We have coal, oil, and gas on our Earth. And what energy resources did those civilizations that were able to ascend into space, even the nearest one, have at their disposal? Not everyone has such a blessing.

Irina: Yes, indeed. Your energy resources (regarding coal, gas and oil) are due to the fact that many organisms died on Earth at the same time (shows plants, insects, fish, especially small animals, birds). It was instantly buried under a large layer of earth, they found themselves without access to air. Thus, processes took place there, which, by the way, were initiated, among other things, by the plasmoid civilizations of the Earth, so that these various substances were formed, which could then be decomposed.

As for other civilizations that went into the nearest space, they used chemical compounds, extracted chemical energy, but not from petroleum products, but, for example, through some kind of exothermic chemical reaction that released heat. It has already been converted into electricity, movement, kinematic energy, and so on.

It happened that such civilizations used solar energy, there are such civilizations that sometimes used the energy of the planet itself. There are planets where the core is located close to the surface. Lots of volcanoes. They constantly release energy, and this energy, this heat, is collected in batteries (the device shows), which store it and then convert it into electricity, which heats various gases, just like you do with jet fuel.

There are many civilizations that, having mastered nuclear energy, thanks to this, go into space, into outer space. On Earth, your access to space occurred before any complete development of nuclear energy, what we call second-level energies. And sometimes they master hydrogen and helium compounds at high temperatures, get plasma reactors in which thermonuclear processes take place, and thanks to this they rise.

13:40 Social structure in civilizations similar to Earth.

Valery: I see. Among the civilizations that we now equate in status to Earth, are there states divided along linguistic and territorial lines, or are these civilizations like a single civilization without state division?

Irina: Yes, there are civilizations that are divided along linguistic and national lines. Moreover, not only do they exist outside the Interstellar Union, but there are also such civilizations in the Interstellar Union. There are different countries, different languages. For example, on Shimor there are 48 nationalities, which are divided into 18 racial groups. And the planet Shimor is one of the founders of the Interstellar Union, which was formed 15 million years ago. They still have it. It's like a way of life.

Moreover, there are civilizations with different political and economic systems, which are found in the Interstellar Union itself. This does not prevent entry into the Interstellar Union, the main thing is that there is peace between these countries.

15:05 Earthly religious egregors on other planets.

Valery: I see. Are there Christian, Hindu and Muslim egregors on these planets?

Irina: There are no such people as on Earth, of course. These religions were created specifically for earthlings by earthly people, contactees with various spiritual, plasmoid and alien beings, precisely in the context of earthly reality. For your nature, for human nature, for your conditions. Each religion is a product specifically for a specific time and for a specific place in which it was created.

The further development of religion, when the conditions in which it was created have already passed, involves the development of its ideas and their adaptation to a changing reality. If a religion does not answer people's questions and is not relevant for this time and place, then it simply dies out, the egregor is destroyed, no one will support it with their energy.

Here in the Interstellar Union, outside the Interstellar Union, there are different forms of religiosity. If you look simply at formal features, indeed, there are rituals and something reminiscent of shamanism, animism, some kind of monotheistic cults, but, naturally, this is the communication of the Soul with God. It takes different forms, and they are built on the reality of the planet where it originated.

Valery: And these planets, any of them were visited by Jesus Christ?

Irina: Yes, I visited. He even visited planets after he came to Burhad. In his journey around the Galaxy, which he made several months ago (he had a long journey), he also visited those planets that were preparing to join the Interstellar Union. Gave them a speech to encourage them on the path when they make the decision to join the Interstellar Union, because this decision may face some difficulties within the planet itself.

Valery: Actually, we came to this question, I had it written down. But I'll ask one more now, and then we'll come to it.

18:15 The attitude of the Interstellar Union to the civilization of Earth.

Valery: Are there research bases of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light on these planets?

Irina: On planets that are not part of the Interstellar Union?

Valery: Yes, equal to the status of planet Earth.

Irina: Yes, there are, but not in such numbers, of course, as on Earth, because you are a hybrid race, and from the time you created hybrids, you have already built bases. The specialists of the Interstellar Union felt responsible for you, because it was with their cooperation that for the first time the intelligent Spirit incarnated into a body of earthly nature, earthly genetics.

Many physiologists and psychologists in the Interstellar Union believe that if your primate evolution had followed a more natural path, without the influence of the genetics of alien races, you might have had a different story. What it would be, and what forms you would create is a subject for scientific debate, but, nevertheless, we consider you our children, like what we gave birth to.

19:57 Disagreements between the Interstellar Union and the planets about to join it.

Valery: Next question, eleventh. But it has already been answered a little: are there any civilizations that meet the requirements of the Interstellar Union for entry, but have not come to a common decision on this issue? And on what requirements is there disagreement on the planets?

Irina: Yes, indeed, there are such civilizations of an anthropomorphic type (they are now being shown).

Valery: On what issues do those who are planning to join the Interstellar Union disagree?

Irina: On various issues. For example, disagreement with the policy of the Interstellar Union on the allocation of housing to citizens of the planet or on some economic issues or tax collections. A certain percentage of the planet's economy is sent to the Interstellar Union, which is spent on creating common bases, space exploration and joint research and politics.

Joint political regimes must provide for themselves financially; all civilizations of the Interstellar Union are investing in this. In return, they receive access to the Galaxy's bases (information, technical and medical), as well as military, political, and economic protection.

But it happens that civilizations disagree on other issues, for example, on ideological ones. For example, they don't want their criminals to be sent to the planet of criminals, they don't want to abolish the death penalty. There are times when, as on Earth, we believe there will be a problem with respecting the life of a conceived but unborn child.

#401 The science of imagery: open seminar with Irina Podzorova. Practice “Filling the Body with Light.”

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/nauka-obraznosti-otkrytyj-seminar-s-irinoj-podzoro https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-tcD8tKgC3g

00:20 Introduction of participants.

Vladimir: Yes, great! You can hear everything. Friends, once again we welcome everyone. We are now 128 people. Also Irina and I, and if you don’t count Mida, then one hundred twenty-seven, and if you count, then one hundred and thirty.

Irina: What if we now count all the curators who are there?

Vladimir: Everything is as it should be. Yes, if you also count all the spiritual ones here from the Spiritual World, everyone who is also next to us, then this is generally a countless number. Yes. We now have here participants of the sixth stream of the Science of Imagery, and since our seminar is open, there are still a certain number of those who are not in the sixth stream. I would like to ask you to signal those who have not yet taken the Science of Imagery in any stream. Not one. Raise your hands. Hands in electronic form or any emoticons. Put who we have. Who hasn't been to one? I see, Natalya, Zulfiya. There are people, not so few, who are our guests at the open seminar. Wonderful! Today you will gain a certain understanding of the Science of Imagery. That's it, you can give up, thank you! Fine. Many thanks to everyone who did this!

Ira, today we were going to structure our communication like this: participants in the sixth stream of the course have already completed this course at three seminars. Today we have our fourth seminar, a practical one. We asked Mead to conduct a practice, and then give the opportunity to ask questions to our participants. First of all, those who were on the sixth stream. Naturally, they have priority. They completed the course. Perhaps others will be able to ask questions. So maybe we can start with practice? What do you say? Which is better?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Let's go. Meade greets. Do you want questions first or practice first?

Vladimir: It depends how much time our practice takes. That is the question.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) It depends. I can carry it out. We can do a practice, meditation, for example, “purple heart”, if someone has not done it. We can do the practice of “Filling the body with Light”, communicating with the internal organs. We can do a practice aimed specifically at communicating with immune cells and reconciling the immune system with the body after any infectious diseases, any vaccinations. There is a special practice for immunity.

Vladimir: Yes. This is for those who have already been vaccinated, right?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Strengthening financial flows, connecting to the financial egregor - this is through imagining your dreams and building a path, there is practice for reuniting with your partner. Purple, that is.

Vladimir: Let's do this, I have this proposal: maybe Mid now sees the field through you, Ira, which we have here, one hundred and thirty-three people. Can we give the decision to Mead? What practice, from his point of view, would be better to carry out now?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Today there was a solar eclipse. A solar eclipse is the superposition of two energies on top of each other. The energy of the Sun begins to pass through the field of the Moon, they connect. Their magnetic fields and etheric vibrations are connected. Each celestial body is also surrounded by an ethereal shell, atmospheric electricity in such a way that people's immunity can be suppressed. I would do a practice for immunity, but it is for those who already know how to relax and communicate with the body.

There are people with very different levels of health here. Therefore, I propose to make it a general practice. Filling the body with Light, as a meditation I do on Friday. This means filling the body with Light, asking the body to relax, talking with your internal organs. And at the end, place a small emphasis on the lymph nodes and the thymus gland. Thank them for their work and ask them to harmonize with the body. Do you want one? Such a combination.

Vladimir: I think so. Let's have a general one that will be most suitable for everyone who is here. And then we can ask some more questions. Did I understand correctly? Participants will be able to ask.

Irina: She walks for probably twenty to thirty minutes.

Vladimir: Great! And we will just have time for questions. That's it, then let's do it that way.

05:35 Practice "Conversation with internal organs."

Irina: Yes. This will be approximately the practice that I did on the "Meditation" channel, if anyone was there. Now I will conduct it for you. What does she need? It is better, of course, to sit or lie down. If you are sitting, then with your head supported. It is very important to relax, that is, take a position in which you can forget about the tension of the physical body, so that nothing bothers you. To make it comfortable. If you have bright light, you can dim it a little to make it comfortable for your eyes. I ask you to sit down with your eyes closed. We do not cross our arms and legs.

We close our eyes. I'll tell you a little about what this practice does. We, the intelligent Spirits, are the Divine Light. Divine Light is the energy of Love. All cells of our body need the energy of Love, as the energy of life. We begin. I will speak out loud, and you will mentally repeat after me. When you mentally say that you are directing the Light to certain parts of the body and asking it to rest, thank it for its work, this will actually happen, because your thoughts control the energy. Any energy follows thought. You already studied this in the Science of Imagery. Any thought controls energy. It is important to relax here and observe your feelings. Try not to think about anything else, not to be distracted by any extraneous thoughts. We simply mentally repeat and enjoy the state of rest and peace. Our body needs rest, needs harmony.

So we close our eyes. Pay attention to body posture. If you feel any inconvenience, we will make you more comfortable. Now let's turn our attention to breathing. Breathing is the process that allows us to live. We usually never pay attention to it, except when problems begin with it. And now we simply notice that we have breath. We observe how air enters and leaves our body. You simply are. You are simply this flow of time, this flow of air. You are simply an observer of your body. You see, it breathes absolutely without your participation, without your help.

Your body is a perfect biological organism that was created specifically to fulfill your mission on this planet. So, now I will speak out loud, you repeat this mentally to yourself.

I am a rational immortal Spirit. I am the Light. I am the energy of Love. I send the Light of my Love to my feet. I thank my legs for the work they do to move my body through space. I ask my leg muscles to relax and rest. Feel how pleasant the state of relaxation is. You don't need to rush anywhere. Now there is only you and your body, which you fill with Light. Feel how all the cells that are in the tissues of your legs rejoice that you fill them with Light.

Now say: “I send the Light of my Love into my belly. I fill all internal organs with the vital force of Love. I thank all internal organs for their work. I ask all the internal organs, all the muscles in this area, all the abdominal muscles to relax and rest.” Observe how your internal organs fulfill your request. How your stomach relaxes, fills with warmth, lightness and the Divine Light covers you as if with a soft and fluffy blanket in absolute safety and harmony.

Now say: “I direct the Light of my Love into my lower back. I ask all the muscles in that area to relax and rest.” Very high tension usually accumulates in this place. Your body frequently walks, stands, and sits, and the muscles in the lower back take on a lot of the workload to keep your body upright.

Now say: “I thank my spine - a very important organ - for carrying signals from the brain to my organs and back, for supporting my body. I send the Light of Love to my spine. Each of my chakras is filled with divine energy. I ask all the muscles around the spine in the back area to relax and rest.” The back muscles really need relaxation. This is the energy accumulation phase. Tension is a phase of energy waste. And relaxation is a phase of rest, accumulation of energy for future actions. Feel how every vertebra of yours, every muscle in your back is filled with Divine Light. Your whole body is happy that you paid attention to it. This is very important for the body, for its health and well-being.

Now say: “I direct the Light of my Love into my chest. I fill my lungs with Light. I breathe in the Divine Light." Inhale slowly, imagining and visualizing that you are inhaling Light and it fills your lungs to the last molecule. Say, “I thank my lungs for the free, easy breathing. I thank my heart for keeping my body alive every minute. I embrace my heart with my spiritual heart.” Feel how your heart rejoices. Fill it with Light. Great! Now you are in a state of harmony, in a state of contact with your body.

Now say: “I direct the Light of Divine Love into my hands. It goes through the shoulders, through the elbows, through the hands, through the fingertips. I thank my hands for working in the material world. I ask the muscles in my arms to relax and rest. My hands are pure conductors of Divine energy. Every object that I touch in the material world is charged from me with the energy of Light, Love and prosperity." Fine.

Now say: "I direct the Light of my Love into my head. I fill the muscles of the face, fill the muscles of the tongue, eyes, ears. I thank all the organs located in my head for their work. I ask the muscles of the face, the muscles of the eyes, the muscles of the tongue to relax and rest." Feel the tension release from them.

Now every breath you take brings you relaxation, every breath you breathe brings you harmony. You can stay in this state for a very long time, because this is a state of the Spirit that is harmonious with the body.

Now say: "I thank every cell of my brain for manifesting through it as Spirit. I send my brain the Light of my Love. I ask my brain to relax and rest." Feel how your brain rejoices, receiving the energy of Love from you. Great! You filled your entire body with Light and relaxed.

Say: "I love and accept my body as it is. My body is the materialized Light of God. My body is the beloved temple of my Soul." Now you feel the flow that flows to you from the Spiritual world, from your Higher Self. Inhale this flow. This stream is aimed at your recovery. Say: "I thank and accept, I love and bless! I promise to direct this energy towards unconditional Love for myself and others and absolute Love for God."

Great! Now mentally examine your body. Mentally walk along it from your feet to your head. Mentally say: "I thank all my organs! I am ready to listen to any body that wants to contact me." Mentally ask which organ in your body wants to talk to you. Once you sense who it is, greet him. Tell him that you are sending him the Light of Love. Say: "I am ready to listen to you carefully. I ask my Higher Self to keep all these words in my memory forever." Talk.

If you feel any discomfort, pay attention to this place. Ask it what it wants to tell you. If you feel pain, address that pain. Ask her why she showed up. The answers come mentally. Now all doubts are a thing of the past. Now you simply are. You are simply one with your body and one with your Spirit. This state of wholeness is true healing, the attainment of wholeness. If you have any disease, you can contact the organ that is bothering you right now. Greet him and thank him for his work. Ask him about the reasons for his illness. This is a type of communication with the Higher Self through your body. The Higher Self responds to you through your organs. It is responsible for them, it fills them. Great! Once you receive a response, say, "Thank you." The energy of gratitude must be present. It enhances contact. Say, "I promise to do this."

Ask your body what it would like to receive as food, what it would not like to receive. Perhaps he has some preferences. What vibrationally suits you? Your body will definitely answer you. Ask to see images of those products that match your vibrations. Whatever you eat becomes part of you. Part of your body. And you are both body and Spirit in this life. Ask to see food and drinks that do not match your vibration. Your body knows this better than any doctor, because it knows all the intricacies of the chemical reactions that occur in you every second.

Now we concentrate on the center of the chest, focusing our attention there. Let's focus on this point. We turn to our thymus gland - the thymus gland. This is the main manager of our immunity. It controls the lymph nodes and every white blood cell that floats in the blood.

We turn to the queen of our immunity: “I thank you, thymus, for working to protect my body. I send you the Light of my Love. I thank all the lymph nodes that produce the antibodies I need and remove toxic metabolic products. I send the Light of my Love, regeneration and renewal along the lymphatic pathways.” Feel the rays spreading throughout your body. You cleanse your lymphatic system of all negativity. Now say, “I thank all the blood cells that protect me.” Imagine them in front of you. You can do it in any form. On the screen. “I thank all the white blood cells, I thank the red blood cells, the platelets, all the cells in my blood for protecting me. I send you the Light of my Love.” Look how they have come to life, how they accept the Light. Inhale and as you exhale, direct the Light.

Now say: “I ask you to harmonize with each other. I ask you to make peace with all the organs, tissues and cells of my body. I ask you to be filled with strength, Light and Love. Thank you! I thank and accept, love and bless! I consciously direct Divine energy from my Spirit through my body into the material world!” Great! Fine!

Now thank your Higher Self. Say: “My Higher Self, I thank you for this practice! I thank you for your energy! I thank you for realizing that you are part of God! I thank all my curators and mentors! I thank everyone involved in this practice! I thank the conductor through whom the Light of Love flows in the form of knowledge! Thank you and accept! Love and blessings! I promise to direct these energies towards the development of unconditional Love!”

Take another slow, deep breath. Watch how the air leaves you, carrying away all the remnants, each quantum of negative energy carries it into free space, where it turns into Light. You are absolutely pure, harmonious and happy. Because Love is happiness.

Now I will count from one to five. When I say "five", you will return to your normal state of consciousness and fully connect with your bodies. One two three four five. We open our eyes. Let's clench our fingers into fists. Slowly stretch and take a breath. Practice is over. What do you say?

Vladimir: Thank you very much! Thank you, Ira, thank you Mida! Great practice, what can I say. I believe that this is the clearest illustration of the Science of Imagery. Especially for those who are not yet in the know. For stream participants, of course, too. They remembered. We partially did this. But now it's deeper. And for those who haven’t been on the course yet, you’ve now just touched on it.

By the way, I want to say that the seventh stream of the course begins on Tuesday. Welcome! On Tuesday you need to register at four pm Moscow time, because it is focused on Siberia and the Far East. Please, everyone who wants to, who can. Thank you so much again. Yes, Ira, please have a drink, I’ll talk for a while.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Thank you! Well, Vladimir, how did you feel?

Vladimir: Thank you from the bottom of my heart! I had a feeling of presence, firstly, of a flow, and secondly, despite the fact that, as you understand, I was distracted by organizational activities, answered in chats and so on, I still had a feeling of my presence in this flow. He was so strong that even my distractions still did not interfere. We still have people coming in. Some people didn't need practice. Only now a man comes in. So I let you in. Fine! Ira, if you have any more comments, please do so.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) How did you talk to your organs? Let's look at the reviews.

Vladimir: Friends, you can now share your impressions and ask questions. Once again I want to say that first of all you can ask the participants of the sixth stream - they have just completed it. To ask a question, you can write to the chat, I will read. And in order to ask a question by voice, please, electronically, you have the opportunity below, raise your hand, I will give you the opportunity to turn on the microphone. We see and read your wonderful reviews: the cells of the body are happy, yes, I thank and accept, I love and bless. And we treat you that way too. Exactly the same. Without a doubt.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Do you feel warmth in your body now? These are all your white blood cells, platelets, red blood cells that you have charged, they now carry energy to all parts of your body.

Vladimir: Dmitry has not yet been able to come to an agreement with his kidneys, but he has everything ahead, undoubtedly.

35:12 The number of species of living beings in the Universe.

Vladimir: Irina asks us how many species of living beings live in our Universe. And species. I don't know what she means by species.

Irina: Oh, someone’s tooth stopped hurting. Great!

Vladimir: Yes.

Irina: There is energy inside, the body is ringing. It will vibrate like this, inside the vibration.

Vladimir: Shall we answer about the types of living beings?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) How many types?

Vladimir: Do living beings exist in the Universe? By species, let us somehow understand races, probably some kind of living beings. Let's classify them somehow.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Ras in the Universe?

Vladimir: Let’s classify them somehow. Not how many, namely, how many living species. Let's assume that a person is one species, an elephant is another species, and a lizard is a third. This is how we will classify.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) And the plasmoid?

Vladimir: Let's start with dense materials. Because then it will be somehow easier.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) As Krishna said, there are more than eight million species of living beings in the Universe (he counted in the Universe). This was at that time the largest number known at that time that could be imagined. The Universe is an unlimited number of living beings, that is, it is limited only by knowledge. Many galaxies. If we take our Galaxy, it is known that we have 727 species of humanoid races there. The number of plasmoids exceeds them several tens of times, but new plasmoid worlds are opening up, because they are both in stars and above planets that are considered lifeless.

This is also a form of life. There are 727 humanoid races in our Galaxy. In the Andromeda Galaxy, since this Galaxy is larger than the Milky Way, according to them, there are 1288 humanoid intelligent races. It appeared before our Galaxy. There are also a lot of civilizations in other galaxies that are at a greater distance.

Vladimir: I see. Thank you very much! But this is a question about the “Science of Imagery,” so I want to ask it.

38:15 Basic emotions of aliens.

Vladimir: Anna asks us: “How many basic emotions are there on planets with high vibrations?” As part of the “Science of Imagery” course, we said that we have four basic emotions - joy, sadness, fear and anger. What about on other planets, meaning Burkhad, Esler? Are there the same basic emotions or some other ones?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Yes, four basic emotions. But besides them, there are two more. That is, there are six basic emotions in total. The four you listed are fear, anger...

Vladimir: Sadness and joy.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Fear, anger, joy, sadness. The fifth emotion is surprise. And the sixth emotion is disgust. Do I need to explain what each one means or what?

Vladimir: I just want to ask: according to the scientists of the planet Esler, we still have four basic ones - joy, sadness, fear and anger, but we don't count surprise and disgust? Are we adding this to them or what?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) This is included in their concept of emotion; in any Spirit there are six basic emotions in one form or another. They manifest themselves in all races, but in different ways. In different circumstances. They affect the body differently. That is, it also depends on the body type. They believe that this is such a universal system.

Vladimir: But here we can not count these two additional emotions at the initial level? Limit yourself to the basic four. Did I understand correctly or not?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) It depends on what purpose. Yes, these four basic emotions are possible, and surprise is some form of, for example, joy.

Vladimir: I see.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) And disgust can easily lead to fear or anger.

Vladimir: That is, they have a wider range.

40:41 Creation of Spirits and time.

Vladimir: Alla is asking. Of course, we had the answer to this question, but perhaps we need to repeat it. "Does the Creator continue to create Spirits or no longer?"

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Both answers will be correct, because they are timeless. We can say that we are all already born from the beginning, or we can say that we continue to be born. From the point of view of the material world, both will be true. We can say that Spirits continue to appear there every second, or we can say that they have always been there. It will be the same. They are outside of time.

41:15 Hair function.

Vladimir: I see. Tell me, here's another question, I tried to ask it once. Olga, you will be the next to ask with your voice. The question is: " What is the function of hair in the human body? What happens after they are removed or shaved?" I understand what is meant. "Do they have some energetic function that gets worse if the hair is removed?"

Irina: (MidgasCaus) She is not getting worse. The function of hair, the function of hair growth in general, was initially protective. This is like protection from any harmful environmental factors, just like in animals, but this is also in their form.

As for energy: hair consists of body substances and is charged with human energy. Removing them does not cause energetic harm to the body, but these hairs become charged. There are practices when you can influence energy through them.

Vladimir: There is a belief that this mass hair removal of women, which is very common in society, does not have a very positive effect on energy, and it is not necessary to do it. Especially in such a massive way. Is this true or not?

Irina: (MidgasCaus) How did it become widespread? How is that?

Vladimir: This is positioned everywhere in advertising. Everyone believes that this must be done and no other way. This belief has been ingrained into people's consciousness. This is fine? Or are there some nuances related to the fact that this could somehow be, maybe some kind of energy sensitivity reduces women or something else? There is just such an opinion. I want to hear your comment.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) The one who performs this procedure can influence a person as an exchange of energies. Self-hair removal is practical if a person believes in it. And this in itself is a neutral action. Neither good nor bad.

Vladimir: I see, thank you! Everything is clear, good, thank you!

44:26 “The science of imagery” and time.

Broadcast participant: Hello! Again I want to thank you for this opportunity to communicate through Irina with Mid and ask him a question. Each of us has our own Time Line. As I understand it, all these Time Tapes are intertwined with each other into a common one in the Universe. “The Science of Imagery”, how does it work? And in general, does it work over time? Are there any techniques that will allow me to compress time or stretch it in my Time Tape?

I am asking this question for a reason. It seems to me that I succeeded in this as a child, when I was in the hospital. In order to make it easier for me to endure all these executions that the doctors performed on me, I squeezed this negative image of the hospital and very quickly, as it were, threw it back, and found myself at home. And as an adult, one day I was terribly late for the airport. I cried hysterically in a taxi (not in a taxi, but a neighbor was driving me). Then it so happened that I fell asleep or something. Or I was numb. I spat, come what may. But suddenly we arrived, and I caught the plane. But with the time we had left, we were stuck in a traffic jam, it was simply incompatible. And for me it still feels like I was able to stretch out the time then, and we are in this time... Now I’m practically never late for anything.

Vladimir: So what is the question? Is it possible to stretch out the time?

Broadcast participant: Work with your time. In one case, compress it, in another case, stretch it. How technical? First, close your eyes. Second, let's introduce it. Third... Is there such a technique?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) So the question is how (if necessary, for example) to make time pass faster? If you need to go somewhere, for example, in order to get there in any case, even if you are delayed somewhere, right?

Broadcast participant: Yes, yes, yes.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) You can only radically influence your subjective time.

Broadcast participant: Yes.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) That is, not for external time, which is the flow of changes in particles that are around you.

What is time? Time is a flow of change. You simply record them for hours, defining certain time periods that are designed for your convenience. But in fact, from the point of view of the Spiritual world, time does not exist at all, because there is no change there. In the material world, there are continuous changes in those particles that enter it. Energy particles.

It is impossible to stop these changes. Why is it impossible? Because the chain of events that is formed from changes in these particles, its stopping or its acceleration can affect many entities embodied here. Not just for you. And therefore, it is impossible for a separate Spirit to influence objective time. But it is possible to speed up or slow down your subjective time. Just going into a state of eternity. When you go into the state of Spirit, you find yourself outside of time. And when you find yourself outside of time, then that period of material time that is unpleasant to you for some reason simply passes unnoticed.

In fact, it passes. If you fix it for hours, it has passed, but has not disappeared anywhere, you just didn't notice. And that period of time when you needed to take extra time, for example, and you thought that you wouldn't make it in time (got stuck in a traffic jam), you entered a state of eternity, when you calmed down, when you said: "Come what may." At this key moment, you relied on God, on your mentors. This is trust in the Universe. This is trusting yourself. And at that moment, your mentors had such an influence on the events, on the situation that was on the road, that this traffic jam could well have disappeared earlier than, for example, you had expected. If the place you were flying to was good for you, if you get there, you got there.

The main thing here is to trust yourself and your mentors. And even if you are late for a plane or train, perhaps you were late for good reason. Something delayed you, and it is no coincidence. And it's not at all necessary that the plane will crash or anything else. Although this, of course, happens. But there are times when you need to stay here. Perhaps you didn't complete something. Perhaps you haven't met someone and so on. The main thing here is to trust. It could be time management.

50:33 Incarnations into the past.

Vladimir: Thank you! Tatiana, you will be the next voice. Now a question from the chat, just in the context of this topic. We are talking about the fact that a Spirit from the Spiritual World can incarnate in the earthly past.

We are asked in the chat: “How does this happen, he can be in the earthly past, if the events of this past have already happened in the material world?”

Irina: (MidgasKaus) From the point of view of the Spiritual world, they occur simultaneously. In the past, present and even in all futures. If we look from the Spiritual world, you will see at the same time Abraham, and Moses, and Krishna, and the war twelve thousand years ago, and the crucifixion of Christ, and his resurrection. This will be a Tape for you from the Spiritual World. If you suddenly incarnate in the past, you are incarnated not in the past at all, but in your present in reality. It's just that this present is the past for your previous incarnation.

Vladimir: Friends, I see questions in the chat. I kindly ask you to ask questions on the topic “Science of Imagery” first. Therefore, dear Victoria, we cannot answer now about the creatures that are in the Antiverse. We have questions here specifically about the “Science of Imagery.” Antiuniverses live in the Antiverse. I'm kidding. Tatyana, we are listening to you.

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Who lives there?

52:14 Anti-universe.

Vladimir: Who is there in the Antiverse? Still, Tatyana, Mead wants to talk about the Antiverse. Let's give it an opportunity.

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Yes. We are also for justice. Everything is correct. We must always fight for justice. But remember that justice without Love turns into cruelty.

So, the Antiverse. Strictly speaking, this is a state of matter that is, as it were, not in our Universe, but this does not mean that it is in a parallel world. This is also a physical Universe. But the Antiverse is a state of matter when the elemental forces that form the atom are in different proportions, in opposite ones. In your opinion, according to your science, this is when the charges of particles change to the opposite.

Such Universes really exist outside of our Universe; they have passages like portals. You can also get into them through gravitational clots of energy, which are called black holes. For you - through large black holes. It is possible to create a field in the center of a black hole that can move the Spirit here. Who lives there? There live the same Spirits as we do, but embodied in their bodies, created from a certain polarity of atoms or the ratio of elemental forces.

There are also planets there, there are also stars made of antimatter. And Spirits incarnate there too. And, moreover, this Universe is part of the Universe. And those Spirits who incarnate here can incarnate there, and vice versa. And moreover, the Spirit, when he remembers his past lives (for example, his life in the Antiverse), for him it will be the same as life on some other planet. For us it is just a type of matter. She's different.

Upon contact with our matter, these elements begin to mix with each other in atoms in such a way that the atoms are destroyed. Energy is released. There, on the planets, there are people, humanoids. But their bodies are made of antimatter. They can physically communicate. They physically fly only to those planets that consist of their substance. For them we are the Anti-Universe. For us they are, and for them we are. They cannot, for example, fly into our Universe without special protection and a powerful gravitational field, because their ship will immediately turn into energy, explode, and that's it.

Vladimir: I see. Thank you! Victoria thanks us. Tatiana, please.

55:48 Conducting energies in motion.

Tatyana: Thank you everyone! The question may be a continuation of the previous one. There are, apparently, very highly spiritual worlds from which some practices related to art came. I am interested in dance and martial arts, which in principle (in the process and in preparation) necessarily use the "Science of Imagery", both on stage (for example, a director) and in martial arts. It's pretty much the same thing there. We know that imagining how I win is better than being afraid (then you will most likely lose).

Question: from what worlds does this come? Why is this process still associated with pain? Stretching, strong training, both in dancing and in martial arts. And they look the same. How can we best use this on our human development plans? And how does this have a beneficial effect through the study of chakras, channels, what's there, what's there? Interaction with the Earth and Space. And as a guide to people.

Irina: Now Vladimir will probably count how many questions you tried to formulate. It doesn't work that way here. Here, the more specific the question, the more specific the answer. Now the answer will be so vague that you won't understand anything at all.

Vladimir: Ask the question very briefly, Tanya, the most important thing is what you want. The most important.

Tatyana: How can we conduct energies, for example, dance energies, at our level?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Have contact with your body. Meditations. Any movement is first made with the help of consciousness, with the help of the imagination of the conscious part of the Spirit, with the help of the mind. And then it gets automated. The spirit frees itself from constant monitoring of movement and can simply think about something of its own. The human brain has such a feature - automation. Of course, not to the extent of robots, but in any case you don't think about, for example, every step. If you think, for example, like in the year when you walked, how to place your leg correctly, then you will not be able to walk quickly. You already do this automatically, without thinking.

Tatyana: In other words, the highest degree of dance or martial arts is meditation in motion, did I understand correctly?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) You can move.

Tatyana: Meditation in motion.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) When you are just learning, as you said, you need to imagine first mentally, as in an image. Then repeat physically. If through constant physical exercise you achieve automatism, then while the body makes these movements, you will simply connect with your Higher Self and feel how energy comes out into the world through your every movement. But you simply won't be able to think about this when you are still studying, because you will have to monitor the correct execution of the movement algorithm.

Tatiana: Yes, thank you!

Irina: (MidgasKaus) In that case, practice when you walk. For example, when you walk, you no longer think about how to take steps. Then pay attention, for example, to the very rhythm of these steps. Imagine that the land you are walking on is alive. She is the palm, then you said, of the Earth Goddess. It is a large palm, one might say, of the Earth Queen, Demeter. And Demeter is the Spirit, which fully realizes itself as one with God.

He is such a high vibrational Spirit, like an Angel, who loves God very much and conducts his energies. And that means, walking on her densely material palms, in this form in which you can perceive it, in the form of soil, you are simultaneously in the hands of your Heavenly Father. Try to be aware of this in every step and look at the trees and clouds in a new way. Feel every movement of the wind in a new way. And you will feel that God is near you. He is in you and outside of you, and you are him.

Vladimir: Now I want to voice a question from the chat. I choose those questions that, in my opinion, are interesting to the maximum number of people. I chose two questions. The question you are asking about military operations.

1:01:12 The influence of thoughts and mental images on events in the world.

Vladimir: Is it possible to influence military actions and negative events in the world with thoughts and images? And here's the question with him, they seem to be very close. Is it possible to influence a child, that is, another intelligent Spirit, with the help of the science of imagery? But he is still a minor child? It somehow intersects with something. Are these unreasonable people who carry out military actions (I'm kidding)? In short, is it possible to influence something external? On some events, situations in the world or on your own, say, child, on his behavior with the help of the science of imagery?

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Of course. You can create a thought form. I'll tell you that the law of creation and influence of thought forms on other people is very simple. The thought form that you create when imagining this person (be it positive or negative in its energies), that energy, since you imagine the person, is directed to him in the Astral and merges with his field. But she can merge with him only on the condition that this person has in his field some vibrations that are similar to yours.

If they are very different, it may be reflected. If there is something similar, he can accept part of this energy. But even if he accepted, how would this affect his behavior? Everything is very simple here. If in terms of energy, in terms of the amount of vitality, this is the first, and in terms of volitional qualities, in terms of character, you are superior in strength to this person, then he will feel an involuntary desire, an involuntary attraction, which can take shape in his desire to act as you came up with. But he will accept it as his own. If, for example, you do not have enough vitality, or you have not invested enough energy of will, the energy of faith in this, then it will simply be weak for him, like a thought that he will be surprised by, but he will not feel the desire. He'll just drive her away.

If he is superior to you in terms of energy, he has more vitality, then he may not feel it. Here it also depends on whether one person sends him thought forms or several people. When several people send, this energy intensifies. Therefore, we can really influence both the war and children with our thoughts. It is important to do this with bright thoughts. Because any of our thoughts becomes known and visible in the subtle world, in the astral world, in the Spiritual world, to all our Angels and mentors. And if this thought, the purpose of this thought form is contrary to love, then the responsibility for such actions with people without their knowledge, without their will, aimed at their degradation, at lowering their vibration, responsibility is higher than for the direct words spoken to him, because he didn't know that. You begin to use the power of your Spirit, secret to others, that is, the use of secret forces for evil purposes causes greater responsibility according to the law that more will be asked of the one to whom more is given.

Vladimir: I want to emphasize this, friends, this point. If a person, in fact, uses such magic, he imagines, creates an image of how bad someone is, sends negativity to someone, and this person does not know about it, he uses the Science of imagery for negative purposes for someone, then then the responsibility for this is even higher than if he had gone and, so to speak, had a stone thrown at his window.

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Yes. That is why you have probably heard that the Christian Church, the Orthodox Church, Protestants and so on are very wary of all these spiritual quests, esotericism and so on. Because in their book, the Holy Fathers, who received information from the Spiritual world, wrote that a person with an uncleaned heart, with an ego, as you say, selfishness, can use this knowledge, and it really exists. He is responsible for this knowledge, which he applies incorrectly, which others do not know about.

1:06:30 Exits to the Astral.

Host: Evgenia asks: “If you once managed to leave your body in a dream and see the situation around you, but now you can’t do it. Why did this happen? What needs to be done, how to practice?

Irina: It doesn’t work. In general, Mead now has a lot of questions.

(MidgasKaus) So you are doing exercises for astral travel. Have you determined the purpose of these exits? And the most important question: how did you feel when you first came out? How did you feel? So what did you start doing? With negative emotions and experiences gained during astral travel, perhaps your Higher Self itself can block the exit so that you do not receive negativity. This is the first reason.

The second reason is if your task does not include astral travel at all. Perhaps this will distract you from life in the material world. Try to practice those astral travel techniques that you can find. Do it for about a month. Twenty-one days, at least, every day. And ninety percent of people who have no contraindications from the Higher Self to astral travel succeed in astral exit. There are such exercises. You can find them on the Internet. They are called “astral travel”, “techniques for conscious astral exit”. Read Lobsang Rampa's books.

Vladimir: Okay, thank you! So, I'm back to you again. Knocked me out of Zoom. Alexander, did you want to ask by voice? Please can you turn on your microphone? Alexander Sorokin. We are listening to you.

1:08:38 Creation and development of Spirits and bodies.

Alexander: Hurray! A global issue. Good evening everyone! I want to ask Mead. Can you hear me okay?

Vladimir: Yes. Everything is fine.

Alexander: God, the Creator, created us in the image and likeness of us, like him, that is, also creators. In fact, like Jesus Christ, who can also create. But, on the other hand, we know, this is the paradox, that there is a first level, a low level and a twenty-fourth level.

So the question is: at what level did He create us? He loves us equally. In theory, he should have made them the same, either low, then we progress, or high. But here it is not clear why we have become low. And the second question. This is a quick question: How many civilizations have created us? Precisely civilizations. We are talking about three humanoid races - this is in our bodies, but I heard that plasmoids also participated. Yes or no?

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Of course. Plasmoids generally participate in creation. They are still involved in the creation of the biosphere. And in the creation of elements in general for our body, their transfer from body to body, control of the flow of energy of matter. This is also a kind of creation.

How many civilizations are there? Each, for example, level, here we have three levels of density, they are created by those plasmoids that are embodied from the fourth to the eleventh density level. Precisely the terrestrial forms of plasmoids. But how many civilizations are there? At one level of density there may be a thousand civilizations, there may be millions of civilizations. It depends where. For example, on Earth, if we look from the fourth to eleventh density level...

Alexander: I meant three million years ago, when we were created, genes were taken from three humanoid races, but were plasmoids involved in genetic modifications?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Now I'll formulate the question a little. Humanoids, as scientists, participated in genetic modifications, but materials in the form of atoms were naturally supplied by plasmoids, as for the entire biosphere. And now it's happening. If you have read the article about the conception of the Spirit, about how the Spirit adapts to the body, then it clearly says that when the Spirit unites with the body, forms its body and its etheric shell and further, then plasmoids participate in this. At least one from each element. They help him form an etheric body, an etheric framework for communication with the biosphere. This is at the conception of each Spirit, and it makes no difference whether it was genetically modified or not. This is the law of the dense material Universe, our physical world. And at least one plasmoid from each element is already four plasmoids.

We have four elements. And when they incarnate, there are also incarnated Spirits, they do not just incarnate into their world to fly over the Earth in the form of ball lightning. No. They have their own tasks that they perform. One of their tasks is precisely the formation of a dense world. You yourself incarnated there.

We are now smoothly moving on to your next question about the birth of the Spirit. We were born as Spirits, weren't we? First, I will repeat once again: timeless in the Spiritual World. You remember that for you the world of disembodied Spirits consists of twenty-four levels.

Spiritual Light, the energies of God, are heterogeneous, there are several different ones, like rays of spiritual Light, permeate all these levels. From the twenty-fourth to the first. God is also present on the first level. But He is present there in such a form that it is perceived by the Spirits as suffering due to their low vibrations. He cannot help but be present. He is omnipresent. This is his everywhere inherent nature.

Well, we moved out and moved out, they answered about the hair, but about the Spirit, I think, will be even more important.

Vladimir: We'll come back now. The next question will be about the Science of Imagery.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) So, Light permeates all levels of the world of disembodied Spirits. There is an article, I'll tell you briefly. The energy of Divine Light merges with divine energy, that is, the energy of Divine Mind merges with the energy of Divine Love. And from these two energies the first germ of an intelligent Spirit is obtained. This is his will, this is his spiritual heart. That is, this is his understanding that He is separated from the general flow of Light. And then he begins to form his feelings and so on, that is, while still in the flow.

It is precisely because two energies merge, the energy of the Divine Mind and the energy of Divine Love, that two genders appear in almost the entire dense material world: male and female. A man personifies the Divine Mind, a woman - Divine Love. When a man and a woman merge, they create a child. So it is there. Divine Mind and Divine Love merge. Not in the form of bodies, but in the form of energy. I can only say approximately, because the universal human language, the Russian language, is not enough to express all these subtleties. We don't have words for this. I can only roughly speak in images.

So, when does it merge, at what level? The fact is that this can happen at any level from twenty-four to one. The spirit can become aware of itself anywhere. What determines where he recognizes himself? This depends on the will of God, because He loves equally the Spirit from the first level and the Spirit from the twenty-fourth level. And when the Spirit became aware of itself with these vibrations, for us this is some kind of accident. And for God, naturally, this is natural, because when the Spirit arises, it is already omniscient. He already knows all the cycles of his incarnation, all the options for his future, including the option that will be the only correct one. And he knows the result of all his incarnations, he knows everything at the same time.

Why is he doing this then? What kind of game is this, you will now think, since He knows what He is doing? But He does this, He does not create us in order not to know us, He does not give birth to us in order that He wants to know us. Although He already knew us at birth, He gives birth to us precisely because of the feeling of Love, so that we can be happy. And He understands that all our happiness lies in our freedom. And that's why these levels exist. So, when the Spirit arose at some level, it has special, one might say, other Spirits who are there, they feel the emergence of a new Spirit and begin to explain to it the laws of the world, where it ended up, what it was born, where it is and so on.

Again, for the material world it will be simultaneously. And that he was before the creation of the world, and that he had just appeared, or that he had not yet appeared at all. It will be the same. They explain to him that there is still a material world where we can incarnate in order to manifest ourselves. And when the first incarnation occurs, according to the law of God, the world cannot be below the thirty-fifth density level. The first incarnation must take place in the world from the thirty-fifth to the fifty-ninth density level. Why was this invented? In order for the Spirit to adapt first to matter, to its variability. And he has adapted to the consequences of his free choice, because he does not yet know what it is.

He must understand how to become non-eternal, how to feel it. And he understands this, and what sensations and consequences it brings. He understands this when he connects with his first body, still plasmoid. His first incarnation takes place in a world where usually other Spirits can teach him this well. He has his own lessons there. Then, when it passes (I have watched many incarnations of Spirits), after the first incarnation as a plasmoid, there are usually up to several dozen incarnations again as a plasmoid. Because here they begin to create matter. Worlds that create denser worlds.

What level of density do plasmoids create galaxies? Somewhere it could be forty-five, forty-seven and up to fifty-nine, depending on which ones. There are also groups of galaxies. There are also certain bodies there. Why are their density levels different? The higher the density level, the more capabilities they usually have, the more their thoughts influence matter. And the larger their body can be, it is huge. It, for example, can take several light years. Yes, what will the Earth be like for them?

Vladimir: Okay, thank you very much! Alexander, thanks for the question. Come on, our next voice will be Anna Fishman, and now I'll ask something closer to the Science of Imagery. Mead is asked directly and frankly.

1:20:37 Managing emotions.

Vladimir: Mid, do you have to cope with your emotions associated with earthlings? When we evoke certain emotions, how do you deal with them?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Since childhood, I took a course at my school on how to work with my emotions. Now, in your opinion, I am already an adult, an adult humanoid. Therefore, this has already become automatic in me. When I experience an emotion, I don't give myself over to it, I don't give all my energy to it. I immediately ask myself what caused it and why it appeared. And when, I'll tell you frankly, I first came to Earth, it was, as I already said, in 1983...

Yes, we need such a school. I totally agree.

So this was in 1983. I was then a young biologist, a specialist who had recently graduated, in your opinion, from a university in astrobiology, that is, in contacts with intelligent races of the Cosmos, and I myself chose to work on Earth.

Naturally, when I found out that the planet is not part of the Interstellar Union, I was interested in studying how education, medicine, and so on, occur on a planet not included in it. And I began to study. I asked my contacts to tell me about the school curriculum and what they were studying. And I was very surprised when I learned that you practically do not have such a mandatory standard for us as keeping a diary of emotions. When I asked if you had any notebooks, diaries, notes, I was very surprised.

When they told me that diaries are just for grading and for recording homework, for memory and for grading. Assessment is needed so that the child can understand the degree of knowledge of his subject and the degree of its acceptance by society. This is an important social model. I agree. Ours is different. I understand the logic here. But for what reason are they not introducing the study of the psychology of the Spirit and your emotions into your school curriculum? And how can you not teach children to distinguish their spiritual feelings from their instinctive ones? And then why do you need to study physics and mathematics? What will the study of material sciences lead to if you do not know yourself? I had this question.

Vladimir: This is why we are now writing a diary of emotions. All participants of all, I hope, streams. And it was Mead who also wrote it, and I wrote it. And this will help you separate emotions from instincts, from feelings and improve yourself.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Dear friends, you are already writing a diary of emotions, tell me, Mid will also be interested now, does this help you in life? How do you like this? What kind of feedback? Thank you everyone.

Vladimir: Yes, please tell me who writes the diary of emotions. Here, repetition of the same ones.

Irina: I have already thanked everyone for their feedback. Mead is also reading through me now. I mentally convey to him. Yes. And he is very happy too.

(MidgasKaus) Now imagine that you started this practice, for example, even if not in first grade. Imagine that you started this practice at the age of ten. And they continued it until graduation. What kind of person would you become?

Vladimir: The world would have changed already if most people did this. You and I would already be living in another world, ready to join the Interstellar Union.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Yes.

Vladimir: That's right, that's right. So, okay, let's really try to get closer to the Science of imagery issues. Anna, I hope you have a question about the Science of Imagery. Is it true? If yes, then you can turn on the microphone. Anna Fishman, you raised your hand.

1:25:23 Life force.

Anna: Good evening! I wanted to ask: what is life force, and what does it depend on?

Vladimir: Life force is found in the energy of the Spirit. We studied imagery in Science. Here's a question about it.

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Great! Life force is the energy that allows us to exist. It is the vital force of the body that allows us to exist and act in the material body and in the world as a whole. Life force is replenished both from the Spiritual world and from the material world. From the Spiritual world it is replenished with our bright feelings, desires, thoughts, emotions. How is it replenished? When we feel the bright, spiritual states of ourselves, a flow of spiritual energy enters us, which passes through our brain, passes through our body and, by activating metabolic processes already in the physical body, replenishes our physical energy.

How does replenishment work through the body? The body has special tools for transforming material substances that enter it into energy. What are these tools? This is the digestive tract, circulatory system, respiratory system. Energy is spent on the physical processes of the body, and it is also directed to emotions, that is, it is spent on those processes that the Spirit produces in the body. Not the Spirit itself, but an embodied part of it. For the Spirit itself, this is already spiritual energy. The embodied part, the Soul, which is in the body, also spends the vital energy of the body, because it is connected to it by the etheric body.

What is the biggest waste of life force energy? Naturally, for movement, for heating the body, as well as for biochemical processes in it. There are many millions of processes going on in every cell. Cell division, regeneration, immunity, and so on - this requires vitality. Also, perception goes through the senses, through the eyes, through the ears. To process information that has entered the brain through receptors. In order for the electrical signals of neurons to be developed and to be able to control the body, they were able to send this information to the Spirit. This also wastes energy. As you say, through the eyes. When we strain, direct our attention to our vision and read something, watch something, that is, we receive information through vision, then the body also loses energy. That is, energy leaves not only when we work physically.

When we strain our eyes and look, this also takes energy, a lot of energy. This is why a person gets tired when he has little energy. Replenishment required. You can get tired not only from physical work, you can also get tired from mental work, even more so.

Why is she spending more? Because negative emotions are unpleasant. Instead of processing them into Light, you need to work on your heart, on your attitude towards this phenomenon or person who caused the emotion. But it's easier for a person not to do that. As Vladimir correctly said, due to the fact that we do not work on our emotions.

It's easier for a person to forget about it. But if he forgot about it, his emotion is sent to the etheric body in the form of a small clot of energy. If he experiences it often, the clot begins to grow, and a block is formed, which is located in some chakra or between them and begins to interfere with the circulation of vital energy in the etheric body.

Vladimir: Thank you! Perhaps we will go further then. Look, I just want to, first of all, answer the question in the chat about how to determine the level of vibration of the Spirit at a given moment in time. You need to connect with your Spiritual Self and ask the Higher Self if you are ready, you will find out what your current moment of time is, this may change (vibration level).

Irina: (MidgasKaus) The Higher Self is usually asked about the spiritual level at the present moment.

Vladimir: Yes.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) What is the vibration level?

Vladimir: I think it's the same. This person had this level in mind. I understand so.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) So, now I'll just repeat it for the diary. You know, answer the question when the emotion arose when you write it down, any of these emotions that we discussed. What caused? That is, what is its reason and your feelings. For example, write like this whenever you have the opportunity. Don't just stop on the road and write. "Wait, I'll stop and write down that this person made me angry." When you have a chance to record. For example, Sunday, the twentieth of November - this should already be divided into columns. That's how it is with us. For example, 15:00 - I felt irritated. And write why. For example, because the saleswoman gave me expired kefir. Then you ask yourself: "Why did this irritate me?" And what answer comes to you, you write. Because the saleswoman, in my understanding, must fulfill her duties. Monitor product quality. And keep writing. I just gave you this example. Write down your feelings, but briefly, so that later you understand what we are talking about.

And this diary of emotions is useful to re-read. We re-read it once a month. You can do it more often if you want. When you start reading this, especially about those emotions that you have long forgotten, you may begin to have interesting sensations. And you will see that they are repeated. You will see a pattern in the appearance of emotions in certain situations; this already speaks about your deepest beliefs, attitudes in the mental body and the state of your spiritual heart and feelings. If negative reactions and negative emotions predominate in you, then this will already give you a tool on how to change yourself so that negative emotions, as a reaction, stop appearing.

Vladimir: Yes. Thank you Such a short excursion. But it is better, of course, to completely go through the Science of Imagery in all seminars. I'll answer again. You are asking for practice. Friends, today (you may have missed it) we had the practice of materializing desires at the very beginning of our meeting. Of course, we will repeat all this. We have separate meditations related to this. Periodically as part of the Science of Imagery chat. Be there, there will be another one soon next Thursday. And I also want to tell Stella, some time has passed in the chat. Thank you for sharing the arrival of a man in a hood at night and convincing everyone that if a man in a hood comes at night and he takes you somewhere to the Astral, then this is really a reason to get married. It's right that you did this, and he stopped coming. Indeed, this is a very correct decision.

This is already a sign, since someone is already in the Astral in a hood, taking someone somewhere, and it's good with him there, which means you need to get married in the material world. This is right. Wonderful. Let's listen to Dmitry now. You are an active participant in our sixth stream. You can turn on the microphone. Now I will give you the opportunity. We are listening to you. Yes please. Let's listen. Turn on the microphone.

1:34:31 The science of imagery on Esler.

Dmitry: Good evening everyone! All the best! I wanted to ask: Is there some level of mastery in the Science of Imagery? For example, first, second, third. How many classes does it take to comprehend, let's say, primary school, university, academy. Are there any? And the second question. We used a change board, a wish map. Is it possible to use some kind of crystal structures? Some stones, for example. Could the Chintamani stone change or somehow strengthen our thoughts and desires in the Science of Imagery?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) So, that means we have skill levels. If we are talking specifically about the Science of Imagery, which is located in the Interstellar Union and is already integrated into our society, this science begins to be studied within the framework of our school. That's what it's called, the full name of this discipline is "Imaginative thinking and influence on the material world", taking into account, if translated into Russian, taking into account the peculiarities of its perception. This is such a long title. It sounds like this in Russian, but in ours there are understandable words that are approximately the same as yours.

Vladimir: I see. This was already the answer, right?

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Yes. This is an object, as we call it. We study it in three cycles of our school. We have three cycles: initial cycle, middle cycle and release cycle. The Science of Imagery is being studied everywhere. In the initial cycle, when children are still small, we study general laws using the example of, as you say, fairy tales, myths, that is, some of our special literary works, using the example of children's own creativity. We teach them to express their creativity and so on. This includes drawing, writing your own essays, and analyzing figuratively.

In the middle cycle, we already begin to analyze a literary work in order to understand what feelings it will experience in the future, to make a forecast, what images the writer has laid down. This is already at such a more advanced level.

I'm just briefly telling the main points. In the third cycle, a person receives, like this schoolboy, a tool on how to apply this knowledge in practice. Practices, exercises to achieve some specific goals. For example, to find a partner, to talk with his Higher Self, for astral travel, to fulfill one's desires. We have certain practices aimed more at individual work. But here on Earth it can be combined, since we have it for children, you are adults, you can have it combined into one course, but maybe then a repeat course for those who have already practiced this in their lives and who want , for example, becoming a teacher for others.

Vladimir: Thank you!

Dmitry: What about crystal structures?

Vladimir: More about crystal structures.

Dmitry: Can they be used for amplification?

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Yes, of course. It is not of great importance for teaching the Science of imagery, any specific symbols, energies or any substances. These are just tools to strengthen your imagery again for yourself, to believe in it and invest more energy and imagine it more clearly.

Dmitry: Thank you!

1:39:19 Images and mass consciousness.

Vladimir: Okay, thank you! Mead, this was an interesting question, in my opinion: if some aliens on their planet, for example, on the planet in the capital of the Union of Six, Draco, en masse, collectively send some images here so that the situation in our country changes in their direction the way they would like?

So, will they influence us with this, or in order to influence changes in the situation with images, you only need to be in the noosphere of the planet? Of our planet, I mean.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Since images are sent through the Astral, distance does not play any role here. Only their vibrations matter. The first is the level of their vibrations. On a negative-positive scale. To what extent do their vibrations coincide with the vibrations of earthlings? If they coincide, then their vibrations will intensify. For example, if many earthlings have such beliefs, such feelings, such thoughts as the Order of the Six, what will come through the Astral to us, what thought forms, they will strengthen the already existing qualities of earthlings. This is what is called influence in this case.

Vladimir: That is, like attracts like, in short.

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Yes. And second: their strength, their energy and the strength of the energy of earthlings plays a role. If they are weaker energetically, then this influence will be faster.

Vladimir: I see, thank you! Natalya, you just say directly: Mid, fulfill my wish. It needs to be shorter, let's shorten it. To obtain the technique of fulfilling desires, you need to take the entire course of the Science of Imagery and do the practices that are there. Such a short, it won't work out like that. You need to work inside from the word Ra, connecting with the Almighty and everything will be. Fine.

1:41:26 Training on planet Esler.

Vladimir: Mead, tell me, are there representatives of the planet Esler who do not undergo training within the Science of Imagery on your planet? They don't study, poor students.

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Everyone passes. This is included in the school curriculum, which is generally mandatory for every citizen of the planet. How successful? We have teachers who look individually, who don’t just teach a class, but look for an individual approach to the child. Firstly, a group of students in one class cannot be more than seven people. That is, seven people, and if the class is larger, then it is divided into smaller ones, and even other schools are opened.

Vladimir: Yes, yes, let's continue.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Seven people is (according to the calculations of our scientists) the required maximum energy of children with whose energy fields the teacher will be comfortable and productive in working. This is also an exchange of energies. And that’s why we still have an individual approach to everyone. In general, we have a lot of various practical classes at school, including in the Science of Imagery. We begin to talk at school, for example, about our experiences, about our families. We give examples from our life. This can be done by both the teacher and the students. Often the lesson takes place in the form of a conversation, as an exchange of opinions.

As for ratings, we don’t have them as such. Let it be just numbers. We believe that life itself will evaluate a student’s knowledge. But we have so-called offsets. It's like your (roughly, course or exam) tests at the end. The training cycle is divided into several months, in your opinion. And there are offsets. Tests are not in the form of pulling out a ticket, as happens with you, and answering a question, but tests are in the form of a conversation, depending on what other subject. If it is something like spiritual, like the Science of Imagery, for example, then some kind of creative work may be taken into account. Own. Or analysis, for example, of some of your own qualities. Or something else. And it takes place in the form of a conversation, when the student is alone with the teacher, they meet, they have a certain schedule.

Vladimir: Do you have any bad students? Losers. C students.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Yes, the teacher meets with the student, and the student begins to show him his work. Answers the teacher's questions, what it was created for, and so on. There is no rating given in numbers. We think this is pointless. The number doesn't tell you anything. The grade is given indirectly, not in the form of a number, but in the form of advice, a recommendation from the teacher, what the student needs to pay attention to. It is usually given in writing, in the form of several sentences.

Vladimir: Yes. There is an excellent question, I see above. I'll ask this question now. Artem, and you are the next voice.

1:45:42 Interaction of human physical and spiritual structures.

Vladimir: So, the question is this. The structure of the Spirit includes emotions, instincts, thinking, memory, and so on. From a medical point of view, this is the reptilian brain - instincts, the limbic system - emotions, the cerebral cortex - thinking. Question: Is the physical structure the same as the spiritual? For example, we already know, Marina was told that the slides that are formed in our minds, our hypothalamus seems to be responsible for some kind of materialization to occur. But they ask: from this point of view, is there a coincidence of the physical structure with the structure of all our spiritual manifestations? What is responsible for what, in short, in physics, if there is such a thing?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) The brain of the physical body, in general the brain is divided into several zones. The cells in each zone are tuned to a certain level of vibrations or, as you say, electromagnetic waves. We say - spiritual vibrations transformed into these waves, but the essence is the same. They are tuned to a certain level of vibrations, which helps this part of the brain to engage in one or another action. For example, some parts of the brain are responsible for perception, others for memory, and so on.

What does it mean to be responsible for memory? This means that information in energy form is pumped into the memory of the Spirit from these very cells. The brain itself also has a kind of chemical memory, as you already know. When neurons are excited, when electrical signals occur in neurons one after another along a certain neural network, if this neural network is often repeated, then chemical changes are formed in these cells, in the neurons. These chemical changes in proteins change their structure. And these changes in the structure of proteins are that same chemical memory, but it can only be used by the Spirit who is there, his consciousness, which reads this information and transmits it in the form of thoughts specifically to the mind. Each area of the brain is responsible for one or another process, because otherwise the brain will not be able to work.

Vladimir: It's clear in general terms. Thank you!

Irina: (MidgasKaus) The most interesting, as they say, God loves the Trinity.

Vladimir: Questions.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) I congratulate you all!

Vladimir: Yes, three questions.

1:48:52 Prayers to the Mother of God.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) I congratulate you all! Today is the introduction to the Church of the Holy Mother of God! And now, before the three questions that will be our last today, I thank you all for the practice! Now I suggest you take a little break from the questions. Go inside yourself and read a prayer to our dear Mother of God. Close your eyes, repeat mentally. This will help us harmonize, because a lot of time has already passed. We need a little spiritual rest. We repeat mentally with full consciousness and Love.

Rejoice, Virgin Mary,

Blessed Mary, the Lord is with you,

Blessed are You among women and blessed is the fruit of Your womb, for you gave birth to the Savior of our Souls.

Pay attention to how you feel. There is another prayer, the words of which resonate with the vibrations of the Spirit of the Mother of God herself. We repeat mentally.

It is worthy to eat as one truly blesses Thee, Mother of God,

Most Immaculate and Ever-Blessed Mother of our God.

The most honorable Cherub and the most glorious without comparison Seraphim, we glorify God the Word without burning, I am the Mother of God.

Let's take a breath. Let us breathe into ourselves the energy that it sends to us. Let's accept. Thank you and accept! Love and blessings! We consciously direct this energy to increase the vibrations of the surrounding space. We open our eyes. Well, how did you feel?

Vladimir: I thank you for this prayer! I directly felt the flow of this energy. I don't know about the others. They can express their opinion. It was not in vain that they recommended it to us.

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Did you feel her?

Vladimir: I felt the energy, just the third eye.

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Yes, a wave, that's right. This is her energy. So, dear friends, we are now all in a state of, indeed, a cloud of care, grace. That's right. You feel everything right. Your spiritual hearts are attuned to this energy. Yes, flow.

So, we are now choosing from the silence of our heart from the Light that is now in you, we will now analyze ourselves, our mind and ask the three most important questions. The most important ones, perhaps, for you. And let these questions be from the depths of the heart. What do you think is interesting to know not only for you, but for all participants? We have now merged with you in a single stream and feel each other. I ask you to either speak or write.

Vladimir: Artem, I promised you. If you feel that now is the moment, then you can do it.

Artem: Hello! Do you hear me?

Vladimir: We hear.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Yes, hello.

1:53:18 MidgasKaus about his school years.

Artem: Hello! Dear MidgasCaus, please tell me, how was your training in general? I'm very interested to know. How, hard, not hard, or what? What difficulties were there? Please share.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Were you trained by him?

Artem: Yes. At Mead himself.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Yes, indeed, I really loved to study and I really liked the teacher’s attitude. We had a main teacher, who you call the class leader. And there were teachers in the subjects who came to us to impart knowledge. But I really liked the presentation in a simple form. I liked a lot of practical classes and meditations. I also liked the fact that my parents prepared me for school. And when I came, I told them about what was happening there. And we sat down at the table together and shared our school stories with each other. At that time I had already paid attention to Space, to those civilizations that exist among the stars. I have always wanted to visit space worlds. And already at that time I knew that this version of the future would definitely materialize. You will probably call this knowledge of mine faith. But in my Spirit I was completely sure of it.

Artem: Thank you very much!

Vladimir: So, we have people who have now come to Zoom. Very on time, just in time for the start. Fine. Look, Natalya stubbornly insists that they give her the materialization technique right now. Natalya, the entire technique of materialization consists of three seminars, today we have the fourth Science of Imagery. Take the course. Stop insisting that they give you the materialization technique right now. This is a Science of Imagery course. You have to go through it entirely.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Yes.

Vladimir: This is not a smiley face that can be seen, and everything became clear. No. You need to take a course.

Irina: Yes. This knowledge is given in the course. Thank you So, second question. Who wants to ask?

1:55:56 Manifestation of instincts in the Spiritual world.

Vladimir: Now I'll read it after all. A question that I think is interesting in the chat. Instincts are an integral part of the intelligent Spirit. Their manifestations in the material world are clear to us. Okay, I don't quite understand, let's say. But how do they manifest themselves in the Kingdom of God, in the Spiritual world? The Spirit has a spiritual body, and somehow all these qualities of the Spirit, instincts in particular, manifest themselves there, right? Instincts in the Spiritual World.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Instincts remain after incarnation. It is instincts, as a program of life and development in the body. They are read by the Spirit from the DNA of the body and after leaving for the Spiritual world they remain in form, we call this a seal on the heart. This is a special energy, but it has practically no effect on the Spirit, because there is no body that reacts to these energies. Releases certain hormones and so on. Just in the form of memories. But there are no longer such drives, for example, as self-preservation or reproduction. Here it all remains simply in the form of memories. But there is no such attraction, just a physical one.

Vladimir: In general terms it's clear. Thank you! Let us give another opportunity to ask the person who has been waiting for a long time. Vitaly, it's you. You can turn on the microphone. If you feel that your question is important to everyone, please do so.

1:57:35 Protection from negativity.

Vitaly: Thank you! I also have a safety clarification - you cannot harm people using the Science of Imagery. I have this in runic magic, for example, too. And with the help of the Science of imagery, such defenses are put in place. That is, if someone starts to attack you, then this runic formation, together with the images, begins to work against this person. If it goes into defense, does it harm the one who put up such defense? For yourself or for someone else.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Good question. I understand. If magical protection is put in place, that is, in the form of a thought form, you call it magic, we unofficially call magic the physics of the astral world. For you this science is esoteric, for us it is the science of how one can act in the astral world. Why in the astral? Because it is the closest to the material, and magical methods were created not just for protection but to repel some negative influences. There are such magical practices, magical effects on someone, as the same evil as the one caused by another person. It was created for the purpose of not being defensive. For example, I protect myself from negative thought forms aimed at the head area. So that whoever wishes me a headache may get brain cancer.

Vitaly: Oh, well, yeah.

Irina: (MidgasCaus) This defense is also an attack.

Vitaly: I see. And if he has a headache, then that's normal.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) If let this energy that he sent to me be transformed into Light and go to its creator, and increase his awareness, then this is normal protection.

2:00:01 Hypnosis techniques.

Vitaly: This is very deep. And another question about hypnosis. I do a little hypnosis, I was told by contact information that I shouldn't do it, because there are dark hypnosis techniques and there are light ones. Do you have any divisions between dark and light techniques?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) There are no dark and light techniques. There are no dark and light ones that kill and heal.

Vitaly: Oh, I'll clarify then. There are hypnosis techniques and hypnotists who are patronized by demons, for example, from the sixth level and below. ...

Irina: (MidgasKaus) If he is protected by a Demon, he can turn any lightest technique into darkness. It is a question of the importance of his goals. Also any tool that was originally created specifically for evil, for example, weapons. If you remember, there is an expression in the Bible: “Beating swords into ploughshares.” What does it mean? We call evil that which is contrary to life, contrary to Love.

This is an evil profession. So, everything that was created for these purposes, energy was also spent on this. And, by the way, by the way, Divine energy. They took part of the Divine energy, created from it such a substance, such an element or some kind of idea that brings destruction to itself. If you approach this consciously, then this same energy can be redirected for the purposes of good and Light. This will already serve its true purpose, because all Divine energy is given to us so that we can incarnate in that part of the Divine energy that makes up the material world. So that we can incarnate, so that we can be happier precisely in the flow of creation, in the flow of creation. This is what makes us like God, an absolutely happy and loving being.

Vitaly: Got it. Thanks a lot!

2:02:32 Techniques for protecting against negativity.

Vladimir: I would like to ask Mid: can you give me some very simple technique of protection from anything bad in general? They want it quickly and immediately. And then we’ll say goodbye, if so. If not, then next time.

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Yes, of course. The simplest protection technique that does not require extensive visualization skills or image creation.

The first condition for the success of this defense is trust in God. Trusting yourself as part of God. Believe in yourself. Secondly, you protect yourself from something that can harm you for the reason of improving the quality of your incarnation, so as to spend less energy in the future. In general, the word defense itself is not entirely appropriate here. We usually use the word “prevention”. For example, you take some measures in the cold when you put on warm clothes before going out into the cold. But you do this not so much out of fear of frost, but so that you feel comfortable. These are the preventive measures that we use in order to pass this incarnation efficiently. So what can we do?

If you feel that you need protection, that you are weakened, because there are people who do not feel any images, they protect them automatically. Especially those who have strong self-confidence, they simply will not even feel any attacks. If self-confidence is weak, then you need to pay attention to this and create a special image that will help you. Sit in a meditation pose, it is advisable to do this after you wake up, you need to read the mood of the planet Burkhad. The ability of your thoughts to create images, that is, the ability to create mental images will increase your vibrations, imagine a white ball - your spiritual heart.

And then you begin to direct the energies with your inhalation, as you inhale and exhale, imagine that as you inhale, it expands, and as you exhale, the ball begins to shine brighter, as you do on the light body. Only your goal will not be to fly, when it goes beyond the physical, imagine that it is perfectly round, like a sphere, shining with a bright white light. And it covers your entire body from all sides. Its outer edge is below the legs, above the head and at a distance of approximately two meters from the surface of your body on all sides. And imagine that this ball rotates in any direction convenient for you. Not important.

Then pay attention to its top and imagine that a stream of energy flows into this ball, like a waterfall falls from above, that flows down it, not like drops, but strengthens it, that this stream comes from the Spiritual world. It will probably be easier for you to feel this than to explain to Irina now. But in any case, you will feel how this flow flows through the ball and strengthens it with every inhalation and exhalation. Then tell yourself that this protection will remain with you, for example, for a day. And thank your Higher Self for the energies. This ball will actually be created. And nothing will pass through it that is contrary to your vibrations. Why is such protection needed if it doesn't work anyway? Precisely in order to believe in it and not miss anything.

Vladimir: Excellent technique! They asked us to give a short technique, and we gave it. Once again many thanks! Friends, thank you all too! Let's let Irina go already. Thank you all too for your presence! We will be grateful for your financial gifts. No one in the material world has canceled financial energy, as part of energy as a whole. But I also want to tell you honestly, frankly, this will be important, I say this without any hypocrisy, because if you feel that you are giving, expressing gratitude and giving, including financial energy, then it will focus on you in a good way. .

This is all. I am the Universe, the Universe is Me. Without any hypocrisy, hypocrisy and other things. Don't forget about this. You yourself evaluate the value of the knowledge that is now being passed on to you, and the practices that took place today. Please come to the next stream of the Science of Imagery course on Tuesday. Registration in the Science of Imagery chat. In the group on Telegram. There are links everywhere. Thank you, love you! I look forward to seeing you at all our classes and practices. Ira, many thanks! Mid, huge gratitude and appreciation! You can say something else on your own, and we'll say goodbye.

Irina: I thank you all, dear friends, for being you, for existing! Thank you for participating in the Cassiopeia project! I thank our dear Vladimir for his enormous volunteer work! For the journey to the Higher Self of every Soul, which he helps to connect with the Light. I thank you on behalf of all the Souls who have passed and will pass in the future! I also thank each of you for the moral, spiritual and material support of the Cassiopeia project, me personally, and all our masters! All our volunteers, all our people. Thank you for the support of your family and friends! For every kind word you said to someone. It raises the vibrations of our entire planet and brings a bright future closer, and I send you the Light of my Love!

Vladimir: Thank you very much, Ira and Mead! We had a full-fledged open seminar. Just two and a half hours, as expected. I think that it was very important, useful and meaningful for everyone present. Thank you all! See you again on air! All the best!

0:18 Background.

Voice-over: In the summer of 1999, a 13-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than 20 years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:13 Introduction of participants.

Maria: Greetings! My name is Maria Sokalskaya, I am one of the administrators of the Cassiopeia project. Today we have a very interesting meeting about our colony, about the Earth colony that existed many years ago. Today, a wonderful friend of our project, Saint-Germain, will answer our questions. Our favorite contactee Irina Podzorova conveys information from him.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we have with us a representative of the planet Disaru - Saint-Germain. He is our genetic relative, that is, the race of the planet Disaru is exactly the race that was resettled from Venus as a result of a war 12 thousand years ago. He studied the history of this planet, the history of its settlement, and although this happened quite a long time ago, he studied historical chronicles. He communicated (shows) with the Spirits who were embodied there.

02:44 The name of Venus in Tumesout.

Maria: Very interesting, thank you. Please tell me what the inhabitants and the Interstellar Union called their planet?

Irina: When earthlings moved to Venus and Mars (when creating colonies), the generally accepted names for space objects, including Venus, were Tumesout names (specifically for the Interstellar Union). Because they discovered the Earth and were the first to explore the solar system. Venus is called Alliyara in the Tumesout language. This word means “first,” that is, the first from the star. The fact is that at the time of the discovery of the Earth and Venus, it was Venus that was first from the Sun, Mercury was its satellite. The second was the Earth - a planet from the Sun, and the third was the Moon. She was a small planet and the solar system was different. “Alliyara” he says to me, I hear with our sounds.

04:32 Settlement of earthlings throughout the solar system.

Maria: Very beautiful name. Saint Germain, please tell me why and by whom the decision was made to populate Venus? After all, there was no overpopulation on Earth at that point in time.

Irina: No, there was no overpopulation on Earth. It was decided to settle earthlings throughout the solar system and create colonies on suitable planets of the system so that people could populate all the planets and develop into different social institutions. This provided a wider field for development. It was believed at that time that if in some system there are suitable planets for the life of intelligent beings, then only those races that arose in this system are allowed to colonize them, therefore the Earth, Mars, and the Moon.

The moon was small, and even then it practically had no atmosphere. Mars and Venus were located in the “belt of life”. They looked different, were at a different distance from the Sun, and rotated differently. The temperature, humidity and climate were different there. Therefore, these three planets - Earth, Mars and Venus were considered the “belt of life” for earthlings. Therefore, it was decided to populate not only the Earth with an intelligent race, but also to create colonies on two planets, so that initially they would be there and could also develop their society during the development of the main earthly civilization.

06:49 Preparing Venus for the resettlement of people.

Maria: Thank you. Please tell me, was this planet ready for settlement or did the Interstellar Union have to terraform and improve it? And how long did it last, what did you have to do?

Irina: It was not only necessary to terraform it, but to prepare its surface (shows plants, like ferns, only with slightly blue leaves, blue-green). These plants were brought just from one of the planets, Harippi. This is the colony of Tumesout, which is located in the constellation

Sagittarius, on the border of Sagittarius and Capricorn. This plant was brought from this planet and the oxygen levels were increased. Shows how the orbit of Mercury and Venus was stabilized to avoid strong winds and hurricanes. A special impact was applied to the planet's core to calm volcanic activity. There was volcanic activity there and harmful gases were released, such as sulfur dioxide. This was harmonized, including with the plasmoids of this planet. There was already water there (shows the ocean). There was less water than on Earth. There were two small oceans, the main area was occupied by continents (shows mountains). It had its own vegetation, but it was not enough.

08:53 Flora and fauna of Venus.

Maria: Please tell us about the flora and fauna, the continents of this planet, the length of day and night; climatic conditions.

Irina: Questions a little at a time.

Maria: Flora and fauna.

Irina: Flora and fauna consisted of two dozen names. There was not such diversity as on Earth for the reason that life did not develop like that (shows). On Earth it developed with the help of plasmoid civilizations, there was diversity there. Basically the climate was semi-desert. The winds blew, there were deserts, plants - trees with thorns. Some cacti, just like trees - pillars from which thorns grow.

There were plants of the moss family (shows moss under the stones). There were algae and underwater plants. There were no large forests, but then, when the earthlings were resettled, they began to settle there, for example, cedars, that is, coniferous plants. He's showing me eucalyptus now. That is, plants that release a lot of phytoncides and oxygen.

As for animals. There were representatives that looked like an anteater, with an elongated nose, but it was covered with spines.

Maria: Echidna, we probably have such an animal.

Irina: Such needles, and ate insects. There were no ants, but there seemed to be worms, similar to our centipedes. They lived like termites, in an anthill. They did not have wings, they were subterranean.

Maria: Were all animals and plants introduced? There weren't any of your own?

Irina: Yes, there weren’t many species of their own, but there were jellyfish and orange starfish in the ocean. There were octopuses, like our octopuses. Several types of fish. There was more diverse life in the ocean. And on land, due to the fact that there was a drier climate, there was little rain and a lack of moisture. When we arrived there, we had our own views.

As for the continents. There were two large oceans, and the rest was taken up by the mainland. These two large oceans - one was in the south, and the second divided one continent in two. On the other side of the sphere of Venus there were mountains, a mountain range (shows how it rotates). And there was a slight difference between the level of the sea, ocean and the level of the continents; they were not raised by much. There were rivers, there were lakes, but there were fewer of them than on Earth, and they dried up. And yet, the level of trace elements in the ocean was insignificant. If we compare with the Earth's oceans, it was more like freshwater lakes, there was little salt, because the composition was not the same in the crust of Venus.

13:22 Time on Venus. Climate on Venus.

Maria: Okay. Tell me, please, what was the length of the night and day there? How long was the year? Did they have the same chronology system?

Irina: Since Venus was a little further from the Sun, the year lasted approximately 295-297 days, the orbit was elongated, within these limits. Venus revolved faster around the Sun. Its speed was higher, and it rotated faster around its axis. Her day was just over 14 hours. It was less than on Earth.

Maria: But people were able to adapt to these conditions.

Irina: Yes, they were able to adapt to these conditions, because even when they lived on Earth, there were also different climatic zones, meaning by time of day. Somewhere it was a long day, somewhere it was short. Just like it was now. There are areas where the Sun does not rise at certain times of the year. This happened, it just didn’t affect the climate, it was warm, there was no snow. Even at the poles there was a small sunny day, but the Sun rose, and due to the tilt of the earth's axis it was more night. There was a period conventionally called winter, but there was no snow there. The Earth was closer to the Sun.

And on Venus, people adapted, because over a long period of existence after the resettlement, people began to divide into clans. When new people were born, they no longer knew anything else, they adapted.

Maria: Tell me, please, was there a change of seasons, like on our planet in some zones?

Irina: Yes, there was a drier period and there was a rainier period, but there was no drop in temperature below +10 degrees. Even at the poles, in the coldest months, in the coldest seasons, this was the minimum temperature, and in the temperate and tropical zones the temperature was higher.

17:05 Venus and the Intergalactic Union.

Maria: Thank you. Saint Germain, please tell me, was Venus part of any Galactic or Intergalactic Union at the time of the heyday of this civilization?

Irina: No, they didn't. They developed themselves. They did not have the socio-technical development for independent flights. They developed as a civilization on their planet. Firstly, there were no requests to join, and secondly, more development time had to pass before this civilization could be included.

Before any civilization can be included in the Interstellar Union or the Galactic Federation of Light, it is necessary that a certain number of years have passed since the formation of the civilization. There is no strict period - one million years or two million years, but that they go through certain stages of social evolution.

18:16 Process of relocation to Venus.

Maria: This is my next question. Please tell me what political and social system existed? Were there divisions into countries and languages?

Irina: By the time Selbet attacked? Because she changed there.

Maria: Can you trace what kind of development they went through? The same as on our planet, or at an accelerated pace?

Irina: When the first 20 thousand people were transported, they were already transported to ready-made cities. The cities were small, and buildings were built there (shows a circle, the streets for some reason go in a spiral). They were built using Tumesout technologies. In some places these were pyramidal houses, and in others they were round buildings. People were transported and the necessary tools were left with them; Plants and animals were also transported. In total (names) 580 species. Including fish, insects, birds, plants and animals. They took volunteers, those who wanted to fly to another planet themselves, and explained this as moving to another world, which is located in heaven, in the sky.

Maria: They didn't yet have the idea that this was another planet?

Irina: The word "planet" itself in its modern meaning did not yet exist. The word "planet" now exists as a celestial body made of solid matter that revolves around the Sun. At that time there was no such system of the world. The system was based on energy. You'd probably call it mythological, but these were certain worlds. People called them "islands in the ocean of the Universe," so to speak. They even compared flying from planet to planet to swimming in the ocean.

This is understandable. People at that time did not have their own space technology, and all they saw were contacts with various races flying from the sky. They formed the opinion that these are the creatures that are closer to God. And those 20 thousand volunteers who flew to Venus were perceived by those who remained on Earth as "their Gods taking them away."

Subsequently, those who lived on Venus began to ask representatives of the Interstellar Union for space technology in order to visit Earth. There were even regular flights between Venus, Earth and Mars, so that everyone could visit their planet and make sure that everything was in order there. Because as generations passed, it was believed that life on the Earth of their ancestors was a legend.

Those wishing to visit Earth reported to the Interstellar Union. There was a base on Venus (shows), and the planet Burkhad, and the planet Tumesout. There were contactees there. They reported that they wanted to visit planet Earth. Due to the fact that the atmosphere on Venus was transparent, the stars were visible from Venus, and the Earth was visible.

23:08 Political and social systems on Venus.

Irina: As for the political and social structure, it resembled the system in India, but not such a rigid caste system. Eventually, a varna system developed where a group was responsible for every social action. Recently, there were 12 rulers, who were called princes. By the time of the move to Disara, the entire populated part of Venus was divided into 12 regions. I would not call them countries in the modern sense of the word. Like principalities. They did not have a flag, an anthem, separate monetary units, or a language. There were just dialects.

Maria: Was power inherited or was it in the electoral system?

Irina: The power of these princes?

Maria: Yes.

Irina: The power of these princes was inherited, but not always. Sometimes the prince could see that one of the people corresponded to his post after his death more than his son, for example. He could have installed it by decree. They did not have a strict monarchy. Sometimes it was inherited, because the children who were born to princes were trained to rule. But he could refuse, he could go into another position, profession, become, for example, a craftsman or a sailor. He is showing me now, there were ships that sailed on the sea.

Maria: Okay, thank you. That is, this is no longer a communal-tribal system, but, one might say, a feudal one.

Irina: There were no slaves there, everyone was free, like owners. They did not have a period of slavery. Rather, it resembles a community of free owners who live on the land, live in nature. Their economy was more based on their farming and crafts, just as there was such a period on Earth. But on Earth he went through wars over land, over capturing slaves. This was not the case on Venus; there everyone lived more in understanding and friendship.

26:06 Commodity-money relations on Venus.

Maria: Was there trade or was there an exchange in kind?

Irina: There were several monetary units. Like in ancient times on Earth, there were just pieces of metal. There was silver, and there was, as you call it, not just an iron alloy, but like pure iron - a silvery metal. Long ingots were also made from it. There were special smelters where they melted it. They built it initially with the help of specialists from the Interstellar Union, and then supported it.

There were special blacksmiths who studied with aliens, like Gods. Maybe you have heard that in some countries there is a blacksmith god or a fire god who taught people blacksmithing. This suggests that some aliens specifically created technologies that could be transferred to people, taking into account their social and social structure and the possibility of development.

You may ask, why not immediately give what the Interstellar Union had? But there was no point in this, because it was important for us to foster the independence of civilization on Venus, on Earth, and on Mars. We wanted, like the majority of the Interstellar Union, to observe it at the birth of civilization, to help it, but within the framework of its development. That is, technologies that could lead to a violation of independence are not given. They simply help them achieve what they could achieve on their own, but they need help. And what they still cannot do due to lack of knowledge, scientific paradigms, and so on, they do not give, but wait until society develops itself.

Maria: Society itself must reach each stage of its development. I apologize, not Hermes, but Hephaestus - the God of blacksmithing.

28:57 Stages of human language development.

Maria: Did I understand correctly that there were no different languages, but there were dialects?

Irina: Yes.

Maria: What language was used on Venus?

Irina: When they were brought, they used one of the dialects of that language, which was simplified Tumesout. Over millions of years, the simplified Tumesoutan that was originally on Earth has broken down into dialects.

Maria: Tumesout is a proto-language.

Irina: Remember when the first people were formed?

Maria: And they were given the languages of aliens - Semitic languages.

Irina: Yes, they later became Semitic languages. When the first people were formed, they were at first children; all objects were named to them in simplified Tumesout, created specifically for communication. There were only words that reflected the concepts that were on their planet, on Earth. But words that denoted galactic concepts, concepts of quantum physics, were not introduced there. Including writing (shows hieroglyphs, but they did not have many dashes).

Each sound denoted a specific figure. It could be a triangle, it could be a square, a square with a dot, for example, or a circle with a dot. What we call cryptograms were also created. And 200 thousand years ago, when the migration to Venus had already occurred, this Tumesoutian, which was widespread in the first centuries after the creation of man, was divided into many dialects. In some of them little remains of the Tumesout language itself. Because when people began to disperse across the Earth, they acquired new words and the words they pronounced changed their sounds. Thus, the language was formed.

And yet, you have already been told about this, that among these original tribes, priests stood out - contactees, including with plasmoid civilizations, who created their own language, each syllable of which denoted some concept. This already began then, even before the war, even before the resettlement to Venus. Even then, secret languages began, which were called cryptograms. There were special badges. At that time, books were written on special sheets made from plants (shows: plant bark was processed). Although people did not eat meat and were vegetarians, they could easily go hunting for sacrifices to the Gods when the priests told them so. They could take the skin from there to create a book.

33:15 Nutrition of people. Domestication of animals.

Irina: Eating meat at that time caused them to get sick. They might have tasted it as a sacred food of the Gods, some tribes, not all.

Maria: Indigestion.

Irina: They had a liver disorder, the amount of nitrogen compounds in the blood could increase and even lead to kidney failure. Quite a serious situation. This food was dangerous for them. Some may have consumed bird eggs, but there was no domestication process like there is now. People interacted more with animals in the wild. If there were any cases when they took a cub home and tamed it, this was on a smaller scale than, for example, after the war 12 thousand years ago.

Then more widespread domestication began. Just on Venus and Mars, due to the migration of animals and people together, animals at one time stayed very close to people. Even wild species (shows a small deer, like a roe deer, and the ancestor of modern goats, they also existed, milk was taken from them). Milk could be consumed by people. They also took wool for clothing. People on Venus and Mars domesticated these animals more, because the animals were more eager to converge with people than to scatter around the planet. It was a foreign planet for them, and the animals also feel threatened by this. They stayed close to people, and so people began to domesticate animals and create special rooms for them.

35:47 Preserved elements of the Tumesout language.

Maria: Thank you. Saint Germain, please tell me, returning to the question of language, is it possible to say that modern Hebrew or Arabic languages are similar in sound to Tumesout?

Irina: Some words are similar, the roots of words may be similar. For example, the same Elohim. -El, -al, in which there is “e” or “a” in front, and a soft “l” behind, meant “the one who came,” that is, an alien. And then it was like “an alien from the sky.” The second meaning of this word was “God”, “Almighty”, “Strong”, that is, the meanings have already begun to change. But the root remained.

Maria: The melody of the language has been preserved, are there any common features?

Irina: Yes, yes.

37:05 Worldview of the Venusians.

Maria: Thank you very much. Tell me, please, what religion and worldview existed on the planet?

Irina: There was no religion in the usual sense of the word, as a collection of believers in one religion. It was more like an individual path of conscience. Every person communicated with God in the Soul, but there were no religious formations. There were separate attempts by priests to build the worship of Gods and plasmoid civilizations. But people looked at them like “what is this for if we can communicate ourselves?” They were more sensitive. At the time when they were separated, due to the stress of parting with their home planet, they began to develop psychic abilities that you would call extrasensory, like astral travel, communication with the Spirits of nature. All this has already happened on Earth, and on Venus it continued. Therefore, they did not follow the priests, did not go to make sacrifices to them. Each person believed that he himself could communicate.

Maria: Very interesting. On the other hand, was the cult of deification of aliens as Gods who came from heaven still supported?

Irina: Supported, but in the form of respect. Like respect for older brothers. There was no such thing as sacrifices being made or temples being built in their honor. There was respect, they were called Gods, but there were practically no cults of worship.

Maria: So they didn’t create any myths, but communicated as with older brothers?

Irina: Yes, without rituals, without anything. According to historical chronicles, he shows me that when the ship landed on a square in the middle of a Venusian city or village, people gathered around, but it was not like they brought sacrifices or gifts. They could bear fruit, but there was no such thing as fanaticism.

Maria: There was no fear?

Irina: No, they were calm, they passed on legends to their children, the knowledge that it was aliens who resettled them from another planet. Then they didn't call it a planet - from another world, from another star. The earth was visible like a star.

40:24 Preparations for the resettlement of people to the planet Venus.

Maria: It's interesting to know how the volunteers were selected and what they were told? How were they persuaded to move?

Irina: They showed Venus. The preparation of Venus began a hundred thousand years before the migration. In the region of 350 thousand years, they began to prepare the surface of Venus, began to reduce volcanic activity, change the distance from Venus to Mercury, the period of their circulation by special gravitational waves (shows how the wave comes from the ship - this changes the gravitational filling of space).

When the surface of Venus was ready, there were people who were trained by aliens. They voluntarily came to the place where the base was, and there they learned what space is. They were told what constellations existed, that the aliens themselves lived on this or that star.

They showed the planet Venus. They started talking about the fact that this is the same planet as the Earth (shows that they were shown films). The screen was not indoors, but in the middle of a field. It showed how Venus was gradually approaching and what was there on the surface. They said that if there were volunteers who would move there, they would be able to make this planet a second Earth, just as prosperous, and help it develop. They said in the same vein that every planet has a Soul, every planet is alive and wants people to live on it and ennoble it with their energy, their Love.

Maria: I have no doubt that in our civilization there were pioneers, there were dreamers who wanted to bring this wonderful idea to life.

Irina: He also talks about Mars.

43:26 Life expectancy on Venus. Chakra system.

Maria: Please tell me what the average life expectancy was, for example, at the beginning of the resettlement and then, at the time of resettlement to Disara. Has life expectancy increased?

Irina: Life expectancy when moving to Venus was in the region of 400 to 700 years. This was the average spread. After moving to Disara, she remained almost the same. There were bodies that were subject to just such a period of life, plus the energy of Venus itself, its noosphere contributed to the presence of the Spirit in its field for precisely such a period of time.

Maria: Tell me, please, Saint-Germain, has the chakra system of earthlings changed?

Irina: No, I haven't changed. The astral atmosphere also consisted of seven layers - seven floors, and there were seven chakras. The filling of these seven floors of the Astral, the energy itself and its frequency corresponded to being in embodiment for such a period of time. It was for this period of time that those plasmoid civilizations that provided material for the construction of bodies were tuned. Any body, when it is born, any Spirit that is born in a body, takes material to build its body from the environment. It is clear that this depends on the mother's body, or through food, but this is an external physical process.

On an energetic level, this looks like balance. Those elements that the Spirit took to build the body are given to it for a certain period of time, which is taken into account, among other things, in the sphere of action of plasmoid civilizations. They have a special charter. It is not written anywhere, it is an energy sphere that contains matrices for any process on the planet, including the incarnation of intelligent Spirits. This exists on any planet where there is a biosphere - on Earth, on Disara, on Burkhad, and so on. Those plasmoid civilizations that existed then on Earth and Venus allocated material for bodies for such a period of time for incarnation. This was also taken into account when calculating the timing of incarnation in the Spiritual world. This was agreed upon between representatives of plasmoid civilizations and between representatives of the Spiritual World, consultants, Angels, who had an agreement among themselves on how many Souls to send and for how long. Plasmoids had the material for their embodiment. But I explain this in a very simplified way.

47:18 The noosphere of the planet and its relationship with the worldview of the population.

Maria: Okay, I understand. Tell me please, do the conditions that are created for plasmoids depend on the balance of the planet's noosphere?

Irina: Yes, of course, they depend on the balance of the noosphere. The lighter the noosphere, the less aggression, fear, and guilt there are in it, the more plasmoids receive from Spirits embodied in the dense matter of Light. The fact is that the denser the matter, the stronger the energy emanates from it, like power. The Light itself remains the same, but the power of the flow increases. Because the density of matter itself gives this flow density. Density is an earthly word, there is a slightly different process, but I am speaking figuratively.

Maria: I understand what you mean.

Irina: Did you understand him?

Maria: I understood him very well. That is, on Venus the balance in the noosphere was quite high.

Irina: Yes, and on Earth there was a high balance, wars were very rare, and the killing of some people by others was also very rare. I'm saying that even the killing of animals was very rare. This also, although to a lesser extent, affects the noosphere. Especially those methods of killing that are used out of compassion if the animal is suffering. They also have a Soul, and it also suffers. The release of her emotions also lowers the vibrations of the noosphere, to a lesser extent than human ones, because the animal is less aware of what is happening. She is less aware, which means she has less fear and less anger. But that's all there is.

At that time there were also hunters, there were few of them, and they respected the process itself. Since this was a sacrifice to the Gods, the animal acted as an intermediary between the Gods - plasmoids and humans. The animal was treated with respect, not just as food, as a resource, but as a living Soul that sacrificed itself for the sake of contact with God. They thanked him, there were special rituals (shows how they pray). This all cleared the noosphere.

Wars between people, which generate, in addition to the energy of suffering from murder, a lot of aggression, fear and anger, as well as despondency of those relatives - children, wives and mothers who were left without their breadwinners, this can continue for several decades after the war. They continue to radiate negativity. All this greatly lowers vibrations, namely wars.

Maria: Can we say that they understood very well the laws of the Universe, interaction, the existence of plasmoids?

Irina: Yes, of course. They were explained that these are Spirits of nature, forces of nature, they are intelligent. People developed this themselves, felt it themselves. There were teachers from the Interstellar Union who specially flew in, studied a dialect of a language, and came into contact as contactees were. There were also physical contactees. Back then there were even more physical contactees who were more suitable according to the parameters.

Maria: On energy.

Irina: Yes, in terms of energy parameters than now. There was no hidden contact, as there is now, because there were no security agencies, armed forces, structures that could use the contactee as a lever of pressure on the Interstellar Union to provide military technologies, technologies of rapid thermonuclear fusion, which may benefit you temporarily, but later fall into the wrong hands.

Maria: That's right, we know about it. Thank you. Very interesting and important information to think about, how everything is interconnected and influences each other. Can we say about this civilization that they were lacto-vegetarians?

Irina: Yes.

Maria: They did not lower their vibrations by killing animals or by being aggressive.

Irina: They could have done it for the sake of a sacrifice to the plasmoids, but this was accompanied by prayers, this was accompanied by sending Light to the Soul of the animal and increased vibrations. That is, there was compensation - the decrease in vibrations of the Earth's noosphere at the moment of suffering from murder was compensated by sending Light to the Soul.

Maria: They did it consciously.

Irina: Yes, they were trained. The priests taught them. There were rather not priests, but sages. Teachers who did not demand worship. This happened on Earth, and on Venus, and on Mars. There was one culture. Venus already had its own specifics after the resettlement, but those people who moved, they transferred exactly the earthly culture, they transferred exactly the earthly ideas about how society should develop at that moment in time when they were on Earth.

Maria: Thank you very much.

53:34 Life expectancy and vibration level of society.

Irina: About plasmoids. The more light energy is allocated to plasmoids, the longer they are ready to allocate matter for the construction of the atoms of the body and the maintenance of this embodied Spirit. They have such an agreement with the Spiritual world that the more a high-vibration society is created on this or that planet, the more the plasmoids are fed from this, enjoy life, and the more they give in return the opportunity to live on this planet.

Maria: Actually, this is natural. Naturally, those people and their bodies who bring Light, bring development, naturally, it makes sense to maintain their existence longer.

Irina: In societies where low vibrations predominate, the threshold of life is considered to be 120 years. If the average life expectancy on the planet is less than this time, this is considered critically low vibrations for plasmoid civilizations. That's how they look. For example, you know, many contactees with plasmoid civilizations tell earthlings that you have critically low vibrations. There are contactees who convey this.

Maria: I think even an uninitiated person can understand and see this, even a materialist.

Irina: Compared to what it was 100, 200, 300 years ago, vibrations are increasing. But there is some inertia when we must consciously give Light to plasmoids before they begin, through other agreements with the Spiritual World, to give elements for a longer period of incarnation.

Maria: Can we say that all the centenarians that we have on the planet, who live 100 years or more, do they have very good contacts and agreements with plasmoids?

Irina: Yes, naturally, if a Spirit incarnates, for which the period of incarnation should be a vital task, the plasmoids are made aware of this. And even if it is a low-vibration Spirit, it can also incarnate. His angels can come into contact with plasmoids and themselves provide him with this energy, as you say “spiritual credit”. That is, to provide the energy of Love to these plasmoids themselves so that they can help this Spirit to be in incarnation longer, so that it can come to awareness, and do in one incarnation what it planned to do in several. But if he begins to lower his vibrations, both the Angels and the plasmoids may change their minds.

Maria: Yes, we know about it. We have many ways to bring the Spirit out of incarnation.

Irina: The incarnation of a person, the incarnation of the Spirit into a human body is not such a simple process.

Maria: We understand too. This is a complex, multi-level and interesting process.

Irina: Yes.

57:03 Appearance and clothing of Venusians.

Maria: Saint-Germain, please tell me what these people looked like? What were they wearing? How can you imagine them?

Irina: They looked taller than modern ones. Approximately, by the time they moved to Venus, their height was about 2.5 meters. By the time they moved to Disara, their growth remained virtually unchanged. Already on Disaru it began to decrease due to greater gravity. Gradually he began to change. It became difficult for them to be in this growth, and by directed mutations they slightly accelerated the birth of shorter people.

Maria: Adapted to the conditions.

Irina: Yes, they adapted it to their conditions. The skin color was lighter, white (shows). But it was not like the Burkhadians, but was white and pink.

This is how they dressed at that time. And on Earth, and on Venus, and on Mars there were natural fabrics that were made from plants (shows how craftsmen immersed special plants in a vat of water, crushed them, mixed them, then dried them and glued them together with special glue to form fabric).

Maria: Interesting technology.

Irina: There were plants that contained adhesives, where particles of crushed plants were glued together.

Maria: There were no such technologies for fabrics on Earth. I know that paper appeared at some point in time. Fabrics were woven from various fibers of plant or animal origin.

Irina: Yes, and there it was (shows the same animal fur). Threads were made from it, and clothes were made from these threads. But these were various loose robes or like skirts with outerwear. This is roughly how modern eastern peoples dressed on Venus – loose clothing, it was not customary to wear trousers. This is the kind of clothing that gives freedom of movement.

01:00:09 Education system on Venus.

Maria: Thank you, very interesting. Please tell us what types of art were developed? Has something different from the earthly arts emerged?

Irina: We also painted songs, poems, versification, and pictures. Literature was represented by legends, stories about the Earth as history. Science in its modern form, as it now exists on Earth, did not exist. This was knowledge about the world that was passed on not in schools, where you had to go, but at will. The family could send their children to school or teach them themselves. There was no such strict rule.

Maria: Was the education system for the younger generation?

Irina: It was just the same spiritual sage who passed on knowledge. And he didn't have lessons of 45 minutes or an hour for each subject. They came, the lessons resembled conversations, the students could sit until the evening. And the next day they could sit for a few hours and go home. This is a free visit.

Maria: I think many of our children would really like such a system. They would love to go.

Irina: All lessons were in the form of questions and answers, like conversations. For example, they could come to a lesson where they talked about the world around them. The teacher begins to ask: "What do you know about this? Maybe you have some questions? And first he answered questions, and then he talked about the world order.

01:01:56 Construction and industry on Venus.

Maria: Interesting system. Please tell me, did I understand that developed industry did not exist? Although metals were already used, there were some technologies.

Irina: Metals were also used on Earth (shows chariots). There were already chariots that carried people. Harnessed camels, horses. Due to the arid climate, camels were transported almost immediately. We traveled on these carts.

There were also tools for cultivating land and working stone. Various stone carvers. On Venus, as on Mars, there was an acute shortage of trees; they were transported there, they had to grow, and they often got sick there. The soil was not quite ready for earthly plants, and they were weakened; the plants were constantly supported by representatives of the planet Burkhad with special substances, but, nevertheless, there was a ban on cutting down for the construction of new houses. Therefore, houses were built only later.

After new generations began to develop, dwellings were most often built from stones (shows how stones are stacked on top of each other so that a semicircular roof is formed). So that these stones fit into each other, grooves were cut out, there were such carvers. There were even some (shows a large stone, like a mountain, inside, like in a cave, they made something like a pyramid, that is, they cut out windows). There were such tools. There were practically no weapons. Due to the fact that there were no wars, weapons were practically not produced. And there were even few crimes. That is, they all lived in greater harmony.

Maria: You can roughly imagine how it was in Ancient Rome, at this level.

01:04:46 Sewage systems, water pipes on Venus.

Maria: Were there any communications, communication systems, sewers, water pipes?

Irina: Naturally, this was all done before the resettlement. Each new settlement was provided with water and sewer systems with the help of the alien civilizations that lived there. They helped them in such a way that there was no water shortage or any diseases. Help was provided with this. There were special reservoirs where water came from rain and was extracted from the soil. In this way, the water was collected and transferred to the houses (shows how the pipes go). There was no heating there, since there was no negative temperature in the areas where people lived. Sewage - there were also special reservoirs where human waste was received, a special microbiological environment was maintained there so that there was no pollution of nature.

Maria: Everything is arranged very wisely. It is very interesting to imagine this civilization, how they lived.

01:06:17 Level of development of civilization on Venus.

Maria: Please tell me, according to the 30-level system of civilization development, what level were they at?

Irina: By the time the Selbetites attacked them, they had prototypes of steam engines, one might say. This is what they themselves created. This is approximately the 4th level of technical civilization, between the third and fourth levels. They already had prototypes of steam engines, like on ships. There were no minerals such as coal and oil, but there were special ones for steam engines. At one time, in temperate latitudes there existed areas reminiscent of your swamps. Something like peat, made of moss, accumulated there. It was used to build an engine that heated water by combustion. There was little energy compared to the earth's peat. There was little of it, but this is how they developed.

Maria: We have an idea: if we are now at the 12th level of development, out of 30 possible, then they were at the 3rd or 4th.

Irina: Between the 3rd and 4th, like a transition.

01:08:21 The fate of Venus after the war 12 thousand years ago.

Maria: Saint Germain, please tell me why no decision was made to restore and populate Venus after its destruction 12 thousand years ago? Did you decide to resettle the survivors to Disara?

Irina: Why wasn't such a decision made then? Because they were engaged in the restoration of the Earth. At first, for the first few decades, they were busy restoring the Earth, and there was no such plan to restore Venus. All forces and resources were directed to Earth as the main civilization.

And subsequently no one even agreed on this (among the inhabitants of my planet Disaru themselves). They stayed to live on Disaru. Much later, in the last couple of thousand years, groups appeared that want to restore Venus. And at that time they quickly joined the Interstellar Union, and the planet Disaru suited them quite well. On the planet Disaru, closer to the core of the Galaxy, the sky is lighter, part of the core of the Galaxy is visible and very beautiful at night. And the planet itself also has a mild climate, on top there are round blue lakes, a lot of greenery, a lot of flowers, it already had its own biosphere. That's why they stayed there to develop. Neither the inhabitants of Disaru themselves nor the Interstellar Union raised such a question.

01:10:28 Possible future of Venus and Mars.

Maria: Okay, thank you. And a final question. We already know from previous conversations with our interstellar friends that the inhabitants of your planet and the Interstellar Union itself do not exclude the restoration of Venus after our planet Earth joins the Interstellar Union. I would like to hear from you what hopes and expectations are associated with the new colonization and restoration of this planet? How do you imagine new colonization and life on this planet?

Irina: After the Earth joins the Interstellar Union, some public figures of the Interstellar Union have plans to restore Mars and Venus. Plans to create the same civilizations as were created 200 thousand years ago. They want to invite people from Earth, and move from Disaru to Mars, to Venus. To create a common thing so that both earthlings and the inhabitants of Disaru live together like brothers and sisters. It is in the plans of some public figures (including from the planet Disaru) that the three planets - Mars, Earth and Venus will become the fulfillment of the original plan that was intended for them. Three planets.

The number 3 is considered as the active principle of the Universe, the action of energy. This is considered by some representatives of the Interstellar Union as an opportunity to include new energy in the Solar System, which will enable earthlings, united with the inhabitants of the planet Disaru again into one common family, to be one of the main driving races in the Galaxy, as its energy engine. Such are the moods.

Maria: I agree with you that each new planet, as we know, is a living being, these are the plasmoid worlds that inhabit it, this is the plasmoid of the planet itself. The development of a new planet is like the emergence and development of a new person, a new intelligent being. I think that when we get to this point, there will be a lot of people who will also be inspired by this idea. They will invest their energy, their Love and their efforts for the restoration and development of these planets. I can even imagine that in my future incarnations I may decide to also incarnate on these planets and help develop and improve them.

01:14:12 Legends about Earth, Venus and Mars.

Irina: By the way, there were moonlit nights on Venus, and Mercury was there. Both Mercury and Earth were the two brightest objects in the night sky. My distant ancestors and the distant ancestors of other citizens of Disaru admired the Earth in the night sky like a blue diamond. Among the inhabitants of the planet Venus there were many people who dealt with minerals. By the way, there are large reserves of precious stones (shows diamonds, sapphires), because there was volcanic activity. They found diamonds and specially processed them into some semblance of earthly diamonds, painting them with special dyes in a bluish color. It was a symbol of the Earth. They told the children and talked among themselves that this is our Motherland - the Earth, like a beautiful blue diamond floating on the endless black ocean of the Universe. And they conveyed their Love to the Earth.

Maria: It was called “atinat”?

Irina: Yes, they compared it to a diamond, because it was very visible. Earth and Venus were closer than they are now. In the night sky of Venus, the Earth shimmered much brighter than Sirius now. Also such a bluish color. It didn't blink, it just shimmered. Therefore, the name “blue diamond” is characteristic of the Earth for many races.

People on Venus sent their Light of Love to the Earth and felt the Light in return. Now it remains in legends in the form that Venus is the sister of the Earth. It was no coincidence that Venus was named after the Goddess of Love, due to the fact that there were no wars there.

There had already been fighting on Mars, warring factions, and it was because of this contrast that it was named after the God of War. There were groups that began to fight among themselves (there was such a period of time) for the herds of animals that gave them milk and wool, there was not even meat. Nevertheless, there were such cases.

Because of this contrast, the two planets, which were on opposite sides of the Earth (one closer to the Sun, the other farther, and the Earth was in the middle), were named in such a contrasting way. One is in honor of the Goddess of Love, and the second is in honor of the God of War. This is also no coincidence.

Maria: Very beautiful allegory. Beautiful imagery.

Irina: In legends there is a legend that the Goddess of Love - Aphrodite (if you look at the prototypes of Roman Venus, this is the Greek Aphrodite) became the wife of Ares or Mars in Rome. This legend does not speak about the fact that they actually got married, but about the desire of people to unite these two planets, these two peoples, so that the Goddess of Love would convey to the God of War her Love, her peace, her peace, and the God of War would convey to the Goddess of Love his activity, his courage so that there is harmony.

Maria: Harmonize them. But, as you said, they already had communications, they already had communication between these two planets.

Irina: Yes, but they named it later, that is, in honor of all this.

Maria: A very beautiful legend. Thank you very much for your story, we are very interested in learning about our colonies. At the next meeting we will get to know our other colony a little more - Mars.

Irina: Okay.

Maria: Thank you on behalf of our project, on behalf of our participants. Thank you for all the information that I hope will help us better understand our civilization and the prospects for our development.

01:20:44 Noosphere as protection of the planet.

Irina: I'll emphasize this right away. I will say more about this in our conversation about Mars. Due to the fact that the inhabitants of Venus accumulated more positive energy in the noosphere, even the inhabitants of Selbet, who attacked it, failed to destroy most of the inhabitants. Space itself stood in their way. Mars was the first to be defeated due to the fact that Mars accumulated more aggressive energies than Venus. It was almost completely destroyed. This is also significant, because planets, for example, Phaethon, which died, were not the home planet for the bases located there. She died protecting the terrestrial planets where people were located.

As for the rescued inhabitants, the most rescued inhabitants were from Venus. A little less - from Earth. And there is nothing left from Mars (he says this is his personal opinion, but this is also no coincidence).

Maria: There is nothing accidental at all.

Irina: This is also no coincidence, such a distortion.

Maria: This is a pattern of the laws of the Universe, energy laws.

Irina: However, the oceans evaporated on both Venus and Mars, they went into space. And the Earth remained the only stronghold of people in the solar system. Your blue diamond continues to shine in the vastness of space and delight our entire Galaxy. Over the past few thousand years, the Light has become dimmer, but now every day it flares up with the same intensity. And I send you the Light of my Love, so that in the hearts of each of you it never fades away and leads you to a new world, first of all in your hearts, which will then help you create the Kingdom of God, the Kingdom of Heaven around you.

Maria: Thank you, my friend, for such wonderful words. And I am sure that over time we will begin to light up more and more precious stones like our planet, like Venus, like your Motherland on the canvas of our Galaxy. Thank you, see you again.

Irina: See you again, friends! Thank you everyone!

#404 Conference with the Spirit of Nikola Tesla on scientific issues. Extracting energy from space (part 1).

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=o9vwI0eJ_Dc

00:19 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we have a very interesting conference dedicated to physics and technology. We decided to invite for this conversation the Spirit of Nikola Tesla, who, as you remember, was already with us live. We asked the curators to invite him to talk with experts who work in the same field in which he worked a hundred years ago. A century has passed.

Present here: our curator, representative of the planet Burhad - Raom Tiyan, a specialist in energy interactions and the Spirit of Nikola Tesla. They are ready to answer questions and harmonize with each other, that is, to provide information from the point of view of the science of the Interstellar Union. This will make it easier to explain.

Raom Tiyan says: “I greet you all!” Nikola watches with interest and says: “Greetings!”

Alexander: Hello.

Irina: Alexander will ask questions.

Alexander: I salute you, Nikola Tesla. "A famous person" - as people say. They respect you and appreciate the contributions you have made. "The man who created the 20th century."

Irina: Smiling.

Alexander: Many people admit this, and we are among them. We deeply appreciate the legacy you left behind.

Irina: He puts his hand to his chest and nods. Thanks.

Alexander: Until the moment when the world became more open and the Internet appeared, information about you was closed for many reasons. You probably know the reasons. We are only now touching upon the knowledge you left behind. There are many enthusiasts on Earth who are trying to repeat your experiments, trying to create models based on your patents: the QEG generator, the quantum field generator and your other inventions. We are also trying to make some models using the knowledge that came from you.

Irina: I am very glad and can answer your questions.

Alexander: Thank you. I would like to ask questions about several experiments that we are conducting. We are interested in the nature of these phenomena. To create and control devices, it is important to deeply understand their nature.

Irina: I agree. Without understanding the nature of the phenomena being studied, it is impossible to create any long-lived inventions, because their work will be hampered by the lack of knowledge of this phenomenon and the unpredictability of laws that have not yet been discovered by you.

Alexander: Yes, yes. This is what prevents it. Enthusiasts around the world, as we can see, thanks to the fact that the world has become interpenetrated in terms of information, are creating generators based on your patents.

I have already said that, based on the quantum generator patent, people all over the world have repeated these mechanisms, but here too there is a lot of complexity. That is, people understood something, but things did not go further. It is very difficult, as it seems to them, to create large industrial facilities on these principles. I believe that this is not the way it is presented here. I believe that this is possible, the main thing is to understand nature.

Irina: (Nikola Tesla) After disincarnation, when I left my body and am at the fifteenth level of the Spiritual World, I continued to think about the ideas that I tried to embody “in metal.” But when I connected with my Spirit (it was the Soul), I gained the knowledge that I had before the incarnation, no longer in the form of intuition, intuitive understanding. I also had contact, like a vision (shows).

I understood where this was coming from. And all the time in the material world that has passed since my disincarnation, I also thought about these inventions and how they could be improved, improved, including through contacts with people.

I have already said that I have many contacts among scientists (shows engineers). Those who understand the topic, know the terminology, formulas, and who can receive information. Who has knowledge in memory. From me they receive additional advice and recommendations so that new ideas can be implemented (he shows a mobile phone). This is based on experiments in radio communications. I conducted experiments on the transmission of electric fields at a distance without wires and radio waves, even before Marconi and Popov.

Alexander: We know that.

Colleague Alexandra: What is necessary to become your contactee?

Irina: Do you want to become his contactee?

Alexander's colleague: I want to help Alexander become a contactee.

Alexander: Maybe I'm not the most important specialist in this field.

Irina: The contactees that I have (this is contact with the Spiritual world, because Tesla is in the Spiritual world) coincide with me in vibration. Let me remind you that everything in the world has its own vibration, wave function, the Universe is wave-like. It manifests itself in the form of waves of various frequencies and lengths.

You do not hear or see those worlds that are next to you, although you are close to them. Just like someone listening to one program on a radio does not hear another, because they are on different frequencies. But they exist simultaneously.

To become a contactee, you need a vibration match. What is vibration? Inner forces of the Soul. Your aspirations, dreams, feelings, worldview must coincide with mine. If they do not match, contact becomes difficult. The transmission of information will be distorted: I will convey one thing, but a person may hear another. What is also necessary is a person's desire, his ability to hear the Spiritual world, intuition, the ability to turn off the mind, he calls "accepting".

Irina does this: she has turned off her thoughts and does not analyze what I tell her. If she analyzes what she said wrong, it will be a distortion. She became a channel, a stream, temporarily became me, and I became her in order to try to transfer knowledge through her body, through her brain (she quickly says, this is not typical for Spirits who have left our incarnation).

They usually speak slowly and lack energy. He's energetic!

Alexander: He probably knows how to pump up energy.

Irina: Yes, I was also surprised, is there a generator there? No, he talks so fast.

I say again that these are not voices that a person hears, these are thoughts. A certain stream of thoughts that I convey. At the same time, he hears me transmitting, and now he begins to speak more slowly so that his thoughts do not get lost.

(Nikola Tesla) In addition to these two factors, I also need to be able to convey knowledge in physics and technology in a high-quality manner, so that the person is in the know, so that he does this and understands what I am telling him, not only in images, but also in words. If I say “electron,” for example, and he hasn’t studied it and doesn’t know, he will understand it in his own way. There will be confusion. Is it possible to contact you?

Alexander: I think it would be wrong for me. I'm probably definitely not suitable.

Irina: Why do you think so?

Alexander: I’m probably more of a promoter of ideas than an inventor. In the understanding that is put into this meaning.

Irina: (to a colleague) Maybe you want to contact?

Sergey: When I came here, I also wanted to make contact and discuss issues with Nikola Tesla. I saw a picture of a Laval nozzle and looked at its coils for a long time. There is a vertical coil and a horizontal coil, and conical coils only appear once. It is not published anywhere, not everyone pays attention to it.

When I was on the train today, I saw a picture of a cone coil. It was shiny, in the shape of a Laval nozzle. I believe that for some reason we do not consider this cone coil in any connection at all.

I wanted to touch on a topic: the Tesla cone coil. Today, when I was on my way to a meeting, he showed it to me. What can he say about the cone coil?

Irina: (Nikola Tesla) Sergey, when you think, read my works, study, I feel how your energy comes into contact with mine. But you are not my contactee. That is, you perceive these thoughts in the field, as in an egregor. What you asked about, I studied and not only that. If you have a specific question, you need to ask it. I will convey the answer through the contactee.

14:50 Cone coil and ball lightning.

Sergey: Tesla cone coil. I tie metal, ball lightning and cone coil. She fits into my “universe”.

When we touch two conical coils with their bases, we get a magnetic trap and a gap. I say when plasmoids are obtained by rupture. That is, these coils create a gap and at the same time a magnetic trap. I associate conical coils with the creation of spherical plasmoids, about which Tesla... We still have drawings...

Irina: (shows a diagram) I'll describe it. I wouldn't call it a cone, it's a triangle with a ball inside it.

Sergey: This is exactly what I associate with the formation of spherical formations, spherical plasmoids.

Irina: What is this triangle and ball? He says they are made from different materials. The outer material of this triangle, this cone, is made of a more conductive material, while the inside is made of a less conductive material. As far as I understand him, that's what he says.

Sergey: That is, a reel within a reel.

Irina: For some reason there is a ball there.

Sergey: The ball is inside.

Alexander: Made of aluminum.

Irina: It's inserted into it.

Sergey: I see. I read a message from one contactee. He said that to create power around a plasmoid, around a static ball, you need to hang a ring. I remembered this phrase and connect.

Irina: (Nikola Tesla) Ball lightning. This is to attract not only atmospheric electricity, but also to extract energy from geoelectricity, from the Earth's mantle. That is, the entire Earth is saturated with electricity, currents are conducted. The earth is most often positively charged, and the sky...

Sergey: Space - negative.

Irina: Even the ionosphere (the layer around it shows).

What is this textbook picture? I understood you.

The layer above the stratosphere. (Raom Tiyan listens with interest). It is negatively charged, although sometimes it is the other way around, but this is rare. The same as in a capacitor bank, so in the globe.

On the planet, it can be turned into a giant capacitor bank. It already has energy, I conducted the experiments you are talking about with different materials. Simultaneously extract energy from the Earth and from space (the ionosphere was part of space for him).

You see lightning - ball, linear. This is part of the process that occurs in the atmosphere. The power of lightning is always present. I studied how to extract and transmit this in a controlled manner, including using these materials: magnetic, electrically conductive, thermally conductive.

I am now transmitting information to a group of Swedish scientists who are studying the extraction of electrical energy not from processes that produce heat, but from geoelectricity processes.

You know that on Earth there are various, I would call them “currents”. They pass along tectonic faults. Somewhere less, somewhere more. There are tectonic faults where geological electricity condenses. There it can be collected by coming into contact with the Earth and air with a certain conductor. And accumulate (shows an oval-shaped battery, inside it there are two springs of different colors: one is yellow, like copper, and the second is shiny).

What does this tell you, but it shows so.

20:05 Egyptian pyramids.

Sergey: The pyramids are located in a line and on faults. Are the pyramids ancient Egyptian or not?

Irina: Who?

Sergey: Is there a direct connection in the location of the Egyptian pyramids and geofaults?

Irina: Not only on faults. I also studied the pyramids, and their purposes were different. There was a purpose for communicating with the gods. A portal opened above the top of the pyramid, and the location could not be on the rift, but in the place where the portal was opened. It could have been discovered anywhere by the decision of subtle civilizations (I say so that you understand). The energies from the portal flow down along the top, there is the possibility of connecting to the information flow that passes from the top of the pyramid down, and was received there (shows the person who received the information).

There were pyramids built for communication - analogous to radio waves - in the etheric ocean.

Sergey: Obtaining information from the information field inside the pyramid?

Irina: Yes. From the top, an information impulse in the form of a wave was transmitted to another. I studied. There are pyramids on other planets too. On the Moon and Mars are already known.

22:12 Ball lightning.

Sergei: Does ball lightning have memory, consciousness?

Irina: Yes, they are alive (say Nikola Tesla and Raom Tiyan). In the Interstellar Union, ball lightning is called the visible form of a plasmoid, an intelligent creature. It becomes visible due to saturation with energy from the surrounding space. He behaves like a rational being. Can avoid obstacles, etc.

(Nikola Tesla) These creatures are alive and intelligent, but their mind is not like a human one, it is electric (shows). I merged with the consciousness of ball lightning and communicated. They see the world in the form of electrical discharges of different polarities. The answer to the question is yes.

Sergey: For me, ball lightning is like a leader. That is, when lightning strikes the ground, as a leader, ball lightning goes from top to bottom, and ball lightning “hits” this one from below. As I understand it, ball lightning has antipolar charges: ball lightning “plus”, ball lightning “minus”?

Irina: The earth is charged mainly with negative ions, that is, negative charges, and the air is charged with positive ones. It happens the other way around.

After a thunderstorm, energy transfer occurs: the air becomes more positive, there are more positive ions in it, and negative ions in the ground. Or vice versa, if there was a transfer.

Due to these reactions and energy exchange, the oxygen molecule changes: it attaches an oxygen atom and becomes ozone. Ozone did not appear because it moved down from the upper layers of the stratosphere during a thunderstorm; it was formed as a result of an exchange of energies.

You understand how powerful electrical forces are: they are capable of attaching another atom to a stable oxygen molecule. It takes a lot of energy to bring them together so they could enter into a compound reaction.

Alexander: This is actually true.

25:12 Quantum generator. "Ether" and its energy.

Alexander: I would like to ask a few questions in order to correctly formulate the concepts, because in the group of people who are interested in obtaining electricity from any open system, there are many contradictory questions: where exactly does the energy come from?

Many agree that this is the energy of a technical vacuum. This is what we call ether these days. Many are sure that energy comes from there. Therefore, I want to understand where, for example, the energy in a quantum generator, in a tower, comes from. Where did it come from and what kind of energy is it?

Irina: I understand your question: where does the energy come from in quantum and other generators. I want to say that those who talk about the “technical ether” (about the “technical vacuum”, calling it “ether”) are right to the extent that any energy that you can get in any way, in its original sense, is taken from ether.

There is no energy that comes from another source. All physical energies are generated by the ether. In this sense they are right. Even electrical, magnetic, and light energies ultimately originate in the ether. As you remember, ether is the all-generating life force from which all visible manifestations of the universe consist. That is, this is what I saw and wrote about. But I did not consider the ether to be God, in the religious sense. I considered it Divine energy, Divine power, which manifests itself in different forms.

As you remember, I believed that our Universe is surrounded by a huge ocean of ether and creates “bubbles” in which Universes exist (like our Universe, other universes). And everything in these “bubbles” is also part of the “ocean”. Therefore, my task was to redirect one energy received from the ether to receive another energy obtained from the ether. But it was not always possible to do this efficiently, with high efficiency, because there is a different content of energy quanta, and their energy value when converted from one type to another is not the same.

In addition, it strongly depends on the technical means by which the transfer is carried out. For example, some of the metals and other materials that were available to me did not allow enough energy to be extracted for the efficiency to approach even 60%. I took a lot on myself, for example, heating this material. If you transmit current through a wire and it heats up, it is clear that some of the energy is lost.

Sergey: I see. We are faced with this. Ours is heating up.

Irina: Because heat is extracted. If we consider the law of energy transfer, then when you transmit current through a conductor, the energy that runs through it acts on the internal attraction of these atoms in such a way that they begin to move away from each other, and this accelerates their movement within the crystalline structure.

Every metal has a crystalline structure. It (shows) is located in this way. They begin to vibrate faster within their bonds, which causes heating. But this vibration also takes energy. Therefore, there are now various semiconductor materials that heat up less and conduct better. I didn't have any. I have not worked with these materials. Therefore, I can judge them only by the results, by the formulas that my contactees who work with this receive.

There are scientists who are in contact with me; they study materials in periodicals and scientific literature. I read through their brain. We have such contact. I can say that now the materials and energy transfer are more advanced. If I lived now, I would conduct other experiments, with solar panels, for example. This is the extraction of energy from light.

I tried to extract energy from radio waves, but I quickly realized that a radio wave, its quantum - it also has its own quantum, a small portion - has less energy than electricity.

Radio waves are also produced in nature. It is possible to create a radio wave transformer into electricity. It won't be powerful and it requires a lot of radio waves.

What energy do quantum generators operate on, among the types of ether energy? This can be magnetic, intra-atomic energy, intramolecular bonds in the air, gases. You know that all gases have a so-called “gas constant”, which indicates the number of molecules.

Alexander: Avogadro's number.

Irina: Which means the number of molecules in one mole of a substance. Why is it constant, regardless of the fact that the gases are different? This is because regardless of the type of molecules that exist, they are all made up of the same energies. The amount of energy is indicated by this number. I also studied how to extract this amount of energy. This could be the energy in a quantum generator, basically the energy of air electricity.

Alexander: They call it “atmospheric”.

Irina: Yes. You are right that it is ethereal, because all energies come from the ether. Even the fact that the light is on in your room, there is heat; ultimately, this is the energy of the ether.

33:51 Electric current.

Alexander: I see. There are a lot of questions about electric current. There is a definition that electric current does not flow through a conductor, but around a magnetic field, around the conductor.

Irina: He runs both here and there.

Alexander: That is, the electric current is also located inside the conductor. I mean electricity.

Irina: It’s not inside anymore, but on the surface. It depends on the material.

Alexander: He walks along the surface, as close as possible. The highest energy flux density is closer to the surface.

Irina: The smaller the cross-section of the wire, the deeper it penetrates inside the conductor, because its resistance decreases. If the wire cross-section is small, it penetrates deeper. Atoms resist less because there are few of them in this space.

Alexander: There are few of them in this radius.

Irina: (Nikola Tesla) It all depends on the material. There are materials that let you penetrate deeper into yourself, and there are others. The deeper they pass, the greater the likelihood that this energy, electricity, will be spent on heating. They penetrate deeper, so the processes I'm talking about begin.

Alexander: We know that. Another question. What is electricity? The ordered movement of charged particles - school definition - is called electricity. Now there are many other versions of what electricity is. I would like a definition so I can understand.

Irina: Do you want to hear his opinion on what electricity is?

Alexander: Yes. What is electric current? Current flows through the conductor. But he doesn't "run" as far as we understand.

Irina: I studied not only the current that "runs" through the conductor. It moves both on the surface and around.

Alexander: But this is only with a closed circuit.

Irina: I studied not only what runs along conductors, but also fields that move in space. Electric, electromagnetic fields that move without conductors. I studied this too.

What is electric current? Electric current is a flow of energy. Electricity is a type of etheric energy that has two opposite, as you call it, charges. I didn't call it "plus" and "minus", but two types, like "yin" and "yang" (the sign shows). Two opposites. One of the types of ether that can be transformed into others: into heat, light, into different types of mechanical energy - it rotates something, moves something. But this electricity is still generated by the ether. This is his energy.

Alexander: We have an understanding of "hot" and "cold" electricity. I will explain these terms. "Cold" electricity is not capable of moving devices that operate on conventional, as they say, electricity. But it is capable of lighting lamps, I mean devices, electric motors. In my opinion, it is not reflected in transformers. But it accumulates in batteries adapted for electric current. Capable of lighting lamps. At the same time, people are not shocked.

Irina: I studied inversion currents (you probably understand what he's talking about).

Alexander: Reverse.

Irina: Yes. And I studied their effects on myself (shows that I passed them through myself). They can pass through a person without harming them and can heal.

Alexander: Are these currents of high frequency or currents of a different nature?

Irina: At the time when I was developing, they were called "high frequencies". This was the frequency of electromagnetic wave energy. It was high, and, accordingly, the current strength was small. This energy was not used to create current: to cause damage to someone, to move atoms from their places. She imbued me with energy from within. I showed electricity as in experiments (shows that he is holding a lamp, and it lights up).

Alexander: Yes, this is known.

Irina: In response to the experiments that Edison conducted.

Alexander: Yes, Edison conducted experiments with direct current.

Irina: Not only with direct current, he also conducted those that I am working on. Alternating current can kill (shows a crowd of people).

Alexander: Electric chair. We know this.

Irina: He doesn't show an electric chair, but a round platform, like in an arena, and a rabbit sits there. A man comes up and presses a button, people sit and watch. The rabbit begins to twitch, smells of burnt fur, and dies. And everyone looks with those eyes.

Alexander and Sergey: This is the famous "war of currents". Edison and Tesla, the opposition of direct and alternating currents.

Irina : He shows that he was present there too. The two of them. There was some kind of demonstration. The man says: "That's what this Nikola wants to do."

Alexander: This is Edison talking, right?

Irina: Yes. The tall man does not speak in Russian, but I understand the meaning of his words (he brought me back to that time, from his memory). Tesla's feeling is indignation: “Why is he lying?” And he says: “Nikola wants your children” (he was talking about children). An indignant noise. Everyone was indignant. Nikola: “Why are you lying, it’s not like that!” And Edison says: “What did I cheat about, you see the result?”

Tesla: "It may be alternating current." He took the light bulb, and it lit up in his hands due to the fact that it was an inversion current (as he tells me), and the current strength was small, but the frequency was high. “Here, it doesn’t kill me,” he tells everyone. Edison didn't know what to answer because he didn't know what it was. Everyone looks with big eyes, as if at some kind of trick. Tesla says: “I suddenly hear: “He is a sorcerer!”

Alexander: He was often accused.

Irina: (Nikola Tesla) I showed currents that can even heal people.

43:15 Three-phase motors. Phase shift of voltage from current.

Alexander: Great. I'll ask a question. In an asynchronous motor, when three phases are connected - common three-phase motors; this probably has little significance: a two-phase or three-phase motor - the moment the motor is connected, the rotor begins to rotate, that is, the magnetic field moves, and the rotor is, as it were, drawn into the magnetic field. This is the work of an asynchronous motor, and during this work the voltage seems to “go” forward, or rather, the current strength begins to lag behind the peak of the sine wave. We have such ideas about it. That at the peak of the sinusoid, the current strength at this moment lags significantly behind the voltage peak.

The experiments that are being carried out now apply to the center of the sinusoid, at the moment of the peak, a certain impulse containing the current strength.

Irina: I understand what you are asking. Your question: to prevent this from happening?

Alexander: No, on the contrary, this is how we...

Irina: So that the current strength does not decrease...

Alexander: We forcibly increase it so that the voltage peak coincides with the current strength, and the engine power increases at this moment.

Irina: The current strength decreases, which means that it is not spent on rotation, it is spent on interaction with the material, perhaps from which the magnet is made. Possibly from the surrounding materials, since you have insulators shielding it from the frame it's on. Maybe it costs money to heat it up. You need to see this thing in action and how it is made.

Sergey: We have a phase shift between voltage and current, and classical physics tells us that this is very bad: the greater the shift, the greater the effective power. My opinion: when a shift occurs, energy is “pumped up”; if we give a current pulse, along with the current pulse, this phase shift begins to pull energy along with it. That is, we give a small impulse, and in this interval an effective oscillation begins, pumping up energy.

Irina: Alexander asked what he gives, besides turning on the engine. It gives additional current, as far as I understand it.

Alexander: Current pulse.

Irina: Did he have a question so as not to give it, or what?

Alexander: No, on the contrary. We give and receive enhanced energy. The portion of the impulse is not commensurate with the work that results. That is, we give a little, but the effect is significant.

Irina: I answered what the current might be used for. I also observed such effects. I will say that the magnets I worked with and the materials were not comparable in their characteristics to modern ones. You are probably already working with other materials.

Alexander: The asynchronous motor has retained its form to this day. They were like that back in the twenties.

Irina: What about the materials?

Alexander: Iron has become more anisotropic, that is, more magnetically permeable. The characteristics have improved.

Irina: Various alloys have been created, they did not exist at my age.

Alexander: We have a question. Why do we give a small current pulse, but the effect of the work performed becomes synergistic and large.

Irina: You turned it on to the current source, right?

Alexander: Yes.

Irina: So you give not only pulse current, but you give “main” current?

Alexander: Yes. I'll give you an example. We give one kilowatt of the “main” current, in total, and in pulses we give ten watts. The engine begins to produce work not per kilowatt, but at two kilowatts. Are our terms clear?

Irina: I see you have magnets. This is the inclusion of magnetic energy. You are interested in the origin of energy.

Alexander: Yes. Why does this happen?

Irina: It's magnetic. You have a magnet there, as you said, rotating.

Alexander: Yes, electromagnetic fields rotate.

Irina: The magnet rotates on its own, one around the other. There are different types. Even asynchronous ones come in different types. Sometimes it rotates in one direction, sometimes it rotates in the other, in two different directions. When they rotate, additional rotational energy is created, which spins the magnetic field, and at this time, a current flows through it, through the magnet. Because the magnetic field rotates, additional energy is extracted from it. She's from there. If you're interested in the source, that's where it comes from.

Sergey: Magnetic energy attracts even more energy?

Irina: She is so transformed.

Sergey: As I understand it, the energy of the ether is converted into electrical energy by these magnetic fluxes?

Irina: Both are ethereal energies, electricity, and magnetism.

Sergey: And when interacting...

Irina: It turns into one another. You know that electricity can be converted into magnetic energy. You can magnetize a wire with electricity. You acquire magnetic energy. You know, if you pass current through wires, magnetic energy will be released. She transforms. And vice versa. I have done such experiments and I know about it.

Sergey: I heard the phrase: there is one flow of energy, as I understand it, like a bifilar. There is one flow of energy, in another wire there is another. They, when interacting, are like one thread. Another stream pushes into it. Accelerates.

Irina: He not only pushes and accelerates, he also adds his energy and adds up.

Sergey: Just bifilar – two energies.

Irina: You don't just get an electric field, you get an electromagnetic field as a result.

Sergey : We have two streams, but the total is a multiple increase. They are like "one plus one", but in the end we get a lot. How does he move it?

Irina: Energy comes from a magnetic field. Reverse process. How does the transformation from electricity to magnetism happen? You know that you can create a magnetic field using electricity. There are such experiences. You can spend it. Turn on the electricity and try to determine the magnetic field. It is being created. Although you didn't let him in. But it exists, you can measure it with special magnetometers. It will be decent, it depends on the current strength, but it is created. The reverse process is possible: from the magnetic field that is created around magnets when they rotate and electricity flows through them, conversion into electricity is created from them. Therefore, the electrical strength of the current that you remove is added. Power.

52:28 Nonlinear transformer. Types of energies and transformation.

Alexander: The next question is about another device. We are talking about a nonlinear transformer. A nonlinear transformer in which the primary coils are not connected, that is, they do not overlap the secondary coils with a magnetic field (demonstrated in the figure). It has two primary coils and two secondary coils.

Irina: An explanation is needed. This is a magnet, a square.

Alexander: Yes, this is the magnetic core of the transformer. Magnetic conductive core.

Irina: I'll explain. You told me that energy is supplied from below, to the lower turns, and it is removed from above. There are four of them here. Energy is supplied through two channels, as I understand it?

Alexander: These coils are closed to each other.

Irina: Yes, I see.

Sergey: Lower magnetic fluxes...

Irina: Do they rotate?

Alexander: No, they don't rotate. They are stationary, this is a transformer.

Sergey: Two opposing coils. Magnetic fields cancel each other.

Alexander: Lower ones.

Irina: (Nikola Tesla) They do not cancel, but also transform.

Alexander: They transform.

Sergey: The magnetic field disappears, and other energy is “swept out”.

Irina: It doesn’t disappear, but transforms. Nothing can disappear, not a single quantum of energy in the ether disappears. They are converted, but the efficiency of converting magnetic energy is not as high as electrical to magnetic. These are different types of energy. As my friend from Burkhad Raom Tiyan, who is here, says - he comes into contact with me when I am in the Spiritual World, we are still in contact - he explained from the standpoint of the Interstellar Union that these are energies of the first level.

An atom consists of energies of three levels. At the first level of the atom there are five types of energies. These energies are in all atoms without exception: hydrogen, oxygen, copper, iron.

They distinguish nine types of physical energies, five of them are on the first level. Why five and not two or three? Because different energies combine differently in different elements. It is these combinations that contribute to the diversity of substances, natural and artificially created, that we see around us (shows the table).

Raom Tiyan, I thank you. We need to write an article, and we are going to do it.

Let us list five types of energies once again for those who have not watched previous episodes: magnetism, electricity, radio waves, heat and light. They are on the first level. The question is how to transform them into each other. Converters are various transformers.

(Raom Tiyan) In the Interstellar Union we are no longer engaged in obtaining electric from a magnetic field or electricity from light. We obtain it only in those devices and in the quantity when necessary, from the material itself, from the energy of the third level, which is called “microgravity,” that is, from gravitons. We do not have conductors in our devices; they are removed on site using special fields.

Alexander: That's great. But we haven't even gotten to the point of using devices that generate electricity. Our main energy comes from burning fossil fuels.

Irina: If you look at the energy saturation of quanta, if such a term, of course, is appropriate. In Russian, I picked up the term “energy saturation”; you don’t have another one.

Alexander: It’s clear.

Irina: The energy content of quanta is different for the five types of energies. Magnetic energy has the lowest energy saturation. She comes first. In second place is electricity. On the third - magnetism, electricity, radio waves, heat and light.

You can get electricity or magnetism from light, more than from heat. From light, what we call light. What you call “solar” is not only light, there is also energy, the so-called “ultraviolet”. This is the light that stands behind the scale of human perception.

The energy that you call hard cosmic radiation: X-ray waves and gamma waves, is the second level of energy. We have the second level, this is radiation, in your opinion. You know that radiation is not uniform, it can be different. We also have types, but we call it, in general, radiation, to make it easier to understand each other. Energy can also be extracted from it, but the energy that moves from level to level increases several times. That is, many quanta can be extracted from one radiation quantum, not extracted, but converted into electricity or light.

That's why we (points to the ship), even light is created in ships. Irina is surprised that there are no lamps inside the ships. Why build in lamps if we can extract light energy directly from the atoms of gases, the materials from which the walls and ceiling are made, by introducing certain fields.

Sergey: By converting light into a laser, we increase the power. The light is converted into a laser. Already more power. I understand correctly?

Irina: A laser is a type of light beam that allows you to receive other types of energy or produce some kind of work, heat, for example. It can be different. Your concepts are somewhat fused, but for us the concepts of "light" and "heat" are two types of energy. What Nikola says about converting magnetism into electricity and back again, not collecting atmospheric, as he said before, or geoelectricity, geomagnetism, you study mainly geomagnetic phenomena, but there are also geoelectric phenomena.

Alexander: There is very little information about this.

Irina: You have a profession - geoelectrics in physics, which you study, it's called geophysics, most likely.

Alexander: "Geoelectric", that's the combination.

Irina: Geophysics studies various processes, you call it "in general". We do not have such narrow specializations. Magnetism ranks first among the five types of energies. To convert it into electricity, you need more quanta of the magnetic field to get...

Alexander: Least energy-dense.

Sergey: So it's more efficient to convert electric charges into magnetic ones?

Irina: It's more effective if you need a magnetic field. We call "energy flow" what is inside a substance. I heard you ask if current flows in a conductor.

Alexander: Yes.

Irina: We call it energy transfer through particles (as you call electrons).

Alexander: On charged particles.

Irina: They seem to say to each other: "Here, take it (shows the box). Take the gift."

Alexander: They remain in place, but transmit energy.

Irina: Yes. What you call "a certain field rotates around," we call "energy has come out of matter and is in space in the form of a field," this is already an electric field. You do not distinguish electric from magnetic, you call it "electromagnetic". You don't yet have instruments that can distinguish them, recording the other.

Alexander: We have the concept that a magnetic field is always electromagnetic.

Irina: I know that. For us, these concepts are different, even the names of quanta are different. You have one electron everywhere: electricity is an electron, and radio waves are an electron, and a magnetic field is also an electron, as a carrier, it is considered a quantum. We have three different concepts. They have different energy saturation.

Alexander: Can I ask a question specifically about the drawing? We use bifilar winding, that is, with a double wire, and we get the following effect: the current strength is conserved, that is, the same current strength is transferred to the secondary winding, but with certain windings, the number of turns, primary and secondary windings. First, I repeat, using, among other things, bifilar windings, electricity of a higher voltage is transferred to the secondary winding while maintaining the current strength.

Irina: There is a magnet there. This does not mean that if it does not rotate, then there is no magnetic field around it. It still exists.

Alexander: By applying electric current to the primary winding, we, of course, create a magnetic field.

Irina: The field rotates because the wire is twisted. You twisted it in more than one skein, one turn or two (shows it in the shape of a spiral).

Alexander: Yes, he is so wound up.

Irina: These are eddy currents. If the magnet does not physically rotate, this does not mean that the electric field that you send to the magnet - you did not just attach, screw on the wires, you wound it - so it is supplied like this (twisted by hand).

Sergey: We created a vortex, a vortex flow. There is a pumping of energy due to the vortex.

Irina: This is why the magnetic field begins to rotate, even if the magnet itself does not rotate. This does not in any way prevent us from extracting energy, according to the law I spoke about, from a magnet. You didn't just wrap around two aluminum tubes.

Alexander: No, this is a magnetically conductive core. The question arises: where does the additional energy come from?

Irina: From the magnetic field in this case. It already exists.

Alexander: It exists, but we create it by feeding it to the primary winding...

Irina: You start to rotate it. When it rotates, it begins to carry an electric field with it. The rotation creates a conversion of magnetism from electricity, and this is where you collect it.

Alexander: We were waiting for this answer.

Irina: You wound it around a magnet, not something else.

Alexander: Is the efficiency limit high?

Irina: Depends on the materials. If it is made of iron alloys, it could be around 65 percent (Tesla), because it heats up. Loss due to heat. You can reduce losses: the air also heats up, you can pump out the air, create a vacuum.

Alexander: In oil...

Irina: Yes, so that there is no heat transfer, you can increase it. But there are materials...

Alexander: Their magnetic conductivity is higher, and they create stronger magnetic fields. If instead of a core we use ferrites, more magnetically conductive compounds, instead of steel, then the efficiency will be higher.

Does the shape of the main core matter? Torus, round or square? Doesn't this affect the fields?

Irina: It has thickness.

Alexander: Thickness (points to the core). That is, the volume of conducted magnetic flux.

Irina: Thickness and length matter. If current is supplied, it will unwind along with the magnetic field, and if it is located further away - the collecting wire - it will have more opportunity to “unwind” and collect.

Sergey: Mass matters.

Alexander: Of course, the more material, the greater results can be achieved.

Irina: Naturally, the material from which it is made, the cross-section of the wire also matters for the unwinding of the magnetic field, the number of turns.

1:09:30 Resonance.

Alexander: We understand that. Question about resonance. Resonance phenomena, the emergence of a new large amount of energy in a closed circuit. Where does this energy come from? Is this the energy of the Earth? Where does this electricity come from in the oscillatory resonant circuit?

Irina: I did experiments with atmospheric electricity and terrestrial electricity, collecting energy from there. With the energies of the material from which the circuit is made.

Alexander: Is this the release of the energy of the material?

Irina: I quickly discovered that different materials provide different amounts of energy. I called this extracting energy “from space.” But, as I already said, by origin, they are all from the “ether”.

Alexander: Is it possible to create an installation in this room that will generate ten megawatts of electricity? Or is this impossible due to the fact that there is not so much electricity in space? In the atmosphere, for example.

Irina: Exactly in this room?

Alexander: I'm speaking tentatively. In a small space, because here there is no connection between the air and the atmosphere. Can we say that "atmospheric" electricity was transformed in an oscillatory circuit or arose from a material? Is potential energy found in the atmosphere or in the room? In the material or where?

Irina: It is located both here and there. I was looking at the transformation in this room... (to be continued)

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=TI3RjhezOrY

00:19 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. And today we have a very interesting conference dedicated to physics and technology. We decided to invite again for this conversation the Spirit of Nikola Tesla, who, as you remember, was already with us live. We asked the curators to invite him to talk with experts who work in the field in which he worked a hundred years ago. Yes, a century has already passed.

Also present here: our curator, representative of the planet Burhad - Raom Tiyan, a specialist in energy interactions and the Spirit of Nikola Tesla. They are ready to answer questions and harmonize with each other, to give this information from the point of view of the science of the Interstellar Union, because it will be easier to explain.

Raom Tiyan says: “I greet you all!” And Nikola also greets and watches with interest, saying: “Greetings to you!”

01:48 Resonance.

Alexander: Hello. Question about resonance, if possible. Resonance phenomena, the emergence of a new large amount of energy in a closed circuit. Where does this energy come from? Well, I mean, is it Earth energy or something else? Where does this electricity come from in the oscillatory resonant circuit?

Irina: (Spirit of Nikola Tesla) I did experiments with atmospheric and terrestrial electricity, collected energy from there. And with the energies, as I already said, of the very material from which this circuit is made.

Alexander: It is quite possible that this is the release of the energy of the material?

Irina: I quickly discovered that different materials provide different amounts of energy. I called this the extraction of energy from space, but, as I already said, by origin they all come from the “ether”.

Alexander: This is a question about whether it is possible, say, in this room to create an installation that will generate, say, ten megawatts of electricity? Or is this impossible due to the fact that there is not so much electricity in space? In the atmosphere, for example.

Irina: Exactly in this room?

Alexander: I’m speaking tentatively. In a small space where there is no connection between the air and the atmosphere as a whole. Can we say that this is atmospheric electricity, which was transformed in an oscillatory circuit, or did it arise from the material itself to a greater extent? Is this potential energy? Is it in the atmosphere or in the room? Is it in the material itself or where?

Irina: You know, it is both there and there. I've already watched the transformation in this exact room. Is it possible to extract ten megawatts in a short period of time with certain converters? Perhaps, but if there is no influx of other ions, then this will be a short time. I did this mainly in open space or in large laboratories (shows: outdoor installation, in his yard) and I wanted to use the atmosphere and the earth as two poles and extract energy from them. It’s not just to extract it to create some kind of lightning, but to control it. Collect it and then use it. I've been working on it. But I didn't have enough experience to collect it.

Sergey: “Tesla Tower,” he means, collects atmospheric electricity?

Irina: Yes, he shows me, above the ground, and in the ground there is also something (leading there).

Sergey: He has a powerful grounding there.

Irina: Wire, and he wanted to use it not in the room, but in the atmosphere.

Alexander: Of course, using the potential difference between the Earth and the space above the Earth.

Irina: This potential difference. They can, if connected together, charge objects, but this happened uncontrollably. I did several experiments, and all the energy went away like lightning. She is like light, electric discharge and heat. I felt the heat, and everything I collected went into it. How the breakdown happened. And then the residents of the city where I was (for some reason shows a map of the USA) ...

Alexander: Long Island, right? Coast.

Irina: It shows that the residents of the city where I was conducting experiments noted that after my experiments thunderstorms began to occur there often, lightning began to destroy their houses. They asked me from there. They saw that I was collecting lightning. And indeed, after the transition to the Spiritual World, I thought about it, talked with my curators, and they said that this could really have an effect, because I created vortices in space that attracted energy.

07:26 Electromagnetic fields and atmospheric humidity.

Alexander: Can we say that the power lines that are used now either dry out the atmosphere or, conversely, make it more humid? That is, those electrical charges that spread along the power line dry out the atmosphere or, conversely, increase the humidity of the atmosphere?

Irina: Do electromagnetic fields affect humidity?

Alexander: Yes.

Irina: The effect on humidity is insignificant; it affects the content of ions that are in the air. They are already beginning to push water molecules that are scattered away from each other. Therefore, it is indeed possible for precipitation to decrease in this area. But this does not mean that the air becomes less humid - the percentage of humidity in it may be the same, but they no longer adhere to each other.

Alexander: We have a theory that the Aral Sea dried up because at one time a line was built from Volgograd to Moscow.

Irina: The fact is that not only the wires that transmit electricity create electromagnetic disturbances in the form of spirals. They are created by power plants, many devices that work around a person, surrounded by which a person lives constantly.

A person lives and breathes air that already contains altered ions. When they enter the body (they do not enter the body themselves, but as part of the oxygen that it inhales), this positively charged oxygen is no longer so effectively absorbed by the blood. Therefore, it is necessary (I also spoke about this, wrote in my books) to still emit charges into the air, which will create other charges, as you call it, ionize. This must be done in the absence of a person so that he does not receive too large a dose of these ions. They will be distributed throughout the room, and this will be useful, because for the body it will be like breathing in nature, where there are no electric fields. I studied how to smooth out the influence of these electromagnetic fields on air ions with the same electricity, but directed to a different charge (shows a lamp that ionizes).

Sergey: Chizhevsky lamp.

Alexander: We now have such devices.

Irina: Yes, he also studied this, the effect on health too. At that time, this problem was not yet relevant, because there were few instruments, radio waves, and now you are surrounded by them.

11:05 Tesla on coronaviruses.

Sergei: Here is a question related to our world. Now coronaviruses are artificial viruses. What does he see from above when he communicates with his physicists, what is his opinion about it?

Irina: About coronavirus?

Sergey: About the artificial creation of viruses, what information does he get?

Irina: I heard about this from my contactees, about what is happening in your world, but I can only say my personal opinion.

I believe that what is happening is like a biological war of one part of the planet's population against another. The spread is planned precisely by those forces, those people who are pursuing some military goals. It's all hidden. It is necessary to understand that there have always been epidemics of some kind of infection, including at the time when I lived, there was also a flu epidemic. There used to be, for example, a very large cholera epidemic when I was a teenager.

When I was sick, many residents of this city died. I was sick for a long time, I was healed by the prayer of my father and mother, and my curators who came. This was in the 19th century, now you have more medical opportunities. If funds are not found, just like in my time, someone needs it.

Sergey: They don’t want to find it.

Irina: At that time they simply could not cope, but now, I think, there is a remedy, but for some reason it is not used en masse. Someone needs it.

13:28 Tesla about the phenomenon of resonance.

Alexandra: Can I ask a question about the linear transformer? Is it possible with such a model to build a cascade and make it self-powered?

Irina: The answer is “Yes”, the answer is positive.

Alexandra: Question: when resonance phenomena occur, is it possible to make a generator based on obtaining energy from resonance energy, large enough (I mean powerful), such a source, will it be safe for the surrounding space?

Irina: According to resonance (as I originally said), I studied not only atmospheric and terrestrial electricity, I also studied the conversion of radio waves into electricity. It actually contains those quanta of electricity, of which you can obtain a lot. But there are not so many powerful sources of radio waves on Earth that it is possible to obtain enough quanta from them. They are either natural or artificial.

Natural sources of natural radio waves are located (if we are talking about powerful ones) in Space, and they are extinguished by the atmosphere. What passes, for example, from the Sun, from the stars, from other planets, passes through space. The energy of a radio wave that propagates in space already transfers its energy to surrounding ions and loses it. Accordingly, what I received from the radio wave while studying resonance did not suit me.

Alexander: Too weak. If we are talking about an artificially created resonance inside with the help of a capacitor, say, inside a conductor, in a closed circuit of the conductor.

Irina: That is, the resonance is created by the same electrical energy.

Alexander: Yes, also with the same electricity.

Irina: Experiments can be done, but the efficiency created by resonance, like the efficiency created by a magnetic motor, will not exceed 65-70% of those materials that I know.

For the surrounding space (like any electromagnetic motor will emit waves), there is nothing dangerous there.

He says that he studied the phenomenon of resonance less than magnetic phenomena. He had this, but as a side stage of research.

16:44 Tesla on efficient energy sources.

Alexander: Now we call “fuel-free generators” those that do not use energy from burning fossil fuels. On the basis of what energy can they be created? On what principle is it most effective, if we approach the fact that quanta in each of these energies have different saturation and energy content?

Irina: Mechanical energy can be converted into electrical energy, that is, energy created by movement.

Alexander: What do you mean by movement, water? It's clear.

Irina: Water, wind, man. It can be created. I consider the direction of obtaining energy from heat and electrical energy to be promising. As you remember, each quantum of heat is more energy-saturated than that of radio waves and magnetism, therefore more quanta of electricity can be extracted from each quantum of thermal energy.

Sergey: Ambient warmth?

Irina: Yes, as you said, fuel-free, so as not to heat the fuel?

Alexander: Yes.

Irina: Where can we get heat from? We can get heat from the Sun, but there is also light energy there. I would consider the direction of solar panels and work on studying their energy efficiency depending on a particular material to be promising. I would conduct these studies now. And also, of course, from geothermal electricity. Earth's heat that can be used. The stations that stand on the geysers are also my ideas, which I passed on to contactees. Build a generator that can convert energy from heat. What we are talking about atmospheric energies is not what I call energy transformation, it is collection.

Alexander: Okay, maybe the wrong term is being used. What is promising now in terms of collecting?

Irina: I believe that the most promising transformations are heat and light, because radiation is dangerous, this is nuclear energy.

Alexander: Well, if we are talking about a quantum generator, which was made according to your patent. To create mechanical power, the drive required less electricity than was produced in the quantum generator.

Irina: This is just collecting and, moreover, not only from the atmosphere, but from the Earth, using it.

Alexander: Now this topic seems to us the safest for nature. The combustion of fossil fuels and the use of radioactive fuel are constant sources of electricity generation, but they harm the ecology of the planet, and solar energy is not constant, it can only be used during the daytime.

Irina: There may be batteries.

Alexander: Batteries. Everything has its own economy in our world. And the use of such a gigantic number of batteries (their production) will cause more harm to the environment than the transformation that we will use. Therefore, now solar power plants operate mainly during the daytime. Wind generators, they too: if there is wind, there is electricity, if there is no wind, there is no electricity. We are interested in creating generators that will work constantly, constantly releasing electricity, regardless of day-night or other factors.

Irina: You will remember one thing: that if there are magnets there, and even if it collects electricity, it will still be like a combined one.

Alexander: Let it be combined.

Irina: Not only collecting. In order for the magnet energy to help, there is an additional transformation, it will be like a combined generator and transformer. If your device will have a magnet of a certain shape, I have studied magnets like these that are made (shows, have you seen the lamp that is in the shape of a spiral?) I have used them.

Alexander: Liquid magnets or not?

Irina: No, it's like a wire, only it's thick, like a cable. It was made of a magnet, and Tesla also wound it in the shape of a spiral. Passed a current and examined the magnetic field. There were also interesting results.

(Spirit of Nikola Tesla) I tried to twist the magnetic field using different methods, because it is its torsion, its rotation that allows quanta of the magnetic field to move and be converted into electrical energy. It simply dissipates the flow of the magnetic field. Not only is it scattered, but it is picked up by surrounding atoms. And when it rotates, it forms a closed circuit, and it begins to influence, not influence, but transition.

Sergey: If we grind this magnet, place the magnet particles in a copper tube and twist it in the form of a spiral, it becomes magnetic, and inside it is also electric.

Irina: Yes, that's what he did: electric on the inside and magnetic on the outside.

Sergey: No, I get magnetic on the inside, electric on the outside.

Irina: And so too; he did various experiments.

Sergey: We give a current impulse, it also collects magnetic energy with it, this is what happens.

Irina: Yes, if you have a magnet in your device, then you additionally use the energy that is released from this material. It is not just a magnetic material, but precisely the material that is already magnetized and has a magnetic field. I did that too. This is a combined collection of energy from space, plus its collection into magnets, and this is converted.

But I also studied the production of electrical energy from the Earth's magnetic field. The question of obtaining from the Earth's magnetic field (not from magnets, but from the magnetic field). But its power is not so great that any significant electric field can be created, because the power of the magnetic field increases with height. The magnetosphere is mostly located outside the atmosphere, as this is where a large amount of solar radiation collides with the upper atmosphere, and this produces a large magnetic field. And near the Earth it is weak, because the Earth’s core, although it is also a source of the magnetic field, is far away, and to pass through these stones without losses is, of course, difficult.

Sergei: I just remembered about the experiments. I used a short-circuited turn, this is a magnetic field. He applied a current pulse to this short-circuited turn - it’s just like a spiral, or rather, like a ring, this short-circuited turn with high currents, up to a hundred amperes. But there is zero tension there. It turns out that this is a magnet, a permanent magnet. This permanent magnet was supplied with a high voltage pulse at a minimum of amperes, a voltage pulse. And parallel to this short-circuited turn, I wound the grounding. From these three conductors, that is, current, voltage pulse and grounding, normal current was already removed from it, from the outside. As I understand it, this is a connection between the magnetic component and voltage. But I'm connecting right now.

Irina: If there was still a conductor into the ground (if it was in the ground), it could still be extracted from the Earth, you need to look there.

Sergey: Pull-up, pull-up of energy also from the Earth.

Irina: Because when you connected it to the Earth with this wire and started sending energy there (to this coil), then this energy seemed to attract from the Earth.

Sergei: The vortex also captures another vortex, understandable.

Irina: Yes, how attraction happens. This is the same effect as, for example, an electric field in the sky attracts an electric field in the Earth, and a discharge is obtained.

Sergey: Is a tornado vortex the same phenomenon?

Irina: Yes, by the way, when the wind spins into a tornado, it doesn't just blow linearly, it also depends on the electrical charge in the air. Then it starts spinning when there is a large electric charge in the air, like a cloud of electric field (shows). It differs in polarity from its surroundings and begins to twist.

Sergey: And this is also a tightening, pumping, and all the energy is collected.

Irina: Apparently, dust rises and it attracts. By the same principle, for example, a very powerful cyclone is formed, even one in the sky. If you look at the photo of the clouds, you will see that they are in the shape of a spiral. This is also according to the law of electromagnetic interactions.

See how much electricity is in the air! But in order to collect it, you need to attract it somehow.

29:03 Tesla on energy production.

Alexander: During our last conversation, you began to talk about the simplest scheme, as I understand it, it was a scheme from one of your patents that you proposed. And we would like to ask a question, if possible, to awaken the mass of enthusiasts on the planet and in our space. Exactly to this topic. Could you give me some kind of device, based on, perhaps, not the technologies that existed a hundred years ago, maybe something that you already know from modern times. Yes, some kind of device that would be able to collect this electricity.

Irina: What I showed to Irina is a simple device. I used it to demonstrate the possibility of atmospheric electricity. As I already said, there were problems with its collection - the electricity ran out very quickly, but it demonstrated very well to people who did not believe that it was possible. They said: “Where will this come from, out of thin air or something?” I said, “Yes, literally.” “Here is an inventor, a dreamer, how can we walk in the air without getting electrocuted? That means he doesn’t exist.” I say: “If you don’t see air, does that mean it’s not there?” I started to explain to them. They tell me: “Show me.” And I assembled a simple coil. I didn’t collect them, they were already collected (assembling it is quite a labor-intensive task).

Alexander: We know.

Irina: Did you collect it too?

Alexander: They twisted, sat, every turn. Density, quality factor, we call it turn to turn.

Irina: I also spent a lot of time putting it together. But it was worth it, if you put it together correctly, it will have an effect. If the wires cross each other, then the energy will no longer flow as it should, drawing from electricity, and nothing will happen. Therefore, I first assembled them, checked how it worked, and then demonstrated it. I demonstrated (shows) it in open space. It can be done in a room, but the effect there will be small. There are electric charges that can also be attracted, but there are quite a few of them in the room. There are a lot of fields, energy is dissipated somewhere, especially in the modern world, as I already said, other air ions. Just don't use alternating current for this, I used constant current for this.

Sergey: Pulse direct current.

Irina: I attached the battery, it looks impressive when you attach the battery. Sparks begin to emit from the coil, like lightning, and, moreover, there is quite a smell of ozone, and the heat is felt.

He says that there must be a transformer there so that the voltage that is in the battery is transformed, one might say, into more.

Alexander: It's voltage, but it's not a capacitor?

Irina: Yes, there is a box (shows) that connects to the battery. Then also (what I said) - a resistor. Yes, I simply explained to her that this is resistance so that it is high. And after the resistance, it should be approximately 24 Ohms (22-23-24).

Sergey: Ohm or kiloohm? Great resistance.

Irina: Kiloom, this is a thousand Ohms? Somewhere, yes, on "kilo-" (said "Om", look for zeros there). So, then, it means connecting this coil.

Alexander: We present this scheme, yes.

Irina: And when you connect it and turn on the capacitor, it becomes possible to attract these energies. You can do this outdoors and place it on the ground. From this tube there is such a continuation, it ends in the shape of a semicircular, hemisphere.

Sergey: Is this a hemisphere on top or below?

Irina: Below and above you can also have a ball. But he will already be on the wire coming out from here. It also turns out that attraction comes from the Earth and from the air.

I collected it, and in a similar way I began collecting experiments. What you call directly “ether”. By “puncture” of this “bubble” that exists in space. After this there was a bang, an explosion, and the laboratory burned down; that is, fire appeared. Then, when I was already living in another apartment, representatives, as I found out, from Burkhad came to me and said that it was dangerous, that I could destroy everything with an explosion. I stopped doing this. But initially I did this with the help of atmospheric electricity, then I came up with a way to try to extract energy directly from the “etheric ocean”.

Alexander: I see. However, is some such scheme possible, or will we stop at this scheme that we are hearing about now? Now, with the use of modern devices, some kind of microelectronics, if this is familiar, is it possible to convey some simple circuit, one that will not contradict.

Irina: For what?

Alexander: For enthusiasm, to awaken more enthusiasts.

Irina: For atmospheric?

Alexander: For any type, safe extraction from the Earth’s magnetic field, perhaps, or the atmospheric one, this is no longer important. Just to awaken more interest in this matter, more enthusiasm among people.

Irina: We need more specific questions.

Alexander: The simplest device that is capable of receiving a certain unit of electric current without fuel.

Irina: Firstly, I and other enthusiasts have already conveyed this scheme, and you are working with it. I consider this to be quite effective in extracting energy, but here I would focus more on solar batteries - some kind of silicon, which consist of silicon, germanium, such elements as silicon, germanium, thalium, which may already work with light. Create certain elements that collect energy during the day and transfer this energy to some core inside in such a form that it turns into the energy of chemical bonds and is stored there. It is not even a battery in the classical sense, but rather a chemical store of this energy.

Sergey: Water can be decomposed into hydrogen and oxygen. It turns out, from electrical to chemical again, that is, hydrogen, and then we reunite, we get electrical energy again.

Irina: It's possible. I am now working on how to tell other people, my contactees, about those materials that can no longer work with magnets, but with the energies of heat and light, from which more electrical energy can be extracted. And with magnetic ones, but here minimal losses are possible when using neodymium (I don't know what it is) magnets.

Alexander: Yes, neodymium magnets, we know.

Irina: Shows the rod, and some circles are on. It is a rod with a shiny metal inside, like stainless steel. No, it's not steel, on the contrary, it's repulsive. This is something like not aluminum, but some kind of...

Alexander: Stainless steel, it is non-magnetic.

Irina: Not aluminum, it's harder and shiny. There are circles put on it, these circles with a hole in the middle, they are just neodymium. Put on this rod (shows).

Alexander: This is a magnetic motor, does it rotate?

Irina: It creates a powerful magnetic field that can be transformed. Magnetic rings are about this thickness, approximately (4-5 cm), and they also have some kind of yellow metal inserts, which...

Alexander: Closes, screens.

Irina: It's a dark color, and here it's wrapped in something (shows), like you showed the winding here, only they have such a thin wire wound around them.

Sergey: On magnets, yes?

Irina: Yes, and it is not wound around everyone, but by sector.

Alexander: It is clear that when the magnetic field rotates...

Irina: You need to draw this. There are four magnets on one rod (shows), and this rod begins to rotate.

Sergey: With coils together.

Irina: It rotates, and they turn behind it. And he said that you can put several of these in the engine, which will spin in one direction, or maybe in one and the other. Both will give energy; on the one hand, energy is supplied to this rod, and on the other, it is removed.

Alexander: We have an idea of how it works.

Sergey: Similar to Bedini, Kromrey generator, just magnetic flux.

Alexander: Just a quantum generator.

Sergey: This magnetic flux is interrupted, broken, and at the moment the magnetic flux breaks, an emission occurs, the coil is charged with what is called "cold current".

Alexander: This is something that is more like quantum energy.

Sergey: I also think that it comes from there.

Alexander: Kromry's generator is bigger.

Irina: This name, surname, doesn't mean anything to me.

Alexander: This is an analogue of a quantum generator.

43:02 Tesla on the transfer of technical information.

Irina: Yes, you can try to create such a scheme, but here it is necessary, already in the process of creation, not only to control, but to correct. This really needs to be done with the contactee, if any of you, the creator, wants to do this and wants to contact me, I can advise.

Alexander: Thank you.

Irina: That person will already be "in the know" and will understand how to connect it all. It will be easier for me to tell him without distortion. Sergey, for example, are you ready to receive information?

Sergey: I tried to leave twice, I always received positive answers, in the form of pictures, but I may still be deciphering them incorrectly. I'm trying, learning to make contact. I will be very happy if it works out.

Irina: Okay, through the Higher Self you will need to establish contact with him. Then you will start asking questions. First, those for setting up a contact, the answers to which you do not know, but the one who asks the questions will know them in order to check how you are processing the information.

Sergey: This is how I act sometimes. I ask, I ask a question to the information field, let's say I ask a question. And if "yes" is green, if "no" is red. And I see a picture, let's say the color is yellow, which means you are moving in the right direction.

Irina: The fact is that Alexander requested a specific scheme. To convey a diagram, it is not just a drawing that needs to be conveyed, it is necessary to convey the cross-section of the wire, their relative position with each other, one might say, a drawing. The person through whom I am transmitting will convey it distortedly; he is not an expert. A specialist is needed here so as not to further confuse you by distorting, if possible, her (Irina Podzorova's) awareness; she conveys more spiritual information. What is needed here is a "technical" person who can be completely compatible with me.

I have already said that I have such contactees, but, nevertheless, the fact that I gave her the drawing is there. But in order to explain further details, how resistors and capacitors should be placed there, how they should be arranged, it must be a technical specialist.

Sergei: I'll try to go out.

Irina: What does "technical" mean? Anyone who is familiar with the diagrams has not just read them in a book or looked at them in physics, but has directly worked with them. Because he still has motor memory; It would be very nice to have a radio amateur type. Someone who works with diagrams. I could convey it directly in such a way that he would remember and be able to redraw it. And then use it in practice.

Sergey: We will study.

Irina: I would draw this now too, he gave me this picture again, but it comes up in impulses, you really need to draw.

Sergey: We will learn to perceive these pictures.

Irina: Yes, this is necessary through the Higher Self. We all establish any contacts through the Higher Self - this is your Spirit. It is necessary to talk to him about whether this contact generally corresponds to your life task, and if so, then whether you are suitable in vibration. If yes, already ask and give consent. He doesn't mind asking for contact.

Sergei: I see, that is, he gives the go-ahead.

Irina: He doesn't mind. He says: “Yes, if your Spirit gives good. Either yours or yours, you can try everything. I have quite a lot of contacts, I can still accept.”

47:48 Tesla on the prospects for the development of fuel-free energy.

Colleague of Alexander: Is humanity ready for fuel-free generators to start working?

Irina: As Alexander correctly said, a fuel-free generator, if we consider generators without fuel combustion energy, already exists. Including nuclear ones, they are used without fuel in the classical sense, and even more so those that use wind, sun, and water. But their capabilities are not used 100%. Research into new materials, new types of energy transfer, connections between them, and the use of new alloys is not used. All this depends on the tasks given to scientists, on the tasks that the government gives to metallurgists to obtain new alloys. We must first give the task to geologists to explore certain chromium and nickel deposits, then extract them and explore them. Metallurgists should be given a task; there should be physics of metals.

Grants are given for the study of only certain materials, certain types of energy, which do not contradict oil price quotes.

Alexander: We know that.

Irina: And everything that will contradict, you understand. If this creates a danger to the incomes of those who hold this power (and oil dollars are power), who hold power in their hands, they simply will not order, but will advise the rulers with whom they are in contact, in a friendly conversation, not to finance these studies are at the expense of the state, and they will even tell you why. “Because now it will be necessary to convert production and all consumer devices to new energy carriers, which is ineffective and unprofitable, and ultimately the end consumer will suffer." And the rulers will listen.

Alexander: This is how everything happens, we are aware.

Irina : Yes, I know (speaks). I have contactees who are directly confronted with these answers. In scientific institutes. I know about it. They won't say directly that "we will lose income." They will say it is "ineffective". Even if they are shown and demonstrated how to obtain energy from other types, they will say: "Yes, there is a lot of energy, this is very good, but in order to convey all this to people, the networks need to be redone, this is very expensive and, in the end, unprofitable."

Alexander: The miners will lose their jobs, they will starve, and many, many other things will happen.

Irina : Yes, the very remaking of these devices that exist. You are probably aware that we won't take even oil tycoons on purpose, we will take any manufacturer of electrical appliances, more or less large, who secretly allows their specialists to use materials of this type in their devices, wires of such a cross-section that they worked for a certain time.

Alexander: Not for long.

Irina : A certain number of on-off switches. And so that it looks natural. In order to sell more of your products. Yes, this is news.

Colleague Alexandra: What to do with this?

Irina : What news did he tell me, anyway? I thought they were doing it to make people use it longer.

Alexandra: No, unfortunately. We are also aware.

Irina : (Smiles.) I really appreciate your creative impulse and the impulse of researchers. This greatly enriches science, the knowledge of mankind, but, unfortunately, official science and its representatives work on salaries from certain bodies. And therefore, you are unlikely to find confirmation there for your ideas, which run counter to the already established policies in these circles.

Alexander: And in connection with this, the question is: is it clear when this approach will end? It feels like times are changing anyway. It seems to us that the use of new technologies will soon be possible. It seems so to us.

Irina: Specifically in the energy sector.

Alexander: Yes.

Irina: You know, from the Spiritual world it is clear that, perhaps, in about 20-25 years this will already be widely implemented. It's not even a matter of oil and gas reserves; they are also decreasing, but new ones are being explored. The fact is that those countries that contain large reserves of oil are, unfortunately, not in European countries or the USA, for example. They are found mainly in Arab countries. And Arab countries have long understood the value of their position, that they can provide a good standard of living for their population by selling these energy resources to the West, selling them at a high price.

Naturally, Western leaders resist this. They, with the help of their secret organizations, bribe such people with money to overthrow these rulers. They call them too active Muslims and so on (these are Muslim countries), they believe that they are dictators. This has happened many times in many countries where there is oil. It is clear that they hide behind the "fight against terrorism," but in fact there the fight is for a ruler who would be ready to give, one might say, half the cost of oil to the West, and keep his people in poverty.

This is clear to everyone. Quite a lot of people already understand this, including in Arab countries, which are "reservoirs" of the oil reserves that have not yet been used up. In future. It will be increasingly difficult to incite his people to such actions.

Western countries, which will understand that it is not profitable for them to buy such oil (and they have exhausted theirs, or its extraction is expensive, for example, at the bottom of the sea, you need to build a station there, which is very unprofitable), will themselves pay attention to such researchers and move on for fuel-free generators, more for solar energy. And all this will be financed. This will happen within, most likely, 20-25 years.

Alexander: Not too far off, maybe we'll catch it.

Irina: There is such a possibility, because political processes are taking place that are beyond the control of these individuals.

Alexander: I think we will thank you. Nikola, we are very grateful to you for answering our questions.

Irina: Yes, I was also very uninterested. Thank you. Told you interestingly.

Alexander: Thank you Raom Tiyan!

Irina: Raom Tiyan also told an interesting story.

Alexander: We thank Irina for helping us communicate.

Irina: Thank you! Thank you dear friends, I thank you for watching this video. I'm really not a technical expert. What is needed here is a person with knowledge, in whose memory this is already embedded, who can see it differently. I transmit information from our interstellar friends, from the Spiritual World, from plasmoid civilizations at my level of awareness. And indeed, despite this, I was very interested in conveying this information. See you again!

#406 Unique live broadcast with the representative of the ANTI-UNIVERSE - KALACHAKRA. Part 1

0:06 Introduction of the participants.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello everyone!

Irina: Greetings to everyone, dear friends! Hello! Good evening!

Maxim: Dear friends, we have a very interesting broadcast today. We have been asking for this broadcast for a long time, but it was not given to us. There was no opportunity to meet specifically with a representative from a parallel Universe. Am I right, Irina?

Irina: Yes. He's getting set up now. Such sensations are interesting.

Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we have a very interesting contact with a being from a parallel Universe or, as he himself calls it, the Antiverse, who called himself Kalachakra. He emphasizes that this is the name for our Universe. In his Universe, his name sounds like a collection of sounds that have no meaning in our language. Those sounds that their speech apparatus creates for their hearing apparatus will not make sense to ours, it will simply be random noise.

01:38 Kalachakra about the collision of galaxies. Kalachakra about the features of emerging black holes.

Maxim: Interesting. Kalachakra, we have a tradition: we always start with intergalactic news. Guys, unique news from the Antiverse from Kalachakra! Kalachakra, can you tell us about some interesting event, news in the near future that you heard there, which pleased you, inspired you, or something else, interesting good news, can you tell us from a parallel Universe?

Irina: I need to say something new to me, right?

Maxim : Yes, for us too.

Irina: Nothing new is happening for me. Everything is cyclical. But I can tell you news from my Universe. Your Universe is the Anti-Universe for me, just as it is mine for you, it is yours for me. I can tell the news from my Universe.

Maxim: Yes, please tell me some news from your Universe.

Irina: In my world, on my planet, I am a cosmic observer, in addition to my interests in studying another Universe, yours. The news is that in my Universe, quite recently, by the standards of our time, there was a collision of two, as you call it, galaxies, as a result of which five structures were born at once, which you call black holes. In the middle of them, there is no name for this in your language, is a special type of quasar, which has a multidimensional crystalline structure through which you can travel to another Universe, to yours, in the astral body, in the form of a subtle body, spending 150% less energy.

04:10 Tela Kalachakra.

Maxim: Very interesting! Guys, this is a live broadcast, not a recording. Every Sunday at 20:00 we broadcast live with our interstellar friends. Today we have Kalachakra in touch, this is a representative for us of a parallel Universe. We will ask questions regarding this parallelism, how this Universe exists, and who is he in this Universe.

Kalachakra, please tell me, do you have a dense body in your Universe, like we humanoids, or are you a subtle-material being?

Irina: I have a dense body, but I am also freely in a subtle body, an analogue of all bodies that are plasmoid of the 16th density of your Universe. I myself created it from etheric matrices, filled the etheric matrices with the content of my consciousness.

Maxim: Is there any difference when you tune in with representatives of this Universe or with representatives of a parallel Universe?

Irina: I'll explain now. When he begins to invest thought forms, thoughts, it is felt that the charge of his etheric body is opposite to ours. Therefore, thoughts are somewhat confused. I say one word, and then I realize that I said it ahead of the thought that he says next. I go back a little and repeat.

Maxim: I didn’t understand anything, but okay.

Irina: I say a word, but he hasn’t finished it yet, it’s like a break in time for him.

05:55 Kalachakra about the features of the Antiverse and life in it.

Maxim: Tell me, please, in your Antiverse there are also worlds, the structure of space is divided into different worlds, and does the Spiritual World also exist?

Irina: The spiritual world is the basis for the matter of our world and the home of entities that temporarily come to incarnate in our world, as well as in yours.

Maxim: Kalachakra, please tell me, you also have Universes, various dense-material beings and subtle-material beings, right?

Irina: I can even say that I can create dozens of subtle bodies for myself. These are, in your opinion, plasmoids, but I can live in them with my consciousness. I don't know whether the ability of humanoids (creatures made of dense matter) to create subtle bodies for themselves is developed in your Universe. These are analogues of your phantoms, but they are filled with ethereal substance. In your opinion, I can live either in a plasmoid or in a humanoid.

Maxim: When you live in a plasmoid, what happens to your humanoid body?

Irina: It goes into suspended animation, in your opinion, the processes in it slow down.

Maxim: What is your life expectancy? And is there time in your Universe?

Irina: Of course. In any material world, in any material structure, there is an order of its changes, which can be called time.

Maxim: How long do you live according to your time? Can this time be translated into our years? We live on Earth for a hundred years, but how long do you live there? Exactly you, how long do you live?

Irina: Is your year the Earth's revolution around the Sun?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: I know how long your day, for example, takes. This is a little more than 20 thousand seconds, and in a year there are 365 of them, I read from the contactee's memory. I know how many seconds are yours (he thinks, he compares). This means that my body can live about two and a half thousand years like on Earth.

Maxim: Two and a half thousand years.

Irina: Yes. He has a slow type of metabolism with the environment.

The body is slowly destroyed by constant cell division, it consumes little oxidizing substance, oxygen (they also breathe oxygen), but it consumes less of it, and this causes the cells to be destroyed less.

I have already translated what you wanted.

Maxim: If you have a reverse Universe, then where do you get your oxygen?

Irina: We have it too, it's a dense Universe. In it, the atoms are built in such a way that their energy levels are different, on the contrary.

10:00 Kalachakra about the purpose of creating the Antiverse.

Maxim: Why was the Antiverse created? How did you understand that you are in the Antiverse for us?

Irina: We have different types of substance. The substance may be the same, but the structure itself is different. Due to the fact that the structure is different, these Universes are not located in each other, as, for example, in your Galaxy, but in parallel. If different types of matter meet each other, they will collapse due to the fact that their energies do not match, and there will be a release of energy.

Maxim: What type of body do you have? Is it carbon, silicon, or do you have a different table of chemical elements?

Irina: When I said "oxygen," it's an analogue; our oxygen molecule is even structured differently: from six atoms that occupy a circle (the circle shows). We can combine this substance this way, but the analogue is the oxidizing gas that we breathe.

Maxim: When you said "oxygen," did you mean an analogue of what you breathe?

Irina: It does not consist of two atoms, like your oxygen molecule, but of six.

He speaks in thought forms, it will still be “oxygen” for me in any case, I don’t know its substances.

Maxim: I understand.

Irina: We need to look at his periodic table. Yes, Kalachakra, we have such a table.

Maxim: You are a researcher, please tell me, in general, why did God create the Universe and the Anti-Universe? How do they exist? Can you explain to us what the Antiverse is and why it was created?

Irina: I’ll tell you that there are many Universes (shows).

The Universe is a collection of galaxies that are in free space, if we take its dense phase. Subtle phases, the subtle plane of existence, also consists of its own types of galaxies, but they are subtle, from subtle energies (more relevant to substances, but this is the type of energy for you).

Why are there many Universes with different types of matter? To be different. This is his assumption, he says how he feels. He says that many reasons for the existence of different Universes can be found. I feel that this is for the diversity of forms of life manifested from the Spiritual world. The very energy of the Divine Light, which builds this matter of different types, this Light itself has infinite variety. He strives for an infinitely varied experience. Therefore, different types of Universes are generated, where Spirits from the Spiritual World incarnate. We incarnate from the same Spiritual world, but not in turn, as on different planets.

Maxim: How?

Irina: Those Spirits who will go through the evolutionary process in your Universe can incarnate in ours.

Maxim: Wait! Spirits that will go through the evolutionary process in our Universe can only then incarnate in your Universe?

Irina: Who will be able to cleanse their thoughts, their mind and their spiritual heart from everything that can give rise to destruction. Our bodies are built differently; they imply a very large possibility of possessing energy. And if the Spirit is embodied and has not eliminated its negative qualities, it can, using these energies, destroy our Universe.

Maxim: There is also a selection of Spirits into your Universe, do I understand correctly?

Irina: By the way, our Spirits (most of them) cannot incarnate in your Universe. It's not that they can't, but there must be reasons why the Spirit from our Universe will go into your Universe. We initially have frequency characteristics that are combined specifically with our bodies. Firstly, with the type of etheric body that will connect us with our type of physical body or subtle body, if it is a subtle body.

Maxim: What percentage of your Spirit is embodied in your body?

Irina: In mine?

Maxim: Yes, yours. What percentage of Spirit is embodied in your body? In our Universe, on our planet, let's say, 30% of the total Spirit is embodied in the body of an earthling. What percentage of the Spirit is embodied in you, in your body?

Irina: Initially?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Our percentage is variable.

Maxim: Can you change it?

Irina: Yes. Our body is adapted in such a way that at birth, with a harmonious coincidence of parents (those whom you call parents who give birth), if you take my race, then at incarnation - around 67%. I am incarnated (shows) at 66-67%. But this may change.

16:40 Kalachakra about the race of his Antiverse. Energy and body of Kalachakra.

Maxim: Got it. What do you look like in your tight body? Do you have arms, legs, a head, or do you look something different? From whom did you come? In your Universe, you originated from someone when you acquired physical bodies, but you could not immediately become such a race.

Irina: We originally descended from lizards, but they were flying.

Maxim: Are you a reptilian from the Antiverse?

Irina: What is a “reptilian”?

Maxim: In our opinion, a reptilian is one who descended from lizard-like creatures.

Irina: A lizard (shows) is a flying predator, cold-blooded. But I don't see any scales on it, just smooth skin.

Maxim: What do you look like in your body now?

Irina: At first, the ancestors of our race were flying (shows: like a bat, only its wings are more like a bird, but there are no feathers, it doesn’t look like a mouse, some strange creature covered with smooth dark green skin). Then these flying ancestors began to live on earth. Their gene code changed: they gradually lost the ability to fly. They then evolved into intelligent beings because they were exposed to conditions that were contrary to their instincts. Because of this, they began to use their brains to recreate situations in which they could survive. Their brains began to improve (it just tells evolution).

Maxim: Guys, Kalachakra is just a name that is understandable in our Universe. Look at the beginning of the broadcast: he said that his name in our language will be pronounced with random sounds. I agree with those who write that Kalachakra is a system of Buddhist worldview.

Irina: He just chose the name.

Maxim: In accordance with the consciousness of the contactee, he chose a name that approximately corresponds to who he is. Let's not say, “Kalachakra is not someone, but something.” It's just a name. Any contactee will in the same way designate the one who comes to him, because he has it in his memory.

Irina: I called myself by this name because Kalachakra is, according to the statements of those beings of the Earth, the people of the Earth, whom I studied, a god related to the flow of time. I also studied the physics of time in my Universe. We have such energies in our body that we can slow down and speed up the processes of time in our body, and even influence the processes of change in the material world outside the body. I study the physics of time.

I know this is not possible for you due to the nature of your bodies. This can be a great weapon. The danger of destruction of the Universe, your world, has given your bodies such forms through which it is impossible, as in our bodies, to control these processes. This is why Spirits from low levels can incarnate in your Universe, but with us this is practically impossible. Even on a high-vibration planet, Spirits from low spiritual levels can incarnate so that they can raise their level.

Maxim: They can incarnate with you, right?

Irina: No, he says “at your place.”

Maxim: Yours or ours?

Irina: With you. And with us this is practically impossible.

Maxim: Tenhouse writes: “Kalachakra is no such entity. The demons are fooling you." Tenhouse - there is no such name! YouTube is fooling us. Your name doesn't exist, that's why YouTube is fooling us.

Irina: What is a “demon”? If we look at the three letters, if we translate the abbreviation, they used to be called this: Incorporeal Energy Essence, and now read the first three letters.

Maxim: Incorporeal Energy Essence - BES.

Irina: It's a simple abbreviation.

Maxim: Actually, very interesting, yes! Please tell me, you passed on the codes to Irina, we wrote an article on VK (by the way, a link to the article where Kalachakra passed on the codes).

Irina: What I look like (shows). The color of his scalp and body skin are different. Yes, his skin color is dark green, but closer to the head it turns into gray, a darker color. The green disappears and it is not as gray as ours, but with a metallic tint. And his head is round in shape, and then it goes on with some kind of point, like it ends in a dome.

I have two eyes. These are not eyes, but some kind of slits. They are deep set. Yellow color. I don’t see a visible nose, just some kind of plate. The mouth is similar to that of a lizard, with the upper jaw protruding above the lower jaw. Shows an open mouth: there are no teeth, just plates, and something similar to a small tongue, it moves.

I am erect (shows that he is sitting). It has small feet and long toes, four toes that flare out towards the end of the toe. There are also four fingers on the hands. What's that on your fingers? I didn't understand what it was. These are not membranes, something like suction cups.

Maxim: Guys, we found Kalachakra a long time ago, more than a year ago. But we did not communicate with him due to the fact that at that time his energy was quite heavy for us. Even people who were present when communicating with Kalachakra fainted, so we stopped these contacts. But now, at this point in time, we can quite harmoniously transfer information and contact with Kalachakra.

Irina: I remember our contact.

25:10 Contact Kalachakra.

Maxim: Tell me, please, do you have contactees in this Universe or in a parallel Universe, in the Antiverse?

Irina: Who is the contactee?

Maxim: The one who accepts is like Irina. Irina is a contactee; she can receive information from you. Do you have other people, or maybe not people in this Universe, contactees who can also hear you and receive information from you?

Irina: They can if I tune in to their frequencies. Almost everyone can hear, but this requires tuning on the field.

Maxim: I'll block Tenhouse, I don't understand why the person is here. For some reason, a person came to our channel and thinks that we are discrediting someone. I can't understand. Guys, if you don't like the information, if something doesn't suit you, please find another channel, listen to other people. We are not saying that we are convincing you of something. Who supports us, please like, I will at least see that you really like the information. If you got here, you are definitely subscribed and can write, because people who have not subscribed to us cannot write comments. Guys, if you don't like it, please find information that you like. You probably just don't understand what we're talking about yet, or we just don't understand each other, but I think this is temporary.

Let's continue further. Do you have any contacts?

Irina: I can communicate with anyone who is inclined (there are no permanent ones, as I understand him, he can talk from time to time).

I didn't set out to be, as you call it, someone's curator, to supervise someone. I live simply as a researcher, without constant contact with other beings.

Maxim: What is it? You itched your third eye.

Irina: It feels like he's pressing directly with his hand, sometimes it's not very comfortable.

(Kalachakra speaks) I do not set myself the goal of constantly being in contact with someone. I can transmit information to anyone who wants to hear me and tune their spiritual channel to me, as Irina did now. In my Universe I can communicate easily. In yours, I spent a long time preparing for this meeting, bringing the energy of my etheric body into line with your special meditative exercises and nutrition. Otherwise there would be great distortions, and this would be harmful to the physical body of the contactee.

Maxim: I always try to read questions, comments and write down. Of course, my head is a complete mess, but I will try to concentrate and ask the right questions.

28:25 Kalachakra about codes of influence on various processes.

Maxim: Please tell me you gave us the codes. Guys, by the way, at the link below you can find an article where Kalachakra from the Antiverse gave us codes for the development of energy space in this Universe. Please tell me you gave the codes. Do these codes work only in our Universe or in yours too?

Irina: I gave it especially for you. These are your universal energy codes, you can ask them.

Please build me an adequate, normal proposal.

You can ask them from plasmoid civilizations. Usually this is done, according to your classification, by plasmoids from the 28th to 32nd density level. Talk to the Solar System, to the shining beings of Jupiter, Saturn, and any giant planets.

Maxim: We can ask these codes from subtle beings who understand our Universe in these codes, is it so?

Irina: They are given not only for the Universe, they are unique for each star system. Each star system has its own.

Maxim: They are different for each star system. Understood.

Irina: You will definitely take me to the Astral now.

Maxim: Tell me, please, I have a friend, he is engaged in agriculture. He asked if these codes could be used to grow agricultural plants and crops over large areas? How to do it right?

Irina: Just like I gave instructions for plants. What type does it have: herbs, shrubs or trees?

Maxim: This is probably closer to herbs.

Irina: Do they reproduce with the help of seeds or with the help of spores?

Maxim: With the help of seeds.

Irina: This means that before planting seeds in the soil, you first (shows) harmonize yourself energetically (as you call it, contact with yourself, with the Light).

Maxim: A tractor driver should not be drunk.

Irina: He himself, who asked, can do it. A few minutes is enough. First he must bring himself into a harmonious energetic state for the codes to take effect. He should not experience negativity, otherwise his destructive emotions will be projected through digital codes onto the seeds and can disrupt their structure. These codes enhance any energy processes. When I say “any”, I mean both positive and negative. For this influence to be in the Light of God, you need to be in harmony. This is similar to your prayer or mantra, but filled with a sense of digital logic.

Maxim: They ask to give you water.

Irina: Thank you!

This sequence of numbers modulates the energetic process that occurs in this case during the germination of this plant. Any energy process can be written in the form of a digital series.

Maxim: Any energy process can be written down as a digital series, everything is correct.

Irina: If these numbers are pronounced in the sequence that I gave, and with those spaces, then this process will be activated. And at the same time, it is necessary to direct thought forms to the Light so that, along with the strengthening of the energy of the process, it does not introduce destruction and damage the tissue of the seeds and their etheric matrix.

Maxim: I understand. People who feel our energy say that the codes you gave are not very strong (this is their personal feeling of strength). Is it possible to further strengthen the codes you gave?

Irina: This is an individual, personal perception of a person who was not completely in a harmonious, bright state when he pronounced them. Let him try again after the light practice of connecting with the inner Light.

Maxim: With the Higher Self, as we say.

Irina: Yes. We call it the Higher Self. It is the Higher Self, the Higher Personality, yes.

Maxim: You can get acquainted with the codes at the link (I gave it right under this video). We have opened a Telegram channel, it's called "Cassiopeia-Publications", the link is below, you can find this article, it came out today. It is still on VK, but VK is not accessible to everyone. I know that residents of Ukraine do not have access to VK. We decided to transfer the articles to Telegram to make it easier for you to find them.

Kalachakra, let's move on, we still have many questions.

35:40 Kalachakra Oh Christ.

Maxim: Tell me, please, did Christ, that physical spiritual personality that we had, incarnate in your Universe?

Irina: Is this your God?

Maxim: Yes, we call him God, the son of God.

Irina: Read the image from me.

Maxim: Jesus Christ, Yahweh are one and the same person.

Irina: I just read who you call the Firstborn Son of God.

I'll tell you what he says.

Maxim: Come on.

Irina: From my point of view and from the point of view of people of my race, the phrase “Firstborn Son of God” is meaningless, because in the Spiritual world it does not matter who appeared earlier and who appeared later in the thoughts of God. We all have appeared carrying the same spiritual knowledge, spiritual purity and spiritual bliss. The fact that he never lowered his vibrations and did not leave the highest spiritual level is his choice. Indeed, there are such Spirits. I want to assure you that he is not the only one in this. There are other Spirits who did not leave a high spiritual level by choice. The so-called “originality” did not in any way determine this in him.

Personally, he doesn’t say that he knows him, just from my memory.

Maxim: Okay, I understand.

37:35 Kalachakra about using the Antiverse. Kalachakra about God.

Maxim: Why is the Antiverse needed at all? What is she doing?

Irina: It gives you the opportunity to demonstrate the qualities developed by your Universe in controlling matter to build worlds not only in a subtle form, but also in a dense form, and to control them.

They have energy capabilities that allow them to control matter.

Maxim: You, in the Antiverse, control the matter of our Universe?

Irina: We control our Universe.

Maxim: Ah, my Universe, yes.

Irina: Your Universe. They don’t have access to ours, they will immediately explode here.

Maxim: I see. You are here in the astral body.

Irina: In the astral I can.

Maxim: Is it a difficult process for you to be here in the astral body?

Irina: For me, no, I'm prepared. But for an ordinary inhabitant of our galaxy (not only my planet, but our Universe in general), for those who are not prepared - yes, for them it will be such a pressing environment, it is through the Astral to be in your space. Although I am in the Astral, the Astral is a common meeting place for entities from all worlds and Universes, but in order to stay in that area of the Astral that envelops your world, this requires preparation and tuning of consciousness.

Maxim: They ask: you create worlds there, and for whom do you create them?

Irina: For God in yourself.

Maxim: Who is God in your understanding in the Antiverse? How would you describe God?

Irina: The one who can do everything, an omnipotent being, always aimed at development. Always aimed at developing oneself and others, at complicating the structure and more and more improving all one's qualities, aimed at endless movement. And all this (as you call it, Light, life) gives life to everything.

Maxim: I see.

40:10 Planet Kalachakra and its population.

Maxim: We already understand that you live for two and a half thousand years. What does your planet look like? Is it round or some other shape?

Irina: My planet is dense (shows a ball, but small, the size of our Moon). (Kalachakra says) smaller than the Earth, but larger than your Moon (shows: it looks like the Moon, it's a desert, and there are craters in the middle).

We have an atmosphere. Our planet is located at a distance from our star, we have few bodies of water (shows that they have few bodies of water, arid terrain).

We have a small variety of flora and fauna. The population of our planet is currently small, now there are 28 thousand people.

Maxim: There are only 28 thousand species or people living on this planet?

Irina: 28 thousand humanoids. They are in some small settlement.

Maxim: Got it. Interesting. Has your Spirit ever been born in this Universe?

Irina: Yes. I was born in your Universe before I had the opportunity to be born in my Universe.

Maxim: How do you see our Universe with your Universe?

Irina: I know this as a fact.

#408 Channeling. Light transformation symbols. How to activate contact with the subtle world?

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/chenneling-svetovye-transformacionnye-simvoly
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=VZVlRsdk2jM

00:17 Background.

In the summer of 1999, a 13-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than twenty years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:13 Introduction of participants.

Alleya: Hello, dear friends! I greet you all. My name is Alleya. I am the leader of the Progress of New Energies, a universal contactee. I am in contact with 24 civilizations from the Galactic Federation of Light, I receive messages from guides from the Spiritual World, a channeler, a clairvoyant. Today we will talk about light transformation symbols.

Irina, I give you the floor.

Irina : Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today with us is my curator, a specialist in the interaction of the astral and physical worlds LiShioni from the planet Shimor. He came to talk about the energetic meanings of the symbols.

Alleyya: Shall we call my curators?

Irina : Yes.

Alley: Raphael, Alfus was with the Pleiades.

Irina : They are present with you. I definitely feel the Pleiadians, I also feel the representatives of the planet Venus, the plasmoids. And if anyone wants to answer the question, they will move to me.

03:01 Receiving light transformation symbols.

Alleya: Great! I received these light transformation symbols from the Supreme Beings of Light and other planetary-galactic systems. They are given to help people transform themselves, raise their vibrations, and saturate their bodies with crystalline light. Also so that people can interact with the subtle world and transform dissonant energies into Light.

There are 26 symbols and 7 connectives. They all carry their own frequency, their own vibration. Each symbol is always something new. The symbol helps us transform, reach a new level. It is important to understand that you don't need to shift all the work to symbols. We must remember that work begins with the head, with our worldview and perception. And the symbols are like a hint, a friend who lends you a helping hand and provides you with support. Of course, the main work begins with us.

I received the symbols in 2016, when I went to an esoteric festival. A lot of interesting people gathered there. The very spirit of the festival and the space were built in such a way that I received this information, knowledge of light transformation symbols. A day before receiving the information, intensive cleansing of the body was underway. At the festival itself, the atmosphere was calm, peaceful, and I was ready for something new. And it came.

Knowledge came easily and calmly, as if pouring out of nowhere. Of course, not out of nowhere, a very tall shining Light entity came towards me. Streams of Love and care for all people emanated from her. I could feel it. I was informed that valuable knowledge would now be passed on to me, and permission was given to share with people. They said that they came from Venus through a portal. I asked: “What is this?” They said it was a portal of the Light of Venus. There was a certain master class, when they came out to me, I looked around, no one saw them, only me.

06:11 Name and meaning of symbols. Sound codes.

Alleyya: They started showing me symbols. I drew the first 18 characters in one go. At the same time, the entities that came changed. Each gave its own information on the symbol.

After some time, sound codes and other symbols arrived. Over time, when working with symbols, connections came. These are several symbols combined into one bundle. The symbols are synchronized in frequency with other symbols and unite such a combination. It's not fast. Six months, a year came successively. The next stage came sound codes.

Each symbol has its own name. Even if you look now, the symbol of Healing. There is a sound code “Iyar” and its own direction of action. Each person will, of course, have something different when interacting with this symbol. There will be some work to be done. It could be anything. For example, when living the symbol of Prosperity, work will be done regarding finances.

A person, in general, perceives a huge amount of information, and only grains reach consciousness. Our interpretation is poorly developed and there are no symbols through which sensual people can feel. This will be understandable only to consciousness. The absence of a world model generally flies by unnoticed. You can only feel something vague, but you can't translate it into words and understand what these sensations are. I talk about how you can feel the symbols.

The next such symbol of Integrity. Very interesting, beautiful.

Irina : Yes.

Alleya: You can see here that this is not just one symbol. It combines with other symbols.

Irina : Yes. Fine.

Alleya: It is considered holistic.

Irina : Maybe we can structure our conversation like this? I will watch LiSioni through me, for example? Or will I tell you my feelings?

Alleya: I have questions. One of the questions: maybe you can tell me something interesting about each symbol, something that didn't reach me.

Irina : To do this you need to show, and they will talk. LiSioni will speak, or perhaps your curators, I can also say. I can say what I feel, he can say what it means. Let's build it this way.

Alleya: Come on (shows the symbol).

Irina : This is the word that is written there, I just see it.

Alleya: "Illara."

Irina : This is the name of the entity, as I understand it. Even the name of the energy that was transmitted. So what is this symbol? For some reason I have an image of the Sun with rays. (LiScioni speaks) You see now this ball, this plasmoid entity that transferred energies. Her rays are her organs, which replace arms and legs in that world for movement and interaction with the world. That entity has 18 of them. And what does it do to a person?

When looking at this symbol, the work of the first chakra is enhanced and harmonized. This is work to strengthen the connection with the Earth, with Mother Nature. Why with mother? Nature is the mother who gave birth to us. (LiShioni says) Therefore, the energy of the first energy center of vibration comes from her.

Alleya: And he teaches patience, showing integrity in everything. The symbol is a simulator. (Shows the symbol.)

And there is a symbol of Healing. By the way, it is applied to the pyramid itself. I'll get back to her later. "Iyara."

Irina : Come on.

Alleyya: This is the symbol of healing "Iyar".

Irina : LiSioni looks through me. (LiScioni says) This has nothing to do with activating the chakras at all. This is specifically a call; you call upon certain entities to contact you. Attuning to contact with plasmoid entities, including for healing and energy exchange.

(Several crystals are shown.) A diamond and a diamond below, and it shimmers. The color inside is red, like a ruby, but the white spreads around. This is a call for contact.

Alleya: If you look at the healing sessions of the Galactic Federation of Light (GFS), we also call on it there in order to be healed, to receive healing, to receive healing.

(Shows the symbol.) And here is the next symbol of Protection.

Irina : Heartfelt (LiShioni speaks). This activates the heart chakra.

Shows the green color, which activates the Love chakra, the feeling of Love, sympathy, faith, that is, it opens the heart.

13:52 Source of symbols of Light. Transferring energy by drawing.

Alleya: Great. And what creatures, from what level, transmitted these symbols?

Irina : (LiShioni speaks) From different levels. I looked now, they were all from different levels, but these are plasmoid civilizations of the Cosmos. Moreover, these were the planet Venus, the Sun itself, (solar plasmoids), Pleiadians, density levels from the 18th to the 26th. Quite high vibrational entities, all different in energy.

Alleya: What are they doing? This, of course, is an abstract question, but since they came and conveyed such interesting and significant information. For what?

Irina : For them, the symbols that you drew are symbols, creating such symbols in their world is like, for example, writing a book for you. They carry energy and information at the same time. Since they themselves are in the form of certain waves or crystals or balls, it is clear that they do not have letters and words, like people. Therefore, they use such symbols to convey information. When you transferred them to paper, as a medium, you also charged this medium with the energy that is inherent in this symbol. The inscription of a symbol on a medium transfers the energies of this symbol to the object itself.

Alleya: Is it possible to name the names of those who passed it on? I understand that there are a lot of them out there, but there are a few to whom I would like to thank for passing on such valuable information.

Irina : One of them from Venus is next to you, please move. He immediately took on the image of a man and did not show himself as a crystal. It's a girl. In a wide green skirt. She now takes on the image of a tall girl, long neck, hairstyle as if ancient. What is your name, please tell me in earthly letters? Sha, how are you? Sheatsu. Sheatzur.

Alleyya: Sheatsur.

Irina : Shiatsur, c - chicken. Shiat.

Alleya: Ah, Shiatsu.

Irina : Cur.

Alleyya: I thank you, Shiatsur.

Irina : How do you like it? Tell me, Shiatsur.

Alleyya: Shiatsur.

Irina : How do you feel?

Alleya: The wave has started. ABOUT! The wave has gone. I sent her the Light of my Love, I feel very hot now.

Irina : Look what energy she has. According to terminology, the 26th density level. (Shiatsur speaks) What we do on Venus is to mix different layers of the atmosphere to keep this planet stable after the catastrophe that occurred in the third density level. Many plasmoids were also damaged, and there was a surge of large amounts of negative energy. Plasmoid civilizations cleared the noosphere of the planet from this for a long time.

Now the task of my civilization is to keep this in harmony. I am approximately at the average level of the planet's atmosphere, if you look at the projection of the physical world, approximately 100-120 kilometers above the surface (shows). Their houses with high towers are made as if from crystal. Transparent. Hanging in the air.

Alleya: Beauty! I saw such a picture when I went to the Astral.

Irina : Yes, I went to see her. (Shiatsur speaks) When you spoke, you connected to my energy. Do you like my energy?

19:33 Preparing the contactee to transfer information.

Alleya: Yes. Why were these symbols given to me?

Irina : Because you are a universal contactee, whose task is to transfer knowledge from other high-vibration worlds to your world.

Alleya: Great. I hope I'm up to the task.

Irina : She smiles. (Shiatsur says) On earth, your efficiency is 100%.

Alleya: Thank you!

Alleya: Why did these 26 symbols convey different entities? Not just one.

Irina : The ones you showed were different. But there were also those that transmitted several characters.

Alleya: Yes. Here, for example, is the symbol of Peace.

Irina : In total, 12 of them participated. (Shiatsur speaks) 12 plasmoid civilizations participated in the transmission of these symbols. But the entities from them could have different names. They change. One makes contact, then another, you receive information from everyone.

Alleya: Yes, I saw that the entities were changing. Some stayed, changed, left, others came and transmitted the following symbols. Did your body really need cleansing? Before accepting this information, I was not allowed to eat for 3 days.

Irina : What are you talking about? Shiatsur, why didn't you let her eat?

Alleya: To raise, most likely, vibrations.

Irina : Yes. (Shiatsur speaks) It's not us, it's the body itself that demanded it.

Alleya: Great.

21:54 The influence of symbols on people's lives and energy. Interaction with symbols.

Alleya: How do these symbols influence life, the energy of people?

Irina : They were handed over like cards. Like runes and Tarot cards, they indicate different states of a person's Soul and his life. (LiShioni says) And the state of the chakras. We just don't call it chakras, but a state of the Soul.

Alleya: Is it possible to enter a symbol and experience the state that the very energy of this symbol gives?

Irina : I can tell you how to do it correctly to get the maximum benefit.

Alleya: Yes, I also have this question.

Irina : (Shiatsur speaks) I know your question.

Alleyya: It took me a long time to get to this point.

Irina : (Shiatsur speaks) I believe that people will also be interested in learning the meaning of some symbols from interstellar friends, from Irina's curator, who is here. It would be interesting to know what they mean from his point of view, how he felt them.

Alleya: I will show, you will talk. Right?

Irina : I will tell you how to interact with these symbols correctly. Interaction with them for maximum benefit should be in the form of meditation.

Alleya: Yes.

Irina : Sit in a relaxed position (shows). While sitting, relax your body and place the symbol in front of you so that no other objects come into view.

First, clear your thoughts, take a few breaths in and out, exhale the tension as you do in meditation, and ask yourself what mood it evokes. Position your hands like this (shows that your hands are in front of you) and feel, imagine that rays are coming from the center of your palms and exchanging energies with this symbol, and note your sensations. And then look at it and say the desire for which you came to this symbol. For example, healing, contact, chakra activation. It is advisable to have this interaction for at least 15 minutes. Sit with him, and then be sure to thank civilization.

Alleya: Be sure to thank.

Irina : Yes. Say: "I thank those civilizations that transmitted these energies. I thank and accept, I love and bless. I promise to direct this energy to the development of unconditional love and send you the Light of my Love."

Alleya: Thank you. Are there any other methods of working with these symbols, besides meditation?

Irina : They show me that the symbol lies on a wooden table, and you can put a glass of water on it.

Alleya: Yes, there is such a thing. I also have this method described in my manual.

Irina : She's showing me now: there's a glass, and from the symbol comes the energy of the golden-yellow color of the Sun and permeates the water. She charges it. You can attach the symbol to the body where there are some pains or problems.

Alleya: Yes, yes, yes. Another interesting technique is this: you take all the cards in your hands and ask: "Which symbol should I put where so that it works with me?" And you are surrounded by all the symbols. We did this practice. Very interesting. Then you lie under these symbols. They are where the body itself wanted. Also meditation.

Irina : (LiShioni speaks) They must be stored wrapped in a clean cloth, and so that they do not come into contact with other objects.

Alleya: Yes. There is such a thing.

Irina : So that they don't waste energy. And even more so from you, they exchange energy with you, you charge them with yours, and they charge you with theirs. They gain even greater power from your Light.

Alleya: Yes, absolutely, right. Before handing them over to those people who are ready to work with these symbols, I, of course, hold them in my hands before feeling the energy. I charge the pyramid so that it works autonomously, as you told me to do. Then I pass this set on to those who are ready to work with these symbols and the pyramid. That's right.

28:00 Symbol of Communication "Oyana".

Irina : This happens, right?

Alleya: (Shows the Oyana Link symbol) Yes.

Irina : Choice. For some reason it seems to me that this is a contact. Contact with someone, choosing a contactee. When you look at this symbol, you show that you want to contact, you are ready for contact. He prepares for contact.

Alleya: Right. It's called "Communication".

Irina : Some specific choice of the curator.

28:52 Symbol of the spiritual channel “Sataru”.

Alleya: Great. (Shows the Sataru symbol)

Irina : This symbol activates the spiritual channel with the Higher Self and with the Spiritual world.

29:12 Symbol of Awareness “Sailio”.

Alleya: Yes. (Shows the Sylio Awareness symbol)

Irina : Wheel. But here there is more protection. This is protection and at the same time awareness, protection and understanding of one’s karma.

Alleya: Yes.

Irina : Protection, mercy and understanding of your karma provide protection from some unfavorable circumstances. A person’s compassion increases, vibration appears, and at the same time he begins to understand his karma, his tasks for this incarnation. This protects him from some misfortunes and adversities.

Alleya: Yes. A person becomes holistic, concentrates at a point of comfort, and answers to questions come to him. It can also warn about certain events.

Irina : Yes, protection, mercy, understanding.

30:58 Symbol of Purification “Ilada”.

Alleya: Great. I'm glad it matches. (Shows symbol)

Irina : Here I am getting rid of it. This is the opposite vibration of fear. Again, under some alarming conditions. Cleansing from some fears, uncertainty, self-doubt, fears, anxieties. I have so.

31:25 Symbol of the Discovery “Sayano”.

Alleya: Interesting. (Shows the Syano Discovery symbol)

Irina : Here is the creation of something, creativity, creative flight. The fifth chakra is activated.

Alleyya: Fifth, right?

Irina : Creativity, the creator chakra.

Alleya: This is one of the keys to the powerful expression of our electric spiritual nature, creativity, creative impulse. Maybe when we express creativity, we can also still heal? Open to new things. Right?

Irina : Yes, something new.

32:35 Symbol of Harmony “Alura”.

Alleya: (Shows the Alura symbol)

Irina : Harmony. Harmony with the planet. There is harmony with others. I am in harmony with planet Earth. There is a love for nature and a feeling of harmony and tranquility.

33:10 Symbol of Consecration “Jaula”. Cleansing.

Alleya: Thank you. (Shows the symbol of Consecration “Jaul”) This is also an interesting symbol.

Irina : Structuring space. Objects around are filled with Light. (Shows the cleansing of the noosphere, egregors from low-vibration energies and the structuring of space so that nothing happens in it that is contrary to Divine laws). You can say the expulsion of evil, the purification of space.

Alleya: Yes, cleansing. Used for cleansing. This symbol works great.

Irina : Like fire (shows the fire of a candle). Fire symbol. By the way, it was transmitted by a fire plasmoid.

Alleya: Yes? The name of? Who should I thank?

Irina : (Shiatsur speaks) Yes, I know him.

About the same as Alfiyash (shows a man). This is a plasmoid of the element of fire, a salamander, in our opinion. Level 19 density, quite high. One of the rulers of the fire plasmoids, he also made contact. Say the word "Alfiyash".

Alley: Alfiyash.

Irina : How do you feel?

Alleya: My third chakra is now on fire, the second.

Irina : How's the burning?

Alleya: And a burning sensation went through the body.

Irina : This is his energy.

Alleya: Yes.

Irina : Do you like his energy?

Alleya: Yeah, interesting energy. I already felt it.

Irina : Yes.

Alleyya: Soon I will be able to distinguish all the energies, who has what.

35:58 Pyramid of healing.

Alleya: After these symbols, they showed me the pyramid. What should it be made of, what should be depicted on it: what symbols, in what arrangement, in what order?

According to sacred medicine, many geometric shapes create space for the circulation of certain types of energy. Therefore, they represent a healing tool based on the principle of energy charging. It’s just that each form has its own type of energy. The direction of the energy impact harmonizes the internal structure, energizes either the body or objects. Depending, of course, on the material they emit positive and negative energy. Well-known formula.

This pyramid has the property of a powerful harmonizer. Of all geometric shapes, the pyramid has the most powerful effect on all physical, chemical, and biological processes. It is unique in its therapeutic properties. And, in general, many books have been written about her healing, healing power. We all know this.

Here is a tetrahedral pyramid. It contains regular triangles. Regular triangles are a harmoniously active form. It is also called the “triangle of joy.”

An equilateral triangle with its apex pointing upward indicates the ascent of energy vibrations to a higher level of existence. This pyramid can help to move from a low spiritual plane, which is characterized by multiplicity, and therefore fragmentation, to a higher plane, that is, to a point of unity.

It is believed that the initiates initially chose the shape of the pyramids for their homes. I wanted to teach humanity a lesson in unity. The entities chose them because the line converging to the top means aspiration to the Sun. That is, it is a symbol of Life, Unity, One God. The pyramid is a symbol of matter dominated by Spirit.

In general, in ancient times there was an understanding that the pyramid was a single symbol of the secret doctrine. And the square base of the pyramid signified the earth, and the four sides represented the elements of matter from which material nature is composed. The triangular sides symbolize opposites, and their peaks symbolize the Divine essence.

The most effective (as I was shown what it should be made of) is a crystal pyramid. It is capable of working real miracles, healing the physical body, increasing the level of human spirituality, protecting against geo- and technopathogenic radiation, and serving as an amulet. You saw the pyramid today.

Irina : You’re holding it in your hands, I’m looking at it, it’s a very beautiful, energy-saturated form. Show it to everyone, let everyone feel it. Look in its middle, which is between the top and the base, see how light is not just reflected there. At the energetic level, he is born there.

It’s like a white ball (shows), the light diverges along the edges of the pyramid, goes down as a stream, and up as a beam. This light is born because a material such as rock crystal consists of a molecular structure that attracts certain vibrational wave qualities of space from the subtle worlds. When you make it in a pyramidal shape, it all intensifies and collects energy from the ether. Only this collects energy not for use, for transferring electricity somewhere, but specifically for healing.

Alleya: Why not a ball? Why the pyramid?

Irina : Because the ball is needed for something else. It is needed for contemplation, for vision, for the opening of spiritual vision, and the pyramid is needed so that these energies have a healing effect. When energy flows along the edges, it has a positive effect on the cells of the human body.

Alleya: Yes, and they showed me that there are certain symbols here: the symbol of Healing, the Symbol of Exit, Love, how the symbols should be applied, in what order in order for healing to occur. You can put it on a certain area on yourself. This is healing and stabilization in everything. It is triggered by a code phrase, which is written in the manual, and heals. Yes?

Irina : We'll check now. Take her closer. Apply one of the faces to yourself and say: “I send LiShioni the Light of my Love.” What do you feel?

Alleyya: The beam went through the pyramid.

Irina : I see him, but what else do you see? You have now increased your flow. What do you feel?

Alleya: First of all, I myself have expanded a lot. I feel very hot.

Irina : You feel his energy. He sent it to you, and the pyramid amplifies it.

Alleya: Yes, I wanted to say that LiSioni is in this energy, and the reverse flow began.

Irina : Do you like his energy?

Alleya: I know his energy. Yes, sure.

Irina : When you lean against the third eye, energy metabolism increases. And if you place it on the top of your head, it will strengthen the spiritual channel by 25 times.

Alleya: As far as I know, you can't do it like this for a long time.

Irina : This is possible for communication. Close your eyes and say: "I greet my Higher Self. I am ready to make contact. What do you want to tell me?" What does he say?

Alleya: It says: "Distribute the Light of your Love." Oh, such a strong flow went, very strong along the spine. And the spine, like Sushumna, this energy channel that is in the spine, began to line up, expand, I would not say that it is becoming denser.

Irina : What do we feel?

Alleya: It's very hot. In general, interesting energies. I'll have to sit back later and try again. I'll bring it later, you can sit with the pyramid yourself.

Irina : We will arrange a session of healing and communication with the Higher Self using a pyramid. Tell me, it will be interesting.

Alleya: Yes. We will send energy through the pyramid.

Irina : Yes.

Alleya: So it goes.

Irina : Yes. Do you feel different now?

Alleya: Yes. Differently. A lot of time has passed for us, but, on the contrary, there has been a surge of strength, downright maddening. I want to create something. We need to do something now.

Very interesting. The pyramid itself provides a lot of psychic energy. That's why it's healing.

46:19 Sound codes. “Ieilo”, “Sayano”, “Iaula”.

Alleya: The next thing that was conveyed to me was the sound codes. You saw that each symbol has a sound code (shows the symbol). They gave me 50 sound formulas. On the subtle plane there is a vibration wave. Right? And when we have some kind of problem or illness, our wave is not harmonious. I was given 50 formulas that build this sound wave the way it should go (for different occasions).

We have here the Symbol of Purification (shows), Opening. You can sing these formulas. (Shows 3 symbols, added the Symbol of Consecration.) That's it.

Irina : “Ieilo.”

Alleya: This one, this one, then this one.

Irina : “Sayano”, “Iaula”.

Alleya: And again.

Irina : Yes, you can use it that way. Each energy will strengthen the other, multiply. They are showing me now: three by three. Like in the third power.

Alleya: Yes. They can be read, they can be sung. How do you even interact with these sound codes? I wrote as information came to me.

Irina : For such a sensitive person like Irina, it will be enough for you to mentally say, read. If you say it with sound, with your voice, then the sound will intensify this energy in space. This is not even the name of the entity, it is the name of the symbol in their language, the name of this energy. Naturally, in earthly letters, but at the most perfect level at which it could be conveyed by our language.

Alleya: If we speak them in our language, do I understand correctly? Sing, pronounce or just watch, focus attention?

Irina : How a person feels himself. This is a secondary issue.

49:28 Help from light transformation symbols. The purpose of the disease.

Alleya: Okay. Thank you 50 formulas have been compiled for different occasions. You can use them. I understand that there are certain spiritual reasons for certain diseases, for example, cancer, bronchial asthma, diabetes, and something else. Of course, our Higher Self helps us to understand and understand spiritual reasons. But how can light transformation symbols help us?

Irina : (Shows a symbol to strengthen the spiritual channel.) It can help in contact with the Higher Self, including to clarify the question of the spiritual cause of the disease. The seventh chakra symbol, which enhances the spiritual channel, and the spiritual vision symbol, which you called Enlightenment, which activates the sixth chakra, can help connect with the Higher Self when meditating on them. And find out the question of the spiritual cause of serious illnesses.

Alleya: Great.

Irina : (LiShioni speaks) And already eliminating the spiritual cause will help restore the physical body by other, physical methods. The body can be damaged in different ways. In some places, energetic methods of support are sufficient, but in others, physical ones are needed. But, in any case, these are only symptomatic methods of treatment or healing; they will give the desired effect only with spiritual transformation, a change in vibrations.

The purpose of a condition such as illness, the energetic imbalance that causes illness, is to become a stepping stone to spiritual growth, a means of transformation.

Alleya: I agree.

Irina : Do you understand what he's talking about?

Alleya: Yes, of course.

Irina : She understands. She got through it.

Alleya: Yes, I passed it. I was very sick. And Irina knows about this. She was sick for more than six months and was on her deathbed, and she healed herself.

Irina : Has this disease transformed you?

Alleya: Very much. I found a common language with my cells and healed myself.

Irina : Interesting. Congratulations!

Alleya: Thank you!

Irina : You are my good one.

Alleya: Thank you very much! I have no questions anymore. I'm done.

Irina : Dear friends, thank you for watching! Our Alleya, our Master, the Soul of our project and the Light of the Galactic Federation of Light on Earth, their messenger, their prophet, their oracle, received such interesting symbols.

Alleya: Thank you for those words! I still have to grow and grow and transform.

Irina : Now I'll ask. So, dear friends, thank you for watching this video. Alleyya received very interesting symbols, and I really liked them energetically. Naturally, they contribute to raising vibrations if you are engaged in your development. As she correctly said, they will not do anything for you, they will only enhance your energies, your qualities, and help you.

Alleya: Yes. Therefore, if you wish, it is possible to receive a set of light transformation symbols, the pyramid itself and the manual book that I wrote.

Irina : In collaboration with my curators of the Galactic Federation of Light. I know about it. These symbols will be charged with energy from a wonderful crystal pyramid, which will transform the ethereal energies of the subtle civilization into Light.

Alleya: Great. Thank you Thank you, dear friends! Thanks everyone!

Irina : Thank you! Until next time.

Alleyya: See you again!

#409 Live broadcast with the representative of the Antiverse Kalachakra – part 2.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pryamoj-ehfir-s-kalachakroj-2-chast https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xEpk_wmWQj8

00:05 Introduction of participants.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello everyone!

Irina: Hello!

Maxim: We are very glad to see everyone. Our broadcast will be dedicated to the end of the last broadcast. We have an unexpected situation. That entity, which called itself Kalachakra, completely turned off all our equipment and the Internet. Now he will stay away from our technology.

Today we will continue to communicate with him. You sent a lot of questions. We collected these questions. I will try to ask all the questions that come up. But before that, we have some great news for you.

From March 7 to 12, Irina and I are coming to St. Petersburg at the request of a large number of people. We will have a mini-training there. For two days Irina will teach the group “What is the Higher Self? How to walk to the Higher Self? How to lead to the Higher Self? And one day this group will have a conference where Irina will answer absolutely all your questions regarding the journey to the Higher Self, energy, blocks, structure. She will be with her curators.

Irina: “Don’t let him near the computer.”

Maxim: We already asked him before we went live.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! We are really going to come to St. Petersburg. As for Kalachakra, we asked him to stay away.

Maxim: Guys, the link where to call in St. Petersburg is below. This is a branch of our Center. There is a leader there, Ekaterina. You can find her phone numbers under this video.

We have opened a new channel on Telegram. It will completely duplicate the VKontakte group. All articles that are on VKontakte will quietly move to this group on Telegram, because many people write to us that they cannot log into VKontakte. We decided to create a group on Telegram. The link to this group is also under this video.

In order to leave comments live, you need to subscribe to our channel. So that we can see what kind of subscriber you are and how long you have been on our channel. We will be happy to answer questions from those viewers who subscribe to our channel.

We are done with news messages. I suggest moving on to galactic news.

Irina: In addition to Kalachakra, our curators are present with us. MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations. (MidgasKaus speaks) Very interesting energy of Kalachakra.

They are also talking now. Meade told LiSioni that I will soon be an Antiverse specialist, I hear.

And LiShioni is present here, a representative of the planet Shimor. (LiShioni speaks) We have not previously communicated with either Kalachakra or representatives of the Antiverse. We have specialists in the Interstellar Union who study the Antiverse. But we study the planets of our Galaxy, not even the entire Universe. We are scientists in a different field. And now, thanks to you, your Cassiopeia project, we got to know him. They have a scientific interest.

Maxim: We'll probably ask Kalachakra from the Antiverse to give some galactic news for this week, while we haven't seen each other. What is the most interesting news that you have heard that happened in your Antiverse?

05:05 Creation of a structure in the Antiverse to study our Universe.

Irina: (Kalachakra speaks) In the Antiverse on our planet - we have means of communication that are not connected with devices, but telepathic (he shows me how they communicate mentally) - I said that I was in contact with you, representatives of another Universe, and answered questions from its representatives. From my planet, this news telepathically spread further through subtle-material civilizations. We are all connected into a single network in our Galaxy.

They have clusters of stars similar to our galaxies. Only they are of a different shape. He shows me no longer a spiral, but a pyramid consisting of stars.

(Kalachakra speaks) The news is that many scientists from our Galaxy, and this is only a part of our Universe, have become interested in the structure of your Universe and contacts. The news related to your Universe is that I made contact, and they have created a special structure that will study your Universe and contacts. I got them interested because you asked me questions. And the fact that you live in a different Universe, with completely different laws of substances, energies and information.

06:50 Kalachakra about your bodies. Kalachakra about transferring information to Irina.

Maxim: Thank you! Kalachakra, please tell me. Many people are interested in how you look in your image? Do you have arms, legs?

Irina: In a dense body or in a subtle one?

Maxim: Please tell me what you look like there and there. First in dense bodies, then in subtle ones.

Irina: I have one dense body. To tell the truth, I spend less time in my dense body than in subtle ones. During my incarnation, it was chosen only in order to use its energy for the construction of subtle bodies and maintaining their structure. This is like a phantom for me (shows that it returns to its dense body, lives for a short time to support its vital functions, and then goes out into subtle bodies).

Maxim: How thin are your bodies? And how many are there?

Irina: Currently nineteen.

Maxim: Nineteen subtle bodies? Did you create them yourself?

Irina: Yes, I created them myself. I told you last time that this is a feature of the inhabitants of our Universe. As far as I know, your dense material intelligent beings do not have such a feature so that you can simultaneously create subtle ones. These are not phantoms in the Astral Plane, but created from that type of ethereal substance that you call plasmoid. I can create phantoms too.

Maxim: Tell me, please, how do you communicate with Irina? You don't know Russian, do you?

Irina: I don’t speak Russian. I give her my thoughts. She deciphers it herself in her own language.

Maxim: How do you form this idea? This is the Antiverse. It turns out you must have an anti-thought?

Irina: My Spirit is the same as yours. I just incarnated from a high spiritual level. I came from the 22nd, according to your terminology. While I was not with you this earthly week, I studied it with representatives of the Interstellar Union. I came into contact with the capital of the Interstellar Union, with its rulers, with its scientists. Pikran, we call it Burkhad (he sent me a thought about this planet, the first thing that came to me was Pikran, because that's how he remembered it, and I know it under the name Burkhad, as I was originally called).

I have studied the system of the Interstellar Union, as you represent the Spiritual World. According to this terminology, these are Consulting Angels, I am level 22. My thoughts are spiritual energies, parts of my, as you call it, mental body. They are universal for any Universe. I first conduct them through the mental body, through the astral body, and then they are reproduced in Irina's brain. And then she plays them out loud.

10:28 Reproduction in the Antiverse.

Maxim: Tell me, please, how do you reproduce there in your physical bodies? And can you reproduce in subtle bodies?

Irina: In dense bodies we have two types of bodies, which are similar to your male and female. They just function differently. Bodies (male and female) are united once in a lifetime. But the genetic information that one body type transmits to another is retained in the one who will give birth for life (they have a connection, and this genetic information is retained for their entire life).

It is then reproduced according to the desire of a representative of the sex, which you would probably conventionally call female. He gives birth, which means he is female. This is how dense bodies on our planet multiply.

Maxim: Do they reproduce in your thin ones too?

Irina: Subtle bodies grow (shows that she enters mentally, as in the Astral, exits through the Astral, goes to the subtle world and creates her own subtle body). And then they grow. But by themselves they cannot unite and multiply, only if they are created with a host. Moreover, when I am in one of the subtle bodies, everyone else is in a state of inaction, they are like biorobots. Only from a subtle substance.

Maxim: I understand. Thank you!

13:01 Assignment of numeric codes.

Maxim: You gave numerical codes. In general, what are numerical codes for, and what are they needed for? How to use them correctly and can they be used constantly?

Irina: So quick questions, give me one.

Maxim: What are numeric codes for?

Irina: To enhance or reduce the energy process. To control the speed and intensity of energy processes in any material body or action.

Maxim: How to use numerical codes correctly?

Irina: I read from the contactee what “correct” means. No mistakes.

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Correct, it is necessary to use codes without errors in a state of consciousness when there is no distortion in it. Darkness, you call it, negativity. When you say this, the energy process intensifies. If there is your negativity, something distorting, then it will intensify distortedly, like a distorting mirror. Like a ray that is reflected (shows, transferred to images). It’s easier that way (he says). How a ray is reflected from a crooked mirror. The image will be incorrect.

And what you call negativity, negative blocks, negative emotions, mental processes are also energy programs that introduce distortion.

14:50 How did Kalachakra find Irina?

Maxim: Please tell me how you found Irina?

Irina: She and I interacted in several lives, in her and my past incarnations. Moreover, we knew each other in the Spiritual World. It was a long time ago, not in this incarnation. We interacted in the Spiritual world.

When she incarnated here, became a contactee, as you call it, and began to carry information from other civilizations, to carry this information (it was she who realized this mission of hers), this awareness of hers came to me as an impulse. I realized that she was involved in the process of transmitting information. And I came into contact with her Spirit (we call this the Higher Self, I will explain to him now). He came into contact with my Higher Self, 70% of which is not embodied, and 30% in the body is the embodied part.

I came into contact with her Spirit. With his permission, I came into contact with the embodied part (he remembers the disembodied me).

16:26 Formation of the Antiverse and the Universe. Kalachakra about God.

Maxim: Tell me, please, did the Antiverse and the Universe form at the same time?

Irina: No.

Maxim: No? But as? What was formed first?

Irina: If you look from the Spiritual world, then yes, of course, it all exists at the same time. But if you look at it from a material point of view, our Universe (he says “our” means his) was formed, in your opinion, approximately 30-33.5 billion years ago, but a subtle material form existed there for a long time.

Maxim: Wait. Yours is 33 billion, and ours?

Irina: Yours is around 25-24.5 billion years.

Maxim: There is approximately a difference of 10 billion years - the formation of your and our Universes, right? Your universe turns out to be older.

Irina: Yes. But for a long time, only subtle forms of life existed among us. And with the appearance of your Universe in subtle forms, a dense plan began to form. For you it only appeared in subtle forms, but for us a dense plan began to form. But we still incarnated only from high levels.

Maxim: People ask: “Do you communicate personally with God?”

Irina: Who do you call God? There are many gods.

Maxim: For some reason, people here think that there is only one God.

Irina: You can name anyone. Anyone who has divine qualities can be called God. I spoke last time. This is awareness of your power and endless development. Who do you call God?

Now I will explain to him: God is what we call the Creator, who created everything. We are his children, we, of course, are also gods. We call him God the Father. After all, they asked if he communicates with God the Father?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Do you communicate with the Creator of the Universe? (Kalachakra speaks) Yes, I am communicating. In your opinion, I am from the Angelic level. The angels are all in more or less conscious contact with God the Father.

Maxim: I'll explain. Guys, 11 billion years is the age of the dense material Universe. You write approximately correctly.

Irina: And he's talking about subtle material now.

Maxim: The thin-material Universe was formed much earlier than the dense-material Universe. Therefore, if you want to convict us of something, then it is better to probe the information that we give you.

Irina: Where is eleven? In my opinion, no one wrote less than fourteen.

Maxim: Someone is being clever and writes eleven.

Irina: There are different assumptions. Some write fourteen, others give fifteen. We only have assumptions that actually exist. This means eleven billion.

Maxim: Kalachakra, sorry, I interrupted you.

Irina: The Subtle Universe appeared much earlier than the dense Universe. It was the basis for its formation. Nothing, not a single atom, will be able to form. Not a single thermonuclear reaction can spontaneously begin in a star and form a stellar structure until it is preceded by the work of many hundreds of subtle worlds.

20:43 Number of Antiverses.

Maxim: Please tell me how many Antiverses there are in general?

Irina: According to the knowledge of our science, there are an infinite number of Universes. But this is conditional, because we can call any collection of galaxies the Universe. For example, your Universe is that collection of galaxies in which the elements of dense matter are constructed in such a way that they are the opposite of the construction of our elements. But if there are completely different physical energies in the dense elements, then it will be a completely different Universe. There will be a third universe. If there is an opposite to it, then there will be a fourth Universe.

According to different energy characteristics, the existence of these Universes is theoretically infinite. You just need to change the ratio of the subtle worlds and the fullness of energies, as you call it (the atom shows) “electronic shell”, and in the Interstellar Union they call it “energy levels” (there can be different amounts of them in an atom). Both you and we have three levels of energy, they are simply filled with different elements in different proportions.

And if there are five, six, seven or one, for example, then these will be completely different Universes with a different number of elements, with different characteristics and different physical laws. Theoretically, this could be infinite.

How many exist in our material reality? It is believed that for each Universe in reality there exists only itself and the Universe opposite to it. And we cannot feel others until we are embodied in them, at least.

Maxim: I understand that there are some barriers between Universes and Antiuniverses of different types.

Irina: Barriers are space itself.

23:28 Kalachakra is about contact with God.

Maxim: Got it. They write to me that I interrupted you when you were telling me who God is for you and whether you communicate with God. Can you continue this thought? Because it's very interesting. People no longer know what to believe.

Irina: I come from a high spiritual level. In order to constantly be on it, it is necessary not just to communicate with God, but to be him, to constantly be in his consciousness. Because in his consciousness your path of incarnation becomes clear. And it becomes clear what tasks you need to complete, how much you have done, and what new ones appear. If this understanding is not there, then you are not in contact with God.

His contact with God is called “clarity.”

Maxim: Love is an action.

Irina: He doesn’t say that he communicates through prayer, some kind of requests or gratitude. Just clarity for him. What, he says, should he pray if he already knows everything. He knows all our life circumstances.

When we pray to him, we seem to talk about them. But what we're really telling is ourselves. And when we thank him, this gratitude goes into words. And we have an understanding of gratitude when we complete our task. This is gratitude.

25:22 Code from Kalachakra to enhance the manifestation of the mind of the Spirit.

Maxim: We have such a civilization, we love to ask for everything. Be sure to give it to us. And immediately quickly “take it out and put it in.” Kalachakra, I have a small favor to ask of you. We have a very interesting virus on our planet right now. Could you give a code live that will help the body fight this virus? And tell me how to use this code.

Irina: What is a virus?

Now I will explain to him. We have different forms of life. There are smaller ones that live within us.

Maxim: But only you explain it to him correctly, otherwise he will now give us a code for worms.

Irina: Mid is now telling him what the characteristics are. (Kalachakra speaks) I must come into contact with this energy so that I can understand what process is behind it and express it in a numerical series. And then give the opposite number series to weaken this structure.

Maxim: Unfortunately, we cannot give it to you.

Irina: We don't have it.

Maxim: Let's do this. We will now try to give a code for enhancing the health of our human body. Can you give me this code?

Irina: I gave the code for the heart to work, so that its cells work as at birth. And he gave a code to strengthen the spiritual channel.

Maxim: Dear administrators who are currently watching our project's channel. Please post in the Telegram chat, which is located below this link, an article where the Kalachakra codes are indicated.

Irina: What other process do you want to strengthen or cure in the body?

Maxim: Probably the process of restoration, cell regeneration.

Irina: Restoration and regeneration. Do you want to speed up mitosis?

Maxim: I wouldn't risk it now. Do you know what immunity is?

Irina: Immunity is the action of certain structures of your body to adapt to your environment and, one might say, to digest particles that you don't need.

Maxim: Is there a code for improving immunity? Or do you need codes to improve different structures?

Irina: Improving immunity means improving their ability to destroy foreign cells?

Maxim: Yes, which are not characteristic of our body.

Irina: The thing is that there are a lot of bacteria in your body that are not native to your body. The number of these bacteria exceeds the number of these cells several times. If we strengthen our immunity to everything at once, we will get endless inflammatory processes and a fight against bacteria that are good for you. This must be done specifically against pathogens.

Maxim: I understand that we will not receive any codes.

Irina: He needs to know which ones specifically. Strengthen the immune system, it is autoimmune.

Maxim: Imagine that we came to visit you, to your Antiverse, and we know more than you. What codes would we give you, do you think?

Irina: I can see what codes would be beneficial for the contactee's body or yours.

Maxim: The body of the contactee and my body – that's clear.

Irina: I gave the general ones. For the heart, for connection with the Spiritual world.

Maxim: Code for slowing down cell aging.

Irina: Aging is an energetic process that is activated by certain sections of DNA.

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Slowing down cell aging will lead to the accumulation of errors in the replication of messenger RNA. Subsequently, it will lead to disruption of protein synthesis. It can later lead to cancer.

Maxim: Great.

Irina: If such a request. Aging is DNA that needs to be corrected.

Maxim: That's it, okay. Think about what code you can give live. People really want to get some kind of code, some kind of magic.

Irina: “Code against cancer.” He has dozens of reasons there.

Maxim: I would even say there are hundreds of causes for cancer.

Irina: How many types of cancer are there? It can also be parasitic.

Maxim: Kalachakra, what code can you give live? Not dangerous so that everyone can use it.

Irina: For example, I can to enhance the manifestation of the mind of the Spirit through brain tissue. Through the body. It enhances memory. It increases the amount of information the brain remembers. It is the memory that is recorded by the brain. It reduces the time it takes to search for what you need in your memory, that is, you will quickly remember, and speeds up the thinking process due to the fact that the flow of electrochemical signals through the neuron approaches the speed of the flow of consciousness itself in the Spirit.

Maxim: Cool. Let's. I agree. I am writing down.

Irina: He shows me four numbers. You need to write four numbers side by side.

Maxim: How should they be pronounced? Do I need to paint with a certain color?

Irina: I'll just tell you the numbers now. 7324. Then a space.

Maxim: Is this a pause? How long should there be a pause between utterances?

Irina: Three seconds. 0028. Another gap.

Maxim: Another gap. Three seconds.

Irina: 8260. That's it. And now he says: "Read what it says."

Maxim: 7324…0028…8260.

Irina: How do you feel?

Maxim : I feel the Spirit is strengthening.

Irina: No, really.

Maxim: Kalachakra, I'll tell you honestly. When you are near, I already have a state here...

Irina: He says: "Has anything changed?"

Maxim: I have a feeling as if some luminous points were turned on in the field. I had such a feeling.

Irina: For significant effect, repeat 12 times. Right after each other. Between different repetitions there should be an interval twice as large as between four digits.

Maxim: Six seconds. That is, the interval should be six seconds pause. And then repeat this interval again?

Irina: This repetition can be no more than once a day. Better in the morning.

Maxim: Once a day, right?

Irina: Otherwise, the energy process will intensify so much that the electrochemical connections in the synapses will begin to intersect with each other and may break.

Maxim: Repeat what you said?

Irina: Electrochemical connections in synapses can intersect with each other. If you strengthen it too much. If you read it more than once a day. And they can break because of this, synapses can come out of their contacts in the axons of neurons.

Maxim: 12 times. Do I need to write it down somewhere?

Irina: You can write this down. Any color will do, just it should be light.

Maxim: Light. What does it mean?

Irina: So, for example, not dark shades.

Maxim: That is, yellow, purple.

Irina: If it’s purple, it should be light purple. If green, then light green. If it's red, it's closer to pink. And so on. If it's blue, it's closer to blue.

He shows me that I should write not on a piece of paper, but on a long strip. White paper. You can carry this with you. He shows me in his pocket so that it is always in the field. And that will be enough. You have read it, and it will be further strengthened, but read it once a day.

Maxim: Guys, the color in the writing should be light. If it's blue, light blue. If it's pink, light pink. You need to read the relationship of these numbers 12 times.

Irina: 3 seconds or 6 seconds? Let's explain again.

Maxim: We read it like this: 7324, three-second pause, 0028, three-second pause, 8260. And then we make a six-second pause and repeat everything again. Everything must be repeated 12 times.

Guys, for feedback, be sure to write under this broadcast: how did it work out for you? How did you feel after reading these codes? And what will be your reaction? I'm honestly very interested.

Irina: He just asked me: “What does he feel?”

Maxim: Please say Kalachakra. We have a code 8888 0000 8888. What color should we use?

Irina: This is a code for communication with the Higher Self. In fact, this question has already been asked. He already said - the color of the seventh chakra.

Maxim: Purple?

Irina: Yes. I remember this question.

Maxim: Guys, write in the comments who felt what. You can like it if you liked this code. And subscribe to our channel so as not to miss this kind of cool broadcasts.

Now I want to start with the questions that we have been collecting all week. They were kindly provided to me by Vladimir Goldstein.

38:41 Spiritual level for incarnation in the Antiverse.

Maxim: What level of development or vibrations must we achieve in order to begin to incarnate in the Antiverse?

Irina: Not earlier than level 22. From the 20th, 21st they cannot incarnate. Only from the 22nd can they incarnate in our Universe. And naturally – 22nd, 23rd, 24th.

Maxim: And higher?

Irina: Yes. All Spirits who are at the 24th level and above, you know that these levels go to infinity, can incarnate in our Universe.

39:28 Correct use of Kalachakra codes.

Maxim: A mercantile question. How many times a day should you read the code to increase finances?

Irina: Do you mean strengthening the financial flow? Exactly like egregora? So that there are movements around you?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: In general, all the codes that I gave, it is enough to say once a day. Preferably in the morning, when you are alert and full of energy. At the same time, you must remember the main rules that you must be in a harmonious energy state. First, carry out energy cleansing practices. Dissolve your blocks, forgive everyone who has offended you, get rid of your fears, and then read in a pure state. And this one I gave.

Maxim: Thank you! I understand.

Guys, we can’t make a high-quality picture. Our camera is very high quality. It's just YouTube, probably underestimating it itself. It's OK. You can watch the broadcast in the recording, there will be a much better picture there.

40:38 Spiritual world and spiritual levels.

Maxim: Is the spiritual world the same for everyone? Both for us and for you?

Irina: Yes. The spiritual world is one in general for all material ones. There is no other Spiritual world.

Maxim: Are the spiritual levels for you exactly the same as for us?

Irina: We just divide them differently. We don’t have 24 levels, we have 60. But we need to make a correlation. To do this, I need to take your table, look at its detailed description and combine it with ours. In general, there are 24 levels in the Interstellar Union table. We describe the same levels with sixty levels.

Maxim: You have 60 of these spiritual levels.

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Got it. Thank you, Kalachakra!

Guys, you write: “The code for hair loss, now my hair is coming out after Covid.” No code needed. We have a developed group of bifidobacteria. You can purchase these bifidobacteria by visiting our website and add them to your hair cream. Bifidobacteria in hair creams showed very good results. Hair stops falling out.

Irina: How many times do you need to repeat? (Kalachakra speaks) Once a day is enough. This should work if you are reading in a clean state. And you yourself are making efforts to ensure your financial stability.

Maxim: Yes. You can read about bifidobacteria. These are our symbiotes. These are the ones who help in our body. Everything related to biogeocenosis. Hair is also associated with it. Our bifidobacteria help remove destructive flora. Helps to nourish hair. Therefore, you can buy bifidobacteria and add them to the cream.

Irina: No, not all codes should be read 12 times.

Maxim: This one needs to be read 12 times.

Irina: We will have an article below. We'll probably repeat it again.

Maxim: There is a link to a chat on Telegram, in which all the articles will be. I will now ask the administrators to post exactly the article with the Kalachakra codes in this chat.

Irina: People write, it means they haven't found it.

Maxim: Yulechka, thank you, dear. You see how quickly they act on the airwaves. Go to the Telegram chat, and there you will find an article with Kalachakra codes.

43:26 The difference between the matter of the Universe and the Anti-Universe.

Maxim: How is your matter fundamentally different from ours? We have already heard this question.

Irina: Different elements are involved. They explain the structure of atoms by the basic elements. The elements are etheric forces that are responsible for the manifestation of certain spiritual forces in the physical Universe.

Our atoms consist of elements that are on the first energy level. Relatively speaking, our electrons. They consist of a ratio of the elements of fire and air, according to the terminology of the Interstellar Union. And the Kalachakras in the Universe also consist of a ratio of fire and air, but in the opposite ratio. We have 60 to 40 fire and air, with more of the former. But for them it's the other way around.

Maxim: My fellow countrymen write that I am an FSB officer, using you for selfish purposes. They write in Ukrainian.

Irina: Mid says to me: "Stop surfing the Internet, go for a walk."

Maxim: And I say: "Go for a walk." Our Wellness Center will soon have a gym. And I guarantee you that Irina will be happy to go there.

If anyone wants to become Irina's personal fitness trainer, I am waiting for you to visit our Center so that you can personally help Irina do fitness in our new gym. I guarantee you accommodation and food for the period during which you will work out with Irina and tell her how to do fitness correctly. We are waiting for you, come.

46:10 Stars and galaxies in the Antiverse.

Maxim: How many stars do you have in the Antiverse?

Irina: There are 220 billion stars in our Galaxy. According to the Commonwealth of Worlds Galactic Network, we have discovered about 15 billion such galaxies.

Maxim: And you call it the "Galactic Network of the Commonwealth of Worlds"?

Irina: We have such a Union. They communicate telepathically.

Maxim: How many intelligent dense-material civilizations are known in your Galaxy? And are they all known?

Irina: We know of 900 dense civilizations.

Maxim: 900 dense material civilizations. There are 727 intelligent dense material civilizations in our Galaxy. I understand.

47:41 Kalachakra about nutrition, family and changing consciousness.

Maxim: What do you eat? What does your body eat? And your favorite dish?

Irina: I remember we were answering exactly this question when the equipment failed.

(Kalachakra replies) My physical body can absorb food approximately once every twenty of your days. Our food consists of insects and small birds, as you call them. Only they are also insects, like your bees, but big (they eat insects).

Maxim: You live for two and a half thousand years, unlike ours. You eat once every twenty days, that is, twenty times less.

Irina: It doesn’t happen any other way for us. I simply won't feel hungry when I eat this food. And therefore I can leave my physical body and do my business in subtle bodies.

Maxim: Please tell me, are there any animals on your planet? Like us, dense material animals.

Irina: We have animals, but they are not warm-blooded. We have insects, lizards and flying lizards.

Maxim: I understand. Do you have a wife and children?

Irina: No. He's alone.

Maxim: Maybe you are very young? Why don't you have a wife and children?

Irina: I'm not young. I did not have a contract to have children during my incarnation.

Maxim: Do you have any means that change your consciousness on the physical level? Alcohol, any drugs?

Irina: We can do this ourselves through willpower.

Maxim: That is, you don’t need to change your consciousness with drugs. You can do this yourself through willpower.

Irina: I understand what you are talking about when you say alcohol and drugs. These are some changes in mood and perception. But if we imagine it mentally and place this mental image in our physical brain, then we will actually experience it.

Maxim: We’ll probably get to this soon.

50:24 Kalachakra about chakras.

Maxim: How many chakras do you have? Do you know what chakras are? Do you have chakras?

Irina: Energy centers. You say you have seven main ones. But you still have secondary points.

Maxim: How many secondary points do you think we have?

Irina: I see 366 people in the etheric field.

Maxim: How many main broadcast points are there?

Irina: Those that you call chakras, which are distributed along your spine, are seven, manifested through the physical body.

Maxim: Are there any other basic, but large ones that are used for these seven?

Irina: You have them (shows): feet, palms and not only on the front of the physical body. At the back there are in the same places, opposite. Between the sixth and seventh chakras there is in the middle, the temples show on the side.

Maxim: Yes, according to Egyptian records we have thirteen chakras. And there is such a chakra fracture in my head. Thank you very much, Kalachakra!

Irina: And we have 90 of them, but this is together with secondary points. You have it more. And we have three main ones. One for the manifestation of will, another for the manifestation of feelings, and the third for the manifestation of reason.

Maxim: You have fewer chakras than us. But you are more developed spiritually than we are. Yes?

Irina: It doesn’t depend on the number of chakras. This is just a manifestation through the body.

Maxim: I understand. This is just me asking.

53:30 Interstellar flights in the Antiverse.

Maxim: Please tell me, are physical interstellar flights available to you? Do you fly on ships?

Irina: For some races, yes. But we didn't do that. We could create flights, but we did not build ships. Our evolution went only in the psychological direction.

Maxim: Using the energy of your body.

Irina: Yes. Psychological, spiritual improvement through the creation of mental images and through their projection into external space. And there are races that fly physically.

Maxim: Do you know what energy they use to fly? On what principle are their engines built?

Irina: Based on the principle of attraction to the energy fields of stars. They have a substance in the engine that changes its field structure in an automatic way. In order to be attracted to one or another type of star. The stars are all different. They have different energy fields.

54:50 Portal to the Antiverse on Earth.

Maxim: I understand. Thanks a lot! Is it true that we have a Bermuda Triangle on Earth that emits antimatter frequencies and there is a portal to the Antiverse there?

Irina: Yes, but not in the Bermuda Triangle.

Maxim: Where?

Irina: In the core of the Earth.

Maxim: Is it possible to get into the Antiverse through the Earth's core?

Irina: Through the core of the Earth you can get from the Antiverse to your world, to any point of it. But access to these points is associated with energy channels that run inside the Earth's mantle and crust.

Maxim: Do you consider the planet as a large organism with its own internal structures? Do you pass through this structure to us into the Universe?

Irina: Of course. This is a huge body. A huge structure that is not a random collection of rocks and mountains. And an ordered structure for the processes of energy exchange with the Cosmos. Energies. For example, your mountains exist for a reason, but for the energetic exchange of electromagnetic field energies with the Cosmos.

Maxim: I understand. You said that you have formed a group that will study our worlds. What, no one has studied our worlds before you?

Irina: I was interested as an enthusiast. And other scientists of my planet, my world, were more interested in other planets of my Universe. And I'm interested in yours. When I told what creatures live here, and what incarnates here from different levels, what lessons you take here, what questions you ask, they became interested.

57:04 Spiritual purpose of Kalachakra.

Maxim: Please tell me, what is your spiritual goal in this incarnation, and to what extent have you already fulfilled it?

Irina: I completed it 78%. My task is to learn to control the energies of my Soul through the physical body and to be completely in the moment of what is happening.

57:35 Physiology of dense bodies in the Antiverse. Kalachakra about Love.

Maxim: Please tell me, can you laugh and joke?

Irina: Yes, I know how to rejoice.

Maxim: Then I'll have a funny question now. I had a friend. When we came to meet you for the very first time, he asked: "What does Kirchiton poop?"

Question: do they have a process that needs to be transformed into humus, like ours? Does he go to the toilet?

Irina: Before each meal, I must empty my body of what remains in it after 20 days of digesting food. I don't find this question happy or sad, it's neutral for me.

Maxim: Wonderful, Kalachakra. I understood you. Just like the joke from Bergastre. We didn't laugh either, but it turns out it was funny.

Do you have illness or suffering in any form?

Irina: We can change our body. If it gets damaged, we can heal it. We can negotiate with all microorganisms so that they do not damage our body.

Maxim: Can you talk with both organs and microorganisms, agree to live in harmony?

Irina: If we have an injury, then we can control tissue regeneration and relieve pain. There is no physical suffering.

Maxim: Is there love on your planet?

Irina: Of course. Love is the main spiritual quality with which we create new things in matter.

Maxim: What is Love for you personally?

Irina: Love is the energy of life, manifested in material form for the happiness of this being.

Maxim: You still have love. Is there love between a man and a woman? Of the opposite sex to each other? You, when you just dock once, and then the child is born.

Irina: That is, do we continue to have spiritual feelings for each other?

Maxim: Yes, do you continue to experience spiritual feelings for each other after copulation?

Irina: For us, this feeling begins long before, as you called, docking. And then they continue for the rest of their lives. Because these two creatures chose each other's body not only to continue, you say, the race. And we say "to realize God's plan through ourselves." We view each other as creators.

Maxim: Do you think we can heal ourselves as creators?

Irina: Of course you can, if you believe in it, you will invest energy.

Maxim: So, guys, in addition to the contactee course, we have a "Mental Hilling" course, which is also conducted at our Center. You can find them on our website. There, highly qualified psychologists and contactees work with you, who can make you the creators of your own reality. Mental Hilling courses are open to everyone who wants to know themselves and their Universe within themselves.

1:01:35 Burial of physical bodies in the Antiverse.

Maxim: How do you bury your bodies and those of your relatives? Now 2.5 thousand years have passed, your friend has died. How will you bury him?

Irina: We give it to nature for breakdown, first by certain types of insects, and then by microbes, so that the elements pass into the environment.

They have this, not a cemetery, but an open plateau where plants like trees grow, he shows me. But this is in open space and away from their village where they live.

Maxim: I understand. Do you bury them in some kind of vessels or just put them in the ground?

Irina: We lay them on a stone as flat as a table. We give it to the elements. And when the Spirit came out, we talk to the organs of this body and to those microbes that are next to them, so that they take it for themselves. And from this they begin to become active and split it.

Maxim: Are you asking bacteria to eat this body faster?

Irina: To eat means to use the energy of its molecular bonds for your life. And at the same time release the substances contained in this body for the birth of other bodies.

1:03:00 Kalachakra is about joy. Kalachakra about the financial egregor in the Antiverse.

Maxim: Interesting. What brings you joy? And how happy do you feel?

Irina: A new creation brings us joy when we learn to use the energies of our body and our mind in a new way, when we discover, experience something, learn something and help others with it.

Maxim: Do you have precious metals on your planet? By the way, how do you pay on your planet? How do you buy your food? How do you build your own houses? Do you have such a thing as a financial egregor on your planet?

Irina: With us, everything is based on a contractual basis (they have an exchange). Not with money, but with some kind of services or other products. We are having an exchange.

1:04:04 Kalachakra about religion and relationships with God.

Maxim: Do you have any single religion on your planet?

Irina: What is religion? Even we, Spirits, who are at the same level of development, have personal experience of relationships with God.

Maxim: Everyone?

Irina: Yes. Personal experience of ups and downs. The rise of the spiritual level, its fall. This personal experience of living in different situations gives rise to different feelings, different understandings of reality. And if religion is understood as philosophy, then we do not have any one religion. We don’t have it at all, because we are not inclined to gather in any groups to support some idea. We don't need this.

Each of us stands before God in our own Light. And everyone is responsible for themselves. We do not have such an understanding that if you come to a certain religious group, then all your negative qualities disappear because you are in this group. And when we go through the analysis of our incarnation, this group is responsible for me. No, we are every man for himself.

1:05:51 Kalachakra about criminals and laws in the Antiverse.

Maxim: Do you have any criminals on the planet?

Irina: No.

Maxim: Do you have laws on the planet?

Irina: Everyone has the law in their heart.

Maxim: And the general law “Thou shalt not kill, thou shalt not steal”?

Irina: Everyone knows that. With us, the Divine Light is visible with our spiritual eyes in the same way as the light of the Sun is with you.

Maxim: Wow, even that?

Irina: You see it on the physical plane, but we see it on the spiritual plane.

Maxim: I understand.

1:06:22 Kalachakra about the date 02/22/2022. Energies of numbers 0, 2, 8.

Maxim: People are interested. We will have a very interesting date soon. Let me dictate it to you, Irina will give it to you in form. And you tell me what is the best thing to do on this date: 02/22/2022.

Irina: I see a repetition of two numbers in this date. Each number is an energy wave. It is not just a recording on paper and not just a sound in the air.

The numbers “2” and “0” indicate the energetic value of contact with the Absolute.

The energy value “2” denotes connection, contact, unification with someone. And “0” stands for the Absolute. Absolute mind, absolute Light, Source of everything. How a circle represents infinity. You draw a circle, and it's no coincidence that your zero looks like a circle. Because this is a symbol of the fact that this is the infinite Absolute. Symbol of energy.

Date of. What will be activated, what processes on the planet, when this date arrives? Each person will have his spiritual channel activated to communicate with his part of the Absolute. On this day, to communicate with the Absolute, you can read the code containing eights. Because eights represent energy metabolism.

Maxim: Where are the eights?

Irina: The code he gave for communication. It is good to read it on this day.

Maxim: Oh, on this day 8888 0000 8888 read. Thank you very much, Kalachakra!

1:09:16 Kalachakra about creation in the Antiverse. Decrease in spiritual level in the Antiverse.

Maxim: You said that you create worlds for God within yourself. Is it like meditation? Or does it somehow express itself differently in your physical world? What does it mean?

Irina: It's like meditation. But we can control the physical elements through this meditation. As I already said, for example, with your body, heal it, improve it. And we can create any infrastructure. We can create, as you call it, create others from some elements.

Maxim: Tell me, please, when you get into your Universe, can you fall below level 22 in your physical body?

Irina: We are not deprived of freedom of choice. Theoretically, you can fall below level 22. But for this, the Spirit must consciously want to leave the Light. Not unconsciously (that he does not know this), but consciously go, when you see God, turn away from him.

Maxim: They ask: how many times do you need to read the code with the Absolute? Once a day. How many times do you need to read the code with the Absolute? Which is from 8888.

Irina: You can read three times a day, three times every eight hours.

Maxim: You can easily read three times, three times a day, right?

Irina: Yes. It enhances not the processes in the brain, but the work of the spiritual channel. Expands it.

Maxim: Tell me, please, would you like to incarnate on our planet Earth?

Irina: Not anymore. I incarnated in your Universe, although not on your planet. But now my path is different.

Maxim: How cunning you are! Are we the only ones to suffer here, or what? I'm kidding, guys, otherwise you'll think about it. It's just that many people think that we come here to suffer.

Irina: He says: "You have a very beautiful aura."

Maxim: Thank you!

1:11:30 Black holes. Kalachakra is about teleportation and time travel.

Maxim: Are black holes portals to your Universe or somewhere else?

Irina: Yes, you can pass through black holes into our Universe. But not everyone. Only those who have what you call an access code. This is a special state of the energy body, which, for example, your curators have. They were specially trained for this.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what is a "black hole"?

Irina: Energy gap into another space. Through it you can get into both subtle worlds and another Universe.

Maxim: Thank you! Can you physically teleport and also physically move through time?

Irina: Teleport in space?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Yes, we have such abilities, but they need to be developed.

Maxim: Can you teleport using your thoughts?

Irina: We have the ability to control our body, including splitting its elements, turning them into energy radiation of a very high frequency, it moves at a speed several times greater than the speed of sound, but to a limited space, not to another planet, but to within our planet.

Maxim: Can you travel in time?

Irina: Do you mean “in time”?

Maxim: Can you travel to another time in your body?

Irina: If I move to another time, where will the other “I” go, who will be in this time?

Maxim: That's a different question.

Irina: Such a meeting cannot happen.

Maxim: You can decompose your physical body into atoms.

Irina: Not even atoms, but the etheric radiations from which these atoms are composed. If you simply decompose it into atoms, the body will crumble, but will not move. We need to create this process more deeply.

Maxim: Guys, do you want me to tell you a secret, what kind of broadcast we want to organize next time?

Irina: Yes, who do you want to broadcast with?

Maxim: Please write with whom you would like to broadcast. We have an idea to organize a broadcast with one of the Presidents who was killed. With Kennedy. You don't know yet, Irish. We talked with our administrators for a long time.

Irina: What is his name?

Maxim: John Kennedy.

Irina: We will ask the curators to tune in. I need his photo. MidgasKaus and LiShioni will try to tune in to him, to get out through his Angels-mentors, where he is now. Embodied, not embodied. And then talk to him if he agrees.

Usually the Spirits we invite want to talk to me. You need to go to them in the Astral, for example, to understand through whom they will transmit information. They don't know me.

Maxim: With Gaddafi. It will be too harsh in terms of politics.

Irina: With Pushkin, Vysotsky.

Maxim: I think there was a broadcast with Hitler.

Irina: It wasn’t with Hitler.

Maxim: It wasn’t. We just didn't invite any more demons.

Irina : We wanted to invite Sergius of Radonezh.

Maxim: I want to thank you all for your support. For the fact that you participate in “Mental Hilling”, and “Cosmohealing”, and in meditation. On flights of the Interstellar Union to the Ashtar ship. Because you come to our Center and support us.

We are expanding. In the summer we will have a wonderful area where you can just come, have a wonderful rest and spend time.

Irina: It would be interesting with the Apostle Paul.

Maxim: Thank you very much everyone!

Irina: Thank you!

Maxim: We thank you for your likes, your subscriptions, because this gives the information we give you the opportunity to advance. We give with all our Soul, with all our hearts, with all our Love. Bye. See you again! Until the new live broadcast!

00:20 Introduction of meeting participants.

Irina : Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today with us is my curator MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations.

Igor is with us and will ask him questions. Hello, Igor.

Igor : Hello, Irina! Greetings to all. I will tell you briefly about my activities.

Irina : Tell me.

Igor : For about 10 years I have been studying microbiology, intracellular processes, everything that happens at the most primary level of life. It is the understanding of all this that allows us to achieve health improvement and the maximum potential of human health. I mainly study mitochondria, because most of all human life processes depend on them, and all problems are largely associated with them.

Plus, I am reviving Soviet health technologies, ozonation systems for water, physical. solutions. Blood can be ozonized for intravenous administration. All these technologies have been tested for hundreds of years.

The topic of microbiology is generally interesting to me. Your vision of everything related to mitochondria and everything that others do not say is interesting. First of all, it would be interesting to hear from you.

Irina : Do you have a list of questions?

Igor : Yes. I can ask specific questions. Start off?

Irina : Yes, you can. He is here. (MidgasCaus speaks) I greet you. I've been waiting for a long time to talk about microbiology. Hello, dear friends! I was waiting for Irina's opportunity and free time, as well as for that person who would be an experienced scientist in the study of this area, who would be interested in cell structure, cytology, histology and microbiology. At the intracellular level, the deepest causes and pathologies of a person are hidden, which subsequently develop into diseases of entire organs. And there are also hidden opportunities using which you can become physically healthy and enrich yourself spiritually.

03:21 Causes of mitochondrial aging.

Igor : Great! Then the first question is: what is the cause of mitochondrial aging in the first place? And what other mechanisms are there?

Irina : (MidgasKaus speaks) Aging is the process of turning off cells and some cellular structures from activity. They first slow down their renewal and repair, and then completely stop functioning. In a cell, not only mitochondria, but also other organelles age. All this is determined by the program, the genetic code, which is embedded in DNA and RNA. At the genetic level, the timing of the sequence of actions of a specific organelle is laid down, just like any large organ in the human body.

What determines the genetic level? Well, of course, I can say, as a biologist, a change of generations. They gradually led to the evolution of the gene pool that now programs such a life expectancy.

But my answer would not be complete without the fact that the lifespan of cells and the entire organism as a whole can be influenced by the Spirit, the intelligent consciousness that is inside the body, embodied.

We say embodied, which means it is connected to matter. And with our thoughts, feelings, desires, we can either accelerate the activation of these genetic programs, which cause an accelerated change in material structures with the aim of their destruction. Or, on the contrary, to prolong their life in certain ranges, which are determined by the life task of the most intelligent Spirit, who came into this life to fulfill his goals.

06:07 Ozone. Oxidation. Oxidative stress and mitochondria.

Igor : I see. What will MidgasCaus say about ozonation? How does it affect mitochondria?

Irina : Ozonation of air and water?

Igor : In general, the process of oxidative stress, like reactive oxygen species: superoxides and peroxynitrites, affect mitochondria.

Irina : Dear Igor, you are an experienced researcher and biologist, I feel your inquisitive mind that explores nature. You know very well that the scientist who said was right, I heard about his saying in your story: “Everything is poison and medicine, it’s all a matter of dose.” This is the first thing. And secondly, it’s not just about the dose, but about the time of exposure and the timeliness of introducing this substance into the body.

Ozone is a very active, strong oxidizing agent. It can produce, in reaction with organic molecules, many molecules saturated with energetic bonds, more than oxygen. But due to its activity, it also actively acts as an oxidizing agent, shifting the acid-base balance of the environment to the acidic side. Because of this, with a large dose of ozone or with a long period of exposure, destruction of cellular and intracellular structures can be observed, despite the energy accumulated there. This concerns the effect on living cells.

This is why ozone is very popular as a so-called antibacterial substance. A substance that either stops the development of living bacterial cells or completely destroys them, that is, they become dead. Ozone reacts with their membrane, nucleus, and those found in bacteria (like mitochondria and the endoplasmic reticulum). A small amount of ozone can also give them greater energy development. You know very well that ozone in high concentrations is harmful not only to anaerobic bacteria, but also to aerobic bacteria, that is, those that breathe ordinary oxygen. Why does he have such an effect on them? Due to its active oxidative process.

What is oxidation? Oxidation is when a molecule of oxygen, ozone, or other oxidizing agent reacts with another substance, producing oxides that destroy the structure of that substance.

Igor : Yes.

Irina : It's all about the dose. In small doses it is a stimulant, in large doses it is like bacteria.

10:04 Bioresonance.

Igor : What can MidgasCaus say about bioresonance? How acceptable is this method for reading human indicators?

Irina : Do you mean bioresonance testing?

Igor : Yes.

Irina : On devices that are similar to Imedis?

Igor : Which are similar to “Metatron”.

Irina : “Hadron”, “Metatron”, “Imedis”, “Voll” - they are all similar.

Igor : Yes. In general, there are two principles: one goes through scanning the currents of some biologically active points, meridians, and the other through electromagnetic radiation.

Irina : Through points or through electromagnetic radiation - it’s all the same from the electromagnetic field of a person.

Igor : Yes. What's your opinion?

Irina : This method is very effective for identifying the smallest pathologies at the cellular level, all bacterial, viral and fungal parasitic systems, all intoxications.

To use it, you must have a highly qualified specialist, because it is necessary to recognize the signal and correctly interpret it. I know a contactee who uses these devices in his work. And I know how this device works, even if it contains a very advanced computer program that will recognize these signals coming from the body.

How does he work? A specially modulated electromagnetic signal is launched into the body, like a wave, which is modulated to the frequency of a specific organ or a specific pathogen. If there is something similar in the body, then a response occurs - biological resonance. And back to this device a signal comes that there is a pathogen or about the condition of the organ being examined, whether it corresponds to the norm or not. If not, what exactly are the deviations? This is displayed graphically, as an image of organs and so on. But you can arrange a different graphical interface.

I don't quite understand what he's talking about right now. I hope Igor understands.

Igor : I understand.

Irina : We can arrange a different graphical interface. Make an image not of organs, but of a person, on which there will be inscriptions that were found in him. Or any graphic color schemes.

This graphic design can be anything. But if you collect information using a program without human analysis, then errors are possible, because if you do not have the proper qualifications, the device will simply show the most likely causes of this pathology.

Igor : By the way, I also want to clarify the question.

Irina : Therefore, we need a specialist who, based on these indicators and frequencies, recognizes a certain specific pathology and indicates this. We need a person with a medical education, and one who has studied the operation of this device, its operating principle and its methodology with a person who has been doing this for a long time.

14:16 The operating principle of bioresonance devices.

Igor : I'm interested in asking a clarifying question. The operating principles of all these devices. Is it possible to find out more details?

Irina : Every human organ and every living creature, which is called a helminth, that is, a worm, microorganism, bacteria, protozoa, viruses or fungus - every living creature, person and organ has its own vibration frequency.

What is vibration frequency? The frequency of vibration is generated by electromagnetic vibrations of the cells themselves. As you know, cells are structures that constantly communicate with each other through microimpulses. And this happens not only in nervous tissue. Any cells located next to each other communicate through micropulses through their membranes, and this is how fields are generated.

Igor : How does the reading happen? Reading these vibration fields.

Irina : Reading occurs through an electrode that is held in the hand, or through headphones. Distribution varies. If through the electrode, then it spreads through the wire. They hold the electrode in one hand (shows), and touch it with something with the other.

Igor : And the reading principle. A device in the form of headphones. How does it read?

Irina : They didn't just put on headphones. They will contain a sound in which, at the level of electromagnetism, waves of frequencies of the organs that are being tested will be embedded. If you listen, it will change.

Igor : How is reading done in those devices that do not have speakers in the headphones, but only diodes?

Irina : It won't be sound, but just waves, but they will still be there. You hear one sound, but they contain this electromagnetic impulse; it may not be combined with the sound. There are different designs. When you hold it in your hand, you don't hear the sound through your palm. The main thing is the propagation of the wave throughout the physical body, and it does not travel along nerve pathways, but along etheric meridians. There are energy meridians in the etheric body.

This applies not only to the physical body, they also affect the etheric, because our etheric body is the border between the dense body and other subtle bodies. A signal travels along the meridians, and if there is a resonance in the organ or in the organism that is being tested (you can test one organism, or you can test several at once), then there will immediately be a response either with a sound, or a graph (like light), or some kind of line . It depends on the design of the program.

18:35 Bioresonance therapy. Etheric body.

Igor : How does bioresonance frequency therapy work?

Irina : It can happen when electrodes touch the body, or it can happen on the carrier. The charge is transferred to any crystalline carriers, such as sugar, salt, water, or any molecular structures that can retain energy, because under the influence of electromagnetic waves the molecular lattices change. And the etheric matrices that surround these molecules perceive information about this frequency. A similar method is used in homeopathy. But there this is done not by a device, but by the person himself.

What frequencies are laid down? It depends on what disease, what pathology. Let's take the most common example - cleansing the body. If there is any helminth or microbe in the body, or any foreign agent that has caused inflammation, you can set a frequency in this device that will be opposite to the frequency of this organism. As I already said, everyone has their own frequency, but it will be directed not to the plus, but to the minus, or not to the minus, but to the plus. Opposite in charge.

Igor : Counterwave.

Irina : When the body perceives it, it will not affect any other organs, it will be neutral for them. But the organism that has this frequency will be suppressed. What does it mean to be suppressed? It won’t kill him immediately, like an antibiotic, but it will weaken him, his metabolism and his own immunity will be weakened. You know that even microbes have their own immunity.

Igor : Yes, everyone has it. But I study more the human light body, biophotons, how our cells communicate with each other through light impulses. We have tunnel nanotubes between the cells, and, like an optical fiber, the mitochondria are pumped with impulses.

Irina : If you look at what level is affected in this testing and therapy, I would say that the physical spectrum is also captured due to electromagnetic waves, and due to the impact of this physical spectrum on the etheric body, the etheric body is also captured. Just as in homeopathy, the etheric body is also captured mainly.

Igor : Is it possible to equate the etheric body with all these light impulses, with the light body?

Irina : The etheric body is the life force that every person has. Its origin is from the physical world and plus from the Spiritual world. Man is the meeting place of two worlds. It contains energy from the Spiritual world and the physical, and, combining together, they form the etheric body. If you look at light biophotons, as you called them, this is what you can call the smallest portions of this energy, between cells and along the meridians.

Igor : Is it possible to equate the etheric body with the light body?

Irina : Light comes from the word “light”. You see it like light. And ether is the energy that is on a subtler level than physical energies, but at the same time generates them.

23:12 Impact on the etheric body.

Igor : How can we influence the etheric body using the technologies available to us at the moment?

Irina : You just gave an example - bioresonance. This is a method of influencing the information, those frequencies that are embedded in these devices. A very similar method in homeopathy. How is it similar? The fact that there is an influence on the etheric body, because any substance contains not only substance, like molecules, but also an etheric matrix that surrounds these molecules.

Igor : I have been researching this area for a year and a half and have noticed that at first, in response to bioresonance effects, a person experiences an increase, and then sometimes even a severe decline.

The amplitude fluctuates greatly. How to reduce this influence?

Irina : Decline and increase. What? We need to be more specific.

Igor : All indicators of human vital activity. First there is an increase, the body uses all resources, all adaptation mechanisms, and after it runs out of them, it declines.

Irina : In order for there to be a response to this bioresonance, it depends on what pathology you use it to treat, or simply for prevention.

Igor : General therapy of the human condition in all organs.

Irina : If you use this for stimulation, then, naturally, in order for it to work, the body must have a supply of substances and the necessary energies. Because it will stimulate, for example, through the activation of those internal secretion structures, internal secretion hormones, which have a stimulating effect. You can stimulate them at the cellular level. You can stimulate the nervous system through bioresonance.

But in order to avoid a decline, we need material for this stimulation. For example, you stimulate the growth of muscle mass or overall strength of a person. To do this, you need building material so that your muscle mass increases, and not just increase the rate of myocyte mitosis. You can, of course, increase it in this way, if you give an increase to muscle mass, to its frequency, this will increase the metabolism in these myocytes. But, if you do not provide them with the material necessary for construction and do not ensure that this material is delivered to its destination, then this will have little effectiveness. I'll tell you the reason now.

Almost all biochemical actions and operations in the body require substances of a protein nature, the so-called enzymes. They are also responsible for immunity. Any hormone is also a certain protein, any enzyme. Their synthesis also requires material. Most often it is supplied externally.

Of course, you can say that a person receives enough protein per day to satisfy the body's needs with an increased metabolism. But he may lack, for example, the necessary pancreatic or stomach enzyme so that the protein coming from food can be broken down into amino acids and correctly delivered to the destination where it is required.

Because in people, as much as I tested them through the Astral, I noticed many times that they had insufficiency of pancreatic secretion. And, moreover, I often noticed that they have helminthiases in their small intestines, for example, ascariasis, and also live whipworms and other helminths that share food with humans. And because of this he receives less. As I understand it, for this to constantly work, a person must be clean from everything. It must be cleaned. His enzymes should work well. He must eat well and exercise so that he has good blood circulation. We need an integrated approach.

28:45 Functioning of mitochondria.

Igor : I'm just studying a pure, autonomous person. And here's the question: in a pure person, are mitochondria good or evil? If we think primitively. Do they promote human development or hinder it?

Irina : Development of what in it?

Igor : All higher human functions, all human capabilities on the physical, mental and mental levels.

Irina : If you look at mitochondria, then their function is precisely the translation of the physical energy that people receive through dense substances, including oxygen and food, in order to convert this energy into etheric energy and fill it with vitality. Therefore, in this case, naturally, it contributes to human development.

Any damage, including genetically caused or some other intracellular process, viruses, and so on, can, of course, lead to mutations, and, for example, if a cell is infected with a virus, then the mitochondria will already produce energy for them. Just like the endoplasmic reticulum, ribosomes will produce proteins not of the organism itself, but of the virus.

In general, this is an evolutionary mechanism. It is present not only in people, but also, as I already said, actually starting from bacteria. Naturally, the simplest have their own mitochondria, not to mention insects, fish, birds - their cells have similar organelles. As for plants, there are analogues of mitochondria, but they depend on light.

31:01 Mitochondria of the father and mother.

Igor : Why are mitochondria transmitted through the female line?

Irina : Very interesting question. What does it mean? Unfold it.

Igor : Direct question. All mitochondria in humans are transmitted through the female line, and are destroyed in the sperm. The father's mitochondria are destroyed.

Irina : Not only mitochondria are destroyed there. Firstly, if you are talking about an egg and a sperm, in the end, that flagellum, which we call the tail, is destroyed. The purpose of the sperm is to convey its genetic information to the egg. The purpose of the mitochondria in it is to move this tail so that it can convey its genetic information to the egg.

Igor : Why are mitochondria transmitted only through the mother?

Irina : Look at the size and amount of substances contained in the cytoplasm of the sperm and egg. That more? An egg can be hundreds, or even thousands of times larger than a sperm, if we take it by mass. It is also called “ovum” because it is similar to an egg. What's in an egg? It contains nutrients for the cell.

Why at the mother's? For the same reason that if we take the human race, the child will develop in the womb for as long as 9 months, 40 weeks. In order for the future cell to adapt to its substances, to its body, to its antigenic composition during the first hours of its life, it naturally takes energy from this mother’s cell. She will live in her mother. He won’t move to his father, and there’s nowhere to go.

Igor : Yes. Why are the father's ones destroyed? It's good when they are together. More mitochondria, more happiness.

Irina : They had already developed their energy when they arrived. First, the size of sperm is very small, so the mitochondria that controls its movement produces little energy. And, by the way, the movement of the tail, the flagellum of the sperm, takes a colossal amount of energy, and not only to move, but also to overcome the environment in which it moves. It overcomes a shell consisting of mucus, in which substances that prevent it from existing are dissolved, they dissolve it. The acid-alkaline environment is harmful to it. And, by the way, a lot of sperm die in it and stop moving.

They move through the liquid, and this requires energy. And, by the way, if you look at this through a microscope, you will see that, swimming up to the egg, the movements of the tail and flagellum of the sperm become tens of times slower and smoother than at the beginning. It becomes inactive because the resource has already been exhausted.

Why do they say that the strongest sperm is caught? Because he left his strength in order to enter the egg, connect with its cytoplasm, this requires energy. Then the genetic material will merge and there will be one cell.

It happens that those that have exhausted their energy resource earlier simply hang in the liquid next to the egg, but no longer move. They cannot enter there, but this one had enough strength, even if several entered, one will still connect, that is, his genetic information. And after that, naturally, the sperm fulfilled its function.

But nothing just disappears or is destroyed. All its structures, including mitochondria, will be used. With the help of lysosomes, they are dissolved into amino acids and are also used in the construction of the child’s body. They do not disappear, but are used as building material.

36:46 Transfer of mitochondrial DNA to nuclear DNA.

Igor : What can you say about the transfer of mitochondrial DNA to nuclear DNA?

Irina : Are you talking about RNA or DNA now?

Igor : DNA, mitochondrial DNA.

Irina : About deoxyribonucleic acid?

Igor : Yes.

Irina : What question? Why is this happening?

Igor : How does the transfer of mitochondrial DNA into nuclear DNA occur?

Irina : Mitochondria consists of certain proteins, and specifically DNA consists of nucleotides, there is deoxyribose.

I don't know what it is, but he shows me some substances that contain nitrogen, they are similar to amino acids. He calls them nucleotides.

And there is still phosphorus there. And these nucleotides cannot be destroyed by those enzymes that destroy mitochondrial proteins. Other enzymes are needed there. That is why, left without mitochondria, they can move, be attracted to the nucleus, connecting. When the chromosomes come out, they can join together because they also have DNA. These can be connected in the same way. Because they cannot be destroyed when mitochondria are destroyed.

There are no such enzymes because DNA is a very valuable molecule that can be used as a template to build another mitochondria.

38:48 Trichomonas.

Igor : I have been actively conducting research on pleomorphism - the transformation of some microorganisms into others - for more than a year. And I'm interested in the opinion of an alien microbiologist on this topic. How do Trichomonas form mycelium? Is it possible to find out more details?

Irina : What do you call mycelium? Do you think it turns into a mushroom?

Igor : Mycelium mycelium.

Irina : Which one?

Igor : Candida. How Trichomonas can form candida, for example.

Irina : Everything is simpler. Trichomonas, as a unicellular organism, quite large, is a predator. This is the simplest animal that is a predator.

Trichomonas can feed on other microorganisms, bacteria, human red blood cells, sperm and fungi. But some fungi have developed resistance to those lysosome enzymes that are inside Trichomonas. And when they are consumed by Trichomonas, they can remain alive inside and even reproduce.

The same thing happens, for example, with chlamydia, which can also live inside Trichomonas and even be spread by it to other areas of the mucous membrane or through the blood. This is intracellular, which means she didn't eat it, but became infected.

40:37 Chlamydia. Candida. Symbiotes.

Igor : What, essentially, is chlamydia?

Irina : Chlamydia is not a virus, but a very small intracellular bacterium. It does not have the ability, like, for example, a virus, to integrate into the genetic apparatus of a cell, neither nuclear nor ribosomal, but it lives and multiplies inside cells just like any bacterium outside them. It lives and multiplies both inside Trichomonas, and inside various human leukocytes, inside epidermal cells, only it is on the mucous membrane (the one that produces mucus).

Igor : What, essentially, is chlamydia?

Irina : Microorganism.

Igor : What type, species, kingdom, group? How can we understand its nature more?

Irina : This is a creature intermediate between bacteria and viruses, just like mycoplasma and ureaplasma, for example. There are many types of them.

Igor : As I understand it, ureaplasma, mycoplasma and chlamydia are fungi. And mycelium is formed.

Irina : No, fungi are something else. This is also a microorganism, but they reproduce differently. Firstly, they retain spores and a different metabolism, for example, Candida. It looks different and cannot spread through living cells as actively as chlamydia. Candida, like other fungi, is characterized by the metabolism that it feeds on cell fragments, dead ones, where few enzymes are needed for digestion, this is ready-made organic material.

And the frequencies also differ. Even one fungus differs from another in the same way as, for example, staphylococcus differs from Pseudomonas aeruginosa.

Igor : It differs, but they all have the same nature, which destroys a person. His will, mind and strength - everything is taken away.

Irina : I want to say that microbiology is a very interesting science. There is a very large variety of microcosm around and inside a person. For example, the number of bacterial and fungal cells found in a person exceeds the number of his cells by 3-5 times. But out of all the diversity of the microbial world, the microcosm, only 1% of organisms have a dangerous nature of interaction with humans. The majority are symbionts or saprophytes, that is, those that are simply nearby, but do neither harm nor benefit.

But, if a person's immunity decreases from any factor, or he emits negative energy from himself, which will irritate these microbes that are in him, then they may switch to feeding with the help of his tissues, that is, aggression. Any microbes also have Souls. Although they are embodied in many microbial bodies, they are nevertheless alive and feel good and evil, like light and darkness. They calm down from the light and switch to feeding on waste and toxins unnecessary for humans. They can even break down urea. Many microbes can break down substances harmful to humans, and on the contrary, help them.

If a person is in negative energies, then even those that were harmless to him lived on his skin or in his mouth, they, feeling these negative energies, themselves become aggressive and overcome barriers.

46:03 Intracellular pathogens. Bacteriophages.

Igor : It's interesting to me that intracellular parasites always overcome barriers and even try to make a healthy person sick. How can we counter this as much as possible?

Irina : We have a very large number of bacteriophages, which also live inside bacteria, and which a person can safely absorb even in whole liters. They are adapted to reproduce inside microbes and destroy them. And intracellular pathogens are similar to bacteriophages, only they are specific to our cells.

For example, Vibrio cholerae. Our science has discovered more than 250 different viruses that infect it. This is despite the fact that Vibrio cholerae itself very often causes fatal diseases in humans. What does this mean? The fact that such liquids with bacteriophages (with intracellular pathogens), on the contrary, were used for treatment.

Igor : Yes, but, unfortunately, they carry out horizontal gene transfer in bacteria, which contributes to the development of resistance to any kind of problems.

Irina : Microbes develop resistance very quickly to any influence, including antibiotics, because they are living Souls, they have an instinct for reproduction. Due to the very rapid division and very easy occurrence of mutations in their cells, in their bodies, they carry the information that interferes with the action of drugs or phages.

48:15 Ozone therapy, ultraviolet.

Igor : Yes. I think, so as not to bore viewers and listeners too much with microbiology, we can discuss something more interesting and understandable.

Technologies that have been used for hundreds of years: this is ultraviolet exposure, this is the influence of ozone as a gas, those technologies that trigger all these intracellular processes, adaptation mechanisms in humans. Let's talk about them a little. Your vision of all this: ozone therapy, ultraviolet light and everything that affects the cellular level.

Irina : About ozone, I can add that it is a stimulator of its own energy processes through contacts, including with mitochondria in cells and by destroying pathogenic flora.

As for ultraviolet radiation, it has an antibacterial effect due to the high energy of light rays. What is ultraviolet? This is the frequency of energy, energy waves, you usually call them photons, we differ a little, this is a high frequency of an electromagnetic wave that is not perceived by your eyes as light. It is higher in vibration, but, nevertheless, when it comes into contact with these microorganisms, it also suppresses their effect. This concerns their reproduction.

As for the effect on humans, in moderate doses it promotes the production of vitamins, strengthens the immune system and increases the level of vital energy in cells. But moderate exposure is the same as with ozone. You know that excessive use of ultraviolet radiation, especially shorter waves, which are more highly vibrational, can lead to tissue damage.

51:09 Heavy water.

Igor : Another question I've been wanting to ask for a long time. Perhaps MidgasCaus can answer. What can you say about heavy water? How beneficial or harmful is it to the body?

Irina : We need to explain to him. They have a slightly different science. They don't call hydrogen different isotopes. For them it is one element.

(MidgasCaus speaking) I know what you call heavy water. This is hydrogen that has been modified in such a way that the percentage of energy levels in its atom changes. You call them electrons, but we call them energy levels.

As for the effect of this water. Detailed studies of such water have shown that due to mass and energy (you know that any water remembers information, energy), the water that you call heavy, due to the energy of its atoms, remembers it better, but both positive and negative, and transfers into the body. The crystallizing ability of its molecules and macromolecules, that is, clusters of molecules, to remember energy information and carry it into the body increases.

Igor : Everything you can say about heavy water?

Irina : Yes.

Igor : Why, when the percentage of heavy water in the body increases, everyone's metabolism slows down, leading them to infertility and, in general, to aging and death.

Irina : Perhaps you call different things heavy water.

Igor : I'm talking about the water that, in addition to hydrogen protons, also contains one neutron or more, so it is heavy.

Irina : How does it accumulate in the body if to obtain it you need a certain energetic effect on water, which, by the way, is not very simple?

Igor : It accumulates because it is everywhere in nature.

Irina : It exists in very small quantities, but in order to accumulate it, a very serious energetic process is needed. I will now speak in the language of your science, because we do not use the word neutron.

In order to introduce a neutron into a hydrogen atom, you need to spend serious energy. And it's not just heating, or boiling and cooling. These are much more serious energy processes that are similar, for example, to a certain radiation flux. It is possible to obtain completely heavy water using your technologies in the laboratory.

Igor : Unfortunately, the entire planet is contaminated with this heavy water. Recently, 2,000 nuclear explosions have been officially registered. There was an infinite number before this. People age and die because heavy water destroys mitochondria.

Irina : From the nuclear explosions themselves, if they occurred, then the spread of radioactive substances that emit certain energies, as we call radiation, in all substances, including the radioactive type of carbon, which will come into contact with tissues in the form of food, this the impact on the body from a nuclear explosion will be thousands of times greater than from heavy water. There will already be radiation there.

Igor : All people age precisely because of heavy water.

Irina : Igor, dear friends! Indeed, sometimes scientific theories diverge, but there is nothing overly critical about this. They have a different view of reality, different research. Perhaps what they call heavy water is not what Igor calls it.

We need to look at it in detail, probably show all this in an experiment, because perhaps they use the same word to call different things that sound like that in Russian. Moreover, we are from different planets. It happens that even scientists on the same planet from different countries or different times repeat each other's experiments and find that they called different objects by the same name.

Igor : I am now conducting research both theoretically and practically posting videos on my channel. The next 5 videos will be exactly on heavy water, I will open the very top research. This is exactly the aging of people, what it is associated with, and how to prevent it. For those who want, they can familiarize themselves, compose questions for next time and ask them to their alien friends.

Irina : First, make up your questions. Whatever the answers will be, those will be the answers.

Igor : Yes. Any answers are always interesting and food for thought.

Irina : Yes, I agree.

Igor : Great! Thank you, friends, for your attention. Channel "BioPatriot". The most top research on health and youth. Thank you.

Irina : Thank you, dear friends, for your attention. Thank you, Igor, for your questions. It was very interesting. We hope this is not the last meeting. Friends, see you again!

#411 Egregors on Earth. Types of egregors. Parenting. Contactor Irina Podzorova (part 2).

00:20 Aliens and the egregor of “Cassiopeia”.

Maria : A very interesting question about the interaction of our curators and mentors with the egregor of “Cassiopeia”. All participants in our project, each person has their own Guardian Angels and curators. How does interaction occur, how do our curators influence the egregor of our Cassiopeia project?

Irina : We are helping the egregor of the Cassiopeia project develop. We have many other contactees, we mentally send them circumstances so that they learn about Cassiopeia. And as soon as they find out, we mentally send them to an appointment with their Higher Self so that they can talk with Irina. We do this for their development and for the development of the egregor “Cassiopeia”.

The egregor of “Cassiopeia” plays a special role for the Interstellar Union. This is another (and, by the way, very large) chance for the entire Earth to raise its vibrations. Pass on this knowledge to your children, grandchildren, descendants so that later you yourself can incarnate in these descendants and bring your planet into our beautiful (they do not call the Interstellar Union) Union of the Forces of Light embodied in the material world of Spirits.

01:56 Egregors and their development. Esoteric egregor.

Maria: What a beautiful name! Friends, please tell me: are there any plans or opportunities to bring to our planet a unified scientific and philosophical concept that would harmoniously and competently unite all religions and explain all processes? Wouldn't this be a more powerful egregor for raising vibrations on our planet?

Irina : As with the question of how to open the Higher Self to any person, the answer is approximately the same, but for religion.

Religious egregors are energetically formed. We can roughly say that this is a collective entity created by your (and not only yours) thought forms of many, many of your ancestors. The real relationship of the Interstellar Union to religious egregors is, naturally, contact with the guardians of the egregors.

Each egregor, including religious ones, has its own guardians from the Spiritual world. There are patrons in plasmoid worlds, and there are patrons in humanoid worlds. The keepers of egregors themselves can incarnate into people in order to develop their egregors, in order to bring some of their teachings there.

In religious egregors, these are Spirits of angelic levels who, through the egregor, contact believers, send them thoughts about spiritual development in the language of this religion, heal them, heal them, protect them, and give them information.

What is needed to unite all religions? It is necessary to agree on common terminology as the basis of any philosophy. The new teaching about spiritual development, which will develop on Earth, will still manifest its egregor. Egregor appears wherever there are more than three people. There are also where there are two, there is also an egregor, but it is a mini egregor. And as soon as there are more than three people, the power of this egregor begins to grow exponentially. Therefore, in order for there to be no egregors, it is necessary that everyone believes in his idea, in the image of God that is in him, alone, so that he does not tell anyone about his faith, so that he does not share with anyone, so that he does not with whom he did not team up. This is impossible on Earth. You are social beings.

The egregorial system is the system through which everyone has to act: both you and us. It, of course, has its advantages and disadvantages. Our business and your business, as bright Spirits embodied on this planet, are to turn all the shortcomings that exist into advantages. And enhance the dignity. But completely removing the idea of egregoriality is fundamentally wrong, because it is impossible. There will be just a new egregor.

You all know what happens when a new egregor arises. If this egregor is on a spiritual topic, which you call religious, then any spiritual egregor in your society is recognized as religious, because your religion talks about spirituality. Not science, not politics, but a religious egregor. An esoteric egregor (the one that speaks of spiritual development) is also a type of religious egregor.

The egregor of “Cassiopeia” is part of a larger esoteric egregor. And the esoteric egregor is one of the religious egregors. It is not political, not sports, not scientific, but religious, because people are not engaged in understanding the material world, not in managing others, but in spiritual development.

When a new egregor appears, participants in the previous ones naturally perceive its appearance as an opportunity for their supporters to leave. Everyone perceives this differently, but for a sincerely believing person in something, one might say, it is mentally painful to see the choice of his friend and his former colleague in the egregor as leaving him. It is a natural instinct of self-preservation and an instinct to protect one's community. This is included in the egregor in the sense that the egregors are determined to fight the new egregor for influence on people. You consider this a negative manifestation and try to fight it.

There are scientists in the Interstellar Union who study egregors. (Mirah Count says) I am one of those who studies egregors, their influence on the material world, their correct construction. I am studying how to build it correctly in the Light of God, so that later there will be no problems with its manifestation or with its active expansion into the material world, the capture of other egregors.

08:42 Creation of a scientific egregor.

Maria : Mirakh Count, please tell me, what kind of egregor needs to be created for our scientists who could make a smooth and harmonious transition from a purely material to, among other things, a spiritual perception of the world? This is exactly what we are talking about. How to combine an egregor or create some kind of egregor that will help scientists move to a new level of awareness?

Irina : (Mirah Count speaks) I am ready to help any representative of “Cassiopeia” or any other teaching with this. Get in touch to create such an egregor. To do this, a person needs to speak two languages equally well: in the language of science, using its terminology, understanding this terminology, and in the language of esotericism. Be ready to become a pioneer among scientists who regard esotericism as a harmless hobby, at best. Some esotericists, with their exorbitant greed and fear-mongering, created such an image of this teaching among earthly scientific circles, which will take a long time to be cleared of all untrue understandings.

I have contact on a mental level with fairly prominent scientists and know their mentality well, their attitude to esotericism, to magic, for example, to contacting. I know well the reasons for this attitude. If, dear friends, there is a person among you who has the opportunity to share esoteric knowledge with scientific circles, and scientific knowledge with esotericists, this will be the one who unites. This person must have several qualities.

The first is the selfless, endless courage it takes to sail a very small boat against a big current.

Secondly, this is great nervous stability, you call it “stress resistance”. Because you will have to go through many verbal attacks, perhaps slander and insults. If at the same time you lower your vibrations, then your whole business will be destroyed. You will further compromise the esotericism.

To create this egregor for scientists, so that they can cognize the Spiritual world, it is necessary to go to them, it is necessary to communicate with them in their environment. They won't come to you. They don't need it at the moment. The answers that they found for themselves in the material world suit them. Those who are not satisfied with these answers will come to you. But this is not the general mass of scientists.

This also requires an understanding of science. Each science has its own terminology. For example, in physics it will be one terminology, in biology – another, in medicine – a third (medicine is also a science for them), in philosophy – a fourth, in philology – a fifth. You need to understand your science, freely operate with these terms and understand their meanings, what it means, what is behind, for example, the term - atom, molecules. When you talk to scientists in their language, you must ensure that they understand you.

The third condition is that you must know esotericism well and be constantly in contact with your Higher Self, because without this contact it is very difficult to unite anything at all. Uniting can only be done in the spirit of Love, which sees the path to unity, and this is the flow of the Higher Self (if there are any).

For example, Irina could become like this, but it's not that she doesn't have a higher education, that's understandable, but she doesn't have any opportunity to enter the scientific community. Or rather, she has the opportunity, but she does not have appropriate confirmation of her knowledge, her words will not be authoritative. Here we need a person who has walked this path.

They have already written: "I can," let the person who wrote answer.

Maria : Laura wrote: "I can." What does she mean? Yes, while Laura is writing, I have the following question, reflection: Mirah Count, please tell me if we should interest our scientists who are now in various projects, developing some new areas and reaching a dead end. For example, there is a German scientist who studies gravitons. Of course, such people are very valuable in our project, who are really in science.

I will complete my idea that it is possible, as I believe, to attract such scientists by finding some clues, explanations that most likely lie in the esoteric area, and they may be interested. All scientists want to promote their projects and get answers to their questions. For example, the German scientist who received the Nobel Prize for the discovery of gravitons still has many questions in this area.

Irina: Okay. Naturally, we are ready to answer any questions about your science, we are ready to harmonize with our picture of the world. There needs to be a mutual desire to make contact and understand each other; we can compare. This usually occurs when the materialistic and idealistic models of knowledge come into contact. This happens in the Spirit, in the form of friendly good discussions. When those with different points of view express them and look for common points of contact, while in no case moving on to assessing the individual. In such discussions, there must be a third party observer who will not be involved in this and will be neutral. He won't support either side's ideas, at least not at this point.

It is necessary to monitor the progress of such discussions and when trying to get personal, for example, when accusing the interlocutor of stupidity, lying, or some other negative qualities, without wasting time, exclude this interlocutor from this discussion. He shouldn't be there anymore. By doing this, he will lower the vibrations of everyone, and everyone will lose the desire for flight of thought that they had.

The basis of any scientific discussion, any scientific knowledge is the high vibrations of those who know the world. Any science without a high spiritual level can be harmful. Without studying spiritual possibilities and without studying your heart, any science can greatly lower vibrations and be dangerous for the whole world.

18:17 Changes in the medical egregor.

Irina: Laura writes that she has a higher medical education, and in the past she was incarnated on another planet. Laura, tell me, are you ready to create such an egregor, where there will be a transition from our materialistic science to their science? You are ready? Are you already a contactee? Do you want to work with children?

Laura: Hello everyone. I thank you for being in your company today. I perceive that this is said for me. Is there anyone else here out of 30 people to whom all the words you said were “addressed”? I take this as a direct edification for me. As far as esoteric science is concerned, this is extremely interesting. Everything that is the fifth eye for them is presented to us as the highest knowledge. How can we achieve the necessary development and the necessary expansion? You just have to go there, that's all.

Irina : Correct. You wrote that you have a higher medical education. You are a doctor?

Laura: Yes.

Irina : What specialty?

Laura: General profile.

Irina : Are you working?

Laura: Working at the moment.

Irina : (Mirah Count speaks) I thank you, dear Larisa.

Laura: I already fell in love with him, I'm a fan of his, how wonderful he is.

Irina : (Mirah Count speaks) I feel your radiant Soul, your Light, your enlightenment. In order to combine the efforts of science and the efforts of esotericism into one and direct them in one direction, it is you (since you are a doctor) who need to work with your patients, explaining to them the spiritual reason, be sure to tell them that not only the body is the reason what happens to them, not just physiological processes. We need to tell them in such a way that there is no rejection of the materialists.

What does it mean? This means saying that your thoughts and your feelings influence your body. They can be negative and positive, and they affect all physiological processes, your hormonal status, and so on. To recover, you need to direct all your attention to your inner world.

Gradually, using such suggestive phrases, tell them about the Spiritual world.

Laura: I agree, the fact is that I've been actively doing this for the last year. I see that people need this. I used to be embarrassed about this. Three years ago I realized that this had to be done, but last year, when there is such a medical situation throughout the planet, what else can I do? This is the only chance that people are given to survive. Some of them go in one direction, some in the other, there is a clear division. Separation according to some kind of transformational principle, as I feel, those who do not transform leave. Moreover, you don't even have to talk to them, you just come, and they already feel it. They say: "Doctor, are you an Angel?" Now I say yes because it is true.

How will we work? Through the Higher Self. I started talking to them through the Higher Self. You don't find a common language, because the person is lying down, sick, and you don't really philosophize. He feels bad, and you must do something now, immediately. That's it, you start to run it through the Higher Self, and then you understand whether he can recover now or not. This is how I work. Does he have a chance or not? He won't say directly that no. Although some say: "That's it, I'm dying, goodbye." But some are not, I connect them through the Higher Self. Even in medicine, such work has already begun. Can you imagine what's happening?

Irina : (Mirah Count speaks) Yes, this is not accidental, this is the cumulative experience of your Soul, which lived in many worlds and had the same occupation there.

Laura: Yes. Exactly. If I previously perceived this as my fantasy, now I understand that this is an objective reality. This is really how it works. If we talk, I think that I can do something at all.

Irina : Where do you live?

Laura: In Moscow.

Irina : Great. You can, if you have the opportunity, come to study with me in Voronezh, where I will teach how to lead to the Higher Self. If you complete the course, you will be given a certificate. And you will already compare the knowledge that you have with the knowledge that I give from the Interstellar Union. Besides me, Ilya Alexandrov also teaches here; he gives complete understanding, complete knowledge of how to combine psychology with esotericism. I give knowledge on contacting, on how to establish contact with the Higher Self for yourself and others, how to contact plasmoids, how to go to the Astral, this level of knowledge.

Laura: That's great. I thank you for the invitation.

Irina : There is one “but”. If you have not watched the video, you first need to familiarize yourself with all the materials.

Maria : We have preliminary questions about knowledge of the project materials. This is very important in order to understand the subsequent material that Ira and Ilya will teach. You have the opportunity to familiarize yourself with the materials on the page in VK, there is a page “Archive of materials”, where you can view all our articles, all our videos in chronological order, there are answers to all the questions that were asked in the Telegram chat, preparatory to this meeting. We already have answers to the questions that are asked here in the Zoom chat, so I don’t ask them. Naturally, watch the video on YouTube.

I also want to tell everyone that we have several educational projects, several schools. Ira has already mentioned Ilya Alexandrov and Larisa Astashevskaya, they run a wonderful school “Mental Healing”. They are both professional psychologists, they have already connected the egregor of psychology and the egregor of esotericism, and have already built bridges between these two areas of knowledge.

We have a wonderful new project “The Science of Imagery” from MidgasCaus, planet Esler. This is a joint project of Vladimir Goldstein, MidgasCaus and contactee Marina Makeeva. We have a wonderful school “Gihor” with Ivan Yonten, who is also a contactee and does quite a lot of work.

Irina : It is important for a doctor to undergo initiation into the cosmic channels and also treat and help with these channels.

Maria : In fact, in our project we have a lot of wonderful and varied instruments, where everyone can find something to their liking, something that resonates with them.

27:35 Spiritual development of children.

Maria : By the way, Laura touched on a very interesting topic - the spiritual development of children. There was a question in the chat: “How to start explaining to a child about the Spirit?” For example, a child had an unpleasant experience in church, during communion he said that all this was not true, and everything was not real, and he no longer wanted to go to church. Here is also an interesting topic about spiritual education for children.

Irina : In matters of faith and development of a child, while he is still in the family, while he is still small, his main spiritual mentors are his parents. In any case, they are intermediaries between the world and the child, and they are responsible for adapting his body and his Soul to this world. How can I reveal spiritual knowledge to him? This is especially important at a young age, because a person has such a thing as a habit. Very many people, if they get used to doing something or thinking somehow, it will be difficult for them to turn away from this path.

How can you help a child realize that he is the Spirit? The first rule: in no case is there any violence, either verbal or physical, in matters of faith, in matters of visiting church, for example, any religion. You can tell your child about what you saw there, about what you felt there, and be sure to show by your personal example that these images, these rituals are dear to you, that you love the image of God that is in this church. And you should not hide your beliefs and your spiritual work from your child.

Regarding communion: if a child said that it’s all a lie and it’s all a game, and doesn’t want to go to church, you shouldn’t persuade him in any way or scold him for it. You just need to calmly continue to walk, and in response to perhaps some questions or comments that this is not true, you need to treat him with patience, you need to say that there is such a feeling as faith.

For example, do you believe that when you grow up you will be happy? Do you believe that you will achieve some dream? You believe in it, and it helps you live, strive for your goal, and not be discouraged when something goes wrong. Tell him using examples from your life or literature, some film about the importance of faith. Tell and show him that just as you draw a picture, sculpt from plasticine, create some of your own creations, there is also a Creator of everything who created the beautiful earthly world, the cosmic world. It is imperative to study the world with him, talk about plants, animals, insects, Space, and his own body. You have it in the books. Buy him more of any children's encyclopedias. Just on a walk, tell him about some animals, insects you met, and how they live. Pay attention to the little things.

He gives me one example now. If you and your child saw the sunrise, you go to the window and say out loud so that he can hear: “What a beautiful Sun the Creator sent us today. Yes, this day that has come has been given to us so that we can give thanks. There is an old word to glorify - it means to thank. Thank the Sun, this light that we now see. I want to tell you, my son or my daughter, that many people did not survive this night, they have already gone to the Spiritual world and do not see this Sun. They saw off the Sun yesterday, but did not meet it today. And we continue to live in our bodies so that we can create something good during this day, do some good deed.” And if you tell him this on purpose, for him it will be the norm.

When you give him something to eat or sit down to eat with him, do not force him to thank God, just do it yourself in front of him. Do this with sincere feeling, say in your own words: “I thank You, Heavenly Father, I thank You, Creator of the Universe, for this energy in the form of food that today you gave me the opportunity to receive, I promise to transform it into the pure Light of infinite Love,” - speak in the simplest words.

Maria : Thank you, Mirah Count, for your wonderful message. I thought, what a pity that we still don’t all communicate with our children like this. For example, I raised my children in atheism, and I never told them about religion.

Irina : Even if the child denies, he still has a spiritual voice, the need to recognize his Father, to communicate with him. Don't force it on him, but slowly tell him in everyday conversations. If he reacts positively to this, asks further questions, asks for these stories himself, you can tell him more, if he is interested in it, you can tell him in the context of answers to his questions.

For example, the simplest question: "You, dad or mom, say that you thank God, but where does He live, show me Him?" It is necessary to find the simplest answer to the simplest question that will go straight to his heart. It is necessary to tell him: "Here you (name him), for example, can show me your body, but you cannot show me your mind, you cannot show me what your love looks like, you can only kiss me. So God, He cannot appear before your eyes, but He shows His body, part of His body - this is the world in which we live." Tell me, a simple explanation?

Maria : Yes, very simple, I think, understandable. Most importantly, when a child is ready, his Spirit is ready to receive.

Irina : His readiness will be visible from the questions. If he asks: "You're talking about God, but where is He?" - he already understood. Even if he rejects some answer and says that it is not true. You can answer this way: "Don't rush to reject everything you don't know. Just calmly think about it. Can you see everything that exists?" And these are the answers we give to his questions. If he has already understood this, he can continue asking. He will no longer ask how to see, but will ask: "Why are you talking to Him if He sees and hears everything anyway? Why are you turning to Him? And this is the next stage: "Why do you need this, and why are you communicating with him?" In the answer to this question, it is necessary to mention: "I gave birth to your body, but you, as a spiritual being, have always existed. You came in this body, I came in this body. You came in your body for a certain time in the material world to solve your problems. And our task is to become as wise and as great in our Love as God. He loves us all. Naturally, out of His Love, He created the world so that we could be happy in this world and give happiness to each other."

How would such stories affect you, Masha, as a child?

Maria : I think that this would change a lot in my life, and maybe I would come to God much faster.

Irina : Would you be interested?

Maria : Of course, interesting. I remember my thoughts in deep childhood. I was very upset that I would die and there would be nothing left of me, I cried because of it.

Irina : What if they told you that?

Maria : I remember that my little son came up to me and suddenly asked me about Angels. I didn't know what to answer him. I never told him about Angels, I never told him about religion at all. He asked me: “Angels exist, do they come?” Somehow he came across this information.

Irina : Maybe someone came to him?

Maria : I have no doubt that people have come and continue to come to him, there are curators and Guardian Angels. Therefore, I believe that one of the very important tasks of our development is to pass it on to children by raising our vibrations, our awareness and gaining knowledge. This requires special art, the ability to convey it. Not only to know this yourself, but also to be able to pass it on to other people and children, among others.

Irina : If your children see your good deeds, if they hear your conversations not about everyday matters, but about spirituality, then they themselves will be drawn to this. And if this is a rarity for you, then they will not be interested in it. Children are always drawn to personal example, and not to words that are covered by deeds; they always look at deeds. There are rules for communicating with children in order to teach them something. The child turns to his parents and tells them: “If you tell me something, I will forget, if you show me something, I will remember it a little longer, and if you do it with me, I will learn.”

Do everything together with your children. Let your homework go along with them. Let your life, financial calculations, some conversations take place together with your children. Go to the store with them, count the money in front of them, tell them where it goes and how it comes. They must be aware that there is a financial egregor, then they will see that not only spiritual issues are important to you, but also material ones.

Harmony is needed in everything here. And most importantly, there must still be Love. The most important thing is to teach a child love. Not only to love him, but also to teach him Love. Teach him to give Love to others and feel it from another. If you do not pass on this most important skill to him, then the transfer of sciences, the transfer of inheritance will do little to change his destiny, which he will live half his life looking for Love and the other half of his life realizing that he has been looking for it for too long and it is already meaningless.

It is very important to show him examples of kindness. It is important to show examples of empathy. It is important to fill his world with those images that will develop Light and love of knowledge in him. This can be in the form of a love of reading, in the form of a love of exploring the world. Love of knowledge develops such a property of the mind as the desire for knowledge, analyticalness. This will greatly help him in spiritual development. He will be able to separate himself from his thoughts, actions and instincts. When he grows up and begins to go through any temptation of an adult, he will no longer have the opportunity to follow the first thought that arises, the first feeling that arises. Do you understand what I am talking about?

Maria : Yes, of course. This process is very important. It should start from early childhood. There was a question about the age when awareness comes.

Irina : From early childhood, children should see your spiritual development, witness it and your conversations about it. A two or three year old child is playing quietly in the corner of his room, you are talking about something with other adults, it seems to you that he either does not hear you or does not understand you. This is not entirely true. The soul that is in it hears everything and stores everything in its memory.

Maria : Yes, that's true. Sometimes very unexpected questions come later. When, it would seem, the child did not understand or hear anything. I think that this knowledge comes to every child in due time.

Irina : For example, several women came to Irina. They came with their children aged 6 and 10. We talked, they sat and listened. I took my mother to the Higher Self and offered the child something to do so that he would not get bored, read a book or play on the computer, but almost always so that he would not make noise and would not distract his mother, because it was in the same room. I took my mother to the Higher Self.

It was almost like this: as soon as I started to bring my mother into the Light, the child played, did not pay any attention to us, but it was clear that he was still listening out of the corner of his ear to what was happening. When his mother came out into the Light and said: “Yes, I see the Light, I am filled with it, I feel the flow of Love,” he gave up what he was doing and became completely absorbed in contemplating this process. I felt that he was looking, and it was clear that he was interested, but he was embarrassed to come up and ask. I led her further, especially when the blocks were dissolved, she directed the Light of Love, everything was as usual. He sat straight and did not move, he listened to everything, even breathed quietly.

Maria : Yes, it’s still a strong connection with parents.

Irina : They feel what is happening. Even small children feel it. I remember there was a five-year-old girl, it was in Voronezh. I brought the woman out of the session, from the state of the Higher Self, she stood up, all emotional, as always happens, the child himself came up, hugged her and said: “You are my good one, you are my Light.” We started talking, I asked her: “What did you feel?” She said that she felt warmly that I had Light in my eyes. Children feel these energies.

Maria : Yes, more than us adults. They still have a very strong connection with the Higher Self.

Irina : Masha, I told you how I still lived in Povorino when I wrote the diagnostics. Bogdan, my nephew, was 7 years old at the time. I’m sitting here writing, MidgasKaus came to me, just like now, stood up in his astral body. I have contact, I accept thoughts. Bogdan could sit and play, or go into the room. He came in and made such a movement (Irina shows how he looks around the room). Then he looks at one point past me and says: “Oh, Mid, hi. How are you?" And most importantly, Mid hears him through me, and he mentally answers him (he cannot answer with words in the Astral). Bogdan sits down somewhere to draw or play. Mead says: “I’m doing well. And how are you?" When Mead asked, “How are you doing?” Bogdan answers out loud: “And I’m fine.” They have this conversation. I had a complete feeling that he heard him.

Maria : I think that in such situations (we have already had conferences on this topic) it is very important for parents to react adequately and correctly, not to be scared, not to scold the child for this.

Irina : Of course, it’s not necessary if the child tells them something. For example, there was a case with Sveta. Did she tell you? Her little grandson saw that someone was nearby, some kind of creature. He still doesn’t know how to speak well, he points with his finger. And when they ask him: “What, someone came?” He said: “Yes.” Mom already knows, she’s in the know. She said: “It’s good that I already know Cassiopeia, otherwise I would be scared, because he looks at one point with such eyes.” Sveta asked: “Did someone come?” He nods his head. Sveta began to prompt him: “Are you afraid of him?” The first time he answered: “Yes,” nodding his head. Light to him: “Don’t be afraid of him, it’s just your friend who came.” When he looked again, it was clear that he had come to him again, Sveta sent Light to this plasmoid, and he stopped being afraid. And mom reacts calmly, she looks and says: “Who’s there? Give him a wave."

Communication with entities is the norm for many children. But in order for them to become more conscious contactees and attract only light entities, your reaction, your help, and the help of adults is very important in this. They themselves cannot yet tune in, because they have come to a world that is new to them, their memory is blocked, and accordingly, they perceive the unfamiliar world like children. And here your reaction is important, that you will not laugh, for example, at a child. You won’t be afraid of something, you won’t brush it aside: “Stop inventing, don’t fantasize.” Even if he tells you something, for example, he says that he played with a big lion or flew, went to bed, flew through the ceiling and flew on a rocket to the stars. You shouldn’t say: “So what, you dreamed it,” or (even worse): “I’m not interested in this,” or brush it off: “Stop making up your mind, you didn’t see anything.” To dismiss such stories means to let the child know that he said something wrong. Your Love is very important for a child. This is life for him. In order not to lose your Love, he will continue to remain silent about such things. There is no need to let him know that he said something wrong.

Maria : Make an appointment with Irina at the administrator.

Irina : LiShioni, are you registered with me?

Maria : Indeed, a very large number of people want to get an appointment with Irina. You can learn about all the rules from the administrators on the Cassiopeia website.

53:30 Aliens about laziness.

Irina : About laziness. Laziness in the Interstellar Union is considered a feeling of uselessness in achieving some goal. It can occur when a person is not motivated. He has no reason to waste his physical, mental, or any other energy on achieving his goal. Simply put, it is not important to him, it is not part of his value system or has low value. On Earth this is considered a lack of willpower, but this does not mean that he lacks willpower at all, it means that this Spirit does not direct it.

Every Spirit has a will. This is the energy called will. Without her, he will not be able to live and perform his tasks at all. And lack of will, laziness, means that he simply does not direct his will energy to something. He doesn’t want enough to get closer to that goal, to that ideal, for which it is necessary to perform this action, which he is too lazy to do.

I'll give you an example. A child or adult is too lazy to clean his room; he has a dirty floor, dirty windows, dirty table. Why is this happening? Because his value system on the physical plane does not include purity, this person does not have purity as a value system. And he does not want, does not want, does not consider it necessary to direct his energy to physical actions that are necessary to restore cleanliness. He is completely satisfied with the environment where he is. And even if he says to himself: “I want to clean, but I’m lazy, I can’t do it, but I really love cleanliness,” this is not so, this is self-deception, an illusion.

Maria : Here is a question of argumentation for who wants this purity. How convincingly can he argue and convince that this is a value?

Irina : There are people who tell themselves that I want to clean up, but I can’t, I’m lazy, or I don’t have the strength, or something else. They just don't prioritize the values of cleanliness. And what they say there is is self-deception. Even if there are answers that I would like to direct my strength there, I have them, but I don’t have time - this is also self-deception. There will always be time for a priority matter at the expense of other less priority matters. Or, for example, others, on the contrary, love physical cleanliness. They love physical work, they like to clean, cook, some like to play sports, but they may be too lazy, for example, to read books, engage in some kind of spiritual work, mental activity. On the contrary, it is easier for them to wash the floors five times than to go to the Higher Self once. They feel that they are reluctant to do this.

Maria : The question of the priorities of incarnations and the question of those people who interact with the lazy.

Irina : If you want a person to get rid of his laziness in relation to some matter, you need to act without violence, without reproaches, without any offensive words that offend the person, without persuasion to do it. By persuasion you will only lead him into denial. It is necessary to increase the value of this matter in his eyes. And this can only be done in the system of his values, talking with him.

For example, in the case of cleanliness. You shouldn’t start a conversation with him: “You didn’t clean up, that’s why you’re so bad and lazy,” in an accusing tone. Do not say: “I have to do this for you,” - reproach.

You just need to say in a conversation with this person (for example, if we are talking about physical cleaning): “I live in a space, in my room everything is in its place, it’s so easy for me to find all the items when I need them. I know that everything has its place. I am so pleased to look at the clean beautiful walls, floor, ceiling. It brings me positive emotions because it makes me feel like I created this beauty.” You need to talk about your feelings, and he will begin to do it himself. If you speak with love (even if not right away), he himself will still think: “Let me try, how it happens. Why does this person like it so much?” And he will start repeating.

Maria : Thank you!

00:20 Introduction of participants.

Pavel : So, my dear friends and viewers. The moment came when I finally came to visit Cassiopeia. You were all waiting for this, at least many of you. I also wanted to meet this man. Irina Podzorova is with us live. Today we will talk to her, ask interesting questions on completely different topics, including those related to life and, of course, alien civilizations and creatures.

Let's first get to know each other. Irina, good afternoon!

Irina : Good afternoon, Pavel! Hello, dear friends. My name is Irina Podzorova. I have been a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations since I was 13 years old, that is, since 1999. We will talk about this in more detail in a conversation, in an interview.

I want to say that now here, in addition to Pavel and me on the physical level, there are two representatives of alien civilizations present in their astral bodies who supervise me. Their names are: LiShioni from the planet Shimor, he is a specialist in astral interactions and the exchange of energies between the astral and physical worlds. By the way, this beautiful doll that I am holding in my hands is an image of LiSioni. His appearance, based on my stories, was recreated by the volunteers of our Cassiopeia Center. He, as you can see, has blue skin. In general, he is humanoid. This is his physical body.

My curator, whose name is MidgasKaus, is also present here. He is a biologist, psychologist and expert on alien civilizations, currently studying Earth. For them, we are aliens, so he is an expert on earthlings. He is from the planet Esler. He looks different. Well, for those who are interested, you can always go to our “Cassiopeia” channel on YouTube, “Cassiopeia - Irina Podzorova”, it’s all there. We will not be distracted from the topic of conversation.

Pavel : Yes. A link will be left under the videos on my YouTube channel, also on Irina’s channel. Check out my channel and definitely the Cassiopeia channel. You will learn a lot of interesting things and understand about what is happening in the world in general.

Irina : They also came with Pavel, there are several of them.

Pavel : Yes. They came with me, apparently, Irina explains.

Irina : His escort too.

Pavel : Accompanying people, mentors of the Upper World.

Irina : Yes.

03:24 Interstellar Union.

Pavel : I see. Irina, I will immediately have this question. You communicate with different civilizations. Still, what do these civilizations want to do for people? Do they help them or not interfere, or do they mean something else? What do these civilizations want to do or somehow help us?

Irina : Thank you for the question. These civilizations that I just talked about: planet Esler and planet Shimor, are part of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy. The Interstellar Union of our Galaxy currently, literally just recently, consists of 117 civilizations. Previously there were 116. Recently, another civilization was accepted into this Union. The purpose of this Union, among other things, is to find young races, those races that have not entered the Interstellar Union and do not have the opportunity to move in Space with the enormous, fantastic, incredible speed that their technology gives them. And they come into contact with such young races.

In the case of the Earth, everything is even more interesting. The fact is that representatives of the Interstellar Union already existed in our Galaxy 3 million years ago, when there was not even an intelligent person on Earth. The Interstellar Union has existed for the last 15 million years.

05:05 Civilizations of the planets Shimor and Esler.

Paul : On what plane do they exist? Spiritual?

Irina : No.

Pavel : Are these physical bodies?

Irina : These are physical bodies, but they are on different planets. For example, the planet Shimor, where LiShioni is from, is located at a distance of about 700 light years from the Sun in the constellation Andromeda. And the planet Esler, where MidgasCaus is from, is located at a distance of 36 light years in the constellation Bootes, in close proximity to the star Arcturus. But this is not the system of Arcturus itself, but a neighboring system.

Pavel : Are these Arcturians?

Irina : Arcturians. They belong to the Arcturian group, but there are many civilizations there. These are dense aliens.

05:55 The influence of the Interstellar Union on humanity.

Pavel : And for what purposes did they come to our world on Earth? Just control? Or are we one of the civilizations they care about?

Irina : These civilizations of the Interstellar Union flew to Earth for the first time 5 million years ago, when there was no intelligent life here, but there was animal life. There were dinosaurs inhabiting its animals.

Some time passed, and scientists from the Interstellar Union decided to contribute to the evolution of one of the primate species so that an intelligent Spirit could be embodied in it. But this is according to their terminology. And in our opinion - so that an unreasonable animal, so to speak, turns into a rational being like them. All religions on Earth speak about this in the form that people are like Gods. Even in the Bible it is said that man has the image and likeness of God.

Pavel : A piece of God, yes.

Irina : Yes. Ancient people, when they lived on Earth, created religions. The aliens were called Gods because in their minds only Gods could fly in the sky. Or they called them Angels. Maybe you have seen the myths of the peoples of the world, where God flies on a chariot. The heavenly chariot was the name of the spaceship.

The purpose of their creation was so that our Earth would also have an intelligent civilization, which would eventually become their employees. Our goal is to later join the Interstellar Union and then, together with them, on equal rights as cosmic employees equal to them, to explore the Universe.

Pavel : To develop, that is, to reach a new level of development not only physically, but also spiritually.

Irina : By the word “development” they mean, first of all, spiritual development. Without it, without spiritual, moral and ethical values, they consider technological development dangerous for civilization.

08:20 Conditions for joining the Interstellar Union. Contacting.

Pavel : Yes, by the way, which path should we take? Natural, spiritual or technological? It cannot be that we are now following the wrong path of development, having chosen the technological path? Will machines lead us to destruction? Robots, computers and everything else.

Irina : They also have robots, computers, very fast starships and so on, but their science is combined with such spiritual knowledge, which we call esotericism. Their technologies are aimed, according to their laws, at improving the world, at understanding it, at helping each other.

But in our Galaxy there are civilizations that did not join the Interstellar Union because they were not accepted, for example, due to wars.

Pavel : Yes.

Irina : Civilizations that are at war will not be accepted. And to restrain the military expansion of these civilizations across the Galaxy, the Interstellar Union also has weapons. But they use it to protect civilizations like ours, and many dozens of others in the Galaxy that cannot protect themselves from alien invasion.

Pavel : I understand. That is, as long as civilization follows the path of development, where there are wars, evil and pain, we will never be able to come into normal contact with them and reach their level of development. We need to stop wars, stop evil, stop all bloodshed, and only then will we be able to rise at least a little to their vibration level. And they, perhaps, will accept us into their Intergalactic Union. This means that we will be able to move away from the Earth, fly somewhere higher, or even in physical bodies, or with the help of certain spacesuits, or on a spiritual level simply communicate with them. We need to stop all wars.

Irina : On a spiritual level, we can still communicate with them, this is called contacting.

Pavel : Yes.

Irina : A contactor is a person who communicates with various creatures: either with aliens, or, we call them plasmoids, with the Spirits of nature, we will say so, or with Angels, that is, with Spirits not embodied in matter who are in the Spiritual world. This kind of contact is acceptable for people.

But in order to be accepted into the Interstellar Union, our planet must meet certain qualities, certain rules. The first of which is the absence of a major military conflict on the planet. Doesn't count...

Pavel : Local

Irina : Some kind of local riot, and it was suppressed. And it is considered when one state is at war with another, and weapons of very great destruction are used. Such wars should not be present on a planet that is part of the Interstellar Union for 5 Earth years.

Pavel : Absolutely peacetime. Peaceful time.

Irina : This is the first condition. The second condition is respect for any human life from the moment of conception. From the moment of conception, human life must be inviolable.

Pavel : Children, adults, elderly people, absolutely everyone should.

Irina : Conception means that you haven’t even been born yet. And he also has the right to life, because he is an immortal Spirit who came to fulfill his task.

Pavel : I see.

Irina : And they should not neglect his life, even if his mother does not want to bear him.

Pavel : Absolutely everything, any creature of the human species, must be preserved from the moment of conception. Everything.

Irina : Yes. This is the second rule. The third rule is the absence of the death penalty. In the case of serious crimes, it is necessary to create such conditions for long-term or lifelong imprisonment, but with mandatory work on these criminals so that they realize their actions and can raise their vibrations. Realize and correct themselves before their natural departure from this world, so that they do not end up on a low spiritual level. They are taken care of, one might say.

How can they improve? In the Interstellar Union, creatures are also sometimes born who disregard its laws. But this rarely happens to them, because raising children in the spirit of obedience to laws and spiritual development begins at school. They are told that they are Spirits and so on.

13:23 Psychology in schools on the planets Esler and Shimor.

Pavel : In principle, do they have the same schools and educational institutions as ours?

Irina : For children, yes.

Pavel : Then they develop in the same way. But they are probably instilled with some correct images. Let's say what do they teach us at school? They tell us about the war, even if it didn't happen in our time, but once upon a time - 50 years, 100 years ago. But we have known about this since childhood. If we remove all these concepts from childhood about bad things, about wars, about everything, in principle, we will not know about it. It's interesting, they are taught such things that people or those creatures that live on other planets can also be evil, cause pain to each other, or these concepts are not ingrained in them at all from childhood, and they don't even know about it and don't they hear?

Irina : They know, but in the context of studying psychology. (MidgasKaus speaks) In childhood, from the first cycle (I will speak in earthly language), from the first grade of our school, for example, both at Shimora and Esler, we have a subject called "Psychology of the Spirit." There they study the structure of the intelligent Spirit, which is immortal and goes through a cycle of incarnations. Each such Spirit, no matter where it incarnates, has the same structure. We passed on this knowledge through Irina. (Indeed, I have a video on my channel about this.)

Briefly, I will tell you what teachers explain in this subject, that the Spirit is immortal, that it consists of feelings, desires, mind, emotions, how to work with them, how to work with your emotions so as not to accumulate negative blocks, which can then lead to bad actions.

Any crime, be it murder, theft, rape, happens for a reason, but because a negative energy block has accumulated in the Soul of the person who did it. It influences his thinking, perception, his desire in such a way that he has thoughts, which he then realizes in the physical body. The causes of all these crimes are hidden in the Spirit of man. And to prevent them from arising, they start working with people from childhood. They tell you how to nip the emergence of negativity in the bud.

15:56 Opportunities of contactee Irina Podzorova.

Pavel : Irina, I have a question, now we'll digress for a second. Who is communicating with us now through your body? Are these your thoughts or those of a higher being?

Irina : It's not like through the body. He transmits to me in the Astral Plane, and I broadcast it myself.

Pavel : Broadcast. By and large, you convey his thoughts to us, to all people. You are not telling us all this now with your own brain, but it is from the Astral that you receive information.

Irina : To the last question about school, yes. And before that, I told from my knowledge, they were still based on the information from them that I received earlier.

Pavel : I see.

Irina : I have been a contactee for a long time.

16:40 Life expectancy on different planets.

Pavel : I see. She consistently conveyed the information that she knew before. Tell me, please, will ordinary people (in addition to spiritual contact), for example, contactees, have physical contact? Will aliens, extraterrestrials, inhabitants of these cosmic civilizations ever appear here in our physical world? People who notice flying saucers, triangular UFOs - is this possible in our world? Or will it always be hidden and disguised? They will never seem 100% to us.

Irina : Are they interested in the answer? I just can now.

Pavel : Preferably them. Can they open up to a large number of the population, people in general, or is there no point?

Irina : (MidgasKaus speaks) I will tell you the rules of contacts again. I personally am a scientist - a researcher who, before flying to Earth and making contact with you, completed a course of training in working with extraterrestrial beings. First, I joined the Interstellar Union Contact Commission. By the way, I want to say that I was born on the planet Esler when the year was 1932 on Earth.

Pavel : It's not that long ago.

Irina : Yes, he is a young man.

Pavel : Only 90 years have passed.

Irina : He is still a young specialist.

Pavel : Now we are filming a video, let me remind you, viewers, that this is 2022.

Irina : He is a young specialist with us, because people on Esler live for a little more than 450 Earth years.

Pavel : Life expectancy in the earthly dimension, right?

Irina : Yes. So he is a young specialist who, by the way, has a wife and two children on the planet Esler.

Pavel : That is, they also have two genders - men and women. In principle, children are born, having united in a similar way...

Irina : We also have families.

Pavel : Men and women are not separate same-sex creatures. These are specifically two genders: male and female.

Irina : Yes.

Pavel : Children appear in the same way, they grow up and have children of their own. Yes?

Irina : We just evolved not from primates, like you, but from other animals. We didn't have primates on the planet. That's why I look different.

Pavel : I see. Why do they live so long then? We live on Earth for a maximum of 100 years. The average age is generally 80-90. How do they live to be 400 years old? Why?

Irina : Your limit is 10 times greater.

Pavel : So we were forced or forced to live less. Why?

Irina : Your phone number is limited.

Pavel : Why do we live less?

Irina : Before the war 12 thousand years ago, which I also talked about, dear friends, on our channel, I mean the war with the reptilians from the planet Selbet, who destroyed our civilization, we lived 10 times longer than now. There is a mention in the Bible that we lived 600-700 years.

Pavel : Basically, up to 1000. That was the age.

Irina : But due to the fact that after the war, the energy of the entire Earth changed, the axis of rotation, the magnetic field changed, because of this, such a change was added to the DNA of our bodies that we began to live 10 times less, because life on Earth has become completely different. This was also done so as not to significantly lower your vibrations. Life expectancy corresponds to the state of our society. Even those 60-70 or 80 years that we live on Earth, with unconscious handling of our body and its instincts, especially under the influence of those social ideas that carry negativity, can lead to spiritual degradation.

Pavel : Got it, it makes sense.

Irina : To reduce spiritual degradation.

Paul : Degradation, because if we live for a long time in the same bodies, we may not follow the right path in the Spiritual world. Yes?

Irina : Yes.

Pavel : We will stop developing our vibrations and will not be able to reach a higher level.

21:07 Tasks of incarnations on different planets.

Irina : And now for the Spiritual world, planet Earth has become a planet of rapid incarnation.

Pavel : Fast, that is, Souls are reborn faster into new people, into new children, and a constant process occurs.

Irina : Spirits can incarnate not only on Earth. For example, after separation from the physical body, after the death of the body, your Spirit can incarnate on any planet. For example, he can incarnate on mine if he so desires, and he will have the following tasks - to develop in himself some qualities that are developed on this planet.

What develops most on your planet is the quality of patience, humility and, of course, the development of unconditional love, that is, acceptance of everything that exists.

Pavel : We must develop kindness and love.

Irina : Because such conditions have been created on Earth that this is what develops. On other planets of the Interstellar Union they can develop some individual psychic abilities or knowledge about the Universe. For example, on the planet Esler they develop a calm, balanced emotional state and control over their emotions. We have such a society, and even our body contributes to this; our emotional background is already different.

Pavel : More calm, measured.

Irina : Yes, like wisdom. We call it spiritual wisdom.

Pavel : Become wise men.

Irina : Yes.

22:46 Aliens on the planets of the solar system.

Pavel : Okay. And the question is this. There are certain planets where you live. According to scientific theory, we have the Sun, then Mercury, Venus, and Earth. Is there still life on neighboring planets near the Sun? Or is it only ours that has an exoplanet like Earth's? Or, according to scientific theory, somewhere else on these 8-9 planets there are people like us. Or are they definitely uninhabited?

Irina : Now on the planets of the Solar system and on their satellites there are bases of both the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light - this is another galactic structure, the capital of which is located in the Pleiades cluster.

Pavel : Does this mean that we are talking about the Moon, too?

Irina : Yes. On the moon.

Pavel : Are there specific bases of these space civilizations?

Irina : Yes.

23:39 The appearance of an intelligent being on Earth.

Pavel : Are these civilizations friendly to us, or could they be reptilians, as they say, gray aliens? Who is on the Moon?

Irina : The fact is that those whom you call reptilians and grays, that is, with gray skin color, there are dozens of races in the Galaxy of exactly this type.

Pavel : Dozens of different such races?

Irina : Yes. The ones you call grays evolved evolutionarily from certain species of what you call amphibians. But they were not quite similar to terrestrial amphibians. The animals from which they evolved are a cross between reptiles and amphibians.

Pavel : An amphibian is, in principle, a humanoid aquatic creature? Right?

Irina : Yes, from the merman. And as for reptilians, that is, reptilian-like ones, these races also come in different types. There are those that evolved from large ones, like your dinosaurs, even with wings (I remember such a race).

Pavel : Flying, right?

Irina : Flying dragons.

Pavel : Dragons 100% existed. All legends are based on those reptilians who lived some time ago.

Irina : They arrived.

Pavel : What happened to them? Why are there no more of them now? They are depicted in all ancient paintings. A war with dragons, some battles, flames coming out of the mouth. Now for some reason they do not exist, although they exist in ancient religions: Asian, Japanese, Chinese, even Slavic. Here, St. George the Victorious pierces a dragon like this with a spear.

Irina : There is a war with dragons, because humanity coexisted with your own dinosaurs for a long time.

Pavel : But dinosaurs are not reptilians. This is a separate species, right?

Irina : They are a reptilian species, but not intelligent.

Pavel : They are animal-type.

Irina : Yes.

Pavel : They have no consciousness. Dinosaurs are specific animals.

Irina : The Interstellar Union rejected the planet Selbet, which is located in the constellation Canes Venatici, reptilians live there. At the time of our creation they were in the Interstellar Union. What happened next was what happened after Selbet was denied permission to create their own reptilian race on Earth (they took some dinosaur and introduced their genes into it so that it became intelligent). They sent such a request.

Pavel : Reptilians, then, developed according to this principle. We humans emerged from anthropoid apes, primates.

Irina : With the addition of genes from three races.

Pavel : It turns out that reptilians appeared due to the fact that dinosaurs were genetically modified.

Irina : Reptilians from Selbet wanted to modify dinosaurs. Their genetic scientists said that you created anthropomorphs on Earth with the addition of 5% of their genes. But they wanted to add more genes to us, because they believed that their genes would have a good effect on us, we would show our Spirit more. But the scientists of two planets - Burkhad and Tumesout, who participated in our creation, anthropomorphs, said that a higher percentage of adding reptilian genes to our body will make our biochemistry unstable.

Pavel : It turns out that, in any case, people have anthropomorphic creatures, humanoid, like we are now.

Irina : Yes.

Pavel : But all or most of us necessarily have the reptilian gene in an amount of about 5%.

Irina : In all of them there is.

Pavel : In all people. We, by and large, are small parts of them. But then it turns out that the reptilians are not our enemies, and they are not against us. How to associate them? Do they live on some planets, do evil for people, or can you be friends with them?

Irina : I'll tell you very briefly now. They created us 3 million years ago. The first people appeared. Even then, one of the reptilians, who was at our base on Earth, harbored a grudge against the Burkhadians and Tumesoutians for not adding as many genes to people as they wanted. And even then an attempt was made to poison these first people by deception. This was included in the Bible as a parable about poisoning, about the offering of fruit by a serpent to the first people.

Paul : So this is the first, this is the most important thing about Adam and Eve, the beginning of the Bible, all biblical events.

Irina : The snake is a reptilian.

Pavel : The snake is really a reptilian, right?

Irina : Why did he choose such a tree? Why was it written there that this is the knowledge of good and evil? These trees were brought from one of the planets.

Pavel : And these are not apple trees.

Irina : No.

Paul : The Bible says that this is the fruit of the apple tree. A completely different tree.

Irina : No. These are not apple trees, not dates, this tree is called horou. It has fruits. It was used by aliens from the planet Tumesout to keep their brain activity in balance. But because of our metabolism, it was toxic to us. Therefore, when the first people appeared, and the aliens taught them to speak a simplified, so-called Tumesout language. It later formed the basis of Hebrew.

Pavel : For the Hebrew language is this the progenitor?

Irina : Tumesout.

Pavel : This is their language.

Irina : Tumesout is the constellation Orion. They look like us, only they are 4 to 8 meters tall.

Pavel : Wow! Such giants. Maybe when skeletons of giants are found on Earth in many places, they hide it, try to hide that these are precisely the skeletons of those creatures that flew to us, not human ones?

Irina : These are still pre-war, sometimes they are found.

Pavel : Sometimes they find it? These may not be the skeletons of giant people, but rather aliens who flew to us, right?

Irina : Our height was also initially about 3.5 meters, but this was when we were created 3 million years ago. Then a mutation occurred, due to which the growth gradually began to decrease with each population, with each generation.

Pavel : And, accordingly, we will now continue to decrease? If we have been getting smaller for 3.5 million years, another million years will pass, so it turns out that we will get smaller again?

Irina : For the last 200 thousand years we have been staying at this level.

Pavel : On the same level. In principle, we will probably remain this way for the next millions of years. Exactly at this level. Yes?

30:58 Contact between Moses and aliens.

Irina : What did I want to say? 200 thousand years ago, 20 thousand people each moved to Mars and Venus. Conditions were created for them, since there was a different atmosphere there, special cities were built so that human civilization would be spread throughout the solar system. Have you seen the call in the Bible: be fruitful and multiply? So that people can reproduce there.

I haven't talked about reptilians yet. They tried to deceive people by saying that this fruit is good for them. If you read the Bible, it's there.

Pavel : Of course.

Irina : If you eat it, you will become Gods, that is, these Tumesoutians, just as smart, but in fact they were toxic to people. Why did the reptilian do this? So that if these people are found dead, then they can be attributed to an accident. That they were allegedly not persuaded, but they themselves came and ate it.

Pavel : We ate it ourselves. Conventionally, these Adam and Eve, these biblical characters.

Irina : Yes, there were 18 of them: 9 men and 9 women.

Pavel : Oh, that's it.

Irina : They just took two as an example.

Pavel : They chose it as an example.

Irina : This was described later. Moses wrote the book of Genesis about 5 thousand years ago. Even 4.

Pavel : After all these events that happened?

Irina : Yes. 4 thousand years ago from our era, and this was 3 million years ago. This was given to him by his handlers. Moses was a contactee.

Pavel : He received exactly this knowledge from cosmic curators.

Irina : From the same Tumesout.

Pavel : This was not told to him by some people, grandfathers, grandmothers, but specifically by curators.

Irina : No. He has a story about how he tended sheep and his bush did not burn down.

Pavel : Yes.

Irina : This suggests that a saucer-shaped spaceship was camouflaged behind the bush, they shined a beam, he came up to look. There he heard a voice: “Take off your shoes, for this is holy ground on which you stand.” Why did they say holy? Because, firstly, she naturally had special energy characteristics, and secondly, this was told to him so that he would understand that higher beings had come to him and fulfill their will. And their will was that he lead his people out of Egypt.

Paul : He led the people out of Egypt, and, accordingly, at that moment he described all the biblical events from the beginning of time.

Irina : This was dictated to him when he made contact.

Pavel : This was dictated to him in order to pass everything on to future generations.

Irina : Yes.

33:46 Mass contact with aliens.

Pavel : Irina, please tell me, can we expect to communicate with them in mass contact with a huge number of the population?

Irina : (MidgasKaus speaks) I started talking about the fact that to work with earthlings you need to follow some rules. For example, first, mass contact is prohibited, and it is prohibited to provide evidence of physical contact. For what? It is prohibited for the safety of the earthly race itself. We, of course, will be able to protect ourselves from your weapons, but this will push earthlings away from aliens even more. Will create a negative image.

Pavel : They are even afraid that when they see aliens, people might go to war against them.

Irina : They were already knocking down the plates.

Pavel : Yes, these cases happened in America in the USA, in Roswell in 1956.

Irina : Yes.

Pavel : Basically, these were attempts to appear to people or get in touch?

Irina : Not that there were attempts, there were violations on the part of individual specialists of the Interstellar Union who did not believe that earthlings could do this. They turned off the masking fields and made contact with the military, showed themselves to them, and the military had a reaction: if an unfamiliar object does not respond, then it must first be destroyed, and then everything else.

Pavel : And then figure out who it was.

Irina : There were actually such cases, even aliens were captured by the special services of different countries. And therefore our intelligence services are well aware of the existence of aliens. But they have laws without wars, respect for human life, the creation of fair laws, and cleansing of the environment.

Pavel : All correct laws.

Irina : Our rulers do not want to agree to these conditions, although they are aware of them, for the simple reason that they did not come to power for this. We probably won't discuss why we came.

Pavel : Yes, we will not touch on the topic of what some people on Earth are doing here, we mean some higher earthly structures.

Irina : They are aware of the Interstellar Union. Moreover, there was contact with them in the late 50s, when the USSR and the USA could have started a nuclear war. It turns out that they were already firing missiles, the aliens intercepted them and made contact with representatives of the military of the USSR and the USA, and warned that "if you threaten with the destruction of the entire earthly civilization with your selfish ambitions, then we will simply displace you and you will not rule." . They were given a warning.

Pavel : They can destroy the entire civilization because of those people.

Irina : They wouldn't destroy them, they would just take them out. If the military tried to start a nuclear war again, aliens could kidnap them, take them to their planet and try them according to the laws.

Pavel : Space Federation.

Irina : Because they were warned.

Pavel : That you can't do this.

Irina : Yes. And then the Contact Commission came up with a law according to which you can contact earthlings. First: mass contact is permissible only for the purpose of subsequent integration of earthlings into the Interstellar Union.

Pavel : But for this, people still have to reach this level, right?

Irina : These are the conditions he's talking about.

Pavel : 5 years without war, all these conditions must be met.

Irina : Only then will we make mass contact.

Pavel : With the general mass of people.

Irina : Otherwise, mass contact will only lead to chaotic conflicts.

Pavel : Conflicts. And to chaos, and destruction, and war can happen not only on Earth, but also move there - into outer space.

Irina : Some people will want to be with us, while others will be against it.

Pavel : Clearly, this will simply develop into a conflict.

Irina : Yes, and this conflict will be intensified by various political and criminal groups that will gain influence over the masses of people.

Pavel : This is very dangerous, it has happened more than once, when someone, some elite tries to control one group of people, others another, and conflict always occurs, even to the point of bloodshed.

Irina : We already have an example: the planet Thision, which is located in the constellation Draco. Humanoids live there, which, by the way, also belong to the reptilian type. The wars there have not stopped, but they endured a certain period without wars, and some part of the population applied for integration into the Interstellar Union, there is mass contact there. Also the planet Tumesout, which still exists in the constellation Orion, is one of our creators.

39:53 Genes of alien civilizations in humans.

Pavel : That is, we actually have a mixture - 5% reptile genes, 15% Tumesout genes.

Irina : And now it’s 20%: 15% was originally, 5% was added so that we could eat meat products.

Pavel : Okay. Then let 20% belong to them, 5% to reptiles, and who are the remaining 60%? Were 30% primates?

Irina : At the moment, our genes are distributed like this: 45% belong to our primates, which have tails.

Pavel : Monkeys, conditionally.

Irina : 35% belongs to the planet Burkhad. This is the constellation Cygnus, its self-name is Pikran. They look like people, but their height is about 2-2.5 meters.

Pavel : Big ones.

Irina : And their skin color is absolutely white. It's like paper.

Pavel : A white sheet of paper.

Irina : They have huge eyes that can glow in different colors. They have such energy that even light comes from their eyes.

Pavel : Radiation.

Irina : Their planet is located 670 light years away in the constellation Cygnus. Pavel : This is precisely what is inherent in us.

Irina : 35% of their genes, 15% of Tumesoutian genes and 5% of Selbetian genes. At the moment, 20% of the genes are Tumesoutians and 30% of the genes are Burkhadians. Initially, 35% of the genes of the Burkhadians and 15% of the Tumesoutians were laid down. But due to the fact that we were vegetarians then, we could only eat milk, dairy products and plant foods. When the war occurred 12 thousand years ago, the climate on Earth changed, many species of plants became extinct, the energy situation, the bodies themselves, the magnetic field, the distance from the Sun, the tilt of the earth's crust changed, which affected the earth's organisms. And it was decided to introduce genes from the Tumesout people into us, another 5% (it was 15%, it became 20%) so that we could digest meat products. Otherwise, we could not survive and create a civilization then.

Pavel : I see. Animal food is basically allowed, right? Because this gene is embedded in us.

Irina : Yes. Now mortgaged. And, for example, Burkhadians do not have meat-eating genes, they are vegetarians.

Pavel : I see.

Irina : Selbetians, by the way, are reptilians, are predators. They have predators.

Pavel : Priorities. They feed like predators. They can attack and tear apart their prey, right?

Irina : After they attacked 12 thousand years ago, they were expelled from the Interstellar Union. But they were excluded not forever, but for 250 Earth years. When another group came to power on Selbet and overthrew the one that attacked Earth, they again submitted a petition to the Interstellar Union. The Interstellar Union flew there, they began to conduct an analysis, a trial, and all those responsible were brought to justice, and the criminals were sent to the planet. And Selbet was accepted again.

43:43 Planet of criminals.

Pavel : Does such a planet exist? Where are the specific criminals?

Irina : They call it the Planet of Criminals. I talked about the absence of the death penalty.

Pavel : For reasons to be accepted into the Intergalactic Union.

Irina : Yes, in the Interstellar Union there is no death penalty for any crime. If the crime is serious, involving the deprivation of life of living sentient beings, the punishment can even be lifelong.

Pavel : Put me in this prison?

Irina : Send criminals to a planet where they are looked after by robots, where they have no access to the rest of the Galaxy, but there is everything there for them to be treated, for them to feed themselves, and so on. They earn their living by simple labor. There are no such complex robots that do any difficult work so that they can develop spirituality in themselves with the help of physical work. It is considered correct.

Paul : Correction of the Soul, Spirit.

Irina : Allows them to begin to appreciate the life that is in themselves. And through this they begin to value the life of the one they killed.

Pavel : I see.

Irina : That's not all. Special psychologists work with them.

(MidgasCaus speaking) We call them criminal psychologists.

These are special psychologists who study the psyche of criminals of different races. How do you work with them?

They are invited to special talks. Through their Higher consciousness, what you call the Higher Self, they begin to find out the spiritual reasons for this offense, crime. Every criminal who ends up there, even for very serious crimes, has a chance to get out, but only if he really realized everything through the Higher Self.

Paul : I went through the path of purification and was able to realize everything in my Spirit, in my Soul.

Irina : Yes. How do you know that this really happened? There are specialists who see energy, and if his vibrations have increased and his aura has cleared, then this will be visible. You can't fool them anymore.

Pavel : Got it.

Irina : They don’t believe words.

Pavel : I see. They check that it was not just a person who said this in words, and he needs to be believed. This is the Spiritual world, its vibrations will be increased.

Irina : This is a group of energy specialists who themselves are in contact with the Spiritual world, with Angels and so on. They see the essence of a person, his aura, they see chakras.

Pavel : Energy fields, they look through all seven chakras. A person is not like a physical body, but at the level of the chakras.

Irina : But, of course, you ask, what if you persuade them in some way or do something else? The fact is that in the Interstellar Union there is a special law in case a criminal, for example, who had a long sentence or life sentence, was released ahead of time from the planet of criminals at the insistence, advice, or patronage.

Pavel : By recommendation.

Irina : Usually, if this is a serious crime, at least three spiritual specialists, independent from each other, work. They are called “spiritual sages”. If a humanoid commits a similar crime throughout his life, then these specialists will be held equally liable.

Pavel : I see.

Irina : They already understand.

Pavel : They are simply afraid and cannot prevent this person from reforming. He must correct himself 100%, then they will give confirmation.

Irina : Which specialist will risk his freedom if he is not sure of this.

Pavel : Yes, you need to be 100% sure.

48:00 Blood of anthropomorphs.

Pavel : My question is this.

Irina : Interesting?

Pavel : Very interesting, because this also applies to earthly life. There are also people who cross the line of the law and violate some rules. I have a question. You explained that there are different skin colors, different appearances, and those civilizations that have white or blue skin, like your mentor, for example, what kind of blood flows in them? Does this refer to skin color? If the color is blue, then the blood is blue, if the skin is white, then the blood is white? Or, in any case, blood, like in humans. Although we also have dark-skinned people.

Irina : There is a reddish skin color, that is, it has a red tint, and there is a yellow one. But they don't have yellow blood.

Pavel : So, those civilizations that live far away have the same body structure and blood circulation similar to ours, right?

Irina : If it is an anthropomorph, then yes. The color of blood, or rather not blood, but hemolymph may, for example, differ in insectoids. Insectoids are civilizations that evolved from huge insects.

49:16 Organosilicon life forms.

Pavel : Insectoids, I immediately became interested. They say that they lived on Mars, or that there was some kind of battle.

Irina : For example, the composition of organosilicon life forms may differ. There is such a form of life on the planet Gihor. They have green skin, which means they contain a lot of copper compounds.

Pavel : It turns out that silicon is stone creatures, like idols, right?

Irina : They don’t have as much silicon as they do in stone, and it’s called organosilicon. Organosilicon compounds are practically no different from organic carbon, because, for example, people are made of carbon, but you cannot say that you are made of diamonds.

Pavel : I see. Silicon is just a part.

Irina : This is an element.

Pavel : But they are not hard as stone.

Irina : You are not hard like diamonds, although diamonds are made of carbon.

Pavel : The diamond is specially partially pressed.

Irina : Mead is smiling.

Pavel : I even smiled, good mood.

50:23 Moon before the war 12 thousand years ago.

Pavel : Another question. We will push off a little from the distant planets and move closer to Earth. I'm interested in the Moon. Besides the fact that there are some bases there, something else, but I want to understand why the Moon was created? It flies around the Earth, one side turned towards us. They are simply watching us from the Moon or vice versa, this is the path of those creatures that can enter this Intergalactic Federation. What it is? Is it an ark, is it a gate, or is it just an observation ship? What's happening on the Moon?

Ирина : Луна была до войны 12 тысяч лет назад малой планетой. Она не была спутником Земли.

Pavel : Just a second, Irina. Sorry, my camera turned off. We'll finish filming now. Yes, the Moon is a satellite of the Earth.

Irina : Was not a satellite of the Earth.

Pavel : 12 thousand years ago, yes.

Irina : Our Earth was without a satellite. The Earth was a little closer to the Sun. The moon was between Earth and Mars. And even then there was an alien base under a dome on the Moon.

Pavel : Under the dome, yes?

Irina : Under the domes.

Pavel : This is a closed dome-type surface.

Irina : There were 52 glass domes, under which there were bases that were directly related to working with the Earth: observing its nature, the civilization that developed there, and in general the entire solar system.

The second such base was on the planet that you call Phaethon, fragments of which are now located between Mars and Jupiter.

What did the reptilians do when they attacked the solar system? They destroyed life on Mars and completely destroyed Phaeton. There was an earthly civilization on Mars, but it was no longer earthly, they were resettled 200 thousand years ago, count until 12 thousand years ago, more than 100 thousand years have passed. There was already civilization there.

Pavel : Humanoid, the same creatures as us?

Irina : They were our descendants, one might say, our colony.

Pavel : And yet the reptilians defeated them and simply destroyed them, it turns out.

52:44 Gravity bombs.

Irina : They didn’t have such weapons. The Selbetians used the technology of the Interstellar Union, which was transferred to them when they joined the Union. And the peculiarity of the space weapons of the reptilians was that these weapons were called, for example, gravity bombs.

Pavel : I’m hearing it for the first time.

Irina : They could change the orbits of planets, push them together.

Pavel : There are such powerful weapons there, not even nuclear ones.

Irina : No.

Pavel : There is colossal energy there, which, as scientists and all other people tell us, that the planets rotate, if there is some kind of directed explosion, it shifts in orbit and flies either further or closer, right? This is more powerful than nuclear weapons, more powerful than any, it turns out.

Irina : Nuclear weapons are explosive energy. A nuclear explosion can be effectively suppressed, and the energy is collected by certain devices that convert this energy into another. We have such devices. Therefore, our weapons developed in a different direction, not in the nuclear one.

Gravity bombs are technical devices (shows: round, white) into which gravitational energy, self-closed in a certain electromagnetic field of a vector configuration, is embedded.

Pavel : I think it will be quite difficult for viewers to understand “vector configuration,” but vector means some specific complex geometric configuration.

Irina : The electromagnetic shell contains that gravitational energy that is free. It allows aliens to jump between stars. But it was planted in a bomb. A gravity bomb is usually sent along a beam, like a wide laser beam, from a ship towards a planet, and the planet itself attracts it to itself. They seem to have an affinity for each other.

The same thing happened, for example, with the Earth. The Earth was shot from Mars orbit for the first time.

55:23 Effect of gravity bombs. The beginning of the war with Selbet.

Pavel : There was a shot, and what happened after that? Cold weather, ice age?

Irina : Several gravitational bombs flew towards the Earth (there were no means of defense on Earth), the bombs could no longer escape the target, because they were attracted. When they come into contact with the Earth, pass through the atmosphere, the atmosphere does not affect them in any way, they touch the Earth’s crust, they have this...

Pavel : Property.

Irina : They have such a property of fields - to penetrate to the core of the Earth due to this gravitational component. There they released this gravitational force, and due to this, the activation of the Earth's core occurred. The single continent that existed simply fell into pieces, tore apart.

Pavel : I see.

Irina : The Earth had an impact from the inside, a gravitational wave comes out. She deflected the axis, which became directed differently. And the worst thing was for the Earth: due to the explosion, it began to move away from the Sun and leave orbit.

Pavel : Move away.

Irina : And approach the Moon, because they specially came up with this idea so that these planets would collide.

Pavel : Oh, to the moon. In principle, the Moon retained its position as it previously was around the Sun. The earth, on the contrary, moved closer to her.

Irina : They had a plan for them to collide.

Pavel : So that they collide and die.

Irina : So that everything falls apart.

Pavel : I see. They didn't succeed; at some point the Earth slowed down.

Irina : She didn't brake herself. The fact is that there were Burkhad ships on the Moon, on the Earth at the base, but they were scientific, they did not have weapons.

Pavel : There was no protective function.

Irina : They were just scientific ships. No one expected that a planet from the Interstellar Union would attack. So they took to the air and began to resist it.

Pavel : So that the Earth does not reach the Moon, so that a collision does not occur.

Irina : When there was the first explosion, this wave, huge columns of dust and dirt rose, then the volcanoes became active.

Pavel : So this is why the global flood happened?

Irina : Later, yes.

Pavel : These are all the consequences of that explosion and impact that was on the Earth's core.

Irina : Exactly. Dear friends, so that we don't waste time on this now, I have a video called "Ashtar Sheran and the Reptilian about the war," where Ashtar Sheran talks in detail - he is an alien who is more than 15 thousand years old. He was a participant in this war. He directly defended our Earth, and he is still alive. He tells through me.

Pavel : He explained all this through Irina, through you?

Irina : He told me down to the minute how it was there, who attacked whom, who protected whom. All I can say is that the Burkhad ships, and there were quite a lot of them, had no weapons. And in order to prevent, firstly, the Selbetites from landing on the surface of the Earth to kill people, because not everyone died, there were living ones.

Pavel : Finish off the remaining and survivors.

Irina : Then there were landings there, but thanks to the Burkhad ships, this did not happen as massively as planned, because there were many Selbet ships and they were armed. And what did the Burkhadians do?

Pavel : They saved some part of the population.

Irina : When they realized what was happening, some of the ships sent a signal to Sirius, then the planet Ashtar Sheran was near Sirius. And the first armed ships have already taken off from there to protect. Only then they began to arrive. It takes time to assemble the ship and send it.

Pavel : They are the ones who preserved human civilization.

Irina : Yes. And what did they do? They had no weapons. They first tried to enter into negotiations, but the Selbetites simply turned off the intercom. And then, having no other choice, Burkhad's unarmed ships simply went to ram.

Pavel : Did they ram those enemy ships?

Irina : Yes, they themselves died.

Pavel : They themselves perished and were destroyed.

Irina : And the Selbet people were confused, they didn’t expect that they would sacrifice their lives.

Pavel : They sacrificed for the sake of the life of humanity, at least a small part.

01:00:06 Shape of the Earth. Terrestrial plasmoids.

Pavel : This is the question. Irina, you always say: “Earth”, “center of the Earth”, “core”. Then this is a question from our time. They say that there are different theories, say, about the shape of the Earth, maybe the curators will tell you. You say that, after all, the Earth is a ball, there is a core. All sorts of theories, speculations that are circulating on the Internet, that the Earth may be flat, or some other shape. This is wrong, after all, in fact, the Earth is a ball? Are other planets also spheres? This is a slight aside. Isn't the earth flat? Is there no dome over the Earth either? How can we evaluate all this from the outside?

Irina : If you look from the position of a humanoid, that is, a physical being, the Earth is not a ball, but close to a ball (shows a flattened ball).

Pavel : An ellipsoid, somewhat elongated.

Irina : Yes, it is wider at the equator.

Pavel : Wider the diameter a little.

Irina : About the dome. The dome exists in the form of an atmosphere. It's like a gas shell. If you look from the side of the Earth, it’s like a dome, covering it. This is because the atmosphere has pressure. All of you people live as if at the bottom of an ocean of air.

Pavel : This can be called an “ocean of air”; it is an ocean of air.

Irina : Yes, you could say, like a dome. It is otherwise called the “skyslope”.

Pavel : Sky. Question. This is not some solid structure of diamond and crystal. Is it a specific air mass called a "dome"?

Irina : Yes, this concerns the physical world. Regarding the theory that the Earth is flat.

Pavel : Does that mean it's not true?

Irina : Dear friends, the fact is that the theories that the Earth is flat, or that it is covered by a solid dome, these theories did not arise because of empty fantasies. There are subtle beings, which we call plasmoids, who perceive the Earth in exactly this way.

It is perceived as flat by the creatures we call sylphs. These are Spirits of Air, Spirits of the Air Element, plasmoids of the Air Element that fly over the Earth. Their task is to regulate air flows, as well as create Bird Souls. In general, the task of all plasmoids or Spirits of nature, being in subtle bodies, is to completely create and serve the biosphere. Everything: from the smallest insect to a huge lion.

Pavel : They control everything and completely create.

Irina : Yes. All the elements, even all the atoms.

Pavel : Their name is su...

Irina : Plasmoids?

Pavel : No, not plasmoids. Sulfites or something.

Irina : Sylphs are just one of the species.

Pavel : One of the types of plasmoids.

Irina : Some types of plasmoids.

Pavel : Because they look at the earth from above, it seems to them that it is just a plane.

Irina : Their eyes are not the same as ours. They do not perceive light in the form of a ball. Firstly, their body is round. Their body is in the shape of a bluish ball, approximately the size of a soccer ball, a little larger. But this is their subtle body; they also embody intelligent Spirits, like us. And when they come into contact with a person, they can take different forms. Their body is very changeable. Unlike ours, it is plastic, thin, and consists of energies of a certain density. So, when they look with an analogue of their plasmoid eyes, they see a plane in front of them. When they say dome, that dome is made up of ethereal energies. It is not solid, made of diamond or something, it is the boundary of their world, their density, and there may still be other worlds above.

Pavel : It turns out that they instilled this idea for humanity. Some people have succumbed to this idea and imagine that the Earth could be flat.

But I immediately have this question. And, let's say, those photographs or videos where people actually sometimes take pictures of plasmoids, are these, in principle, what they are, or are they similar entities? Who are the people you see in the photographs and videos?

Irina : I just talked about just one type of plasmoid. And there are hundreds of species. Some of them belong to terrestrial plasmoids, and some belong to space plasmoids. What is being removed is one of the forms.

But, in general, plasmoids are, for example, ball lightning, one of the types of intelligent plasmoids that manifested themselves in visible form. But if he disappeared, this does not mean that he disappeared from space. He could change into another form of matter, that's all.

1:05:15 Collecting stellar energy.

Pavel : Another question. We are told that there is deep space. It's clear that all these space federations exist. But there are people who are now also trying to reach the Cosmos in our physical bodies. Stations such as the ISS and some spacecraft have been created. What it is? Why do people in their physical bodies try to fly somewhere far away? Now, the ISS exists, can a person be not in a spiritual body, but simply in a physical one in a spacesuit somewhere far from Earth? Was this given to him? Or can the astral body, the spiritual, the soul, fly there? Question: can a physical body go through layers of radiation and leave, or fly into deep space?

Irina : Depends on the speed and material of the ship.

Pavel : There must be a shell around the human body, and, in principle, is it possible for us, ordinary people, to conquer distant outer space?

Irina : Yes, it depends on the speed. There are radiation belts around the Earth. But there is also radiation from the Sun itself.

Pavel : Yes, solar radiation.

Irina : Even if you fly away from these belts, she will still be very strong there.

Pavel : Impact?

Irina : Special plates made of a certain metal alloy are built into the shells of our ships and into protective suits, into the spacesuits that humanoids wear to go into open space for any need. They transform the energies of this stellar radiation into energy that, on the contrary, will be useful.

Pavel : They use energy, have adjusted it to themselves, in order to move in space?

Irina : This is called “collecting stellar energy.”

Pavel : That's the way they move, right?

Irina : In this way, we accumulate it in special batteries, and from this energy we then get, for example, lighting in ships, powering various robots, we get movement on the so-called intra-atmospheric and also planetary engines - these are two types of engines. The third type of engine is interstellar, or we call it gravitational. To launch it, the principle of movement is a little different, because a jump occurs, the speed of light is not overcome. So that, for example, there is no endless increase in mass due to inertia, so as not to waste energy on...

Pavel : Flight?

Irina : To neutralize this mass, and in order not to waste time on the flight, we use gravitational energy, thanks to which this substance is converted into gravitational waves, transferred to another place in space and recreated there. It's called a "gravity jump" because it happens instantly.

1:08:22 Teleportation. Portal.

Pavel : I'll interrupt now, sorry. Irina, in principle, we are talking about those same interstellar portals. This happens thanks to the gravitational jump. Somewhere you can enter some kind of energetic substance and move. It is not necessary to create a spaceship or a flying saucer for this. You can also move in space using so-called portals or gravitational jumps. I understand so? Some entities or higher beings can move in this way. Simply by opening some kind of energy portal, entering it, you will find yourself in a different place.

Irina : We also have such technologies. They are called "teleportation". But a different method is used there. There, the matter that moves is converted not into gravitational energies, but into electromagnetic waves. But during a gravitational jump, this does not happen in the same way as the transformation during teleportation. It's just that the ship with all its contents moves instantly. This is his jump.

Pavel : Plus a ship, not just a person.

Irina : It doesn't break into waves, but moves. And as for what you said, yes, such portals exist, including between galaxies.

Pavel : Yes, I believe in it. It also seems to me that they must exist.

Irina : But in the Interstellar Union they are considered quite dangerous for intelligent beings. They are usually used to move loads by certain robots.

Pavel : Technicians.

Irina : We do not have a direct prohibition on using them to move intelligent beings, but this is not encouraged because it is considered dangerous, since all the atoms of the body are being disassembled into certain electromagnetic waves, and at the point of arrival all these waves are collected back into atoms. The slightest disturbance of the location of an atom anywhere in the nervous system or elsewhere in the body can cause disease.

Pavel : I see. This is the destruction of internal DNA, and a design breakdown may occur.

Irina : Maybe in the brain.

Pavel : This is very dangerous for physical bodies. If you transport some thing, a robot or an electrical device, it is completely different.

Irina : Animals were also transported.

Pavel : There is no biological structure like ours.

Irina : An animal could be moved for the reason that it does not have an intelligent Spirit, and it does not feel it like a person. And for a person, this can disrupt his task of incarnation, because it can cause some kind of illness.

Pavel : Yes.

1:11:04 The meaning of human life.

Pavel : I see. The question is a little far from everything. Why do we even live, humanity? We must develop along the path of evolution. The meaning of our human life? This is a deep question. Do we need to merge with that space federation? Or do people have some other purpose for being on this Earth?

Irina : This is the purpose - to merge with the confederation, with the Interstellar Union, this is the purpose of civilization, a community of people. But each person has his own personal tasks.

The personal task consists of fulfilling the life tasks that we set for ourselves when we chose our incarnation in the form of the Spirit. Each one is more or less individual, but I will talk about the general ones.

We come here, and not only here, but also in any incarnation, even on its planet, even in a plasmoid, in any body of the Universe from the Spiritual World. Why do we incarnate? So that with the help of incarnation we give our Spirit the ability to change. The Spirit itself is unchanging and eternal.

Pavel : We are, in principle, eternal.

Irina : Without matter, he has no time. He has subjective time, but he cannot change anything in himself, he cannot change his vibrations, he cannot move on, improve. We were born originally as Spirits, we were born from the Spiritual world, an intelligent spiritual being, whom we call God. We usually call him “Heavenly Father”, who gave birth to us. This concept exists in all civilizations. This is a kind of Absolute Light that has reason, feelings, a sense of love, kindness. And whose particles, or whose children, in another expression, we are.

Our task is to become like Him, to come to Him and completely merge with Him. But not to merge with consciousness, but precisely with the will in Love so that we manifest its nature and also create our own worlds.

Pavel : I see, Irina. We'll be finishing soon. A very interesting interview, of course. One more question: please tell me, is it possible to find places on Earth, places of power or places of human contactees, where they manifest themselves most? We are now in Russia, in the city of Voronezh. Are there any special places on Earth where there are people like you who communicate with extraterrestrial civilizations? Or maybe you're alone? There are still, of course, such people, I think. Or is it a specific point on Earth where this colossal energy, connection with the Cosmos, is always preserved. If we lived in another place, would you receive cosmic energy from there? Does location play a role, or does it all depend on the people?

Irina : No. It depends on who you contact. With humanoids, with dense life forms, I was given physical chips.

1:14:31 The first chip and the first contact of Irina Podzorova.

Pavel : Chips? Are you chipped?

Irina : Yes. At first I was given one chip. I was taken to a base on the far side of the Moon. I was 13 years old, Kirchiton took me. I saw a plate, I was already familiar with the aliens, a ladder came out from there, and I climbed up it myself to Kirchiton. He is my first curator. This was my second contact. The first contact was when I flew away on the triangle. Dear friends, please look at my film or any story about the contact for all the details. I'll tell you very briefly now.

My first contact was when I was walking in the park. I lived in a village, 250 kilometers from here. It was evening, I was walking along the road and saw that there was no one around. Even cars don't drive. Although it was a fairly large village and not such a late evening. It was summer.

Pavel : What is your age, excuse me if I interrupt?

Irina : 13 years old. And suddenly I saw some lights ahead. I stopped and saw a huge triangle that stood horizontally on the ground, the door was open in it, and the windows were glowing. I stopped, looked, and thought it was some kind of car, but it was too big for a car. Then I thought: “What is this?” They couldn’t build a building here, because I passed here during the day and there was nothing there. Then I saw that some door was open, some stairs were even visible, and five figures were standing. I thought, “Oh, there's someone there. I’ll go and ask what it is.” When I came closer to them, first there were five figures from the darkness, then I came closer, I saw that something was wrong. They were quite tall, taller than people. I then asked about their height, they were 3 meters tall.

Pavel : These are giants.

Irina : I looked, and at first it seemed to me that they were covered with some kind of hoods, but they didn’t have a neck. Their head is like this. I look and they have 3 eyes, but they just look like three glowing lanterns.

Pavel : Irina, I’ll interrupt for a second. I see a figure in the distance. Can I show it as a sample?

Irina : This is just a sample.

Pavel : Maybe not quite similar, but still.

Irina : It's just a toy, but it's based on.

Pavel : Based on it. Basically, this head comes without a neck.

Irina : Only these ones are not there. This is how they did it.

Pavel : They don't have these tentacles, but the principle is this: a head without a neck and three eyes, one of them is on the forehead. Here is such a figurine, of such a shape that we know, understand and imagine this whole picture.

Irina : This didn't happen either, and this didn't happen. Here we drew three red eyes, but on his sides there are two yellow ones and one red one.

Pavel : The eyes were different, of course.

Irina : I later learned from them that this is an alien from the planet Daraal, and the red eye on top developed on their home planet. They later flew to it, they also had a disaster before. It was dark on their home planet, a very long night, and the animals from which they evolved had an organ that sensed infrared light. From this organ they later developed a third eye.

Pavel : Red, okay. It is infrared light, of course.

Irina : When I approached them, I stopped, and he said to me in a low male voice: "Who are you?" He has already learned Russian.

Pavel : In Russian?

Irina : Yes. He has already learned Russian. And when he said to me: "Who are you?" - At first I thought that these were some of our people in disguise, some actors, maybe. When they asked me: "Who are you?" - I say: "Who are you?" He told me that he was Kirchiton and invited me: "Will you fly with us?" And I realized that these were aliens. At first I refused because I understood that my mother was waiting for me at home. We lived alone with my mother. He stood and four others like him stood behind him, but they were silent. Then I found out that they, it turns out, did not know Russian. Only Kirchiton knew. He was specially trained for contact with earthlings. At first I refused to fly with him to his planet, but when he said that he would bring me back in 2 minutes...

Pavel : 2 minutes?

Irina : Yes.

Pavel : Not in 100 years, but there will be an instant flight there and back. What purpose?

Irina : Look at his planet.

Pavel : Oh, simple.

Irina : I was so interested in watching it. Imagine a thirteen-year-old girl being offered this. You would probably agree too.

Pavel : I would agree 100%. That is, there was a flight to that planet. And you spent only 2 minutes there or did it take you hours?

Irina : It’s not 2 minutes there. But I didn’t have a watch with me. About 20-30 minutes passed. When we entered this ship, the first thing I saw was a bright, bright white light, there were no lanterns, as if the air itself was glowing.

Pavel : Wow, the atmosphere there is most likely airy.

Irina : And along the wall there were chairs, the backs of which were one with the wall. And what surprised me then was that although they were 3 meters tall, it was as if they were made for people. I could sit down calmly.

Pavel : Oh, those are the chairs. In principle, a short person could sit down freely.

Irina : Yes, the chairs were not made for them. On the right there was a table and something like light bulbs. Kirchiton approached, and four aliens stood in front of me. There were round windows on top, but they were too high for me, I couldn't see anything in them, just darkness. And when Kirchiton told me: "Sit down and count," I sat down and turned to the door to my left. And can you imagine, there was a door through which I came in, and suddenly it disappeared, there was just a wall there.

Pavel : Dissolved in space.

Pavel : So, what did they do it for? Did they just want to hide it, hide it, or is that how everything is arranged there?

Irina : And they close automatically so that there is no trace left of where it was, so that there is no air leakage.

Pavel : Clearly, this atmosphere remained. Now, Irina.

Irina : Let's look at the contact later, I guess. Or how?

Pavel : I have 5-10 minutes of battery left.

1:21:51 People on the Moon.

Irina : I'll just say it now. Dear friends, about my contacts, about the first contact, about the second contact, how they installed a chip on the second contact. By the way, I was taken to a base on the far side of the Moon.

Pavel : Yes, this is interesting, by the way. A little more detail.

Irina : And there is a base there that belongs to 18 civilizations.

Pavel : They don’t fight, but are friends with each other? Are there people there? Our human civilization? Taking part on the Moon? Have Americans been on the moon?

Irina : They were there. They were there more than once. They were on the Moon several times, but one of these flights ended just in contact.

Pavel : Contact? And what? Banned from flying? Why did people stop going to the moon? There was contact 50 years ago. The Americans stepped in, Neil Armstrong, there was contact. Why didn't they?

Irina : Because when the astronauts flew back to Earth, they said that it was the Pleiadians who made contact with them. They saw that there was a ship, a biorobot came out and began to observe their actions.

Pavel : They didn't like it?

Irina : They reported to the base on Earth that they were observing such a ship. They were ordered not to approach, not to do anything and to fly away from there. And when these cosmonauts flew back to Earth and began to report everything, they were ordered not to talk about it, they classified it, they signed a signature. So that they cannot tell people, not as contactees, but, namely, as astronauts.

Pavel : Convey information and make public these secrets, that there are civilizations there.

Irina : Pass on information about the Moon. Yes, I also asked why there was such secrecy. Because if it was revealed to people, people would demand details from the authorities.

Pavel : They tried to find evidence.

Irina : They would say: “Fly there again and get in touch with them.” Why should they get in touch if they knew their conditions perfectly well? People will now want to enter the Interstellar Union and also fly, but no one was going to change the laws.

Pavel : But we just haven’t reached their level yet.

Irina : It is clear that for the authorities there was such a paradox of what to do. And therefore, under the pretext that it was very expensive, dangerous, and so on, they stopped the program.

Pavel : Both the Russians and the Americans curtailed this program.

1:24:18 Alien base on the Moon.

Irina : Now there are lunar rovers there, including on the far side of the Moon, they photographed it. But this is a base, the entrance to it is disguised.

Pavel : Crater.

Irina : In the crater there is an elevation and under it an entrance that is camouflaged. When an alien ship flies up to it, which has a special code on board, the code is entered on the computer, this base attracts it with a beam.

Pavel : This is the only way to get to the sublunar bases, and precisely to that very one.

Irina : They took me there.

Pavel : Is this on the far side of the moon?

Irina : Yes.

Pavel : There is such a base there.

Irina : We didn't walk on the moon. We immediately found ourselves in this cave.

Pavel : Inside the Moon, were you on this sublunar base?

Irina : Where did they install the first chip for me?

1:25:06 Installation and use of chips.

Pavel : Can you be more specific about the chips, one, two, three, five. On what parts of the body? Legs, arms?

Irina : They gave me the first one when they brought me to the base. It was my first time on a flying saucer. There was artificial gravity in the triangle; I did not feel flight. And when we flew on the saucer, I felt it. Kirchiton says: "We are flying to the lunar base, sit down." There were handles to hold on to. He says, "Hold on." I sat down, not paying attention, and suddenly I felt the floor beneath me go away. I jumped up, jumped into the air, hit my head and was left floating. Kirchiton, however, came up. His shoes are drawn to the floor. He put me back down.

Pavel : Was there such weightlessness?

Irina : Yes, my head was spinning, my ears were ringing. I had this condition, especially the first time. However, he said that the moon was a few minutes away. And when we came out already in this cave, I said: "How will we go out on the Moon without spacesuits?" He says: "The atmosphere is already maintained there."

Pavel : Atmosphere. You can walk with your feet.

Irina : Temperature. And when we came out, we really found ourselves in a light cave. It was cool there, I was wearing summer clothes, it wasn't cold. It smelled like some kind of dust.

Pavel : The air is not clean, like our nature.

Irina : It smells like underground if you were in the cellar.

Pavel : Yes, yes.

Irina : Like underground. There's stone everywhere. And I felt that I was raising my hand, and it was quickly rising. When I take a step, I fall forward somewhere. I started jumping up and down there.

Pavel : Ah, I started using my body to understand how to control.

Irina : Yes. I jumped, but I jumped so that I landed not on my feet, but on...

Pavel : It's already funny to even remember.

Irina : It made me laugh too. He turned around and looked at me. "Come on, they're waiting for us." He seemed to be smiling, but when he smiles, it's clear from the expression on his face.

Pavel : There is no need to smile with all your teeth, show, open your mouth, you can already see that he is in a good mood, right?

Irina : Yes, he is like that. At first he stood and waited until I jumped several times, then he said: "Come on, they're waiting for us." And when we walked along the corridor, we went into one of the rooms. This was a department of the base that belonged to Daraal. Another employee was already waiting there, who turned out to be a doctor. Kirchiton asked: "Do you agree that we will install a chip for you and you will become a contactee?" I asked: "What will this give me?" "We will show you all the planets, first of the Solar System, then of the Galaxy. Let’s show what the Galaxy looks like from the outside.” I agreed and lay down on the table. Their doctor approached me. They also have a hand with five fingers, only the skin is gray.

Pavel : Maybe because of this the grays are not aliens, but maybe the gray people are there.

Irina : And when he passed his palm in front of my eyes, my consciousness turned off, as if the light had been turned off, and I lost part of my memory. But when I came to my senses, I was still lying on this table. By the way, it felt like silicone and was warm.

Pavel : Warm, as if alive, as if alive.

Irina : Yes. When I got up, I asked them: “Where?” He showed me that the chip was placed under the left rib. And he said that it was 2 millimeters in size, the diameter of a human hair, that over time it would be built into my body, and that it was needed so that I could communicate with it with thoughts, so that I could perceive all these signals, and so that I could be constantly monitored, where I am.

Pavel : Implanted into the body, I understand.

Irina : This is the first chip, and they gave me two more chips. This already happened in 2019, when I met Maxim. I was picked up by Kirchiton and physically taken to the planet Esler, where MidgasCaus is from. And there, in a special capsule, with my consent, two Esler chips were placed here.

Pavel : From behind to the back of the head.

Irina : Here and there, in the back of the brain. I needed them so that my contact would occur more easily, I would more purely transfer information not only from aliens, but also from plasmoids, and from any spiritual entities. This was when it became clear that I wanted to use my abilities to convey information to people.

Pavel : Contact, I understand. That is, to further develop our physical body so that it can more easily perceive information from those civilizations.

Irina, many thanks for this most interesting dialogue. We probably say goodbye to you today, friends. Did you like this one-on-one communication?

Irina : Not even an interview, just conversations.

Pavel : Yes. Just a short interview or conversation with Irina, along with me. I asked questions and received useful information. If you liked it, write your comments, express your opinions, we will be very happy to read about everything. Also, maybe we will hold another additional conference, communicate, and here are the words from Irina.

Irina : I thank you, dear friends. Now we have Pavel at the Center. Say a few words. How do you like the Center? How do you like life here?

Pavel : Very interesting place. Firstly, large sizes. Here, in addition to Irina, there are still many people, students, followers. I found all this interesting, but initially, let's say, a little unusual. I didn't expect to see all this atmosphere. In fact, apparently, people communicate with some extraterrestrial civilizations and receive all this energy.

Irina : Thank you. So, dear friends, I thank you for your attention and for watching this video. I send everyone the Light of my Love. Come to our channel "Cassiopeia - Irina Podzorova", all the information is there. The link will be under the video.

Pavel : Yes. Necessarily.

Irina : And, naturally, we will display this video at our place. "Dear friends, hello," said Cassiopeia. Here we introduce people who have not heard about our project.

Pavel : Yes. All. With that, I say goodbye to you all. Goodbye friends.

Irina : Goodbye!

Pavel : We'll see you soon. See you again!

February 25, 2022

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova - contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

Pavel Dyachkov – correspondent;

LiShioni - representative of the planet Shimor, sociologist, specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world;

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.

#417 Where to start on the Spiritual path? Practice of increasing the vibrations of planet Earth from Archangel Gabriel (part 3).

00:20 Paths of spiritual education.

Maria : A question about the priorities of spiritual development, spiritual education. How to find your path, how to choose? We have many esoteric directions, a lot of proposals from various masters. How to choose exactly what you need now at this stage?

Irina : To whom?

Maria: For a person who wants to develop spiritually. What to learn, from which master to learn? What to look for when choosing spiritual training?

Irina : (Mirah Count speaks) First you need to decide on your goals for incarnation, that is, go to your Higher Self. You have already come to “Cassiopeia”, your first natural desire is to find out something about yourself, to find out something about your purpose . This is of far greater importance to the vast majority of you than learning about distant stars.

In fact, this is not accidental, because you subconsciously know that your life here is not accidental, not in vain. Therefore, you want to fulfill your destiny as best as possible, as much as possible, but this desire comes from your subconscious, from the Higher Self, that is, in the form of intuition. We call it intuitive knowledge of reality. Therefore, the natural desire to first go, having got into the “Cassiopeia” project, to any sub-project “Cassiopeia”, there is the school “Sakral”, “Gikhor”, School of Contactees, school “Mental Healing”, “Science of Imagery” and many others, which, undoubtedly , will be developed in this project. In the future, it will incorporate a lot of projects in different directions. This is one of the vectors of development. The more projects and directions, the more energy of life in the egregors.

Maria: For a larger circle of people. We want to provide development opportunities for people with different interests.

Irina : Before you go, you need to go to your Higher Self with a question: about the purpose of incarnation, what tasks to perform, how much to complete, what is stopping you, and what qualities need to be developed in incarnation? And the next question to the Higher Self: in what direction should I move specifically in “Cassiopeia”? But this question should be raised after a person has studied the directions that are on the Cassiopeia website, Irina will now say.

Now I will say, really: in the “Search” window of your Internet browser, you type four words: Cassiopeia Podzorova official website, and it will take you to it. We already have a website where there will be, for example, a folder such as “Our Projects”, consider it, the “Materials” tab. A lot is posted in the “Our chat in Telegram” tab.

Study the projects first. At the same time, it is imperative to study the materials of “Cassiopeia” and not only for interest, but also for internal work on yourself, with your environment.

Your most important, important spiritual teachers are close to you: this is your mother, your son, your drinking husband or your annoying wife. These are the teachers whose interaction with you helps you learn to stay at high vibrations in different situations. But not everyone knows how to do this in negative situations. Many of you are kind and loving only when you have the same environment around you, but it may not always be there. And it is very important to be able to thank God for any circumstances, for any people who are nearby. Because God works like this: if you ask God for happiness, God gives you opportunities to achieve this happiness; if you ask God for patience, He sends you circumstances in which you can develop patience. You understand how it develops, not by eating buns with honey every day.

Maria: A very good figurative comparison.

Irina : If you ask God for patience and humility, then God, fulfilling your request, will send you circumstances where you will need to learn to endure and humble yourself. If you ask God to learn forgiveness, that is, to learn to forgive, then you will be sent people whom you will need to learn to forgive. And if you ask God for love, to fill you with love, and you ask this very often, then God will send you people whom you will need to learn to love, this is the only way love develops. This is how God answers all your requests.

Maria: Yes. Through my own experience. Just as we must show our children by our own example what we want to convey, so do any other qualities that we ourselves want to develop in ourselves.

07:10 The importance of the experience of material embodiment.

Maria: There was an interesting question about why all this, the experience of material and plasmoid incarnation, if we come out of the Light and again strive for the Light, meaning our Spirits?

Irina : Strive for the Light precisely in the material world. This is valuable because we gain experience in bringing this Light into the material world and transforming it. Transformation in order to increase the level of happiness, grace, joy, creation, in the material conditions where we live. This is the value of the material world. Without it, everything will be static, there will be no development and no further increase in level. Without the material world, there will be no meaning to the existence of spiritual entities as themselves, because they will never be able to show their love and their Light in any of their creations.

The answer is clear. Is it clear to you?

Maria: It’s clear to me. At the very beginning, we talked about the need to create an ideal for ourselves and become like the brightest being in our Universe - God, the Absolute. Answering this question, our incarnation (experience in material bodies, incarnations) serves to ensure that we have the opportunity to develop into such Absolutes.

09:07 Philosophical literature on Shimora.

Irina : (LiShioni speaks) I really like the example that is given in our books, in our literature. One of our philosophical books, which is included in the subject, in your opinion, literature, is known among us in Shimora and has already been translated into many languages of the Interstellar Union, talks about the experience of the Spirit in the Spiritual World, the feeling of being Light. At the same time, it tells how the Spirit communicates with other Spirits in the Spiritual World, and how he feels himself, such philosophical prose.

The point is that the Light that the Spirit experiences within itself begins to expand in all directions, and, in the end, this ends with the Spirit not being able to exist without manifesting this Light in the form of a star. He incarnates into a plasmoid and creates a star in order to release his Light into the material world. Otherwise, this endless expansion brings him an endless understanding that no one sees this Light, not only does he not see, but this Divine Light is useless.

I am now translating into the earthly Russian language through a contactee, but there it is written in our Shimor expressions that really touch our Soul. And when a star has already been created, the star itself is a large amount of energy that comes from it. Both the volume of energy and the energy that begins to emanate from it into space (light, heat, various types of radiation), any intelligent Spirit understands that this light and heat should not just disappear. Therefore, planets are created, and conditions are created for life on them, both the animal and plant worlds, and, in the end, the intelligent Spirit, as the transformer of these planets.

This is such philosophical prose. Do you think it's an interesting book?

Maria: A very interesting book. I know that our earthly writers also bring a lot of such philosophical ideas to our readers through their works.

Irina : How Light first appears in the Soul, then it manifests itself in the subtle body, then in the form of the Light of this star, and then in the form of solid planets.

Maria: This was, for example, a very good answer to the question of one of our volunteers in the project about how to teach the structure of the Universe to beginners, how to explain to them about its structure.

Irina : These are the kind of books they study at school. How do you like these books?

Maria: Yes, a very good guide, very figurative and visual. I think that it is worth translating such books into Russian and other earthly languages.

Irina : Do you want me, through Irina (or another contactee), to write this book for you?

Maria: Yes, with great pleasure. Because this is really the best way to present it to people, how to convey it to people in images, in some kind of narratives. Like our fairy tales, for example, our legends, epics and stories are best perceived, easiest to perceive.

Friends, I think we have touched on a lot of interesting topics today. And we are slowly finishing our meeting. I know it's very hard to leave. We will ask for a final parting word from our curators for our masters who teach in all our projects, in all our schools.

Irina : Maxim also told me about Melchizedek and advised me to read Drunvalo Melchizedek's book "Flower of Life." As Maxim told me, he was a contactee, not only with humanoids, but also with the Spiritual world, he told very interesting information from the Archangels.

Maria: Its main idea is Mer-ka-ba. He explained well and taught how to use the Light Body.

Irina : Maxim also recommended that I read some book by Michael Newton, for example, “The Purpose of the Soul.”

Maria: Yes, we have many contactors on the planet.

14:59 The book “Dimon” is a philosophical and esoteric fantasy of the Earth.

Irina : Yes, by the way, about books, I already recommended “MS Practices” in the chat to a woman who says that I don’t like to read, advise me some book that I could feel interested in, because I don’t like to read since childhood. She told me that she reads esoteric literature, but somehow it didn’t go well with fiction since childhood. I recommended one art book to her. And then she wrote in the “MS Practices” chat that “after work I sat down to read the first chapter and went into the story, and came to my senses at the end of the fifth chapter at about two in the morning.” She came in the evening, forgot about everything, about time, and read a book. Then she wrote that she read it quickly enough and was grateful to me for helping her fall in love with reading.

This is a fairly well-known book, maybe someone has read it, the author of the book is Alexander Torik, the book is called “Dimon”. This is not an esoteric name. I'll tell you a little. On the cover it says: “Dimon,” a fairy tale for children from 14 to 104 years old.” This book is in the form of a fairy tale, but it will really be interesting for teenage children, and it was written for teenagers. This is a form of spiritual fiction. It will be very interesting to read for an adult too. What is it about?

Its author, Alexander Torik, is an Archpriest of the Orthodox Church, he studied at the Seminary, serves as a senior priest in the Orthodox Church, confesses, and administers communion. In addition to this activity, he writes books for children and young people in the form of so-called Orthodox fiction. Alexander Thorik's two other books are better known, which are called "Father Flavian", but they are already more philosophical.

The book "Dimon" will be of interest to everyone. It's about a teenage boy, a young guy of 16 or 17 years old, about how he, an ordinary schoolboy, fell in love with a girl. This girl was hospitalized, she had a serious illness, she ended up in a coma. He was very worried about her; this is described at the beginning of the book. And then he met an Orthodox monk on the street, who saw that he was upset about something and asked him to share it with him. And when the boy told him about this girl, the monk invited him to his closet, as the author describes it, and offered this option for helping the girl. He said: “Lie down on my trestle bed, and I will kneel down and pray to God for you so that your Guardian Angel will come and help your Soul leave your body. And you, together with your Guardian Angel, will go to the Spiritual world, where the girl’s Soul is located, because her body cannot wake up, she simply forgot the way. And you will bring her back. But in order for you to find her, you are given a Guardian Angel. On your way you will meet different entities called demons, they will offer you various temptations and pleasures so that you stay there. Remember, the items that they will offer you will be like real, real things for you. If you forget about the girl and get carried away, then both your body and hers will perish. You won’t be able to help her, and you yourself won’t come back, you’ll forget about this world.” And then it is described that he agreed, lay down on the bed, and his first sensations of leaving the body, how he saw his body, the world around him.

His Guardian Angel came to him, they met. He took him by the hand and they flew up. It describes how they rose through the levels. At each level they were met by demons who did not look scary, they looked like ordinary people. Despite their features, on the contrary, they were very charming and smiled a lot. And they offered him something to do at their level, for example, eat delicious food, some even offered him pills, injections, like drugs. They talked about the benefits that “you try this and then go there.”

The point is that when he was thinking, his thoughts were described: “I’ll just spend a few minutes now, and then I’ll move on,” - this was tempting for him. But the struggle had already begun within him. He thought that “they told me that this is dangerous, then I won’t help the girl.” Such a struggle was going on within him. I was surprised that the Guardian Angel stood nearby, listened to the proposals of these demons, but never told the boy what to do, did not prompt him. And after he passed the next temptation, and they rose higher, the boy asked him: “Why didn’t you tell me what to do? I would really like to stay there and I could forget about it.” And the Angel answered him that “in general, we are forbidden to influence a person’s choice, you had to make it yourself.”

What do you think, Masha, is this an interesting book?

Maria: Of course, interesting. This was written by a contactee who experienced it all himself, described it in such detail and found forms in which this spiritual knowledge could be expressed.

Irina : This woman downloaded the book, and she was so carried away that she forgot about the time. I won’t tell you how the book ends. See for yourself. A very interesting ending. The book is very kind, not in the same form as usually Orthodox topics for children, when morals are read. This is a very kind story, where morals are not read, where the reader himself is left to choose how to think.

Maria: A fascinating story that at the same time reveals spiritual truths.

Irina : I don’t know if the book has been translated into German, you can look for it. I think Mark will be interested in it.

Maria: I think it is very important for teenagers to get some guidelines in life, to gain moral qualities.

Irina : You can purchase this book in paper format, it is usually sold in churches, cathedrals, not in bookstores, but where there is Orthodox literature. You can order it, you can read it in electronic version, it is on the Internet, you can download and read it.

Maria: Thank you, very valuable advice.

Irina : Now the audience is asking you a question, Maria: “Will there be such meetings again?”

Maria: As our masters and our participants, our students decide.

Irina : (Addressing the listeners) Do you want such meetings, please write?

Maria: Judging by the fact that we have been sitting with each other for almost three hours, the only request will be that our curators and Irina somehow find interesting topics that are also interesting to us.

Irina : (Reads the site) “Very, very, very!” Thank you!

Maria: Irochka, of course, is a hero, she has been in the stream for three hours now, in the channel with our curators, and they are next to us.

Irina : Time flew by unnoticed for me.

Maria: And time flew by for me too.

Irina : We are like in the Spiritual world, where there is no time. Especially when Mirah Count, LiShioni and MidgasKaus are together, I dissolve in the Light. Do you see?

Maria: Yes, I feel it too. I feel you, I feel our participants, the wonderful bright Souls who have gathered today, who have come.

Irina : Me too. It will be possible to designate topics in advance, and we will prepare questions in advance.

Maria: Yes. And now, in conclusion, we’ll probably ask our curators, our dear mentors, to wish us something, to advise us something.

Irina : Energy flows, I agree.

Maria: In fact, it was an energy meeting, an energy session, during which we all recharged with each other's energy, with the energy of our curators. Exchanged energies. And this is the very great value of this meeting.

26:15 Mirakh Kaunt (Archangel Gabriel) about filling with Light and increasing the vibrations of planet Earth.

Irina : (Mirah Count) I was also very happy about this meeting. Both MidgasCaus and LiShioni are very happy too. I learned a lot by answering your questions because some people ask questions that no one would think of in Burkhad. And we also learn to answer them, improve our ability to convey truths filled with Divine meaning and love to any Soul. I send you all the Light of my Love. Sending Light to the planet.

We can send Light to the planet.

Meditation: Mentally close your eyes and imagine the planet. You can do this. Imagine that we are holding a globe in our hands. We take a slow, deep breath, and direct the Light that is now in us through our palms to the globe. Let's see how it becomes brightly shining. We say: "Dear planet Earth, I thank you for incarnating in your space. I send the Light of my love to all your spheres, all your spaces: atmosphere, lithosphere, hydrosphere, biosphere, noosphere. With the light of my Divine love I purify and transform all negative energies. Love, confidence, well-being. I wish all Spirits embodied in the space of the Earth at all levels of density, happiness, Love, enlightenment. I wish everyone to come to God and always be in unity with Him. I love you".

Now you feel the response flow. Inhale it into yourself, distribute it throughout your body. Say: "I thank and accept, I love and bless. I promise to direct this energy to the development of unconditional Love for myself, for my loved ones and in the entire space where all my spiritual and material energies are located." Exhalation. We open our eyes.

Masha, how did you feel?

Maria: Indeed, I felt a very strong flow. My planet has moved to my heart chakra as I send my Love to it and we connect with it.

Irina : Dear friends (chat), how did you feel? Write, interesting. “Strong flow!”, “Powerful flow!”

How do you like this meditation, Masha?

Maria: Magical meditation with our curators.

Irina : (Reading from the chat) “I entered the globe, the center of Demeter,” - yes, that’s right.

Now we didn’t just do this, we raised the vibrations of the planet, because we are Spirits.

Maxim is also in the flow. We are also in the flow.

Maria: All three hours are in the flow. There was a question, by the way, about whether the vibrations of our planet are increasing, is such a trend observed?

Irina : It is very useful to teach such meditation. Try telling your children, your relatives, your friends about it. To sit down with them, talk about how to hold the Earth, to be their teacher, instructor in this meditation, they will feel it, it is impossible not to feel it. You all felt the response flow. This is the energy of the Earth.

In fact, the Earth is the same integral part of the Cosmos as the planet Burkhad. This is the beloved House of the Heavenly Father, the beloved temple of your Spirits. Her intelligent essence, her Spirit is so bright, it exerts all its strength, it is so strong to fill you with energies and help you fulfill the tasks of your incarnation.

Maria: Yes, it is. Each planet is an opportunity, a gift to the embodied Spirits.

Irina : Planet Earth is the sister of Burkhad and all other planets. And we will undoubtedly be with you, we will do such meditations more often. You can do it every time before bed. When we do things together, we strengthen each other's flows. Our collective thought form greatly cleanses space. And now, after this meditation, and this is truly an established fact, in the next 24 hours there will be 25-30% fewer crimes and accidents than there could be. And children can be taught this way, imagine, direct the Light, how to hold the Earth in their hands, show them the globe. If you do this often, the Light on Earth will spread. Higher vibrational Spirits will come, including to managerial positions on which laws depend. And you will very quickly enter the Interstellar Union, and we will be with you physically, and spiritually we will always be with you.

Maria: Yes, this is the goal of our project.

Irina : Spiritually, we are always with you, our brothers and sisters. You see how everyone liked the Light and our conversation, our meditation. I love you all, dear friends.

Maria: Irochka, thank you very much, this is an invaluable contribution that you make to our project, to our society, and to our civilization. This is truly invaluable. Such an example of Love, selfless help, dedication.

34:10 Prayer to the Most Holy Theotokos.

Irina : Indeed, today is the Day of National Unity and the Day of the Kazan Icon of the Mother of God, this image is forever in our hearts. She really lives, she really is in the Spiritual world and is a very close friend of our Demeter - the Earth. She always sends her energies here, because this planet has become special for her, she was here with her son, this planet is very dear to her. And she feels each of us who incarnates on this planet as her child. She feels like his mother, because, looking at us, she remembers how she lived here, and how her son lived here.

Mary: The Mother of God is also a very significant person, a significant Spirit for our planet.

Irina : We are already going through a period of quantum transition - this is a special period in which all processes on Earth have intensified, this is a period of its purification and increase in its vibrations.

So, dear friends, as we always close our eyes now, it will be very good to end this conversation like this. We close our eyes and repeat: “Virgin Mother of God, Hail, Gracious Mary, the Lord is with You; Blessed are You among women and blessed is the Fruit of Your womb, for You have given birth to the Savior of our souls. Amen!" How did you feel?

Maria: It’s even hard to say, I don’t want to talk.

Irina : These are her energies.

Maria: The flow of her energy, I remember her very often, every day I send her gratitude and the Light of my Love. I communicate with her in my own words. I feel an extraordinary flow of Love and support. I know and feel what processes are currently taking place on our planet. And how She and all our other curators, patrons, our mentors help us go through this process, this period of time. Thank you! It was just such an outpouring of Love and support.

You know, I can tell you from my own example that turning to our curators, mentors, the Mother of God and our other friends greatly helps to get out of various crisis situations that arise from various difficult situations in any area. We have a lot of friends, a lot of support around us. We must not forget about this. And, of course, thank you for this and send our Love in return.

On this wonderful note, I want to thank you, our guests, our friends, Irochka. Thank you all!

Irina : Thank you! See you again!

Maria: See you again!

March 02, 2022 (recorded November 4, 2021)

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova - contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

Maria Sokalskaya – moderator of the VKontakte group, head of the “Online Learning” project and other “Cassiopeia” projects;

Mirakh Count (Archangel Gabriel) - representative of the planet Burkhad, guardian of the Christian egregor;

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms;

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a sociologist, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world.

00:17 Background of Irina Podzorova.

In the summer of 1999, a 13-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than 20 years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:14 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today next to me is Raom Tiyan from the planet Burkhad, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment, and MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations. Alexander asks our curators questions. Hello, Alexander.

Alexander: Hello, my name is Alexander. I am from the city of Novosibirsk. And I have long been interested in the mirror installations of Kozyrev and Bulaev. For those who don't know what it is, I'll briefly explain. Back in the Soviet years, a Russian astrophysicist came to the conclusion that it is possible to simultaneously record the current position of the Sun and stars in the sky. Let's say that when we observe sunlight or light from a star, we see this light as it came to us millions of years later. And you can use special instruments to record the position of the star at the present moment, where it is now.

And so the Russian scientist Kozyrev suggested that all objects in space emit time streams that move in the Universe instantly. And then our contemporaries here, in the city of Novosibirsk, invented the so-called Kozyrev mirrors. These are special aluminum structures that, according to their assumption, focus the flow of time.

Our contemporary, Viktor Vasilyevich Bulaev from the city of Miass, Chelyabinsk region, slightly improved these installations. He called them Bulaev's installations. I have questions both about Bulaev's installations and about Kozyrev's theory of time.

03:32 Contact with plasmoids in Bulaev installations.

Alexander: In 2019, I was in the city of Miass with Viktor Vasilyevich in his installations and talked with different people. Some of the people who were in Viktor Vasilyevich Bulaev's installations felt as if someone was touching them, as if someone was manipulating their body, although they were alone in the installation.

Hence the question: what was it? Was it some kind of illusion, was it some kind of deception of the senses? Maybe, indeed, there were some other inhabitants of the Spiritual World in the installations who were engaged in healing people there?

Irina: MidgasCaus answers. You just asked who touched them in these installations?

Alexander: Yes.

Irina: I understood the installation principle. This is the mutual reinforcement of energy flows, including the subtle worlds of the etheric plane due to the intensification of the flow of photons and other electromagnetic waves directed at each other. This is the mutual influence of the physical world on the subtle plane.

Alexander: Is there someone there in the Astral?

Irina: This is the installation principle, as I understand it. Influence on the subtle-material plane, closest to the physical world, as I understand from your explanation.

Who touched them? You see, Alexander, in fact, people are never completely alone. They are never alone. You are only alone in the physical world if you are alone in a room. This is visible only on the physical plane. But on other planes of reality, on other planes and levels of density of the Universe, in the same room, that is, in the same volume of space that your room or in this case Kozyrev's installation occupies, there are many civilizations, there are many worlds with their inhabitants. For example, in your room, in the same volume of space, there may be someone's city, house, or some part of space. But this will be on more subtle planes, that is, not the manifested physical plane.

To create the physical plane of reality itself, residents of the subtle worlds from eight density levels invested their energy, Soul and creativity into the process. They directly influence the physical plane in that they can most easily interact with people's physical bodies, and then the person will feel that he has been touched, stroked.

This is not because they directly approach or touch. These are plasmoid creatures, plasmoid subtle-material entities. They can just look and send energy, a flow of energy. It will be thin and will pass through the human body, it will feel like someone has stroked or touched it. This could also be from an exchange of energies.

This setting can act on people's chakras, energy centers, and make them more sensitive to what exists. For example, you also have plasmoids of many density levels in your room, but you simply don't feel them. And if you increase your sensitivity, you will feel them.

Alexander: I understand.

Irina: Most likely, these were plasmoids.

07:45 People's experiences in Bulaev's settings.

Alexander: I have another question. I watched a lot of video materials from visitors to Bulaev's installations. Many people there have some kind of experiences, for example, of past lives, sensations of flying in space, some kind of visions, and so on. But it was easier for me. In one setting I wanted to sleep, in the other, on the contrary, I felt some kind of vigor. Accordingly, the question is: why do different people have different feelings in these settings? Some people want to sleep, while others, on the contrary, see some pictures, some distant worlds.

Why such a fundamental difference?

Irina: Because, firstly, all people have different levels of sensitivity to energies. Secondly, all people have different supervisors.

Alexander: Got it.

Irina: Different curators, and therefore someone who is in these settings and increases their sensitivity (if this increase has affected, for example, the spiritual channel), can go into the Spiritual world, connect with the Higher Self and see past lives. This means that the Higher Self, for some purpose, reminded a person of him, perhaps a lesson or some block of it, gives this memory. These memories are not chaotic, they are not random, namely, memories of this life. Each person may have hundreds of other lives, but he is reminded of a certain one. This means that it contains something important for the current life, for the current moment. Those who fly into space already have a separation of their astral or mental body (depending on how they feel their body). The activation of the chakras also affects. The energy system is structured in such a way that due to the fact that the chakras and energy centers of a person are activated by energy in the installations, the separation of the astral or mental body occurs while maintaining consciousness. A person seems to leave the body into the Astral. The space he visits is like in the Astral.

Alexander: I understand.

Irina: And if a person doesn’t feel anything like that, but just falls asleep, it means that he also goes to the Astral, but doesn’t remember. He doesn't have enough energy in his brain to remain conscious. He, as we say, is thrown into the Astral. And if he can still communicate with someone, curators can come to him and talk to him, like Irina and I, and they will pass on information to him.

10:45 MidgasKaus about determining time.

Alexander: Got it. Next question. Was Nikolai Aleksandrovich Kozyrev right in believing that these aluminum installations, mirror installations, Kozyrev's mirror in the form of such a round cylinder, cone, are capable of focusing the flows of time? In other words, what is this energy? Are these some kind of time streams that are focused in the settings of Bulaev and Kozyrev? What is this?

Irina: First you need to define the understanding of "flow of time". Because what Kozyrev called the flow of time, we call it in completely different terms. We call the flow of time the process of changing material particles through their movement, interchange and changing the world. The change in particles of the material world, which determines all types of movement and all types of energy, kinematic energy, is time. The flow of time is a special type of energy, but it is caused by the change of particles. We call those types of energy that are focused by these installations some of the types of subtle energies that participated in the creation of the physical world. There are more than 6000 ethereal energies. What type he managed to correct, collect and strengthen in order to cause a resonance of these energies in space, this must be measured with special instruments that do not exist on Earth, or looked at on a subtle plane.

13:04 Dissipative processes.

Alexander: Got it. A question. There is such a concept in physics "dissipative processes". Dissipative processes are processes, for example, the evaporation of nitrogen or the steaming of water. According to Kozyrev, these dissipative processes emit time streams, which, according to his theory, can be focused by mirror installations made of aluminum. Accordingly, the question is: what kind of energy is emitted by dissipative processes, for example, during the melting of water, evaporation of nitrogen? What kind of energy is being emitted?

Irina: Are energies emitted by the evaporation of water?

Alexander: Yes, dissipative processes, that is, processes that lead to disruption of the structure of matter, for example, evaporation of water, evaporation of nitrogen.

Irina: Any substance can be in different states of aggregation. The state of aggregation is determined by the force of attraction between their constituent microparticles, molecules, atoms and ions, which are constantly in motion. We call this vibrations, vibrations of matter, frequencies. Each substance vibrates at its own frequency. The change in these frequencies is caused by exposure to microgravity. We call microgravity what you call the attraction of atoms among themselves.

If any energy (in this case, heat energy) acted on the matter, the microgravity field that attracted the atoms disappeared. Because these microgravitons have moved to another state. They went to the third level of atoms and stopped projecting the field of attraction. To put it simply, heat energy sends microgravity energy inside the atomic nucleus, as if blocking it. This is why microgravity between atoms decreases and they stop attracting. They move away from each other. And once they move away, the substance itself loses its shape, and its particles begin to move randomly, at high speed. Moreover, if it is heated further under high pressure, then the energy of the atom itself will change even more, and from the second level the release of energies, which you call thermonuclear, will begin. Radiation and thermonuclear energies. Energy will be released from there, which, in turn, provokes the release of heat, light, radio waves - what you observe in the stars.

Alexander: Got it.

Irina: This is the energy of the atoms themselves.

17:02 Bert Hellinger's formations.

Alexander: At one time I studied a lot, studied what Bert Hellinger's arrangements were. I'll tell you briefly for those who don't know. It turns out that all our relationships with relatives, with parents, with friends - all this is recorded at a subtle level. And with the help of such a special systemic therapy of Bert Hellinger's constellations, you can see the relationships between people. You can see relationships, for example, in a family between people, from generation to generation.

Accordingly, I have the following question. What kind of field manifests itself in Bert Hellinger's system constellations, that it encourages people, say, members of a clan, to stand in a certain position relative to each other, to experience the feelings and emotions of another person, even if the person has long ago gone into the subtle world? What is this field that manifests itself in Bert Hellinger's formations?

Irina: Constellations – what kind of practices are they? What are they doing there?

Alexander: I went to constellations; as a child I had very strong conflicts with my mother. I came to these formations, there were figures there. The figure of my mother, mine, the figures of my maternal relatives, the female line. All these figures stood in a certain conventional circle. Then all these people began to reproduce among themselves the relationships that I had with my mother, my mother with my father, the relationships my mother had with my father's father, with my father's mother, and so on. It's just that many of these people have already gone into the subtle world, and these figures in Bert Hellinger's constellations began to reproduce all those feelings and emotions that these people experienced regarding each other in the system of my family.

Irina: What field operates there? This is the mental field at work. Between people, when they gather for such meetings, where they pass on their experience to each other in solving their problems, in any case, some kind of internal relationships are already formed. In our opinion, a mini egregor is going to happen. Your thoughts influenced them in such a way that they felt your generic egregor. They came into contact with him due to the fact that you were in the same group, and your goal was precisely to show these feelings. For us, these are energies of the spiritual level, the Spiritual world.

20:18 Structuring the matter of the Universe. Field of Divine Love.

Alexander: I recently finished the first book in my life. There I suggested that this field, which manifests itself in Bert Hellinger's constellations, which orders the figures of people relative to each other, perhaps even operates at the level of the entire Universe. Responsible for a certain order of matter relative to each other. A field that, for example, says that stars should decay, roughly speaking, at a certain distance from each other. A sperm is a certain number of times smaller than the average size of, for example, a human. Average size, the height of a person is a certain number of times less than the size of a star, and so on.

There is such a Russian scientist Sergei Sukhonos. He has a book called “Large Harmony of the Universe.” And based on the analysis of a large amount of data, he came to the conclusion that in the Universe there is a clear hierarchy, a structure for the arrangement of matter. And, accordingly, I will assume that the same field, which manifests itself in Bert Hellinger’s constellations, perhaps manifests itself at the level of the Universe, somehow ordering matter into certain clear structures.

Irina: I understand the question. Matter is organized into clear structures (and these hierarchical ones that you wrote about) are also intelligent beings. They do this from subtle plans, condense matter and act. There are high-density plasmoid civilizations whose bodies occupy several tens of light years. They condense the matter that is on their plane until matter appears to form galaxies. Then, in these galaxies, other, smaller bodies are formed by other plasmoids. Individual stars are formed, and only then planets and all physical life on them, the biosphere and beyond. This is all due, indeed, to the intelligent advice of these plasmoids, who take their wisdom from the wisdom of the Divine presence, which is omnipresent. It is this Divine presence, this field of Divine Love, that you call it as the field that manifests itself in arrangements. This is a special case of the same field.

Alexander: Got it. This means that my intuition did not deceive me.

Irina: Yes, because this, too, as I already said, comes from the Spiritual world. This is a field of spiritual energies, and the Universe was also formed by the Spiritual World with the help of instruments in subtle planes.

23:21 Wax is a translator of energies from the Astral into dense matter.

Alexander: Got it. At one time I turned to a female witch I knew in Novosibirsk. I had a conflict with the girl I loved, whom I wanted to marry. I considered her exclusively as a wife. Because of our different views on life, we had a fight, after which I wanted to return her with the help of runic magic.

This woman was doing the so-called harmonization of relationships. She took a photo of my ex-girlfriend, took a candle, drew runic formulas on this candle, then activated it all, made certain speeches, the so-called visa. Then this candle stood on the photo of my ex-girlfriend overnight and burned out. I noticed that the wax that formed after the combustion of this candle took on various bizarre shapes, some kind of chimeras. And, accordingly, I have a question. What kind of energy in runic magic manifests itself at the level of matter? What energy manifested itself, influencing the matter of the wax of the candle, that instead of even drops, these chimeras of wax were formed as a result of this harmonious cleansing?

Irina: I understand the question. Wax is such a material, such a substance that can manifest influence from the astral world, from the subtle worlds. Runic signs are symbols of certain energies of certain plasmoid entities. It's like a call to contact them. As I said, they are everywhere around us, everywhere around people, and these symbols call them directly to contact. They have an agreement with the magician that when they draw these symbols they send their energies.

The reasons for these agreements can be different, including the exchange of energies, for example, with the magician himself or with those people who come to him, or even with the children of the magician. This is a mutually beneficial energy exchange. But what kind of it is: aimed at the Light, at development or at destructiveness, this already depends on, one might say, the degree of purity of the Soul of the magician. There are light plasmoids, holy ones, like Angels, and there are destructive ones that destroy. Which ones a person comes into contact with depends on his filling with certain thoughts, feelings, desires, aspirations, and so on. And the wax manifests the energies of these plasmoid civilizations that are nearby. It's like their faces or the images they think about. They do not have faces in the understanding of people, they are from subtle planes, they consist of energies of subtle planes, therefore wax manifests those energies that are nearby. When it melts, it is in the field of these plasmoids that came, and from this field it perceives the impact on itself and manifests it in matter.

27:26 The influence of the energies of runic magic.

Alexander: Got it. In runic magic there are many different runic symbols and runic formulas. Does the energy that manifests itself in runic magic somehow manifest itself at the level of the entire Universe as a whole? Are the energies that exist in runic magic responsible for some processes occurring generally at the level of the entire Universe?

Irina: Many plasmoid civilizations are responsible for runic magic, as well as for magic in general. There are many dozens of them, but the degree of their influence on the processes in the Universe depends on their personal energy power, on the level of density where they are located, and, naturally, on the tasks of their implementation. Plasmoids also have the task of embodiment, so the degree of influence of runic magic on reality depends on many factors. For example, on the strength of energy and on the degree of correspondence of these actions to the chain of events that the Spirits built in the Spiritual world. Because if she contradicts them, everything may collapse, and no plasmoids will have an effect.

29:04 Devices for recording the subtle world.

Alexander: Is it possible with some modern technical methods and means to see, for example, the same Akashic Chronicles, to see the subtle world, for example, in Kozyrev's mirrors or in Bulaev's installations?

Irina: "Technical means," what exactly do you mean?

Alexander: I read a book at one time, I think it was called "The Scholes Experiment." There, disembodied Spirits talked about how they could be seen if, say, a laser beam was directed at a mirror. Then this laser beam is reflected from the mirror, then decoded into an electromagnetic signal, which is fed, for example, to a TV or laptop. Thus, you can see these very Spirits. Maybe we can somehow improve all this in order to technically see the subtle world, the Akashic Chronicles?

Irina: Yes, in fact, I remember, Mead, there are special audio recording techniques, the so-called “electronic voices.” We had a conference about this. This is not done by disembodied Spirits, but also by plasmoid civilizations. They influence the equipment that records in a certain way, and then voices appear, as if out of nowhere. This is called the "electronic voice phenomenon." They can be unintelligible, but, nevertheless, you can hear that someone is saying something in an empty room. And then there are special programs on the computer that process this, remove extraneous noise, and individual words are distinguished there. There are probably dozens of records on the Internet. Indeed, there is a special audio recording device, it is not just some kind of voice recorder, but special equipment. Those who do this have the characteristics of this equipment. We had a conference, where they named what frequencies needed to be recorded. People are already doing this.

As for the cameras, you can capture some plasmoids. Subtle worlds, as you say, of Spirits embodied in subtle bodies. It is possible to record with cameras not the plasmoids themselves, but their trace in space. For example, some cameras that have a higher shooting range than humans use ultraviolet cameras. Sometimes infrared cameras can also help photograph certain air glows, like in an empty space. But this is not the plasmoid itself, but a trace of its presence. It warms the air a little. This is invisible to a person, but to a camera it can be noticeable.

Alexander : Got it.

Irina: There are special, so-called magnetometers that record disturbances in the electromagnetic field.

Alexander : Yes, yes.

Irina: There are forms of audio recording devices that record in the infrasound range, that is, very low waves. And those plasmoids that are in this space can collect (not all of them, but some who know how to control energy) the dense world in such a way that they create a wave, like noise. Yes, there are such devices.

Alexander : Can you advise modern scientists what to do, what instruments, roughly speaking, to cross with each other, in order to still see these very Akashic Chronicles, to see this subtle world, for example, in Kozyrev's mirror? Let's say I want to see the Akashic Records. Let's say we put an ordinary mirror at the focus of Kozyrev's mirror and direct a laser beam at it. Or something else needs to be done to see, for example, on a laptop monitor this most subtle world. I just want to conduct these experiments myself, I want to describe them and these technologies. I already have some ideas on how to do this, but I don't quite have the amount of knowledge yet.

Irina: Yes, how great it would be if you turned on your laptop and the Akashic Chronicles are there.

Alexander : Yes, let's say something like that.

Irina: But in fact, if you look at this question as you ask, it is impossible, there are no Akashic Chronicles in the material world. This is already the level of egregors. It can only be read by going to the Astral or receiving it through your spiritual channel. No material elements, no material carriers can record it. No laser beams can show it. Only your spiritual channel can do this. You just don't quite understand the difference between matter and Spirit.

35:04 Information field of the Universe. Time Tape. Field memory.

Alexander : Maybe, I don't argue. Can some modern scientific terms describe the functioning of the information field of the Universe? For example, the term artificial intelligence or something else? Is there terminology in modern science that can describe how the information field of the Universe works?

Irina: The information field of the Universe is the totality of all egregorial structures that are embodied in this Universe. They contain information. But it is not written in the form of some material records, it is in the form of mental images that are emitted by people themselves, plasmoid civilizations, and so on.

What modern scientific terms can you explain? For example, the concept of noosphere is very close. This is the sphere of the mind that covers the entire Universe, although your scientists say that it covers the Earth. This is spiritual, this is the area of the Spiritual world, where there are records of everything that happened in the Universe. There is such a part of the Akashic Chronicles, for example, which includes the Time Tape, where events and knowledge about the events of the past are located. But they are there in the form of energy impulses. Even if people did not send thoughts about this, since it happened in space, then such energy departs from this, from these events themselves, which forever remains in the Time Line.

Alexander : I understand what you are talking about. This is the so-called field memory phenomenon, which was discovered in the late 80s - early 90s by our compatriot Genrikh Mikhailovich Silanov.

Irina: Yes, we heard about his experiments, that he photographed what you call the memory field. These are not the same spiritual records on the spiritual level in the Akashic Chronicles, in egregors, but this is their reflection on the subtle plane, on the subtle world.

The whole world is divided into the dense world, the subtle world and the Spiritual world. All three of them interact with each other. The spiritual plane can move to the subtle plane with the help of certain plasmoid civilizations that take information from the spiritual plane. Plasmoids charge this information with their energy, taking it from the spiritual plane of their life force, and it becomes visible to the cameras with which Genrikh Silanov took photographs. And the information itself on the spiritual plane, as I have already said, is available only to the Spirit. It will have a mismatch of vibrations with matter.

Alexander : Got it.

Irina: What is the Spiritual world? In modern scientific language it is described as the inner world of the Soul, psyche. It is not located in the external world, where all objects are located, but inside, in the Soul.

You close your eyes, shutting off the outside world, and find yourself in the world of your thoughts, feelings, memories, emotions, desires. This is your personal Spiritual world. But other people also have these phenomena. And when you begin to come into contact with the Spiritual world of other people, your contemporaries, or people from the past, or those who will only live in some version of the future, you come into contact with the Spiritual world of other people. With the Spiritual world, which is outside of you, but at the same time you can come into contact with it by going inside yourself.

40:06 Rotation and energy collection.

Alexander : Got it, thanks for the answer. Our compatriot, Melnik Igor Anatolyevich, lives in the city of Tomsk. He recently published a book called “Awareness of the Fifth Force.” Based on a large number of experiments that he himself conducted, he came to the conclusion that all rotating objects, be they macro-objects or micro-objects, emit a certain field in space. This field is capable of influencing other objects, contributing to the ordering of their internal structure. On living organisms. And, accordingly, this is the question. What is this field that forms around all rotating objects in the Universe?

Irina: Okay, I understand. It is not formed from disgust, but is only set in motion. When one object rotates, all its particles that are in this object, their electromagnetic fields, begin to influence. This vortex, at a certain speed of the elements, the speed of rotation and the type of elements from which this object is composed, can already influence the etheric plane through mutual exchange. A funnel is formed into which the energies of the subtle material plane can be drawn.

Alexander : Got it, that’s the question. It turns out that if we look into the Universe, everything rotates. Our atoms, planets, the Sun, and the Galaxy rotate. And there are even some assumptions that the entire Metagalaxy, that is, our entire Universe, rotates. Accordingly, these fields, which arise during the rotation of objects, exist generally at the level of the entire Universe. And such a logical question: what impact do these fields, arising in the process of rotation of these cosmic objects, have on the entire Universe as a whole?

Irina: Rotation is one of the types of movement. The movement is generated by the energy that was initially invested during the creation of physical matter. All these material objects rotate because they were originally created from etheric flows. It was the physical plane that was created from the etheric currents of the four elements, which we described as the creation of atoms. All atoms are composed of the energies of the four elements. The element is an ethereal force. When they collected matter, they collected every atom, space, these fields, they were collected already rotating. When several plasmoids begin to collect an object, they release energy from themselves, and it begins to rotate. Rotation is a universal principle of collecting energy for its manifestation on a denser plane.

Alexander : That's understandable. I return to the research of Igor Anatolyevich Melnik. He was shown an experiment with a rotating object. Let's say you take a glass, pour water, and place an electric motor next to it. An electric motor rotates the water in the glass. Then all this is shielded from electromagnetic fields. At some distance from a glass of rotating water there is a source of radioactive radiation. The spinning water emits a field that affects the rate of radioactive decay.

According to one hypothesis, these rotation fields affect the rate of time of the particles entering the radioactive substance, thereby changing the rate of radioactive decay. Can you somehow explain how the field generated around a rotating object affects the rate of radioactive decay? After all, radioactive decay is like a constant. And now we see that it turns out that it is not quite a constant. And this constant, it turns out, is subject to the influence of fields arising from rotating objects. How can this be explained?

Irina: According to your explanation, it is necessary, firstly, to clearly understand what kind of radioactive substance it was, they are completely different with different decay times. In what direction did this decay change, and what revolved around what? Must watch.

Alexander : The water in this glass simply rotates using an electric motor. At a certain distance, say half a meter, there is a source of radioactive decay. To be honest, I don’t remember what substance this is. Then the electric motor is turned on using a mechanical device, the water begins to rotate in the glass, and the rate of radioactive decay changes.

Irina: How do you measure the rate of radioactive decay?

Alexander : I don’t remember the subtleties of all these experiments, I just remembered the essence.

Irina: They cannot say anything without the experimenter himself. Anything can happen there.

Alexander : Maybe this hypothesis itself has the right to life? That this rotation field will affect time, thereby changing the rate of radioactive decay? In general, is this hypothesis correct or false?

Irina: Does rotation affect time?

Alexander : Yes.

Irina: In what way does it affect time?

Alexander : These fields, which arise during the rotation of objects, affect, for example, the flow of time, increasing or decreasing the density of the time flow. This already affects the rate of radioactive decay.

Irina: It’s very easy to check. Any hypothesis has the right to exist. What you just said is very easy to verify experimentally. For example, if rotation in any way affects the speed, that is, the flow of time, then it will have, for example, an impact on the speed of metabolic processes and on the speed of various chemical reactions, if this is the case. You can do a simple experiment.

For example, divide the seeds of quickly germinating plants into a group that did not experience rotation and a group that experienced rotation for a certain time. For example, the one that was in that decay experiment. If time has accelerated or slowed down in them, this cannot but affect their germination. And then you can plant these seeds along with a control group at the same time in the same soil and give them the same amount of water, the same amount of light and record if there is a change. And there should be at least 50 of these seeds of one plant species, in order to exclude the more or less random influence of some factors in the seeds themselves.

If their metabolism has accelerated, it means that the biochemical reactions that occur in the cells of these seeds have accelerated. And if, as you say, the flow of time slowed down, then this could not but slow down the biochemical reactions in them. And if these reactions in the control group are faster or slower than in ordinary seeds, then this will also affect their germination rate.

49:11 Consciousness and matter.

Alexander : Got it. A question. At one time I studied Agni Yoga, the teachings of Blavatsky, and Theosophy in general. There is such an understanding in ancient knowledge, in ancient books, that consciousness exists in the Universe initially at the level with matter. And when the Universe arose, consciousness influenced this chaos of the material world and ordered matter in a certain way, so that the current ordered Universe arose. Accordingly, I have the following question: what experiments can you advise modern scientists to conduct so that these experiments clearly show that human consciousness is capable of influencing matter? This will prove that at the moment of the emergence of the Universe, consciousness also created the entire Universe.

Irina: Why do scientists need an experiment for this? Do you see this object (shows a pen)?

Alexander : Yes, I see.

Irina: What came at the beginning: this object or the thought about it in the mind?

Alexander : At first, of course, there was an idea to take this item.

Irina: No, was he always there, or did he appear at some point?

Alexander : No, at first it was the idea to create a pen. First there was an idea, like an eidos, as Plato said, and then the pen.

Irina: Why then should scientists prove this if all the objects around them were first in the form of thoughts? And this is already an impact of consciousness on matter, if they took a substance from the surrounding nature and assembled something like this, for example? Why prove the obvious?

Alexander : From your point of view, from the point of view of your science, this is already obvious, but from the point of view of modern science, it is not obvious.

Irina: How is it not obvious? Where did this pen come from then?

Alexander : It's just that modern scientists deny the existence of consciousness as such.

Irina: Who created it then? Who?

Alexander : It's just that most modern scientists are still materialists, and believe that consciousness cannot exist independently of the body.

Irina: You yourself just said that this pen was in the form of an idea. Don't your scientists know?

Alexander : No, they know, but they still need some elements, they need some evidence.

Irina: Why isn't this an experiment? She wasn't there, but she appeared? How can you conduct an experiment? For example, you can only write a letter when you come up with one. Is such an experiment possible?

Alexander : I understand.

Irina: Is it possible to conduct an experiment so that a letter from you will appear before you come up with it?

Alexander : I understood your bewilderment, in principle, yes.

Irina: Could a letter appear from you, for example, to Irina or your mother, which you did not write?

Alexander : No.

Irina: By itself, can it appear from letters? For example, there will be a keyboard, your cat will walk across it, and he will randomly pass in such a way that a letter will be written to your mother from your consciousness. Could this be? Can you believe it?

Alexander : Well, no. First a thought, first an idea, and then...

Irina: Really (Raom Tiyan is surprised) your scientists don't know this?

Alexander : I see. By the way, they saw that my cat was walking next to me, right?

Irina: There is energy there somewhere. They just said something funny to me now. Imagine an experiment. Let's do an experiment.

You will leave the keyboard. Usually cats love to be near the computer. Some say they are attracted to the warmth and lie down on the keyboard or table nearby. But they are also attracted to certain electromagnetic waves that they see, feel, and enjoy being around. Can you believe this experiment that a letter can appear without your consciousness, but simply from the influence of a cat?

Alexander : No, of course.

Irina: You can't. How could scientists believe that, as you just said, the Universe could have arisen without an idea? What is more complex: writing or the Universe?

Alexander : Of course, the Universe.

Irina: How could it arise? Tell me, how can you believe this?

Alexander : I understand your bewilderment.

Irina: He simply asks you: how can you believe this? Can you give him an answer?

Alexander : I am inclined to the point of view that the basis of the entire Universe, in its emergence, creation, initially lay certain information processes that are aware of themselves. And these information processes already guided the creation of the entire Universe and ordered matter. I am deeply convinced of this, but I just want to conduct some experiments in the future to somehow prove it.

Irina: Why prove the obvious?

Alexander : See, for you this is obvious, but for modern science it is not obvious.

Irina: But look, you write a letter to your mother, and suddenly your father will say: “It still needs to be proven that it was he who wrote it, and not the cat.” Will you be required to prove this?

Alexander : No, of course. I understand.

Irina: It’s funny, I can’t, Raom Tiyan, I made you laugh!

Alexander : By the way, regarding the cat, they saw it very well. Because I’m communicating with you, but my cat is walking around here, wants to go out, I’m constantly distracted by him. Okay, okay.

Irina: They felt his energy. What does he feel there with you?

Alexander : Yes, he has calmed down, he is lying down, washing himself now. Okay, I have one more question.

We had such a famous Russian scientist - Kaznacheev Vlail Petrovich. He lived with us in Novosibirsk. Unfortunately, he passed away not so long ago. He devoted a large amount of time to experiments with Kozyrev's mirror installations.

Irina: Mead also adds that, on the contrary, let those scientists conduct experiments when matter arises or is ordered without the emergence of consciousness.

56:29 Telepathy and Kozyrev's mirrors.

Alexander : I understand, yes. I will continue my thought. Russian scientists under the leadership of Vlail Petrovich Kaznacheev conducted experiments in the city of Dixie, beyond the Arctic Circle, many years ago. They installed a portable Kozyrev mirror installation there made of aluminum mirrors. And then a certain person sat there, and with the help of a certain random number generator, the computer produced certain symbols, the person seemed to read this symbol and had to mentally send it to the Universe, to the information field of the Earth.

At the same time, there were other people in different places on the Earth who were supposed to telepathically perceive these symbols, which the person broadcast from the mirror installation on Dixon. It was found that approximately 30 percent of these symbols began to be perceived by people somewhere on the other side of the Earth about a day, and sometimes even several days before the random number generator selected a given symbol, the operator read this symbol and mentally transmitted it to the Universe , into the information field of the Earth. And some of the symbols, approximately 30 percent, were perceived at the same moment when the person was broadcasting these symbols from Kozyrev's mirror installation. Another approximately 30 percent of symbols were perceived by people in different places on Earth after a day, two days, and so on.

And, accordingly, the question is: what reasons, physical mechanisms underlie this phenomenon? A random number generator selects a symbol, a person reads this symbol, mentally transmits it to the information field of the Earth, and, let's say, the random number generator has not yet chosen this symbol, but this symbol has already been perceived at the other end of the Earth, say, within a day, in two days.

Irina: Yes, I understood the question. This is not surprising, because whoever tried to read this symbol sent by someone tuned in specifically to that person.

Alexander : Yes, he tuned in to this person, but he didn't know what symbol would be transmitted.

Irina: He didn't know what symbol would be transmitted, but it's not surprising why he could perceive it earlier or later, he could generally perceive it at any time.

Here these are no longer physical mechanisms. When a person sends a thought, it goes not into the physical world, but into the astral world. The astral world, as we know, is already a part of the Spiritual. And in the Spiritual world there is no time. Therefore, if a person wants to perceive thoughts from another person at a physical distance, they are adjusted (there is only physical distance), but in the Spiritual world there are no distances between objects.

Alexander : I see, yes.

Irina: Time does not exist there. Therefore, the thoughts that a person tries to read from another person do not always enter his field at the moment when he is directly in his own present, in his own flow of time. These thoughts can enter him, for example, at that moment in the Timeline, which is his past. Or at that moment in the Timeline, which is some version of his future. Moreover, they can enter that version of the Time Tape, which is that version of the future that does not materialize. This means that he will not perceive these thoughts at all. He will perceive something else, and therefore he will have an error in the perception of these numbers.

Alexander : Yes, but again, look...

Irina: And this is precisely one of the reasons why telepathic phenomena are very difficult to reproduce, because it is connected with the Spiritual world. A person can perceive them earlier or later than the experiment itself.

Now we are directly next to Irina, our contact goes through her spiritual channel, enhanced by chips, so this cannot be called classic telepathic contact, when there is no contact at the level of fields, distances, for example. And there is no tuning through her spiritual channels, through her chips, because we ourselves developed these chips so that we could transmit information to her. So that she perceives it not in her past, and when some thoughts come to her, she simply brushes them aside, and not in her future, when it will no longer be relevant, but here and now.

This is a special attunement that was carried out through chips, through her spiritual channel, including through the Higher Self, and this process is not so simple. Because if we had just classical contact with her, like telepathic transmission of thoughts, then there would be a very strong distortion through her consciousness. This is, firstly. And secondly, she could perceive thoughts differently (we are now in the Astral, that is, in part of the Spiritual world, and we are transferring them to the material one). It could go backward or forward along the Time Tape or not be perceived, and she would not answer the question, because she already had it, for example, earlier or later.

The contact you spoke about, which was so unharmonized, happened in that case.

So, dear friends, I already have time.

00:20 Introduction of participants.

Irina: So, dear friends, I greet you all. Today we have with us our curator MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations. Raom Tiyan from the planet Burkhad also decided to answer your questions. He is a specialist in energy interactions, in our opinion a physicist. Let me remind you, my name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations.

Yes, hi Mid. So, dear friends, you can write questions.

01:22 Vibrations in the material and Spiritual world.

Irina: “What exactly vibrates in the material and Spiritual worlds? Why is it possible to raise vibrations only in the material world? What is the point of incarnating in the material world?”

Three questions at once, great. In the material world, electromagnetic and energy fields vibrate, which create different frequencies with their vibrations. These frequencies create what we see, hear, feel, create our worlds. All this consists of frequencies of the material world. The Divine Light of love vibrates in the Spiritual world. It does not have the same vibrations as the material world. The vibration of spiritual Light refers to the primordial rhythm that created the Universe. The universe is rhythmic.

But what does “spiritual vibration” mean? Named by analogy. This means that increasing vibration frequencies brings us closer to God. To understand whether we have descended or risen in vibration, it is necessary to accept the standard that is the ideal in the Spiritual world. If in the material world we measure vibrations in hertz, kilohertz, then how will we measure spiritual vibrations? They are measured only by the spiritual heart. And the highest vibration in the Spiritual world is the vibration of Divine unconditional Love.

Everything that comes close to this feeling, to this Love, is high vibrations, and everything that moves away is low. Any feeling that is compatible with Love is high vibration. And what contradicts it is low vibrations. The same with desires, thoughts, and emotions.

The second question was: for what reason can vibrations be raised only in the material world? The answer is very simple. Matter itself, when united with the Spirit, makes it capable of change. You know that matter is changeable. She can create various forms, objects, bodies that go through a cycle of birth, growth, decrease in vital energy or what we call aging and death, that is, destruction. Not only living objects pass through this, but also inanimate ones. In our understanding, what do we call inanimate objects? For example, stones, mountains, planets, stars. They are also born, they also have a period of youth, a period of old age and destruction. This is such a law of matter, because it is constantly changing. And thanks to its variability, it gives us the opportunity to change too.

When we incarnate into a body, we acquire a special vitality, we acquire instincts, and so on. And by going through various lessons in the material world, solving various problems, experiencing different emotions, we can change the state of our spiritual heart. We can either raise our vibrations, that is, develop unconditional Love in ourselves, or vice versa. And we can do this only in the material world. In the Spiritual world, we can love someone, we can strive for something, but we cannot change our spiritual heart. How we get there is how we will remain, I mean in our character, in our spiritual heart until our incarnation.

06:22 Evolution of the inhabitants of the planet Daraal.

Irina: “ Why does Kirchiton have three eyes, and why no neck?” Indeed, an interesting question. MidgasCaus, you are a biologist, have you studied the biology of Daraal?

(MidgasCaus) Yes, I studied it in general. The fact is that the ancestors of the Daraals lived on another planet, not on Daraal. They evolved from animals that, if viewed from a distance, somewhat resembled the earthly type of bears. But they had a head structure that almost completely merged with the body. In the process of evolution, this remained so. For example, we evolved from primates, they have a neck. And in those animals it was practically absent, that is, the body smoothly passed into the head (shows an image of this animal).

It really does look like a dark bear. But I don’t see any fur, or it is very short. But not like ours, but fluff. Interesting.

Three eyes. The planet where these animals evolved was located far from the star, from the center of their solar system. And this planet slowly rotated around its axis, so there were long dark nights, and the day was quite gloomy. For this reason, many animals had an organ that sensed infrared light. The bears of those planets had an eye-shaped organ in the center of the skull (shows), it saw infrared light. That is, it captured thermal radiation when the planet was dark. This is how they got their bearings. During the process of evolution, this third eye remained.

In the chat they write: “Evolved from primates, is this really true?”

We ourselves did not evolve from primates, but our ancestors, who were taken to integrate with other races. The basis of our genotype is made up of primate genes. Three million years ago, those primates that were taken to hybridize with alien races evolved from other primates and were the most advanced primates on Earth. But nevertheless, they did not have a mind, there was no rational Spirit, it did not incarnate there. And in order to bring the biology of this body into line with the intelligent Spirit, they added their genes. This story is known, genes from three alien races were added to us. Therefore, it is believed that we simultaneously evolved from primates, and at the same time we carry genes from other races. That is, we, our bodies, are hybrids. Our Spirits are in any case from God.

10:34 Who are elves?

Irina: “Could it be that elves are representatives of an extraterrestrial civilization?”

(MidgasKaus) You call people with wings elves. As far as I have studied the mythology of the Earth, these creatures are described as Nature Spirits, that is, plasmoids. They can take on any form, including people, and appear in the form of small people with wings. A species such as elves are those plasmoids that are responsible for the creation of the Souls of plants, the Souls of insects and the stabilization of these animals, plants, insects, that is, their harmony with each other. Simply put, they create them, care for them, heal them, and reincarnate them when their bodies die.

11:49 Gravity.

Irina: “What is gravity, is there gravity on asteroids? And does it arise from the ether?

(Raom Tiyan) If you look at the origin of any type of physical energy, then their original origin is from what you call the ether. That is, the ether is the subtle energies that make up the plasmoid worlds and the layers between them. All this together you call ether. This is a huge ocean of energy that surrounds your Universe and is at the same time located in it. It is like the ocean in which the Universe floats.

But all this is on a subtle level. Any physical energy: heat, light, electricity, magnetism and so on has its origin from the ether. As we call it, from the ethereal energies of the elements.

The ethereal energies of the elements, connecting with each other, generate three levels of energy in the atom. All this is done by plasmoid civilizations responsible for the creation of a dense material world.

Gravity is a third level energy, it is found in every atom, in all other larger particles and in physical bodies. Of course, it is in asteroids. There is gravity even in one atom, it's just not enough there. An asteroid is a huge number of atoms collected in one place in space. Therefore, naturally, asteroids have gravity.

14:14 The probability of meeting in the physical world of Spirits with the experience of incarnation on the same planet.

Irina: "If the homeland of my Soul is the planet Sephirius, unknown to our Galaxy, which even many contactees have not heard of, what is the probability of meeting a person from the same planet in the physical world, or is it unlikely?" What an interesting question Alina asked.

(MidgasKaus) Your Soul, your Spirit could be embodied on so many planets. And on Earth, and on which you named, and on the planets of our Galaxy, and on the planets of other Galaxies, and also in plasmoid worlds. What is the probability that you will meet a person who has had the experience of incarnation at least once in the place where you were incarnated? This probability, given the number of planets and worlds, is quite small, but it is not zero. Although there are planets whose inhabitants, upon emerging from incarnation, most often choose the Earth as their next springboard for deeds committed in the light of our God.

What was the answer? Yes, there is such a possibility that the inhabitants of one planet in another Galaxy will meet on Earth, but this probability is less than the probability that the former inhabitants of the planet of the Interstellar Union, who were reincarnated on Earth, will meet. Since the inhabitants of the Interstellar Union incarnate on Earth more often in order to bring our planet into the Interstellar Union.

16:13 Animal Soul. Instinctive mind.

Irina: As for the monkey. A monkey can be taught sign language. Animals have an animal Soul, it also has a mind. This mind is not like that of the Spirit, a spiritual mind, but an instinctive mind. He also has memory, including the ability (if we look at a monkey) to remember a sequence of signals, for example, in a language for the deaf. The instinctive mind in the Soul, instinctive memory can also contain quite a lot of information. For example, you know, many animals remember their names, remember their owners, and can communicate with them using some kind of gestures, not just monkeys. For example, the same dogs and cats with different body movements, this is also a language for them. They also give certain signals to their owners.

Moreover, birds that live in the wild: crows, sparrows, starlings, and so on, may have a whole series of gestures that they show to each other, for example, during mating season. They remember this and communicate with each other. The song of every songbird is not just meaningless chirping. This is speech addressed in its own language, understandable to other birds of the same species.

We will take not only birds, we will take, for example, insects. You know that bees have a complex language. One bee can, with the movements of its body and wings, explain to other bees where the honey is and which way to fly there, because the Soul is also embodied in bees. But since they are insects, it is a group Soul. That is, several bodies are embodied in one Soul. But, if we are talking specifically about bees, then around 30–35 bodies can be embodied in one Soul of a bee.

19:16 Spiritual level during disembodiment.

Irina: “I incarnated from the twenty-third level. I wonder what good I did?”

If you incarnated from the twenty-third level, then this was your level at the moment you left the previous incarnation. Of course, you developed Love in yourself, developed Light in yourself, and helped others. In any particular way? This is recorded in the memory of that disembodied part of your Spirit; in the Cassiopeia project and similar esoteric projects it is called the Higher Self.

You can ask your Higher Self, ask him to reveal to you the details of your incarnation. It can give the answer in a dream, or in astral travel, or, as you call it, in a special spiritual vision, that is, during meditation.

20:29 Gifts on Esler.

Irina: “Are women given gifts at Esler?” Mead laughs.

(MidgasKaus) It's not just women who get gifts. We do not have such a specific ritual to give a gift on a specific day; anyone can do this at any time, as if at the call of their Soul. A gift is a symbol of not only goodwill towards a specific person, not only a sign of Love. It contains the meaning of the relationship to this person, maybe even some kind of spiritual advice, the child can give something to his parents or vice versa.

It can be not only material objects. For example, we really love to do art, we have certain poems, songs, literature, paintings. And the gift can be a poem, a song, a painting.

22:09 Evolution of marine animals on Earth. Origin of people.

Irina: “Why haven’t marine animals evolved on Earth?” Mid, also a question for you.

(MidgasCaus) We also considered this issue. There were several contenders from sea animals (shows dolphins, only big ones, like sharks). They have a very complex brain structure and a fairly developed nervous system. But the Spirit cannot move into this body because it is energetically incompatible. The anterior parts of the brain are not yet sufficiently developed, in which there are sections through which the spiritual mind manifests itself (shows a picture of the brain).

For what reason did the posterior sections, which are responsible for feelings, emotions, and desires, not develop, for example? There are several theories, which we also tested through conversations and contacts with plasmoid civilizations that create Souls for these animals. It was possible to find out that the evolution of this part of the brain, which would help the intelligent Spirit to move in and manifest through it, is prevented by the lack of need to develop. There were not enough conditions for natural selection. The conditions were not harsh enough for these animals to think about how to save their lives and leave offspring.

" Where did people come from?"

Dear friends, we just said that humans were created by aliens three million years ago from an earthly primate, into whose DNA the genes of three alien civilizations were introduced. See details on our channel “Cassiopeia - Irina Podzorova”.

25:07 Entertainment on different planets.

Irina: (MidgasCaus) There was a question: “How do young people on different planets have fun?”

Entertainment is something that brings joy, something that brings positive and positive emotions. There are so many things to do in our Galaxy. This is a journey to different planets, exploration of different planets and communication with each other (shows astral travel) and also communication with your curators, with the Spiritual world and, of course, knowledge of history.

Now I will explain to him. Mead, the fact is that on Earth, unlike you, entertainment is understood a little in the direction of art. He says it brings them positive emotions when they learn something new and develop spiritually. This is how they are taught at school.

26:31 How to become a contactee?

Irina: “How to start contacting extraterrestrial civilizations?”

(MidgasKaus) First, you need to establish and establish stable contact with your Higher Self, with your disembodied part of the Spirit. After you establish contact yourself or with the help of a master guide to the Higher Self, before establishing contact with extraterrestrial civilizations, you need to establish your goal of incarnation, are you fulfilling your task, are there any obstacles on this path? Naturally, cleanse your energy centers or, as you call them, chakras, that is, energy centers through which the Soul manifests itself in the body.

These centers are located both in the aura and at the level of the physical body. They may contain negative blocks. Some remain from childhood, others accumulate in adulthood. In order for you to hear your curators clearly and without distortion, so that you do not doubt their existence, you need to clear yourself of blocks. And after that you can ask if you are a contactee? Maybe you are already an unconscious contactee. With whom exactly? Depending on the answer, yes or no, already set up conscious contact, if any. And if you are not a contactee, ask whether you can be a contactee, does this correspond to your life task? Irina, for example, knows how to establish contact with the Higher Self.

And also, dear friends, the students of our Cassiopeia school also know how to do this. Please contact our Center.

28:53 Relationships of Souls in the Spiritual World. Incarnations from high levels.

Irina: “After death on Earth, do Souls in the Spiritual World also become attached to each other or fly away?”

In the Spiritual world there is absolute freedom. Any Spirit, any Soul has complete freedom to be close to someone or to be alone when it can build a separate space, its own home. There are Souls who build an entire city. And there are Souls at high levels who have good control over their thought forms and manage their energy; they can build an entire planet spiritually. It will not be a plasmoid planet, but in a spiritual sense. They will come up with everything, and she will appear.

“After reaching level 24, incarnation no longer occurs?”

Why? Incarnation is possible both from the 24th level and from those levels that are above it, but are not visible from our levels. You know that, for example, Archangel Michael incarnated as Seraphim of Sarov.

Any Spirit can incarnate from any level at will and necessarily for any purpose. If a Spirit from the twenty-fourth level incarnates, this indicates that he has a goal - to bring others to this level.

30:38 Stuttering, causes and treatment.

Irina: “How to fix stuttering?”

What you call stuttering is spasms of the airways and speech muscles. That is, the muscles that are used for speech at the time of conversation. These muscle and airway spasms come from blocked feelings, emotions and thoughts. But usually this is a feeling of fear, a feeling of shame, a feeling of self-doubt that existed earlier, in the past, perhaps in childhood. And now this blocks the exit of energy through the fifth chakra, and therefore such delays appear on the physical level. A person cannot express what he wants.

How to get rid of this? You need to go to a session with your Higher Self, ask him the spiritual reason for this stuttering, what exactly this block consists of, and dissolve it with the help of special practice. After eliminating the spiritual cause, restore the physical body. To speed up this process, you can do breathing exercises and intense practices.

32:11 Agreement of Souls with parents.

Irina: “Do the souls of children come to an agreement with their parents?”

Yes, sometimes they come to an agreement. Almost always, the Spirit that goes for incarnation is shown how many Souls want to reincarnate through it. But, naturally, during the process of incarnation this can change, because the Spirit itself changes, its vibrations change.

Someone may hesitate to incarnate, and someone may, on the contrary, want to incarnate with this person. But in any case, the Higher Self of a person, as a disembodied part of the Spirit, which is in the Spiritual world, gives consent to this incarnation. Because otherwise this Spirit will not be sent into incarnation by his spiritual mentors, the Consulting Angels.

33:23 How to feel the Higher powers?

Irina: “How to tune in to the support of Higher powers? How to feel them?

You wrote: “How to tune in to the support of Higher powers?” - and immediately give yourself an answer. How to feel them? They need to be felt. How can you feel the Higher powers? They are in us and everywhere around us. Everything that surrounds us is Divine energy in various forms.

How to feel? You need to ask yourself, what is stopping you? What prevents you from feeling the Higher powers is a closed heart. The spiritual heart automatically closes the spiritual vision, which you call the manifestation of the third eye. So artificial methods of opening the third eye without opening the spiritual heart can only lead to spiritual damage, to psychological trauma. Because while the heart is not open to the higher world, it is premature to open spiritual vision and the ability to make contacts. This can lead to contact with low vibrational entities that the heart cannot recognize.

“How to open your spiritual heart?”

The same thing: dissolving the blocks that prevent you from feeling, seeing and communicating with your Higher Self. You can do all this during a communication session with your Higher Self. After this, of course, do not stop at dissolving the blocks. Meditate, pray, read spiritual literature and be sure to develop Love in yourself, do selfless good deeds. What does it mean? Without expecting gratitude in return. It opens the heart very well.

“I miss and cry for the dragon, I saw him in a session with the Higher Self. He was truly huge and scary, but he truly loved me.”

There is definitely no need to be bored and cry. This lowers your vibration, my dear divine Soul. And if you are bored and cry, this being, if it has high vibrations, is upset that you feel so bad because of it. Better send him the Light of your unconditional Love and the desire to meet. And this will definitely happen at a level that you can feel.

36:44 Meeting with the Spirit of a departed person.

Irina: “I lost my only son almost eleven years ago. Bright man. How can I know whether he has incarnated on Earth or is in the Spiritual World?”

My dear, I sympathize with you. But you remember that only your son’s body died, he himself went into the Spiritual world. It is very likely that this happened precisely because he fulfilled his plan for implementation. That is, he left at the time that he himself set, while still in the Spiritual world. The probability of this is quite high.

How do you know if he is embodied now? You can find out this by connecting with your Higher Self, with your inner Light, asking your Higher Self to invite its Spirit to have a conversation with you. But there must be a serious reason for this, not just idle curiosity, because the Spirit from the Spiritual world will be distracted by the material world in order to contact you. For example, not just fear, but a desire to help him with something, or forgive him, or ask for forgiveness. This reason must be related to the increase in your vibration. And then he will come through your Higher Self, and you will ask him whether he is incarnate or not. But be sure to thank him for coming and send him the Light of your Love. This is necessary energetic support, energetic compensation for the Soul that has come.

38:38 Energy of the Higher Self.

Irina: “Can negative attachments happen when accessing the Higher Self?”

This is practically impossible, because the Higher Self is the highest pure Light in a person, a piece of God that is in him, Divine energy. This is the exit to the state of a true son or true daughter of God, who is an immortal Spirit. And negative connections in this state are excluded, because they will not coincide in vibration.

Any entities that are nearby will not be able to connect to you. They may be nearby, but if you send them the Light of your Love, it will be unpleasant to them. They will step aside because it is very high vibrational for them and it hurts them. But not physical pain, but mental pain.

39:44 Restoring the elasticity of the knee meniscus.

Irina: “Is it possible to restore the elasticity of the knee meniscus?”

It depends on how far the process has gone, but in many cases this is quite possible. There are special drugs. But Mead will not give specific names here, because they may not suit you. You need to first eliminate the spiritual cause of the disease and choose a specific remedy through your vibrations, that is, by asking yourself. There are quite a lot of them, most often they are extracts from the cartilage tissue of various animals.

It is also necessary to do physical exercises specifically for the knee joints so that there is a strong muscle frame, and then the rate of further destruction of cartilage will decrease and the pain will decrease.

“ Can curators influence communication?”

They are now standing a little further away. I don't think they affect the connection. I think it's something to do with the internet.

“ Do you know about a book dictated to a woman in Turkey in the 80s of the last century, in which all universal knowledge is given?”

No, dear friends, I have never heard of such a book. Our alien friends certainly didn’t hear. They say: “We can study, read books only through our contactees, not always, but when we come into contact.”

41:52 Hiccups.

Irina: Thank you. “When a person hiccups, what happens? Is it true that someone remembered him?”

A person can hiccup for completely different reasons. If you look at it purely physically, this is a microspasm of the respiratory tract. He may hiccup, for example, due to a full stomach or, conversely, that he is hungry, due to instability of the gastrointestinal tract, due to intoxication, and so on.

Rather, it was a belief that people were more sensitive to energetic changes in their field. The ancient people who lived before the war 12,000 years ago communicated with the Spirits of nature and were more sensitive to changes in their field. And when they were thought about, but not just thought, but called upon them in their thoughts, they felt (points to the third chakra) a wave that rises upward. But it wasn't a hiccup. It was only later that they began to say so. This was a sign that someone remembered them, someone mentally addressed them.

43:39 Feelings of guilt.

Irina: “How to get rid of guilt if you can’t give people everything they want?” I understood the question.

Love yourself, accept yourself for who you are, love and accept all your qualities, recognize that you are God's beloved daughter and have the same right to happiness, gifts, attention as those people to whom you want to give something . This is the first one.

Second. If you cannot give this to them, and they are offended by this, are not happy with this, express or somehow show disdain for you, this already indicates that they do not have unconditional Love for you, but selfish. If they have this kind of Love, then no matter what you give, they will not feel satisfaction, because they do not love themselves either. And you cannot give each other Love, exchange it.

First you need to love yourself, and then you will give something or not give something completely freely. They will feel this and will be completely happy and satisfied simply by communicating with you, exchanging energy with you, because they will feel the pure Light of Divine Love in you. As Seraphim of Sarov said: "Save yourself, and thousands around you will be saved."

45:29 Meditation of filling the Earth with Light.

Irina: Let's do a short meditation. Now it is very necessary to fill the Earth with Light. I ask you all to close your eyes and relax. Let's switch to calm breathing. Take a slow deep breath and relax.

Dear friends, let's imagine planet Earth in front of us, what it looks like. This is our Motherland. This is the homeland of each of us. No matter what country we live in, we all see blue skies and bright sunshine. No matter what language we speak, we all drink the same water, breathe the same air. All kinds of enmity exist only in distorted minds. They are distorted by negative blocks. Once we purify our spiritual hearts, all enmity will disappear. And we will feel unity with ourselves, with each other, with planet Earth and with God.

Look at this planet. Imagine her in front of you, how beautiful she is. Look at her. Look what a great gift the Creator of the Universe has given us. He entrusted this planet to us, like a blue pearl, to keep it and take care of it. And so that she can answer us in kind, so that we develop, every nation, every tribe, every family can walk shoulder to shoulder towards freedom, towards harmony, towards new opportunities, let's imagine all the people on Earth. Let's imagine how there are many different peoples on Earth - these are egregors. Let's send them Light.

We take a slow deep breath. We imagine a very bright Light in our heart, like sunlight. We mentally stretch our hands, palms forward, towards the Earth and send Light through our palms as we exhale. It should pass from the heart through the hands and out of the palms. Send Light to every person on Earth. You send to babies, you send to old people, men and women. Say mentally: “We are all one on Earth. Our differences are temporary. Every person feels pain the same way. Every person strives for happiness, for love, for peace.”

Now we all mentally say, addressing earthlings: “Dear earthlings, inhabitants of the same planet as me. I send you the Light of my Love and thank you for all the spiritual lessons that I go through with you. I am truly grateful to you for them. I thank all my relatives, all my friends, all my enemies, every divine Soul I have met on this planet for spiritual lessons. I send you the Light of my Love.” Mentally imagine that you are sending Light.

And, as always, imagine the rulers of those countries that are currently in conflict. You can from other countries, any. These are the heads of egregors who are now in conflict, who have collided with each other, who are angry with each other. Let's reconcile them, send them the Light of Love. We say: “Dear divine Souls of the rulers. We thank you for the work you do on Earth. For showing your Light in the best way you can and know how.” Now let’s imagine that Light comes from us to every ruler, the head of every egregor and also fills it, just as it filled the people. See how they need the Light. See how their hearts open.

I want to emphasize that this is a completely voluntary session. We do not force them to accept our Light. We invite them to do this and be happy. Great. Now say mentally: “I ask my Higher Self, I ask my Guardian Angel, all the Consulting Angels and the entire Spiritual world to help me become a pure channel, a conductor of Divine absolute Love and send the Light of Love to my planet. Clear the space of all low-vibration spiritual states.” See how the Light has intensified. All our Angels, all our curators, mentors, our Higher Self help us with this. We are all one. Send Light. If you see dark spots on the Earth, in any country, in any area, send more Light here. He is needed now.

I feel your Love, I feel how you change spaces and build lighter lines of probability of events in this world. Great. Dear friends, now mentally say: “I thank my Higher Self for this practice - filling the peoples with Light. I thank and accept, I love and bless. I promise to direct this energy to the development of unconditional Love in my Soul, in my family, in my city, in my country and on my planet. That's how it is."

Now I will count from one to five. When I say "five", you will return to your normal state of consciousness and fully connect with your bodies. Open your eyes, stretch. We did a good job.

Dear friends, thank you all for the meditation! We filled the territory of the Earth and all our countries: our beloved Russia, our beloved Ukraine, our beloved Belarus, our beloved United States of America. There are no divisions in the Spiritual world. We can incarnate in the next life in any country. Not just on Earth, but on another planet altogether, as you have already heard, in another Galaxy. You can do this every day. Thank you (MidgasKaus) This is very useful to do every day.

#423 Gratitude and the consequences of theft. Reaction to negative experience. Energy exchange. Irina Podzorova.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/blagodarnost-i-posledstviya-vorovstva-reakciya-na
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=BwnyVqXfL5w

00:18 Negative scenarios of incarnations.

Nadezhda Shirokova: When does negative experience come? Why does he come to work on these planets? How to process this negative experience? Are they also taught to work through it? Are you prepared for the fact that there may be some kind of negative experience, and you will encounter it? How to react to this? The recommendations you give today are important.

Irina : There is no negative experience. There is only a negative reaction. Negative or positive reaction. Negative experiences are only negative in perception. If we look from the point of view of the Universe, the Universe, the Spiritual world, God, we see that any experience is neutral. He is called to develop the Spirit, its qualities: in the mind, in the spiritual heart, in the energies of the Spirit; raise your vibrations: transform low qualities into high ones.

Nadezhda Shirokova: That is, they don't think so. In our country, people sometimes think: "It was a negative experience that happened to me." Don't they have that understanding?

Irina : Give an example of a negative experience for you.

Nadezhda Shirokova: Let’s say something was stolen from a person.

Irina : What was stolen?

Nadezhda Shirokova: Let's say, money, documents.

Irina : I see. If stolen, the experience can be perceived in different ways. If you have a negative attitude, it means: first, to show pity for yourself as a victim, and second, to be offended by the one who did this.

This is a destructive path that leads to the creation of blocks. What happened cannot be undone. You can, of course, cancel it, for example, catch a thief, but do it with different emotions. Emotions destroy the aura and body, the damage is greater than from a thief.

What is the constructive response in this case? Constructive understanding from the point of view of the Spiritual world?

One incarnate Spirit took something from another, not wanting to give it back. Showed violence. The one who showed violence and aggression in order to achieve his goals lowered his vibrations. He was led to this by an already formed block, because of which he does not feel a connection with the Higher Self.

If he felt connected to the Higher Self, he would feel oneness with all that exists. To steal from another person would be the same as stealing from oneself. The person would perceive you as his mother, sister or relative. You wouldn't steal from your mother.

He fenced himself off from the Higher Self with blocks that were created much earlier. He stopped feeling unity with all people in the spirit of the Divine Light and committed a crime, that is, he violated the Divine law because he did not feel it in his heart.

For those who do not feel the laws in their hearts, there are state laws that, to one degree or another, depending on the awareness of the legislators, reflect the Divine laws.

04:44 Conscious reaction to theft. Conscience. Repentance.

Irina: What should be the reaction?

I will explain the reasons for the theft. This is unawareness, isolation from the Higher Self, blocks. The Conscious Spirit from whom it was stolen understands that the thief's separation from the Higher Self leads to suffering, to illnesses not only physical, but also mental, mental, spiritual, and to a decrease in vibrations. With every act of theft, he strengthens his block, convinces himself that it is possible to do this, that it is good. He lulls his conscience. And conscience is a type of communication with the Higher Self. It moves further and further away from the Higher Self, strengthens this wall.

What constructive thing would an Eslerite feel in this situation? He would feel compassion for the thief as for the Spirit. He loves everyone and the Spirit that is embodied in this thief. Love would manifest itself in him as compassion, empathy and a desire to help get out of these vibrations.

How can he help in this case if it was stolen from him? True love tells him that if he does not stop the actions of the thief (if possible), as is customary in his state, he will strengthen the Spirit in the fact that this can be done, and thereby lower its vibration even more. If he does the same actions that you have in the world (writes a statement to the police, if, of course, the damage to him is significant), then not in order to punish him, but to show him that he committed a crime by moving away from God.

If this is not done, next time he may commit a greater crime, convincing himself that since society does not react to his action, then this is the norm. This is no longer love for the Spirit. True love is in helping the Spirit.

Nadezhda Shirokova: Stop impunity.

Irina: Yes, there should be no impunity, but at the same time, there should be no internal resentment, even if a statement is written and the thief is judged.

First (shows) he works with himself. If he does not know who it is, then he sends the Light of his Love, forgives him and is ready for reconciliation. If the thief feels, as you say, remorse.

Repentance is a type of connection with your Higher Self in the form of awareness of a negative behavior scenario. And just for this person it will be a step up. Without it, he will not be able to realize that this is bad for his spiritual development. He may think it's good.

We return to the relativity of moral standards: from the point of view of the Divine Light, which loves both the thief and the one from whom he stole. This action is not harmonious, it leads to a decrease in vibrations.

09:15 Consequences of theft and fraud.

Irina : What other consequences of theft are there?

The one who stole loses a certain amount of vitality, equivalent to the value of the stolen item. It is sent to the owner of this thing. This happens on an energetic level, and the thief then feels a strong loss of strength.

This is interpreted differently. It is impossible to steal anything in the Universe: neither money, nor things, nor to lure it out by deception. This is what you call fraud, quackery. There are scammers who do not steal directly, but introduce themselves as people who know something, are able, or have some skills, and the person gives them money because he trusts them. They abuse his trust. This is also a type of theft.

The man gave the money, but gained the vital energy of a thief. If he forgives and directs the Light of Love, he will receive vital energy. If she is offended, she will push her away. The thief will lose it, equivalent to the stolen amount.

Money is a type of material energy that is equivalent to human labor. Any labor, any work in our material world is valued in monetary terms, and energy is spent on this work. This is equivalent energy, regardless of whether the theft is secretly committed or openly, when trust is abused, and the person himself gives the money, thinking that it is for a service, but receives nothing.

Nadezhda Shirokova: This information is very important. Sometimes people come to the Cassiopeia project and the Sacral school who, using the trust of the master, can take advantage of time and skill and not pay for the service, being ungrateful. You explained this fact very well, that is, there is still an exchange: whether you pay or not, it will still be counted either by your energy or your finances.

Irina: For a thief, a swindler, a charlatan, a deceiver, the exchange can manifest itself not only in the loss of vitality, but also in the loss of physical energy, health, loss of finances: they may steal from him or something may break. And not only.

If he has children under 14 years of age who are energetically connected to them, he shares this damage equally with his children. They are in a common aura with him. It may affect them. They may get sick, lose something, and so on.

13:25 The result of awareness and repentance.

Irina: If a person understands why this happened and returns the damage, he gets more money back (shows an increase) for realizing, asking for forgiveness, forgiving himself and returning the damage, for awareness. God amplifies the positive energy he has put in through his Angels, Higher Self, to an even greater equivalent. Even more is returned to Him because He loves us all.

Nadezhda Shirokova: To go through a certain path, to realize everything, accept, understand, act.

Irina: I see, dear friends, the topic of fraud and quackery is so interesting that you don't even write anything, you listen carefully.

Masha, is this an interesting topic?

Maria: You know, it's not only interesting, it's very important, so that people see these processes from an energetic and spiritual point of view and understand what they are doing.

14:50 Exchange of energy in the Universe.

Irina: In the Universe, in the Universe, it is impossible to steal or acquire anything for yourself without exchanging your energy. If a person thinks: "I will steal, I will have more, he will have less," this is an illusion. Everything you do, you do in the face of God, in the face of your curators, mentors from the Spiritual World, in the face of all plasmoid civilizations. You do this in front of everyone. There is no secret. You can only assume that no one knows about it, but this is not true.

#426 Life on the planet Mars. A perfect world, the colonization of Mars and the consequences of a war 12,000 years ago.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/zhizn-na-planete-mars-sovershennyj-mir-kolonizaciy https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=8lAnkPXNMtA

00:21 Introduction of participants.

Maria: We welcome you to our project, to our new meeting with contactee Irina Podzorova. The topic of today's meeting: another colony of our civilization Earth - the planet Mars. Hello, Irina!

Irina: Hello, Masha! Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we have with us a representative of the Ashtar Sheran civilization, which they call Edespeset, and which originated from the Sirius system. Now, as we know, it belongs to the Galactic Federation of Light.

Ashtar Sheran leads the fleet of the Galactic Federation of Light, which is why they are sometimes called the Pleiadians. This representative's name is MartiRuu, he is an expert in the history of civilizations in the solar system, including the study of Mars, its colonization, its history of development and the consequences of the war that occurred 12,000 thousand years ago.

(MartiRuu) I greet you! My physical body is located on a base that is located under the soil of Mars.

He is directly there, and Ashtar Sheran's ship only occasionally visits. And he is ready to answer questions.

Maria: Greetings, MartyRuu! Thank you very much for coming to our meeting today, and our first question.

02:15 Different names for Mars.

Maria: Please tell me what the inhabitants of Mars and the Interstellar Union called this planet?

Irina: (MartiRuu) The inhabitants of Mars themselves called their planet Eltorar, which means “perfect world,” that is, a world without unnecessary things, ideal. And in the Interstellar Union it was called by different names, but in the language of my civilization it is called Chartimissa, which means “red” or “orange-red soil.” This is based on the color of the soil and the color of the energy, the energy spectrum that this planet emits.

03:27 Settlement of Mars and Venus.

Maria: Thank you! Please tell me why the decision was made to populate Mars? In what order was it populated: first Venus, then Mars, or simultaneously?

Irina: This decision was made almost simultaneously, several decades apart. First, settlers were transported to Venus, and after forty-six years settlements arose on Mars, almost simultaneously.

Why did these decisions arise? In order to make maximum use of the resources of the solar system for the development of intelligent civilizations. We believe, both in the Interstellar Union and in the Galactic Federation of Light, that not a single planet, not a single asteroid should remain useless. The actions of an intelligent being, an intelligent Spirit, are aimed at transforming matter for the purposes of spiritual evolution and for the purpose of even greater spread of mind and life in the Universe. That is why it was decided to take all suitable planets in the solar system for life and the development of earthly civilization, prepare and use them so that they could serve as a springboard for the birth and development of new embodied Spirits.

Maria: Please tell me, in our solar system only these three planets were suitable for life, or were other options also considered?

Irina: The other planets were too far from the Sun and did not receive enough sunlight. Or, for example, how the planet that later became the Moon was too small, did not have its own atmosphere, that is, there were no conditions for life there. And these three planets, they are called “terrestrial planets,” were ideal.

05:43 Mars before human settlement.

Maria: Thank you. Please tell me what state Mars was in before this decision was made? How much effort did it take to make this planet habitable?

Irina: Mars already had its own biosphere, its own biosphere structure, there was liquid water, it was closer to the Earth and the Sun. It was warmer there, there was an atmosphere, there were forests like a jungle, hung with vines. And there live creatures similar to our monkeys, but they are very small - about thirty centimeters, black. There was wildlife there (the birds are lemon-colored, they hide in the sand and then fly up, quite large, like ostriches, but they fly well). There was already a biosphere there, and there was life there.

Maria: So you decided not to wait for these monkeys to develop through evolution?

Irina: A study was carried out of their genotype and their energy characteristics, contacts and conversations were also carried out with the plasmoids that created their Souls, and it was found out that these particular animals have a goal only to maintain the biosphere, they cannot develop into an intelligent one in the foreseeable future race. They did not set such a goal, and they did not evolve in this direction.

Before settling a planet with animal life forms, if they exist there, there will always first be contacts with the plasmoid civilizations of this planet, in this case Chartimissa, that is, Mars. There was also contact with spiritual beings, with Angels, who directly give the go-ahead for the settlement of this planet.

Maria: That is, from the Spiritual world the prospects for the spiritual development of any beings are more visible.

Irina: Humanoids themselves could not make a decision about such a serious matter as populating the planet. This is not just creating a base. This may have an impact on the evolution of species. And therefore, this is always accompanied first by a request to the Spiritual World and a certain agreement with plasmoid civilizations so that there are no obstacles to the development of this colony, and so as not to incur the karmic consequences of the inharmonious use of natural resources.

Maria: A very wise decision indeed. And it's a pity that on our planet, unfortunately, they are not yet guided by such thoughts as to consult with plasmoids before doing anything. I think that in this case, our planet would be even more beautiful and harmonious if we closely interacted with plasmoid civilizations consciously and at the level of those who make decisions.

Irina: Here it is important to ask whether in your educational institutions there is such a subject as the structure of fine-material worlds, their influence on the dense-material world and methods of communication.

Maria: Unfortunately, no, because there is no material evidence of the existence of these civilizations.

Irina: What do you call material evidence?

Maria: This is evidence that can be perceived by our five senses.

Irina: There is no evidence of what?

Maria: The existence of these civilizations. So that you can perceive them and communicate with them. That is, what we do not see, cannot touch or hear does not exist for us.

Irina: How can you touch, for example, the grief of another person?

Maria: We can hear it from him or feel it with our senses.

Irina: Which ones?

Maria: For example, by hearing, because we hear this person when he expresses this grief.

Irina: You hear his words, but could they be feigned grief?

Maria: It all depends on the person, how much he can distinguish between the emotions of another.

Irina: Yes, but how does he distinguish them?

Maria: With empathy, with your feelings.

11:36 The purpose of dense material worlds.

Irina: Your sense organs, you call them body receptors, as far as I understand, are tuned to a strictly defined frequency range of vibrations. Believing that this ends the whole world, the whole Universe, is equivalent to the crucian carp in your pond thinking that the pond is the whole Universe. But he will not notice the city that stands on the shore of the pond, and for him it will not exist. In fact, in his Universe this is the case.

But unlike the crucian carp, who lives only in the interests of his pond, man is an alien from the Spiritual world and carries out his mission here to charge space with Light, to saturate matter with his Light in order to spiritualize and raise it higher in vibration.

After all, dense material worlds have been specially created, which have lower vibrations compared to subtle material worlds. So that the Spirits who will incarnate in them can raise these vibrations with their Light of the spiritual heart and, using the enormous potential inherent in atomic forms, carry Light and energy to all subtle beings. I hope Masha understood this.

Maria: I understood that. This is true. As I understand it, these are people who have taken the path of spiritual development, but the majority in our civilization, unfortunately, are just those crucian carp in a limited pond. The mission of our project is to help such people expand their perception of our Universe at all levels, including subtle ones.

Irina: Only the opening of the spiritual eyes, which are located in the Spirit of a person, can expand the boundaries of perception, this is the organ of his spiritual heart.

Maria: Everything is correct, but in order to reach or reach this heart and these spiritual eyes, we need various tools, including those that we use in our project, because all people are individual, and everyone needs their own approach.

Irina: I know about your project, Ashtar and MidgasCaus, who also talked to me, and LiSioni told me about it. You are really doing an important thing, you are opening people's spiritual hearts by eliminating the obstacles that people themselves have built between themselves and their true selves, who live forever.

Maria: We call it the Higher Self.

Irina: We call "the True Self," that is, this does not mean that the self that is in the body is not the truth, it means that there is complete truth. In your language, truth is equivalent to the word "reality," but in our language, truth is equivalent to the word "completeness." Because completeness itself regulates the perception of reality depending on the level of awareness. If completeness is not enough, that is, the perception of oneself as an integral being, one with the Universe, then a narrower spectrum of reality will be perceived.

Maria: Yes, that's right.

Irina: Do you understand anything?

Maria: Yes, I understood him very well and I understand perfectly well that this is also not accidental. We study the Universe through various aspects, through certain limitations, including limitations. Therefore, communication with you is very important for us; the knowledge that you give us is very valuable for our spiritual growth and understanding of various paths for development, including learning about our colonies, how we developed there.

Irina: I thank you! In fact, more and more humanoids and plasmoids from the Galactic Federation of Light and humanoids from the Interstellar Union are aware of the task of their incarnation as helping the Earth. For planets like the Earth to come to themselves, to come to the opening of their spiritual heart, only in this way is safe technical progress and the transformation of nature possible.

In fact, many of those Spirits who incarnated on Earth and left incarnation, including due to the violent actions of other Spirits, finding themselves in the Spiritual world, choose incarnation in our worlds, so that, finding themselves in civilization at a high technological and spiritual level , to fly to Earth again in a different capacity and help his brothers and sisters reach the Light, those among whom he lived. This is exactly how I feel.

18:33 Incarnation of MartiRuu on Earth.

Maria: Do you know about your past incarnations?

Irina: I know about my incarnation (shows: there are partial memories, it was not someone who told him this, but the Higher Self).

I was incarnated in a man (shows him, I don’t know who he is). This last life, before being born in my world, I was embodied in a man who was destroyed on Earth for his beliefs. And before that, I lived in the very civilization in which I live now (he lived in one civilization, and then incarnated as an earthling, shows a man).

By the way, I was destroyed for the idea that there are many worlds.

Maria: Obviously, during the Inquisition, in the Middle Ages, you were some kind of scientist, perhaps an astronomer.

Irina: Have you heard about Giordano Bruno?

Maria: Giordano Bruno, yes, this name also came to me now.

Irina: I know him, I was his friend and lived after him.

They were friends, then he carried this teaching, and he was also destroyed. Shows how they throw him into the water. His name was Alberto or Albert.

We studied Space together, and not only the outer Space, but also the inner. You know that every person is the Universe. In every person there is a semblance of galactic, stellar and planetary systems that develop in his organs. And through the inner cosmos, studying it, it is possible to comprehend the outer cosmos, and then all this goes in harmony, because the spiritual heart gradually opens. And when you begin to notice the beauty of every fragment of the world around you and its complete harmony, you feel how another part of your Soul merges with the energy field of God.

Do you understand anything?

Maria: Great, MartyRuu. Of course, everything is similar at all levels: from the infinity of the Universe to the infinity of the smallest atom.

Irina: I feel it. Do you feel something?

Maria: Of course. You won't believe it, but this morning Jens, my husband, and I were talking about Kepler and Giordano Bruno. He told me about Kepler. He read about him that he was an outstanding personality in Austria. Kepler even saved his mother, who was about to be burned as a witch. From Kepler we moved on to discuss Giordano Bruno. And now we are sitting with you and talking about this person.

Irina: I witnessed how he was captured and how he was executed. My friends helped me go to another city, I communicated with his Soul there, and he told me not to be afraid, and that he was in the Light. Because he managed to forgive everyone who did this, and was able to recognize them as teachers of his unconditional Love.

Maria: This is a great example of the manifestation of love and acceptance that such people, scientists, give us in our world. Therefore, to be born a scientist, a pioneer in our world is the extraordinary courage of the Spirit itself and the person who finds himself in this environment, so as not to be afraid of all the circumstances of our society, not to be afraid of denial or even a threat to life, and still continue his work.

Irina: I look at you and your curators who are standing next to you (shows that there are two curators behind you, one is an Angel, and the second is an alien).

Maria: I also feel that my friends from different worlds are always with me.

Irina: And you also have a connection with the subtle world, with the plasmoid world. They are friendly to the Earth and through you they transmit the energy of Light, acceptance, joy and watch over earthlings.

Maria: Ira and I even found out which planet it was from the constellation Cygnus, the planet Deneb, for example.

Irina: (MartiRuu) Do you feel my energy?

Maria: Of course. I have already shared with Ira that my body is very receptive. Through it I feel very blissful, very pleasant, very friendly energies. It feels like you are a very bright Spirit, a very bright personality who decided to devote your incarnation to serving others, to help other Spirits and other civilizations develop. Thank you very much for sharing your knowledge.

Irina: Thank you! Even as a child, I realized that they treated me cruelly, I was tortured, I told my parents, my civilization about this, and they helped me let it go, untie this karmic knot even in childhood. They helped forgive their Souls and send them Light, because at first I didn't understand how you could send Light for cruelty.

But they told me that these are the people who need it most. And gradually I not only understood this with my logical mind, but accepted it into my spiritual heart. After that, my life was devoted to the study of civilizations, including Mars. I also have my contactees on Earth. Together with Ashtar and the Galactic Federation of Light, I fly to the Astral Plane and make contact. I realized the purpose of my incarnation as helping earthlings, because I still feel you are my people.

Maria: Thank you! We are very glad that we have such a wonderful friend in other worlds. Just like all our other curators, and all the other interstellar and plasmoid friends who come to our project and transmit through Irochka, through a truly wonderful Soul that carries so much Light through its abilities to transmit information.

27:43 Nature, climate and geography of Mars. Terraforming Mars.

Maria: I have the next question. Could you tell us about the nature and climate of Mars, what the climate was like there, what the continents were like?

Irina: There was a climate reminiscent of modern earthly climate. There was a change of seasons. Unlike Venus and Earth, there was a cold season when snow fell in temperate latitudes and at the poles. The climate was basically similar to that of Earth, but it was a little colder, but not the same as it is now. Roughly resembled the Earth during the so-called Ice Age. There were wide zones of temperate climate. They were wider than on Earth. And there was a narrow tropical belt around the equator. However, there was liquid water, there was precipitation, winds, snow, and, accordingly, there were bodies of water that froze, as happens on Earth.

Due to the fact that there is less gravity on Mars than on Earth, its atmosphere was initially more rarefied. But before people settled, it was saturated with ozone, which creates a screen both from the radiation of the Sun and from the loss of the atmosphere. Restraining factor. Plus, carbon dioxide was added, which helped warm the planet and created an additional greenhouse effect, which in that case was beneficial. The average temperature of the planet has increased. The jungle that I showed was not the jungle that grows in your tropical latitudes, but forests with intertwined vines. They grew in a temperate climate and shed their leaves for the winter, that is, they are similar to terrestrial forms.

Maria: Very interesting, thank you. What continents and how many continents were there on the planet?

Irina: There were three. Mars itself is smaller. There was a single ocean in the southeast, and there were islands there. And the rest was occupied by the mainland. There were also lakes, shallow seas, like bays from a large sea.

Maria: I see, that is, the climate, flora and fauna were more diverse than on Venus?

Irina: But not like on Earth.

Maria: Our Earth has shown the greatest diversity. What were the lengths of day and night?

Irina: Around twenty-five and a half hours was a day, and about two years, minus two months, was the length of a year. Mars then had a different rotation speed.

32:19 The history of people moving to Mars.

Maria: Please tell me, on what basis were people selected on Earth who were supposed to move to Mars, were there any specific conditions for this?

Irina: Recruitment for Venus and Mars was announced, films were shown on a stereo screen that was in the air. Films were shown about the conditions on this planet, that is, video materials, and it was said how many people are required to create a viable colony, so that one can immediately begin to develop and quickly populate the planet. It took about three years to get the required number of people to Venus and Mars.

It happened that people wanted this, but, for example, their Higher Self did not approve. We told them to ask themselves, their mentors. It happened that a person's life task was not such as to leave his home planet forever. It happened that they were not suitable, not just in terms of health, but in terms of internal vibration; such people were energetically more suitable for the Earth. About three years later, 20 thousand people were recruited. It happened that some doubted - at first they wanted to, and then refused.

Maria: Tell me, please, after the resettlement, did anyone else move to Mars or Venus?

Irina: No, they didn't come permanently, they began to live and develop there. They could arrive on ships as contactees. There was one wave.

Maria: We know, we were told that they visited Venus, visited Earth and, in terms of their level of development, were not part of any Intergalactic Union.

Irina: They had their own development in the civilizational paradigm of their society and their awareness. The noosphere must gain a certain power, a certain density so that its egregors can merge into the egregors of the Interstellar Union or the Galactic Federation of Light.

Maria: Thank you! Our project and many other esoteric, religious societies are working to ensure that the noosphere of our planet meets those high requirements.

35:30 Age of earthly civilization.

Irina: Your planet is, in fact, still a very young world. Many people believe that your civilization is three million years old, but I personally believe that the development of your civilization was disrupted by war. It destroyed all your achievements, including spiritual ones, and sowed a certain negative energy in your egregors. These were not only great human sacrifices, human losses, it was the destruction of the entire civilizational structure, the experience that many hundreds of generations had acquired.

Therefore, after the war, your civilization had to start all over again, in completely different conditions, in a different energy environment and a completely different understanding of the world. So I am inclined to think that your civilization is most likely only 12,000 years old, but taking into account the experience that you have acquired in the previous three million years.

Therefore, your story is sharply divided into two parts. You actually go through this path very quickly, quickly improve and learn your lessons in terms of tolerance towards others, understanding that a person with a different language, a different religion, a different skin color has the same rights as yourself, and has the same the same feelings, the same thoughts and is an equal being to you, you overcome xenophobia.

Maria: Yes, I completely agree with you. I have the same thoughts and the same assessment of our civilization. You know, MartiRuu, when you get acquainted with other civilizations, with the history of their development and know how many millions of years they went to the level at which they are now, and compare with our civilization, then I really see that we are doing unusually huge leaps in development.

I also believe that our development really began only 12,000 years ago, and not millions of years, because we were thrown back. And, despite the fact that many are very depressed by the situation on our planet and in our society, I still believe that if we consider the history of our civilization, our planet, then we really have shown simply extraordinary results in development, speed and quality of development.

So I think that we will be a very good example for other young civilizations that are also beginning to develop. And in the future, when we are again able to colonize and populate Mars and Venus, we will have something to share, and we will have very good experience to help these new civilizations develop.

39:24 Tolerance is a means of accelerating the spiritual evolution of earthlings.

Irina: I remind all spiritual seekers, all spiritual seekers, those who strive for enlightenment: you are an example of the superiority of the spiritual path of development over a materialistic attitude towards the world. This means that in order to attract people around you to this development and speed up the evolution of the Earth (including joining the Interstellar Union or the Galactic Federation of Light, where you want, you can in two structures at once, it's up to you), in fact, to speed up the evolution of the Earth , you must always remember, dear friends, if you are surrounded by people who are not believers, people who are in a state of anger, fear, condemnation and other negative attitudes, emotions, entities that surround them and are built into their fields, then non-acceptance of these people, their condemnation and retaliatory aggression against them only slows down their spiritual development. They throw them back along with you.

Maria: Yes, absolutely right. This is exactly the conclusion we also came to.

Irina: You see, Masha, I like what you say.

Maria: You and I are really on the same page, and I feel that our thoughts and the conclusions we came to are very similar. I think it is no coincidence that we ended up in the same conference today.

Irina: Will you be his contactee?

Maria: With pleasure!

41:20 Socio-political structure of society on Mars.

Maria: MartiRuu, please tell us about the political and social system on Mars, what countries and languages were there.

Irina: By the time of the destruction of this planet, there were 42 countries. But they were small regions. The population of Mars was in the region of 250-270 million people. But not because they could not develop further, but because it was harmonious for the size of Mars. Afterwards, their reproduction slowed down because there were not enough resources. The Martians were very active in remaking their planet. They built tunnels from the sea, like a pipe, to supply water. They had their own vehicles, like carts, in which motors were built in, running on some semblance of a wind engine. They placed this device in the wind so that the fan would spin, and from this torsion the spring would be charged, it would slowly descend, and this would make it possible to move. There were some semblances of batteries.

Maria: Can we say that their technical development was ahead of the development on Venus?

Irina: Yes, they were more active in this regard, they had many mining companies, not enterprises, but detachments. They mined ore and were very sensitive to metals. They smelted them, and they constantly had contactees who asked to tell them about new technologies for improving the metal. They were happy to meet them halfway, but, unfortunately, they used this knowledge to create weapons. From time to time they had wars.

Maria: Returning to the question of the political and social system, did they not have democracy?

Irina: There were separate tribes under the leadership of their leaders. They traded certain goods with each other, and there were communities of tribes that could unite into a semblance of a country. But there were disputes, some tribe could rebel and leave. They were very freedom-loving, but at the same time they were afraid of their rulers. There were punishments, for example, for moving to another tribe.

Maria: They also had the death penalty?

Irina: Yes, at one time there was the death penalty. In one tribe they were taken out into the wild and left behind.

Shows: near the sea they are attacked by sea animals. They crawl out of the sea like large snails, are nocturnal, and when a person is sleeping, they crawl on him, secrete such a substance that he no longer wakes up, and digest it.

Maria: An interesting predatory animal. Perhaps our science fiction writers who embodied there will be able to remember, write and create some kind of horror film.

Irina: Or maybe there is already such a film, do you remember?

Maria: I guess where all the ideas in our horror films and in our science fiction films come from.

Irina: Have you seen one like this?

Maria: No, I haven’t seen this, but I imagine that this could arise somewhere, like a memory from a past life.

Was the political system of a monarchical type with rulers by inheritance?

Irina: There was a tribal leader, there were soldiers, warriors. They could raid each other, build fortifications (shows towers made of stones, like our fortresses).

Maria: It's clear that if the development of technology outstrips spiritual development, then, as a consequence, this always leads to wars, a decrease in vibrations, the emergence of division, and non-acceptance.

Irina: I am a historian, I was engaged in establishing the initial cause of these conflicts on a spiritual level, on a material level. And I found out that at the beginning, when people moved there, they were friendly with each other, but as they formed different tribes, they had a series of major conflicts over territories, and plus people from the same tribe could, for example , kidnap a girl and take her away. For this, responsibility was shifted to the entire tribe, and they became discontented and distrustful of each other.

Gradually they developed such social relations that it was every man for himself, such individualism. And even their largest tribe was actually a collection of individualists, in which everyone pursued their own interests.

Maria: I see. You know a lot of different civilizations and their history. Tell me, please, is such a development algorithm mandatory for everyone? Are there any exceptions when people find themselves in such conditions and develop differently?

Irina: For example, this practically did not happen on Venus. There was not a single major intertribal military conflict. Even those Spirits who incarnated there from low levels or did not fulfill their life tasks very rarely committed crimes, again in comparison with the same Mars or even Earth.

Yes, such societies are possible. Both in the Galaxy and in the Intergalactic Union there are known societies that have gone their way practically without wars, violence, or the slave trade. But I must admit that this is less common, because a young civilization has not yet learned from its own experience those laws that teach us to value the life of another being.

Maria: Does this still have to do with what Spirits are embodied in a particular civilization?

Irina: Yes, and it also depends on the choice to what extent they follow the path of fulfilling their life tasks.

Maria: There is no guarantee, no indicators to say which way this or that civilization will go?

Irina: Yes. We can only assume and build some kind of development models or something else. But there can always be that Spirit who, by the influence of his personality on this civilization, will either raise it up or lower it down. There are individuals who influence the choices of many. And sometimes this influence continues for centuries after disincarnation. There is this influence of Light, for example, which we see with Christ, with Buddha, and it happens in the dark side. Rulers such as Napoleon, Hitler, Stalin, etc., who with their elections lowered the vibrations of themselves and the people who, at their name, fell into anger, fear, and condemnation. This is also a reduction in vibrations.

52:04 The responsibility of the Spirit is to reduce the vibrations of the opponent. Dispute and discussion.

I remind you once again, dear friends. When you interact with people, doing things that might embarrass them, you need to be understanding. If your behavior causes anger in other people and condemnation (even if unconsciously), and you know about it, but deliberately provoke others and continue to remain in this society, you also take part of the responsibility for the fact that they have lowered their vibrations. Because you are more aware than them, and this is where solidarity comes in.

You see that the incarnate Spirit feels bad about your behavior. Instead of somehow changing behavior and harmonizing together, or leaving the person’s field of vision, you continue to do it. Because you are sure that he should accept and love you. Yes, but not in the condition he is in.

Maria: Yes, this is also a very important experience and responsibility.

Irina: Not everyone on Earth understands this.

Maria: It really is. We, our society, our noosphere are in conditions that put us in more difficult conditions for understanding the laws of the Universe, spiritual laws, and therefore staying, incarnating here, I believe, is the most difficult experience in the most difficult conditions. And Spirits who still overcome these obstacles, who, despite the conditions in which they find themselves, still do not lose the Divine Light and see it in other people, even if they are materialists. There are also people who are materialists, but still try to see the good in others. We call them optimists.

Irina: I tell him: “Give me an example of such behavior.”

(MartiRuu) You can give many such examples. For example, you are in the company of your friends or work colleagues, or even your family, which adheres to certain beliefs. And you know that your beliefs are different, and yet you deliberately do things that contradict their beliefs, or say such words.

You see that it annoys people and they don’t accept it, but you still continue to do it in the hope that you will be accepted and loved. Some people can really reconsider their beliefs, while others find it difficult to do this due to internal resistance. And if this continues for a certain time, then all participants in this process reduce the vibrations.

Maria: You know, we have a very good example of such a process: our chats, where it is very interesting to observe how divine Spirits learn these laws and truths from each other’s example. When they, sharing their beliefs, their opinions, stumble upon the rejection of other similar divine Spirits, they begin quite emotional and stormy quarrels, skirmishes, even insults. And in every such situation, I see those examples or those situations that are created for them, so that they learn from them acceptance and love even of those people who, from their point of view, make a mistake, think incorrectly.

Irina: I understand who and what we are talking about, and I can say that this is happening, among other things, because most earthlings from school do not have an understanding of what, for example, a scientific discussion, an exchange of opinions, a common aspiration is different personalities in search of a common truth. This is not a discussion of some personal characteristics of a person who holds a different opinion, this is a conversation about the very subject of discussion, absolutely neutral. Neutral does not mean without emotionality. Emotions are not directed at another person, at another person, just expressing different opinions.

We also have this, because in the Galactic Federation of Light and in the Interstellar Union there is freedom of opinion, there is a so-called pluralism of opinions. Every rational being can believe what he wants, adhere to whatever beliefs he wants, and no one will even think of limiting him in any way.

When beings with different opinions about the same subject meet, we have the understanding that getting personal is a defeat in the argument. Getting personal is the beginning of a discussion of some character of the opponent: his vibrations, his awareness, his mind, etc. I'll give you an example. Let's imagine two groups of people: some say that an apple is soft, tasty and healthier, while others say that strawberries are tastier than an apple and more healthy, and they begin to argue about which is healthier - strawberries or an apple. Of course, there is no arguing about tastes, but you can argue about benefits, since they have different properties. Some will argue that apples contain certain substances, while others will argue that strawberries contain such and such substances. One will say, “I disagree with you,” and this one will say, “I disagree with you,” and they will strive to express their opinion.

Maria: Most likely, to convince each other.

Irina: Yes, so that others can learn about these opinions. Because intelligent Spirits have this peculiarity: to carry the truth, to carry their understanding of the world in the Light of Love that every Spirit feels.

When we encounter an opposing opinion, we have a desire to express our own. Why? Because it is a natural desire to bring your Light. But, if this all goes beyond the strawberry vs. apple debate, for example, instead of saying that strawberries have more vitamin C than an apple, it means they are better. And the apple supporter, instead of saying: “But an apple has 10 percent more iron, and it is better absorbed,” suddenly says to the one who said this argument: “You are stupid, you don’t understand anything, you are angry with me,” - that is, he begins to speak out about his character.

In reasonable communities, for observers who watch this discussion, this is considered a defeat in the argument, and in our country everyone knows this. Because he did not prove his point of view and did not convince his interlocutor, he only admitted that he no longer had any arguments other than to evaluate the person.

But you don’t have such an understanding yet, so this happens in your chats or even in your families. Families argue about the same subject, then they quarrel and do not talk to each other for weeks because of some subject, because of politics, because of science, because of the same esotericism. And this is normal and in the order of things for many earthlings. I believe this is because, firstly, you are not taught this, and secondly, you are not taught to control your emotions.

Maria: Yes, as you know, we are still a very young civilization, as we found out, only 12,000 years old.

01:03:44 The essence of Jesus’ words: “Blessed are the peacemakers.”

Irina: To prevent this from happening, I will give advice. When faced with a situation of a different opinion, if some kind of dispute begins, in any case, no matter what you say, no matter what you write, you must remember (if you want to improve, of course) that the Lord, God, Heavenly Father has called everyone to peace, called everyone to humility, that is, to acceptance, to reconciliation.

Jesus Christ said these words: “Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called sons of God.” He did not say that blessed are those who win an argument. He did not say that blessed are those who prove their point of view, which a person with an opposing opinion will be forced to accept under the influence of arguments.

He said, “Blessed are the peacemakers.” Who is the peacemaker? This is the one who creates the world with his mere presence, whose words do not make others want to contradict him. What words are these? These are words filled with Love and acceptance, but at the same time this person continues to adhere to his point of view, he makes it clear that this in no way interferes with the interaction and friendship of the other person with him.

Maria: You expressed it very clearly and very correctly through Irina. Indeed, in the depths of the Soul, every person knows about this, and it is very pleasant to hear these words from you. You know Jesus and his teachings very well.

Irina: Yes, Ashtar and I are talking about this. He knows him and met him. They are friends, he is more like his student.

Maria: Ashtar and Jesus?

Irina: Yes.

Maria: Like attracts like, as we know.

Irina: Yes. Ashtar visited him on the island and then told us, including the law “Blessed are the peacemakers.” This is the law not only of Jesus, not only of Christianity, it is the law of the entire Universe. Why are they blessed? "Blessed" means "absolutely happy." These are those who create peace around themselves, create peace between those who are in a quarrel and those whose Souls are gnawed by negativity. If you bring peace into these hearts, a person by this action attracts Divine grace to himself, that is, energies that directly create reality and support his Soul. He begins to consciously receive this flow of grace and therefore becomes absolutely happy, like God.

God is also a peacemaker. He created us all in harmony and in the desire that we be friends with each other, help each other and bring the Light together. And the one who is a peacemaker becomes like him. This means that it is likened to the Light of His Love and His Light of absolute happiness.

And why is it said: “They will be called sons of God”? We are already all Spirits - sons of God, but “will be named”, this means they will be recognized as themselves. God already recognizes them as children. But not all people recognize themselves as children of God, because those who do not feel Him as their Father, but feel only as their judge or as some kind of non-existent law or energy, it is very difficult for them to call God Father, but they can do it absolutely consciously and without remorse when they become peacemakers.

Maria: Thank you!

Irina: We are no longer talking only about the history of Mars.

Maria: You know, we actually have the history of Mars as an example that gives us a lot of information to think about in a broader sense.

01:08:44 Religions on Mars. Verbal interactions.

Maria: And in this regard, a very interesting question: what religion and worldview existed on Mars, what did they believe in?

Irina: There are many different magical cults: shamanism, animism, worship of the Spirits of Nature. And each tribe had its own understanding, they also fought because of this. Do you see what conflicts at the verbal level lead to? They lead to the accumulation of negativity in the noosphere, and then this can result in a war, for example, between your children or grandchildren on the physical plane.

Maria: That’s right, we see it on our planet.

Irina: I know, I heard your poems from one of Ashtar Sheran’s contactees. Now I read the following lines in the contactee’s memory: “We are not given the opportunity to predict how our word will respond...” Indeed, “it is not possible to predict,” which means you do not know what one spoken word can affect. In what direction can it turn a person’s choice, direct his aspiration, his desire? Perhaps not along the path he intended. That is, words can really change the world and change people’s worldviews.

Maria: This is really so, because our words express our inner state, the state of our emotions, our Spirit, and, if you think about it, a person who is at a high level of development and awareness can predict what effect his words will have, and anyone. We know in the Soul which words will lead to Love, to development, and which words will lower the vibrations and throw a person back and hinder his development.

Irina: Yes, but sometimes when a person speaks his words in his Light of Love, he is sure that he is speaking the true words, bringing Light and Love, feeling them, but they can resonate in other people differently.

Maria: Yes, that’s also true.

Irina: This happens. (MartiRuu) I want to say, if you see in any conversation, in your personal life, in your family, among friends or in the same chat, that an argument started and you became a participant in it, nothing bad happened, this is also an experience of manifesting your beliefs and testing them for truth. And it happens that the one who asks questions and gives opposing arguments strengthens you in his convictions even more, that is, when you begin to answer him and prove your point of view to him, you only convince yourself more of this, because by proving to him, prove to yourself. And this is also an important stage of cognition.

But if you see that this is all turning into a quarrel, into personalities, into some specific low-vibration states, you feel it in yourself or in the words of others, remember the words of the Apostle Paul: “The Lord has called us to peace...” No matter how different were your convictions, you are all divine children, and the Lord called you to peace. Just say: “I love and accept you, no matter what your opinion, you stand by it, but you remain the beloved son of God, the beloved daughter of God. I accept you and continue to provide you with support, help, love. Let us seek common ground in our beliefs rather than continue to diverge."

Maria: Very wise advice, thank you.

01:13:33 Languages on the planet Mars.

Maria: Tell me, please, how did languages develop on Mars? We know that they brought language from Earth.

Irina: At that time it was simplified Tumesout, and then there were many languages of different dialects, as well as religions, but they understood each other. For example, if you lived on Mars in areas far apart from each other, the language could be very different. As I already said, there were 42 tribes, and each had its own dialect.

Maria: But they understood each other, could they communicate?

Irina: Yes, they understood each other basically. But if the tribes were far from each other, then for them this dialect was like a foreign one.

Maria: Wasn't it like the tongue on Venus?

Irina: No, there was another one.

Maria: Okay.

01:14:39 Life expectancy of people on Mars.

Maria: Please tell me what life expectancy did people have on Mars?

Irina: Without taking into account the death of soldiers, natural life expectancy began to decline quite quickly after moving to Mars due to the fact that people destroyed themselves with their negative blocks, and, approximately, by the end of the existence of Mars, it reached 90-120 years, and before that, how people were brought to Mars, the average was around 700-800 years.

They lived a little longer than modern earthlings, and I repeat that they had different conditions then, and they were not on the planet that survived the war.

01:15:56 What did people look like on Mars?

Maria: Please tell me, what did they look like externally at the end of civilization?

Irina: They were quite tall - more than two and a half meters due to the small gravity of Mars, and rather densely built. There were many overweight men who weighed around 200 kilograms.

Maria: If it's two and a half meters, then yes.

Irina: There were quite a lot of overweight men and women. There were also tribes in which, on the contrary, such a mutation occurred, where short people were born, but they were also quite densely built. The skin color is closer to modern Europeans, cream in color, closer to light brown, like modern people.

Maria: Hair and eye color?

Irina: There was dark, red hair, green, blue eyes - there were different tribes there. There were no such racial differences, but still different tribes had a characteristic appearance that was passed down through the family. A tribe is like a collection of clans. There were differences in appearance: someone might have a longer and straighter nose or a sharp chin, while other tribes might not have this; these features also served as a reason for conflict, that is, there were xenophobic manifestations.

Maria: Were they like us, like our type?

Irina: Yes, but mostly they were higher.

Maria: Only they were taller.

01:18:48 Diet and housing of the inhabitants of Mars.

Maria: Tell me, please, what kind of food did they have, how did they eat?

Irina: They had dairy and vegetable nutrition. They could not eat fish and meat, but they hunted and made skins for clothing and for homes. The meat was given to the beast, which was a Martian predator. They were brought from Earth an animal that looked like a deer with antlers, which gave milk. And they brought them as big as bulls and cows, only overgrown with dark hair.

Maria: Yaki?

Irina: Yes, yaks or like bison. They were transported so they could take milk. Local birds provided eggs, and they could use them in limited quantities without harm to themselves. If they rarely consumed it, their body could cope with it. The egg white was digested by the same enzymes that digested milk. There wasn't enough enzyme, so there was a limited amount, but there are compounds in meat, such as lipoproteins, that they didn't have the genes to digest.

When they hunted, they skinned the animal and gave the meat to predators. They domesticated the animal, which they rode and harnessed to carts. It resembles a turtle, it has an elongated dark brown body, divided into rings, into segments, tall, when it stands on its paws, probably two meters, the head could hide inside the body. He was a predator, they gave him meat.

Maria: Like an armadillo, he can hide in his armor in case of danger.

Irina: Long body and divided by rings. Four legs, a thin tail hanging down and a head like a turtle, a thin neck going up, at the top a head like a snake, and teeth like a predator.

Maria: That is, they had predatory animals there.

Irina: Yes, they tamed them, gave them meat.

Maria: Basically, that means they were engaged in agriculture, cultivating fields?

Irina: Not just fields, but gardening. Apple trees were brought there and crossed with a local plant, resulting in bright red fruits. They were small, but there were many of them. They were genetically changed, and they tasted like an apple and at the same time a cranberry, and grew in clusters. Corn was also brought there. Martian corn was smaller in size and harder. They made a metal mechanism that, like a meat grinder, rotates and grinds these grains into flour.

Maria: So they used grain to make flour and bake bread?

Irina: They had a fire, and they could cook porridge and bread from corn.

Maria: Didn't they have any wheat?

Irina: No, it didn't take root. Barley, wheat, and cereals in general were not suitable for Martian soil.

Maria: I see, that is, they ate corn and various fruits.

Irina: Yes, milk, corn, fruits, mushrooms also grew there.

Maria: It's interesting, let's say, the menu is not as varied as the inhabitants of Earth.

Irina: Yes, the inhabitants of the Earth had many plants.

Maria: As far as we know, they were actively supported by the Interstellar Union, including technology. What kind of houses did they have, what shape?

Irina: He shows: a round hole has been dug, it is blocked by small sticks in a circle, and above them there is a roof in the form of a cone.

Maria: Like a round yurt. That is, they did not have stone settlements, like on Venus.

Irina: They were made of stones, but there were fewer of them. There were many wooden buildings.

01:25:18 Destruction of Venus and Mars by Selbet.

Maria: So they lived at the end of their existence, before Selbet's attack?

Irina: Yes, they practically did not have large cities, there were small settlements scattered across Mars. Therefore, when they were attacked, they began to hide in caves in the mountains, in crevices. Selbet's ships flew over Mars several times and used such weapons that evaporated the oceans, and the temperature in the planet's atmosphere sharply increased, and those who were on the surface practically burned out, including representatives of the Interstellar Union who lived at the base there. This happened very quickly; the residents did not have time to be taken out.

It was such a thing on Venus that after the people were taken out, when the Selbetites arrived there, they saw that there was no population there. But they assumed that Venus would again be populated by people, and therefore they sprayed special gases into the clouds, which produced a large release of heat, and almost completely destroyed oxygen, that is, they reacted with it, the oxygen turned into carbon dioxide and into compounds in the ground. The atmosphere became denser and saturated with sulfuric acid and hydrogen chloride.

That is, they spoiled the atmosphere, and from the influence of these weapons it moved closer to the Sun. They first shot at Venus, then flew there, saw that there were no inhabitants there, and made the atmosphere uninhabitable, including an increasing greenhouse effect, blocking the Sun, etc.

01:27:58 Reasons for Selbet's attack on Earth.

Maria: MartiRuu, please tell me, do you know the reasons why Selbet considered the civilizations of Mars, Venus and Earth, which were quite undeveloped by the standards of the Interstellar Union, to be a danger to the entire Galaxy? After all, there are other civilizations in the Galaxy that have an equally destructive path of development.

Irina: I believe that what they say "we considered dangerous" is just a cover for their goal, they did this out of anger at the policy of the Interstellar Union, which did not allow them to experiment with dinosaurs, with reptiles and did not introduce more genes in people. They said that people are dangerous, they will enter the Interstellar Union and will sow confusion, divide us, etc., they gave various examples when people went their own way, not listening to representatives of the Interstellar Union.

For example, the Interstellar Union tells people that it is undesirable to build a city in this place, because there is, for example, a swamp or a volcano with harmful gases nearby, which could subsequently explode, and there will be a danger for your descendants. But some people were inclined to ignore, they could say: "This is our world..." They did not say it directly, but only among themselves. That is, they did not say this to the Gods themselves, they obeyed for the sake of appearance, but it happened that they went their own way.

These examples of disobedience were given by the Selbetites at the council of the Interstellar Union. Also, when visiting the ships of the Interstellar Union, there were attempts to secretly appropriate some equipment for themselves.

Maria: Yes, a well-known quality among representatives of our civilization is called "privatization."

Irina: There were examples of negative behavior of some earthlings. Even then there were cases of people being sacrificed to the Gods. They were not cannibals. There was an investigation into these cases, and those priests who were at this event said that “you yourself told us so,” that is, under the guise of representatives of the Interstellar Union, plasmoids appeared who liked the energy of sacrifices.

Maria: Yes, we know that on our planet, next to us, there are other civilizations, plasmoids, which, just like us, have different levels of spiritual development and awareness. Therefore, all worlds are similar in their spiritual qualities, and I think that for our viewers this information will be very interesting for reflection, for comparison and for understanding how different civilizations can develop, including, as we now know, representatives of our own civilization. Thank you very much, MartyRuu!

Irina: Thank you too!

Maria: Thank you, Irochka!

Irina: Thank you, Masha, thank you MartyRuu, it was very interesting. Thank you, dear friends! There was an interesting conference not only about Mars, but also about ourselves, about our Souls and our chats. The main thing is that our Souls are in purity and Love in any chat, in any society, and we can raise our vibrations and perceive our opponents not as opponents and rivals who humiliate us, but as our teachers who show us our blocks, to our shortcomings and help us improve.

Maria: Yes, and our friends from the Selbet civilization are a good example of this. The fact is that even when making mistakes, you can always get a new chance for development and for returning to the Light of God. Thank you, dear friends, for your attention, see you again!

Irina: Thank you!

#427 Live broadcast. Q&A with MidgasCaus and LiSioni.

00:03 Introduction of participants.

Irina : Hello, dear friends! Good evening.

Maxim : Dear friends, hello everyone! Oddly enough, YouTube has not yet been disabled. Therefore, I’m glad to hear and see everyone. We have great news. For residents of Europe who want to attend the Cassiopeia retreat, we are organizing a retreat tour to the city of Dalyan (Turkey) from June 1 to June 7, 2022. The link is under the video. You can add to the group on Telegram: https://t.me/cassiopeia_turkey. Later we will give introductory information on how to get to our retreat and how to register. The retreat will be very cool, very cool. Accommodation will be in triple rooms. The city of Dalyan is a chic, energy-saturated place, where there are a huge number of places of power, there are ancient temples.

In addition to 7 days of practice, there will be 3 wonderful excursions: House of the Virgin Mary. The Mother of God lived in it for 7 years. We will arrive at this house, they will meet us there, and show us everything. We will definitely conduct a practice dedicated to the Mother of God. Plus, a boat trip to Oludeniz Beach will be included - one of the most luxurious beaches in Turkey. We will also have Tlos - these are the ruins of an ancient city with a 4 thousand-year history. At these ruins we will communicate with the Spirits of the area, with the Spirits of nature, with the Spirits of those who were present during the construction of this city.

Our dear Europeans, we are organizing this tour for you because we don't know when we will be able to see you again. And the only place where we can still see each other is Türkiye. Anyone who wants to join our retreat in Turkey can follow the link to the Telegram chat, where we will tell you all how to register and get to this retreat.

So, well, Irisha, let's go.

Irina : Hello, dear friends! Present today are the curators of our Cassiopeia project: LiShioni from the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world, and MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien civilizations. They greet you.

We decided to alternate when non-embodied Spirits and our alien curators come on the live broadcast, who can also answer questions and tell us all interesting things.

Maxim: Guys, I forgot to tell you that a blogger with 400 thousand subscribers made another video about us. I say hello to him and invite him to meet live or recorded. His name is Mikhail Lidin. Misha, we are waiting for you on the live broadcast. I already understood that you are a materialist. I would like to talk to you about the topic we are working on and what we are doing in general. So write. You have all the coordinates. I see you even found my old project "Children Bloggers". Therefore, I think it will not be difficult for you to find us. We are ready.

Irina: The man worked hard. Look how much you took off.

Maxim : Yes, I worked hard. He made a video about everyone. Well done. Therefore, Misha, talking behind your back is very cool, but what about meeting face to face? So that you can communicate, so that not only you can talk to people, but we can also explain what we do. That's why we're waiting, Misha.

04:55 Protection of the energy information space of the Solar system.

Maxim : We have Galactic news.

Irina : Yes. What's our Galactic news?

(MidgasKaus) A few days ago, a regular meeting of the Interstellar Union was held on the planet Burkhad, in which representatives of the Galactic Federation of Light also took part. They discussed the construction of new planets, terraforming new planets and working with young planets where races that were not included in the Interstellar Union live.

Planet Selbet, planet Artakal - this civilization is part of the Pleiades group of civilizations and the Galactic Federation of Light, but is also reptilian, this is Selbet in Pleiadian. The third planet Saftros is the civilization of Lyra. Psychologists and xenobiologists from these three planets founded a coalition to protect the Solar System, to protect the energy-information space of the Solar System from negative energies. They were asked about this by the subtle-material civilizations of the giant planets of the Solar System: Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus.

The fact is that everything that happens on Earth, energetically, all the thoughts, feelings, emotions, desires that earthlings, earthly peoples experience, all of this affects the solar system. And in order to prevent this from negatively affecting the plasmoid civilizations of the Solar System, these three planets proposed creating a special group of scientists who would send special energy-information devices on their ships to help these subtle civilizations. Their decision is due to the fact that while earthlings on Earth are learning their lessons of tolerance, Love and peacefulness, this should not interfere with the creatures of the Solar System.

(LiScioni) Yes, indeed, such a question was raised. The thing is that the Earth and its energy structure are an integral part of the energy structure of the Solar System. And the energy structure of the Solar System is an integral part of the energy structure of the Galaxy. Everything affects everything.

Maxim : Great news.

Guys, I'm now posting a link to Mikhail Lidin's YouTube channel. You can see. We are not afraid of this because many materialists think so. We will respect the opinion of any materialist, any confessor, and, in principle, any person who is engaged in esoteric practices. The fact that he does not yet believe in it, does not feel it, does not mean that it does not exist.

It's like a good joke.

- Do you see the mink?

- Yes.

- Do you see the gopher in it?

- No.

- And he is there.

Therefore, what to believe or what to tell to whom, of course, he chooses himself. Well done, I found a good topic to hype about. We are waiting for him on the live broadcast, if he still deigns to go live, and he is not just a cowardly blogger with 400 thousand subscribers.

Mead, how do you understand our saying: “Live forever, learn and die a fool”?

Irina : (MidgasKaus) I heard the saying: “Live forever, learn forever, and die a fool,” and I understand the spiritual meaning that is inherent in it. At a simple everyday level, it contains the meaning of infinity of levels of knowledge. No matter how many incarnations you go through, there will still be something to know, because God is infinite in his qualities, which can be manifested through incarnations. Therefore, no matter what level you reach, there will still be something you can go to.

Maxim : How did you begin to understand earthly psychology well?!

Is Mikhail Lidin a coward or not, we’ll see. I hope he still comes out to talk and we can talk. I hope this conversation will be constructive. He will give his strong arguments, arguments regarding the fact that he does not understand something there.

“Will there be a broadcast with Rolf Schulz? We wrote to you." We don’t want to broadcast with him yet, we don’t know who he is.

Mid, from what spiritual level did you incarnate?

Irina: From level 21. He and I incarnated from the same level. Only he incarnated earlier - in 1932 Earth time and on planet Esler, and I in 1986 on planet Earth.

Maxim : “The FSB guy will be on the air again with that.” I don’t know which FSB guy we have on air. Someone must have seen someone somewhere.

How do we know where the Spirit of Pierre Simon incarnated?

11:52 Civilizations Arctura and Regula.

Maxim : What civilizations live on Arcturus, Regulus?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Irina was previously given this information by Kirchiton. All planets were named in the Daraal language.

On Arcturus, or rather on the planet that revolves around Arcturus, there is the civilization of Khomureta, something between “x” and “g”, Gomuret, a civilization of a humanoid type, anthropomorphs, lives there. They look like earthlings, only they have light skin color, and ears, like the Eslerites, they are a little similar to them. Large dark eyes. They are also part of the Interstellar Union.

The star Regulus is the alpha of the constellation Leo, only plasmoid civilizations live in it. Specifically, there are 37 different forms of density on Regulus.

Maxim : They ask: “Mid, is there such a civilization as the Iargans?”

Irina: It’s better to give a description of appearance. Iargans - what language is this in? Irina is given names in the Daraal language. For example, the same planet Gomuret, if I call it in Eslerian, is called Akhtash.

Maxim : I understand. In general, we need to show the photo to Mid.

Irina: Just need a description.

Maxim : Mid, what kind of wall runs along the bottom of our ocean from Antarctica to the North Pole almost along the prime meridian? They say it's a 2-kilometer wall.

Irina: There was a question. There is no wall going through there. What was filmed is a defect in the program that produces the image.

Maxim : This is really a defect in the program, isn’t it a wall?

Irina: No. Because in some photographs it appears in one place, but if you look at the coordinates well, then in other programs, if you also apply a coordinate grid, it will be in a completely different place. And that place will be clean. She seems to be moving.

He says there is no wall there.

15:20 Destructive forces in the solar system.

Maxim : What percentage are destructive forces in the Universe?

Irina: What do you mean by the Universe?

Maxim : Let's say, in our solar system. What is the percentage of destructive energies and forces in our solar system?

Irina: Destructive forces, if you mean subtle-material civilizations, then in our Galaxy the percentage of destructive plasmoid civilizations is 17%, in the Solar System - 22%, and on Earth - 37%. Recently it was 34%, but now it is 37%. But these are destructive plasmoid civilizations that feed on negative energies.

Maxim : We added 3%?

Irina: Yes, literally a year ago we had 34%.

Maxim : Apparently, when we have these types of wars and situations, the percentage of destructive forces is added to our planet.

Irina: Of course. The fact is that when a large flow of fear, anger, hatred, anger, resentment comes from people, these emotions and feelings go to the Astral. And when they go to the Astral, they pass through subtle worlds, because at all levels of density the world of one density is embedded in another. The principle is not like a nesting doll, but like a film of another world inside one world. It's like shells.

And when vital energy, charged with certain negative thoughts, feelings and emotions, emanates from the dense material world, it rises to the astral world, to the egregor. But before getting into the egregor, it passes through all the subtle worlds. And those plasmoids that are there shrink from this. If they are high vibrational, then they begin to experience discomfort. This cannot be called physical pain, but it is like mental oppression, that is, how darkness is cast upon them. Some of them retreat from people, rise to another level of density so as not to be in this energy, while others feel offended, become similar to these energies and begin to feed on them.

Maxim : We already talked about El Morya, we have a video.

Have you heard, Irina, about the new prophet, Leonid Ivanovich?

Irina: It's so good that at least they wrote down the middle name. What about the last name?

Maxim : Leonid Ivanovich Maslov – we have a new prophet.

Irina: Maslov Leonid, I heard something about him, but did not specifically study his prophecies.

Maxim : Dear Leonid Ivanovich, we are ready to communicate with the new prophet. We are open to communication with any prophets on this planet. Therefore, we are waiting for you. Call, write. We will be happy to talk with you.

Irina: I heard that this person communicated with someone, passed on information, back in the 90s it happened, but no specifics.

Maxim : We are waiting for Leonid Ivanovich to contact us, we are ready to talk with him.

19:29 Chinese Wall.

Maxim: Mid, they say that the Chinese Wall is some kind of special border. Haven't you heard of this?

Irina: Irina had a video where they asked a question about the Chinese Wall. I attended this conference and remember the answer well.

The Chinese wall was indeed built on the border between the tribes of the Proto-Slavs who lived in the territory north of it, and those tribes from which one of the leaders, who became the Chinese emperor, later formed a single Chinese people. But previously these were scattered tribes that, before the formation of the Chinese Wall, fought with the Proto-Slavs. And after the Proslavians defeated them, they obliged these nomads to build a wall against future attacks, both as protection and as a designation of certain borders.

20:38 Talent and its implementation.

Maxim : Where does people's talent come from, or is it born, and how to implement it correctly?

Irina: All talents are not just gifts to you from the Higher Powers. These are the qualities you developed in past incarnations that you came to realize in this incarnation. Either to develop this quality further, or to help others realize it. But more often, of course, these two goals coincide. How to implement it? It depends on what your talent is.

If there is talent, then constant practice in this direction is necessary, not to be afraid to move forward, not to be afraid of mistakes, not to be afraid of the condemnation of other people. If you fall into fear that you will be misunderstood, that you will be judged, or that you will make a mistake and be punished for it, then you will not be able to realize your talent. Because its implementation requires confidence, courage and willingness to take responsibility for these results.

Maxim : Irina, people here write that you are a new prophet. How do you feel about this?

Irina: Prophet? A prophet is someone who predicts the future, as far as I even know the meaning of this word. The future has many options. I'm not in the business of predicting the future. So I don't consider myself a prophet. I'm a contactee.

22:20 Karmic relationships.

Maxim : How do you understand that you are in a karmic relationship?

Irina: Unfortunately, MidgasKaus and LiShioni have a slightly different concept of karma than Buddhists and modern esotericists.

And what relationships are not karmic? Karma is not only the burden, not only the legacy that you brought from past incarnations, but it is also the baggage that you accumulate in this life. This is approximately like a bank account in which you can accumulate certain energies, or take them from there for your needs. But this is very approximate. Therefore, any relationship is karmic in the sense that karma can be either from a past life or acquired in this life. And, by the way, you continue to accumulate karma every day of your life; there is also karma of the present.

23:59 Anesthesia. Allergy. Alcohol.

Maxim : Where is the Soul during anesthesia?

Irina: In the Astral. Spatially, it can be close to the body, or it can be on any astral level, in any world, egregor.

Maxim : Mid, a question for you: why do people develop allergies, and why do allergies arise to the simplest things?

Irina: Physical and spiritual reasons are different, but both can be connected. Physical causes are chronic infections, infection with helminths, parasites, slow liver function, and therefore internal intoxication of the body occurs. And the spiritual reason is suppressed anger, including at oneself, irritation, resentment and guilt, that is, these are like blocks.

Maxim : To work with allergic reactions, you need to work with your internal blocks that cause these allergic reactions. I understand correctly?

Irina: Yes. But also get tested and find out what is happening to the body. There must be a comprehensive work.

Maxim : Mid, who invented alcohol on our planet?

Irina: What do you mean, who invented alcohol? The same one who invented all the substances. All substances are created according to the laws of chemistry by nature. These are certain natural reactions.

Alcohol itself is a natural substance. Now it is created by man. But there are conditions in nature for its natural formation. This is the metabolism of, for example, various bacteria that feed on glucose, sugar and produce alcohol as by-products. I wouldn't say that it is created by plasmoids, but it is created by some living organisms that are created by plasmoids. Moreover, in every human body, a cell or group of liver cells also produces some amount of alcohol. It is needed for your internal biochemical processes.

Maxim : I understand. Is it true that the reptilian gland is the product of Draco's gene experiments 65 million years ago?

Irina: What is a reptilian gland? Thyroid, or what? Which gland do you consider reptilian? (MidgasKaus) I'm already at a loss as to which gland is considered reptilian.

Maxim : Please write which gland you consider reptilian, so that we can clearly understand that we are asking a question to a smart alien.

27:23 Invisible planets of the solar system.

Maxim : Are there many planets in the solar system hidden from us by a force magnetic field? And their location needs to be revealed.

Irina: There are no planets hidden from earthlings by a force magnetic field. You may not be referring to planets, but to ships of extraterrestrial civilizations, for example, Ashtar Sheran, the Galactic Federation of Light, the Interstellar Union, and their bases, which are located in the Solar System. They can be, among other things, spherical in shape, like, for example, the ship of Ashtar Sheran, and indeed they can be hidden by reflective fields so that it is impossible for your astronomers to see these ships and thereby sow misunderstanding and panic among the earth's population, since they do not know. who is this.

Maxim : Guys, so we don't have planets hidden by the magnetic field. We may have ships that come into our solar system that hide under this field so that our scientists don't panic.

28:35 LiSioni about Jesus Christ.

Maxim : "LiShioni, please describe Christ." Why should LiSioni describe Christ? LiSioni, how do you see him?

Irina: He met him.

Maxim : Describe it then.

Irina: I remember. He met him on the ship. Remember when Jesus Christ traveled the Galaxy? (LiShioni)I met him on the ship.

Maxim : And what did you talk to him about?

Irina: (LiScioni) I talked with him about myself, about my mission, about my work on Earth, including in the Cassiopeia project, and about my family, only about my family, as about my family egregor, about parents.

This is a tall man, above the average height on Earth, about 2 meters, with fairly fair skin, lighter than, for example, Irina, but it is not white, like the Burkhadians. He has a beard and dark mustache. His eyes could change color. (Shows brown eyes, they could change color to blue.) This is due to his ability to control the amount of pigment in his eyes, because he knows how to control his body. He can fly in a physical body and change the ratio of substances.

Maxim : What does it mean to “fly in a physical body”?

Irina: Levitate, in your opinion.

Maxim : Did he do this on Earth?

Irina: Of course. For example, walking on water is also levitation.

Maxim : Oh, I understand.

Irina: He was wearing white clothes. He has a long cape folded to one side. It is so white that it even glows a little.

31:23 Parkinson's disease.

Maxim : Please tell me where Parkinson’s disease came from, and can it be cured on our planet? Mead, you know Parkinson's disease, right? I'm sure of it.

Irina: Yes. There was a video about Parkinson's disease. There was a whole program about this disease with our neurologist, neuropathologist.

Maxim : Do we have this video?

Irina: Yes. He talked about blocks. Parkinson's disease is a disorder in the brain structures that control muscle movement in the body. They become incapable of carrying out the commands of the mind, the commands of that part of the embodied Spirit that is in the body and gives signals and orders for movement.

Due to damage to these brain structures, not enough hormones, such as dopamine, are released to make these movements easy and fast. The person experiences partial paralysis. This can also be a result of injury, hypertensive crisis or micro-stroke and negative blocks located in the sixth and seventh chakras.

Maxim : Volodya, thank you for blocking inappropriate people who are really trying to express their indignation in unconventional speech. A person is simply perplexed how 3,000 people can watch such nonsense.

Irina: Why is he watching it?

Maxim : So I have this question: why then is he looking?

Irina: Dear friend, if you are wondering why 3000 people are watching, think that when you turned on this video, you became one of these 3 thousand.

Maxim : They ask how to contact Jesus Christ? We have already answered this question several times. But let's answer again how to contact him.

Irina: We had a video with the phantom of Jesus Christ. He comes into contact with earthlings either in the form of the Christ Consciousness or in the form of a phantom, he has quite a lot of contactees, and not only on Earth, but, for example, on Burkhad, and on Esler, and on Tumesout, and even in others galaxies exist. He communicates through the Astral with many entities.

And in the subtle worlds there are contactees. He cannot immediately remove his phantoms from everyone and direct them to one person. If there are questions, He sends another phantom to him. For example, He sent a phantom to me because we asked Him to answer questions from our viewers and subscribers of the Cassiopeia project. There have already been four meetings with His phantom.

Maxim : You can watch these four meetings, and it clearly states how you can contact him.

The question is: Mead, do you think it is possible to organize the interaction of the Earth's plasmoids with the farmers of our country through "Cassiopeia", so that they tell these farmers how to properly or harmoniously grow crops?

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Yes, of course, let them come. Irina will be happy to talk about this with the plasmoids and ask them your questions.

Maxim : Dear farmers, we are always waiting for you, come and ask questions. We will respond to the best of our ability.

Irina: In the case of plasmoids, these are subtle-material entities, if you decide to contact them through me and ask questions, then remember that the more specific the question, the more specific the answer will be.

Maxim : "Please tell me how to move the assemblage point?" You see, the fact is that the terminology "assemblage point", I remember, was on air with Carlos Castaneda.

LiSioni, MidgasCaus, do you know what an "assemblage point" is and how to move it?

Irina: We were at a conference when Irina spoke with the curators of Carlos Castaneda. Two parts of the video about him have been posted, including about the assemblage point. The curators themselves answered there, and we were at this conference. (MidgasKaus) "The assemblage point," in the terminology of the curators of Carlos Castaneda, his teacher who transmitted knowledge to him, is a certain point of attention, a point of consciousness that moves from one chakra to another. You can find out more about this by watching the video.

Maxim : The question now will be interesting: who are the Time Keepers of the South and the Council of Twelve P.S. “The Subtle World AM” Gennady Kharitonov?

We are ready to get in touch with him if he wants it. We can give him feedback from who he communicates with, what kind of civilizations, why exactly the Time Keepers of the South, we can communicate with them. But for this he must contact us.

Irina: What is “ps.”? This is his terminology. It would probably be more correct for us to ask him this, because we need to find out what this means in our terminology, and for this we will need to meet with him.

37:58 Is it possible to incarnate into helium in a Star?

Maxim : They ask: “Is it possible to incarnate into helium in a star?”

Irina: Helium cannot be incarnated into a star. Only a plasmoid can be embodied in it; by the way, it does not consist of helium. It consists of subtle-material energies, of subtle-material structures, which consist of material energies of the density level where this or that world is located. Each star can have a different number of density levels.

Maxim : Helium could be the atmosphere of a star.

Irina: This is the gas that makes up a star. One of the gases, I understand.

Maxim : “We need to create a Cassiopeia museum.” He will be a little later.

39:16 Kashpirovsky and Chumak are contactees.

Maxim : Were Kashpirovsky and Chumak contactees? How effective were their methods really?

Irina: You can test the effectiveness of the methods for yourself. This is individual for everyone. Yes, they were contactees with plasmoid civilizations. Alan Chumak was still in contact with the planet Burkhad in the Astral Plane and with plasmoids.

#429 Chakra system. A unique numerological calculation of the Interstellar Union for earthlings.

00:20 Introduction of participants.

Maria: Hello, dear friends! We are glad to welcome you to our Cassiopeia project. Today we have an interesting topic about the calculation of the chakra system, which we received from our interstellar friends, from our curators, from Mead. And today we want to ask him a little more about this system.

Hello, friends! Hello, Irochka! Hello Mead!

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today with me is my curator MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.

It was Mead who conveyed to me the systems of calculation of the spiritual level, the Tree of Life, and the chakra system. They use all this to analyze, one might say, the original characteristics of the Spirit that incarnated.

(MidgasCaus) I welcome everyone. The thing is that these formulas are also known to the Consulting Angels who embody the Spirit, including sending the Spirit to Earth. Therefore, on Earth, to calculate this formula, the last name, first name, patronymic, and date of birth of a person are important. Because it is the digital code that is individual, it is assigned in letters, and there is a digital code for the date of birth, they must add up to a certain formula, which the Consulting Angels who embody the Spirit also know.

02:28 Features of the chakra calculation formula for earthlings.

Maria: Thank you, Mead. Just such a question. This is the Interstellar Union system, and it is designed for the inhabitants of the Interstellar Union. With their names, their date of birth and, importantly, their number of chakras. As we know, you have many more chakras than earthlings. Tell me, please, was this formula, this system somehow altered especially for us?

Irina: For Spirits who incarnate on Earth, there is a special chakra formula. Not the same as for us, we have different characteristics.

For example, each planet has not seven chakras, but its own number. This means that other numbers serve as the basis for our calculations.

Firstly, we have slightly different names, including family names and different dates of birth. We do not have a division, for example, into day, month and year. Our calculations are based on the sectors of the direction of the planet's axis towards one or another sector of the Galaxy.

Maria: How interesting. That is, the formula is different.

Irina: He shows a diagram: a planet in Space, and an axis emerges from its poles, which is directed to one or another constellation. And using special formulas they calculate which constellation it was directed at. He says, "Precession."

04:22 Manifestation of the Spirit with different numbers of chakras.

Maria: Very interesting. Your structure of the Spirit is different from ours. Because our structure of the rational immortal Spirit consists of a spiritual heart, mind, energy. And the Spirit manifests through seven chakras, which have different meanings. So, if you have more chakras, then you have more manifestation of the Spirit than we do?

Irina: It's just that the same property of the Spirit or its part manifests itself not in one chakra, but in several.

Maria: I see. Can you give any example? What chakras?

Irina: Example. The spiritual heart, which is manifested in you through Anahata, through the heart center, is manifested in us through three centers. In your opinion, these are separate instinctive energies, separate energies of feelings and separate energies of desires.

Maria: Does this give the Spirit more opportunity to manifest itself?

Irina: This gives the Spirit more opportunity in the stream of consciousness, the embodied part of the Spirit, in the brain, in your opinion, to distinguish between these movements of the heart or structures of the heart, instincts, feelings or desires.

Maria: Mead, please tell me, can we thus conclude that depending on the civilization in which the Spirit incarnates, it has some limitations. Or, conversely, is there more opportunity for growth in some direction?

Irina: We do not perceive the modern meaning of the word “limitation” as a border, as some kind of obstacle that delays development. We consider limitation as special material conditions for a greater manifestation of the spiritual principle. That is, it's like training.

07:07 What is a manifestation of Love?

Maria: I see. That is, you can, being in any civilization, develop in the same way and achieve the same goals.

Irina: Of course. It is possible, being in any body, at any level of density or on any planet of the Universe, not only the Milky Way Galaxy, you can develop, develop in yourself the Light of infinite Love. And not only to develop it in your heart, but also to manifest it in the surrounding reality, that is, to create.

The main manifestation of Love in the material world is creative activity aimed at improving the world.

Of course, you can say, or you, dear friends, can say that the world is initially perfect because it consists of Divine energies. But it was given to you initially in such a form so that you could show your creativity.

Maria: A very positive outlook on the difficulties and adversities in life. If you look at them as opportunities for development and improvement.

Irina: The whole point is that the difficulties and adversities of life encourage the Spirit or a person, in general any living being, to bypass these difficulties by making plans to level out its consequences. This develops thinking, connection with the spiritual principle, and, ultimately, if we even look at the animal world, difficulties develop the social nervous system, because they bypass these difficulties in order, thanks to the instinct of self-preservation, to preserve themselves and their species. And this contributes to greater development of brain neurons and, more importantly, to the complexity of neurotransmitter connections between neurons.

Again he switched to interesting language.

Maria: I understand.

Irina: These are connections between neurons. They are connected not only by axons, but also by synapses, those areas where so-called neurotransmitters are transmitted - substances that serve as a link between the emotions, desires and thoughts of the Spirit itself and the body.

Maria: Thank you. Very interesting.

10:00 Evolution. The process of complication.

Irina: And I want to say that an animal evolves thanks to adversity and difficulties in its life, because if it is in complete peace, contentment and without any danger, it will simply live its life, following the instinct of self-preservation and reproduction. But he will have no reason to complicate his brain structure. Any complication requires energy. Why should he waste energy if there is no reason for it? This also contradicts the instinct of self-preservation.

Maria: Mid, it's all logical. Tell me, please, how to complicate their neural connections for civilizations that have reached a high level of spiritual development, and they no longer have any difficulties or problems in life? Robots do everything for them. Everything is equipped, everything is wonderful.

Irina: And this depends on what specific quality of the Soul we develop. In general, for everyone who incarnates in the material world, the primary task is to develop Love in themselves.

You can develop it in yourself in various ways. Through overcoming instinctive principles within oneself, but not as overcoming, but as harmonization and control of them. Like it is, for example, on Earth. Or through creative activity, enhanced by the capabilities of civilization that are part of the Interstellar Union.

For example, I incarnated there from the twenty-first level (Mid). My task, like all of you, is the development of Love. Only by going through your individual path in your civilization, including those associated with contacts with another form of life that is not part of the Interstellar Union.

I dedicated part of my life to this, where I am now. And I have already sincerely fallen in love with you, as Souls who are similar to me, but are in a completely different world, for me, of course, already more understandable than it was at the beginning.

But, nevertheless, for the majority of the inhabitants of my civilization and the majority of the inhabitants of the Interstellar Union, your world looks like a dangerous, unpredictable place.

12:56 Lessons from Spirits incarnating on Earth.

Maria: He looks like that to us too.

Irina: I found my charm in it, because where there is a danger of leaving the incarnation, or because of diseases that they cannot yet treat, or because of a cataclysm, or because of the criminal plans of other Spirits who cannot be recognized by your governments. Where there is a constant danger of leaving the incarnation due to the instinct of self-preservation, the Spirit begins to value its life more.

And here is a lesson for you: to walk between fear and trust, without completely deviating to either side. And to retain the ability to preserve your physical body and take care of it, and at the same time remembering that you are Spirit. This is such a unique opportunity.

Maria: I completely agree with you. I think that, like on Earth, there are very few places where there is such a unique opportunity to develop your Spirit in the most difficult conditions.

Irina: There are civilizations that are at a technically less equipped level. And they also have wars and injustice there.

It is you who are in such conditions when your nature, the biosphere and, in general, the entire planet Earth is considered a very generous planet. In many languages of the Galaxy it is called “The Heart of the Generosity of the Universe.” Like a focus.

And getting to such a planet is an opportunity to learn how to manage both natural resources and the resources of the biosphere, and correctly interact with the Spirits of nature.

Maria: Yes, you're right. There are a lot of opportunities for development here in a variety of areas.

Irina: In the Spiritual world, I communicate with my Angels-mentors and I want to say that in fact there is always a queue from the Spiritual world to a planet like Earth.

Maria: I also heard about this, that this is a planet that many Spirits strive to get to and experience incarnation here, especially many incarnations, which greatly develops the Spirit, gives it a very large palette of different feelings, skills, emotions and energies in the end .

Irina: And your civilization, as I already said, actually counts not from three million years, but from twelve thousand years.

Maria: Yes, I completely agree with you. Twelve thousand years ago.

Irina: Formally this is three million years, but in fact it is twelve thousand years. Because in fact you have lost all your achievements that you had before the war. And energy, and civilizational, and social.

Maria: Yes, you're absolutely right. I also look at it from this point of view, and more than one curator has already told us about this. And our friends from the Pleiades also consider us in this regard, as a very rapidly developing civilization, which managed to rise from the ruins in twelve thousand years and develop to the level at which we are now.

Irina: Let’s move on to the questions.

17:11 Components of the vital force of the Spirit. The interaction of the body and spirit of an earthling.

Maria: Yes, let's move on to questions about our calculation, which we use to calculate the chakra system of earthlings.

In it we consider three parameters. We calculate for each chakra this energy as a percentage and the manifested energy.

Please tell me how they differ? We calculate two parameters for each of the seven chakras. This energy in our total amounts to one hundred percent - this is what the Spirit laid down in its incarnation. Based on one hundred percent of the energy, it distributes it to each chakra in a certain ratio. And we have manifested energy - the second parameter that we calculate.

Did we understand this calculation correctly? That, firstly, this energy shows the energy that the Spirit invested precisely in this, with this name, with this date of birth. And by changing the name, this energy changes accordingly.

Irina: The original energy of the Spirit, which is given for incarnation, is the amount of vital energy that he received for self-incarnation from three sources. This is from the Consulting Angels. They, naturally, take from Divine sources and endow it with primary etheric energy.

The second source: when it passes through the egregor of the people, the country. It is endowed with a second ethereal shell, to put it simply.

And the third: when it passes through an egregor of a kind - a generic egregor. As already mentioned in the information on calculating life tasks: both the folk egregor or political, as it is now called, and the ancestral or family egregor, as an energy exchange for the energy given to the Spirit, offers him tasks.

Manifestation of energies through the body - this parameter shows for each chakra how the body received this Spirit.

That is, he either weakened the manifestation according to some of his genetic inclinations, according to the energy of his father and mother, or, on the contrary, strengthened this manifestation of his energy along the chakras.

But I want to say that the manifested energies through the body, through the chakras, can be strengthened. They can be brought to the potential energy that was placed in this chakra.

Maria: Is this necessary?

Irina: Or weaken it. You have this understanding that the chakra is closed. Does not work.

Maria: Yes.

Irina: All these energies are given at birth. But if the chakra is closed by some blocks, then the energy that is manifested through the chakra becomes closed. That is, it does not manifest itself in such a volume; it can be closed by a different amount of percent, for example, by 10%, a quarter of a percent, 25%, etc.

The more energy is manifested through a chakra, the more of its energy is manifested in a person's life, the more thoughts, desires, attractions and actions he will have on the topic supervised by this chakra.

Maria: That is, through the manifested qualities that manifest themselves through this chakra.

22:27 The influence of changing the name of an earthling on his energies.

Maria: What happens when a person changes his name? At the same time, our calculation changes.

Irina: First name or last name?

Maria: An ordinary person changes his last name. For example, this happens more often in women, but sometimes people change their name for some reason. For example, they move to another country, and they will use a completely different alphabet.

Irina: The same thing happens as with the calculation of the Tree of Life. But unlike the Tree of Life, the chakra calculation that was made at the moment of birth does not disappear anywhere, it still remains.

If a person has changed his name, and this is recorded in official documents. An official document means that it is highlighted in the social egregor and its number in the system makes it visible. After all, any documents are also a set of numbers.

Maria: Yes. This is a very important topic, because sometimes mistakes happen, but, as we know, they are not accidental either. Typos, errors.

Irina: If a person notices it, he can correct it. If he didn't do this, it's also no coincidence. And if you change your name in the documents, then the new chakra calculation also begins to operate, but it acts together with the old one. They act together or synergistically with each other. And here the general rule of seven years is no longer observed, and almost immediately after changing the name and surname, a new calculation begins to operate along with the old one. And as a result, a person gets something in between.

It depends on his inner mood. Because it happens that he only changed the documents, but did not change his internal content. In this case, it will be a new calculation for him, only his potential will not be revealed.

On Esler and in the Interstellar Union, very often in our physics, biology, sociology such a term as “unmanifested energy” is mentioned. You call this potential energy.

This is the potential of any energy: be it material or spiritual energy, which exists but is not manifested for some reason.

It may also be with a new chakra calculation for a new first and last name. For example, according to the new calculation, it turns out that the fourth chakra, by percentage, will work a third more. What is the fourth chakra? This is a manifestation of the spiritual heart. And if she works a third more, it means that this person becomes more sympathetic, compassionate, his love for nature increases, and so on.

But that doesn't mean that name will automatically change that person's heart. It is the will of this person: to change or not. There is no such magical effect here that you took a magic wand in the form of a pen, changed all your data and became an enlightened person. That's not how it works.

What works here is that if you changed your name, that, for example, the fourth chakra increased its energy by a third, by thirty percent, then you have the potential to strengthen it. And it not only appeared, but intensified.

You already have the opportunity to develop, even though at birth it was completely closed, like zero percent. It happens. This means that it was not manifested in a past life. In her previous life she was blocked for some reason. And precisely the task of this incarnation is to reveal it.

And if a person changes his name in such a way that the energy increases, then he has a potential, which we call potential energy, so that he can more easily use this energy. We perceive this not as a duty, but as assistance to its development.

It's like your cell phone with a fully charged battery powering it, but you also have a spare battery in your pocket. The spare battery for this phone is precisely potential energy. You don't use it in any way when it's in your pocket. But you have it.

Maria: We can say that this shows us, when we look at this energy, how the Spirit wanted to distribute this energy, which chakras or which manifestations are more important for it, which are less important for this incarnation.

Irina: It already depends on the spiritual level. Whoever wanted it. If he is at a high level, then he distributed it as he wanted. If he is on a lower spiritual level, he distributed as best he could. If, for example, he did not have the potential to fill the fourth chakra, he will have to work it out in his life in which he incarnates. This is one of his goals and objectives.

That is why our chakra formula specialists can also tell you quite indirectly, but a lot about life’s tasks even without seeing the Tree of Life, for example.

Maria: I see. Distributed energy, the ratio of energies shows for what purposes the Spirit came.

Irina: Yes. By looking at the chakra formula and the formula of the Spirit and comparing them with each other: which property manifested itself through which chakra, one can draw a conclusion about the goals.

Maria: About the goals of incarnation.

Irina: Yes.

Maria: What is important to him. Ultimately, seeing this calculation, everyone can see what they should work on or where, in what direction they should develop.

We have manifestation, instincts, emotions, pains, feelings, memory, thinking and imagination. Accordingly, seeing what percentages are there, you can already decide what to do.

30:18 Memory.

Irina: Here, for example, is a common example. We begin to pay attention to the structure of the mind and see what characteristics the Spirit has earned over the past incarnation.

Memory. The fact is that the term “khalyaksin”, which is translated from Esler’s as the Russian “memory”, is not exactly what you mean in psychology.

This does not mean the fragmentary memory that is recorded by chemical formulas in the structures of the brain as temporary storage of the most necessary information. The word “memory” here refers to subconscious or instinctive memory, and memory as the ability to use the memory of the Higher Self.

Maria: Past incarnations.

Irina: Here it would be more accurate to characterize the fifth chakra not with the word “memory”, which you have in psychology, but with the word “memory”, which you have in esotericism. You may have heard the word causal body or karmic memory. This is exactly the information that was acquired in incarnation. And not only in the past incarnation, but also in the entire totality of these incarnations.

Take, for example, memory, thinking, imagination. We see that the most energy is in memory, thinking is in second place, and imagination is in third place, and if the Spirit distributed energy in this way in its mind, if we see this precisely in the properties of the Spirit, then this indicates that it is more part of the attention is directed to memory.

That is, on the information that he had in the past. It's like he's processing it.

The second place is occupied by thinking - this is the stream of consciousness that permeates thinking. It is aimed at perceiving every moment in the present. This is very difficult to express in Russian. But in Esler there is a certain phrase that can be translated: “I experience the present as a stream flowing from the past to the future.”

Maria: We have this expression: “Live here and now.”

33:22 Mood. Imagination.

Irina: Live here and now, only this state is not static, but dynamic. And in the Russian language, you’ve probably heard the word “mood.” This is an adjustment of the stream of consciousness to certain emotional manifestations and way of thinking.

This mood speaks of the inner. Thinking simultaneously directs the stream of consciousness of a single energy to self-awareness, that is, both to the mood in this case, and to the perception of the surrounding world.

You just don’t distinguish it, but at Esler we have, I wouldn’t call it a science, but a whole doctrine, a whole theory in our sociology. In our country, the science of human development, the humanoid in society, is called sociology.

We have a whole science of how to combine images perceived from external reality with images of internal reality in order to correctly recognize the signs on the way to our goal of incarnation and correctly respond to the world around us.

Maria: Very useful science. We can learn a lot from you. There is also imagination.

Irina: Imagination is generally aimed at creating images, including images of the future. What is being built, the desired future, which then descends into the material world through all the energies of the material, of course.

So, if more of his energy is in memory, then it is believed that such a Spirit, a person with such a formula, lives more in his memories. We say: “Lives in the past.”

But this does not mean that he will directly live in the past now. This means that he was used to this in a past life, and with such skills he came to this incarnation. And, naturally, in this life he can change everything. But in childhood, his worldview will be precisely such that he will remember for a long time about some past events.

There is both positive and negative here. We say there are moments. And, perhaps, a person will be directed towards development or degradation. He will also remember the positive moments associated with happiness and joy. There is a tendency that he will remember negative experiences for a long time.

Maria: We call it “grudge.”

Irina: Not only evil, but perhaps some fears will be remembered for a long time. For example, you have this understanding of “fear memory” when phobias are formed. This person has had a negative experience of some kind of danger or pain and then cannot forget it for a long time.

Such a person has a likelihood of accumulating both positive karma, positive karmic experience, and an increased tendency to develop negative blocks. He kind of holds them back.

Maria: Holds it stronger.

Irina : Yes. He tends to live in the past. If there is more energy in thinking, he lives in the flow, he lives in the present, in the moment. Perhaps you have seen such people when every day passes through it, like the waves of the sea washing the shore. One wave passed, then another, but he remained standing. He didn't think about them, he doesn't change.

Maria: A person lives in the moment.

Irina: Yes. We have such people. For example, if you ask a person: “For example, what did you wear yesterday? What clothes?" He won't remember this.

Maria: Me, for example.

Irina: Or: “What did you have for breakfast yesterday?” He won't remember it either. He doesn't keep it. Or, for example: “What happened last week? What were you talking about, for example, with your husband?” He no longer remembers the details of the conversation. He put it together in the form of feelings, but won’t remember the details.

Maria: For the Spirit, for its incarnation and experience, these qualities are not important. Yes? He saves energy for other moments that are more important to him.

Irina: So he no longer lives in the past. For us there is no negative character quality, for example, that he lives in the past, present or future. In any of these potentials there are, as we have already said, both positive and negative aspects.

39:33 Balance and imbalance of manifested energy.

Maria: There are still a couple of important questions about balance. Mead, please advise if a person develops a balance when we subtract this manifested energy. A certain balance is obtained either with a minus sign, or with a plus sign, or with a zero sign, when these manifested energies are expressed equally. Seeing this balance, should we pay special attention to the negative, negative balance and try to equalize it between the given and manifested energy?

Irina: Yes. We call this a deficiency of energy in the chakra. What does a negative balance mean?

Shows: there was not enough balance on the scales, and, for example, some energy of the Spirit was not enough to manifest through the body.

This happens because the Spirit manifests itself in a body that has its own characteristics, including those received from parents.

Maria: Genetic possibilities.

Irina: This again lies in the tasks of its implementation. He has a deficiency in some chakra, this is a reason for him to develop this chakra.

Maria: Work on this parameter.

Irina: Yes. So that the amount of this energy increases in it. And if there are positive ones, such as an overabundance of energies, this indicates that he will be able to achieve success in the activities for which this chakra is responsible more easily than the people around him, not with the same balance of this chakra.

Maria: Does this mean that when we start working on a chakra that lacks energy, it will be replenished with the energies of other chakras? That is, it will be redistributed.

Irina: Yes. It will be redistributed, and the person will come to harmony. Not when he has a shortage in one and an excess in the other. It is believed that a harmonious person, who has developed all sides, has more opportunities, including developing spiritually, physically, and intellectually. Because any area of activity manifested through one or another chakra by his Spirit gives him irreplaceable experience.

43:05 Spiritual and contact channel.

Maria: We have a very interesting parameter - this is the construction of a spiritual and contact channel on a scale from zero to nine.

I will immediately say for all our subscribers and people who have already made the calculation that such people, it turns out, are less than one percent. There are very few people who have any number other than zero at all worth this calculation. Tell us about this option.

Irina: Again, I'm saying that, like any parameter, this characteristic is at the beginning of incarnation.

The degree of opening of the spiritual channel is a characteristic of how much in a past life a person heard himself, communicated with himself and trusted himself.

This construction is sometimes done not even in one life, but in several incarnations. It just doesn't appear automatically. This means that this Spirit was working to develop itself as a contactee. But not necessarily in the same sense as a contactee with aliens, but as a person interacting with his intuition, who develops more internal intuitive tendencies to think more broadly.

Maria: But does this meaning change?

Irina: Yes. If we look at the innate property where this figure comes from, this is the accumulation of all its incarnations to date.

Maria: When does it change with a change in surname or first name?

Irina: If it changes upward, as we already said about the battery, this does not automatically mean that it will change immediately. It's just that a person has additional potential.

Maria: What if it decreases?

Irina: This does not mean that his spiritual channel is decreasing. This means that he has the opportunity to move to another level of awareness. Vibrations, in this case.

If he does not communicate at his level, as he had at birth, then he will move to the level that he had when he changed his name.

Maria: So this channel can become smaller?

Irina: Yes. But this again is not automatic, it depends on him. In this case, this is a sign for him to pay attention to his spiritual channel. Because, in fact, it was not at all by chance that he chose to change this first and last name; his Higher Self led him to this.

Thus, the Higher Self, mentors, Consulting Angels and curators of a person, who are representatives of civilizations, through a change in his numerical characteristics, often show him his current state or the possibility of his development. You remember that in the Spiritual world there is no time.

Maria: So for people who have this channel with a value of zero, this still does not mean that they do not have the opportunity to develop it?

Irina: This suggests that at the time of birth they were not engaged in development in a previous life, and it may also indicate that in their present life the task of contacting is not a task.

Because the greater the number of this channel, the greater the likelihood that various entities will come into contact with this person, ranging from plasmoids to aliens. They see this spiritual channel, its potential, and are attracted to such people.

But not everyone has such a vital task to communicate with other worlds. Because people come with different tasks in life, for example, to learn to forgive, to learn to love themselves, to learn to enjoy life exactly as it exists around them. The simplest one.

It happens to learn how to do some material work and find God in it. That is, there are different goals. There are different tasks, and the spiritual channel is not always activated at birth.

It happens that the Spirit of a person in a past life was a contactee, a prophet. And in this life, the Higher Self specifically closes this channel for him so that he can work on developing other qualities.

But this is at the time of birth. If he is already growing, developing, has entered adulthood, has already completed these tasks or is on the path to fulfilling them, he may have new things, including contacting. This means that he will already be developing his spiritual channel.

49:08 Force biofield and aura.

Maria: Thank you very much, Mid! And the last question about the power of the biofield and the aura. We have a very large range of sizes and diameters of this aura here. And, naturally, with a change of name and personal data, it also changes. Please tell me what diameters are normal and acceptable for earthlings?

Irina: The fact is that in general for the aura, as for a set of energy bodies embedded in each other, for a modern person, which can be recorded in the Astral, is in the region of 2.5-3.5 meters. Three, three and a half meters is the average. But the Spirit that comes into the earthly body takes on a potential that is approximately twice as large, that is, in the region of 9-10 meters.

As energy develops, the aura begins to increase. And what you see when calculating the size of the aura is precisely the potential size of the aura.

And what percentage will be manifested depends on the degree of development of his energy.

Potentially, for example, if you have your own 9 meters, if you clear all blocks, if you take care of your physical body, for example, without certain physical movements, exercises, this is impossible, because the physical body must be able to transmit this energy. His muscles, ligaments, and bones must be strong enough. Otherwise, this energy simply cannot pass through; it will stagnate in the body. After all, the Spirit is manifested through the body.

A block is a collection of energies that could go into the aura. The man collected it in one place. Someone has blocked, closed some emotion or feeling that is unpleasant to consider.

If a person clears himself of all blocks, passing all this energy through himself, he unties, among other things, karmic knots that were associated with past incarnations, and in this incarnation they can manifest themselves as some incomprehensible, unconscious fears, some kind of repeating situations . If a person develops physically, engages in meditation or prayer, communication with God, with his Higher Self, and the more he is full of love, the more the Spirit fills the physical body.

What we consider to be the size of the aura is the ideal size of the aura, which, among other things, exists for both the embodied part of the Spirit and the Higher Self.

Maria: The Higher Self too?

Irina: Yes, but it is not located in the Spiritual world, but precisely around a person, the spiritual channel surrounds him. When you go out to the Higher Self, you rise along the channel above the top of your head. This is your spiritual channel.

Around this Spiritual channel, when you rise along it, you see bright, white, yellow light or any other color on the sides - this indicates that this energy is concentrated around this channel. But for it to enter the body, it must be prepared. The physical system must be prepared, the etheric system must be prepared, that is, the etheric body must be developed, the astral system must be prepared, that is, feelings, emotions must be under control.

Maria: Everything is interconnected.

Irina: Yes. The more a person clears himself of his blocks and loves everything around him, the larger his aura becomes. You've probably heard that a Saint's aura can be tens of meters long. But at tens of meters it can even exceed what was given to him at birth, because he is still charged from his Guardian Angels, from his curators. He has it all together.

Maria: That is, the potential for development is absolutely unlimited. Even a built-in aura can be increased and expanded.

Irina: The larger the size of the aura, the more the etheric body will be filled. This means that there will be more vital energy to perform your actions, the more the astral body will be filled.

And filling the astral body is responsible for the brightness of emotions, the more you will have vivid impressions, you will experience any pleasure more fully. But on the flip side, any suffering will also resonate more vividly with you. That is why the Higher Self treats filling the aura with energy very consciously and responsibly.

Maria: Yes. Really. Mid, thank you so much! Very interesting, very necessary information.

Our awareness expands. We are increasingly beginning to understand, first of all, ourselves. To change the whole world, you need to start with yourself.

Thank you very much to you and all our curators who guide us, help us, answer all our questions. Thank you very much for your patience, for your time!

Irochka, thank you so much for your time, for your energy, for your love that you put into this project and into all its participants, into all the people who come to us.

We really love you and all our earthlings very, very much. Therefore, it is with great pleasure that we are doing this project. We make these calculations for you, and the parameters of the Spirit, which will help you better understand your tasks for embodiment, and material amplifiers, which will help you strengthen these parameters through material means. And the chakra system, which will show you where and how you can work on yourself, understand yourself better and, accordingly, develop.

Thank you very much, friends!

Irina: Thank you, dear friends!

Indeed, these are very interesting calculation systems. This, by the way, is part of their science. They also develop theories there and test them in practice. And what was given through me is tailored specifically for the inhabitants of the Earth, including agreed with the Consulting Angels who embody Souls on Earth, and agreed with the curator of the Earth in the Spiritual World, Archangel Michael.

Maria: Thank you, Mikhail, for this valuable tool for our development! Thank you and accept! Love and blessings! We promise to direct this energy, this knowledge to the development of Unconditional Love.

Irina: Yes. The development of Unconditional Love is as endless as Love itself. And this infinity itself carries meaning with its existence.

Maria: Thank you, friends. Best wishes. See you again!

00:05 Introduction of participants.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello everyone! Especially those whom I haven't seen for a long time. We have very interesting news.

The first news is that all the questions you want to ask can be asked in the Telegram chat. The link to the Telegram chat is in the pinned message right in the feed itself, and there is also a link under this video. You can follow the link, join the chat, and from this chat I will read out your questions. This is being done because if YouTube is closed tomorrow or the day after tomorrow (most likely), we could continue to conduct any live broadcasts. Only through this Telegram chat will you ask questions to all representatives who will participate in our live broadcasts.

The next good news is that we are planning a retreat in Turkey. It will be from the first to the seventh of June. The video about the Turkish retreat will be released tomorrow, around lunchtime, but the link to the recording is already in the descriptive part of this video below.

And, of course, a frequent question that I get asked is: "Where can I get Cassiopeia probiotics?" Guys, the link is also below this video.

We have a wonderful conference today. We have been asked for this conference for a long time. Finally we made contact. Today we will communicate with the Spirit of Viktor Tsoi. I hope today's broadcast will be great. I myself have already talked a little with the Spirit of Viktor Tsoi. He really asked that his relatives living on Earth watch this video. Therefore, a huge greeting to all the relatives of Viktor Tsoi! I hope they will watch this video and write their comments below.

There are no more interesting news. Link to Telegram chat for questions under this video. Sign up for the Turkish retreat from June 1 to June 7 there. And, accordingly, an order for Cassiopeia probiotics was also made for these videos.

I invite our dear Irishka. Irish, have a seat. Today she is such a beauty, all in yellow!

Irina: Hello everyone! Good evening, dear friends!

Maxim: I'm opening a Telegram chat now.

Irina: So, dear friends, my name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. And not only with extraterrestrial civilizations, but also with the Spiritual world and plasmoid worlds. I tune in to them and convey answers to questions. And today we invited, by your numerous requests, the disembodied Spirit of man, who in his last incarnation was known as Viktor Tsoi. He is present here now. Also present with us is LiShioni from the planet Shimor, he came with him.

Maxim: I also welcome LiShioni!

Irina: The spirit of Viktor Tsoi is a little tensely waiting for questions, because the day before yesterday he asked me: "What will they ask me?" I don't even know, I'm saying that they will ask you.

Maxim: I see that the Telegram chat has already started working, people are writing their questions. I see I've already written them out. Especially the question about tattoos.

"The outfit and background are on theme." Guys, probably the outfit and background are selected in accordance with the requests of the Universe.

Victor, I salute you! And I know that you are still alive in the hearts of many people on our planet.

Irina: Yes, I'm alive (Tsoi). I say hi to everyone. And I'm surprised that people wanted to call me, challenge me, because I didn't communicate with people so consciously and didn't know that there were such questions for me.

Maxim: Please tell me, I know for sure that other contactees communicated with you, as the Spirit, on other channels. What do you think about this?

Irina: (Tsoi) Well, I didn't communicate with anyone, that is, consciously. So that they ask me a question, and I give an answer.

Maxim: I didn't communicate consciously. How did you communicate?

Irina: I communicated, as you say, in a dream, when a person falls asleep. And then only with friends.

Maxim: In the Astral. In principle, sleepers could also communicate with you, right?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Then I understood.

Irina: (Tsoi) But just like that: question and answer, it wasn't.

Maxim: I understand. OK.

06:33 Incarnations of the Spirit of Viktor Tsoi.

Maxim: Tell me, please, from what level did you incarnate on planet Earth?

Irina: Yes, LiShioni, the Spirit embodied in an alien, has already told me about the “levels” as the Interstellar Union understands them. He showed me these levels in mental contact. According to the ideas of the Interstellar Union, I incarnated from the ninth level, and left the incarnation at the fifteenth.

Maxim: Please tell me, have you actually fulfilled your purpose on the planet with which you came here?

Irina: Yes, I did. When I connected with my disembodied Spirit, I saw and remembered that I even had a plan to reach the thirteenth or fourteenth level. And I got the fifteenth.

Maxim: Oh, great!

Irina: He exceeded the plan.

Maxim: I understand. Listen, please tell me, have you ever had any significant incarnations on this planet Earth?

Irina: Yes, I was incarnated as one of the Roman soldiers who died in battle (but this was back in the third century) for one of the Roman provinces, in a battle with some wild hordes (shows someone there on horseback) . Then I had another incarnation (Gikhor shows).

Maxim: Are these the founders of space energy that we have in our project?

Irina: Yes, Gikhor shows. I was a woman there who was engaged, one might say, worked in a factory producing some kind of food products. Before my incarnation into the body of Viktor Tsoi, I was incarnated into a subtle-material essence, also on Earth, at the eleventh level of density.

Maxim: Into a subtle-material entity at the eleventh level of density?

Irina: Yes, according to the terminology of the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Were you a terrestrial plasmoid or a space one?

Irina: I was on Earth, in earthly space.

Maxim: What did you do there?

Irina: He controlled, as you call it, magnetic waves.

Maxim: Magnetic waves?

Irina: Magnetic field. Regulated the energy exchange or energy relations of the Earth and the Sun so that there were no too strong magnetic storms.

Maxim: Please tell me, weren't you familiar with the Kryon group of civilizations then?

Irina: I heard about them, we just talked, but my civilization was not part of it.

Maxim: You talked, right?

Irina: Only "Kryon" is already the name of an earthly contactee, and they call themselves (what kind of whistle is that?), I heard the beginning: "trictish...". And goes into a whistling sound. It goes something like this: "t, r, i, k, t, shhh."

Maxim: I understand, “Kryon” was already called here on Earth, right?

Irina: It was the contactee who translated their name this way, because he couldn’t do it any other way, he didn’t know, there were no such understandings in his language. This is how it always happens. Yes (LiScioni tells him and me), this always happens with contactees when you say a word, and he conveys it in his own way if it is not familiar to him (from his vocabulary).

11:06 Spirit of Tsoi about communication with earthlings. Nationality of Tsoi.

Maxim: The question from the chat immediately suggested itself, because it is quite interesting: “Vitya, hello again. I visited you at the cemetery in St. Petersburg. Did you ask me to read poetry to you? And when I read, did you hear? Should you read it out loud or mentally? Do you feel what I am reading these poems? This is the question, I won’t read further, a lot has been written here. Do you, your Spirit, communicate with those people who come to you at the cemetery?

Irina: It makes no difference to me what physical place it is. Only mental attunement to my image. I hear if someone addresses me. If poems were read with the desire for me to hear them, I simply feel it as energy. I don't hear sounds, but I feel some kind of feeling that is accompanied by these verses. It doesn't matter to me whether it's a cemetery or some other place. If a person tunes into my image, I feel it, it’s like making a phone call.

Maxim: Can this be done not only in the cemetery?

Irina: Yes. This person who asked may have come and read poetry, but I did not hear them as direct sounds. It's just like energy. And not what was put into these poems, but with what feeling he read himself.

Maxim: Dear friends, if you think that this is not Viktor Tsoi, or that this is nonsense, please do not take up the air here. Go where you believe you are being given the truth.

Victor, please tell me, you're saying that you didn't consciously communicate with contactees. In general, how often do you feel that people are turning to you? In a dream, maybe, or mentally?

Irina: These are acquaintances. I have friends, acquaintances, a son (shows the image of some guy, probably twenty-five years old, also with a guitar for some reason). Here is my son. I also communicate with the people around them.

You mean fans?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: I hear them mentally sending energies when they listen to my songs. As an egregor, you say, they create. Their feelings and thoughts are collected in a "cloud". If they listen to this with bright feelings of love, joy, happiness, then that makes me feel good. He is pleased that he is remembered.

Maxim: Guys, now we will definitely get to the most interesting questions. I have already studied this chat, which is open, and the chat in Telegram. I just want to present you with structured information from the moment of the Spiritual world to the moment of its physical embodiment. Therefore, I ask you not to create panic or get nervous. In the chat they say that we don't want to tell how Viktor Tsoi really died. We'll come to this a little later.

Tell me, please, at this moment, what was your nationality?

Irina: Nationality is a fiction for me, I felt like Russian. It's just Soul. I had the Soul of a Russian.

15:22 Spirit of Tsoi about his passion for music.

Maxim: When did you become interested in music?

Irina: Since childhood. I always loved listening to songs and wanted to learn how to play, sing, and write poetry myself. Since childhood (shows that he writes something, some poetry; the boy is probably 10-12 years old, still went to school). When I had already come to the Spiritual world, I met my (shows the Angel) Consulting Angel, who embodied me, and asked him about such a love for music, why I was always drawn to it, although I was not specifically taught this. And he told me that when I incarnated through this egregor, I received this energy from the energy of my grandmother, who was doing this.

Maxim: Did your grandmother study music?

Irina: She loved music. She sang, not professionally, but she loved music very much.

16:41 Spirit of Tsoi about his plans for embodiment.

Maxim: Tell me, please, in general, are you going to incarnate on our planet Earth?

Irina: I'll think about it.

Maxim: In general, what are your plans for implementation? Where?

Irina: You know, my Consulting Angel tells me that she again recommends that I undergo a subtle material incarnation. Because I am at the fifteenth level, this is the level of creators; so that I could incarnate into a fine-material being no lower than level forty and help other plasmoids of a different density create stars from dust particles, so that I could create. I think about it.

Maxim: Thank you. The question is this. They say that you have a son, Alexander. Is this your own son?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Son Alexander, this is your own son.

Irina: Sasha.

18:00 Spirit of Tsoi about songs.

Maxim: Please tell me, they ask: what is your favorite song? Do you remember your songs that you wrote?

Irina: I remember those that I wrote and sang, in general, as ideas. When I united with the Spirit, I remembered all my incarnations. And I have 989 of them, along with this last one.

Maxim: 989 in total in this manvantara, I understand correctly, right?

Irina: Yes, in this manvantara.

Maxim: Let's call it manvantara, yes.

Irina: Which song do I like best? It's hard to choose, I like them all (and not only mine) (it shows that I don't even know who he is, some man, he calls him Boris), I liked his songs (with that beard).

Maxim: Unfortunately, I don't know musicians Borisov with a beard.

Irina: His image, yes.

Maxim: Please tell me the most interesting question; and in general, people are very interested.

Irina: Someone's name is already in the chat.

Maxim: Is this Boris Grebenshchikov?

Irina: Yes, the answer is that I liked his songs.

Maxim: I understand, thank you.

19:46 Spirit of Tsoi about leaving the incarnation.

Maxim: Please tell me, everyone is interested in how you came out of this incarnation? Did you feel your death, and was your death planned by you at this age?

Irina: I really had a short incarnation planned, but I planned it for forty-two years, so that I could then incarnate in another world in which I planned. On another planet, not in this Galaxy. But for the reason that I fulfilled my task in such a way that I ended up, as I said, at the fifteenth level, my Consulting Angels, my mentors, decided to take me out of incarnation in order to send me here, to the plasmoid world, because I had overfulfilled plan. Instead of level thirteen or fourteen, I reached fifteen. Thus, I was already ready, speaking in the language of physical beings, for another job, already ahead of schedule.

Maxim: Please tell me, do you remember what happened? They say you were killed.

Irina: No, it was planned, but not by me, but by my Angel mentors, in order to take me out of incarnation after reaching the fifteenth level. It became pointless to waste energy (Tsoi says) until the age of forty-two, because I could already incarnate in another place. After analyzing the embodiment, of course.

Maxim: I see. Can you tell us your last day before disincarnation? What did you do and what happened to you?

Irina: After leaving?

Maxim: Before leaving. On this day, before leaving incarnation. Do you remember this day?

Irina: Yes (shows images: getting into the car). I went fishing.

Maxim: Have you been fishing? Have you been fishing?

Irina: Yes, my dad taught me. My dad. We have been going since childhood (the boy shows how they go fishing).

Maxim: Your dad was Korean, right?

Irina: Yes, so what, I still consider myself Russian.

Maxim: Okay, sorry, I interrupted. I was fishing, then I got into the car, right?

Irina: Yes, I was alone. Unfortunately, I did not hear my intuition, the Soul, as you say, the Higher Self (in contactee terminology), so we were with my son and my wife.

Maxim: In this car?

Irina: No, in the house (shows the house). I woke up my son to go with him. But he wanted to sleep (shows that he wanted to take him, because he did not know that this would happen), and then it turned out that I was already in the Spiritual World. The first thing I thanked God for when I saw the Angels and began to talk with Heavenly Father, the Light that attracted me, was that my son did not go with me, because this would have been his exit from the incarnation.

Maxim: What happened to the car?

Irina: Nothing, the car is fine. I was already driving back (shows that there is a river there). When I began to cross some small bridge, a very old one, my consciousness seemed to “turn off.” Like a white veil. I didn’t feel anything like that, I didn’t want to sleep, I just sort of “switched off.” Later, when I got into the Spiritual World, I found out that my Soul, the highest, did this so that I would lose control. It was precisely calculated so that at that moment I was driving (shows a large white car). I saw her out of the corner of my eye, but I didn't have time to do anything. And after a few seconds I already saw it all from above. A destroyed car (shows about ten meters away, it's probably above it, something like a bus or some kind of truck, I don't know what it is).

Maxim: So no one "ordered" you, no one killed you? This was at the behest of the curators and mentors, in the current situation, as I understand it?

Irina : He is so perplexed now, he conveys to me his feelings, bewilderment: what happened? This was explained to me later. I felt really good and had fun. It was like he was at a resort or something. Good mood.

Maxim: In general, what was your first impression when you left your body?

Irina : Where did I end up (he throws up his hands)? I was just driving in the car and I didn't feel a headache or anything. I found myself already above the road. And where am I? Where's the car? He began to look around (shows).

And then the Light appeared from above. And two, very tall figures, so luminous, they took me by the hands. They say: "We will go to the Spiritual world." I say: "What happened, who are you?" They explained to me that I had left the incarnation. Then I understood everything.

Maxim: Tell me, please, do you remember what color the bus was?

Irina: Shows something white. He saw a white color, out of the corner of his eye, when he turned like that, white came out to his left.

Maxim: Then I will ask you a very serious question. Of course, forgive me for this question. Before this trip, did you use any mind-altering substances? It's drugs or alcohol.

Irina: No, I was driving, why? I have never done such a thing while driving, because if I was insane, I could kill someone.

Maxim: Then another question. Have you ever used these substances?

Irina: Which ones exactly?

Maxim: Mind-altering drugs, alcohol.

Irina: I drank wine, I might drink a little vodka, but that's only for the holidays. At a wedding, for example.

Maxim: They say that you used something more serious. This is true?

Irina: No. Well, I saw how others used it, I wasn't interested (denies, no, I didn't use it).

Maxim: Guys, what you write that "it was red", I see and understand everything perfectly, but we also must understand that the Spirit can see something white in front, that is, this simply means light and black . In an altered state of consciousness, I imagine what can be seen in principle.

Irina: Then from above he saw his already destroyed car. There he no longer paid attention.

Maxim: I would like to see, when a person loses consciousness, what he can even see. And does he even see?

Irina: It was when I was driving, like a white veil before my eyes. And then I saw something approaching from the left. To my eyes it was white in color. It was as if my consciousness had turned off and I didn't have time to do anything. It was instant. He says it's very fast, at least in my perception.

Maxim: Do you remember what color your car was?

Irina: Blue (as the sky shows).

Maxim: Blue, blue, right?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Thank you. I don't even know, to be honest, what color your car was. I wasn't even interested, I didn't even know that you were fishing. I knew that you were either framed or some kind of accident happened there.

Tell me again, please, that you wrote such quite interesting, I would say, radical songs. For example, the song "We are waiting for change."

Irina: They write that there was a white Ikarus. Some write one thing, others write another.

Maxim: I don't know, I read what they write in general, in principle.

Irina: And one writes that he was white.

Maxim: I don't know, we'll see what kind of Ikarus it was.

Irina: He himself is already interested. I don't know myself.

30:05 Spirit of Tsoi about his faith.

Maxim: Tell me, please, were you even a believer? Did you know about the existence of God and the Spiritual world?

Irina: Well, yes, I believed in God, but I didn't go to church, it was inside. I did not belong to any religion, although I respected any religion and was not an atheist. I mentally turned to God (shows: pray, ask for good luck, thank you), but did not perform any rituals.

Maxim: Got it. Thank you for your candid answer.

30:44 Tsoi's spirit about a psychiatric hospital.

Maxim: Please tell me, did you really end up in a mental hospital?

Irina: Should I tell you what he says?

Maxim: Yes, speak.

Irina: He was a fool.

Maxim: Was he a fool?

Irina: Yes, because I was young and didn't think.

What was the fool? I was young and scared, it was fear. By the way, when I began to review and analyze my life, this act hit me on purpose.

Maxim: What do you mean "specially"?

Irina: I wasn't sick, I pretended to be. I pretended to be in front of the doctors so that they would give me a certificate so that they would not send me to Afghanistan. I was afraid.

Maxim: Oh, that's it, I understand.

Irina: Like a coward, I appeared before the doctors. My wife agreed with some doctor she knows (shows) that I be given a diagnosis so that I cannot join the army or fight.

I had to pretend that I wanted to commit suicide: cut my hands. And I was afraid to even do it, I scratched it there. If I were a doctor, I would kick out such a “mentally ill” person (shows a kick).

(Choi) I'm ashamed. When, after connecting with the Spirit, I looked through my life and this situation, I saw that at that moment my level was seventh, and already almost before the sixth. This was a lowering of his vibrations. It is fear, distrust of God, that’s all.

Maxim: Thank you, Victor, for the frank conversation. Tell me, please, did you write any song in the mental hospital when you were lying?

Irina: No, I didn’t write. I was just thinking. I was afraid. Then he went out and wrote. And there I thought, I was afraid that I would be recognized, that I would be sent to prison for pretending. He (says) continued to have some fears.

Maxim: Got it.

33:30 Spirit of Tsoi on relations with the intelligence services.

Maxim: Of course, there are many questions. I will now move on to the questions. There is a version that you were recruited by the special services.

Irina: Why do you need this?

Maxim: There is such a version. Were you recruited by the secret services?

Irina: Is this because of my grandfather, who was in counterintelligence?

Maxim: I don’t know that your grandfather was in counterintelligence.

Irina: Yes (shows a man, he is Korean, by the way).

Maxim: Did your grandfather serve in counterintelligence?

Irina: In these very special services, then it was simply called differently. It was in the east, he served in the east. Is it because of him that they are talking? Was I related to him?

Maxim: I don't know.

34:23 Spirit of Tsoi about wives.

Maxim: Please tell me how many wives you had?

Irina: Two. In general, one, the second is civilian.

Maxim: You're saying now that you left your wife and child. From a common-law wife with a child?

Irina: No, from a legitimate one.

Maxim: So, it turns out, you lived "on two fronts": you lived with your common-law wife and with your legal wife?

Irina: No, it wasn't like that. When I fell in love with Natasha, I immediately told Marie that I loved someone else. I didn't live on two. He admitted it right away.

Maxim: And how did the first wife react?

Irina: She told me to pack my bags.

Irina: It's funny to us, but he doesn't laugh, he stands so sad.

Maxim: So what, you packed your bags and left?

Irina: I was very ashamed, I couldn’t look at her (shows: he lowered his eyes). She sat and watched me. She also told me: “What can I help you with?” But I couldn’t raise my eyes to her (she shows such images).

Maxim: Listen, please tell me, I actually know that you had a lot of women, right?

Irina: I wasn’t close, I just had friends. These were friends, girlfriends.

Maxim: Girlfriends. But you didn't sleep with them.

Irina: No, it was just a friendly relationship. In general, I took a woman’s feelings seriously, which is why I confessed to my wife so as not to deceive her. I couldn't command my feelings. Lawless Heart.

Maxim: I understand. Victor, they tell you that everyone remembers you very much, everyone loves you very much and sends you great greetings. I'm reading it right now.

"Who is his soulmate?" I don't even know how I would answer who my Soulmate is. Guys, well, we need some clear questions.

Irina: Related?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Which one looks like me?

Maxim: Yes, who is your soulmate?

Irina: How do I feel?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: I feel more like a son. He is more like me, and this is not only because these are my genes, but because I passed on to him (when I conceived him) part of my Soul. This, in your opinion, will be, oh, I was not an esotericist then. Now I will choose a term like energy. The soul is energy?

Maxim: Yes.

37:24 Tsoi's spirit about the mafia.

Maxim: Please tell me, there is a rumor that the mafia was blackmailing you, they were chasing you, trying to do something, take money from you.

Irina: From me?

Maxim: Yes. Because they say you earned a lot.

Irina: Laughs.

Maxim: Didn’t the mafia blackmail you?

Irina: No, it’s funny, what kind of jokes.

Maxim: But the film “Assa” - there you are quite combative and determined.

Irina: So what, I was just playing sports.

Maxim: What sports did you do?

Irina: Fight. Karate, or something, oriental something.

Maxim: I understand.

Irina: Also (shows) a bicycle. I rode a bicycle. Fishing again.

38:20 Tsoi's spirit about women.

Maxim: In general, what do you think about women?

Irina: What do I think about women?

Maxim: Yes. What do you think about them in general? You spent so much time on the planet, you had a large number of fans. What do you think about women? What is your opinion about women?

Irina: My personal opinion?

Maxim: Yes, personal opinion, of course.

Irina: How many women I have seen, no matter how successful she is, without her beloved man next to her, her heart will be empty. It's my personal opinion.

Maxim: They say that you practiced taekwondo.

Irina: Now he’s showing me again that this is some kind of struggle, like karate.

Maxim: I understand, okay. Thank you. So many questions, and almost all of them are over. Come on, write questions, because the questions you asked are all over. We answered about the hospital.

Irina: Oh, to today's events.

Maxim: Yes, in general, Victor, do you know what events are currently happening on the planet?

Irina: Which ones exactly? I am in the Spiritual world, and a lot is happening on the planet. What events?

Maxim: I'll pose the question differently. Do you know that there are wars going on on the planet right now?

Irina: And when were they not carried out? In my time there was also a war when I sang.

40:10 Spirit of Tsoi about his inspiration.

Maxim: But tell me, please, how did you compose your songs? How did this process happen? You sat down, you felt some kind of euphoria, what happened?

Irina: I already said that in my last life before Victor, I was, in your opinion, a plasmoid of the eleventh density level. When I incarnated as a human, my friends from the eleventh density level came to me. I saw them as a child, I even told my mother about it. And she told me: "Just don't tell anyone else." (Shows some balls). And when I went to school, I began to discard these visions, because no one talked about it, and they began to come less often. When I became a teenager (shows a young man already), thoughts began to come to me about writing poetry, that is, as lines. I realized later that this was passed on to me.

Maxim: As we understand it, you were a contactee with subtle-material civilizations?

Irina: Only not quite consciously.

Maxim: You didn't understand this, right?

Irina: I had inspiration, I called. I still felt the presence of some creatures nearby that were protecting me. I thought God was sending this to me.

Maxim: Listen, please tell me, can you convey a new song from the Spiritual World? Let's say, if I ask Irina to record some song from you from the Spiritual World, could you write it?

Irina: If only you tune in with her, because I just answer questions, but for there to be a song, you need a lot of attunement, a coincidence in vibrations. You can try, but not now.

Maxim: Not now, of course, not now, I just asked. I want to understand what form of interaction there could be.

42:19 Spirit of Tsoi about raising vibrations, about the task of incarnation.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what contributed to the growth from the ninth level to the fifteenth?

Irina: Kindness, sympathy. I helped those who are worse off than me: the poor, the sick, and also doing art (shows how doing art raises vibrations), because it is tuning into the Higher Self when you listen or write poetry, or read, or sing songs, or you compose them, and do it for the people selflessly. Do you think I earned money from concerts? In general, I could go to a club and play the whole evening without any fee just for the Soul. To convey what I knew. Each song was like a child for me, a creation so that others could hear it and be able to enjoy it, let’s say so. I could just make you happy.

Maxim: Unselfishly.

Irina: Yes, tuning into spiritual vibrations, when you don’t have coins in your eyes, but Light in your eyes.

Maxim: Guys, you can ask your questions, the link to the chat on Telegram, in which you can ask your questions, is in the pinned message and under this video. Be sure to go to the Telegram chat so that I can see your questions in the next broadcasts through this chat. Victor, please tell me, where were you born?

Irina: Peter, Petersburg.

Maxim: In St. Petersburg?

Irina: He shows me from above. Yes, St. Petersburg. Peter.

Maxim: In St. Petersburg, I understand. Thank you, because the question has already been asked several times. In general, what was the main task of the incarnation?

Irina: Development of mercy, helping others. Art was not the main thing, I chose this path myself. I had a path - developing mercy, empathy, helping others and faith. Belief in a Higher Power.

44:49 Spirit of Tsoi about his songs.

Maxim: Listen, they ask you such an interesting question: is it possible to become your contact in order to write songs?

Irina: I didn’t communicate much with people, as I already said, this is my first contact at this level, question and answer, namely not through a dream.

Maxim: Not through the Astral, let's call it that.

Irina: Not through astral contact, when a person goes on astral travel, but when he is in the body. Therefore, attunement is needed not only by the contactee, but also by me, in order to convey this, precisely so that the song turns out, and not some formless text.

Maxim: Do you know that other singers cover your songs in our own way?

Irina: In your own way?

Maxim: In my repertoire. That is, the words of the text are yours, but they are re-sung in their repertoire.

Irina: This is good, specifically it's not that "I know - I don't know," I just know that this is normal. They do this with many songs. I could also sing some other song, some other singer.

Maxim: I understand.

46:01 Spirit of Tsoi about contacts in the Spiritual world.

Maxim: Tell me, please, did you meet any famous singers in the Spiritual World? John Lennon, Freddie Mercury, Michael Jackson? Which great singers have you met in the Spiritual World? And have you ever met?

Irina: I am at the fifteenth level and communicate with Spirits who are simply at the fifteenth level. They don't have the names you mentioned, but some of them were on Earth. For example, I am friends with a man there, his name on Earth was Pyotr Grigorievich, he was an inventor (shows how an airplane is). He worked in a design bureau back in Soviet times, making an airplane (he now shows some drawings, he communicated with him). There is no such communication with singers. At least for now. Now you have given me an interesting idea. We can chat.

Maxim: We gave you an interesting idea.

Irina: But in order to find them, I need to turn to the Consulting Angel and ask where they are embodied, whether they are embodied at all, at what level they are. Ask them to take me there.

Maxim: Now, like all the viewers, I'll tell you a very interesting secret - we are going to invite John Lennon to talk.

Irina: Interesting.

47:43 Spirit of Tsoi about unsung songs.

Maxim: Okay, let's move on. Did you have any songs that you didn't have time to perform on stage? Those that you didn't show to everyone, but maybe showed them among friends, but didn't show them on stage?

Irina: There were some that I wrote and wanted to show, but they remained after this accident. But I feel that they are already known, by energies. There are such.

Maxim: I understand. You know, we have a system called the Internet, where you can find a lot of data. And they say that there are some verses for your songs, such as: "A Star Called the Sun", "Cuckoo", which you wrote, but they were not included in the song. Is it true, there are such couplets?

Irina: No. I did not write. Maybe someone else wrote and added, as it were. This is possible as a continuation.

49:00 Spirit of Tsoi about tattoos with his image.

Maxim: Oh, what an interesting question: Victor, many people have tattoos with your image. What do you think about this? People get tattoos of your image.

Irina: What do I think about this? Of course, I didn't expect it (surprised). I didn't expect it, because a portrait is probably quite enough if you love a performer. I'm actually touched that people even get tattoos on their bodies. This procedure is not only painful, the tattoo remains forever. This is such a great determination, it means such a love of these people, it reaches my Soul in the Spiritual world like warmth (shows), and strengthens, as you call, the egregor. And not just mine, but art in general. The egregor of my songs is an integral part of the egregor of art. Such an astral cloud.

50:44 Spirit of Tsoi about the incarnation on Burkhad.

Maxim: People are interested in what was the most significant incarnation of all your incarnations in this manvantara. How do you define it for yourself? The most significant, the most memorable, the most expressive, the most advanced?

Irina: What is this called? Pickran.

Maxim: Burkhad – I understand.

Irina: Picran. There I was one of, in your opinion, diplomats who flew to the planet Aramia (Esler, in your opinion) to establish diplomatic relations.

Maxim: I understand.

51:36 The Spirit of Tsoi about the Spirit of the wife.

Maxim: I understand. Your official wife Maryana is also already in the Spiritual world. Did you communicate with her after disincarnation? Have you communicated with her in the Spiritual World?

Irina: Yes, once.

Maxim: What level is she at?

Irina: On the ninth now.

Maxim: Why is it at such a low level?

Irina: She has raised her level even more.

Maxim: Did she fall even lower?

Irina: Yes. She told me when we talked to her. By the way, it was like this (shows): an Angel came and asked me to follow him, and I went on the ninth. And we met her there. She said that she had increased her level from which she incarnated.

Maxim: Where did she come from?

Irina: From the fourth.

Maxim: From demons, right?

Irina: Yes. At least now it shows the number “4”.

52:41 Spirit of Tsoi about the experience of levels of incarnation.

Maxim: Good question. What was the maximum and minimum level of participation of your Spirit in this manvantara?

Irina: What?

Maxim: What is the maximum and minimum level you passed while incarnating in this manvantara? Spiritual level. Was it, say, the first one? Were you on the twenty-fourth?

Irina: What are the maximum and minimum?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: I had experience. I rose to the twentieth, and my lowest was fifth.

Now I'm on the fifteenth, but I have plans to come to the angelic world.

Maxim: Thank you.

53:22 Spirit of Tsoi about his drawings.

Maxim: Victor, please tell me, you had a lot of drawings of monsters that you drew, monsters that devour people. What prompted you to draw such drawings?

Irina: These are dreams, I dreamed about it in a dream. In your opinion, this was when I left my body in a state of some kind of stress and anxiety. We lived poorly, and sometimes there were misunderstandings: "Why are you doing this and not working at your favorite job?" I met in the Astral, as you say, I saw these creatures. But I was protected by my, as you call it, mentors, curators, that's how LiSioni is with you. Only I had plasmoids.

Maxim: I understand. Tell me, please, besides Christianity, were you interested in any other religious teachings?

Irina: I would not say that I was interested in Christianity, I read various books, but nothing so serious. I knew that God was in the Soul, and I tried not to do anything bad to anyone.

Maxim: They write to ask you (I don't understand at all what the meaning of this question is, but I'll ask anyway). "Please ask what he associated with aluminum cucumbers and a tarpaulin field when he wrote the song."

Irina: It came. The text just came as a thought. By channel.

Maxim: When you wrote this text, did you probably have some associations?

Irina: When I wrote it, what associations did I have with it? I had associations with the fact that there were some “aluminum cucumbers” on the tarpaulin field - this is like our civilization, like people. It’s like eternity, indestructibility (he had it on the theme of eternity). Regular cucumbers can be eaten, but aluminum cucumbers will always be there. That's pretty much how it is with him. It came to him.

Maxim: I understand.

55:57 Tsoi’s image when communicating with Irina.

Maxim: They ask: Irina, in what form is Viktor Tsoi standing in front of you now? What do you look like, in what outfit?

Irina: A man, but for some reason he is older, probably forty, maybe thirty-five. He's middle-aged, let's put it that way. He has dark hair, for some reason it’s so long; dark eyes. Quite tall, wearing a white shirt and purple trousers. He created this image, a white shirt...

Maxim: Dear friends, in order to ask a question live, you must either look in the pinned message in the chat, or under this video - right down there there is a link to the chat from which I read the questions. Therefore, subscribe to the chat, write questions, I ask these questions from this chat.

So, we have already talked about whether he can give new lyrics and music.

57:18 Conversion of the Spirit of Tsoi.

Maxim: Dear friends, our broadcast has ended, the broadcast has been cut off. Especially for those who subscribe to Telegram, Irishka and I decided to continue this broadcast to the end, to convey this message.

Victor, please tell me what you would like to convey to all the people on this planet and those who love your work? Perhaps he wanted to convey something to his relatives? For those who wanted to chat with you. They love you very much, they were waiting for you very much.

Irina: Yes, indeed, I wanted to convey parting words, the last word. LiScioni said that this custom exists among contactees to whom various Spirits came. And indeed, Maxim decided, thanks to him, that, despite the fact that the broadcast was interrupted, to give me the opportunity to address you, dear friends. I address you with these words: love music, it heals your Souls. Love your parents. Dad, I love you, you know it. Despite the fact that you had an illness, I always felt that you were turning to me and sent you Love. Also, Sasha, I don't know if you'll watch this or not, but you know that I'm alive and you don't need any proof. You feel our communication, you are like me.

Natasha (shows the woman), I will never forget what happened between us. I will tell you a lot, but only personally, in the Spiritual world. There should be no witnesses to this (I don't know what he's talking about).

And to my fans who love songs, to my friends (each of them is my friend): I love you very much and thank you for not forgetting me. Irina will say: when I found out that there were questions for me from earthly people, I was very surprised that they remembered me.

Maxim: Very little time, takes up a very large amount of memory.

Irina: I thank you for your memory, your Light, for your bright memory. And I love you all, even while in the Spiritual world. Love and happiness to everyone!

Maxim: That's it, thank you very much, Irisha!

#433 Live broadcast. Communication with Yeti (Bigfoot).

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pryamoj-ehfir-obshchenie-s-jeti-bigfoot https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=b1-du3Wd2qs

0:03 Introduction of the participants.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello everyone.

Irina: Hello everyone.

Maxim: We will have a bomb broadcast today.

Irina: Hello.

Maxim: I'll tell you. We have long wanted to organize this broadcast, but somehow it didn’t work out.

Irina: “ How to behave when meeting a yeti?” I try to understand.

Maxim: We started broadcasting literally 2 minutes after they came to us. The most interesting thing is that not only the Yeti came to us, he came with his curator.

Irisha, please tell us what is happening here.

Irina: They write: “How to behave when meeting a yeti?” I'm trying to understand how to behave when meeting a yeti in the Astral Plane, in this case. Very strange energy. It is similar to a human one, but there are still some differences.

Maxim: Regarding the differences. I have a huge number of questions that friends sent us in chat. I'll show you where our chat is. We'll secure it. "Pin message." I just pinned the message.

In this chat you will be able to ask questions live, because soon YouTube will be closed, and we will conduct live broadcasts on Telegram. We will also conduct live broadcasts on VKontakte, Odnoklassniki and many other platforms. We'll talk about this later.

I would like to remind you that we will soon have a Turkish retreat from June 1 to June 7, 2022. You can find the link under this video. It contains a link to a Telegram chat where you can register for the Turkish retreat.

It will take place in a cool location by the sea. The number of places is limited, but I hope there will be enough for everyone. You can find a link to the Telegram chat under this video.

I entered the Telegram chat - my phone is nearby, it is open for “Question and answer. Live broadcast” - already 49 questions. The chat is working, I will ask questions from it. The question immediately came to mind: “Why are they so hairy?” Now we will find out everything, guys.

I've been waiting for this broadcast for a very long time and, fortunately, I prepared all day. I began to prepare in advance. I wrote to a very famous entomologist, ufologist, yeti researcher - Igor Burtsev. He sent a few questions that we will ask on air.

So, let's go. Tell us who is next to us. Who came, who with whom, who why, and, in general, what is all this for?

Irina: LiShioni, hello.

Maxim: LiShioni is with us today.

Irina: Hello, dear friends. My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, the Spiritual and plasmoid worlds, that is, with subtle-material entities.

Today our curators are present with us: a representative from the planet Burhad Raom Tiyan. He introduced me to his friend, who is also present. A friend from the planet Burkhad, his name is Sohar Quraym.

You can call me Soar. I am a psychologist and anthropologist, a specialist in the education and development of various nationalities and races on planet Earth, as a psychological anthropologist.

Maxim: Do you study not only yetis, but also different nationalities of earthlings?

Irina: Yes. I study the psychological characteristics of different races. And I have contactees not only in the race that you call the Yeti, but also among other races.

Maxim: I'll ask a question. Is Bigfoot here today?

Irina: Yes, my contactee. He will introduce himself. He needs to tune in to the contactee. I asked him to do this. I asked him to come and explained the importance of ether. The importance of the ether was explained in such a way that people on Earth are neighbors on the planet, and they want to know more about you. So that he himself can tell about it first-hand.

Maxim: Of course, we want to coexist together. Many people don't even believe that yetis exist. They cannot prove their existence.

Irina: (Soar speaks) This is a man. In terms of energy, he feels like he's about forty years old, maybe a little older.

(Yeti speaks) My name is Aizkha. So I hear it's such a masculine name.

Maxim: Can we contact you, Aizkha?

Irina: Yes. He greets. He makes a sign that he greets.

Maxim: You came to us today, did you have a desire to talk to us? Or were you told that this is necessary?

Irina: At first I didn't feel the desire. I don't interact with people, just like in my tribe. My curator (shows him) explained to me what people want to know about our lives. He explained to me the importance of this contact, that we might understand each other.

Maxim: Aizkha, I greet you. Thank you for coming to our broadcast. Did you come in an astral body?

Irina: Yes, in the astral, in the subtle body.

Maxim: In the subtle body. I send you the Light of my Love and thank you for being here. Helping us learn about your tribe.

Irina: I see your energy, your Soul and the energy of the woman who conveys my words of message. You are really friendly towards me, and I am ready to talk to you.

08:10 Origin of the Yeti. Sacred people. Universal Spirit.

Maxim: Thank you. Let's begin. Questions from Igor Burtsev, scientist, entomologist, ufologist, yeti researcher. He is a very busy man. I thank him for finally formulating the first group of questions, 12 or 14 questions.

So, Aizkha, please tell me where you came from and how you appeared on planet Earth?

Irina: I can only tell the story that I heard from my parents and distant ancestors. I didn't ask the curator about this, he tells me something else. This is the question, how did he hear?

Maxim: I suggest we start with your explanation, and then we'll ask the curator. What did they tell you? Where did you come from on this planet, and why are you here?

Irina: When I was a little boy, my parents told me that our people live separately from other nations for the reason that we were divided by the "Great Glaciation" (shows winter).

Maxim: "Us" – who has it divided?

Irina: People. Us from you. After the Great Glaciation, we are hiding from people. People are your civilization. By civilization I mean all other peoples of the Earth. There are no differences here; they are perceived as a kind of community.

Maxim: We perceive you as yeti, and you perceive us as people?

Irina: We perceive you as a modern civilization. There are no differences based on nationality. We have many differences which you can call "nationality".

Maxim: Do you also have internal differences?

Irina: Yes. There are 38 known tribes, as I was told.

Maxim: 38 tribes?

Irina: This is on Earth.

Maxim: On the whole planet? What else did they say?

Irina: The number of my tribe is currently 158 people (a man, he also calls himself a man). And they told me that all the tribes of our people separated from the civilization of the Earth after the Great Glaciation (shows how snow covers the entire Earth, rivers freeze).

After the Great Glaciation, which was caused by dragons attacking the Earth (shows that it was provoked). That is, the legend was that dragons attacked the Earth. This caused a decrease in sunlight.

According to our legends, it was painful for the Sun to look at this lawlessness, and it decreased its light, as I was told. For this reason, part of the life of the Earth disappeared. Many plants, animals, and our ancestors died. And the rest hid (shows) in caves, underground passages, in some corridors, tunnels.

The history of our people shows that for a long time we lived as a small tribe, and then began to spread throughout the Earth.

Shows how they move physically.

Maxim: What does this mean?

Irina: They disappear in one place and appear in another.

Maxim: Can you do that?

Irina: Not all of us.

Maxim: Who?

Irina: Some, whom we call – Sacred people, Saints.

Maxim: Priests, perhaps?

Irina: The curator calls them priests. We call “people of Light” who know how to transform their body into Light, condense this Light (this is the expression of a contactee), and collect it in another place.

Maxim: Who teaches them this?

Irina: Spirit, the Universal Spirit, whose consciousness is present throughout space.

Maxim: I didn’t understand a little, we’ll figure it out now.

Irina: He is everywhere around us, every person who is pure in heart can talk to this Spirit.

Here I come to the story of the reasons for the divisions between your civilization and our people. After the glaciation, your people left their inner nature and began to build (shows) their civilization on the blood and bones of the Earth itself. Using, as you call, its resources, while moving away from the Light, from the Spirit.

Our people did not accept this (Aizkha says), did not want to do this, so we split up. Then we developed separately. We lived in nature (shows that we lived among nature, adapting to it, communicating with its Spirits). And the people who created your civilization began to build an artificial environment.

Maxim: So you lived in a natural environment? Do I understand correctly that your Light people communicate with the Light? This is probably the same as our communication with the Higher Self?! We are learning this.

Irina: What is communication with the Higher Self for you?

Now I will explain to him. The Higher Self is the disembodied part of the Spirit.

(Aizkha says) Yes, I know that the Spirit is not incarnate. We call it "Soul". What you call the Higher Self or Spirit. Soul and Spirit are similar concepts, but we do not call it the general Spirit, we call it “personal Spirit”. And the universal Spirit is the community of all Spirits, all Higher Selves, as you say.

Maxim: What we call God, relatively speaking.

Irina: God who gives life, but does not control other beings.

Maxim: Thank you very much, Aizkha.

16:08 Soar Quraym about the origin of the yeti on Earth according to the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: I would like to address Soar Quraim, Aizkh’s curator.

Soar, how long have you been in contact with the yeti?

Irina: On Earth or from Aizkha?

Maxim: On Earth.

Irina: I have been in contact on Earth for 250 years, a little more.

Maxim: Can you tell me? You studied them, so it turns out that you were specially directed to contact them? Please tell us how yetis appeared on Earth? What yeti are on Earth now, what is their number?

Irina: (Soar speaks) Okay. Dear friends, I greet you. I studied this people. It is not homogeneous. What Aizkha just told is their legend, their myths, which well reflect the reason for the appearance of these intelligent creatures on planet Earth.

When this terrible war took place 12,000 years ago, during which many millions of people on Earth died, some were saved and taken to Mars and the Moon.

Maxim: To the moon, to the bases, you mean?

Irina: Yes, to the bases of the Moon and Mars.

Maxim: And to the bases of Mars?

Irina: Yes. There was also a war on Mars, everyone on the planet was destroyed. People lived on a base on the Moon while planet Earth was being restored.

They removed radiation and “calmed” the Earth’s core to stop the rift and rapid separation of the continents. Tectonic and volcanic activity has calmed down. Work was carried out with the plasmoid civilizations of the Earth, and at the physical level - with the devices of the Interstellar Union.

At a time when everything was being restored, there were still living people on Earth from the time of the war and the attack. They survived (Aizkha told how it is passed on to him from generation to generation). Yetis receive information not only from their parents, but also from those plasmoid civilizations with which they are in contact.

Maxim: Are they in contact with subtle civilizations?

Irina: (Soar smiles). Yes, on very good terms.

Maxim: We took the technocratic path, and they followed the path of development in nature?

Irina: They had a division, but it was connected, according to my data (Soar says), not only with the fact that earthly civilization began to use the Earth, its resources, build an artificial environment, and so on. This was one of the reasons for the separation.

According to my data, there was another reason for the separation: those people who were saved and whose genetics were changed - as is known, 5% of Tumesout genes were added - continued to be in contact at that time with the Interstellar Union, with aliens. A lot of people came.

Those people who survived the cataclysm, those who were saved, were perceived as traitors. They believed that this was a conspiracy of certain aliens. Some could not protect others for the reason that they want to destroy earthlings. They had such suspicions.

Maxim: Soar, I understand that you now want to tell the story in more depth. Unfortunately, our broadcast is short.

Guys, today's broadcast will be longer. Why? Because a huge number of questions came. I will adjust the process so that it doesn’t take too long.

Sohar Quraim, before 12,000 years ago, before the moment when changes took place on Earth, when the Earth “turned over”, dragons attacked us - you say that the reptilians did this - did yetis exist?

Irina: Ancestors, they were common with you. The remains of those people who were created 3 million years ago.

Maxim: Our ancestors were tall, from three to four meters?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: So they were approximately the same height as the Yeti?

Irina: Yes. Their growth has now decreased anyway.

Maxim: U yeti?

Irina: Yes, initially, you earthlings were created four meters tall. By the time the war began, 3 million years had passed. During this time, a mutation appeared in your population, with the help of which the tall gene was suppressed. Your height gradually began to decrease. This is evidenced by the growth of the people of Disaru.

Maxim: It turns out that there was a war 12 thousand years ago, then there was glaciation. I know that when there was a war, everyone was taken from the planet and resettled on other planets. It turns out that they took both us and the yeti out?

Irina: Those were the ones who stayed, not all of them were taken out. Not everyone went on the ships.

Maxim: Part of the Yeti was taken out, but part of the Yeti remained. Were people still on Earth at that moment?

Irina: People and yetis were not separated then. There was a single civilization on Earth. There weren't even differences by race. Differences then appeared. There were peoples, but they were not as sharply differentiated and divided as they are today.

Maxim: It turns out that not everyone was taken. Are those we call yetis left here in the unbearable conditions of a nuclear winter?

Irina: Yes. They were hiding underground. They received a dose of radiation, many of them died. But many of them were able to configure their bodies in such a way that they would reject radiation and remove radionuclides.

There was some damage to genes, including in the germ cells that they passed on to their offspring. Due to the mutations, what you call hypertrichosis or increased hairiness, dark skin color and thicker skin appeared (shows).

Maxim: Did they have thicker skin, darker skin color, increased hairiness due to the fact that they lived in such conditions?

Irina: Yes. It was also for protection. I want to say, as a scientist, as someone who sees and studies the genetic profile of these people, the mutations that they developed due to radiation were protective. Speaking strictly scientifically, they were able to direct random mutations caused by radiation energy in their germ cells to adapt to the environment.

Maxim: Do I understand correctly, we were one race. Then some were taken to the planets. The Yetis remained here and mutated due to radiation and cold. It turns out that they are our ancestors?

Irina: They are the ancestors of both yours and theirs. Now they are modern yetis.

Maxim: I understand. Next came icing, they survived and adapted. What happened next?

Irina: They returned people to Earth. They were divided, as you remember, into races.

Maxim: How many yetis were here without people? What time? How many people were missing while they mutated? How much time has passed?

Irina: About three years passed from the beginning of the war until people returned to Earth (shows that in 3 years they cleared radiation and were able to calm the Earth).

Maxim: For three years after the war? Three years after the war, did you start bringing back people like us?

Irina: Yes. We began to bring them here and resettle them throughout the territory.

Maxim: When did the mutation occur?

Irina: It happened when they began to have children, as they received changes in the cells.

Maxim: In three years?

Irina: Of course. The mutation can occur in one day, since cell division is constantly occurring.

Maxim: They mutated for three years and separated from people. Why didn't they return to people?

Irina: Because (Aizkha now explained) people went into an artificial environment and began to build cities, including with the help of aliens. With those who helped them at the bases, helped them settle into an environment that was already new to them.

But those people who did not trust the aliens did not return. They believed that all aliens were to some extent to blame for the tragedy, because many people died.

Maxim: Yeti remained in the wild and lived without using technocratic means of development.

Irina: Yes. Aizkha emphasized technocraticism. And I believe, talking with other contactees from among them, from their tribe, that the second reason was the non-acceptance of aliens, alien intelligence.

Maxim: I see. We have coexisted for about 12,000 years. I understand correctly? From the moment of the war.

Irina: Yes. They went into the wild, and you began to develop civilization technocratically.

27:07 Yeti and extraterrestrial civilizations.

Maxim: I see. Another question. This question is for Aizkha. How long have you been in contact with extraterrestrial civilizations that you were afraid of?

Irina: My tribe of one hundred and fifty-eight people?

Maxim: Yes, out of one hundred and fifty-eight people. How long has your tribe been in contact?

Irina: I was told that my tribe has been in contact for about three hundred years.

Maxim: Three hundred years. Are there any legends about first contact?

Irina: It happened in a dream, in the Astral (shows a man). The first one who made contact in our tribe had a dream that Angels came to him, and he began to talk to them. Angels is such a word. We don't represent Angels like you. These are Light Spirits, let's say.

The Light Spirits introduced themselves as being from another planet. He recognized their Soul, that they did not wish evil, he believed them because their Soul was pure. At first, his Yeti relatives, representatives of our tribe, were wary of his story. They said, “Be careful who you come into contact with.” He showed them the purity of the Soul of his curators. It wasn't Soar, it was someone else.

Maxim: I understand. Aizkha, do you have physical contactees?

Those who are taken on interstellar flights?

Irina: Yes. I am also a physical contactee.

Maxim: Are you a physical contactee? You, like Irina here, can move around, are they shown other planets, other galaxies?

Irina: Yes. Only I am a physical contactor with another alien, with the Burkhadian, with Soar. He is my physical supervisor. He has already taken me to 31 planets (shows the Pleiades).

Maxim: I don't even know, was Irina on the 31st planet?

Irina: I don't remember, I didn't count them.

29:40 Yeti mission to planet Earth.

Maxim: Please tell me a question from Igor Burtsev. What do you think is your mission on planet Earth?

Irina: Mine or someone else's?

Maxim: We are talking to you now. Understanding your tribe, your tribe's mission on this planet.

Irina: You ask why Spirits are born and incarnate in peoples that are separated from other peoples?

Maxim: Yes. Do intelligent Spirits incarnate in you? Do I get it right?

Irina: Yes, of course. I am an intelligent Spirit.

Maxim: What is your (the yeti) mission on planet Earth as a separate species?

Irina: The task of our tribal egregor?

Maxim: Yes, the task of the tribal egregor.

Irina: Our task, as I understand and realize it, communicating with the tribal Guardian Spirits of the egregor, is a task for our Spirits - to develop, to develop psychic capabilities, to survive. And not only to survive, but also to develop in an environment in which there are no artificial assistants, any devices, or buildings. To do this in conditions where there is a civilization nearby that you can reach, but at the same time remain faithful to your people. This is the way to go.

31:20 Yeti and people. Yeti movement in space.

Maxim: You made contact with extraterrestrial civilizations, but why don't you make contact with people?

Irina: Why don't we get in touch with people?

Maxim: I know that some of you are trying to contact people.

Irina: Some are trying. We tried more often before. Now we have seen the reaction of people, and few people are trying anymore, because people are not interested in talking, but (showing) to grab, to catch.

Maxim: So this is fear?

Irina: Catch. Hunting like an animal (shows that energy is felt from them). We feel the energies of people at a distance, we feel the Soul. We feel it, see with our eyes (shows) the energy around a person, smell them. We see that people are aggressive, even towards each other, even towards those peoples who live nearby.

Maxim: Is there no aggression in your tribe?

Irina: To each other - no. We live in peace and harmony, we have no wars.

Maxim: Do you move in space, disappear, appear?

Irina: No, I don't know how to do that yet, I have to learn it. You need to know the structure of your body well, down to the smallest particle, which you call, the curator told me, atoms.

You need to have very clear, consistent thinking in order to be able to not only decompose your body, but also then put it back together. For the first experiment, as the curator said, I have enough vitality, but still lack clarity and mentality. In his opinion, I still have about 20 years to study. You need to do certain exercises.

33:40 Srok zhizni yeti. Yeti calendar.

Maxim: How old are you?

Irina: On earth?

Maxim: Do you have some other calendar? How do you count time?

Irina: Yes, we count time according to the earthly calendar. I asked because our calendar also includes the pre-war calendar. The earthly calendar is already a little different.

Maxim: What do you mean, you "count" the pre-war calendar?

Irina: Then the year was shorter, the Earth's revolution around the Sun was faster. According to the modern calendar, I am ninety-two years old.

Maxim: Ninety-two years?

Irina: I thought he was forty years old.

Maxim: Please tell me, what is your life expectancy if you are ninety-two years old? How old can you live?

Irina: There is an old-timer who has lived for 300 years. But usually 150-200 years. The old-timer will be 300 years old in two years. He lives that long.

Maxim: If before the war the lifespan was 600 years, you reduced it by half, by 300 years.

Irina: Yes, we have also shrunk. Although there was no interference in our cells at the genetic level, as you say and as your curators say.

35:35 Evolution of the yeti. Appearance of a yeti. Yeti races.

Maxim: This is a serious question. They added new genes to us, but they didn't add them to you? Do you have old genes, but mutated?

Irina: Aliens added genes to our people. But some of our ancestors have been in contact with your people for 12,000 years. I mean sexual intercourse for the birth of a child. Many yetis already have mixed blood.

Maxim: Did they do it deliberately?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Why did they do this?

Irina: Smiling. Says: "Love."

Maxim: That is, out of love. Your ancestors had sexual relations with our ancestors and had children together. Where did these children live later?

Irina: They have them. Aizkha says: “With us.”

Maxim: Did they live with you? Did you raise them in your traditions?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Do these children have any advantages? Maybe they have some kind of superpowers or some kind of superpower, or something else?

Irina: They can be distinguished from us, mainly by their ability to eat animal meat, and to do so at will.

Maxim: Don’t you eat animal meat?

Irina: For example, she is a vegetarian.

Maxim: You don’t have our genes?

Irina: I asked this question to my Angel (shows). He said that perhaps I had some distant ancestors mixed with humans, but I did not manifest them in my body. Although, if I have such a goal, I can turn on these genes. We have such a consciousness and such a Spirit that can turn certain sections of DNA and genes on and off.

Maxim: You have a mixture with our human races. How many of your tribes exist, is there any difference in the tribes? Some may be more human-like, others more like Yeti. I don't know what to call it correctly. Is there any difference in skin color, for example? You could interbreed with mulattoes, with white people, with another race. Is there a difference in your tribes?

Irina: There is a difference in the length and color of the hair: dark, (shows) white hair, like a polar bear.

Maxim: Like a polar bear?

Irina: Yes. Only the person's face (shows: the person's face is slightly elongated, the head is oblong).

Maxim: Are the white hairs on your skin long?

Irina: Yes. There are red ones (shows), even yellow ones.

Maxim: Like brown bears?

Irina: Lighter.

Maxim: What other ones are there?

Irina: There are differences in the color of the skin under the hair. This is protection from cold and heat; one temperature is maintained. There are different skin colors - from light to dark. There is a difference in height: higher, lower.

Maxim: Is there a big difference in height?

Irina: There are people of your height, and there are people up to 3.5 meters. My height, for example, is 2 meters 30 cm.

Maxim: Wow.

40:00 Habitats of the yeti. Connections between Yeti tribes.

Maxim: If it's not a secret, where do you live? In what part of the Earth?

Irina: Not far from the mountains, in the south (shows mountains, low, like hills, then they turn into higher mountains; geographically, this is southeast of Lake Baikal).

Maxim: Tell me, please, are your tribes distributed throughout the Earth?

Irina: Practically, yes.

Maxim: But how come we, the people following the technocratic path, haven't discovered you yet?

Irina: We, if I speak for all tribes, as people, relatives, friends with whom I live together told me, we communicate in the Astral, as you say, we talk over long distances.

Maxim: Wait. There is the concept of the Astral, and then there is how Irina communicates with you now.

Irina: I'm in the Astral (Aizkha says).

Maxim: So you seem to be falling asleep?

Irina: My body is lying now (shows a cave, but for some reason it's very low there, you can only get through by bending down, at least to him). He is lying on a stone bench (shows), there is a little light from somewhere, and something is dripping.

Maxim: You can communicate through the Astral with any representative of your species. Do I get it right?

Irina: Yes, we can concentrate, get in touch with each other, but if we both want to do this, and transmit information. Without your means of communication. Including visual information (show images) and verbal information (give information in words).

We do not have a language, in your understanding, so developed that there is a description of all objects. Ours is more figurative. People from other Yeti tribes told me that your people saw Yeti quite often (Aizkha says), there were contacts.

Maxim: Do you have information that someone from our tribe caught a yeti from your tribe? Have people caught yeti?

Irina: Yes, there have been such cases, but this is not in our tribe.

Maxim: Not in your tribe?

Irina: Yes. I haven't heard anything like this in ours. In my 92 years of life, no one has gone missing. For someone to disappear and be transferred to people. No one went to people, and no one told me about it.

Maxim: Tell me, please, were there any cases when a child from mixed marriages between yetis and people remained with people?

Irina: Yes, there was such a case (shows), not in our tribe, it’s somewhere in the south, the Black Sea.

Maxim: So what? Did the child remain in the human tribe?

Irina: The news came from there. But there was no information that they had been caught. A woman from our tribe agreed with a man from the people who lived there.

Maxim: And she herself gave birth to his child out of love?

Irina: In our tribe it is impossible to conceive a child without love. Our woman has the ability to influence conception in such a way that if she hates a man and does not want to have a relationship with him, she will destroy both her and his cell. In the form of a thought (shows).

Maxim: That is, a woman must fall in love in order to conceive a child.

Irina: Yes, that's why the children stayed there. But that was a long time ago (shows). He says this is before he was born. He heard about it.

Maxim: I understand. Thank you so much.

45:15 Percentage of the Spirit embodied in the yeti. Yeti and Nature Spirits. Yeti communication with each other.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what percentage of the Spirit is embodied in your bodies?

Irina: Also 30%.

Maxim: Also 30%, like in us?

Ирина: Да.

Maxim: I understand, thank you. Please tell me if you have anything to do with our Slavic gods: Svarog, Veles. To the Vedic ones.

Irina: Who is this?

Now I'll show him. These are our names. I'll tell him in my mind.

Ah, these are the Gods of nature that your ancestors worshiped. But we don't call them that. We call them "Nature Spirits". Yes, we communicate with them.

Maxim: Do you communicate with them? Do you give them any information about us? For example, what do you think of us?

Irina: Everyone is different. For example, I communicate with the Spirits of Nature about nature itself, about how to control natural processes, how to help nature.

Maxim: Please tell me, haven't you tried to establish contact with earthlings through the Spirits of Nature? Communication with earthlings through the Spirits of Nature.

Irina: While we were discussing (shows) with the elder of the tribe (some kind of Circle). We said that at present contact is not advisable because it will not give anything. We will be pulled out of our environment (shows) and placed in civilization.

We are not ready for this (Aizkha says), we want to live there. And if we continue to live there, then curious tourists will come to us and bring us various technocratic things that can turn us off this path.

Maxim: Yes, yes. We'll make a zoo out of you. I know. Excuse me please. People, unfortunately, do just that. If we find something, we start showing it to others and keep it locked away.

Irina: He said that it was a decision of some Circle that contact was not advisable at the present time.

Maxim: Please tell me, do you think it is possible for yeti to cooperate with people?

Irina: For what and in what way?

Maxim: For sharing experiences, for increasing awareness, for a different perception of reality.

Irina: At the personal level, yes, but at the civilizational level, we will, as you correctly said, only an exhibit for study. No one can adopt our experience, we believe, in large quantities, not only if they don't want to, or can't. Because you have a completely different mental development in your brain.

Maxim: I know that you communicate in words in a strange way. Do you have any language of communication?

Irina: Ours is more based on images. A certain syllable denotes a certain image.

Maxim: Does a certain syllable mean a certain image?

Irina: Yes. There was no need for us to make of this language what you did with the description of what you call linear thinking. That is, this word denotes this object, this word denotes this action.

For us it is figurative and is supplemented by mental images. We, being next to each other, can look into each other's eyes and understand. There is communication with thoughts, but it is not purely mental. It is at the level of feelings. Feel each other's energy, as you call it. When you feel the energy, you understand what your interlocutor put into this syllable.

49:17 The number of yetis on Earth. Energy exchange between yeti and nature.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what is the number of yetis on planet Earth?

Irina: Is this a question for Aizkha?

Maxim: I will ask a question to Soar Quraim, your curator. What is the number of yetis on planet Earth: species, genera, tribes?

Irina: Currently, according to our instruments and contact data, there are around 15 thousand on the entire planet.

Maxim: Are there about 15 thousand yetis on the entire planet?

Irina: Yes. All over the planet, all over the territory (so he says).

Maxim: Very interesting. I will continue questions from Igor Burtsev. You make wooden and stone pyramids in the forests. What is the significance of these pyramids? We find them.

Irina: It's not us. There are forest yetis. In the forest or in mountain areas where there is a lot of forest?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: There are some.

I wouldn't call what he shows me a "pyramid." Some kind of pointed column, a wide base laid out, something else.

This happens. One of the yetis, as you call us, teaches, as a teacher, our children to control spatial energies. This is a place of learning.

Maxim: You use the energies of earth, water, fire, space. Do you teach children to use these energies?

Irina: Not just to use, but to integrate into energy flows, so as not to be a consumer, but to be a participant in the living force of nature.

Maxim: Participate in energy exchange with nature. Did I understand correctly?

Irina: Yes.

51:50 Yeti languages. Social structure of the Yeti tribes. Everyday routine of a yeti.

Maxim: Tell me, please, do you have the same language for all tribes, or, like us, different human languages?

Irina: A little different. But the mental language is one.

Maxim: The mental language is one, but the languages are different?

Irina: Yes, different images can be put into one syllable.

Maxim: I know that you braid horses' hair. Why are you doing this?

Irina: Which horses?

Maxim: Are you doing this?

Irina: (Aizkha says she doesn't know) I haven't heard that. I know horses. We communicate with their Souls. Souls are also embodied in them, as in other animals. But braids? Maybe this is gratitude to the Soul? Gratitude in the form of decoration. I didn't do that. Funny.

Maxim: I understand. Thank you so much.

Are there differences in the level of intelligence and awareness in your tribes?

Irina: Of course there is. All people, all Spirits are different. Some are more adapted to life in nature, in managing natural processes, while others require help.

Maxim: What is your management structure in the tribe? Is there a leader, a main one?

Irina: Leader (shows) and assistant.

Maxim: Male?

Irina: No, it can be male or female.

Maxim: Can a leader be male or female?

Irina: It depends on the level of contact with the Universal Spirit and the size of its aura. If he has a large aura, it is very dense, an energetic shell, and glows, which means he has a large amount of personal energy to lead others.

Maxim: Is there a hierarchy within your society, and what is it? Let's say senior, junior.

Irina: We have different families. The tribe is divided into families. Each family member performs some kind of work that is useful for the entire tribe. But in decisions everyone is equal. An important decision is made by discussion, by the entire tribe.

A leader is one who proposes ideas but does not insist on them. In our country, a leader is considered not the one who commands, but the one who suggests where we should go, what we should do, what new places to explore.

Maxim: What do you do? Do you raise animals by farming like we do, by raising animals? What do you do in the tribe? How do you eat, what do you eat?

Irina: One by one.

Maxim: What do you do in your daily life? Please briefly describe a day in the life of the tribe.

Irina: We get food. We communicate with animals. We give birth to children and pass on our experience to them. We explore our Soul, that is, we communicate with the Soul. For example, I am a disciple of a priest. My teacher is already 134 years old. It can move and rise above the ground (shows).

Maxim: Levitate?

Irina: We call this state “the sky has settled in the Soul.”

Maxim: The state when “heaven has settled in the Soul”? Interesting condition.

Irina: I’m interested in the word “levitation”. What is this?

Maxim: Levitation is weight loss and the ability to soar in the air.

Irina: I heard this from my supervisor Soar. Does the word "Levite" have anything to do with the Levites?

Laughs. Soar laughs. Now we will puzzle him.

Maxim: Sohar Quraym, I have a question for you. Not to Aizkha, but to you. What are the connections with local groups? Is it available in North America or Western Europe? Do they have any connection and common agreements on the transfer of experience? They wrote: “North America, Western Europe, European Russia, Siberia, Australia, Asia, are there really yetis there?”

Irina: Yes. There are tribes in these areas. They communicate with each other at a distance, as he described, through the Astral.

General agreements? But I only know of one arrangement, which he described as the Council of Elders.

He was in each of these tribes. And then it took place in the Astral (as you say), as a general gathering of leaders. There was an agreement about the inappropriateness of contacts with the civilization of earthlings. I know about this because I heard it not only from this contactee of mine, but also from others.

Maxim: Thank you. Aizkha, I'll ask you a question. Do you understand the language of the people in the countries you live in?

Irina: No. (Aizkha speaks) We do not learn the language of people. We only feel the energies. It's like random sounds.

Maxim: I know that different contactees are trying to contact you. Do they understand? Ah, they are on the astral level.

Irina: I have contact now. I do not know Russian.

Maxim: That is, you don't know the language.

Irina: I don't know what you call Russian. I know that Russia is here. I live in the country, I know about this from my supervisor. We call our sounds differently.

From my curator I know that the artificial civilization (that's what we call it) that lives there calls the country "Buryatia," where I live directly. Buryatia is part of Russia. For me, of course, this is very strange. (Aizkha speaks) It was very interesting for me to listen, especially when I was young, about this. It's strange how one country can fit into another. How then is one different from the other?

(Aizkha says that he asked his supervisor this question) He explained it to me. I know that the large country, which includes the small country of Buryatia, is called "Russia", that the language here is Russian.

Maxim: Are you a Buryat yeti? Is that how it works? Are you a yeti from Buryatia?

Irina: Yes. In the area where Lake Baikal is, you call it that. I know that the large country that Buryatia is part of is called Russia, and the language here is Russian, but I don't know it.

Maxim: Tell me, please, does your tribe go to Lake Baikal?

Irina: Rarely. There must be a transition. If you walk, it will take many days. And if on animals, then this can be noticed. Those of us who can move, they move there.

Maxim: Wait. And for those who don't move, do you use animals to move?

Irina: Yes, only in those areas they help us move.

Maxim: What kind of animals must be in order to move you?

Irina: They don’t sit on horseback, they have something like a cart (shows).

But we do this only where we will not be noticed, where there are no people. This is done by those who have not yet moved through space.

Maxim: I understand. Do you know yetis who can talk to people themselves, who have learned the language of people?

Irina: No, I don’t know anyone like that.

Maxim: Soar Quraim, are there yetis who try to communicate with people in human language?

Irina: (Soar speaks) The contact I brought is still loyal to people. The rest are quite rigid about contacts and are unlikely to want to learn the language. At the very least, they will consider it a pointless waste of time. They directed their thoughts precisely towards control over nature.

Maxim: Question for Aizkha. Are you developing your speech abilities? Are you trying to develop your language to communicate? Or you have a certain language, and you have been communicating in it for a thousand years.

Irina: (Aizkha speaks) When we come up with new words, we, of course, remember them and pass them on to our children. But for now, what we have is enough for us. (They have more developed mental communication).

The curator who flies to me from another planet has learned my language. He communicates with me when we are in physical contact, not in Russian, but in the language of my ancestors. But he just constructs words and syllables a little strangely.

Maxim: Is it Sohar Quraym who constructs his words strangely?

Irina: (Irina shows how Soar grabbed his head).

Maxim: Can I use a syllable? How does “Earth” sound in Yeti? What does the word “Earth” sound like in the language of our Buryat yeti? How can you hear, Irina?

Irina: Kara or Kagra.

Maxim: Kara or Kagra? I understand.

1:03:00 Yeti abilities. Treatment, nutrition yeti.

Maxim: Please tell me, in your tribe - we learned about levitation and teleportation - are there any other abilities that you are developing?

Irina: I have already talked about controlling your body, that is, controlling your cells. Thanks to the control of cells, we leave incarnation when the Spirit himself decides to do so. It is a conscious choice to leave your body. We practically do not have most of the diseases that you have. We don't have the medicine, the drugs that you have.

Maxim: How are you treated? How are you being treated?

Irina: Mentally, if a person is injured in some way, then we are mentally, even a child.

Maxim: If the yeti is injured. I will clarify for the audience so that it is clear.

Irina: Yes ( Aizkha speaks). If one of the Yetis is injured in some way, then even a child can stop the bleeding by directing his gaze and mentally commanding the blood vessels to close and the blood cells to create a clot, as you say. But this is based on the images of the contactee.

We explain this process a little differently, in the form of energy flows. Blood for us is a form of energy, and we can interrupt its flow into the external environment. Further, there may be very dangerous small animals in the wound, which we mentally ask not to kill our body.

Maxim: I understand. Are you involved in farming? Do you grow vegetables and wheat like we do? How do you look for food?

Irina: We don’t plant vegetables, we don’t grow wheat. We eat various seeds, fruits, berries, and mushrooms. Those of us who are vegetarians.

Maxim: Are there any meat eaters?

Irina: Yes. But they too, since we have practically no open fire. It can be mined, but only in places where people cannot see, so as not to attract attention, for example, in a cave. It's not visible and we can cook some food.

It shows something interesting, I don’t even know what it is. I understand, I’ll explain now.

Take a stone, flat, round and large. The Yeti sits down in front of him (shows), puts his hands on this stone, closes his eyes.

(Aizkha says) Now I will show you the experience. It causes the particles, atoms that make up the stone, to vibrate quickly, which makes the stone heat up.

Maxim: Do you heat the stones?

Irina: They transmit energy, their vitality, and this causes the particles of the surface layer of the stone, which contains relatively few molecules, to vibrate faster.

Maxim: Does one Yeti work instead of an electrical outlet? You sit down, touch the stone, transmit impulses to it, the top layer of the stone begins to heat up. What happens on this top layer?

Irina: You can fry meat, if you are a meat eater, mushrooms or take herbs.

Maxim: Guys, this is not a recording. I am now writing down answers to questions from a famous entomologist and ufologist. Don't worry, we will extend this broadcast. This will be an approximately 2-hour broadcast, because I have a lot of questions that you sent, and I have already written them out. I have already structured them. I see all the questions and wrote them down.

Guys, let's wait a little, I myself am very interested in this topic. Do not worry. Everything will be fine. Now we will ask all the questions.

Irina: And a fire needs to be lit in order, for example, to melt a special stone and create very hard, durable tools from it.

Maxim: Can you melt stones, changing the structure of the stone, and create some kind of durable weapon for yourself? Can you do this only with stone or with iron, with quartz, with minerals?

Irina: This is metal (shows something similar to a knife).

Yes (Soar says), they can melt copper, iron in those places and obtain certain items from them.

Maxim: I'll ask again. Can they do it mentally?

Irina: No. This requires too much mental energy; it's easier for them to light a fire. But they make a fire without using the "stone on stone" technique.

Maxim: How do they make a fire?

Irina: Craftsman, priest. Not everyone can heat a stone. (Aizkha says) This is one of the preparatory exercises for teleportation and levitation. One of the tribe who owns it comes up (shows already folded twigs for the fire), takes one of them and heats it in his hand. Then he puts it back.

Maxim: Wow. I understand. Thank you.

Please tell me if you have any written language or something else. This is how we write, record something. Do you have any form of writing?

Irina: We do not have writing, but rather an image of language, syllables in order to convey information. The priesthood has this.

Some priests, in order not to forget information about some new way, for example, of communicating with Spirits, or about some practice aimed at accelerating energy exchange in their body, can use certain signs (shows icons like squares) to indicate this. Signs can only be understood by them and those to whom they convey this knowledge.

Maxim: Don't you have a specific writing system like we have: letters, syllables, words?

Irina: There are no specific letters. They can come up with them themselves.

Maxim: That's it, thank you very much. Dear Igor, if we really interest you, we are ready to talk about this topic.

And now I will move on to the questions that people wrote in chats. I'll start asking questions from chats.

First question. Can a person come and live with you?

Irina: No. He is unlikely to be accepted. They won't believe that he has come for good. They will think that he will want to go and reveal their place (he says). Hardly.

Maxim: Are there animals in the forest that we don’t know yet? Let's say a chupacabra.

Irina: Which ones do you know?

Maxim: There is an assumption that some kind of chupacabra lives in our forest.

Irina: For me it’s just a set of sounds. Who is this?

Maxim: Half kangaroo, half wolf, half fox. Drinks animal blood.

Irina: Kangaroo, wolf? What kind of kangaroo, it doesn’t live with us. (He says) Even I know from the curator that the animals you named exist in other regions of the Earth. You need to show it to him so he can look.

Maxim: I understand. I'm sorry. I won't ask such questions anymore.

1:12:00 Yeti dwellings. Thermoregulation yeti.

Maxim: Tell me, please, where do you live, how are your dwellings, your houses arranged?

Irina: It depends. There are caves, sometimes (shows) underground, like a dugout or a trench, covered with something, some branches, large trunks. In your forest there are trees that have fallen, and there are branches on top so that you can't see them.

We can regulate our body temperature, including through fur. If it is too cold, then contract the muscles of the skin so that it does not release heat, so that the blood vessels do not release heat. The same mechanism that animals that live in the cold have.

Maxim: Guys who joined later and did not hear the questions, please go to the beginning of the broadcast. You are writing questions that we have already answered.

Do yetis live in caves?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Great.

Irina: There are those who climb trees and weave nests from branches, tying them from grasses that curl.

Maxim: Tell me, please, your incarnated Spirit - the Interstellar Union gave us the structure of the Spiritual World with levels - from what level did you incarnate into the Yeti?

Irina: Since the eighteenth.

Maxim: From the eighteenth, from the level of Guardian Angel in Yeti?

Irina: Yes, yeti - Angel.

Maxim: You live in our dimension, do you really exist, are you harmonized with nature and feel the approach of expeditions, people who come to explore you?

Irina: We feel the energy of people several kilometers away. Even those children who go far from our tribe, explore the world around them, who have not yet learned to feel the energy of space, are told by subtle entities, plasmoids.

Maxim: Plasmoids suggest that there is a danger of seeing a person.

1:14:34 Yetis and plasmoids. Exile yeti through tribes.

Irina: Plasmoids accompany each of our children. From 16 to 60 plasmoids.

Maxim: At what age do you start teaching children to communicate with plasmoids?

Irina: From the age when they say “mom, dad.”

Maxim: What is the word for “mother” in the Yeti language?

Irina: Mara.

Maxim: And dad?

Irina: Atra.

Maxim: Atra? Interesting. OK.

We already asked about superpowers.

Where is it more comfortable for you to be, among the trees or among the rocks? And why?

Irina: What does comfortable mean in your understanding?

Maxim: Comfortable is where it is convenient for you to harmonize with nature, with energies, with space. Where is more convenient?

Irina: We can harmonize in any space. When we come to a new space, we first become acquainted with the Spirits of this area and ask for their permission to settle in their territory. If they allow it, we do it.

Maxim: Yetis, judging by the previous answer, can incarnate from any level. Having come out of this incarnation, can we choose to incarnate as a yeti on Earth?

Irina: I was previously incarnated as a person on Earth.

Maxim: Have you been incarnated as a human before? Do you remember how it was?

Irina: My Soul showed me, as you say, the Higher Self. It was the image of a man (shows) in a turban, some teacher, singing (shows the territory). It was on Indian territory, I was a religious figure there.

Maxim: Please tell me how you feel about people. And it’s hard to film you on cameras, in various traps that people set. How do you feel about it, cameras, camera traps?

Irina: It’s not about the cameras, we sense a person several kilometers away. When they feel it, everyone decides for themselves whether to approach or not. There are fewer such contacts.

Maxim: There are people who install cameras and leave this place. You can't feel the cameras, can you?

Irina: Why? She has a certain energy. Not like a camera, but something alien. Imagine, on the shore of a lake, among the stones, there lies an iron object, for example, a pistol. Will you see it with your eyes? Can you distinguish it from stones? So in space one feels not something natural, but something artificially created.

Maxim: By energy you determine that something is wrong here. And everyone decides whether to go there or not?

Irina: Yes. There are those who research this subject. They come up and check if there are people nearby.

I know of such cases, not in our tribe, somewhere (shows America).

Maxim: Why does it happen that you still approach people and let them see you?

Irina: Out of curiosity. Most likely young people. They can approach people. The elder of our tribe warns them not to do this, and then reprimands them that people may come who will not allow them to live in peace.

Maxim: Is there punishment in your tribe? Did some yeti do something wrong and they whipped him with rods?

Irina: For what?

Maxim: I'm just asking. Are there any penalties? I gave an example.

Irina: Punishments can happen if our fellow tribesman succumbed to the influence of dark Spirits, a dark Spirit moved into him, and he began to destroy everything around him. He is expelled.

Maxim: Are there crazy yetis who roam the forests alone?

Irina: They cast him out so that he can take care of himself, because he can be evil, he can harm someone. We don't take life.

Maxim: I know that some yetis in ancient forests are in contact with hunters, they can visit a fire near which a hunter is sitting. Haven't you heard of this?

Irina: Yes. I said at the very beginning that some people make contact, but do not talk to the hunter. Because they don't understand each other's language. Even if the hunter wants to talk, he needs to learn to feel the energies.

Maxim: I understand.

1:20:14 Aizkha family. Yeti's physique and hygiene.

Maxim: Please tell me, do you have a family? You are in contact.

Irina: Yes. I have a wife, she is still alive, and four children. Three boys and a girl.

Maxim: Are boys or girls more welcome in your family?

Irina: How is that?

Maxim: I understand. This question was for backfilling, check it out.

Irina: How can a girl be born without a boy, and a boy without a girl? Are you denying one of the energies?

Maxim: I was just checking on you, sorry.

Irina: He became interested.

Maxim: I'm asking a serious question. Can a yeti kill a person?

Irina: Only if he defends himself. But as far as I know, as I already said, we do not welcome murder and war. But if he is attacked, he will, of course, defend himself, because this is the instinct of life.

Maxim: Tell me, please, can you paralyze or erase people's memories?

Irina: Yes, some priests can influence consciousness. I understand what you are asking. Some of our priests, sacred people, can influence a person's consciousness, memory, and body in such a way that he falls under the influence of strong, as you call, life energy or psychic energy. And his body will carry out the orders of the priest. But for this he must not be able to control himself, be unconscious.

Maxim: We have an interesting story about a woman named Zana. She is from Tkhin in Abkhazia.

Irina: We need to show it.

Maxim: Yes, I understand. We have already said that there are yetis who have sexual relations for love with earthly people, and children are born from them. Therefore, we will skip this question.

Tell me, please, do you have a tail?

Irina: No.

Maxim: That is, you are tailless. How do you wash and do you need to wash?

Irina: There is water. Usually our settlement is near water bodies. There we take ablution, wash ourselves. But we don't just wash, we are in the water at night (shows dark time). We tune our eyes so that they begin to see objects clearly in low light. We go out and wash ourselves (shows how to swim).

Maxim: How do you get rid of bugs in your hair, fleas, maybe something else?

Irina: We ask them not to come to us.

Maxim: What are you doing?

Irina: We ask them not to come to us, they go to the animals.

Maxim: Normal. Can you ask a wild dog for the fleas to go away?

Irina: You can contact me.

Maxim: Guys, we have already answered, they can conceive children with people, but only out of love.

Irina: We are genetically compatible.

1:24:00 Greeting the Yeti. Guardian spirits of yeti from plasmoid worlds.

Maxim: Please tell me, will you be able to get in touch with Irina in the future without your curator?

Irina: I'm already tuned in to it. How does one convey (ask for) information? If her transmission of information suits you. How do you like her delivery of information?

Maxim: Excellent transfer of information. I understand everything.

Irina: I'm saying that she conveys my images quite accurately. I could come to contact you if this contactee suits you in terms of purity of perception.

Maxim: People are interested in how you greet each other with a speech, when you felt and saw each other?

Irina: Not with speech (shows), they put a hand to the heart. Bowing is a movement of the head. When you put your hand on your heart, it means you are turning to the spiritual heart, a part of the Spirit (you call it the spiritual heart), the center of which is in the chest.

When you nod, you are indicating that your energy is being directed from the energy channel (which goes up), with your head movement being directed to the fourth chakra and to the person. There's a flow going through me.

Maxim: I understand, thank you. About the illness. You ask, “Do they have diseases?” They guys have diseases that are not the same as ours. They treat their illnesses through their awareness, through mental perception. Their height is from 2 to 3.5 meters. They live up to three hundred years. There was already such a question.

Irina: He says that this was the maximum in their tribe.

Maxim: They say that if you are caught, you can still somehow escape, get out of these traps?

Irina: Yes. We have such techniques. They are transmitted by our sacred people, priests. It is even taught to children.

If a person is captured by people who have created an artificial environment, how, with the help of thought, can he ask for a plasmoid, which is always nearby, like a Guardian Spirit.

There is a Guardian Spirit from the Spiritual World, which you call a Guardian Angel, and there is a Guardian Spirit from the Plasmoid World.

Ask him to influence one of the people: enter him through the brain and order his body to release the yeti. There are people susceptible to plasmoid civilizations.

Maxim: That is, you use hypnosis in difficult life situations, when you meet people.

Irina: You call this hypnosis?!

Maxim: Yes, this is hypnosis. There were forest fires in Siberia. Did they affect you in any way? When there is a fire in the forest, the Spirits of Nature probably tell you. Are you moving somewhere, changing your location, leaving?

Irina: The Spirits of Nature warn us in advance.

Maxim: Do the Spirits of Nature also warn you about an earthquake in advance?

Irina: They warn about all disasters. About all the disasters that you call natural, that is, sudden changes in the environment that can be dangerous.

Maxim: You said that you harness someone to the carts. Who do you harness to the carts, what animals, and how do you tame the animals?

Irina: Shows a big moose.

Maxim: Please tell me, do you somehow communicate with bears?

Irina: Yes, we communicate like with animals. How do you communicate with pet dogs?

Maxim: I know cases of bears attacking you. Was it like this?

Irina: Not in our tribe. If this happened, it's hard for me to imagine. We learn from childhood to communicate mentally. Perhaps the bear was sick.

1:29:12 Yeti burial ritual.

Maxim: Please tell me why we can't find the remains after your death?

Irina: Because we transfer them to the Spirit of Fire.

Maxim: Do you burn your remains?

Irina: We transfer the body to the Spirit of Fire so that the Spirit of Fire will lift the Soul upward, to the Sun.

Maxim: When the body is burned, do plasmoids help the Spirit move to the Spiritual World?

Irina: They receive the energy contained in their bodies. Yes, I understood you (now tune in to my vocabulary).

Fire plasmoids receive energy that is stored in the biochemical bonds of the body when it burns. This is only a visible chemical reaction, and energetically the destruction of biochemical bonds occurs.

Energy is released upward. You only record that it comes out in the form of heat, and it is absorbed by the plasmoids. This is the food of the Spirits of Fire.

As payment for this energy, they create a luminous cocoon around the Soul, which allows it to easily and quickly reach the Higher worlds.

Maxim: Tell me, please, how do you feel about burying the body in the ground? Give up your body to the spirit of the earth? We bury our own by burying them in the ground. How do you feel about this?

Irina: I don't understand this (Aizkha says), if you look from the point of view of our beliefs, our knowledge, it will be difficult for the Spirit to rise from the earth, to leave the body without the Spirits of fire, because this is a connection with the earth. You need to connect with fire.

According to our beliefs, fire rises upward along with smoke, and Spirits, in the same way, quickly raise the Spirit of the deceased. Of course, you can come out of the ground, but this is an energy expenditure.

Maxim: Thank you very much, very interesting information to think about.

Irina: That's how they treat it.

1:32:09 Yeti physical activity.

Maxim: Please tell me, do you have any games or entertainment? For example, "catch up with me, starling."

Irina: Children play with animals and with each other. And we are busy looking for food, storing it, talking about our plans, and also developing our psychological, mental abilities that we need to live in this nature.

Maxim: Thank you. Guys, we have already talked about hierarchy. Watch the broadcast from the very beginning, there is a lot of interesting and useful information.

Do you consider yourself strong?

Irina: In what sense?

Maxim: Do you feel that you are stronger than a person?

Irina: How do you measure strength?

Maxim: In dexterity, in skill, in muscles, in the body.

Irina: But this needs to be compared with something.

Maxim: Tell me, please, but they say that your body does not bend like ours. Are there any differences regarding body flexion?

Irina: Why doesn’t it bend? We have a lot of physical movements, and we move, sometimes over long distances. We carry it, carts, as I said, cannot always be there. We help our children or carry them. This is usually done by men.

There are hunters (shows). In tribes where there are meat eaters. Some hunters do not need to make a shooting weapon in order to hunt: a bow and arrow. They can leave traces that people will find. Usually they use stones. That's how precise hunting an animal can be. The Yeti first calls him, and then uses stones to kill him.

Maxim: I only ask questions from the Telegram chat. Further questions will also be asked only in this chat. Because YouTube will soon be closed, and we are learning how to do it.

Tell me, please, do you dance with your woman, an evening dance by the fire, for example? I don't know what it might look like.

Irina: Now I’ll tell you, do you dance?

Maxim: You hug and move to the sound of some sounds.

Irina: No. We don't have music like yours. We have a rhythm (claps hands, points) in order to call upon the Spirits. It's with the sound.

Maxim: Guys, about animal meat. We talked about what they eat at the beginning of the broadcast. They are different: there are meat eaters, there are vegetarians.

Irina: They can eat birds.

Maxim: Do you eat fish?

Irina: Those who eat meat and who live near bodies of water can, using their brain waves, call a fish, catch it and eat it.

Because they eat meat and fish, their energy changes in such a way that no matter how much they call, the fish will not come. Animals feel instinctively.

Maxim: Do they feel it at the genetic level?

Irina: They can ask others to do it.

Maxim: Interesting.

Irina: Animals feel.

1:36:28 Energy structure of the Yeti. Yeti state of consciousness. Aizkha's favorite products.

Maxim: Tell me, please, do you have the same number of chakras as we do, that is, 7 energy centers?

Irina: Yes, of course, just like you have 7 main energy centers. 30% of the Spirit is embodied in the body.

Maxim: We are now being told that people are opening new energy centers. They each have 9 energy centers. Do you have yetis who open new energy centers within themselves?

Irina: Maybe they don't open, but call certain steps of ascent to their Soul in the spiritual channel energy centers?

Maxim: Most likely, yes. You said it right.

Irina: Because there are main energy centers, there are secondary ones, which are located in the place of the joints, in the place of the palms and feet. And between them there are even smaller ones.

Maxim: I understand, thank you. You know the energy structure well.

Irina: He feels.

Maxim: If you learn from childhood to communicate with plasmoid civilizations and with the Spirits of nature, of course, you will feel and sense them.

Tell me, please, do your tribe use anything that alters consciousness? For example, sour berries and some mushrooms are collected in the swamps to change consciousness. Do you have this?

Irina: To change what?

Maxim: Consciousness.

Irina: Why? I understand what you are talking about. Our ancestors, for example, my parents, talked about how this exists among people. And we know what plants and mushrooms we are talking about.

We need clarity of consciousness so that we can control energies. This is especially important for those who study with priests. Someone, for the sake of experiment, can use it to compare with their condition, but this is not on a large scale.

Maxim: Guys, we have already answered the question. They can interbreed with humans naturally, but only out of love. Please watch the broadcast first. The broadcast is simply bomb. The first questions were written by a famous entomologist and scientist who sent them to us. I really asked him to write questions. Therefore, watch the beginning of the broadcast, there is a lot of interesting things there.

Please tell me how many fingers and toes you have?

Irina: Five.

Maxim: Just like ours?

Irina: Yes. We have your genetics.

Maxim: But your paws are bigger than ours.

Irina: The fingers could be bigger.

Maxim: Guys, I repeat once again, these are our ancient ancestors who took a different path of development and live in tribes. There are about 15,000 of them on the planet. The Yeti tribe with which we communicate has 158 tribesmen.

Tell me, please, what is your favorite food?

Irina: Shows apples.

Maxim: Apples?

Irina: Yes. They are brought by the priest, who moves to the places where they grow.

Maxim: Yes, guys, an entomologist is a scientist who studies animals.

Now he will see the broadcast and say: “Well, that’s it.” He is a ufologist, biologist, and studies Yeti.

Irina: Yetiologist. Cryptozoologist (Soar suggested).

Maxim: Cryptozoologist, everything is correct. Besides apples, what do you like?

Irina: Tomatoes. They are also brought by the elder, the priest, who moves to the places where they grow.

Maxim: I understand. Can you control the weather?

Irina: We can ask. Manage directly - no. We can only ask the Spirits of Nature to create some conditions for us. But they may or may not agree because they also have their own plans for certain weather conditions.

1:41:12 Time, distances for the Yeti.

Maxim: I’ll ask the question again. How do you measure time anyway? We have a watch. We have atomic clocks, which are the standard of time. How do you measure time? And do you measure time at all?

Irina: By the sun (shows, looking at the sun: sunrise, sunset and noon). Also at night: sunset, midnight and sunrise. This is how time is measured.

Maxim: So they determine it by the sun?

Irina: According to the sun. At night by the stars. During the night the stars move.

Maxim: How do you measure distance? We have length, width, height. A certain measure.

Irina: For us, a hundred steps constitute a measure - erskha (he says something, I don't understand). We can say, for example, "half of an erskha" or "10 erskha."

Maxim: You have some units of measurement, right?

Irina: Yes, there are (speaks).

Maxim: I understand. Do you have nicknames? Let's say, I apologize for this example, the Indians have a name and a fighting nickname, for example, "Dead Eye." His name is Dead Eye Joe. Do you have any nicknames?

Irina: My name is Aizkha. That's what they called me. In your opinion it will be "time", "period". I was born when certain flowers were blooming, in the spring in May, dandelions. I was called that because I was born during this period.

Maxim: I understand. That's what everyone calls you, right?

Irina: Yes, this is my name, how can I convey it.

Maxim: Does your coat color change depending on the time period? Let's say you are white in winter and red in summer.

Irina: No. He doesn't confirm.

Maxim: I have a secret question for you. What law of nature is not open to people, but which is open to you?

Irina: What are the secrets of nature? What is the law of nature?

Maxim: Yes. What law of nature is not open to people, but is open to you?

Irina: Perhaps you should ask the curator. He studied your world. Unfortunately or fortunately, I did not go to your school and did not study what you discovered.

Maxim: Good answer. Everything is fine with clarity of consciousness. I understand. Thank you, I understand. I won't ask this question any further.

Irina: They are both smiling.

Maxim: There is an opinion that when meeting a yeti, a person gets sick and even dies. It happens?

Irina: Of course, maybe. If a person falls into fear and says, orders, inspires his body that this is dangerous for him, he can kill himself. You have this power. We have it and you have it. Only we use it for health, and you often use it for illness. How do you do it? I can tell you.

Maxim: What are you writing? The body is not set on fire? On the contrary, they set the body on fire. Watch the broadcast from the very beginning.

Irina: He didn’t say that they don’t use fire.

Maxim: Let's move on. We have a question. We have already talked about superpowers. We have questions from our St. Petersburg branch.

Irina: Very interesting. What is a branch? I'll explain now.

Maxim: Our St. Petersburg branch would like to ask a question.

First question. Yes, they have children together. There are curators and mentors.

Do you have curators and mentors in the Spiritual World?

Irina: Yes. Guardian Angels, Angels-mentors who brought us into this world.

Maxim: Someone from the St. Petersburg branch really wants to become your contactee. Is it possible?

Irina: He says: “As a contactee, mine? I’m a contactee myself.”

Maxim: You can set up astral contact with the Yeti, perhaps?

Irina: I could try if the person wants. Let him ask his curator or his Soul, ask him to tune in to me. I'll hear him if we're compatible.

Maxim: Do you eat people?

Irina: Tell me how he answers?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: This cannot even be in our thoughts, because the human body should belong to the gods and not be used for food. To the Gods - Spirits of Fire.

Maxim: I understand. Thank you.

Irina: He can be “eaten” when a person comes out of incarnation; only the Spirits of Fire can “eat” him. Even during the period when there was famine in the Yeti tribes (I was told), there was no custom to eat one’s dead tribesman.

Maxim: I understand, thank you.

1:47:52 A question and a wish for the yeti people Aisha.

Maxim: If you were told that you could ask people one question. What question would you ask?

Irina: (Aizkha speaks) We need to think about it. Now.

Maxim: Now you have the opportunity to ask a question. 4234 people watch the broadcast. What question would you ask people?

Irina: Yes, I have a question. Oh, how many people watch me! But I feel the energy of only you two. People are watching me on the Internet. There is a computer here.

Maxim: Don’t you use technology? Don't our interstellar friends transfer technology to you?

Irina: We don't need them. What I am talking about, I will convey without a computer, mentally, to my fellow tribesmen when I move into my body.

I will tell my fellow tribesmen, as well as other yetis who live in different parts of the Earth without a computer. They don't have it. I'll convey it mentally.

So what's the question?

Maxim: Yes. What question? You can ask one single question and 4 thousand people will hear you. What question would you ask?

Irina: For what reason do most of you hide your Divine power in your brain and use it not to prolong life, not for health, not to connect with nature for the sake of harmony, but to destroy yourself and those around you? This power is given by God, as you call it, the Creator.

Maxim: Good question.

Irina: For what reason can you create a negative thought form in which there is a vivid image of your death or the death of someone with whom you disagree? This is destruction.

This is the question he asks. How would you respond?

Maxim: I would now begin to come up with a bunch of reasons why this is happening.

Irina: Now they will write the answer.

Maxim: Tell me, please, why for so many (12,000) years have you had small tribes, a small number of your species on Earth? There are 7 billion of us.

Irina: We have limited places convenient for settlement, so that we are far from people, because people are spreading.

Maxim: Do people occupy your habitat and drive you out?

Irina: If people come to the habitat where the tribe lives and begin to settle, then most often the yetis leave that place. People tend to go out into nature, to the banks of the river, they can see us, become interested and try to communicate.

Maxim: Tell me, please, are there yetis that live in water?

Irina: Near the water?

Maxim: No, in the water.

Irina: No. We don't swim like fish. We, of course, can hold our breath under water, but not live in it.

Maxim: Do you have yetis who predict your future, destiny, astrologers, tarologists?

Irina: We can only hint at the future fate. It is very difficult to snatch that thread of fate that goes into the future from many other threads that will sink into oblivion. This is very difficult to do because this possibility is blocked by spiritual mentors. We must live our lives without knowing the future.

Maxim: Was there a case when a group of people visited your habitat, and yetis attacked them, defending their habitat?

Irina: I have never heard of this. Like this?

Maxim: No sea yetis, guys. He answered. There are no sea yetis. It will be necessary to find out what kind of sea creatures these are. Not yeti. There's probably something there. If there is a yeti, then there is something in the sea. Yeti do not live in the aquatic environment. These are some other creatures.

Please tell me, Aizkha, if you were given the opportunity to wish something to people. What would you wish for?

Irina: How interesting! What is the answer to my question? I'll tell you my wish later.

Maxim: Please ask the question again.

Irina: Why do people spend their Divine power, which is in every cell of yours, on the destruction of themselves and others, creating a thought form filled with death, instead of creating a thought form filled with life? Why do you look for enemies in anyone other than yourself?

Maxim: I will answer this question for you, as I think. This will be my personal opinion.

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Because the structure of our society is not such that it can transmit to us information and knowledge that will lead us to our own spiritual power. Unfortunately, we receive this knowledge only from spiritual sources in very small quantities.

Since childhood, we are not taught to communicate with the Spirits of nature, with energies, or to feel these energies.

Our science, to some extent, denies this because it cannot determine it with instruments. Our civilization, our scientific community, accepts on faith only what they can prove. And what they cannot prove does not exist for them.

This is the biggest problem with the technocratic path of development. We are not taught from childhood how to do this.

Irina: (Aizkha smiles) But just because you can prove the existence of fire doesn't mean that you understand its nature?

Maxim: Yes, that doesn't mean it. But, unfortunately, this is not explained or told to us. The system of public administration that has developed has formed a certain methodology for training our people, who, unfortunately, from a very early age, are not involved in what you do.

Irina: What about your families, your parents, who show you the basics of the Universe and communication with yourself?

Maxim: These fundamentals of the Universe and communication with oneself ultimately come down to making money, not to one's spiritual nature, but to its material one. Unfortunately, this is how more than 95% of people live, who do not saturate their spiritual nature, but saturate their material nature.

Irina: I understand what you are talking about. Thank you for your reply. We also have material nature, but we do not have the money you are talking about. We don't have such systems. We have an exchange of products, services, energies.

Maxim: I believe that the monetary system that has been created in our world is formed for control and subordination. Therefore, those people who felt the power of control and subordination moved from simple exchange to the opportunity to buy something with money, and they themselves printed this money.

Irina: And for what reason does the one who prints money not pass on knowledge to you about what you live for? And how to live?

Maxim: To make it easier to manage us with money.

Irina: What is the difficulty of managing with this knowledge?

Maxim: The ability to disobey inappropriate requests and commands that need to be followed.

Irina: Inadequate? I have read. The topic is interesting.

Maxim: We can talk about this for a very long time. Our educational system and our perception of where we are, who we are and what we are for is not conducive to our spiritual development. For spiritual development we have churches and religion. Do you have a religion and churches?

Irina: No. Church as a temple?

Maxim: Yes, like a temple. Do you have temples?

Irina: No. Any space can be for communication with Spirits, for communication with the Universal Spirit. We don't have specific places.

There are places where there are portals with plasmoids, but this is not a temple, these are places for work.

Maxim: You know, I want to thank you for your question, because this question concerns spiritual development and learning opportunities.

Irina: And a wish.

Maxim: The Cassiopeia project carries spiritual knowledge. Teaches you to communicate with subtle civilizations, with the Spiritual world. Builds contacts with the Higher Self, with curators, with mentors.

One of the goals of the Cassiopeia project is to come to the understanding that you are not only a body that needs to eat, work and earn money. You are an embodied Spirit who can realize itself based on the goals and objectives that you set before your incarnation.

We are waiting for everyone to visit us at our Training and Education Center. We have very interesting programs. A contact program that teaches conscious, awakened people. A wellness program that teaches you to communicate with your Higher Self, communicate through the mental with your internal organs, and get healthier with the help of the latest devices.

Unfortunately, our medicine cannot systematize these devices and introduce them to the masses for a number of reasons. I won't even name these reasons. Guys, we are waiting for everyone to visit. Always glad to see you.

You can read reviews about what we do and how we do it, ask other people.

What would you wish to people who are watching the broadcast now?

Irina: A wish. I thank you for your answer to the question; it was quite frank. According to your words, which I hear through the perception of the contactee, of course, I understand what you are talking about.

I see from the radiation of your energy, I read, that the world of your civilization is in a certain way under the influence of certain forces that slow down development. Did I understand you correctly?

Maxim: Yes. I would say yes, yes, yes.

Irina: Okay.

Maxim: Before you answer, I want to thank you all for the likes you put and for subscribing to our channel. I want to thank you for the help you provide us. I feel it. I direct everything that comes to the development of the project.

Thank you guys so much. If I don't respond when you help, it doesn't mean I don't feel your help. Thank you very much. Thank you. I will continue to carry the Light that permeates the Cassiopeia project.

Irina: (Aizkha conveys) Dear people, my neighbors on the planet, my brothers and sisters in flesh and blood. Not by family connection, but by common human nature, by genetics. Family ties here are not in our blood, but in our common nature.

I want to address you with wishes and gratitude for inviting me to this event, which you called “Live on the Internet”, for your questions, for your interest in my tribe, in our people, in their life, to our passions and to our abilities.

I want to wish you the revelation of Divine energy within yourself. What you call the Divine potential of each Spirit, which, among other things, is inherent in the cells of the body; combining material and spiritual nature in order to create from oneself a perfect and independent being that can exist regardless of natural and artificial conditions.

He desires the fulfillment of the potential in our Divine nature.

Maxim: Aizkha, thank you from the bottom of my heart for coming to our live broadcast. I thank Soara Quraim, who is your curator. I thank all representatives of extraterrestrial civilizations for the opportunity to communicate.

I will say one thing: I now know how to greet the yeti if I meet you in the forest.

Irina: How to greet the Yeti?

Maxim: Yes. When I meet you in the forest. I remember it well. Thank you so much.

Guys, thank you. Thanks for the support, thanks for the likes. I hope the next live broadcast will be even more interesting. See you everyone, bye everyone.

Irina: Yes, it was very interesting. I thank everyone too.

#434 How does the hydrogen atom work in plasmoid civilizations? Science and laws of alien physics. Part 1

00:20 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today our curators are present with us: Raom Tiyan from the planet Burhad, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment, MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien life forms and space civilizations and LiShioni, planet Shimor, a specialist in astral interactions and energy exchange astral and material worlds.

Mikhail is with us today. Hello, Mikhail, introduce yourself and tell us what our topic is.

Mikhail: Hello, Irina. Hello, Interstellar Union viewers. My name is Mikhail, I live in the city of Khabarovsk, I have an education in computer physics. The purpose of my conversation is formed, initially prepared questions. Where did I get them from? Thanks to the Cassiopeia project, I received a lot of useful and interesting information about the Universe, about ongoing processes that, naturally, do not fit into our fundamental science. Our fundamental science fundamentally diverges from the concepts of the Universe, formulated precisely in the knowledge of the Interstellar Union.

There was a video conference at which physicist Dmitry, who deals with fundamental science, asked questions. It was physics issues that were discussed. Based on these questions, deeper, more expanded questions emerged that I would like to ask, because, naturally, during the discussion of the questions formulated by Dmitry, we immediately came to the conclusion that the terminology and ongoing processes are completely different from what our science and our physics textbooks.

The question immediately arises: what next? How is everything more deeply structured? And I want to break it down, because after all, we think somewhere linearly and always want to build all the processes and see them in the form of a certain model. If this is possible, then we can discuss and try to visualize it all.

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) Yes, we are ready to help explain the meaning of all terms more clearly. I really remember this conference, I remember Dmitry (he remembers the fact of this conference, answered questions). Yes, he had really interesting questions, very large-scale, global ones. And it was very interesting for me to answer them, especially since the terminology of your science and our science differs from each other. Your researchers (physicists, chemists, biologists) explored the world, coming from the outside world, recognizing the laws of the structure of matter and their interactions.

Here (to put it very simply), for example, on the planet Burkhad, where I live (this is all recorded in the history of science), my ancestors mainly studied first the laws of the Universe, that is, the laws of energy exchange from representatives of plasmoid civilizations and from representatives of the Spiritual World , as well as in communication with your Higher Self, that is, with your Spirit. And only then, based on these laws, we studied the structure of matter.

Mikhail: I see. I propose to go through the questions that I prepared in advance and try to understand them more deeply.

My first question, which I believe has not been fully answered (looking through early materials, I did not hear answers to it).

05:14 Spread of energy. Quanta.

Mikhail: Energy of all levels is transferred in portions by quanta or not? Or some other mechanism? We have the idea that all radiation is transmitted in portions, quanta. Is it so?

Irina: We use the word “quantum” to designate the smallest portion of energy. The minimum portion that can be recognized at the present stage of scientific development, for example, in the Interstellar Union. That is, a quantum due to the fact that the destructive ability of devices changes, and also the knowledge of civilization about matter changes. In general, quantum is a relative concept; it can be changeable. This is some smallest portion of energy that can be recognized by us.

And, indeed, energy is not just transferred by quanta, it is transferred by a quantum flow. Quanta usually follow one after another. We are now talking about ordinary conditions, most often quanta of a certain quantum field of one type or another follow each other in a continuous stream. The smallest particle of this flow is precisely a quantum.

We use the earthly term “quantum” to designate (the flash shows) a portion of radiation.

Mikhail: That is, in principle, all energy radiation occurs in portions, in small portions, right?

Irina: We just don’t call it particles. Strictly speaking, we call substances particles. For example, what you call an atom, we call it this way: “the smallest dynamic particles of matter of one or another element (naturally or artificially created), which consists of quanta.” That is, from energies at three levels of manifestation in the physical three-dimensional world.

We call an atom a particle, but we don’t usually call a quantum a particle of energy; for us it sounds very strange. Approximately how “particles of energy” sounds to us like “pieces of water.”

Mikhail: We still perceive it more correctly - this is a portion of energy, not a particle.

Irina: I have heard that you very often call the parts within the atomic structure (that are in the atom) particles. This can cause confusion. But I already realized that what you call intra-atomic particles is not even one or several quanta, it is a cluster of quanta.

Mikhail: In principle, the answer is clear that all energy is distributed in portions, that is, it is not continuous.

Irina: Yes. But it can spread in a stream, a stream of portions.

09:19 Elemental energies.

Mikhail: I see. Then I have the next question. Anyone who has previously listened to the materials understands that there are etheric energies of the four elements. I would like to hear more precisely how you imagine it? Can you describe what this ethereal energy of the four elements itself is? Does it have any structure? Is it possible to somehow visualize these particular ethereal energies of the elements, how do they differ in structure? Is it even possible to visualize and imagine this?

Irina: Yes, of course, it's possible through images. Of course, it is possible to visualize this.

The four elements are manifested in the physical world as the four elements: fire, air, water and earth. But these are physical manifestations already known to you. You explain them not through the elements, but through chemical and physical interactions. In the Interstellar Union, this is explained by the interaction of various elements.

If we take, for example, the energy of the element of fire, the first element. This is an ethereal elemental force, it has a certain color, but not physical, but which manifests itself in the subtle world. There is a color, a certain structure of the structure of some plasmoid, for example. It can be at different density levels. But to talk about this, I first need to talk about the fact that eight worlds of different density levels form a ninth, more dense one.

Since there are three levels of density in the physical world, plasmoids of eleven density levels participate in its formation, that is, three plus eight - eleven. At any of these levels there are all four elements. At each level of density they manifest themselves differently. But if we go to this level of density, then there will be energy of a certain color and a certain vibration frequency.

For example, when you find yourself in the world of plasmoids of the eighth level of density of the element of fire, you will feel the color red. But again it will be energetic, you will perceive it through astral vision, through images familiar to yourself, and you will see the image of fire. It will be a world entirely made of fire, but this fire will be ethereal. This will be a world like a sea of fire, in which its waves rise, from which even the ethereal cities are composed - the places where plasmoids reside (I turn to images).

Mikhail: It's clear that these are images.

Irina: And even the bodies of the creatures that incarnate there consist of fire, they are called "salamanders" in your language, representatives of the element of fire.

When in contact with a person, he can take the form of a person in the Astral Plane. But his body will be fiery (like a burning man, and his face is burning, like heat from a stove, ashes, ash - and his whole face is in it). This is how you perceive the energy of fire.

Air energies are air currents; the energies of the air element consist of an endless atmosphere with clouds, air currents, and cyclones. Only this is all in energy form. An endless atmosphere in which there are houses, cities consisting of clouds.

The energy of water is an endless sea, but it is more like an underwater world. There is a state of constant movement, like a wave.

And the energy of the earth is such a static state, there are a lot of all sorts of crystalline forms, for example. This is approximately the same as the structure of the earth's crust, only the crystals are magnified a million times.

This is what it looks like at that level, in the world where you find yourself. It may have its own sound, its own color, its own peculiarity of perception. When you get there, your chakras tell you in the energy that you have found yourself in this world. You can go there in the Astral and communicate with the inhabitants in the same way that their inhabitants can come through the Astral into our world and communicate with people, with contactees.

16:12 Density levels. Rarefaction of matter.

Irina: These four elemental forces are formed, in turn, by even higher levels of density. Eleven plus eight, up to nineteen. And so on until the fifty-sixth level. And with an increase in each level of density, such a characteristic as the rarefaction of matter increases. For example, if at the eighth level of density there were quite clear structures, such as crystals, then at the eighteenth level they will be larger in size, their existence will be longer, their color will be different, their energy state will be different. The matter there will be ten orders of magnitude more rarefied.

17:23 Spiritual energies manifested in the elements.

Mikhail: It's approximately clear. This leads to the next question. Are there really four elements or are there some intermediate states? Or did they just roughly determine that there are four of them? Or are there more ranges of elements, some mixed ones? Or is this a clear classification – just four, because it's convenient?

Irina: There are exactly four elements, because they manifest the spiritual energies that go into their formation.

For example, the element of fire. The spiritual world (as you remember) is the world of feelings and thoughts. The energies of the element of fire are the spiritual feeling of Love. Spiritual Light is reflected like fire energy.

The energy of air is the energy in the Spiritual world not just of reason, but of wisdom. For example, when you think about something, it is like knowledge, desire to know, interest. All this is described in the Spiritual world as the desire for knowledge. This is a spiritual state.

The energy of the element of water is spiritual purity, a cleansing principle.

The energy of the earth element is protection. Energy that protects everything and holds everything together, bringing it into the structure. Structuring is taking place. Protection and structuring are spiritual concepts, but when their energies are released into the material world, they begin to constitute the elements.

These eleven levels of density are precisely the elements. Of course, there are not only Spirits of the elements, there are also Spirits of natural places, but now we are talking specifically about the elements. But they and their worlds are no longer formed by the Elemental Spirits, but by other plasmoids. They are not considered elemental plasmoids; in your opinion, they will be creator plasmoids. They also have several levels there.

All that needs to be remembered at this stage: plasmoids, which live at eight density levels, form a ninth, more dense one, as if taking energy from their world, putting their thoughts and images into it, from this they manifest their willpower, and it becomes denser.

And this happens from the fifty-ninth level of the material world to the first.

20:55 Model of an atom in the Interstellar Union.

Mikhail: I see. This can be correctly formulated this way: if we take, for example, an electron, then if we describe it as we perceive it as a particle, that it is a certain state of ethereal energies of the elements, which were connected in a special way, constructed with a certain percentage of each element.

Irina: Yes, of course.

Mikhail: And every substance, every element of matter is structured exactly like this?

Irina: Yes, of course. Electron, proton, neutron are your earthly names for those energy formations in an atom that consist of the energy of various elements.

I want to ask you: I gave Irina information about which elements are included in which structural element of the atom - did you read it?

Mikhail: I didn't see this information, I didn't have such an article and didn't get access to it, I would like to read it.

Irina: Then let's briefly repeat it to make it more clear to you and the audience, maybe they haven't read it either.

The electron, proton and neutron are described in your earthly science as particles that make up the so-called planetary model of the atom. Moreover, your scientists themselves claim that the difference between the mass and size of an electron and the mass and size of the nucleus of atoms is very large. So large that it is impossible to determine exactly where the electrons are located.

Mikhail: Electron cloud.

Irina: Yes, that's why you describe electron clouds in terms, while still not forgetting to state that the electron rotates around its axis, you have such a concept as spin (rotation). What does this mean? That you observe certain phenomena that you describe exactly as you would describe a planetary system.

It is very clear here that those people who described the atom were very interested in astronomy.

Mikhail: They came up with such a model, and there is more of it, it's easier to perceive and build a theory.

Irina: This is a certain image. I studied it too. What you call an electron, a proton, a neutron, and how they differ from each other, especially a proton from a neutron. I studied this (what do you call charge) and realized that you endow all matter, all particles of matter with a charge. And you only have two charges: positive and negative. Again, you have an image of the presence, the absence of certain energies that begin to attract or repel each other.

I compared these data with the sciences of my planet, where there is nothing similar. We have another division. I found an explanation for myself why you divided into charges, and from here you came up with the doctrine of so-called ions.

When the elements combine in an atom, they combine into a neutral system from which no energy is initially released. But an atom is a dynamic system; it cannot remain in this state for long; it begins to change because it begins to exchange energy with surrounding atoms from space. And, losing and gaining various energies, it changes. You called this a change in the electric charge of the atom. But there is not only electricity, all energies change in it.

26:12 LiSioni about the structure of oxygen and hydrogen atoms.

Irina: I will tell you how the formation of an atom occurs, starting from the very beginning.

LiScioni studied this issue, he learned directly from plasmoids.

Michael: It's very interesting to learn about this process.

Irina: Yes, he was present next to them and will explain, naturally, in the contactee's terminology, which does not know either our language or some other foreign language, but in any case he will explain.

(LiShioni) Representatives of all four elements gather in one space to give their energies to form the atom.

First, the third level of manifestation is formed. What we and you call microgravity and macrogravity, and what you call gravitons.

I will now give all the examples of formation based on the hydrogen atom, if you don't mind.

Mikhail: Yes, the simplest element.

Irina: This will be easier for you and me, because hydrogen, by the way, is the very first element that appeared in the physical Universe. And it will be the very last one left before the cycle ends.

All other substances were formed from hydrogen by complicating it. If you now take, for example, a hydrogen atom and an oxygen atom, you will not find any fundamental differences in these two atoms, except for the number of particles included in it.

Mikhail: Yes, so is the network.

Irina: You won't find any fundamental differences, for example, some fourth element that is not in the hydrogen atom. If anyone now remembers the structure of the hydrogen atom, I want to remind you: what we call hydrogen, we do not divide it into isotopes. For us it is a single element. And what you call isotopes, we simply call a modification of the atom.

If now someone says that there is a neutron in an oxygen atom, if someone tells me that there is not one in a hydrogen atom, I will remind you that hydrogen isotopes contain a neutron. This is also hydrogen for us. This is in case someone says that they are not alike.

Mikhail: There are no fundamental contradictions here, it is the mechanism that you describe that is interesting, namely atomic formation.

Irina: He said this for those who say that oxygen and hydrogen are not similar to each other because of neutrons, this is not so.

29:57 Hydrogen atom. Formation of the atom.

Irina: So, how is the hydrogen atom formed? What it is? Firstly, a hydrogen atom consists of 1600 quanta. I once again call “quanta” - these are the smallest portions of energy that can be detected by the Interstellar Union. One hydrogen atom consists of 1600 quanta - this is background information, there is also background information for all elements. Naturally, I didn’t remember it, if someone wants to know how many quanta an atom of another element consists of, for example, take the number 1600 and multiply it by the molar mass of the substance. Mass is the amount of gravitational energy because when calculating the mass of an atom, the mass of the electrons is usually neglected.

Mikhail: Of course, it is too small.

Irina: Do you understand what he's talking about?

Mikhail: Yes, I understand. Is it possible to describe exactly the process of creating an atom?

Irina: Yes. 1600 quanta. We first need to emit them, that is, we need plasmoids, and then combine them into one structure, assemble them, like you assemble a construction set, because for you the atom is very small. And, for example, an atom of hydrogen gas - it is not perceptible to you, you cannot touch it, you cannot see it, but for plasmoids it is visible, and all its energies are visible. And they can not only touch them, but also take them out and put them back in - all this happens with the power of their energy, not with their hands.

Mikhail: All this is clear that there are no hands there, this is a certain process taking place among them.

Irina: Even the hydrogen atom is a rather complex system. 1600 quanta need to be collected. The collection begins from the third level of manifestation. In your country it is usually designated by both a neutron and a proton at the same time, because you have these particles in the nucleus of an atom. You call them particles, but they are separated from each other.

For us it's just the third level. The third and second level is the nucleus of the atom, in your opinion. And the outer shell, I'm getting ahead of myself a little now, is already electrons.

Mikhail: First level, right?

Irina: Yes, first level. This is the outer energy shell, where there are five types of energy. Moreover, they are located there, again, not over the entire surface of the outer contour of the atom, some are closer to the nucleus, and others further away, let's say so. They are collected.

So we start with gravity, with gravitons. Using the hydrogen atom as an example, I will tell you how other atoms are structured.

Of these 1,600 quanta, 55 percent are at the third level, gravitons. I'm talking in percentage terms, you can calculate how many quanta it is specifically. 33 percent are in the second level and 12 percent are in the third level. The third one is seen from the inside of the atom, and the first one is seen from the outside.

Mikhail: I see.

Irina: Let's talk about the external level, the middle level and the internal level. The external level accounts for 12 percent. The average level is 33 percent of the number of quants, and the internal level is 55 percent.

For other elements, this ratio may vary slightly, but no more than 2-3 percent in each direction.

The hydrogen atom is considered one of the easiest to collect for those plasmoids that collect them. At least four of them from each element must be present (one at a time), and it happens that more are present, depending on their experience.

From the Spiritual world, this process is controlled by Angels from the 17th level. And they are called “Angels of Nature”. They give instructions on where in space and how many of these elements to form.

Mikhail: Do they control this process?

Irina: Yes. They fly to that level, usually the highest - the 11th, but they can also gather at another level (I’m now talking about their most frequent place of meeting). At a meeting of the plasmoids that are there, they say (the plasmoids were specifically incarnated there in order to form the matter of the physical world), for example: “Here you need to collect (relatively speaking) a billion hydrogen atoms.” But they are told this not in numbers, but in the amount of energy.

The formation of one hydrogen atom by experienced plasmoids takes somewhere, maybe 1/5 of an earthly second, this will happen here, but there it will take a long time.

Mikhail: I see. The concept of time is relative, we know this very well. The physics community understands that time is relative.

Irina : You see, time in the earthly world very much depends on the perception of those beings who are nearby. If you change your perception, you can change the passage of time. For example, if you are in a certain state of consciousness, then your time may stretch out or, conversely, shorten.

Mikhail: That's understandable.

Irina: They collect an atom, if there are too many atoms, then this process is not so short, it is a long process. But there, only one plasmoid does not do this, thousands, or even millions of plasmoids do this, so relatively quickly, they help each other. But at least one plasmoid from each element must be present at the creation of the atom.

At the third level of manifestation, a clot of energy is collected that resembles a drop. I'll explain now. If they were four people in different clothes, for example, white, black, red and green. And imagine, they are sitting around the table, and everyone is pointing their hands. Only they do not direct their hands, but their attention and energy.

Plasmoids have an organ behind their back through which they perceive the energies of their elements from their world, where they can be from (from any density level from 4 to 11). They pass it through themselves and release it into the center of this circle. At the same time they think, create a mental image of this atom. They first create a mental image of gravitons, how they should look, how they should be located, that is, these quanta, and direct the energy. Since they are sending energy all at the same time, it collects in the center of this circle in the form of a ball (shows, it looks like a crystal ball). But again, it will be too small for you, you will not be able to see it with a microscope. And for them he is quite.

Mikhail: Clearly, size is relative.

Irina: Yes, because there is not a physical world there.

39:49 Macrogravity and microgravity.

Irina: Plasmoids direct energy into this ball. At first it does not have a definite shape and fluctuates. They compact it, directing their vitality and will there. Then it becomes hard, and they compress it to such an extent that it takes the shape of a drop.

In the wide part of the drop there are macrogravity quanta. This is the gravity that will influence space, creating spatial and gravitational fields. This is exactly what forms the manifestation of all your basic physical forces of kinematics. (I don't know what kinematics is.)

Mikhail: This term is quite clear.

Irina: Energy, movement, gravitation, pressure, friction, inertia - these are all gravitational fields that will be formed in atoms by these spirals, they are embedded in the wide part. But this is again an image, I emphasize, that can show what is happening there, what I saw myself.

Mikhail: You can visualize the process. This makes it easier to perceive and understand. Therefore, it is clear that this is an image.

Irina: In the narrow part of the drop, which ends like a tail, if you look at it, pointed, like the ends of a crystal. This is microgravity. Microcrystals are embedded there into each other in the shape of a pyramid. There are also a certain number of them, you can calculate it all. But in any case, this is microgravity, and it can usually be 20-25 percent of all gravity quanta - it should be less.

There should be more macrogravity, because it affects space, creates spatial and gravitational fields, and microgravity will act on intra-atomic bonds with other atoms, on the ability to form chemical compounds.

Not every substance can be combined naturally because the characteristics of different atoms are different. They can repel each other, but sometimes they connect. And this will depend precisely on how these pyramid-shaped microcrystals are located in this drop.

Mikhail: An interesting process, of course.

43:36 Correlation of elements at different levels of the atom.

Irina: So, plasmoids of all four elements are involved in this.

Exactly in what percentage do they participate? Most of all are those who operate precisely on the second and third levels. On the second - we will tell you later. Because at the first level there is a different ratio of elements, what you call the nucleus of an atom. Most of the energy involved there comes from representatives of the element of water. This is necessary so that the atom can emit waves, so that it is energetically mobile. In the nucleus of an atom, the energy of the element of water is 42.5 percent. The second place is occupied by the energy in the nucleus.

Mikhail: Are we talking about the internal part?

Irina: Yes. The second place is occupied by the energy of the earth element. And the energy of the earth element is about 32.5 percent (information from the directory). The earth needs energy other than water, otherwise it will disintegrate. So that there is an element that will hold together and allow gravity to manifest itself at all levels.

The elements of fire and the elements of air participate in this equally at 12.5 percent (from the reference book). It's in the nucleus of an atom.

Why is the energy of fire and air needed there? Mainly in order to form the transition from the third level to the second. And the second level itself looks like light, it’s not like fire, but like a clot of white light. It is superimposed on this drop and encloses it in a ball, and clots form around it like steam. This is already the second level being formed, which is responsible for radiation (in your opinion) and thermonuclear energy.

Mikhail: We call this the energy of the atomic nucleus.

Irina: It's like a white ball, and it is superimposed on this drop, which is more solid in comparison with it, because there is more energy of water and earth (in the percentages mentioned). They are heavier and therefore responsible for gravity.

And then a white, I would call it, a clot of fire or plasma is superimposed on this, but it is as simple as light. And this light covers this drop, and it becomes no longer visible, but it is visible in the depths as a dark shadow. Wheel-shaped clusters of steam form around this ball and this light. And they rotate.

Mikhail: Can you roughly define the percentage dimension? To make it clear.

Irina: At the second level there are 33 percent of quants.

Mikhail: And the dimension, the percentage ratio. Do the first level, the internal level, and the second level have some kind of dimension?

Irina: He now named the percentages for the core - these are general percentages, because they direct all four elements. But they do not separate them specifically for the third and second levels, because there is a connection between the second and third levels. It's just for the kernel. And they separate the external one because they have a different percentage. There, firstly, there are energies of two elements in the external environment, no longer four elements.

00:02 Separation of Cassiopeia projects. "The Science of Imagery" and "Alcyone".

Maxim: Dear friends, hello everyone! I'll take over part of the live broadcast. I'll ask how I can be heard, how we will be heard in the future. If you can hear it, how?

As always, I won't take much time. We have a lot of different interesting news. I would like to tell you some news live.

I won't say that this is good news. We have one piece of news: Vladimir Goldstein, who helped develop our project, plus opened his own projects, has been removed from the Cassiopeia project. We completely removed him from the project and deprived him of the ability to administer projects. His projects "The Science of Imagery" and "Alcyone" are derived from the "Cassiopeia" project.

I will explain: this is due to the inability to comply with the rules of the project, not to express one's personal opinion, which is directly anti-Russian and based on his personal understanding. Therefore, as a leader, I had to make a very difficult decision to withdraw two projects: "The Science of Imagery" and "Alcyone" from the "Cassiopeia" project. And also the person who moderated and led these projects, Vladimir Goldstein.

Guys, we try to remain neutral in relation to political issues. But, unfortunately, not everyone does this. In this regard, we have to say goodbye to people. Yes, I know, it's a shame, guys. Of course, it's a shame. No, we're not crazy. Those who do not support the project rule: to be neutral are going crazy. Fortunately, we carry spiritual knowledge. We don't get involved in politics or financial institutions.

Therefore, all participants in the Cassiopeia project are engaged in spiritual improvement, increasing the level of awareness and perception of what is happening. Nothing in life just happens, and if there is a personal opinion, it should remain personal, because it may be wrong. Everything will be fine, there is no other way. I believe that we live in one big country called “Earth”. Having a negative opinion towards another. There is no positive and no negative. There is your personal perception of why all this happens. Everything happens according to spiritual will and spiritual blessing. There is no need for negativity in the project. Let's talk about positivity and constructiveness.

I started with the bad news, let's move on to the good. If you support the Cassiopeia Project, you do not need to unsubscribe. Your personal opinion may remain with you. I think a good personal opinion is one that is based on facts, not pictures, events and what you are told.

If you want, look further, if you want, you can unsubscribe. We do not lure anyone into the project. We try to carry the knowledge that the Interstellar Union provides. We try to convey it in the form in which we accept it.

And we love you, thank you! Thanks for your support guys! Your support is truly felt. You are helping the project. I see your donation. I see your gifts that you give, thanks to which something can be completed, developed, raised, bought so that the project can be further carried out. Thank you again! Thank you! Thank you For me, as a project manager, this is tangible support.

As you know, our project organizes a lot of outdoor events. One of the outings is our Turkish retreat. You can bring your friends, relatives, comrades to this retreat, relax in a luxurious five-star, all-inclusive hotel, for 400 euros for 7 days, including travel, meals, excursions, and transfers included in this amount. The amount is “400 euros for 7 days” if you bring someone with you, if someone wants to relax.

You can take not only close people, but also your friends and comrades so that they can simply brighten up their time. There are no such prices in Turkey now. Türkiye has become very expensive. The minimum cost of living in a good hotel is from 600 euros. Therefore, while you have the opportunity, you can come to us for a retreat and bring your friends.

Everything you need to know about our retreat is below this video. Below there is a link and description. There you will learn everything in great detail. If you have any questions, you can contact our administrators who are recruiting people. Few places left. Out of 100, only 20, in my opinion, as of yesterday. Today I don't know how much is left, but there are still places. 1.5 months ahead. We need to decide now, because in half a month, I'm afraid that we won't be able to fit into this amount of living expenses. The Turks are also raising the price.

06:41 The second stage of communication with the "Higher Self".

Maxim: I also have very good news. I am addressing those who know us, who have passed the first stage: communication with the Higher Self and have mastered the ability to lead other people to the Higher Self. We are opening the second stage of training. But it will be open to those who have already completed the first stage.

I'll tell you a secret that at the second stage, through Irina, you will be taught by our interstellar friends, teachers from the Interstellar Union. This will be information not compiled by human consciousness, it will be transmitted directly through consciousness by our interstellar friends. They will lead the second stage.

A little secret: you will get acquainted with new galaxies, with new energies in order to harmoniously transfer these energies here to Earth. You will learn to do it correctly. You will delve into astral travel, a regressive approach through the Higher Self.

So, we are opening the second stage soon. I will definitely give information and let you know when we launch. Most likely it will be after the Turkish retreat. Therefore, everyone who did not have time to complete their studies or who attended retreats can come to the second stage of study.

I believe that retreat is also the first stage of learning. When you apply, you can include any certificate from the retreat you attended with us. At the retreats, all the information on the first stage is given, about the possibility of going to the Higher Self and communicating with it.

Another little information: there is an opportunity to ask a question live via a Telegram chat, which we have open. Why did we open this chat? If this site is closed, we will broadcast the video on other sites. We will collect all questions in one chat on Telegram. The link to this chat is also under this video.

You can go and subscribe to the chat in Telegram. In this chat, ask your questions for any Sunday live broadcast, which we will conduct on different platforms. Everything that interests you in the project: where we are, who we are, how we are, what events we have, what classes we have, health techniques, you can see all the links under this video.

Everything is clearly written there: what, where, why. Come in, click, don't forget to subscribe to our channel, like during live broadcasts. Why? Because likes give us the opportunity to convey information about love, health, and awareness to other people.

A lot of people can see it if we get a lot of likes. Therefore, the desire to like on live broadcasts is not only my personal desire, but the desire of the entire project for the opportunity, positioning and explanation of what our project is, what we do.

The project is built on the energies of Love, kindness, happiness. And I, as the project manager, of course, will try to protect it from any destructive energies that are trying to manifest themselves in this project. We are not all saints, we all have our own personal opinions. But I believe that you should not express your personal opinion while you are participating in the project.

Try to transform your personal opinion from the point of view of Love, awareness and perception. Everything that happens in the world, in space, is created by the creative energies of Love, which a person decomposes either into constructive positive energies of Love, goodness, happiness, joy, or into negative energies of pain, resentment, hatred, anger and the positioning of destructive moments.

Happiness to you all, love, good live broadcast. The most important thing is that we have a very interesting broadcast today. To my right now is a creature that we call a “brownie.” Through Irina, he listens very carefully to what I’m talking about. I am sure that today you will be able to ask a large number of questions to this wonderful creature - the “brownie” and receive a large number of answers.

He will definitely tell us. And, of course, I invite our beloved dear Irishka to the screen, live. Irish, please sit down. Everyone is already waiting for you.

12:31 Brownie - plasmoid Synkh.

Irina: Hello everyone! Good evening! Congratulations on Palm Sunday!

Maxim: Me too! I forgot to congratulate you all. I started talking.

Irina: Happy Palm Sunday to you too.

Maxim: And the brownie?

Irina: Yes. With the entry of the Lord into Jerusalem.

Maxim: You know, we thought for a long time which brownie to invite. We didn’t have a better idea than inviting the brownie who lives in our Center. Therefore, I repeat, you can ask all the questions you ask in the Telegram chat.

Tell me, please, Irina, is he here?

Irina: Yes. There is a plasmoid of the 16th density level, which is responsible for the space of our house in which we live.

Maxim: He is a subtle-material being, do I understand correctly?

Irina: His name, as can be conveyed by our sounds, is Sinkh. His subtle body of the 16th density level can easily change shape, volume and size (shows that it can become smaller or larger). For him, this is the first contact with people: answers to questions.

Of course, we talked to him. The students who came here interacted with him when I showed and taught them how to communicate with plasmoids. But this is the first time he has had such a level of contact, when he has to respond to a large number of people, although he is 756 years old.

14:45 Plasmoid-brownie Sinkh about embodiment in physical space.

Maxim: Wow! 756 years of our Sinkh! Tell me, please, how many years have you lived?

Irina: (speaks Sinkh) The existence of a subtle body at the 16th density level in earthly space is approximately 1200 earthly years. If we take the Earth's revolution around the Sun in the physical world as a year.

Maxim: Up to 1200 years?

Irina: Yes. Our subtle body remains viable for so many years.

Maxim: Tell me, please, do you also incarnate like us? How is the intelligent Spirit?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Did you choose this incarnation yourself in the Spiritual World? Do you understand where you are incarnating? Are you an earth plasmoid?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Are there plasmoids on Earth from level 16?

Irina: Yes, there is. At any point in physical space, be it a planet, a star, a Galaxy or the empty space of the Universe for you, all levels of density exist. They are nested inside each other like a nesting doll. The astral world exists in the same space, but at different frequencies.

16:16 Plasmoid brownie Sinkh about his appearance.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what do you look like? Can you look different?

Irina: Yes. I can take the form of a person, an animal. The original shape of my subtle body: (I don't know what color it is) shows the image of a cylinder, a pipe with a diameter of approximately 50 cm, like a column. Height is about two meters. But it can be smaller, change the size. The color is grey-blue. Like a cloud.

Maxim: Can you change?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: How do you determine what form to take?

Irina: When I communicate with people, I want to convey to them some thought, an image, I take the form of a person. I can take on the image, for example, of his loved one or himself, so that he perceives these thoughts as his own. People are not used to contact with cylinders - my original shape.

Maxim: Are all brownies like you?

Irina: Are all brownies of this shape?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: No. We may have different levels of density. The level of density is a characteristic of the subtle body. Even at my 16th density level there are bodies of different shapes (original forms) and different colors. This depends on the level of vibration of the Spirit that is embodied in him and on his worldview.

Plasmoids at other density levels, which are “house”, that is, owners, masters of the space of the house, but on a subtle plane, can be of different shapes.

They live there and protect us from other energies with their energy.

19:00 Plasmoid Brownie Synkh about the functions of Brownies.

Maxim: Do I understand correctly, the brownie protects the house, balances the energies in it? Is he like a Guardian Angel, only in a subtle body?

Irina: Yes, like a Guardian Angel. Only the Guardian Angel is a disembodied Spirit, and the brownie is an incarnate Spirit. Being a brownie is a mission. Protect the place and space where people live. Angels often perform this mission. For example, I have been incarnated since the 17th level of the Spiritual World. And please take into account that my spiritual level at the time of incarnation is 17th, and my density level is 16th.

Maxim: It turns out that brownies can be incarnated from different levels of density and from different spiritual levels?

Irina: I incarnated from the Spiritual world into the material world at the 16th density level.

Maxim: I see. Do you interact with each other?

Irina: Yes, we communicate with each other and with the Spirits of the surrounding space, with the Spirits of the elements.

Maxim: It turns out that you can also see the demons who are at home?

Irina: You mean, non-incarnate?

Maxim: Yes, can you see disembodied Spirits?

Irina: I can see their energy. Like traces of presence. They do not have a subtle body if they are not incarnated. But when they come into the house, I feel their Soul energy. I have special organs of perception that can perceive Spirits.

Maxim: Interesting. How to find out whether there is a brownie at home or not?

Irina: You can contact him.

21:00 Plasmoid Brownie Sinkh about the tastes of plasmoids.

Maxim: How to do this? How to contact a brownie?

Irina: Your own or another house?

Maxim: I bought an apartment and I want to find out if I have a brownie in this apartment. How can I contact him and find out about this?

Irina: Most often, the location of the brownie is where food is prepared, because there are certain energies that are released from food. What you perceive as smells are food molecules. These molecules have intramolecular bonds that disperse in the air and can be absorbed by the etheric bodies of plasmoids.

Maxim: Wait, is the information that we feed brownies real? Are you feeding on the etheric energies of what we are trying to feed you with?

Irina: Not only us. Any plasmoids can absorb the energy of, as you say, odors. These are molecules that float in the air; they contain energies that can transfer to the subtle plane.

Maxim: Interesting. Which energies do you like best? What do you like to eat? As I understand it, all brownies like different things?

Irina: We love the energies that come from people if they are charged with bright feelings. They nourish us and make us stronger. As for the energies of food, they make us more viable. For example, I like the scent of flowers.

Shows roses, purple flowers similar to lilies.

Maxim: Yes. The former owner of the center had a lot of flowers. What food do you like best?

Irina: Shows when something is fried. Pancakes or pies. The smell of butter mixed with dough. He perceives this smell as waves that nourish him.

Some plasmoids prefer the smell of fried meat, fish or something else.

24:12 Plasmoid-brownie Sinkh about his attitude towards alcohol.

Maxim: Tell me, please, how do you feel about alcohol? Do you understand what alcohol is?

Irina: Yes. I'm neutral.

Maxim: Are there brownies who like alcohol?

Irina: I've met people like that. But these are those whose past life in the physical body was closely connected with this substance.

Maxim: Are these the alcoholics who have now become brownies? Very interesting.

25:03 Plasmoid Brownie Sinkh about communicating with a Brownie.

Maxim: Tell me, please, how can I make friends with you?

Irina: First, I will show you how you can communicate with me.

Maxim: Come on.

Irina: Go to the place in the house where you prepare food. It's better to be alone or with someone who knows what you're doing. Stand facing a wall, preferably facing south. If there is one. We love warmth, and the south is a symbol of warmth.

If it is not there, then as close to the south side as possible. Stand against the wall, place your palms on the wall and lean your forehead where your third eye is. Close your eyes and imagine a ball of Light in your chest. As you exhale, imagine the Light coming out through your hands. Every person has points on their palms through which they can exchange energy with the environment.

You send it to the wall and say mentally or out loud: “I greet you, Spirit of this house, I ask you to get in touch with me.” Then you ask if he is ready to talk to you. You will feel it, see it, everything will be mental. He will feel it. If he is in another part of the house, he will come to this call. Then you can ask him questions.

Maxim: How will we understand what you are answering?

Irina: We can only answer mentally. There will be mental contact. You ask a question out loud, and a thought or mental image comes, as I'm telling Irina now.

27:15 Plasmoid-brownie Sinkh about the assignment of brownies to homes. Manu.

Maxim: Got it. Tell me, please, is there a brownie in every apartment or is it only in the house? We have the concept of "apartment buildings". Can each apartment have a brownie or is there only one brownie for the whole house? What does it mean?

Irina: Depends on the type of house and type of apartments. Because there are apartments where many families live. One family in one room. In another room there is another family.

Maxim: Even in one apartment there can be more than one brownie?

Irina: There will be one per apartment. There are small apartment buildings (shows a three-story building); there may be one Spirit for all apartments. But if a family lives in an apartment for a long time, and it is large, there are many family members, they can themselves attract a brownie to their apartment. He can be their curator.

There are small apartments located on high floors, and there are many of them. Especially in new buildings that have recently been built. A plasmoid has not yet been assigned to each apartment. He is appointed by the main plasmoid of the city, urban district.

Maxim: Domovoy is appointed by the main plasmoid of the city?

Irina: We call him Manu.

Maxim: What's his name? Manu?

Irina: Manu is not a name. Manu is a position. A plasmoid that is responsible for a city or an entire country.

Maxim: Before joining the family, do you need to get permission from Manu?

Irina: Yes. He assigns plasmoids to certain houses because he observes the space where people live. Specifically outside the village or city. If the city is large, then each district may have its own peace officer.

29:57 Plasmoid-brownie Sinkh about the reproduction of plasmoids.

Maxim: If you have such a clear hierarchy, is there, like ours, a division by gender? Boys, girls?

Irina: We don't have gender in the human sense, but we can take these forms. Especially if Spirits are used to them in physical bodies when they were humans or other humanoids. But our reproduction occurs differently. This depends on the density level and the type of plasmoid body.

For example, in the world where I live, at the 16th density level in cell 3812 (this is a density level cell; a cell is like a planet, in your opinion; at one density level there can be a lot of them) there are plasmoid bodies of the same type.

In my cell (one can call it "in my plasmoid world") they reproduce in this way: three plasmoids are collected in a triangle, two on one side and one on the other. They can fly. Earth's gravity does not affect them. They have a very light body.

They mentally look at one point and create a certain image of the body with their thought form. Then it is filled with the energies of this cell of the subtle-material world where they are located, of the same level of density. The Spirit incarnates into a new body. That's how they reproduce. Three parents.

32:45 Plasmoid Brownie Sinkh about the Brownie's attachment to people.

Maxim: Wow! I wonder how. They say that the brownie moves to another place with its owner.

Irina: If he calls for him, it means the owner is friends with him. The person will move in the physical world, and the plasmoid will move in the subtle material world. If, of course, it is possible to replace it, then the Manu of the city will be replaced by another plasmoid in this house.

Maxim: Are there houses without brownies?

Irina: Only if no one lives there for a long time, an abandoned house. Plasmoid may say that he is ready to go into service to protect another family. The plasmoid is not attached to the walls of the house, it is attached to a certain family. He protects them.

Previously, there were houses - huts, made of animal skins, plasmoids also lived there.

Maxim: What does a brownie do in a house where no one lives for a long time? Going somewhere, moving on?

Irina: He can convey to the Manu of the city that he is ready to move to another place. That there's no point in him staying. Or maybe you will remain, as you say, run wild, weaned off people.

Maxim: Got it.

34:38 Plasmoid brownie Sinkh about the aggressiveness of brownies.

Maxim: They say that brownies often come at night and strangle them, identify themselves somehow, and scare people. Are you doing this? Why are you doing this?

Irina: You want to ask whether brownies can be aggressive?

Maxim: Yes. Can brownies be aggressive?

Irina: Yes, such brownie plasmoids exist. If a plasmoid with an aggressive character was attracted to a certain house, to a family, then these were the vibrations of the ancestral egregor of the family that lives there.

35:32 Plasmoid brownie Sinkh about communication in the space of "Cassiopeia".

Maxim: Tell me, please, do you remember the energy of the owner of this place where we are now?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Did she communicate with you?

Irina: Yes, unconsciously. Thoughts suggested. She also communicated with plasmoids (shows) on her site, they came from the forest and told her something. She took their thoughts as her own. She felt a presence, but there was no conscious dialogue in the form of question and answer.

Maxim: What was your first impression when your old mistress left you and we came here?

Irina: I knew about her desire to go to another place. It was read from her energy. I knew about her desire to leave this place and give it to someone else. I wanted good people to come to this place. I did not interfere with her, because every person has the right to freedom of choice where to live.

After you met her, she continued to be here for some time. She had joy and hope that she would move from here to another place where she would be better. So I was happy for her too.

When you, your family, came here, I consider you family.

Maxim: Yes, Cassiopeia is a big family.

Irina: I was very happy because Irina talked to me on the first evening when she arrived here. I came to her, she saw me and talked to me, which surprised me.

I'm in the former owner's bedroom. He came, and there I was already.

Maxim: Interesting.

Irina: He also says that he is in that house, in the second one.

Maxim: Is he a brownie in two houses?

Irina: Yes. Why am I in two houses? Because I was entrusted with overseeing this large space, because I am many years old.

Maxim: Are you already an adult brownie?

Irina: Yes. I have experience.

38:52 Plasmoid Brownie Sinkh about his different houses.

Maxim: How many houses have you had if you are already an adult brownie? This house is not that old.

Irina: There were five different ones.

Maxim: Could you interact with the owners? Maybe touch them. Or express yourself somehow.

Irina: I loved playing with children (shows a boy). Sinkh appears from the wall, and the boy pushes the ball towards him, they exchange energies.

Maxim: Can you harm a resident of the house?

Irina: No (he is friendly). I protect from those who could harm. Entities that are charged with anger, hatred, fear, black energy (shows darkness) can cause harm. These entities come for a specific purpose: to receive energy recharge.

40:30 Plasmoid brownie Sinkh about the ability of animals to see brownies.

Maxim: Thank you, thank you. Tell me, please, can animals see you?

Irina: Yes. They don't see physically, but feel where I am. They see not the 16th level of density, but something closer to the physical, for example, the 7-8th level. They can see flickering: energy vibrations.

41:08 Plasmoid brownie Sinkh about the influence of the brownie on the space of the home.

Maxim: Sinkh, I received an interesting question: how to ask a brownie in order to sell an apartment faster and more profitably? Can I ask you to sell the apartment to the owner faster?

Irina: So that I can make this space more attractive?

Maxim: For another owner, yes.

Irina: For those who want to buy it?

Maxim: Yes. Might appease you with something.

Irina: I fill the space of the house with energy not only by me, but by every person who lives there. You can ask me or the head of your ancestral egregor, the Guardian Spirit, for what reason they don't want to buy a house. Perhaps for some reason you need to be there. They take customers away.

Maxim: Do I need to talk to you about this?

Irina: Yes, you can talk to me. In any case, I will ask the Guardian Angel of the ancestral egregor. If the brownie answers you that it is because of negativity, for example, there were scandals, disagreements, misunderstanding of each other, resentments in the house. There were people with bad habits. If there has ever been a murder or suicide in this space, then this may open a portal to negative plasmoids.

The energies that remained in the house could move to the subtle material planes and lower their vibrations. Then this space needs cleansing. This can be done with the Light of Love. To make it easier to imagine it and cleanse the subtle structures of the house, you can pick up a candle and use incense.

Maxim: You answer questions that I didn't have time to ask. I read them and you start answering. Very interesting. Is the consecration of your home favorable for you?

Irina: Yes. "Brownie" is a partial name. The full name is "House Spirit". If the house Spirit of your home is light (which can be if the egregor of your family is light), if you yourself are going towards the Light, then, of course, consecrating the house, lighting candles, fumigating with incense has a beneficial effect. Also reading prayers and spiritual songs. These sounds do not just dissipate in the air, their vibrations transfer to the subtle plane. Or bells.

And if this is a negative plasmoid (incarnated from a low spiritual level into a brownie), it may be a representative of dark plasmoid entities that feed on the negative energy of people, then you will feel cold in the house. Not physical, but spiritual. As if you wanted to leave there, you felt cold. Although it may be warm there.

Have you ever been in a room like this?

Maxim: Yes. It's really cold when you walk in.

Irina: When the home is consecrated, the negative plasmoid that was there goes away. In his place comes a bright Spirit, who is appointed to Manu. If Manu assigns a light Spirit to a dark ancestral egregor, he will be forced out by a plasmoid of a parasitic structure, this is similar to capture.

Maxim: They have their own showdowns. I understand. Tell me, please, does the character of the brownie change along with the character of the owner?

Irina: Yes, they influence each other. It depends on the plasmoid itself. If he finds a correspondence between the owner's energies and his energies, he will try to become like him.

47:00 Plasmoid Brownie Sinkh about communicating with his "Higher Self."

Maxim: I understand. Tell me, please, did you, as a plasmoid, take part in the construction of planets? Like all plasmoids.

Irina: Not in this incarnation. I have another task.

Maxim: Do you remember your past incarnations?

Irina: Partially, if I ask the disembodied part.

Maxim: What we call the Higher Self?

Irina: Higher Self? We do not believe that this is one person. For example, I and other plasmoids with whom I spoke do not call the disembodied part a personality, the same as ours. Because when incarnated into another body, another part of the personality will be embodied.

We simply call it: the disembodied Spirit or the disembodied part. If I ask him about something related to my past incarnations, then he shows me what is useful for my activities. And if it is not useful, then the Higher Self, as you say, or the disembodied part, answers me that it will not be useful.

48:28 Plasmoid Brownie Sinkh about poltergeist.

Maxim: Please tell me, do you have any interesting features? Are you connected to a poltergeist: can you move objects, knock on walls? What opportunities do you have?

Irina: Plasmoid civilizations have such capabilities. But in order to influence physical matter, it is necessary to collect a special energy reservoir in the subtle-material world, filled with etheric energies of the subtle-material plane, which can affect physical atoms, physical space.

This usually requires a lot of time and energy consumption of plasmoids. So, such experiments are carried out if there are certain goals and objectives in relation to the people who live there.

This may be done, for example, for the purpose of experimentation. There are plasmoid worlds that do not live near people. They are busy with something else. They are interested in earthly civilization of the third density level. They begin to make contact with her, but people don't hear them. For this reason, they decide to do this kind of experiment to see how people react.

These are positive-minded plasmoids, researchers. If they are in a negative mood, they can decide to make such an impact in order to cause fear, bewilderment, anger in a person and feed on the energy of emotions.

50:14 Plasmoid-brownie Sinkh about the predictions of brownies.

Maxim: Tell me, please, can you, as a brownie, predict the future or see the future?

Irina: Only within the framework of my personal perception of the past and present where I am, projecting my opinion onto them about the future option.

Maxim: I understand. You can predict some negative events and warn your owner. So?

Irina: Yes. If I go out into the Spiritual world (shows), leaving part of the subtle body on my plane, and taking part of the subtle body with me to the Spiritual world, so that there is a connection between them, and I will return.

I can go, as you call it, into the Astral and into the World of disembodied Spirits, if I need to. On their border I can see the past, present and future, if I consider it necessary for the safety of my residents who live in my space.

We are living, feeling beings, we can love and care for those people who live in space. We observe him and interact with him.

Maxim: Thank you for your answer. Question: Can a brownie hide personal items or move them around the house?

Irina: I already answered the question about poltergeists. To move something somewhere or hide it, you need to act on physical matter. This is very difficult to do from the subtle world. It takes a lot of energy.

To understand how difficult this is, imagine steam coming out of a kettle and you need to catch it with your hands. Density level does not match. But here the situation is the opposite. A creature less dense than steam must move something.

Steam has energy. He, of course, can move objects and even a locomotive. This requires certain mechanisms: collecting steam in a reservoir, which you called a boiler (shows the person with whom you were in contact, he knew these things).

Maxim: Is this one of those for whom you were a brownie?

Irina: Yes (smiles).

Maxim: How long ago was that?

Irina: A hundred years ago. Somewhere in 1926. Or people themselves can hide it. Put an item somewhere and forget about it, or lose it. Another thing is that those entities that are next to this person, not necessarily a brownie, but his curators or those plasmoids that came to him, attracted by his energy, can send him thoughts that he put in another place. Confuse him.

Maxim: Dear friends, you ask how many toes he has. I "ll ask. We have already said that he can take on different forms.

Irina: He has no fingers. He's a cylinder.

Maxim: Yes, he can take on different images.

Irina: They come in the shape of a ball. I am familiar with plasmoids in the shape of a brown ball, like a comet.

54:56 Plasmoid-brownie Sinkh about the energetic influence on the creatures of the Earth.

Maxim: Can a brownie drive cockroaches or bedbugs out of the house?

Irina: He can't kick me out. You can direct energy to suppress their activity so that they get sick. But to do this you need to lower your vibrations. Instead of life energy, send the opposite.

Maxim: Are you even ready for this? It turns out you can do this with a person too?

Irina: We are all free in our choice. You, too, can deal with a cockroach differently. You can extend his life, or you can not extend it.

Maxim: Do I understand correctly, you can help prolong the life of the owner and at the same time you can shorten it?

Irina: It's more difficult with a person. He has a physical body, which is occupied by an intelligent Spirit. If I want to harm his physical body, send him energy that will cause cell disease, if he has a higher vibration, it will not enter his body.

Cockroaches have a group Soul. It was created by the same plasmoid civilizations, and they have no choice to change their vibrations. Therefore, they are more susceptible to influence.

56:38 Plasmoid-brownie Synkh about preparing the house-spirit.

Maxim: Tell me, please, when brownies are born, can they immediately move into a house, or do they have a school for brownies? Are they learning something? How long does it take for him to become a real brownie?

Irina: A plasmoid from any density level of the earth type, who has felt his desire to be a house Spirit, undergoes independent study of the activities of other house Spirits. He comes to visit them, one might say, and says: "I want to be just like you." They show him in images what to do.

Then the one who has decided to become a House Spirit turns to Manu, talks about what he has learned (an exchange of mental images occurs), and expresses a desire to be a House Spirit. Manu usually asks the question: why did he decide to become a House Spirit and not perform another mission. Being in nature, for example.

I replied that my mission is to be close to people and protect them.

Maxim: Is this your task of implementation?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: You again answered a question that I have not asked you yet. Great! Can someone replace the brownie?

58:20 Plasmoid Brownie Sinkh about negative plasmoids.

Irina: What does replace mean?

Maxim: Change the brownie. Ask to change the brownie. I don't like the old brownie, for example, he makes a lot of noise, screams at night, touches me in the wrong places.

Irina: These could be other plasmoids, not the brownie.

Maxim: So the brownie is configured to protect and protect?

Irina: Yes. If you support the Light in yourself and your household members too, then you will be assigned a brownie Manu. But perhaps it has already been replaced by a parasitic plasmoid, and it is beginning to harm people and scare them. It can cause displacement of molecular structures in the walls of a house and cause sounds: cracking sounds, sounds of footsteps, as if someone is walking. This may not necessarily be a sign of aggression. Maybe he wants to talk to you.

Maxim: They say that the brownie sometimes lies on top and suffocates. Have you ever done something like a brownie?

Irina: Even if I lie on top at density level 16, a person will not feel anything.

Maxim: But, again, you have some options. A brownie can make a person feel.

Irina: Only in the Astral. A spirit that has returned from astral travel, that is, from sleep to a sleeping body. Entered the body, but not yet fully connected with it. A plasmoid or disembodied Spirit, which may be chasing him and showing aggression, tries to enter his body. A person perceives it as pressure because he has not yet connected with his body.

Maxim: Why does he want to enter the body?

Irina: The one who is chasing him? This is not a brownie. This is the one he met in the Astral and brought to his house because he fled into his body.

Maxim: Interesting.

Irina: Dear friends, have you ever had dreams that someone is chasing you? These are plasmoids, most often, which cause fear that they will kill you and so on, in order to feed on your energy.

The human soul does not understand what is happening. It is necessary to send confidence, faith that you are protected by God, the Supreme Being, the Heavenly Father, as you call it, Love.

If the Soul begins to be afraid, it transmits this fear along the vital thread to the body. At this moment, the instinct of self-preservation is triggered, which sharply returns her to her body so that she is as far as possible from these evil plasmoids. Plasmoids are angry that their energy prey is gone, and they chase after it, try to enter the body, and the person feels it.

Maxim: This probably applies more to incubi and succubi?

Irina: Who is this?

Maxim: He doesn't know them?

Irina: He doesn't know the terms.

Maxim: In general, bad plasmoids.

Irina: They can chase after the Souls of children. For them there is no difference, as long as there is energy replenishment. For them - a wealthy client in the store. In your opinion, I convey it.

Maxim: They ask, do Muslims have brownies?

Irina: There is no difference in religion. We live in any space where there are people.

1:02:29 Plasmoid-brownie Sinkh about the perception of the external world of people.

Maxim: Can you watch our programs? Cartoons, movies?

Irina: Usually we adapt through the perception of children. They have more flexible thinking and perception, so they allow them to get in touch with themselves, through their brain to connect to their vision and look.

Maxim: Thank you, I understand.

Irina: An adult, if he feels the influence of someone's presence on himself, may get scared. Human fear, for example, for me is like a burn from boiling water, low vibrations (rebounds).

1:03:10 Plasmoid brownie Sinkh about food for the brownie.

Maxim: Please tell me, sometimes they give you some kind of food. There are people who communicate with you and give you food. You feed on it. Is it possible to then give this food to the birds, the animals that you ate?

Irina: Yes, you can even eat it for people. With gratitude to him, the brownie charged it. When you offer food to a brownie and send the Light of Love into it, this Light will come to the brownie. The brownie learned what was contained in the food (its fine-material structure in the ethereal matrices of molecules). He (if the brownie is light) will fill the etheric matrices with his energy as a sign of gratitude. Will share. Can be eaten or given to animals.

His energy, which is contained in this food, will strengthen contact with him.

Maxim: I thank you. You explain things very clearly.

Irina: I've been living with people for a long time and I know your psychology, your life. I have studied your dense material world well. Of course he seems strange to me. Very dense matter, very specific, clear, little changeable forms of matter. It's different in my world. But I feel it and remember that I had five incarnations in the dense material world of the Earth.

Maxim: Have you had five incarnations?

Irina: He knows the number and fragments, they are in memory.

1:05:08 Plasmoid-brownie Synkh about the qualities of people.

Maxim: Please tell me: you live with us, what do you like and dislike most about people?

Irina: Thank you for the question. What I like most about people is optimism, good mood, self-confidence, faith in luck, faith in God, Love and understanding, moving forward (shows movement). When a person, despite everything, hopes for the best and moves forward. Even if he makes mistakes, fails, he does not deviate from his goal. Determination.

What I don't like most is despondency, fear and resentment.

1:06:05 Plasmoid-brownie Sinkh about portals in the house.

Maxim: I see, thank you! Please tell me, do you feel portals in your house and can you visit them?

Irina: Yes, of course. I see all the portals opened by plasmoid civilizations at different density levels. They look different to me. I can visit with the permission of the portal owners. In alliance with other plasmoids, I can build a portal.

Maxim: Can you close the portal at the owner's request?

Irina: Only in alliance with other plasmoids who know how to do this, because this is not my task. It requires certain energy skills.

Maxim: Let's say, with our Erwin.

Irina: Who is this?

Maxim: By the way, we haven't talked to Erwin for a long time. With the Guardian of the Order of Magi. I think there will be a lot of questions for him, but we'll see later.

1:07:09 Plasmoid-brownie Sinkh o Manu of Voronezh.

Maxim: Tell me, please, do only earthly people have brownies? Or is there in other extraterrestrial civilizations?

Irina: There are plasmoids on all planets. If there are dwellings in extraterrestrial civilizations, then there is an analogue of house Spirits.

Maxim: Please tell me, where does Manu live, what does he look like?

Irina: It depends on what city.

Maxim: Let's say, our city of Voronezh. Manu big? Where does he live?

Irina: Manu Voronezh has a density level of 28. His name is Arkhiz.

Maxim: Arkhiz? Some non-Russian Manu.

Irina: It looks like a trapezoid.

Maxim: The size of the trapezoid?

Irina: It’s like a bowl filled with yellow Light with a rainbow rim around the edges. The diameter of its thin body is 26.5 km.

Maxim: 26.5 km?! This is Manu! Manu has eaten too much, I see.

Irina: 28th density level. He has lived here for the last 2.5 thousand years. Still young.

Maxim: He has a different life span, not the same as the brownies he appoints, right? I understand.

Singh, thank you very much. There were very interesting questions. And to you, dear friends, thank you very much. Once again I would like to remind you that we will soon have the opportunity to meet with you in person. With those who live abroad. We will meet people from Russia more often in Russia.

We will go to Turkey with those whom we were unable to meet in Russia. For residents of Europe. Do not worry. We are waiting for you all at our retreat in Turkey. I'm sure we can chat there.

We will arrive in Samara soon. We already have a trip planned. We don't disclose all our plans. We'll be in Samara soon. We have provided information about Samara, go to our website. I think we are already recruiting. Did I miss something.

Irina: You know, dear friends, my opinion? A couple of words. Vladimir, greetings! I know you're watching us. The reason for Maxim's decision is very simple. The opinion that you, Vladimir Goldstein, expressed, including in personal correspondence, which people later sent to Maxim and me, discredited not only the project, which allegedly goes against Russian interests, but also Vladimir Goldstein.

What exactly was discredited? As you know, our curators: MidgasCaus, Archangel Michael provided information on this conflict, on the operation in Ukraine. It was suggested that this was the responsibility of both parties. What exactly she was wearing was said.

There was no opinion voiced by Vladimir Goldstein. He voiced a different opinion. He showed people that he contradicts our curators. In order not to embarrass him, the people in our project, or us, this decision was made.

Every person has the right to make his own choice. We talked about it and he knows.

Maxim: Previously, when he was asked how he felt about the events that took place in Donbass and Donetsk, he said that our project is neutral, our project does not concern politics. But after the events in Ukraine, in his understanding, the project ceased to be neutral. He decided to speak his mind.

Guys, all the best! Peace for everyone! Love to all! Awareness to everyone! You know, I will always consider every person on this planet to be my brother or sister. It is in my interests to maintain peace, tranquility and increased awareness.

If I need to defend my Motherland and country, like any normal sane person, I will also go to defend it. Guys, peace and love to everyone. Let's not allow ourselves to go and defend a separate country with aspects that are incomprehensible to many.

Irina: Yes. Dear friends, thank you for being with us. Thank you for your support. We, despite everything, move on. Everyone who should have stayed with us stayed. Everyone who should not have gone further with us was unable to do so. Let's accept and respect everyone's choices.

Maxim: Respect for everyone’s choice is one of the priorities of the project. Guys, we love you, we adore you, and no matter what your personal opinion is, we continue to love you.

Irina: We move on, and let everyone make the choice they want. Love to all!

Maxim: Love to all, good to all!

#437 Astrogeography and the theory of earthlings. Conscious tourism. How does place of birth affect a person?

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/astrogeografiya-i-teoriya-zemletochek-osoznannyj https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0RsyKT0YJxw

00:18 Background of Irina Podzorova.

Voice-over: In the summer of 1999, a 13-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than 20 years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:13 Introduction of participants.

Maria: Today we have an interesting meeting with our contactee Irina, our respected curator. Our guests are two very interesting people who have developed a unique system and method. This is the “theory of earthlings” or the “method of astrogeography”, “astrology of space”. Friends, please introduce yourself.

Ivan: We'll clarify a little. You're off topic, of course. I’ll start with myself and introduce Dmitry, because he is the main guest, the author of the astrogeography method, which we call the “earthet theory.”

My name is Ivan Lysy. I am a psychologist, astrologer, osteopath, founder of the “Applied Psychosomatics” method. I've been working with people for about eight years. He started as a massage therapist, osteopath, and switched to the topic of psychosomatics. Studied psychology. I have developed a method of applied psychosomatics, where I study human problems from different angles and use different techniques: osteopathic, psychotherapeutic, diagnostics of working with energy parameters. Also methods of astrology for a deeper understanding of a person.

I am grateful to the Cassiopeia Project. I found out about it about a year and a half ago and, of course, received a huge number of answers to various questions. I have been trained in what you present in Project Cassiopeia. I received initiation into cosmoenergetics, went to the Higher Self, and practiced the Light Body. During this time I learned a lot of interesting things about myself, about my past lives. I admit that I have developed contact skills, but I won’t talk about it now.

An interesting thing happened with Dmitry. I suddenly began to receive information about him and his method. There was interest. I stimulated Dmitry to this conversation, to the conference, in order to shed light on how things are, what highly qualified contactees can say.

Why Dmitry? Because I, as an astrologer, am a student of Dmitry, one of his teaching streams. At the moment I am also an expert in the astrogeoclub, which Dmitry organized. This is an international community of astrologers, where training and many events take place on the topic of astrogeography, how geographic coordinates affect a person. This is an individual influence.

We have prepared questions. Now I give the floor to Dmitry. He will also introduce himself. We will ask you questions.

Irina: Very nice, Ivan. Thank you for your attention to our Cassiopeia project. You, I feel, are a contactee, and Dmitry is a contactee, and Maria. There are no longer “non-contactees” here. Moreover, our level of awareness of this contact is quite high.

One of your curators is present here, who claims that you are also his contactees. He came to see me today. I contacted him several times. He is not my regular supervisor, but I have already talked to him. Now I will introduce him. He's not alone here.

Two entities will talk about this theory, its meaning: spiritual, physical and energetic. One from the level of disembodied Spirits, from the level of Archangels. We call them: Archangels - the chiefs of the Angels. These include, in the terminology of the Interstellar Union (IC), everyone who has access to the Kingdom of Heaven. This is above level 22. From the 22nd, 23rd and 24th levels they can be called Archangels. There are an infinite number of levels, we remember. One of the Archangels is present here. We will listen to Dmitry first, and then I will introduce him.

Ivan: Thank you.

Dmitry: Ivan, thank you. Irina and Maria, thank you so much that I have the opportunity to communicate with you directly now. This is a great honor for me and an opportunity to ask my questions. I have a lot of questions about my own theory, oddly enough. This is probably not surprising to you, because, as I understand it, knowledge comes, but how and what its meaning is not clear.

By main profession I am a military doctor. My second profession is programmer. All this time, since the 90s, I have been studying astrology. In 1993, when I lived in the city of Kemerovo in Siberia, there were miners' strikes, "Yeltsin vs. Gorbachev," and banging of helmets. At this time I lived in Kemerovo. Everything was seething with us. There was a movement of fresh air. Apparently, some energy was coming from space to Earth. Space and Earth interacted. There was one of the peaks in Kemerovo. This was felt by many people. It was during this period that the "earth land theory" was born. It was essentially given to me. Of course, there were forerunners: some information flows, books. But still, something prompted me to think.

I want to clear things up. Three astrologers contributed to spatial astrology in the 20th century. Until the 19th century, this topic was forgotten. If we say that astrology is 5 thousand years old or more, it goes back centuries, then there was no information about the astrology of space, how the place in which I live affects me.

I live in the city of Ufa. How does Ufa affect me? It turned out, thanks to the “earth land theory,” that everyone lives in some place. The earth plays an important role, determines the supply of energy and life circumstances. All this can be calculated thanks to the “earth land theory”, which came to me in 1993. Since then there have been software tools. This is mathematics, everything is calculated. There are graphics. More than 200 astrologers have been trained.

But I still have questions and thank you for giving me the opportunity to look at this phenomenon again from a different point of view. Irina, Maria, Ivan, thank you very much. I'm looking forward to Irina introducing our colleagues from the top and voicing questions.

Irina: Thank you, Dmitry. Hello, nice to see you. I'm glad about our conference. Hello, dear friends. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Having seen the questions, the list, the topic, I read them to MidgasKaus and LiShioni. Today I asked my curators to invite those who can competently answer them within the limits of my transmission, my translation (as far as I can convey it). LiSioni and MidgasCaus invited two, and they are here today.

This is a representative of the world of disembodied Spirits, an Archangel who is one of the leading hierarchs of the Spiritual world in our Galaxy, distributing Spirits into incarnations, a close friend of Krishna, his name is Archangel Metatron. He has not yet participated in our conferences.

(Metatron) Hello, I have not participated in Irina’s conferences yet. They answered: Archangel Michael, Archangel Raphael, Archangel Gabriel, who is incarnate and is one of us. I haven't answered questions at the conference yet.

There was a conference on Judaism when he attended, but he answered little there. He was present, but another Archangel answered.

Now I decided to come because I was in contact with you (Metatron says that he is one of your curators and one of Ivan's curators). You and I were in contact back in the days when you were more of a materialist. You believed (shows) in matter. Someone's death occurred (shows the coffin), from which you realized that this Spirit exists (there was a dream or a vision). It was an experience (it came from him). He arranged this meeting so that you would believe, and created circumstances so that you and Ivan would get to know each other (shows how two points in space converge).

Why did I do this? So that you both believe in yourself, that you bring benefit to the world.

Ivan: Thank you.

Irina: To confirm this to each other and be able to do it together.

(I don't know if you understand what he's talking about, but he does).

Dmitry: Yes, I understand. In Ivan's face I saw a man who was going his own way. The path that I did not take once, when I took up the theoretical part and calculations, although there were many people in Kemerovo who were both contactees and healers. There was some kind of boom in Kemerovo that was incomprehensible. Maybe the respected Spirit is talking about this. A revolution took place through literature. By the way, I wanted to ask about the attitude towards the "Living Ethics", because contact, including with this literature, movement, also made its contribution.

Ivan goes his own way, I understand that it is useful to connect these paths, which is what we are doing. I invite Ivan to my webinars.

Irina: (Metatron) Yes, there was literature, but there was a time when it was the background for the events taking place. There was a lot that you didn't accept. They didn't believe it. Doubts, search for evidence.

We went more along the scientific path (shows). There was even a period: you temporarily stopped reading everything, then returned. Some hesitation. What turned you around was an experience related to your personal spiritual experience. Something connected with the world of the dead. Shows some kind of contact, but not with him, but with the Spirit who was close to you: either a relative or a friend. Perhaps a dream. You are convinced that this is true (shows). After that, you began to look at books differently: at Living Ethics, at astrology and numerology. (Shows books on self-development, meditation, yoga, Western options, adaptation).

15:50 Metatron about “Living Ethics”.

Irina: (Metatron) As for my attitude to “Living Ethics”: these are books by contactees of Helen and Nicholas Roerich. They were in contact with aliens from the planet Esler. Irina has a video on this topic. Everything about Agni Yoga and its meaning is described in detail. I know from MidgasCaus that there was such a video. The question was asked by a person who is in the subject of Agni Yoga.

My opinion: they correctly, of course, at their level of understanding, conveyed information from the Eslerites. A little later in their lives, after 1920, there was a period of contact with plasmoids. And after another 5 years, they began a period of contact with the Spiritual world. They wrote books and published them periodically. Yes, there were times when one paragraph of a book contradicted some paragraph in another. But this is not because they did not know what they were writing, but because their experience and contact also underwent changes.

The second person present here is a representative of the plasmoid civilization of Kryon. He is from the 16th density level, responsible for the harmonization of information between the third and 16th density levels of earthly civilization, which is physically located in the bodies of humanoids. Responsible for control over the work of building the Earth's magnetic network, electromagnetic network, energy transfer from Earth to space and from space to Earth. It is electromagnetic in nature, but more ethereal.

Dmitry: This is exactly what I wanted to ask.

Irina: He is working on building the ethereal flows of space (shows). He will explain and give images as they are seen from his level of density.

18:27 Earth's energy network. Kryon Group.

Dmitry : Does it look like a coordinate grid?

Irina: (Shows volumetric). In space it looks three-dimensional, and its different parts glow in different colors. Somewhere green, like phosphorus. Somewhere bluish, and somewhere like silvery sparks. This is how they see the network and our Earth, our space from the 16th density level.

What's his name? It is difficult to convey the sounds of their language in earthly language because they do not have a speech apparatus. They communicate with each other with something similar to electromagnetic signals, but at a very high frequency. I ask him to find me at least some analogue of the name, so that I can address him, so that I can understand what he is saying. What can I call you? Largish. It can be called Largish.

(Largish) I am a representative of the Kryon group. This is not one civilization. This is a group of plasmoid civilizations of the Earth, the Earth’s magnetosphere, as well as the surrounding outer space and the Sun. This is the Union of Civilizations, whose activities are aimed at building space and its structuring in order to separate one level of density from another and maintain harmony in the exchange of energies.

Dmitry: Irina, can I ask you questions?

Irina: Maria wanted to say something.

20:32 Largish about his world.

Maria: Yes, I wanted to clarify about our guest Largish. Does it work only with the Earth or with other planets and civilizations too?

Irina: I work with the Earth, but I live above the Earth (shows the magnetosphere). The entrance to my world is approximately two hundred thousand kilometers from Earth. It is somewhere between the Earth and the Moon, as far as I understand (shows a dot). In this space, which for you is three-dimensional space, three-dimensional vacuum, my world exists at the 16th level of density, but you will not notice it. Even if you fly through it, you won't see anything. And we won't see you: you have a different level of density. But, nevertheless, we have a very beautiful world.

Shows a blue ball. Crystals are visible inside it. This is what their planet looks like from the inside, this is their perception.

Maria: Thank you. We are very pleased with your concern for our civilization, for our world. Thank you for coming to us. Dmitry, you have the floor. Please ask questions.

22:03 Prime meridian of the Earth.

Dmitry: This is the question. From an astronomical point of view, there is a zero degree of Aries in the sky, the point of the vernal equinox, from where everything starts. If we draw the analogy that on Earth, as in the sky (both above and below), then on Earth there should also be an analogue of the prime meridian. What I calculated was approximately the zero degree, the so-called Ptolemaic, which passed through the Canary Islands and through the island of Iceland, dividing it in half. He looks convincing and beautiful. I want to ask how true is this hypothesis about the prime meridian? Does this point allow us to connect Heaven and Earth? And then, using calculations, obtain certain transformations and conclusions. The idea of the prime meridian, which is projected from Heaven to Earth. About this, if possible.

Irina: Is it projected from the energy map of the sky onto the energy map of the Earth?

Dmitry: No, real space above the Earth, which has a coordinate grid. Ecliptic. She has an Aries zero point. And if on Earth, as in Heaven, then there must also be a natural zero point on Earth. This is not the Greenwich meridian. We believe that the prime meridian is Greenwich, the maps are all from zero Greenwich. There is a certain sacred zero meridian. What can you say or think about this?

Irina: I'll tell him now. About the prime meridian.

(Largish) The prime meridian begins in the sky from zero degrees Aries.

Dmitry: Yes.

Irina: Why is this accepted in astrology from zero degrees of Aries?

(Largish) This was associated with the point of spring, the vernal equinox. There was a holiday on Earth (shows), which meant the beginning of the resurrection of nature. The holiday was formed almost immediately after the war 12,000 years ago.

After the war ended on Earth, winter began. Those tribes that lived after the war considered winter the death of nature. Figuratively. You remember that astrology is built on images. Therefore, the point when day and night became equal was then considered the transition to warm time. Not when the day began to increase (this was imperceptible), it was noticeable when they became equal. In the images of ancient hunters and gatherers, it was like "Light becomes equal in power to Darkness," gradually beginning to defeat it.

This point was first marked by the celebration of the return of Light, warmth, and life. Everything came to life. People were able to leave the caves.

Dmitry: Is it possible to link this point to geographic coordinates? Is it possible to connect celestial and geographic coordinates in order to project the sky onto the Earth, the path of the lights in the sky onto the Earth? Make a projection.

Irina: To project the zero point onto the Earth (shows the shape like a triangle), one indicator of this triangle, one side, will mean the height above the horizon at the zenith of this degree (as I understand it now). The second will mean the distance from (shows the ecliptic) the beginning of the ecliptic, which means there is zero degree. And the third one points to the horizon. The third side of the horizon: from the equator to the pole, the height of the star changes. Therefore, the horizon coordinate also changes. Using these three points, you can calculate the zero meridian in the sky, and then mentally (shows: create a mental structure, as if you were looking from the sky at the Earth). From these three points you determine where it will be projected on Earth.

Dmitry: This is very similar to the Local Space method by Michael Erlewine.

Irina: From other planets it will be clear that the Earth is one of the celestial bodies that has its own degrees. Do not be surprised that the Martian or Venusian horoscopes (at the time when people lived there, they used descriptions to compile birth charts) included the Earth as one of the planets. Therefore, a positive answer to this question can be calculated.

As for the Canary Islands (the plasmoid shows a strange map of the Earth), it would be nice to project it onto some kind of physical medium, onto a physical map.

Dmitry: The line that runs through Iceland and the Canary Islands is straight.

Irina: Now I will present this (shows that it is walking in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean, near Bermuda).

Dmitry: Bermuda is a little further west. The zero point of Aquarius passes through Bermuda. 60 degrees west.

Irina: I say that in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean.

30:39 Mid-Atlantic Ridge.

Dmitry: Yes. Can anything be said about the Mid-Atlantic Ridge? Is this some kind of point?

Irina: He wasn't a ridge before. When there was a single continent, everything was connected. The part that went under water, like this ridge, used to be mountains. I wouldn't call them high mountains, more like hills. It was a mountainous area. Before the war, the destruction of the Earth, the destruction of people, there were many settlements there. In that area, in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean, but already in the area of Bermuda, there was a capital. The most important big city on Earth.

Maria: What was it called?

Irina: They say "Capital of the Earth" (Metatron) in different languages.

32:05 Largish about Atlantis and Lemuria.

Dmitry: A contactee from America (forgot his name) said that at the bottom of the Bermuda Triangle there is an Atlantean crystal that causes unusual phenomena.

Irina: Atlantis was (shows) in a different place. She was in the Atlantic Ocean, southeast of Bermuda. It was a city. What we call a country was a separate city. What are now called different eras (Lemuria, Atlantis, etc.) are different cities and different eras of the existence of these cities. Maybe the same ones, but in the descriptions of different authors, descriptions of different eras. The spirits of the people who lived there incarnate on Earth and can remember something and describe it as exclusively their experience.

If you calculate using the method you mentioned, indeed, the zero meridian will pass approximately in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean, in the place where there was a line of cities that later sank.

33:31 Mutual influence of space and people. The connection between the “point of embodiment” and its task.

Dmitry: Do I understand correctly: where I live greatly influences me. I live in Tashkent - one influence, in Ufa - another. Not because the city is richer, more beautiful or warmer. It's geography. Geography is a kind of “energy essence”. By moving we gain influence.

Two questions. Is there really an influence of space? If so, why is this information hidden? It has reached us very weakly through the depths of centuries. I have a hypothesis for the answer. Maybe because people practically did not move before, they lived like trees. They planted him, and he lives there. And he has no need to know that somewhere there will be another influence on him.

Why is the influence of space hidden? A little about this.

Maria: Additional question: are implementation tasks a factor influencing this? Because, depending on the plans for incarnation that we set for ourselves back in the Spiritual world, we subsequently move to these places during incarnation.

Irina: Both the first and second questions are interesting. I'm interested too.

So. Yes, space influences a person, because each space has its own unique energy, which is associated with the strength of the magnetic field. The magnetic field (earthly instruments cannot fully capture this, only part of it is shown) is inhomogeneous. It has different tensions, different lines. Magnetic lines are streams of energy flow.

Dmitry: Can this be calculated? Is it amenable to formulas and calculations?

Irina: What exactly should I calculate?

Dmitry: The energy of space. How does Ufa, Moscow affect me? Or is this a purely empirical thing that needs to be tested. Or can it be calculated?

Irina: You can calculate it, but not everything. You can calculate the effect of magnetic fields depending on the magnetic charge of your body. Every person has magnetic material. For example, every red blood cell contains an iron atom. Iron is a magnetic material. Every atom has what we call an open magnetic field. In total, an adult has about 6-7 (or even more) grams of iron, which is found throughout the body. Therefore, different lines of magnetic fields have different effects on the movement of these red blood cells, the consequence is the well-being (shows) of a person.

Maria: On the physical body?

Irina: Yes. This affects the physical body. That is why many noticed that they were more comfortable on the surface of the Earth than, for example, on a high floor. Perhaps not everyone noticed, but sensitive people may notice that they need to walk on the ground. When you walk on the earth, energy rises from the Earth, and with height it falls. If you don't walk, there will be a lack of magnetic field (shows), a deficiency. This applies to the magnetic field.

As for the interaction of the etheric plane, the etheric fields of a person, his vitality. If we speak in the terminology of the Interstellar Union, one of the types of ether is prana, as we call it. It is given at birth, at incarnation. At the same time, it is still produced by the Spirit itself in the body and is modulated by its emotions, feelings, desires and thoughts, it is charged.

In space, in addition to magnetic fields, there are also etheric fields, which we have already discussed. These are layers between different density levels. There are no formulas for calculation in your mathematical apparatus, because there is no data on the numerical content of these formulas. There is no data in your science about the characteristics of these etheric fields.

Dmitry: Is it possible to get hold of this through astrology?

Irina: Yes, it is possible through astrology, but there are no formulas in the generally accepted sense of the word. The formulas that astrology uses are astronomical. Planetary calculations and more. But the influence can be described not by formulas, but by understanding the degree of compatibility of a person's individual vital force, charged by his Spirit, and the place where he is located.

Dmitry: Is influence important for me, for you, for everyone? Is it important to know that there are places that have a positive impact? Could it be that I live in a place that interferes with my goals? If this is so, then why is there no information about this (I repeat) in the literature? In addition, there are legends about "mother earth", "the heroes took a handful of their native land with them", "you need to bring a handful of your native land to the grave" (if a person died far away)? There is a sacred meaning in places of residence and power. Castaneda has it in his magic. The power of the Earth is very often described. If this power exists, then why is it rarely talked about?

Irina: Because this is explained (Largish) mainly from the point of view of plasmoid civilizations. From their level, the etheric exchange of energies is clearly visible. The influence of various energies on space and on those embodied Spirits who live in this space. But man is always an open energy system. Not only does space influence him, but he also influences space. Either a balance or an imbalance of energies arises.

How important is it? This is not important for everyone. There are more sensitive people, there are less sensitive people. There are people with different energy levels (life force), which depend, to a greater extent, on faith in themselves, in their actions, in their independence, and being true to themselves. The more confident a person is in himself, in his thoughts, the more confident he will be in charging his life force, and the more actively he will remake this space, build it, even if he ended up in some place.

There is no negative or positive influence. There is either a balance or an imbalance of energies. Any situation can be corrected or worsened, even the best situation by some kind of negativity.

Returning to Mary's question about her life's task. Yes, the point of incarnation is not chosen by chance. And the family is not chosen by chance to undergo some kind of experience, but the time of incarnation, the time of conception is also chosen taking into account the place of this conception and the place of birth. To harmonize energies, not only the date of birth is important, but also the date of conception. Because this is the first contact of the Spirit with the generic egregor. He passes through the generic egregor and waits for his parents to conceive his body. He is next to them in the Astral Plane. When connecting female and male cells, it introduces its vital energy into them. He already has energy. When he is in the Astral Plane, his life force already begins to interact with the surrounding etheric fields. The birth of a child into the Light (his first breath, the cutting of the umbilical cord - shows) is already the unfolding of the flower of vitality, the Flower of Life, which was laid in him at the moment of conception. It matters.

Maria: Very interesting.

Irina: Therefore, this is included in the circle of life's tasks, including the transformation of the space in which he lives into the space of Love.

Maria: Interesting point. In the project, we know three numerological calculations: our interstellar friends, the "Tree of Life" and the chakra system. They do not use place of birth or place of residence.

Irina: That's a question, right?

Maria: Yes. Does this mean that place does not play the very first role in the structure of a person's Spirit: where was he born?

Irina: It's not that "he doesn't play the first role." The purpose of numerological systems in the Interstellar Union (IC) is to explain the tasks of the embodied Spirit from a spiritual level, and not from interaction with space. This is considered one of the circumstances of the incarnation. It is believed that if a person wants to know his laws of interaction with space, he will find them out through the Higher Self, through contact with plasmoids. Esler and Burkhad do not set the task of creating an independent system for calculating interaction with space. Firstly, they are quite mobile creatures. They are used to traveling from planet to planet, not just one planet at a time.

(Metatron) They are used to transforming any space to suit their needs.

45:59 Conscious communication with space.

Maria: So, a more highly spiritual entity has more energy to transform space for itself, wherever it is?

Irina: Yes, especially if this happens consciously. A person consciously understands how space affects him. MCs do not need to consider this separately, they feel it. Not what they feel. They are taught to interact with the Higher Self, with plasmoid worlds. Already in childhood they are taught in the family. There are also earthly children who communicate with invisible friends. Everything happens consciously for them, especially with plasmoids.

Dmitry: Irina, a very important question. You said: since childhood. I had a guess. We humans reach out to the stove, feel it hot, get burned, and then know that it is hot. We know about this. Can we assume that the people you are talking about are creatures; they feel space in the same way? The space is somehow charged for them. We don't feel it. We don't have an organ that would say: “I'm approaching Moscow, but it's more intense for me.” Is there any sensory element in the body?

Irina: Yes, but he is not in the body. This is the Higher Self. Contact with the Higher Self prompts. A simple example. You can get in touch with your Higher Self and ask, for example, whether the place where you are is energetically suitable for you. Your Higher Self always feels this. It always feels all your energies. Your spiritual heart is the instrument that is the most accurate indicator of all your states, spatial energy exchanges and, of course, the presence, number and types of curators who also help to harmonize in this space.

A person (shows) who has found himself in a space that is inharmonious for himself, has moved, begins to feel oppression, an outflow of vital force, not because this outflow really exists, but because it is not a harmonious exchange with the surrounding etheric fields. But if he has good contact with the plasmoids, he is friends with them (the light ones), they will come and help him harmonize. They will tell you how to do it. They themselves will provide energy in order to correctly build the field lines. The person will feel lighter. They know the laws of energy exchange more perfectly than people. Even more perfect than humanoids. Not because humanoids do not study this, but because they are at a different density level. We also know a lot at our density level that is not available to plasmoids.

Dmitry: Ivan, did you have any questions?

49:36 Archaeological artifacts and energy of the Earth.

Ivan: Yes, you said that there is a certain energy grid of the Earth. There is a certain theory (Dmitry knows about it), the so-called “ley lines”. Is this theory true? Is it connected to energy meridians? Do our friends know?

Irina: It’s better to explain the essence, because they don’t know these names. They perceive contactees by energy. Our surnames mean nothing to them.

Dmitry: Sal Rachel, a channeler, he has many books, describes that the Earth has an energy grid, he calls it “ley lines”. He says there is some kind of energy flowing through the ley lines. Somehow these ley lines are connected to the pyramids at Giza. Is there any connection between sacred places (such as the Pyramids of Giza) and energy lines?

Irina: If we mean the network that runs across the surface of the Earth, the cells of which are (shows) a little more than a meter in area, like squares. The lines run from north to south and from west to east. They intersect and form cells. Is this what you mean?

Ivan: Most likely not. Rather, it is about the Hartman, Wittmann grid (I missed it).

Irina: I repeat once again: the names don’t mean anything to them.

Dmitry: If there is information about the energy grid and connection with the Giza pyramids, we would be grateful. Are the Pyramids of Giza connected to an energetic structure or is it an archaeological artifact?

Irina: Any archaeological artifact (pyramid, dolmen, ancient temple or temple) was always placed in a place precisely calibrated in terms of energy.

What lines were they lined up along? The lines were suggested by their curators - plasmoids from one or another density level. Moreover, it is very important (Largish says) that what is visible from one density level in a certain way, from another density level can be perceived differently by another plasmoid.

Earthly space looks like a three-dimensional network (shows), wavy. Wave. And in this wave there are cells that glow with different light. One is lighter, the second is dull, the others are like black holes. Black holes in the Earth's energy network are formed from the accumulation in this space of astral negative thought forms, which already affect the energy, the etheric plane. Spirit influences matter negatively in this case. You think that every thought, emotion, and desire has vanished without a trace. No, that's not true. They don't disappear without a trace.

Ivan: Does the location of the Egyptian pyramids have some sacred significance? Exactly in this place, in this geographical coordinate?

Irina: Not only the location of the Egyptian pyramids, but also the location of other pyramids (shows under water). There are caves in the mountains that contain pyramids. They are small in size. There are pyramids underground (shows), they look more like mounds. They were built, including in Russia, in the steppe regions, a very long time ago. Famous Caucasian dolmens. Many of them are older than the pyramids, while others are their contemporaries. This is the Caucasus region. The sacred significance of their location is such that pyramids, dolmens, temples to ancient gods and temples were places of healing or contact with plasmoid worlds.

55:00 Minichakras of the Earth. Energy centers of Russia.

Irina: Most often they were located on energy points, which are called energy centers or mini-chakras of the Earth.

There is an energy portal to the plasmoids. All space is charged with a certain energy, more amplified, its power is higher. For example, there are larger chakras, and there are smaller ones. If you show Irina images, it will confuse her. It needs to be marked on the map. I will tell you where the points are, but they tend to move, because the Earth's etheric field rotates. In relation to the physical world, it is not static; it also moves, but slowly.

For example, at the present time (if we are talking about Russia, because Irina knows the territory, imagines a map) there is a large energy formation, a portal, which we would call a large chakra of the Earth, an energy center for exchange with the cosmos (that's why there are portals, a cluster of portals) , is located approximately at the geographic latitude and longitude of the source of the Oka River. There is an ancient sanctuary there. The water that flows from there has healing properties, charged water.

Ivan: What is the approximate size of the place: a kilometer, ten kilometers?

Irina: East?

Ivan: Yes.

Irina: The epicenter of the zone is a little (shows) more than three kilometers. But the influence extends further, perhaps hundreds of kilometers. Depending on the cyclical activity of plasmoid civilizations, which depends on the cycles of the Sun and Moon. The general rhythm of nature (as far as I can understand it).

Ivan: What is the energy of this chakra?

Irina: Positive energy. Positive plasmoids that create Light. If you look at this place on an energetic level, the space glows very strongly. In ancient times, there were many places in this area where magi healed people.

There is a place where a spring comes out of the ground. They made a wooden trough like a bowl, collected water and treated (shows). Now there is a place where people come, a pilgrimage. Although physically this stream is no different from other streams that are several kilometers away.

Now there is the source of the Oka, but people who come there feel a special energy and become involved.

Maria: Very interesting information.

Irina: Another place in Russia, Irina knows. It's smaller. An energy line that follows a fault in the earth's crust, like a geological physical formation. Geoelectric energy comes out of it. As it rises, it causes vortices in the etheric space, like a tunnel in which it twists. This place is located (Irina knows) not far from her birthplace. Novokhoperskaya anomaly, anomalous zone. There are many plasmoids, UFOs, and encounters with “field memory” observed there. A space remembers certain things, for example, images of people who have been there. Then the images can be photographed. Like the Akashic Records.

Maria: Very interesting to know. What is the positive charge of these and other places connected with? With the energy of the people who lived there and interacted with plasmoid civilizations? What influences such places?

Irina: What influences the creation of these chakras?

Maria: Yes. To their high vibrational charge.

Irina: First of all, they are influenced by the light plasmoid civilizations that live in this place. They create a portal. We agreed and created a portal in one place, which they use for their needs. To move from world to world, influence the physical world, observe it, perform all the functions of plasmoids: creating animal Souls, etc. Such portals existed long before the existence of intelligent man on Earth. Long before the discovery of the Earth, the Tumesoutians already had such portals, because plasmoid civilizations lived here.

People who live now, getting into these spaces, can strengthen them with their Light, weaken or even close these portals, change the energy to negative if they emit negativity. The third level of density involves very dense energies embedded in this matter and a very high power of divine Light (or the opposite of Light) that the Spirit, embodied in the body, emits.

Maria: Thank you. Very important information. What is the reason for the movement of the etheric field? Why does it change its position?

Irina: Because it is not static relative to physical reality. This is both rotation and superposition of one wave on another. Complex movements (shows). This is the law of nature. Nothing in nature is absolutely static. Everything is moving.

Dmitry: Irina, the question is this. I deal with the influence of space. I have formulas. I teach people. From the point of view of your distinguished guests (contacts), am I being constructive? Is this normal work or do I need to slow down and think about it?

Irina: You asked a good question. The Archangel with a bright face (white) smiles.

Dmitry (Largish says), you feel it, your heart tells you that you bring good to people and help them live harmoniously.

Dmitry: I think so.

Irina: I (Largish says) am telling you this, giving you a hint. You have or have had periods in the past (for them, time is relative).

Dmitry: About periods. I was doing something else because I had to live and survive. I have three children, a family and so on. I had to work somewhere and earn something. Then I returned. These fluctuations could be associated with our amazing time in which we have the good fortune or misfortune of being born.

Irina: It shows that there was a period when you did not sleep at night.

Dmitry: This happens often.

Irina: You are not sleeping because (Largish says) you are thinking about how best to convey this, how to harmoniously fit it not only into science, but into ideas in society. About adequate delivery of information.

Dmitry: Yes. What worries me most is why so few people think about this. I am convinced that the Earth influences. I moved around a lot and felt it myself. But people attach little importance to this. Maria probably knows too. Born in Moscow, moved to Germany. Irina, you, too, have probably moved or are you living, where do you live?

Irina: Does movement play a role already tens of kilometers from the place of birth?

Dmitry: For many kilometers, yes. I was in Tashkent, in Ufa, then in Samara, in Moscow.

Irina: I now live 250 kilometers from my place of birth.

Dmitry: People still pay attention to the picture. “I want to go to America because it’s good there, there are salaries, and something else. In the end, it’s not me, it’s the children who will live.” People think like this. Sometimes fate takes people down. We are all moving now. Moving around becomes easier and easier. Maybe it's not in vain that fate carries us around, moving us around? So it took me from Tashkent to Ufa. Then from Ufa to Samara, from Samara to Kemerovo. In Kemerovo I had a strong resonance.

Irina: I understand you. After I met Maxim, I had as many trips around the Earth with him as I had not had since the moment of my birth and before meeting Maxim.

Dmitry: I don't know Maxim.

1:07:01 Irina Podzorova's interaction with space.

Irina: Maxim Rusan is the head of our project. He took me to retreats, to cities, so that I could work with people and conduct retreats. We lived there from a week to a month. In different places. We traveled by car, by train, and flew to Lake Baikal by plane. This was the first time in my life: a new experience of moving.

I used to think that I didn't really like to travel, I was a homebody. Then I felt that I was looking forward to the change of impressions and the move. This is new for me: new impressions and interest. When I came to a new place, and we were in many places, energetically strong, charged, dolmens and so on, where alien bases are located, I am now going through many places in my memory, I don't remember that there was any kind of rejection.

When I come to a new place, I go out and look at nature, especially if it is a natural landscape. I always send the Light of my Love to plasmoid civilizations, the Spirits of Nature who are there, I thank them for the beautiful nature, for the trees, for the air, for the fact that I can enjoy this view. I feel that they are answering me.

Even if this place is not suitable for me, for example, by birth (this may be the case, as I understood your theory), I feel that they are helping me. They harmonize me. Therefore, I never had a feeling of damage in space, an outflow of energy. I feel harmonious everywhere. Why?

Because (my personal experience) I feel everywhere in the space of God's gaze. I always feel in his arms. Any space is filled with its Light. For me it is, in my perception.

Maria: I want to support Irina's statement, Dmitry, to share my awareness with you. Thanks to the Cassiopeia project, thanks to the information that I received through Irina from our curators, thanks to Maxim, of course, first of all, I realized absolutely exactly why I ended up in this or that place on the planet. Why did I move from Russia and end up in Germany? All my movements are connected with the growth of my Spirit, with the awareness of some karmic situations that harmed the development of my Spirit. In order for me to process this experience, bring into balance the lowered energies of past incarnations or the current life, raise them by gaining experience in one area or another.

I am confident that if we are in touch with our Higher Self, we will always find ourselves exactly where we need to be. I remade the proverb "It's good where we are not" for myself: "It's good where we are." "It's good where I am." I have this awareness, acquired and tested in practice. I end up exactly where I need to be. There, in this space, this place, city, country, everything around me is developing for my benefit, helping me.

Ivan: It will be interesting to compare it with your astrological data.

Maria: With pleasure.

Dmitry: Irina, another question. Is it possible to use space to gain new energetic experiences? You said that when you go to every new place, you see a new landscape and send goodness to the outside world.

Irina: Gratitude.

1:12:11 Conscious astrogeographic tourism.

Dmitry: Yes. For example, I can calculate the place where, from my point of view, Plutonian or Neptunian energies turn on. Where can I meditate more or my field strengthens, and I can go there for 1-2 days. A purposeful trip not just to a place that was recommended, but to a place that was calculated in order to gain experience in perceiving these energies.

Is it possible to use space to gain experience and return using the earthling theory? You don't have to move permanently. I want to go to Magadan, where Pluto “turns on” for me, live for a week, see what is changing in me, understand myself a little differently. I become a little different. Is this experience interesting for earthlings or not, from the point of view of your contacts?

Irina: Yes (Metatron), it’s interesting, but only with a certain level of awareness.

Dmitry: Yes.

Irina: This must be approached not as a frozen dogma that will certainly happen. We must approach it with the awareness that this influence can be corrected. We can use the knowledge about earthlings that you are talking about to our advantage, including for spiritual, physical, energetic and social development. Each planet is an image of a certain energy, including ethereal energy, which, projected through the Earth’s magnetosphere onto these points, enhances certain qualities in the human Soul or reduces, to put it in a language closer to practice.

Dmitry: Does so-called “conscious tourism” have a future? Don't go to look at the Eiffel Tower, but go to a certain configuration of your planets in order to... The very concept of such tourism will change. They correctly said that this will not necessarily happen, but a person is preparing for it, he wants to know it. Probably, people who are more or less ready will come to such tourism. What will happen to them is also a mystery and research. For some it can be severe. Is tourism of this kind possible?

Irina: Yes, astrogeographic tourism is possible with a certain level of awareness and obligatory explanation on your part - the person who will build the map for these trips, a master of astrogeography. A mandatory explanation on your part to the person. So that when he arrives there, he does not expect a miracle, but works on himself. This enhances the capabilities and abilities that exist in him or reduces the negative ones and enhances the positive ones, but does not work in his place.

Dmitry: It's interesting, of course, to look at your cards. And Mary, and yours, Irina.

Irina: I'm interested too

Maria: Please explain what you recommend in these maps and places? What do you say or define for a person? What energies will a person receive in these places?

Irina: As I understand it, Metatron says that it intensifies in a person's natal chart. Am I interpreting correctly?

Dmitry: Yes. I have many historical examples. I know that, for example, Lenin, Stalin, Trotsky have Pluto at their highest point in St. Petersburg and Moscow. You can treat them badly or well, it doesn't matter, but they are people who changed the whole world, starting with Russia. Their Plutonian energy manifested itself in Moscow and St. Petersburg.

I have a place too. This is Magadan. Nobody goes to Magadan. From the point of view of the theory of earthlings, you can go to Magadan for me to turn on a similar configuration and observe what happens to me in terms of will and tasks that come to my mind, another incoming force.

I will not become Lenin or Stalin, of course, but this will be my experience associated with similar energies. If I "go to Venus," then this is an experience of love, feelings. I won't necessarily meet my other half there (although that may be the case), but there will be people there that I like. I will be able to feel that I am including more of the feeling of Love, which I could not include in another place where it does not awaken.

Irina: “I will go to Venus” so that our viewers do not misunderstand us. Dmitry said that he would not go to Venus the planet, but he would go to a place that, according to the law of resonance of spatial energies, would enhance the action of his Venus in him in that house of the horoscope, in that degree and in the sign where it is located.

Dmitry: Yes, exactly.

Irina: That's what he means. If Dmitry now understands what we are talking about, because I don’t quite understand.

Maria: This refers to the projection on Earth.

Dmitry: Yes. There are places where it is projected.

Irina: There is a possibility (Largish) that in those places where Venusian energies are intensified specifically for you, for another person it will be a place of other energies.

Dmitry: Of course. Not a probability, but definitely. Everyone has their own place.

Irina: There are people for whom the place will coincide. If you come to a place where Venusian energies are intensifying, this will not necessarily mean that you will meet your beloved there. Maybe this will mean that you write a poem, hear a song in this place that will change your state of mind, something related to art, and so on.

Dmitry: Beauty, harmony, art.

Irina: It is necessary to explain to people so that they know what to expect, because there is a risk of disappointment. There are people who have already built a certain dream for themselves in the mental space, a certain fantasy. They may face disappointment if it does not materialize, if they do not understand the laws of energy exchange.

Dmitry: Using the Earth, we can move at any moment: get on a plane, fly to that place and turn on some of our patterns according to planetary energies. Mars is activity. Venus – beauty, harmony. Neptune is inspiration. Pluto is will, figuratively speaking, Jupiter is respect or self-esteem, and so on. Using the power of the Earth, we can move and turn on some aspect of ourselves, observe ourselves. For example, the retreat is amazing.

Irina: Don't forget that you need to recommend taking into account the fact that it will enhance specific energies. Space will strengthen the energies of the planet not only on the energetic, psychological, but also on the physical level. If a person wants to come to the "Mars zone", where his Mars "intensifies", and he has brain diseases for which Aries is "responsible", then an aggravation is possible.

Dmitry: Yes.

Ivan: We need a consulting astrologer.

Irina: This must be done in harmony with the natal chart.

Dmitry: Like any power, it is a double-edged sword. Ivan, do you have any questions? I'm very glad I talked to you. We must have tired you?

1:22:12 Ancient aircraft and the energy of the Earth.

Ivan: The conversation turned out to be quite extensive. I'll ask too. We heard about the magnetic meridians that exist, their impact on humans and space. I would like to know about the technologies that existed in ancient times, such as aircraft, anti-gravity platforms, which were used for the construction of large architectural objects. Are they connected to this energy? Was this energy used for technological purposes?

Dmitry: Earth energy?

Ivan: Yes, the energy of the Earth's energy grid.

Irina: Anti-gravity platforms, anti-gravity devices were used not by earthlings of ancient civilizations, but by aliens who flew to them. Not always, but in those cases when help was needed in the construction of a large facility. The aliens provided assistance in relocation (shows). An object the size of a pack of cigarettes was placed on a large stone. They pressed a button (a place on the body), an anti-gravity field appeared, which made it possible to lift the stone above the ground and further move it using ropes and other means. This was before the war 12,000 years ago.

What kind of technique is this? What does it depend on? Antigravity is a special gravitational field, but directed in the opposite direction. This liberated graviton field, which is embedded in a rotating electromagnetic field, is modulated by a special signal, a special vector, which is directed downward towards the Earth. It turns on due to the fact that the energy contained in the anti-gravity device is accumulated by a special material (shows).

He is in contact with the Tumesoutians, the Burkhadians, and is their curator from the Spiritual World, not only for earthlings, so he knows this technology.

This is a rechargeable battery that accumulates energy, including from the Sun, stars, and geomagnetic fields that are on Earth. There are various devices. They accumulate energy. When turned on, it quickly converts it into antigravity.

Dmitry: Legends about flying carpets and boots?

Irina: This is a gravity platform (shows the planet Burkhad).

I was lifted up on such a platform. I was physically there. I was raised on a platform from which I read a speech to the aliens present. It was a platform that rose above the surface. It was not a carpet, but a hard surface.

“Flying carpet” as an image. The platforms were of different shapes: round, oval, square. The form didn't matter. The material mattered. The outer side on which the person stands was made of one material, and the one turned towards the surface was made of another. Between them there are microcircuits (shows), like tubes. Around each tube is a spiral of very thin wire: nickel, molybdenum, something else (shows these elements). Energy flows through the wires, which suppresses gravity. It had energy reserves for flight, and then it needed to be charged.

Ivan: Was the energy of magnetic lines of force used in any way? Maybe there were devices that could move along these lines?

Irina: Not used on Earth. We planned to use it. I remember Nikola Tesla. He studied the influence of the Earth's magnetic grid: is it possible to take energy from there, move around - thanks to this, he discovered an electromagnetic engine - extract electricity from the magnetic field and vice versa. But moving along the Earth’s magnetic grids and using their energy is rather typical for other planets. Technology did not exist on Earth.

1:29:00 Energy of the Earth's etheric fields.

Dmitry: The energy of the Earth can be converted into other types of energy: electricity, heat, something else? If this power exists, can it be used in other ways to benefit?

Irina: Do you now mean ethereal or magnetic energy? They are different.

Dmitry: The power that I feel when I move between points. This, apparently, is some kind of energy of an incomprehensible nature, but which nevertheless exists, must be influencing us. This is an analogue, probably (you yourself said), of a more subtle energy than electromagnetic energy.

Irina: You mean extracting energy from the etheric fields that make up the layers between worlds of different densities and these worlds themselves. Such experiments are possible. This is called a "vacuum puncture". All the space around is a vacuum. It is only temporarily filled with atoms and fields. If you remove atoms and fields from it, it will become digital space. We call it a vacuum.

To conduct experiments to extract the free energy of the vacuum or the field of the Universe, you need the permission and control of the Angels of Nature of the 17th level and the plasmoids of that place, otherwise you can damage both the dense material world and the plasmoid worlds. Enormous amounts of energy will begin to be released, which could destroy their worlds and the physical world.

1:30:59 Tunguska meteorite. Meteorites in Earth's orbit.

Dmitry: The Tunguska meteorite is not an experiment with such types of energy?

Irina: No. The Tunguska meteorite is the nucleus of a comet. There was already an answer, I remember it.

Why comet nucleus? Because (shows the comet nucleus) this is proven (even your scientists know) by the fact that a few days before the collision with the comet, there was a very bright “meteor shower,” as you call it. The earth passed through its tail. Then they collided (shows).

Why weren't any fragments found? The comet's nucleus is made of ice. With sudden heating from the impact with the atmosphere, a rapid transition from the solid state of ice to the gaseous state occurred, bypassing the liquid state. This releases energy (shows). But there were still inclusions of stones. There was an explosion, these stones scattered. They are impossible to find.

Maria: We know that our alien friends are very closely monitoring the situation with our planet, what is happening around it, including comets. They knew there was no serious damage.

Irina: She fell in an area where there were no cities.

Maria: They knew about this comet.

Irina: You need to look at their databases: where they were, at what distance the comet was, how they calculated it. Automatic systems are in place. I know that there are asteroids, like large meteorites, asteroids and comets that fly around the Earth. There are quite a lot of them, you can see them in the craters of the Moon, Mars, and Mercury. You can see how often collisions happen there. Not with small meteorites that burn up in the atmosphere, but with large ones that cause explosions and can reach the surface of the Earth and cause destruction of infrastructure and cities. There are many such stones flying around the Earth.

On Mars and the Moon there is a special team of robots (shows) under the leadership of MS, which automatically monitors the orbits of all dangerous bodies and deflects them with a special field, does not explode, but deflects them to the sides. If they are blown up, they can crumble into hundreds of small rocks, making their orbits even more difficult to track. There will be an uncontrolled process.

1:34:28 Astrogeographic tourism and human sensations.

Dmitry: Irina, another important question for me. You said that awareness of movement is necessary. If people take a step towards becoming more geographically aware, if they understand that moving and emigrating is not only a pursuit of good places, money, but there are certain energetic interactions with the Earth, that by moving, you can discover something in yourself . Do you and your Spirits think this will benefit the Earth as a whole? How potentially important is this? Will it bring general benefit?

Irina: Yes, of course. This can be beneficial under the conditions that we have listed: with the awareness of people and your responsibility, which I (Metatron) have no doubt about. You can explain to people not to treat this as a ritual that will improve their lives without them, but to approach the space consciously. Understand that this is not a panacea, but a way to strengthen the energies that are in them. Even if a spatial forecast (you can call it that) shows unfavorable areas of the map, this will not be a contraindication to moving there. Subject to harmonious tuning with the specified planet, elaboration of the quality of character that causes its negative aspect.

Ivan: This is about my topic: astropsychosomatics, about the virtual study of those energies that you can interact with while moving.

Irina: If you find yourself in a negative space for yourself, it (I remind you) is negatively conditional, if a person does not work on himself, on this quality. A planet that begins to influence negatively through space is not an enemy, it is a teacher.

Dmitry: For me it's an analogue: a warm lake, where, after taking a dip, it's pleasant and comfortable, and a cold waterfall, which can knock you off your feet (or a mountain stream), but invigorates and energizes. Of course, people don't like mountain waterfalls and don't like to swim in them. They prefer more or less comfortable conditions. But, on the other hand, at these points there is more energy, more discoveries, you will recognize yourself better if you consciously approach this place.

Irina: Negative qualities that are strengthened by the planet can manifest themselves in any other place, but more imperceptibly for a person. Due to their invisibility, they can be more dangerous, because a person will be inclined to follow karmic nodes that are visible in the map. He may accumulate blocks due to which he will not complete the tasks of incarnation. The negative qualities that are reflected in his chart are not qualities, but the possibility of the appearance of these qualities exists; they are shown by degrees, aspects of planets, and so on. If you look at it from the perspective of your medicine, these are diseases of the Spirit.

A place where a disease can be identified and harmonized, healed by raising vibrations, in your analogy, a hospital. Only it will not be physical, but for the Spirit. Where a person will be with an illness, but without shaking up the space, there will be an analogue of a warm, cozy cafe. A man with a runny nose that he had but didn't affect him in any way. And the analogue of a place that is (conditionally) negative is a doctor's office with treatment that is unpleasant to visit. There is an examination, procedures: nasal rinsing and so on, but which will lead to recovery. Did I make a clear analogy?

Ivan: Yes, I see.

1:40:10 Karma and energy of the place of birth.

Ivan: I would like to know the karmic prerequisites. Dmitry opened this topic. I am working on this topic. Were there any reasons in the past?

Irina: There are always reasons. The birth of this or that Spirit in this or that place, but it's not only about the place, but also about the family. We all remember about the generic egregor. We remember the place of the generic egregor and its energy. Of course, there are always karmic reasons that led the Spirit to be born in this place, in this family, with certain qualities.

Which? What do we call karmic reasons? These are actions in past lives that led to the formation of character traits, but which - the actions themselves - are forgotten. They become character traits at birth. You know that even children born to the same mother, even if they are twins and were raised the same, are still different in character. These are karmic prerequisites.

As for the location, it's a trigger. Getting into one place or another. Some are born in a negative place for themselves, some in a positive place. This is a trigger for development. One can say, through harsh conditions of incarnation, or through softer ones. Like that. The same depends on karma, on awareness, on the desire to use God-given talents in a positive way. You can ruin the most positive place with your negativity if you show jealousy, anger, envy, and fears there.

1:42:26 The concept of "death of the Spirit." Physical death. The finitude of incarnations.

Dmitry: One more question, may I? Castaneda and Castaneda's magic say that there is "The Eagle and Death." The eagle swallows consciousness and that's the end of it. Christianity says that there is an afterlife. Still there are reincarnations? Is there an end to these reincarnations or is the world endless, development endless? If so, what is called "killing your Soul" and ending up in the form of space debris, garbage and other things?

Irina: Dear friends, I am now addressing the audience, I know what they will write to us now. I apologize to you for the repeated questions. People may not have noticed this video. I understand your feelings perfectly.

The spirit is immortal. He is part of God, God's beloved child. He cannot die: “cease to exist as awareness of himself.” Spiritual death exists in the sense that the Spirit can leave high vibrations, from the Source of life, which is God, Love, Truth. Go into opposite energies and vibrations. If he left life, then he came to death. Such death does not imply the cessation of his existence. This is the state of his Soul, his Spirit, his energy, when he denies everything, a nihilist. These are the levels of demonic planes from which Spirits also incarnate in order to return to the Light.

If the Spirit wants to return to the Light, he calls upon his Consulting Angel, who descends to his level of death and says under what conditions, including those reflected in the natal chart, the Spirit must incarnate in order to come from death to life. In order to be resurrected, to experience what the Apostle Paul wrote about: “It is not I who live, but Christ who lives in me.” "Christ" in the sense of "resurrected". The one who has risen.

The Spirit, which is one with Christ, conquered death. He defeated not only physical death, but also spiritual death. He did not conquer his own spiritual death, but all those Spirits who turn to him for help. The energy of his Love helps everyone come out of darkness. Have you heard the words “Christ the Savior”? He doesn't automatically save if you say, “Get me,” and he pulls you out. No. He helps you get out on your own. This is a way of helping, but not doing the work for a person, his Spirit, helps to grow and develop harmoniously, correctly appreciating the Light, passing through the darkness into which the Spirit has plunged itself.

So, the Spirit is immortal. The words “death of the Soul” and “death of the Spirit” are an allegory that means separation from the Source of life, which is God. But this is not the cessation of existence. Moreover, even physical death is not the cessation of existence of either the body or the Spirit. It's just separating them.

Physical death is the separation of the Soul from the body. But the body itself continues to exist in the form of elements, not a single quantum will disappear from it. Not a single atom will be lost from it. It will go into nature. He will pass into other bodies. So is the Spirit. It will not disappear, but will pass into other forms of existence, and subsequently into other bodies.

I return to the question of the finitude of incarnations. The Spirit decides. He can stop his incarnations at any time. Stop at any level: at the first, demonic, or at the 24th. He may say: “I no longer wish to incarnate and will not go to choose an incarnation for myself.” Nobody will say a word to him. This is his complete right.

Whoever wishes to constantly incarnate and bring his Light, which he has achieved, into the world, or to achieve this Light if it is not yet realized, this is also the right of any Spirit. Finite or endless incarnation, nirvana or samsara awaits you, only you decide.

Dmitry: Irina, thank you very much. I received a lot of information that I will need to digest and reflect on. Ivan and I will still discuss what we should improve, and what we should take into account and, invigorated, replenished with energy, move on. Thank you. As I understand it, the topic has the right to exist, this is the most important thing. You and your high-ranking contacts say that the topic is not just a joke, and that’s great.

Irina: Yes. There is a place to be.

Dmitry: Maria, thank you.

Maria: Dear friends, Dmitry, Ivan, we thank you for participating in this conference. Thank you for a very interesting topic, for very interesting questions and topics for reflection. We thank Irochka, our wonderful contactee, who tirelessly conveys very valuable information from our friends from all over the world. We thank Metatron, the magical Archangel, who brings a lot of valuable information and, first of all, his energy to our civilization, to our world, for our development. We thank the plasmoid who came today and answered all our questions very clearly, very interestingly. We thank everyone. We thank our viewers.

Irina: Thank you.

Maria: Until we meet again.

Irina: I also thank Dmitry, I thank Ivan, Maria. We thank Largish, Metatron. It turned out very interesting. See you again, friends.

#440 Interesting facts about Leonardo da Vinci. The mystery of the Mona Lisa painting: who is depicted in the portrait?

00:21 Leonardo da Vinci - contactor.

Olesya: What can you say about Leonardo da Vinci’s contactee?

Irina: LiSioni shows me the image of an elderly man. He lived for many years, but was sick. In his youth he suffered from some dangerous disease. He had something like the plague. There were no remedies to treat this disease. He survived thanks to his high consciousness. His Spirit agreed with his mentors to leave him in incarnation. Therefore, spiritual mentors, Angels, came to him and healed him.

He was a contactee with the Spiritual World, but mentors from the planet Shimor also came to him. There are records of this contactee in the annals of my planet.

Five Shimorians came into contact with him, one after another. Judging by the records in our annals, they tried to give him a comprehensive idea of Universal Knowledge as a synthesis of science, religion and philosophy. There was no esotericism then, there was a name “secret metaphysics”. Esoterics was called metaphysics, one of the types of metaphysics.

In Spirit he was very close to Isaac Newton. He was also a contactee.

They didn't call themselves contactees, that's a new word. They called themselves “messengers of the divine will”; they could even call themselves poets.

Leonardo da Vinci did not only paint pictures. He conducted scientific work and wrote poetry. They show me that he sits and writes poetry. But, judging by the records that we have about him in our history, he was not a happy person in the family. He had an unhappy family life. There were several women who did not love him. He parted with them.

Towards the end of his life he had students, but he did not immediately gain authority from them. There were some difficulties. His character was far from simple. He came from a short family, above average. Not a count, but close to that title. I was brought up in this spirit. I didn’t let myself be humiliated.

He often provided new information to the people, which led to ridicule and criticism. It was very difficult for his proud, ambitious heart to tolerate this. He went through a good school of patience and love. After disincarnation, he went to level 20.

Where he is now needs to be officially clarified. He completed his incarnation with dignity.

Olesya: And from what level did he incarnate? Is there such information?

Irina: As far as I remember, from the 15th.

Olesya: Was he a physical contactee?

Irina: No, I was not a physical contactee. He had no physical contact.

Olesya: Has he had contact since childhood?

Irina: Yes, from about ten years old (shows a boy about ten years old). In the Astral they came to him. First from the Spiritual World, then, at about 15 years old, its vibrations began to be suitable for representatives of Shimora. Shimorians began to come to him.

05:27 Who is depicted in the painting “La Gioconda”?

Olesya: What do you know about the painting “Mona Lisa”? What did he want to say with this portrait?

Irina: He had a similar girl around him. They were close. We were very close friends.

#441 BREATH of the Universe for healing the Soul and body. PRANAYAMA technique. How to awaken the consciousness of the Spirit?

00:19 Background.

Voice-over: In the summer of 1999, a 13-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than twenty years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:13 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends. My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today my curator is present with us - a biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations from the planet Esler MidgasCaus. Hello, Alexander.

Alexander: Hello, Irina. Greetings to our friends.

Irina: Introduce yourself, who you are and what questions you have.

Alexander: My name is Alexander. I lead breathing meditative practices to increase vibrations, dissolve ethereal blocks, cleanse subtle bodies, activate centers, i.e. pumping the energy system. Now I am also a new teacher at the Sacral school as part of the Cassiopeia project. In this regard, our broadcast was born.

Irina: Okay, thank you.

Alexander: The questions will concern the meditative practice that I conduct, so that people can understand why this is being done, what it leads to, and other details.

I'll talk a little about breathing practices, how they are generally classified here on Earth in different yoga systems, and then we'll move on to questions about the practice that I teach.

In general, the word "Pranayama" comes from two words. "Prana" is the life force, and "yama" is to take control or control. Those. these are breathing practices with the help of which we control not the breath itself, but precisely Prana - vital energy. Thus, we begin to saturate ourselves, fill ourselves with Prana, increase our vitality and vitality.

In the process of conscious breathing, both our subtle bodies and energy bodies are cleansed. It is also known that the connection between breathing and consciousness is two-way. Those. By influencing or correcting, for example, breathing, we change our psycho-emotional state of consciousness, and, conversely, by changing the state of consciousness, our breathing automatically changes, and the body also comes into one mode or another. With the help of breathing you can relax, or you can activate your body. It is known in yoga schools that breathing, for example, through the left nostril cools the nervous system, helps to calm down, relax at the end of the day, and breathing through the right nostril, on the contrary, activates, wakes up at the beginning or before important work, where you need to concentrate, where active actions.

It is also known that the fluctuation of inhalation and exhalation triggers the brain to work, and a person becomes less susceptible to various stresses.

To be more clear, I wrote my own theses, so I will voice them.

Also, when we breathe various Pranayama practices, not only healing of the physical body occurs, but also an increase in energy and vitality. Also, as confirmed by medical research, the psycho-emotional state of consciousness is corrected, oxygen is distributed throughout all organs and tissues. Decay products and toxins are removed, the pH environment is balanced, and stagnant air is removed from the lungs, i.e. good prevention of respiratory tract and diseases associated with it, accelerates metabolism.

I became interested in various yoga practices, tried everything, delved into it, caught it. Everything was interesting to me. The amount of knowledge and practices grew, and I wanted to combine it all, because, for example, the practice of Kriya yoga, which takes 2 hours, the practice of Kundalini yoga for half an hour to an hour, and also the meditations of the school of esotericism, which were also very interesting. And when should you find time to do all this? Therefore, I gradually began to combine the practice of yoga - breathing and concentration at the centers with the knowledge that was given by the schools of metaphysics. It turned out that it helps very well to restart the psycho-emotional state, level out the energy, dissolve ethereal blocks, and clean the channels. In the end, pump up the channel and begin to rise to a higher level of consciousness. Thus, I have a number of questions about practice.

Irina: Okay, that was a very interesting story, Alexander. He was also listening with me now. “An interesting story, a good teacher,” says (Mead).

Alexander: Due to the fact that Mead was interested, this was the first question. In our yoga schools, and in many esoteric ones, it is the breathing practices of Pranayama that are the basis for using breathing to move into a meditative state, to relax. In Indian and Buddhist schools, this is almost the main practice for reaching high states of consciousness, what is called “nirvana”, “enlightenment”. Are similar breathing practices of conscious breathing used on other planets to the same extent as here?

08:55 Yoga teaching.

Irina: Hello, dear friends. I can’t call yoga just one teaching or movement. This is a universal practice that in ancient times was widespread throughout the Earth. Even before the war 12 thousand years ago, this knowledge was obtained from the Spiritual World, from plasmoid civilizations, developed by earthlings themselves and obtained through natural contacts with humanoid civilizations.

This is a kind of synthesis of practices, theories that were based on the experience of interaction with the outside world. It is well known that there is yoga that is aimed specifically at health. There is also yoga aimed at contacts with subtle civilizations. There is yoga aimed at protecting against all harmful influences of geopathogenic zones and so on.

Some part of it is known to the modern world under the name Feng Shui. This is also a certain yoga of space, because yoga means not only those practices that a person does, but also the doctrine of the structure of space.

If we take the word “yoga”, we analyze it by syllables of the proto-language, as we are already accustomed to doing, in order to find out the meaning that ancient people put into the combination of these sounds, when there was still a Proto-Indo-European language before the birth of all modern languages that are known now.

“Yoga” consists of the letters “y” (a modified letter “i”), “o” and the syllable “ga”. Proto-Indo-European was a syllabic proto-language. To convey the meaning of certain runes, both letters and syllables were used. Yoga is deciphered in this proto-language as “The Highest Path for All,” or, if we add a preposition, “The path to the Almighty for all.”

This is a kind of religion. This served as a connection to the higher. But religions are not defined as certain visible rituals. Rituals appeared later. They developed from practices - at first simple ones, which helped to tune in to contact with certain entities, with certain civilizations. Contact is a form of communication between a person and an extraterrestrial or otherworldly entity.

What is "otherworldly"? This means on the other side of space, on the other side of reality. With a plasmoid creature, for example.

12:50 “Pran” energy. The influence of breathing on the human condition.

Irina: “Pranayama”, what does this word mean? Prana is the universal energy. For us, this is a type of ether, a type of subtle energy. There is physical energy - heat, light, gravity, and there are subtle energies. Prana is one of them, or rather, it is one of them for earthlings. The Interstellar Union distinguishes 75 types of Prana, which are characteristic of certain civilizations.

For example, on Earth there are 14 species of them, which are characteristic of humans and plasmoids. To distinguish them from each other, you need either certain devices that work according to the principles of the Interstellar Union, based on nanotechnology, or the sensitivity of the organism itself, which can only be developed through the practice of communicating with different entities. This cannot be taught from books. A person must go through this himself.

Regarding Pranayama breathing specifically. What I really like about earthlings, and especially about ancient earthlings, is that they could use absolutely ordinary things as instruments of their enlightenment, their improvement.

For ancient people there was little choice. There were no books. They could write on tablets or on papyrus or on animal skin. This was a labor-intensive process, so the transmission of spiritual knowledge was carried out most of all orally. The teacher conveyed to the student knowledge about how he could be physically, mentally and spiritually healthy, and move towards enlightenment. Then there were no modern medicines or procedures that are typical for people of the last era.

Breathing - this happened to every person. His most accessible, simplest tool was used for all purposes - for physical development, for the prevention of diseases, for the treatment of diseases was the method of respiratory therapy, and for mental health. What you call mental illnesses were previously called mental illnesses; certain breathing practices were also used. For spiritual improvement, so that by establishing a certain rhythm and type of breathing, a person evokes certain states in himself.

The human brain is neuroplastic; it can build long-lived chains of neurons that remember information at the level of molecular connections. Having developed a certain habit for himself, for example, a certain breathing rhythm and putting a spiritual meaning into it, a person at the level of brain neurons remembered that as soon as he breathed like that, this state would return to him. This was built into the conditioned reflex at the reflexive level.

He now told us a little about what he thinks about it.

Alexander: Yes, he spoke and answered the last question that the participants wanted to know. Why do we do this, how does it help us move towards the light, what does it give us, how does it help us to perceive new energies? He answered the question that these practices were developed for this purpose, and there are various methods for entering new states of consciousness and communicating with subtle civilizations.

Then this question is a little from the end.

18:06 Images in the practice of pranayama.

Alexander: In the process of practice, after concentrating on all seven centers, when attention goes up into the channel, we rise, direct it to higher centers of consciousness and into the Spirit, then many see that some forces, images, faces come. What kind of forces can come, or does it depend on each person? Are these his curators, or are there curators who specifically respond to people who breathe, practice Pranayama, and supervise this direction?

Irina: These could be the curators of the person himself, it could be an image of his Higher Self, it could appear to him. These may be the teacher's supervisors if this is done in a group. These may not be curators, but plasmoids that flew past and were attracted by energy and light. After all, there are constantly more subtle entities around you that you do not see. They can't see you with their eyes either, but they feel the energy, and if the energy in this space has changed, it can attract them. They can make contact, see what is happening there, what interesting work you are doing, and exchange energy. Energy exchange for them is the key to life.

20:02 Energy vision.

Alexander: In this regard, the question is about the colored pulsations of light and flashes that participants see during breathing and practice. Could this just be the presence of these subtle civilizations, or could there be something else?

Irina: This could be the presence of subtle civilizations, or it could be a vision of their aura. They can see the aura of themselves or the person sitting next to them.

Alexander: Some people ask the question: maybe these are codes, they need to be counted, decrypted, downloaded?

Irina: This is a spontaneous manifestation of energetic vision, I would call it that. Energy vision abilities.

20:58 Awareness in the Astral.

Alexander: Also, during practice, while breathing through the centers, some participants experience a blackout for a few seconds, such a failure, and they return again to a state of consciousness and either notice that they were in a state of breathlessness for some time, or the body continues to breathe, and the state of consciousness has returned. What could this be, what is it connected with, what is happening at this moment?

Irina: Involuntary access to the Astral is a separation of the astral body, but the person does not remember, he has no awareness. If you concentrate at this moment on your astral body, not on your physical one, and mentally create for yourself the image that you are going out into the Astral, then this can be done consciously. See your body from the outside and travel in the Astral.

Alexander: For this, probably, practice is needed to realize that a person entered the astral body and saw it?

Irina: If he has lost awareness and does not remember anything, then he does not have the skill to maintain awareness.

Do you remember how you felt before you fell asleep? How do you feel before falling asleep? This is your state before entering the Astral. If you wait until your body falls asleep, but at the same time retain consciousness in your mind, then you will come out consciously. Of course, this will be an altered state of consciousness, because in the Astral the world is not linear, for the perception of which the left hemisphere of the brain is responsible. There is a world based on images. Therefore, the state of consciousness there is changed. However, this is deliberate. The person will remember where he is, what his name is, that he is outside the body.

He will have concentration on the Astral. Perhaps he will not say the date in which he came out or anything else, because for this he needs to turn on the linear memory, which manifests through the left hemisphere of the brain, which will bring him to consciousness, and he will return to the body.

But, for example, I am now in the Astral (Mid). My body is at the base, on Earth, and I am in the Astral. You can ask me about different things, I give answers, and this suggests that I have already gone into the Astral many times and am, although in an altered state of consciousness, but I understand what is happening. An altered state of consciousness does not prevent me from understanding the meaning of questions and giving answers.

Alexander: I see. Thank you!

24:28 Conscious access to the Astral.

Alexander: As far as I know, one of the practices of entering the conscious Astral is also connected with Pranayama, with breathing. This is when you relax, lying in the state of Shavasana, you begin to feel the entire volume of your body, how it breathes, and consciousness moves into the feeling of your pranic subtle body, separated from the physical.

Irina: When I was fifteen years old, Kirchiton gave me this method. When I asked him to teach me how to consciously go into the Astral, he gave me a method related to breathing.

Alexander: Is it similar to what I just described?

Irina: There you had to breathe alternately with the muscles of the chest and abdomen, lie on your back, relax. You had to hold your breath for a certain number of heartbeats for one breath and then exhale. He told me: “Don’t think about anything extraneous.” The concentration of thought is on breathing, and extraneous thoughts that come on another topic, you simply record its presence, but with the next exhalation you seem to exhale it into space, create an image that this thought is such a cloud, and you exhale it.

Gradually you develop a state: you stop noticing that you are lying somewhere, in some space, i.e. in the room. A vision appears as if you are in a field of white Light. Then, when you inhale this white Light and hold your breath, you feel as if you are inhaling White Light. It spreads throughout the body, such an expansion, and you want to sleep a little.

It is important to maintain consciousness here, because the change in consciousness occurs like half-asleep. If you miss this moment, the person will fall asleep and will not remember the exit. And you need to concentrate on breathing so that your mind is busy with work and does not fall asleep after a few minutes.

Usually it doesn't happen right away. He told me to do this every day for 30-40 minutes, at the same time. I was 15 years old then. He said that gradually I would have a spontaneous exit, because the reflex of the astral body to separate would work as soon as the body and the biocurrents of the brain entered a certain state. I got out on the fifth day. I felt Light, relaxation, absence of thoughts. You feel as if you are floating somewhere. And then I felt as if someone was lifting me in my arms. A smooth rise, I opened my eyes, looked at what was happening, and saw that the ceiling was very close to me. I turned back and saw my body. This was on the fifth day.

Alexander: Irina, didn't you remember the number, duration of breaths, how many beats to exhale and hold after inhalation, didn't you remember how many beats to count?

Irina: He told me that there should be an increasing holding of breath. First inhale for one heartbeat, hold for one heartbeat and exhale for one heartbeat. First with the chest, then with the stomach. Then the same thing for two. This should be equal to inhale, exhale, and hold your breath. By two, then by three, then by four, you can increase it as much as you want, but for now you are comfortable.

If holding your breath is difficult, and you feel that it is causing tension in you, then it will not cause release. You need to go back one step and do as much time as you feel comfortable doing the exercise. Usually 30 minutes, I set the alarm.

When I flew to the Astral and saw my body, I was so happy. I looked at him, then I thought, Kirchiton was explaining to me how to control the astral body. We speak mentally, you need to think where you want, up, down, to the side - send thoughts. I thought I wanted to fly up, went through the ceiling and began to rise up. I looked at the street from above, and then I saw balls that flew up to me. They were reasonable. We started playing with them, like leading a round dance. And then I woke up and opened my eyes in my body. Maybe about an hour passed, but I didn't hear the alarm clock. I got up, and the first thing I felt, although the room was warm, was cold, as if you were taken outside in the cold season in light clothes. I went to drink tea. My mother was there, and I told her that I left my body. She told me that I dreamed it. You, he says, fell asleep and dreamed about it.

31:23 Heat exchange when entering the Astral.

Alexander: Question in connection with this. Some participants feel hot and some feel cold, while doing the practice at the same time. Some feel cold, they wrap themselves in a blanket, and some feel hot, they feel the heat in their palms. Is it individual?

Irina: Heat or warmth is when you go out, when you breathe, and when I came back, I was cold at first, and then it was normal, this feeling went away.

Alexander: Is this not connected with the fact that someone gets, for example, high up, and there is cold energy, and someone gets to some level, and there is hot energy?

Irina: (Mead smiles) This is due to the fact that when a person is in the Astral, or when a person is sleeping, his heartbeat and breathing slow down, his blood flow slows down, so his body cools down. By the way, this also happens in a dream. People most often sleep under a blanket, even in a warm room. It's not for nothing that it's customary to cover yourself with something so as not to freeze while you sleep. Because people have already noticed for a long time.

Have you ever asked why in a warm room, when you are awake, you do not put a blanket on yourself, and when you go to bed, you need to cover yourself with something? This is not just like that, it is connected with human physiology. If he sleeps without covering himself, he may wake up feeling cold. Slowing blood flow will cool the body. It will be unpleasant for him, and his astral body may return out of self-preservation instinct, and he will wake up in the middle of the night. This was uncomfortable for many people, so they came up with the idea of covering themselves with a blanket at night.

33:44 Breathing practice "Breath of Fire" by Alexander Guts.

Alexander: Thank you! I will now describe my practice in detail, and Mead will be able to tell us what we do in general. Maybe he is familiar with this or can add something, how to strengthen it, make it more effective, because I am constantly developing it, bringing in some points.

The practice consists of active rhythmic breathing with the stomach: inhale-exhale, also called "Breath of Fire". It is quite intense, and I added a little bit of my own moment, i.e. I made my breathing frequent and shallow, and after each inhalation and exhalation I added a small micropause. It turns out: breathing is present, we saturate ourselves with Prana, and it turns out that consciousness notices the state of stopping, the state of the internal witness.

Thus, we breathe for one and a half to two minutes, then exhale, hold our breath, concentrate on the first center for 15-20 seconds, take a conscious breath along the spine as long as possible to the 7th center, hold our breath, also for 15-20 seconds, as long as possible . At this moment, we visualize an energy channel extending into infinity, exhale upward along it, inhale from above, along the channel, and exhale into the first center. We sit in a relaxed state for some time. Again we repeat rhythmic breathing with the belly, but before each breath we concentrate on the center. For example, this was the first center, and we declare our intention. I also brought in that we activate the first center to achieve ideal purity and luminosity, so that the first center works, all the rays shine for our benefit. Then breathing occurs, inhaling along the spine, exhaling into infinity, inhaling from there, exhaling into the first center, and everything repeats.

Expressing intention to the second center, some concentration, centering of consciousness, breathing - inhale, exhale, hold. And so the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, we grab the eighth at the level of an outstretched arm, imagine a crystal-star there, consciousness is already leaving, is in the spiritual channel, receiving cosmic energies.

After breathing, when we breathe into the eighth center, we express the intention: the subtle plane or my Higher Self, or my curators, the Angels, we ask you to raise my point of consciousness as high as possible, into clear space. Such an ascent occurs, many see the Light, a clean, light space, and we begin to simply breathe calmly, accepting this Light, this state, filling ourselves with it.

This is how practice happens. The whole process lasts about an hour and a half, because we gradually center ourselves, for example, on the first center. By the way, a question about this. I approach things differently. Sometimes I ask you to comprehend or realize that the first center is a certain crystal, and then it is easier for consciousness to center on this point. Sometimes - feel the thermal sun, or visualize a red sun with four rays - this is the first center.

Which method is better to use, or does it also depend on the individual? Also a question: when we then rise in the channel, do we express our intention, where do we rise, how high, or do we actually reach the space of the Creator, the Absolute? Many participants say that we have soared so high that the Light is flowing and dissolving into the infinite Light.

Irina: I'll explain. Yes, this is a very good practice, based on the activation of energy centers, filling all energy fields of the aura with spiritual Light, plus concentration on your energy, on your body.

The only thing is that an hour and a half is quite a lot for a modern person. I think the optimal time would be no more than 45 minutes, if possible, because that would be more accessible to most people. According to many people I have met, not everyone can afford to spend an hour and a half sitting in a certain position and breathing in the world in which you live, in your reality.

For practitioners who are seriously engaged in development in this particular practice, in this ideology, this is already the best option for those who have just arrived; they can be reduced to definitely softer indicators.

40:02 Mead on breathing practices for children.

Irina: I would like to say something about children. Children can also do the practice from the age of seven or eight. But until the age of 14, their practice should not exceed 20-30 minutes, and then gradually, after 14 years, bring it into line with adults. Don't give him this watch right away. He will simply be disappointed; the nervous system of children is structured differently. Teenagers have a hormonal cocktail in their blood, which encourages them to move a lot, so it is necessary to take into account the psychophysiological characteristics of people's age and, in accordance with this, give practice. It is indicated for both children and adults; there are absolutely no contraindications.

41:10 Features and effectiveness of Gutz's breathing practice.

Irina: But everything should be optional. Second: the person must be in a state of sober consciousness, without mind-altering substances that impair control and give unpredictable consequences, especially for a person who is not experienced in communicating with subtle entities. Also, at this moment, a person should not have any acute pain or fever, which also affects his consciousness. Breathing practice, especially long-term, at this moment can contribute to the deterioration of the condition, because there will be an exacerbation. This is about practice.

As for its effectiveness. Yes, it is quite effective for clearing energy centers of blocks and for accessing the Higher Self. When you say that he has flown away to a certain state, to the Creator, we call this dissolution in the inner Light, there is a connection with the Higher Self. The Higher Self is and there is a part of the Creator. If everything is done correctly, then, when you come out, you can even ask questions to the Higher Self.

Alexander: We haven't asked any questions yet.

Irina: Yes, but only when you come out, you first need to greet your Higher Self. Saying: "I greet you, my Higher Self," you can mentally ask the most important question that worries a person. The answer will come mentally, through the spiritual channel. I definitely need to thank you for the answer.

Alexander: We thank everyone, we thank in advance the higher powers that work with us, because according to the sensations and the field that is happening, it feels like they are coming, helping and working. In this state, we practice saying affirmations like "I am the Light, I am the creator of my life," or "My world loves and cares for me," or "I am the creator of abundance in my life." On this pure state we impose sublime vibrations for our lives. This is what we practice.

Irina: Yes, the affirmations that you pronounce are tuning yourself to high vibrations, to pure high vibrations through words. A word is a certain sound plus a thought form.

Alexander: Here I would also like to clarify what maximum delay is recommended after rhythmic breathing on exhalation and inhalation? I recommend doing the maximum delay, but in a comfortable mode, so that there is no fussy, sharp inhalation, so that after the delay, consciously, gently inhale to the 7th center and also hold there, without convulsive exhalation or until inhalation.

Irina: This should be individual for everyone, because each person has an individual breathing rhythm, which is regulated by the medulla oblongata depending on the content of oxygen, carbon dioxide in the blood, blood acidity, and many indicators. It also depends on body weight, on such an indicator as blood hematocrit (blood thickness), for example, and the content of various substances in the blood. This is about physical indicators.

Breathing also depends on the state of the Soul, the state of the psyche, so for some it will be comfortable to hold their breath for a certain time, but for others it will not. This is an individual question. For some, 5 seconds will seem enough, for others, 15 seconds, for others, 7. Of course, as a teacher, as a lecturer, willy-nilly or not, adapting to the audience, you were guided by something in between, probably for adult earthlings around 7 seconds.

Alexander: Also a question that can be clarified. Also vary from lesson to lesson the concentration on the center, for example, either on a crystal (we give an idea), or on the thermal sun, or is there some more effective way for those who cannot see yet? I recommend centering on the sensation, that is, on the heat point that is felt when centering, and the buzzing, buzzing of energy in this place, in this area, is enough.

Irina: I remember that in groups we also carried out various practices with inhalation, breath-holding, exhalation. By the way, Alexander, I have a feeling that this is not for entering the Astral, but simply for controlling breathing.

I had sensations literally after 2-3 breaths, if they were rhythmic, uniform, and I concentrated on them. I didn't have a sensation at any specific point, but one could say that I felt my entire body from the tips of my fingers and toes to my head. And around him I feel an invisible but strong energy shell spreading. How can I comment on these sensations?

Alexander: When attention is focused on breathing, on the entire volume of the body, when the contour of the body is felt, and there is a buzzing of the shell, we then use this before entering practice to access the subtle perception of consciousness. I suggest we remember that Prana surrounds us inside and outside, like a spatial golden Light. Let us breathe and fill our etheric body, and then expand wider, wider, wider to begin to feel our subtle vibrations.

Irina: If I continue, this shell will expand. I will begin to sense objects around me, as if to look. I will feel myself as consciousness, which is everything. It's as if every point in space is filled with this energy, and I immediately see it in volume. That's pretty much how it feels.

Alexander: Yes, interesting. We just haven't expanded to this point, we then move on to focusing on the centers.

Irina: This happens quite quickly for me, within a minute I already have such sensations. I was interested myself. Then MidgasCaus told me: "This is simply from increasing your sensitivity to the energy of space and merging your etheric shell with the ethereal fields around you, so you feel the fusion." He said that these are completely normal sensations, but how are you?

Alexander: The feeling of expansion, the feeling of decompression of the physical body is the feeling of protection in this breath, some dense energies, they are dissolved by this expansion, and then it is very easy to enter the state of meditation necessary for practice.

Irina: What's most interesting is that you feel like you're not a body, but a field, and such a round shape, a ball. You simultaneously feel the space behind you, above your head. This is such a ball, you are in space, and your body is like a small grain in this ball. Interesting?

Alexander: Yes, it's interesting, because I use practice - several exercises so that people come home from work, enter a state, and then start breathing.

Irina: Do they all have this feeling?

Alexander: I think many do. Our people are mostly trained people who have already been somewhere.

Irina: I mean, did they say something like that?

Alexander: Yes, they do. I have reports in writing that there is an expansion of the field, an expansion of consciousness, dissolution, that one does not feel one's body, or vice versa. How amazing. Previously, we thought that meditation was about flying somewhere, but here the presence of the body is felt. We can also rise freely in our consciousness without the physical body interfering.

Irina: (Mead) Yes, indeed, this is simply a certain increase in the etheric field and its merging with the surrounding etheric fields, therefore it is felt in the shape of a ball. This is a completely normal sensation, and a similar state can be felt. For example, you stand on the bank of a river, look at nature, you breathe normally, but you just concentrate, this is called contemplation. You contemplate nature and you have the feeling that you are one with it. Similar conditions. This is a completely normal feeling for people.

Alexander: Thank you for this moment of clarification.

53:13 Mead's recommendations for breathing and concentration.

Irina: Only people are not used to concentrating their thoughts for a long time on the world around them, on its features, on their breathing. People are more busy with their own affairs, problems, certain miscalculations of their future, and planning.

In order to feel all this, you need to relax, be alone with yourself, be alone with nature, try to listen to the rhythm of your natural breathing, let it go, listen from the outside just to the sounds of your own body breathing.

What does it mean? You just close your eyes, relax and just allow your body to breathe at its own rhythm, and notice to yourself when it inhales and when it exhales. Trying to dissolve in this breath means letting go of all thoughts and consciously concentrating on the sensations that change when the air enters and leaves you. This will exactly cause the state that Irina is talking about.

Every person can do this. If people didn't feel all this, it was only because you were concentrating on something else, on your thoughts. Some people live more in the past, remembering the past. It's good if these are happy moments from the past, thereby raising their vibrations, but it happens that they concentrate on negative moments, thereby lowering their vibrations. Someone lives in the future, building dreams, imagining themselves in fantasies.

Someone lives in dreams that we call impossible, they just came up with something and are in this state. After all, this is a certain thought form that requires constant maintenance. And you will return to the present at least for one hour a day, to the present moment. Feel the breath of space and synchronize the rhythm of your breathing with the rhythm of space, and you will feel like a particle of this huge Universe, among which the Earth is only a small ball, and you will feel your consciousness as a flow of the infinite Spirit, which manifests itself in all people and in all aliens in a special way.

Alexander: Thank you, very interesting. And a couple more points that I would also like to reflect. In practice, as a preparatory stage, I use a practice that in yoga is called the key to a higher state, the highest path. This is when attention is directed to our spinal column, feeling or visualizing that it is an energy channel and that it does not end at the spine. It goes up into infinity, to higher centers, and goes down, centered in the center of the Earth. I suggest you imagine, remember or draw this image, and feel your channel, how the energy runs through it, and feel it. It is believed, but it is true, that when attention is immersed in the spinal column, this state of calm, relaxation, energy that left, dissipated, returns and begins to be realized.

Irina: What is the question?

Alexander: But the question was not born.

Irina: Mead agrees: “Good practice,” he says.

57:44 Mead on breathing practices on Esler.

Alexander: He practiced something similar, right?

Irina: I didn’t practice. We have breathing practices at Esler, but they are no longer associated with the representation of chakras or the spiritual channel, but with thought forms, ideas that we can exhale or inhale, fill space with them, and build certain worlds. With each exhalation, we, for example, can exhale the word “Light” and imagine how this Light flew out of the body in the form of the Sun and (like a puzzle) fit into the picture of the world.

As we inhale, we concentrate on the top of the head and visualize the strengthening of the spiritual channel, as if opening a water tap more.

Alexander: Visualization of this infinite channel opens this tap.

Irina: You visualize how, for example, it was narrow. At the moment of inhalation, you visualize how it expands, and at the same time visualize a stream of white energy that enters your spiritual heart, which is located in the middle of earthlings' two lungs. The physical heart is in the middle of two lungs, and the spiritual heart is, as it were, in its center. We imagine that we have inhaled Light, only we inhale it from the top of our heads. He descends into the spiritual heart and takes the form of the Sun there. When we exhale, we exhale this Sun into space, usually through the third eye, what you call, through the energy center responsible for the functioning of the brain, which is located in the 6th energy center in people.

We exhale and mentally imagine how this Sun flew out through the third eye. We imagine that all the space is occupied by such puzzles, where the Sun rises. We are putting together a puzzle. We charge space with high energies. We cleanse it of all the negativity that is here.

Scientists of the Interstellar Union conducted a study long ago that recorded the following. If 10 people in a locality do this practice simultaneously in the morning at sunrise and in the evening at sunset, filling the space for at least 15 minutes at sunrise and sunset, they are able to change the spiritual vibrations of the space that is affected by 100 negative people.

In this space, the number of crimes, the number of exacerbations of diseases, the number of accidents, and natural disasters decreased. These studies were carried out by our scientists, and I would like to invite Earth scientists to conduct the same study with certain populated areas. Fix a time, for example, one month with an equal number of people, in one a certain group of people will carry out these practices, and in the other they will not, and so that they are at a distance of at least 100 km from each other. You will see what the results will be.

Alexander: It's interesting, because at the end of the breathing practice, when we fly up there, we then express our intention, ask the Creator, the Source, to give us such a flow for the Earth to direct goodness into the world, Love, and imagine how we embrace the Light .

Irina: Dear friends, dear viewers, if you live in a family and your family supports your activity, including watching this video now, try doing this practice. Not necessarily right at sunrise, but preferably no later than two hours after sunrise. It will be earlier in the summer. The Sun at this moment has a special etheric force, which it directs to the Earth, and enhances these sensations. Feelings and impact of your Light on space.

At sunset it is possible both at sunset itself and no later than two hours after it. This will contribute, as they used to say, to the conduction of the Sun. This kind of space is also created when a special etheric force helps the effect of this exercise.

Try doing this for a month and see how much the space on your entire street, or even in the city, changes. And how things will change there. This is especially useful to do during periods of any cataclysms, natural disasters or military operations.

Alexander: We just have a treasure trove of practices on air today.

1:04:53 Participation in the practice of spiritual forces and phantoms.

Alexander: I have another question that interests many guys. Since I am conducting a practice, the question naturally arises: who supervises me, supports me on the subtle spiritual plane? In practice I call upon Angels, Archangels, the energies of the Creator, the energies of transition. Maybe there is a feeling to count in more detail, tell, or as it is.

Irina: If you use thought forms during breathing practices, you integrate them into the space of both the world and your aura, and increase the likelihood of their materialization.

And you send an invitation to these forces into space.

Alexander: At the beginning of practice we do this. We also invite phantoms of our relatives, whom we consider necessary to invite to cleanse the energy, or for health. I invite, for example, my dad to support me energetically. I mentally invite you to the field, let's breathe for your benefit. And we also feel that the field is expanding at this moment, that yes, someone has come, strength has come, energy has come to practice with us.

Irina: Interesting. Breath of a phantom, yes. He feels the energy that when you invite the phantom, you are sending (mentally) an invitation to his Higher Self. The Higher Self creates the phantom. It is in the Spiritual World, it can create a phantom. This is an energy double that will come to you and will be in this space. This does not mean that he will breathe, he does not have a body to breathe like you, but he can breathe energy, pass certain energy waves through himself.

Alexander: Yes, and recharge with Prana for your health.

Irina: I thank you for watching this video. I hope you found it interesting. Very interesting questions, Alexander, thank you.

1:07:49 Mead about the breathing of the Universe.

Irina: (Mead speaking) I also thank you, Alexander, for very interesting, necessary and useful questions for all people.

Indeed, the Universe has its own breathing rhythm, it is called the breath of the Universe. In Hindu legends this is referred to as the breath of Brahma. The breath of Brahma, through which millions of worlds inhale and exhale. Brahma is understood here as the first matter from which, through the work of many plasmoids, denser worlds, including the physical one, were formed.

The breathing rhythm of the Universe constitutes entire epochs, or, as they say on Earth, manvantara, in which the Spirit is embodied. And here, when we pay attention to the breathing of our body, we be sure to remember that our body is a small microanalogue of the Universe, that is, a microcosm, this is an analogue of the macrocosm.

Therefore, we remember that in our body there are also millions of worlds, millions of planets, galaxies, only we call them cells and organs. And just as God fills the Universe with his energy, so our Spirit fills this body with its consciousness. When we breathe, we always remember about the spiritual component, about the fact that we inhale not only oxygen, but also energy. Plus also the oxygen, nitrogen and other gases that we inhale, they also consist of energy.

In any case, we breathe in divine energies. Every breath we take is a divine gift for life in this body and for us to do good, create our future in the light of Love.

Alexander: Mead said that at the same time the Creator fills us with consciousness, and we become, due to the awareness that we breathe Prana, more aware and perceptive of this energy.

Irina: By the way, Alexander, he and I congratulate you on the Feast of the Annunciation.

Alexander: Thank you, mutually.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) I wish that the good news comes to each of you from the Higher Self. And brings with it that Light of Love that will illuminate the path of even the darkest path. Because darkness exists nowhere except in your mind, created by your illusions. He wants us to receive Light from the Higher Self that will dispel these illusions.

Darkness is like an illusion, and Light is like true space, true reality.

Alexander: We accept and invite this Light. Thank you.

Irina: So, dear friends, thank you for being with us, for supporting our project. We thank the teachers of the Sacral school, including Alexander. See you again, friends.

00:04 News of the Cassiopeia project. Presentation of participants.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello everyone. I'm starting the broadcast again. Today we have a very interesting broadcast with Juna. She is next to us.

Due to the fact that the Cassiopeia Project has a huge amount of news, I want to start the broadcast with the news that would be of interest to you. The most important news is a visiting event of the Cassiopeia health center with masters, with Irina Podzorova, in Moscow. We will be in Moscow from May 14 to 22.

What is going to be there? A doctor of the highest category, Nadezhda Viktorovna Merenkova, will be seen at Oberon. She will look at your physical body and determine ailments by testing on Oberon. Nadezhda Viktorovna is not only a highly qualified doctor, she is a contactee with St. Luke.

Yulia Kulagina, a wonderful specialist, is coming with us. Yulia not only does bioenergy massage, she uses a new technology that we have developed in our center - this is access to the Higher Self through bioenergy massage. A very interesting procedure. As I say: “Whoever is not interested, and who cannot get to the Higher Self in a simple way, can turn to Yulia for a bioenergy massage.” Due to biocurrents and breaking up physical blocks, it helps to reach the Higher Self.

Our wonderful specialist Alexey, a visceral therapist, is coming with us. He is also an internal chiropractor. Alexey “sees” your internal organs with his hands and can tell what is happening to them and how to restore them. During the massage, he restores your internal organs.

We have a large number of reviews about Yulia and Alexey. We are waiting for you from May 14 to 22 in Moscow. At the request of many people.

From May 16 to 19 there will be a three-day training with Irina Podzorova in Moscow. She will tell you what the Higher Self is and how to get to it. There will be a wonderful conference with representatives of the Interstellar Union. They will answer your questions, all questions after training.

People often ask: “How to sign up?” The link is below this video. Just in case, for those who do not know how to use links, I will give you the phone number: +7 (988) 910 00 40. Specialist Elena. She will tell you how you can sign up with specialists, how you can get to a conference, or training with Irina. You can find out all the information by phone and via the link located under this video.

We are closing enrollment for the Turkish retreat. We organized the Turkish retreat for residents of Europe, because they cannot come to Russia. They were unable to attend our retreats, which we held on the territory of the Russian Federation.

We have a retreat for residents of Europe.

Contents of the retreat. Training in contact with the Higher Self, curators and mentors, building contact with them. There will be practices and meditations, including morning meditations on the rising Sun on the seashore. Morning classes, training in cosmoenergetics, initiation into cosmoenergetics. Evening sessions of cosmohealing. These are health sessions conducted by a wonderful specialist - Guzel Malyarova. They will be on a Turkish retreat. You will be given a lot of attention.

What is included in the price of the retreat? Travel, accommodation, meals and training. You can come to the retreat with your relatives, friends, comrades, who will not participate in the retreat, but will relax. We booked a stay at the hotel a long time ago; it costs 400 euros.

What does 400 euros include? Meals, accommodation, all our field trips. Additionally: participation in the retreat and flights. 7-day retreat.

All information is below this video. There is a great link to the entire event. I'll be honest: for 400 euros in Dalaman it is no longer possible to find a hotel with meals, accommodation, excursions and transfers. While you have the opportunity, you can come yourself, take part in the retreat and bring friends with you, who for 400 euros (without flights) will be able to relax and spend time next to you.

Although there is a link, I will once again give you a phone number where you can call, reserve, inquire, consult. +7 910 281 50 81. Name is Evgeniy. Evgeniy will advise you and give you feedback on the Turkish retreat.

There is also one more wonderful news. I want to intrigue you with a new release that will be out soon. Irina resumed her contacts. She was on the Outlaw Planet.

There is such a planet in the Interstellar Union. I broadcast: at one in the morning I asked Irina about what was happening there, how criminals get there, how they behave. You will learn about this later. Follow our broadcasts and the information provided on our channel.

In order not to miss information on our channel, you can subscribe and you will receive notifications. Be sure to subscribe and like.

Yes, I understand that you are already tired of me at the beginning of the live broadcasts, but forgive the head of the Cassiopeia project, who is trying to tell you very interesting information about the project's plans, on-site events and much more. Bear with me for a moment at the beginning of the live broadcasts. Next, you will have the opportunity to ask questions.

I would like to remind you that you can ask questions for the live broadcast in the Telegram chat. The chat is in the attached link. In this chat I will only read questions from this chat. Why? Because this chat and this broadcast are not only on YouTube. In order to collect and compile all the questions of this broadcast, we created a Telegram chat.

You can find this chat in the pinned message, go to the Telegram chat and ask your questions there. I hope I took a little time? 10 minutes. Thank you all for your patience in putting up with me on air. I understand that not everyone likes me on air, but there is no other option: one of my tasks is positioning and developing the project, conveying information to people.

The little star that sits next to it is, as many will say, the “Batch Gold” that I found on our planet. I give the floor to our “Gold Party”. Irishenka, have a seat. I'll adjust the camera for you a little, a little lower.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Congratulations on the Spring and Labor Day. We congratulate you. Our broadcasts this year fall on some holiday.

Maxim: Even contactee releases of groups fall on some holidays.

Irina: Greetings to everyone who was with us today at Ashtar on the ship in the Astral. Hi all! And whoever hasn’t been yet, I invite you to try it, like the other practices of the Cassiopeia project. There are quite a lot of them. You can find them by following the chat link, for example, the Cassiopeia community.

Maxim: By the way, guys, if anyone wants to know about our project, what subprojects it has, under this video, below, there are links to all our projects. Study what we wrote under the video, and you will find all our projects: cosmohealing, cosmoenergetics, flights to Ashtar Sheran, classes, sessions with the Galactic Federation of Light.

We have a huge number of interesting projects for you. I would like to remind you once again that all spiritual knowledge in the Cassiopeia project can only be according to the heart. The Cassiopeia project does not set any prices for spiritual knowledge.

Irina: Yes, indeed. Today we have with us our curator, a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in astral interaction LiShioni. He helped the Spirit of Juna come.

Today the disembodied Spirit of Juna Davitashvili is present with us and will answer questions. She was known by this name in her last incarnation.

She knows very well what television, the Internet, and live broadcasts are and says: “I welcome you all and am ready to answer questions.”

Maxim: Juna, I greet you. How would you like me to address you, ask you questions?

Irina: You can “Evgeniya”, “Juna” or “Zhenya”.

Maxim: Evgenia?

Irina: This name was given at birth. "Juna" is a spiritual name.

13:09 Jun about spiritual levels and tasks of incarnation.

Maxim: I understand. Then I will address you as “Juna”, because I am used to and remember you as “Juna”.

Tell me, please, from what level did you incarnate on this planet?

Irina: According to the teachings of the Interstellar Union, which LiSioni and my curators-mentors told me about - from the eighteenth, “Guardian Angel”.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what level did you go to?

Irina: On the seventh.

Maxim: On the seventh?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what led you to such a big drop, from the eighteenth to the seventh level?

Irina: I have not completed my life’s task of developing patience, humility and the ability not to grumble in difficulties and to endure trials. I accumulated in myself a lot of energy of despondency, sadness and murmuring against God for not helping me in my troubles.

Although there was a moment when I came out of incarnation, I looked, analyzing my life, that I could have come out of incarnation earlier. Then there was even more despondency, then I would have ended up in fifth place. But in a few years I increased my level to seventh. Why exactly on the seventh? Because she really loved nature, the Spirits of nature, and drew them (shows how she draws).

Maxim: It's not so bad?

Irina: Yes, because of despondency (says Juna), anger at herself, anger at the world (she was angry at the world). Created blocks. You call it "blocks".

Maxim: Thank you. Tell me, please, where were you incarnated before coming to Earth?

Irina: I was incarnated on the planet Esler.

Maxim: On our beloved planet Esler.

Irina: I was a man, his name was Ol'Stakr. He was a member of the Planetary Management Council of sixty Eslerites. Like a ruler.

Maxim: When you were planning your incarnation on Earth, did you choose healing abilities, a gift?

Irina: (Smiles) I was a "Guardian Angel" at that moment. I had one of my life tasks - like any Angel - healing the Souls of people. Heal, bring to Light.

I began to develop the gift of healing in order to heal the human body. This did not contradict my task. But she was not the main one. The main thing was the development of patience, humility and acceptance of the world as it is, even if it causes suffering. Temporary ego suffering. My task was to learn to always remember that you are an eternal Spirit and are not subject to suffering.

Maxim: Didn't you complete your task?

Irina: Yes, I did my job well when I had many friends, admirers, and everyone loved me. When I faced trouble, I couldn't accept it and lowered my vibrations. I even wanted to commit suicide. Depression (shows).

Maxim: Everything is serious. Please tell me, did you have any physical flights when you were on Earth? Real, real physical flights to any planets?

Irina: There were no physical ones. Astral contacts.

Maxim: Please tell us what kind of astral contact is and who you contacted?

Irina: I contacted the planet Esler, the planet Burkhad. Twice as a child and once as an adult. I only came into contact with Burkhadians three times (shows them). It matched the vibrations of the Angels, plasmoids from the Pleiades and Alpha Cygnus, and earthly plasmoids. Plasmoids from the Pleiades came later. When I began to treat, they joined.

18:55 Juna about her ability to heal.

Maxim: Next question.

Guys, I have already formulated your questions. I view some in the Q&A chat, live broadcast. I can see everything perfectly. I have already written down many of your questions, don't worry, I will try to ask them on this broadcast.

Tell me, please, who passed on the knowledge of healing to you, and when did you begin to heal and understand that someone was passing it on?

Irina: This happened in childhood, in preschool age (shows a girl about six years old). When one of my relatives was sick: dad, mom, brothers or sister, I, as an embodied Guardian Angel, wanted to relieve their pain so that they would feel better.

I had compassion. When I looked at the suffering person, I felt the same as he did. This is from childhood. All Angels who have incarnated from angelic levels have this feature. They often, even when they are in the body, still perceive the suffering of others as their own.

So I thought about how to help them. My, as you say, disembodied part of the Spirit, the Higher Self, told me that I could transmit energy. In the beginning it was only the Higher Self. I can transfer energy, strength for restoration, to remove pain. Intuition, in childhood.

Maxim: On an intuitive level.

Irina: I wanted to. And when, once again, dad's back hurt (showing radiculitis), I wanted to go up to him and stroke his back. It was as if I was removing something black, some kind of film. I didn't see her physically, there was a "screen" inside. Then I thought that everyone saw it that way, I even told the children.

Maxim: I see, it reminds me of something. My mental images as a child.

Irina: Also film?

Maxim: Not a film, but a lot of interesting things.

Irina: I couldn't remove it physically, with my hands, I even got angry. I felt that she was bothering him, but I didn't understand that you couldn't remove her with your physical hands.

A friend of mine came to see me, who has been coming for as long as I can remember. I later found out that he is from the planet Esler. I called him "star friend". He approached in the Astral and said mentally: "Zhenya, you won't remove it like that. Imagine that Light is coming from your hands." He began to teach me.

Maxim: Since childhood?

Irina: Yes. His name was AlKotr.

Maxim: Have you told anyone that you have a star friend?

Irina: He introduced himself when I became older. And as a child, he said that he came from the stars, and that I lived on his planet. He didn't say, "On the planet." He said: "I live on one of the stars." I didn't know the word "planet".

Maxim: Have you told anyone about interstellar friends?

Irina: Yes, I told my mother, but this story scared her. She waved it off: "Shut up, I don't want to listen to this!" Then I told my dad. He believed it and asked not to tell anyone so that they wouldn't laugh.

23:15 Jun about sensations at different levels of the Spiritual world.

Maxim: I understand. Juna, people are asking: you were at level eighteen, what is it like to be at level seven now?

Irina: The seventh is considered one of the middle levels, because there is no darkness here that demons have. Of course, there is no such Light as that of Angels at the eighteenth level.

There is a variety of nature here. What I do is paint landscapes, not with a brush on canvas, but in space. Of course, I want to return to the angelic world to gain more strength and ability to help others. As your level increases, your ability to manage your own energy increases.

That's why I want to incarnate again. But I will not do this before the Spirit of Vaho wants, because I want to go with him to incarnation. I want to come to an agreement with him. We are now selecting options for how we can incarnate, at least with a difference of no more than five years, in the same family.

24:42 Juna about his adopted son Vaho and his own daughter. Juna about his personal life.

Maxim: Interesting question: did you meet your son there?

Irina: Yes, he is now at level nine.

Maxim: What level did he come from?

Irina: The twelfth.

Maxim: And “fell” on the ninth?

Irina: He had his own development tasks. Here each Spirit can share their story - why they upgraded and downgraded as they wished. He said that he had the task of developing Love, harmony and peacemaking, that is, reconciling other people.

But he didn’t have time to do this (says Juna). He said that he did not have enough will to be able to develop Love in himself. To develop Love, you must be a strong, purposeful person. And he was afraid to be left without me.

Maxim: Please tell me, what happened to your son in this incarnation?

Irina: (Shows a picture of a car accident, he died from the consequences). Two months have not passed. He left the hospital, the doctors were against it: he had a fracture, brain injury and spinal damage.

(Shows: the ribs were damaged, the collarbone and the arm). I offered him my help as a healer and said that I would help him recover.

I helped him recover, but what happened still happened. He has already begun to walk and leave the house. But the heart could not stand it: the pressure dropped - not a heart attack - vascular shock. From brain injury. He had an accumulation of blood (shows).

Maxim: That is, your son was not killed.

Irina: I said that he was killed because I thought (shows) that he should not have gone to the bathhouse with his friends. After the bath he felt bad (connects to that part of the memory). He died maybe a few days later. Three days have passed. I then thought that the bath made him feel bad. That’s why she said that he was killed by putting stress on his body. They answered: “He is an adult, you care about him too much, he decided on his own.”

In the Spiritual world, he came to me and said that he did not die from the bath. His mentors took him out of incarnation because he began to lower his vibrations and did not fulfill life's tasks.

Maxim: Please tell me, there is an opinion that Vakhtang is not his own son. This is true?

Irina: Kindred in spirit.

Maxim: Vakhtang is not your own son?

Irina: By blood - native. He is my nephew.

Maxim: Nephew from whom?

Irina: From my brother.

Maxim: What happened to your brother?

Irina: Nothing. He had many children in his family, and he agreed to give me the boy. When he was little. Vakhtang did not know about this until he came out of incarnation.

Maxim: Vakhtang didn't know about this?

Irina: No. He suspected, his relatives told him. I didn't tell him.

Maxim: Interesting. Tell me, please, why didn't you have your own children?

Irina: I had a daughter, a very long time ago. She died when she was not even two months old, in her sleep. This was back in the Krasnodar region.

Maxim: Who was the dad?

Irina: I don't know him, some Alexey (shows, with a mustache).

Maxim: Not an artist?

Irina: No. He lived in the same locality where I grew up.

Maxim: How interesting. Question: is it true that Juna was a witch during her lifetime? Did you consider yourself a witch, Juna?

Irina: They called me that since childhood (Juna says) because I tried to treat my father. I told you that I was filming “black film”. Then I imagined (as the curator from Esler said) that Light was coming from the fingers, and I had to shoot with this Light. How rays come out of your fingers, and shoot with these rays. I managed. Dad felt that he felt better.

Shows how he hugged her, kissed her and said: “You are a wizard.”

Maxim: Some people consider sorceresses to be witches.

Irina: Then I did the same when my mother had a headache. She was surprised too. When I was playing with children and someone fell, got hurt, or got sick, I did that too. And they started calling me that.

Maxim: So you didn’t leave any offspring on Earth?

Irina: No. I couldn't conceive a child after the first one died. I have a block. I realized this when I came out of incarnation. The block prevented the male and female cells from connecting. But I wanted children.

Maxim: Juna, this is an intimate question. They say that you had a lot of male lovers. This is true?

Irina: No (does not confirm). I was relaxed about sex. I had an understanding that I needed to first start a joint household, as they say now: get together, and then have sex. Simply being lovers but not living together does not place any responsibility on the man.

Maxim: Thank you. Tell me, please, have you seen the Spirit of your daughter, who died when she was young?

Irina: She ended up on level seventeen and came a couple of times. I made a request.

Maxim: You can’t go to your children yourself?

Irina: No, I'm on the seventh.

Maxim: Everyone who is higher levels can go down to you, but you can't go up to them?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: What did your daughter say?

Irina: I asked why she suddenly left the incarnation. She replied that when she was born, our vibrations with Alexei, her father, changed, the vibrations of our ancestral egregor. She stopped matching these vibrations and went back to the seventeenth level. Care due to vibration mismatch.

Maxim: Was this part of your karmic tasks?

Irina: Yes, it was one of my tasks. As I said before: develop patience and acceptance. Tasks may include the loss of loved ones and children.

Maxim: Thank you.

Irina: There was such an agreement.

35:00 Juna about her patients. Juna about relations with the church.

Maxim: Is it true that you put energy protection on Pankratov-Cherny?

Irina: Energy protection?

Maxim: Yes. Did she perhaps treat him or somehow protect him energetically?

Irina: I treated the physical body more, not just the energy. I knew how to give a massage and at the same time transfer the energies of my curators. I had spiritual supervisors, my Guardian Angel, my Consulting Angels. Nicholas the Wonderworker and plasmoid civilizations (subtle material) also came and transferred energies through my hands. I didn't have such a task as "protection". I was engaged in healing the body.

Maxim: Thank you. Tell me, please, which famous people have you treated?

Irina: I don't know them, I'll name them. Some kind of Raikin.

Maxim: Raikin, yes. Was Brezhnev there, did you treat Brezhnev?

Irina: Yes. I had three sessions with him. Then he said that he felt better and would continue to receive treatment from doctors. Andropov (shows someone else close to Andropov). Alexander Buynov.

Maxim: I understand, okay. There were a lot of people.

Irina: Yes. You know (he says), the one who became Patriarch Kirill, we knew him well (shows). I showed him something. We went to visit each other (shows him to the young people).

Maxim: Oh, how interesting. How did the Orthodox Church feel about what you were doing?

Irina: I can't speak for the entire church, but those ministers with whom I knew were interested and asked questions. There was no harsh rejection.

They were wary, but with interest: "What is this, where does it come from? If this is God's gift, how can it be used to benefit people, how can it not harm them?"

Maxim: Please tell me, at the time when you were engaged in healing, did the leadership of the USSR know about extraterrestrial civilizations?

Irina: I think she knew, but we didn't talk about it. We talked about healing, how to check. I was even asked if I could teach other people.

38:15 Juna about relations with the intelligence services.

Maxim: I understand. Tell me, please, were you not invited to join the special services?

Irina: Andropov worked in the KGB under Brezhnev. My husband Vitya, whom I met in Tbilisi, also worked in the special services under Shevardnadze.

We met him. I showed what I could do, and he began (back in Tbilisi) to bring his friends to me. Then I talked to some Nikolai in Moscow. He had an acquaintance, Kolya, a high-ranking official, and Kolya had a wife who was a cancer patient. She was given radiation.

My husband asked her to help. That's how I ended up in Moscow. She felt better, but, unfortunately, after a few months she still left for another world. Because too much black energy has accumulated in her. I couldn't help her to fully recover.

I have successfully helped “bright” people who only temporarily allowed some evil thoughts into themselves.

Maxim: Thank you.

Irina: Nikolai understood this and said: “Thank you for extending her days.” He talked to Arkady Raikin, I began to treat him, he was old (shows, his hands are shaking).

40:06 Juna about the quarrel with Pugacheva.

Maxim: How interesting! Please tell us the story about your quarrel with Alla Pugacheva. It was so?

Irina: It was later, in the early nineties.

Maxim: People are wondering how this happened?

Irina: I regret that I lost my temper and hit her.

Maxim: Did you hit Alla Pugacheva? For what?

Irina: One of my friends, Andrey, said that Alla Pugacheva is inviting me to a party.

Creative people love to organize holidays, parties, get together, dance, sing. She didn’t come to me, she invited me to her place. I decided to go, but due to the reception of people, I was late. She didn’t arrive on time, as she told me (shows: the apartment is large).

I arrived later, she left. There were many guests (shows some figures). She asked, “Why are you late?” I replied that I was receiving people. She, in order to show herself as a hostess in front of the guests, began to insist that I drink. It is customary for you that those who are late to the table drink a “penalty” drink, but I only accepted a little dry red wine.

She poured a glass of vodka with her own hand and showed it to me. I don’t drink vodka, and I said I wouldn’t. She began to swear, said that you are being treated, you are late, you have to drink a “fine”.

Maxim: “Penalty.”

Irina: Yes. I refused to do this, and we had a fight. I lost my temper. I took what was on the table and hit her, she fell. I have left.

Maxim: How interesting. I didn't even think that this could happen.

Irina: She insulted (shows).

42:55 Juna about the devices created with her participation.

Maxim: I understand. Tell me, please, that you were examined by scientists, and you created various instruments with them. Are your devices currently in use?

Irina: Together with Vakho, I conducted research (at some institute, experiments with instruments). There is a device "Juna". Whether it is being released now, I don't keep track of it. We were working out how to release it. Several batches were produced in Moscow (shows some production in Moscow).

Vakho was engaged in promotion, looking for who would buy the device, telling people about it. When he died, I lowered my vibrations because I closed myself off. I haven't had time for the device lately because I wanted to see my son. I missed him very much and couldn't get over it. Due to depression and despondency, I ended up on the seventh level.

Maxim: Tell me, please, did the devices that were developed help people? How do you think?

Irina: Yes. I think they helped people, but this is a technique. It creates artificial vibrations, some kind of vibrations, electromagnetic waves. They could not replace a full-fledged session with a healer, for example, with me. It was a similarity.

When a person does this, and not a machine, he invests his Soul. As I already said, my curators, the Spiritual World, and planet Esler worked through me. When I began to receive people en masse, several Eslerites came. Energy and plasmoids were transmitted through me.

45:31 June about payment for services. Juna about her attitude towards alcohol.

Maxim: Thank you. Please tell me, did you set prices for your sessions, did you take money?

Irina: At first I didn't prescribe it. She said that I didn't want to take money for these services, I didn't consider them work. I saw it as help. Then I made an appointment when I saw that all my time was running out: many people came even when I was busy with something.

People started spreading rumors about me in their families, my friends started telling me. Even complete strangers began to come to the apartment where I lived in Moscow. I could already devote some time to my son. I didn't feel comfortable turning people down. I couldn't devote much time to myself and started setting prices. Not to make money, but to reduce the flow.

Maxim: Look, some "Casino Igor" has appeared here. He wrote that he knows you and can ask you a personal question. Can he ask you a personal question, Juna?

Irina: Let him ask.

Maxim: Ask, "Casino Igor". I'm waiting for your question in the chat. You said that you knew Juna very well, but "it's not true what Irina says." Let's check your truth. Ask, ask a question that Juna knows.

Juna, while he's writing, I'll ask you one more question.

Irina: Yes, of course.

Maxim: They say that you had problems with alcohol at the end of your life. This is true?

Irina: No (denies). I already said that I only liked dry wine, a little, but I didn't like a lot of alcohol.

Maxim: Guys, I read the questions in the Q&A chat. Live broadcast." Igor: "Thank you. Okay." Igor, ask a question. You said that everything here is not true. I'm waiting for a question from you.

47:50 Juna about the year of his birth.

Maxim: Next question. What was the relationship with the Orthodox Church? You already told me. They say that your date of birth is not 1949, but 1935, is this true?

Irina: Strange (I see her image, she shook her head). I received my passport. How would they have given it to me if I had been born in 1935? Do you think I bought it? Did you forge documents? (she asks me).

Maxim: So you were born in 1949?

Irina: Yes. People say (tells someone) that I lived on fake documents.

48:43 Juna about his arrival in Moscow.

Maxim: Dear Igor, you are writing a question: “Tell me about the person who was with you when you arrived in Moscow, and where did you live?” When you arrived in Moscow, tell us where you lived?

Irina: When I came to Moscow, I didn’t go myself. My husband Vitya brought me. We lived (show two people) with his friends. Then I met Nikolai’s wife. I treated her.

Maxim: Please remember which hotel you arrived at? They write: “What hotel?”

Irina: She doesn't show the hotel. She shows what she remembers: an apartment with some friends. They didn't stay there long.

Maxim: And then?

Irina: When I met with Arkady Raikin, he contacted Brezhnev. They allocated an apartment where I lived in Moscow, in the center. That's what I hear.

Maxim: Okay. "Casino Igor", please ask a correct question that can be answered correctly.

Irina: How much time has passed (can’t remember the name). Now, for example, I won’t even say what hotel we lived in a year ago.

50:35 Juna about her contactees on Earth.

Maxim: (to Igor) If you don’t ask a specific question now, I’ll ask you to block you in the chat so that you don’t interfere with the live broadcast.

So, further. Do you have contactees on Earth?

Irina: There are two people with whom I communicate (shows some girls). They live in the south of Russia. I communicate with them through dreams. They are healers. Pretty young girls.

Maxim: Two young girls with whom you are in contact?

Irina: Through a dream.

Maxim: There are no conscious contactees who understand who you are?

Irina: No. Conscious contact with “questions and answers” for the first time with me.

51:44 June about Sadalsky and Yeltsin.

Maxim: The question is: did you have an affair with Sadalsky?

Irina: No (denies). Roman - no, in the sense of the word that we were close (does not say).

Maxim: They ask: “Juna, did you communicate with Yeltsin?”

Irina: Yes. I wouldn't say they were friends, but they communicated. Although he didn’t really agree, I offered to treat him for his illness. He tried it a couple of times, then said that he would use more traditional methods.

I felt that he not only did not believe in my abilities, but that he did not want to improve his life. He lived in vice (this is her assessment).

Maxim: Sadalsky? Lived in vice?

Irina: No, Yeltsin.

Maxim: Yeltsin? And in what vice did he live?

Irina: It shows how much money there was. There was alcohol, and he judged other people.

Maxim: Thank you. I'll ask a secret question. Did you have a secret that you had to keep for 50 years?

Irina: Can you be more specific? I have many such secrets. Maybe we are talking about adopting Vaho?

53:22 Jun about the murder of I. Talkov.

Maxim: Maybe. By the way, when I asked the question, I thought about the same thing. So, provocative questions. Do you know who killed Igor Talkov?

Irina: Definitely not. There is a suspicion (shows some bandits, four people, he argued with them about some material issues). He was threatened.

Maxim: Threatened?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: I understand. I'm looking at the questions. "Greetings from Georgia." We have six minutes. Then I won't finish. “Vakho’s adoption is no secret.” It was a secret for me. I didn't know he was adopted. “If a person was engaged in extrasensory perception during life, then after death they are punished for this?”

Irina: No, of course. For extrasensory perception, as for any creativity, if it is in the Light of Love, they cannot be punished. They just encourage it. If for the sake of destruction, for one’s selfish ambitions, in order to harm a person, one must punish - lower the level. But it is not God who lowers, but man himself. He is punishing himself.

55:07 Juna about the influence of other people's negativity.

Maxim: I understand. There is a lot of information now: if a person is a healer, then he takes on someone else’s dirt. Is it true?

Irina: Only if he believes in it and disdains illnesses. If he treats sick people with disdain, he looks down on them. There are healers who are proud, within themselves, of their health. And, inside themselves, they think that they are the only salvation for these sick people. Without them people would not be able to do anything. Like “light in the window.”

Their egoism begins to grow. They believe: “I am healthy, holy, a strong healer, and sick people are in weak contact with God, that’s why they got sick.” Pride manifests itself.

Pride can attract the negativity of those people who caused the disease. This is the first option. And the second option, as I already said, is about a child. Almost every child is an incarnate Angel and can feel someone else’s pain. Healers are like that.

Their abilities can develop artificially when they begin to touch the energy of a sick person. They train themselves to feel it. Some feel it strongly, like pain in their body. If they believe that this is not just the sensitivity of the body, but that they have pulled out the negative, then so be it.

57:04 Juna about smoking. Juna about her paintings.

Maxim: Tell me, please, your paintings - do they have some kind of energy, strength - can they heal people?

Irina: Smiling. She had a cigarette in her hand.

Maxim: Do they also smoke in the Spiritual World?

Irina: You can imagine thought forms.

Maxim: Juna, you were a healer, you treated people, did smoking bother you?

Irina: Then I thought no. I thought it was relaxing and relieves stress. To take your mind off bad thoughts.

Now I understand that smoking is one of the signs that you don't love your body.

I didn’t think so then, but when I found myself in the Spiritual World, I realized that this was a form of dislike for my body. The body does not ask for this substance; the cigarette does not bring any benefit to it. This is self-deception.

Maxim: Guys, if you like our broadcast, please like it. They give other people the opportunity to see this broadcast.

Irina: Are the powers laid down? When I painted pictures, I charged them, not on purpose, I didn’t put my hands to it, but through my eyes, through my heart. I laid down the energy of my desire so that everyone who looks at these pictures would receive part of my energy and be healed.

58:45 Juna o Wange and clairvoyances.

Maxim: Please tell me, were you familiar with Vanga?

Irina: Personally, no (she says), I heard it. We communicated, as you say, in the Astral Plane, in the Spiritual World.

Maxim: Is it true that Vanga sent people to you?

Irina: Some said so. I know who you're talking about. She is a very strong Spirit. In many ways, I consider her my Teacher, not in healing, but in clairvoyance. She practiced clairvoyance.

To practice clairvoyance, you need to holistically imagine some event, mentally move it along the Time Line into the future and look at it, what it will be like, what will develop from it.

1:00:07 Jun about learning healing from books.

Maxim: I understand. Is it possible to learn healing from your books?

Irina: I think it is possible. But this is a responsible and serious matter. A person must understand that this is not just a job like any other, it is serving people.

Maxim: Guys, if we get two thousand likes, I'll extend the broadcast, honestly. Four thousand people watch our broadcast. Just a little bit, 450 likes. We reach 2000 likes, I'll extend it for another 15 minutes, with pleasure.

Why? Because you care about our project, and I will make sure that you can ask questions. I'll immediately ask a question from the YouTube chat if there are 2000 likes.

Irina: Wow.

Maxim: Are you familiar with the "Golden Pyramid" healing method? Have you used the Golden Pyramid? Has anyone taught you this method of healing on an energetic level?

Irina: Anything can be under this name. That's exactly what I didn't call it. As I already said, even as an adult, when I conducted a healing session, I filled it with Light. I didn't call it a "pyramid" or anything else. Maybe that's what they call it now.

Maxim: Did you imagine the pyramid in healing sessions?

Irina: No. It was filling with Light.

1:01:46 Juna about his death.

Maxim: Thank you. Please tell me what is the true cause of your death?

Irina: The true reason for my death. I should have died earlier. As it was laid down before the incarnation: two years earlier. They extended my incarnation period by two years so that I could improve my level.

If my body had died two years earlier, I could have gotten to level five. But a warning came (shows how the Angel appeared) that “your time has expired, but you can get to the level of demons if you do not forgive the world and God for separating you from your son. You are given some more time.”

I was clearly told and I heard that “the time allotted to you for this life has already expired. But they won’t take you away because you will fall very low.” I promised, asked the Angel to extend my incarnation, my life, I asked from God.

He told me: “Ask God.” I asked God and began to work on raising my vibrations. I was trying to figure out why this happened. As a result, I left two years later to the seventh level. This was later than according to the program.

1:03:50 Juna about his predictions.

Maxim: Is it true that you made predictions? Who helped you make them?

Irina: I studied myself, I was interested. As I already said, I imagine some event. My Esler curator, Nicholas the Wonderworker and the Guardian Angel (the three of them) talked about how this is done.

You mentally imagine some event, then you imagine the “Time Tape” in front of you, and, for example, the simplest thing is to see what will happen in a year, how events will develop, or what will happen to me, for example, or where I will be. Some simple things. Then look mentally and be sure to write down what you see.

But there is one danger: programming yourself for them if you look at yourself. Therefore, it is better not to look at yourself, it will be incorrect. You can program yourself subconsciously, and then it will automatically come true.

Maxim: Everything is correct.

Irina: And if you look at events or another person, it is better, of course, to watch an event or a person whom you do not know, whom you cannot influence with your prediction, so as not to “program” him. But be sure to write down what you see and then remind yourself that after a year you need to compare what you remembered with what you saw.

That's what I did. My accuracy could approach 70% on some topics, but there were some significant details that I did not see. That is, that version of the future was being embodied, which I did not see. I believe now that my predictions were more of an analysis of what would happen.

1:05:56 Juna about his plans for further incarnations.

Maxim: I understand. Thank you. Tell me, please, do you have a desire to incarnate on planet Earth in the future?

Irina: Not yet. But I already talked about Vaho. I still consider him my son (continues to call him son). Although here we are equal, here we are Spirits, no one is older, no younger, in the earthly sense, on the contrary, I have 609 incarnations in the material world, and he has almost 1200.

Here we cannot say that someone is “older” and someone is “younger”. All the same, according to the Spirit, I continue to consider him my son, despite the fact that he is on a “higher” level. Until he and I agree on how and where to incarnate, I don’t want to do it without him. I want to walk this path with him. It doesn't matter where it will be.

1:06:55 Jun about Russia, Ukraine and Georgia in the next 3 years.

Maxim: Interesting, I understand, thank you. The question slipped my mind, it was such an interesting question. Can you now make predictions for the next three years?

Irina: About what?

Maxim: About Russia. What will happen in the next three years in Russia? Do you have visions from the Spiritual world?

Irina: A lot is happening in Russia, and different people live. The question needs to be specified. Will it be in Russia with what or with whom?

Maxim: With the country.

Irina: Will it exist?

Maxim: Let's start with this.

Irina: After 3 years, again, this is more analysis (says).

Maxim: More analysis is obtained.

Irina: One of the lines of probability. As she says, so I will speak.

Maxim: Speak as she speaks.

Irina: In 3 years Russia will make peace with all its unfriendly neighbors and with other countries. It will be like it was ten years ago. Such relationships.

Maxim: What will happen to Ukraine?

Irina: Talk?

Maxim: Talk, but what should we do? We don't deceive our viewers!

Irina: She says this is just her forecast.

Maxim: Come on.

Irina: I believe that most of it will be part of Russia, and a smaller part will be part of Poland, Romania, and so on. Some part will remain Ukraine, but the population will not only be more liberal, but will have a simpler attitude towards all other countries. It is clear from the egregor that this country cannot be independent for a long time, and it is throwing itself around the neck of either Europe or Russia. In the end you will be left with nothing.

Maxim: Thank you. There's probably nothing funny.

Irina: I said this about egregor (speaks).

Maxim: I understand. A couple more questions. Guys, ask.

“Oh, nonsense.” Nonsense, of course nonsense. We're just talking nonsense, guys.

“Juna, tell me about how you were given a bone from the body of Jesus Christ, you yourself believed in it.” Juna, please tell us about how someone gave you a bone from the body of Jesus Christ.

Irina: It was not a bone from the body of Jesus Christ. There was such a belief (shows some woman, Galina in a headscarf).

Maxim: Haters appeared and began to hate: “It’s nonsense, it’s not true.” It's OK. Haters are everywhere. If they write in this chat, it means they are subscribed to us, that’s good. Will Georgia and I remain friends?

Irina: Of course. You are friends now and will remain friends.

1:10:40 Juna's wish to the listeners.

Maxim: Juna, then the last question. What would you like to say to people on this planet? If only you had the opportunity now: to reach out to all people. What would you say?

Irina: I want to appeal to every person who watches this program. I want to tell you from the height of experience where I am now.

I have already passed the threshold that you call "death" (you are still in incarnation), being a little further from you along the axis of development. Know that you too will be where I am.

Before getting there, I wish every person to seriously think, while still on Earth, about whether you are fulfilling your task of incarnation. The question is very serious.

Each of you did not come here to live, work and give birth to children, and then go to the Spiritual world and thus leave a memory on Earth. Even if the memory remains on Earth, but you do not complete your task, this will not help you much.

Memory on Earth is not the main thing. Living for the sake of memory on Earth is the same material illusion as living for the sake of wealth. These things are of the same order. Therefore, while you are still here, in this body, in incarnation, think: why did you come here, ask your Higher Self, communicate with your Guardian Angel, pray to God, forgive your enemies, your enemies, forgive yourself and do not complain on God, no matter what. Whatever terrible suffering there is in this world, it is temporary.

Eternity begins in the Spiritual world. It is very painful to realize that you did not accomplish what you wanted. Therefore, I ask you to appreciate every day, every moment of being in the world that I left.

I spent my last incarnation stupidly and mediocrely. Even though I helped many people, I couldn't cope with myself. I wish you could make it better. So remember, if your eyes are open, if your legs can walk, if your body can move, you can change everything about yourself - only in yourself, not in others. Whatever you want. There is no need to waste the time given to you for spiritual development on some material pleasures that you won't remember tomorrow. Time is very valuable and very short. It will pass much faster than you think. Life is never enough, even if there is a lot of it.

Maxim: Thank you, Juna. Victor Makarenko says that he loves you very much, remembers and thanks you. I don't know who Viktor Makarenko is.

Please answer one more small question. Maybe you would like to personally tell someone who is now embodied on Earth? Maybe I should say hi?

Irina: No. She says, “I told everyone that.”

Maxim: I thank you, Juna, for devoting your time to our project. I thank you, Irina, for the excellent presentation and transmission of information.

Guys, I thank you all for watching us, supporting us, supporting our project. I want to say that I feel your help. We are currently doing repair work at the Center, and I will be waiting for you all for training and personal appointments with the masters. Thank you very much, very grateful.

We are waiting for you, residents of Europe, in Turkey, where we will have a great time. We are waiting for you in Moscow. We'll be there soon.

Samara, hello! We are already leaving for Samara on the 3rd. I forgot what date we are in Samara. On the 3rd we are in Samara. Samara, hello! Wait for us, we will be with you soon.

Guys, bye everyone. Thank you for the broadcast. See you again!

00:18 Introduction of the participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! Hi all. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Thank you! Today we are conducting the first broadcast in our project on the VKontakte network. Our curators are present with us: LiShioni from the planet Shimor and MidgasKaus from the planet Esler.

Hello everyone! So many hearts, I'm very pleased.

Our curators are ready to answer your questions. You can already write them.

02:09 Prayer for those who have left the Earth.

Question: I see the first question: “Send a prayer for those who have left the Earth.”

Irina: LiShioni answers, as a specialist in astral interactions.

For those who have left the Earth, strictly verified, memorized prayers are not required. They will only be helped by the Light of your heart, which you direct to support them in the world where they find themselves. But if you know some special prayers in your religion, in your tradition, you can read them.

Be sure to do it meaningfully, putting the Light of your Love and meaningfulness into them. If you do not understand some words in this text, you must first find out the meaning of these words and then read meaningfully. You can simply address them in your own words, you can turn to God the Heavenly Father with a request to accept this Spirit in peace and Love. This will be the Light of Love to support him at the level where he finds himself.

03:44 Reversal of the Earth's polarity.

Question: Anna Simonova asks: “When will the Earth’s polarity reversal take place?”

Irina: Now I will explain to them what this means. They have a slightly different science.

The thing is that earthlings consider one pole of the Earth to be positive and the other negative, like magnetic poles. We divide magnetic fields into positive and negative when we have a magnet. By analogy with an electric battery, probably.

When will the pole change take place? So far (according to the state of magnetic fields today) there are no signs of such a global change in the magnetic field in the next 20 Earth years. They are not visible.

Question: Will Dnipropetrovsk water really be poisoned?

Irina: Let us not send negative thought forms into the Universe. We will believe in the best, we will believe in life, in Love.

(MidgasKaus) And let us not hastily believe rumors that are deliberately spread by people controlled by low-vibration plasmoids in order to instill fear and feed on it.

05:33 Ego and selfishness.

Question: How much does ego hinder a person from making the transition?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) The word “ego” is different from egoism. The ego can be filled with Light, and then it will be an enlightened person. And if the ego is filled with darkness, like the absence of Light, if the ego does not love anyone, it does not love itself. In reality there is no true Love. And then it interferes with awakening.

06:24 Spirit, Soul, body. What's more important?

Question: Great question: “What is more important - Soul, Spirit or body?”

Irina: (Smile) The question was not posed quite correctly. There is no word "more important". Body, Spirit, Soul are equally important for his goals of incarnation. If neglect of the Spirit causes failure to fulfill a life task, then neglect of the needs of the body causes illness and premature exit from incarnation.

Remember, dear friends, that your body consists of divine energies, and it is a bright temple of the Spirit. Neglect and humiliation of the body is just as dangerous for a person as the humiliation of his Spirit. In fact, the bright path is in the middle. This is the middle, harmonious path, when we take care of the body and follow the spiritual path of development.

Question: When will the war between Russia and Ukraine end?

Irina: You know, dear Denis, this question has already been answered many times. It depends on us, earthlings. It depends on the choice of all earthlings, all those who are involved in this conflict at all levels. It will end only when that part of the noosphere that caused these actions is cleared.

Thank you. They say hello to you too.

08:22 How to learn to feel energies?

Question: How to learn to feel energies?

Irina: Great question, thank you, Natalya. Very important, but somewhat strange for aliens, because they learn this from childhood.

(LiShioni) You can learn to feel energies only through practice, only through training. Try to feel the person's energy in a conversation. Try to ask yourself how he feels, what is his mood? Mood, emotions, thoughts are all types of energy. Try asking yourself, what does the person feel, what does he want to say? If you are conscious in conversation, in your life, then your sensitivity will increase.

You also need to clear your aura of blocks, especially the sixth energy center, the sixth chakra. If you don't feel anything, it may be due to blocks in the sixth energy center. If you dissolve them, you will feel that you have sensitivity.

Tomorrow there will also be a live broadcast with MidgasCaus and LiShioni.

Question: Do aliens see the spiritual level of earthlings during physical contact? Good health to Mida.

Irina: They see a person's energy. The spiritual level is different. This is a level that takes into account, among other things, the state of both the embodied Soul and the Higher Self of a person. Only the Higher Self can know the current spiritual level. Any aliens arriving on Earth can find out this from the person himself, that is, from the Higher Self.

But it is considered incorrect to bypass a person as an embodied part of the Spirit and ask his Higher Self, because they constitute one Spirit. And they usually recommend that the person himself ask the Higher Self for the current level.

Question: When will your book be published?

Irina: We ourselves are waiting, dear friends. Now we rely on the will of the publisher and on the Light of divine love. When will it be released? When society is ready to accept it. Thank you!

12:03 Development of clairvoyance.

Question: Why does not everyone have a working third eye, and what to do to open vision.

Irina: Partially already answered. Perhaps you do not have such a task in this life, to be energetically clairvoyant, to see the aura. It depends on the task of implementation. Maybe you came here for another task.

Second point: there may be blocks in the sixth chakra.

And the third point: this may be, for example, from a lack of imaginative thinking. Try imagining images, reading fiction.

Try to develop empathy. This is already energy sensitivity. When you ask yourself a question when talking with your interlocutor: “What is he feeling now? What does he want to tell me? Mentally ask yourself a question and begin to turn on your energy system to develop empathy.

Question: How to use saint numeric codes? Is it possible to connect to the teacher system through them?

Irina: If you believe this, that a specific code will connect you to the teacher system, then yes, you can use it. This is where your faith comes into play.

13:20 Alien ships in the solar system.

Question: Are there any ships that have arrived in our Solar System? If so, what is their purpose?

Irina: (LiSioni and MidgasKaus) Yes, there are many ships in the Solar System. But I can’t call them arrivals right now. They have always existed here. In general, there are quite a lot of bases of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light in the Solar System. Including, for example, the Ashtar base, where the Ashtar civilization is.

And new ships are constantly arriving for various research projects related not only to the Earth, but also to other planets of the solar system. This is also associated with working with contactees, with research on the Earth, earthly civilization, flora and fauna, and so on.

Question: There is clairvoyance, there is visualization, there is a little vision.

Irina: If you have a little vision, you already have something to actually work with. It can be developed through constant exercise.

Thank you, too!

14:38 Patriotism of Russians.

Question: How much has the patriotism of Russians increased in recent days?

Irina: (MidgasCaus) We are now in astral bodies next to Irina in the astral space of your planet, in the part of it occupied by Russia. To get to it, we go through egregors, including the egregor of Russia as a political system.

The energy of patriotism is the energy of Love. Patriotism is Love, respect and honor for the Motherland, your country, your government and your people. Yes, indeed, compared, for example, with the period three months earlier, we feel a significant increase in energies of this type in the Earth's egregor, by about 35-40%.

Thank you!

15:47 Interpretation of dreams.

Question: Can clues come in a dream, and how to decipher them? Can you rely on Vanga's dream book?

Irina: Yes, naturally, hints for a person can come in a dream. In a dream, you come into contact with your Higher Self, with your curators. They can tell you, send you some image, send you to that part of the Time Tape, which, for example, is located in one of the options for your future. But it may materialize or not depending on your choice and, naturally, the influence of the people around you. Because it happens that someone makes a different choice, and everything on Earth does not go as in a dream.

How to decipher dreams? You can rely on any dream book that you feel is true. But always check what you read there with the inner feeling in your heart. Because the dream book is written for everyone. This is the kind of book that gives a general interpretation. And you are an individual person. And therefore, there may be nuances for you that are not taken into account in the dream book. The person who compiled it didn't know you personally. For you, some image may have individual meaning. So you can only rely on the information. And you only need to fully believe in your heart.

Question: Can you tell me how to contact friends? If such a thought comes, perhaps preparations are underway for this.

Irina: About contacts with interstellar friends. If you feel that you want to contact the Interstellar Union with any type of contact, go to your Higher Self. Ask it if you are already a contactee? If yes, then with whom. Ask what type of contact you have.

If he says no, ask if you can become him and on what level: physical, astral, mental? Contacts with representatives of any planets are possible for all people who are ready for this. What do you mean ready? Energetically, and their goal of incarnation is precisely contact.

18:29 Religion as a path of development.

Question: What is the purest religion?

Irina: There are no pure or unclean religions. Religion is a certain path to the image of God that is presented in this religion. As you know, there are many religions and many images of gods. And there is only one true God. And the path in this religion can be pure. But religion itself cannot be pure or impure. Each person perceives it differently. Therefore, for a conscious person who sees with his heart, any religion will be saving. And for a person who looks through his ego, through his selfishness, through his unpurified mind, any religion will be disastrous. He can only achieve a reduction in vibrations there.

19:30 Safety of access to the Astral and Spiritual world.

Question: Mead mentioned that in schools on Esler they teach the safety of access to the astral and Spiritual worlds using textbooks. Is it possible to somehow present this to us, since they have it in their program, but we don't?

Irina: You can, of course, write a textbook on astral exits, but they already exist on Earth. There are textbooks on Earth. These are books that contactees wrote.

Lobsang Rampa, for example, Mikhail Raduga. There are slightly different names, but there are also safety precautions and exit techniques. There are books, for example, by Robert Monroe, Georgy Boreev, which are called "Textbook for leaving the body."

There are quite a lot of textbooks. And there are already modern Russian authors translated into Russian by foreign authors. As they say, whoever seeks will always find.

But I have a slightly different task. I am now writing articles, shooting videos, receiving people, leading them to the Higher Self. Moreover, I still have students who come to the Cassiopeia school, and I teach them how to lead other people to the Higher Self. So I'm somehow not in the mood for a book right now, to be honest.

21:09 Astrology on Esler and Shimora.

Question: Tell us about astrology on your planet. How do they use it? How is it different from ours?

Irina: We do not have an astrology that is similar to yours. We have an astro-numerological system that takes into account the position of different stars and planets in the sky. But she takes them into account along with the numerological code. And on our planet, it is not the constellations of the zodiac circle that are taken into account, as it is with you (Mead says). Digital coordinates are taken into account, the direction of the planet's axis to different sectors of the Galaxy, to different stars. The sector of the Galaxy is taken into account.

22:17 Probability of nuclear war on Earth on May 5, 2022.

Question: What is the probability of a nuclear war?

Irina: (LiShioni) Dear friends, over the past week this probability has decreased somewhat than it was a week ago. And at the moment, according to the Time Tape, we can see that the probability of the beginning of actions related to nuclear weapons is now somewhere around 13%. But this is a forecast for the year.

Thank you all.

Question: I watched your channeling with the Prophet Muhammad. Remind me what the prophet answered you?

Irina: About what? There were many questions for him.

23:17 Life on the planet of criminals.

Question: How does life work on the planet of criminals?

Irina: There they are provided with food, water, medical care, a library of literature and digital films that contribute to spiritual development. They do physical labor as occupational therapy. They make various items and, in addition, provide themselves with a living. They go to work in their specialty.

In addition, prisoners are required to visit criminal psychologists for interviews. Psychologists live on this same planet, talk with them, help them reach their Higher Self, find out the reasons for the actions they took. They help dissolve the blocks that shielded them from the Light of Divine Love so much that they resorted to violence.

Prisoners sign special agreements to attend these meetings with criminal psychologists. Also, psychological conversations and lectures are held with criminals, explaining to them the consequences of what they did. Order in the settlements on the planet of criminals is maintained by specially trained biorobots.

25:12 Connecting to the Higher Self.

Question: What is the difference between connecting to the Higher Self through the fourth chakra or through the seventh?

Irina: You can connect to the Higher Self through any chakra. There is no difference, just different methods are used. I remind you that contact with the Higher Self in any case passes through the spiritual channel. It starts from the seventh chakra. You can simply start accessing the Higher Self through concentration on the fourth chakra, on the fifth chakra, on the sixth chakra, on the seventh chakra. This is only the starting point of the time that leads you into the ocean of eternity, which is the endless Light of love from the Higher Self.

Question: Tell us about Alexander Nevsky and the saints. Their roles in the ascension of the Earth.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) We know who this is from historical chronicles, but we haven't talked to him yet. If there is a request to talk with him about something, then through the egregor, through Archangel Michael and the noosphere of the Earth, as you call it, the Akashic Chronicles, we will find out where he is and try to contact him.

Question: Hello, what constellation or planet will you fly to with Kirchiton?

Irina: You know, dear friends, I haven't decided yet. We are waiting for the decision of our administrators. Now they have decided that the Cassiopeia administrators will propose to the Interstellar Union commission where they want to send me. So I'm waiting for an offer on where I should fly, and I'll pass it on to my supervisors. What do you think I need to visit, and why?

27:40 Coronavirus.

Question: Will people still get sick from the coronavirus as much as during the pandemic?

Irina: (LiShioni and MidgasKaus) We can only give our personal opinion. Again from watching the Time Tape. For the Earth, the incidence of this infectious disease will not increase over the past year. The likelihood that there will be a severe epidemic is less than 15%. But there will not be a complete recession. It will stay at flu levels like before. There were flu epidemics in the spring and autumn.

28:40 Civilizations in the Pleiades.

Question: What civilizations are there in the Pleiades?

Irina: There are a lot of civilizations there: both subtle and dense. Some of them are part of the Galactic Federation of Light, some are part of the Interstellar Union.

One of these civilizations has its capital on the planet Futissa, which is the capital of both the Galactic Federation of Light and the Pleiadian Commonwealth of Worlds, which is a union of civilizations not of universal galactic significance, but of local significance.

Question: Will there be more encounters with Jesus?

Irina: I don't even know. Masha Sokalskaya is recording at our conference. We haven't thought about meeting Jesus yet. If you have questions for him after four conferences with his phantom, you need to contact Masha Sokalskaya and voice your questions.

Question: Tell me, do you know about the ancient language in the Alavashka Galaxy?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) In one Galaxy there can be hundreds of dense-material worlds and thousands or tens of thousands of thin-material worlds. This is only in one Galaxy. What language in what Galaxy are you talking about?

Question: Irina, make a broadcast with dragons.

Irina: With dragons? I've already been with the Draconians.

Question: I practiced entering a lucid dream, but it didn't work. And literally before my birthday I turned to the curator angels, and immediately managed to get out. Who heard me and helped me?

Irina: Probably whoever they turned to helped. Your supervisors and Guardian Angel helped you maintain awareness.

Dear friends, I remind you once again that you go to the Astral every night when your body falls asleep. You don't remember these trips only because you lose consciousness due to your brain going into a dream state. And if you maintain awareness in the Astral, the vital energy of the brain, that is, consciousness, will be spent on this, so after astral travel it is recommended to sleep in a normal sleep.

Question: What does it mean to send good luck to a person?

Irina: This means sending him a wish to achieve the materialization of his bright and harmonious desires.

33:42 Sports and art on Esler.

Question: Are there Olympic Games, ballet, figure skating, theaters, opera on your planets? What types of art do you have?

Irina: We have forms of art that are associated with music: songs. Not ballet, but something like dancing, like the Chinese do gymnastics to music. We also have artists who paint pictures, and there are specialists who make sculptures from different materials.

We don't have Olympic Games like yours. We have different sports games. But they are not mandatory. This is only if, for example, several cities on one planet decide to host them, or several planets. But all this is not mandatory.

There is no clear frequency in their execution and no clear program that could be scheduled for years.

Question: Do aliens practice Mer-ka-ba meditation of Drunvalo Melchizedek? Do they have such a meditation technique?

Irina: Dear friends, we will not ask about the authors of various meditations and their names. These creatures still flew from another planet, they did not read our esoteric books and may not even have seen.

I mean Drunvalo Melchizedek. I already told you about it and showed it to MidgasKaus. He described methods of meditation, more than one.

(LiScioni) I also heard about this literature and about this person, about this contactee. I saw his image in the noosphere, in the egregor of the Earth. This is a fairly light Spirit, highly vibrational. Regarding the details of the Mer-ka-ba meditation, perhaps you should ask a little more detail. Because our meditation techniques are very simple. They involve diving into our spiritual heart and asking our Higher Self or inner Light to answer our questions and energize us. Yes, exchange energy.

36:56 Transmigration - replacement of the Soul.

Question: How does the replacement of the Soul occur?

Irina: Yes, indeed, I remember. LiSioni, you told me.

(LiScioni) If you are talking about transmigration, then we consider this a form of contact. This is not a replacement for the Soul in human understanding. But there is such a form of contact with the curator, usually it is not an embodied Spirit or a high-vibration plasmoid from a high level of density, when a person comes into such contact with him that he provides him with his body. But this is according to a certain agreement, to which the Consulting Spirits, human mentors, must necessarily agree. And in this case, the Soul itself can even go into the world of disembodied Spirits. But her body will live, and in it will be the essence that went for transmigration.

There are quite a few such cases on Earth and other planets. Because for such a replacement of the Soul, there needs to be a perfect match in vibration between the Soul of the curator who came and the Soul of the person, the contactee.

But I want to tell you why we consider this a form of contact. Because the life thread that connects the body with the Soul is not interrupted. That is, he remains to live, simply to maintain his body.

This happens because the Spirit that inhabits this person cannot create a life thread that binds him to another body. To do this, he must incarnate into a developing body and, from the first few cells of his father and mother, regulate his conception, fill him with etheric energies, create etheric matrices, and so on. Otherwise, it will not be possible to live in the body as fully as its owners do.

40:03 DNA and vegetarianism.

Question: Does DNA change during a quantum transition? Naturally, will we return to vegetarianism?

Irina: Good question (MidgasCaus). DNA changes during a quantum transition occur at a subtle level, that is, the etheric matrix of all DNA helices changes. And the transition of these changes to the physical level depends on a person's ability to perceive higher energies.

The fact is that the gene that made omnivorous creatures from vegetarians on earth was introduced so that you could live and develop harmoniously on that Earth, on that planet, in the state in which it was 12 thousand years ago. But to eliminate this gene from your DNA, a quantum transition is not enough, because it was introduced at the physical level. You have had a certain percentage of Burkhadian genes replaced by the same percentage of Tumesoutian genes.

This genetics will remain in you. But due to the influence of the quantum transition, the person who perceives these energies will be able to control these genes with greater ease. This means he can eat any food he wants. Firstly, he will feel what vibrations suit him, and he will be able to more easily refuse those foods that do not suit him vibrationally.

He will not feel any strong desires that contradict his Spirit, he will more easily adjust his taste sensations, and will be able to feel, for example, the quality of food and its energy content. Whether it will be plants or animal products depends on the desire of humanity. And if the total choice of humanity in connection with the quantum transition is precisely to switch back to vegetarianism, then everyone with the genetics that they have now will be able to do this.

43:41 Making wishes come true.

Question: What needs to be done to make your wish come true?

Irina: For a wish to come true it is necessary:

1. Know exactly what exactly you want.

2. Know exactly what you need it for. What need does this desire of yours fulfill?

3. You need to find out in the world around you or ask your Higher Self what needs to be done in the physical world in order to materialize your desire.

It depends on what you want. If you want to acquire something material, then a certain amount of material energy must be spent on acquiring material things. And here it would be a mistake to think that if you wished for something material, and, for example, they gave it to you, or you found it and took it for yourself, then your wish came true, and you did not waste your material energy on it.

They gave it to you in advance. If you do not exchange energy with the Universe in a similar way, without giving something of approximately the same value to someone close to you or without providing help to poorer people, then your energy will simply leave some other area of your life. There must be constant energy exchange.

45:40 Beginningless beginning.

Question: Do your cosmic friends accept the idea that God has a creator?

Irina: What an interesting question. (MidgasKaus and LiShioni) For us, God, whom we call God, the Absolute, the Absolute Mind, the Supreme Mind, is the creator of everything. We simply call it the beginningless beginning. This is exactly who has always been. And if he was always there, he was in eternity, he was not born by anyone, he was not created by anyone, then he had no need for a creator or a parent. It is this being, as if the original point of everything, that we call God.

They don't have an endless cycle of "who created who." Everything ends with God for them.

46:47 “Conversations with God” by Neil Walsh.

Question: “Conversations with God” by Neil Walsh, what do you think about them?

Irina: I tell you again that they did not read our books. (MidgasKaus and LiShioni) Very interesting title “Conversations with God”.

I, too, unfortunately, have not read this literature. I looked and started reading. There were some pretty interesting things there. But, judging by the title “Conversations with God,” a person calls God contact with his Higher Self. This is the part of God that is in the Spiritual world. Usually, when they call contact with God or contact with God the Father, this is contact with the Higher Self.

And even if this is contact with God the Father himself, because you pray to God, he, naturally, can give an answer to each of his children, each of his sons or daughters. But even God the Father still gives the answer through your Higher Self, he cannot bypass it. He gives an answer to the whole Spirit at once: both incarnate and non-incarnate. And the already disembodied part forwards his answer to you here, its embodied part.

“Conversations with God” is contact with the Higher Self (in the terminology of the Interstellar Union).

48:25 The ability to change life events.

Question: How to change the time line of life?

Irina: Your own life line, not civilization. If you saw any possibility in your life line, or you were told by any prophets or fortune-tellers that you have a negative life line in the past, the Time Line, that some negative event awaits you there, you can change it.

You can change this by asking your Higher Self why, for what purpose, you need such an event in the future, and what needs to be changed in yourself so that you no longer need this lesson. Here you need to communicate with your Higher Self and ask him what percentage of the probability this can happen, and how to reduce this percentage.

49:42 Yeti.

Question: Is it possible to have a conference with Yeti?

Irina: If there are questions for him, we will think about it and try to invite him. I don't know any yeti, we haven't met yet.

(MidgasKaus and LiShioni) There are some who live in nature. They are also intelligent people, intelligent Spirits are embodied in them. This is an isolated tribe, or even rather a collection of tribes on different continents of the Earth. There are contactees there, for example, from the planet Esler, but not from me (MidgasKaus), but from other specialists from the planet Esler. And there are contactees on the planet Burkhad. You can talk to them if they agree. They don't really make contact with people.

Question: Will planet Earth ever be raised to the level it was originally before the war with Selbet?

Irina: Yes, of course, after the Earth joins the Interstellar Union, planet Earth will be raised not only to the level it was before the war 12,000 years ago. She will join the Interstellar Union, and will be raised to the level of all planets. She will be provided with all the technological, medical, scientific and cultural achievements of the Galaxy. Technically, this means space technology.

51:49 Life expectancy.

Question: What determines life expectancy? Is it possible to influence?

Irina: Yes, of course you can. Life expectancy depends mainly on two factors related to each other. This is your period of incarnation, which you planned for yourself when you were in the Spiritual world. You determined for yourself how many earthly years you needed to complete the task of incarnation. And you not only determined how many years, but also how they would be spent.

So many years are needed to complete such and such a task, so many years to complete another task. And you had it planned out like a chess game. But it is written not on paper, but in the mind, in your mind, in the mind of the disembodied Spirit. And when you decided this together with your mentors, they looked at your plan, and since you came to embodiment, they approved it. And before incarnation, they endowed you with the amount of life force that you had to transfer into the body to activate it for a certain number of years.

That is, in your body, in our opinion, your life span is already written down. This means that it is recorded at all levels: both in the aura and in the body at the DNA level.

In DNA, as in the DNA of any dense material civilizations, there is the so-called key of death. This is a piece of DNA that activates destructive processes in the body, causing an exit from incarnation. This key turns on after a certain number of years. And so that it does not turn on ahead of time, when you incarnate, you bring into your body a certain amount of vital energy, which charges your DNA and holds back the activation of this key. There the process is more complicated. Now I'm speaking as simply as possible so that you can understand what I'm talking about.

This period is determined at the moment when you have not yet been embodied. When you are already in incarnation, of course, it is possible to change it in the direction of either decreasing the number of years of incarnation or increasing it.

How to change? If you want to increase it, start fulfilling your life task in such a way that your mentors, your Angel Consultants see that in one incarnation you are working very well on yourself, on raising your level, and you can be given more vitality for further incarnations. So that you can do more than one thing in one incarnation, not two, not three tasks to solve. And so that you start solving problems from the next incarnation that you have in mind.

What tasks do you mean? Not material, but spiritual. If you raise your spiritual level very well in incarnation, then you can be given additional vital energy so that you can further increase your spiritual level. Additional energy is given with the obligatory condition that you help other people do this. That is, to carry the Light, not just to be the Light, but to bring it to others.

56:46 Communication in the Astral.

Question: If you call someone in the Astral with whom you want to see, does he come or can another entity come, pretending to be him?

Irina: Yes, another entity may come, pretending to be him. But you will understand this by the changed vibrations, by the changed energy. I'll give you an analogy. If some person came to you, pretending to be your loved one. He came in his mask, as if a face similar to him, but you suddenly heard another voice. You will suspect that these are not your loved ones.

In the Astral the voice is not heard, but the vibration of this Spirit is felt. For example, I already know the vibrations of MidgasCaus. They are so soft, gentle, calm. They are different from LiSioni, which is more active. His energy is not just harsher, it is very difficult to explain his feelings in reality, it is more decisive, one might say. But this is not the exact word.

But, nevertheless, I feel it. I can already distinguish them. And if a creature comes that pretends to be MidgasKaus or LiShioni, there will no longer be that soft energy or such decisive energy. She will change, this entity has a different character. And faking your vibrations is very difficult. You have to fake it, you have to experience the feelings that MidgasCaus experiences in order to fake his energy. It's not that simple actually.

If you don't feel the vibration yet, you can tell by the responses. If you are given a completely different answer to a question than what your handler previously gave, and when you ask again, the conversation is denied (or otherwise behaves suspiciously), you can assume that the wrong entity has arrived. And then tell her: "Prove yourself in the Light of God." If she does not show her true face at these words, then according to the rules of contacts this entity will be punished by being removed from the opportunity to contact. There is a mandatory condition for contacts with earthlings, which was set by God himself: when they say “show yourself in the Light of God,” they must show their true face, because disagreement to do this is already a violation of human free will.

59:59 The order of transformations. Quantum transition.

Question: Can a Soul reincarnate two months after disincarnation? How many more quantum jumps are there to go through?

Irina: I’ll read two questions at once.

So, two months after disembodiment is very rarely possible, but there are cases when, for example, the Spirit left the incarnation by force and did not fulfill its purpose at the will of another person. In your opinion, he was killed. Then they may decide to reincarnate him quickly enough.

As for quantum transition jumps. In general, it all depends on you. The Earth can make 10 leaps or 100 leaps before the end of the quantum transition period. I will only say that a sign of the end of the quantum transition is an increase in the number of conscious people striving for spirituality. When those who do not live on the material plane, but use it to their advantage for spiritual development, and treat each other with love and accept each new day on Earth with humility and happiness, at least 70% will exist on the entire Earth. This will be a sign of the end of the quantum transition that is happening now. And then the transformation will begin on your entire planet. It is the people themselves who will begin these transformations.

Question: Are there planets in our Galaxy where Souls from only one level incarnate? For example, only bhoots or only Angels.

Irina: There are no such planets. The Spirit from any level can incarnate on any planet. This is the meaning of incarnation, that all Spirits of different levels must live together with each other in order to help each other move towards the Light and develop.

Question: Is home birth relevant today? Do our children need this?

Irina: It’s up to you to decide, dear friends. What do you need, what does your child need, what do you personally need, are you ready to take responsibility for this action, is the person who will help you during a home birth ready to take responsibility. Responsibility for your life and for your health, for the life and health of your child. And are you ready to bear this responsibility?

It's up to you to decide. Nobody can answer this question. Only you. Each woman must answer these questions individually. This is a very serious matter. Here you have to think very seriously and definitely consult with your Higher Self.

Question: Dragon mentors, those who fly big. Tell us why they are mentors?

Irina: Representatives of thin-material plasmoid civilizations are very often represented as dragons. They love to present such images of powerful dragons, which were the totem animals of many Asian peoples, for example.

Naturally, they can be the curators of a person if he matches their vibrations.

1:04:11 Possible causes of miscarriage.

Question: If a miscarriage occurs, does this mean that the Spirit has changed its mind about incarnating in this family?

Irina: Good question actually. Causes of miscarriage. Miscarriage occurs due to intoxication, injury, or any impact on the fetus from the mother or surrounding people. This is a type of murder, such a conclusion from the incarnation.

And if there were no pathologies, if a spontaneous miscarriage occurred, it means that the Spirit changed its mind about incarnating with you for various reasons. This may be due to a changed vibration, for example, of the mother or father, or the ancestral egregor. When for some reason it no longer corresponds to the vibrations of the Spirit that came to incarnate, this is the first thing. Secondly, his Consulting Angel can tell him that his presence is needed on some other planet, for example, or in another family on the same planet. And then he will go to incarnate into another body. That is, conditions could change somewhere. This actually happens quite often. But this is the decision of the Spirit.

1:05:48 Dreams coming true.

Question: Why do you have dreams that come true? Who was the Spirit of Matrona of Moscow?

Irina: The Spirit of Matrona of Moscow, like all of us, was a Divine, intelligent, light Spirit. What level? You need to ask her about this. The curators do not know her personally. Most likely, they assume that she is in the Spirit World.

Dreams come true because in a dream, in the Astral, when you were sleeping, a part of the Soul that entered the Astral flew to the border of the astral world and the world of disembodied Spirits, where the Time Tape exists, and there saw a version of the future that materialized.

Question: Are you familiar with the Pleiadian Thuris? Channeling in Russia?

Irina: No, I don’t know, unfortunately.

Question: Is life a game that you can't lose? What is the name of the stage of quantum transition that we are living through now?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Life, for some it's a game. But for me, this is a certain spiritual work and at the same time an opportunity for greater happiness, greater joy, because I bring Light to others.

What is the stage now, what is it called? We do not classify the stages of the quantum transition by any numbers or names.

Question: Talk to Mikhail Lomonosov.

Irina: Yes, it's also interesting to talk to him.

Question: Please invite me on a trip to your planets.

Irina: In the physical or in the astral? Please clarify.

1:08:03 Mental retardation, causes.

Question: What are the common reasons that a person is born with mental retardation? My daughter is studying at the Faculty of Oligo, she is interested.

Irina: Dear ones, each case is individual. Mental retardation is a type of brain damage that prevents the Spirit from fully expressing its intelligence. He shows more instincts; for example, he has a weak memory, he cannot remember speech, and so on. And for this reason, psychological and psychiatric disorders are formed.

For what reason does the Spirit choose such a body? It often happens that such a Spirit has agreed with his parents that he will incarnate in such a body so that they can take selfless care of him, without expecting anything in return. That is, for the development of love. After all, if he is a serious oligophrenic, he is disabled. And even when he grows up, he will be a helpless person who needs Love, care and care without expectations from him, as from a mentally healthy child. His parents expect him to become an adult, get a job, give birth to grandchildren, and so on.

And here it's simply about a person who cannot repay you with anything. This happens to develop such Love.

Question: Who did Gennady Kharitonov contact with?

Irina: He had physical contact with subtle-material civilizations.

So, they clarified that the girl wants physical contact. We are not resolving this issue. You need to turn through your Higher Self to your curators that you have now. And ask them to raise this issue with the Interstellar Union Contacts Commission. Only they can authorize contact with you. We do not work on this commission.

1:10:37 IVF. Internal anxiety.

Question: IVF. How to get rid of internal anxiety?

Irina: Through IVF the same Souls are incarnated as in the usual way. Only they chose to come in this way, through such a body, through these parents. This means that they will have to live their life's journey as just such a child, grow up and also fulfill their life's tasks.

How to get rid of internal anxiety? Recognize its causes. Ask: What worries me? What will happen to me if what I am worried about happens? Identify your fears and blocks. And when you peel off cover by cover from your anxiety (its clothes, like peeling a head of cabbage), then you will see inside that you have absolutely nothing to fear.

But for this you need to be completely confident in yourself and in the protection of God. Ask yourself, how much do you trust God and the space where God is around you that you have anxiety? This is such a moment of distrust in God.

1:12:03 Communication with the brownie.

Question: Is it possible to communicate with a brownie? Does it make sense to put milk?

Irina: How I love you. (MidgasCaus) Why?

I don't even know what to answer him or you. If you really want to supply milk to the brownie, there is nothing wrong with that. This is just your tribute. But this is a form of sacrifice to the plasmoid that is the guardian of your home. He does not eat natural milk. He has a thin body.

Therefore, you can simply mentally or out loud thank him, sit in the house and say: "Guardian Spirit of my home, I thank you for existing. For keeping my space. For taking care of our family. For protecting our home, the space of our family egregor from negativity. I send you the Light of my Love."

He will gladly accept the light of your Love. Eats is an earthly term, but he will rejoice that you filled him with Light. And milk is a dense material product. It's better to drink it yourself, give it to a child, or feed a cat on the street.

Question: If you call the Higher Self in a lucid dream, will it come?

Irina: Yes, of course. It will come to you in the image in which it wants to appear. Usually this is an image of a person of your gender. Maybe you'll even see yourself.

Question: Are you familiar with the Spirit of the singer Snezhina?

Irina: No, unfortunately, I don't know.

Question: Does a residential building according to Vastu affect the quality of life?

Irina: What is Vasta?

1:14:30 Protection from magical influence.

Question: How to protect yourself from magical influence? I sent the brownie Light, he asked to remove it.

Irina: Remove what?

How to protect yourself from magical influence? Your best defense against magical influence is the Light of your Love, trust, happiness in joy and readiness to help any person. No one can defeat this Light, because it is Divine Light.

1:15:20 Spiritual level of Irina Podzorova.

Question: What level am I from, and how many lives do I have?

Irina: I am currently on my 368th incarnation in the material world. I incarnated from the twenty-first level.

Did the light burn your brownie? Ask him mentally: "What kind of energy do you like?” It will be very interesting what he will answer you.

Question: Does the location of rooms on the cardinal points greatly increase vibrations in everyday life?

Irina: The location of rooms on the cardinal points affects a person’s life, his Spirit, only if he himself believes in it. His faith influences him. Remember the words of Christ: “According to your faith be it done to you”? If you believe in this, then your body and your Spirit will act, emitting the energies that you command them with your faith.

Faith is such a driving force of the Soul. The motive power of our muscles is physical energy: oxygen, nutrients. And the driving force of the Soul is its faith. If a person does not believe in something, he will not achieve it.

1:17:09 Spiritual causes of visual impairment.

Question: What are the spiritual reasons for having a child with a visual impairment?

Irina: The mentors embodied him in such a body to show you that in his past life he did not perceive something, did not see something. If he was born this way, his Spirit brought from a past life some strong block that is associated with rejection of reality. There was something he didn't want to see there. And it was now reflected in his body.

Why through you? This means that it is you who can help him deal with this karmic knot, untie it, so that in the next life, in the next incarnation, he can be incarnated in a healthy body and continue his development.

1:18:12 Cause of sleep paralysis.

Question: What causes sleep paralysis?

Irina: When your body falls asleep, and you went to the Astral, the brain of the body releases hormones into the blood that paralyze the muscles of your body so that the physical body does not repeat the movements of the astral: in the Astral you fly, move, with someone, perhaps, you fight, you perhaps love someone, you hug. So that the physical body does not repeat these movements, which are transmitted along the vital thread into the body. When the Soul flies to the Astral, it is connected to the body by a thread of vital force. To prevent the body from repeating movements, there is sleep paralysis. So that you don't get up, don't walk. But when the body returns to the physical body too quickly, when the body has not yet woken up for some reason, for example, in the Astral someone scared the Soul, you, the astral body, and it rushed into its physical shell, despite the fact that it I haven't woken up yet. And the hormones are still in the blood, and the muscles are paralyzed. The man opened his eyes, woke up, but could not move. It may seem to him that he is being crushed, that something is sitting on him. This is because his chest presses down on the diaphragm with which he breathes, the muscle that is involved in breathing.

To get out of sleep paralysis, you need to turn on your body. There is no need to be afraid of anything, this is an absolutely safe state. This is where fear brings harm. Just concentrate on the tip of your finger, for example, on your right hand and just move it. First, move it, then clench your hand into a fist, then your muscles will turn on and you will be able to move and stand up.

1:20:52 Healing in the Astral. Epilepsy.

Question: Cure in the Astral plane, heal epilepsy.

Irina: In the Astral you can heal yourself. If this is a lucid dream, create an image of a healthy body and transfer this image to the physical body. From this it will gradually recover and be healed. But we need to remove the spiritual cause of the disease.

And I gradually move on to epilepsy. Epilepsy can be cured, but only by eliminating the spiritual causes of the disease and physical support of the brain, which produces such energies that cause the muscles to behave uncontrollably. That is, the brain emits an uncontrolled signal.

Epilepsy is a lack of control. This is the fear that a person does not control his life. You need to work with this fear. If you manage to dissolve it and remove it, then the brain will stop sending these signals about uncontrolled contraction to the muscles. And, accordingly, there will be no cramps.

Question: How to communicate with Mead through the Higher Self?

Irina: So say: “My Higher Self, can I talk to MidgasKaus?” You need to give your full name. “Higher Self, I salute you. May I speak to MidgasKaus from the planet Esler?" But to ask a question like that, you first need to come up with a question for Mead. What exactly do you want to ask Mead? If the Higher Self tells you “yes,” then say: “Higher Self, I ask you to invite the Spirit of MidgasKaus from the planet Esler to contact.”

There are no boundaries in the Spiritual world. He can feel, take on your image and can either go to you in the Astral plane himself, or send his phantom with the task of finding out who it is that wants to make contact and why.

1:24:02 Causes of vision impairment.

Question: If vision begins to change by the age of seven and is passed on from mother to daughter, what is the reason?

Irina: Thank you for the clarification, it’s more clear now. If a child was not born with poor vision, it will begin to deteriorate during life. Indeed, it often happens that this is influenced by the energy of the parents. If the mother of this child has problems with vision, it means that she herself has a block, usually in the sixth chakra, which was formed from her reluctance to see something in herself or in the world around her.

And the body responds by reducing the intensity of the flow of visual signals from the retina along the optic nerve to the cerebral cortex. A person begins to see poorly and distinguish some images. The body fulfills the desire of the Spirit in this case, it does not want to see something. The child is energetically connected with his parents until he is 14 years old. If this woman has a child under 14 years of age, the mother's energy can affect the child's energy and cause a corresponding block in his body. Because parents share blocks with their children, they have a single field.

To help your granddaughter, your daughter needs to go to the Higher Self and dissolve this block. And gradually the granddaughter's vision will improve, because the body needs time to restore the damage that exists.

Thank you. And I send you the Light of my Love.

1:26:04 Reasons for the birth of twins and triplets.

Question: Why are twins or triplets born in a family? Every night someone scratches in the corner after midnight.

Irina: Interesting. Twins and triplets are born in a family for the reason that mom and dad, when they were in the Spiritual world, agreed with the Spirits of these children - these are different Spirits in different bodies - that they would be born at the same time in order to grow and develop together. In twins and triplets, those children are often born whose Spirits were familiar with each other in past incarnations and interacted very closely in the Spiritual world. They decide to go to incarnation together through one mother's womb; they do not want to separate.

Someone is scratching in the corner after midnight. Before thinking about mysticism, try to exclude physical causes and examine this place. Perhaps there are some animals or insects that are nocturnal. And if you see that there are no signs of the existence of these animals, you can mentally turn to the Higher Self through your Higher Self and invite the Spirit of the house for a conversation. Each person can talk with the Spirit of his home, with the brownie.

Invite him, welcome him. Ask his name, thank him for his protection. And ask him what is happening, who it could be, what is it for? The spirit of the house knows perfectly well who comes to your home and why on a subtle level.

1:28:38 Treatment of dermatitis.

Question: Dermatitis, how to treat?

Irina: Thank you very much about the T-shirts.

Dermatitis. Skin is an indicator of the state of your emotions. In general, the work of the second chakra, which is responsible for the manifestation of emotions, is responsible for the skin, hair, and nails. Psychological dermatitis very often occurs for the reason that a person is irritated with someone, takes offense at someone in his close circle, and his skin shows that he cannot stand the presence of this person.

As for physical reasons, intoxication, infection with various parasites, microbes, protozoa are possible; metabolism in the liver and kidneys may be disrupted, when toxins begin to come out not through the kidney filter or through the intestines. And many toxins begin to come out through the natural skin filter. The skin also releases toxins. Perhaps your cleansing is happening on an energetic or physical level.

Perhaps, if it is an allergy to something, the immune system is impaired. It also has a spiritual reason. There is something you can't stand in everyday life.

Okay, we already have enough time. Let's have a few more questions.

1:30:50 The cause of moles in humans.

Question: What is the cause of moles for most earthlings?

Irina: In places where clusters of cells stained with melanin pigment appear, moles are often inherited. That is, it is a family seal. They also often appear during the formation of the physical body and are a reflection of the qualities of the Spirit that he lived in past lives. It's like signs.

1:31:43 Causes of nevus and dark spots on the body.

Question: Why was I born with more than 50% nevus and many dark spots on the body?

Irina: A nevus is a large birthmark. For what reason did you acquire this skin color? This is also a type of appearance feature that the Spirit chose during incarnation. For some internal spiritual reasons, he formed such a body for himself, such a color. You need to ask his Higher Self. Mom or Dad can do this. He can turn to the child's Higher Self and ask why he chose to incarnate in a body that distributed melanin in such a way.

Question: Why does a person sneeze?

Irina: In order to cleanse the nasal airways from dust particles, microbes or metabolic products that are found in the nasal mucus. Serious response from Mead. And in order to be able to breathe more deeply, let's say this.

1:33:33 The reason for the devil's anger. The concept of "fear of God".

Question: Why is the devil so evil?

Irina: Yes, he was at a high level. But his choice was not to accept the laws of God, not to accept the Love of God, and he blamed God for everything. This is hostility towards the creator. Resentment towards Him for not fulfilling some desires that He wanted. This is why he is so angry.

Anger is generally an emotion when something doesn't go our way.

Question: What is the fear of God? The Bible often says "fear of the Lord," "fear of God."

Irina: Let's take this question and we'll finish it.

The fear of God is a figurative expression that is understandable only to the spiritual heart, and not to the mind, which is accustomed to understand the word "fear" as fear of someone, of something. Something that scares us. We remember that God is Love, there are the highest energies of Love, life, Light, which does not wish harm to anyone. This is in all religions. And such fear as before a person, before God, is impossible. He does not want to be feared like some creature who does not love.

The fear of God is understood as such a feeling of a person's emotions when he experiences the fear of lowering his vibrations, let's say so. Get out of this Divine Light of Love. More simply, more figuratively speaking, the fear of God is the fear of being left without the presence of God. To be left without God. Becoming incapable of feeling. Fear of sinning, in our opinion, of committing some sin, some bad deed.

For example, a person has the idea of being rude, hitting, or stealing. Some thought, temptation. But he is afraid to do it. But not because God will punish him, or someone will punish him. For example, no one will see this; he is not afraid of physical punishment on Earth. But he may think that by doing this he will lower his vibrations, sin, and God will turn away from him, or he will turn away from God. He will fall into darkness, under dark vibrations. The fear of losing God's presence in your Soul, in your spiritual heart - this is the fear of God.

Dear friends, I thank you for supporting the Cassiopeia project, for supporting me personally, for the fact that you each carry the Light of Love in your individual world, each in your spiritual heart.

Each of you is a unique personality, a whole universe of possibilities, thoughts, feelings, memory, imagination. Every thought you have is visible to God. He hears your every prayer. He evaluates your every feeling on His scales, whose name is Love.

I thank you for these feelings. Thank you for your kind words to me, of which there are many. For your hearts, for being with us. I hope to continue these VKontakte meetings. Make them a good tradition of our Cassiopeia project. I send you the Light of my Love. Yes, I feel such a response from you.

Thank you. And I love you. I feel the oncoming Light from the phone screen. Dear friends, see you again. Good evening, morning, night, day everyone. Good day. And I wish you happiness, Love, health in this life and maximum fulfillment in this incarnation to everyone.

#447 Warrior's karma and the rules of constructive war. The value of life. Alien technology in Dr. Egypt.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=taDZSHdoL08

00:20 The spiritual cause of wars on Earth.

Vladimir: How to assess what is the karma of a warrior who fights in a war? And at the same time, what is the karma of a warrior (another question) who kills civilians?

Irina: Wars, military actions with the goal of disembodiing as many inhabitants of some other tribe as possible, have been on Earth almost always, at different times with different frequency, which was noted by various alien researchers who flew to Earth.

Including when Krishna arrived and a series of wars began, one of which is known as the Battle of Kurukshetra. But it was actually not one war. She was one of many at that time between different tribes on Earth, which also involved aliens in the sense that contactees took from them some object at their contacts that would allow them to build cities, for example, carve the same pyramids, and directed these weapons on your enemies. The story is already known, you were told it at a conference on the Egyptian pyramids. Indeed, many specialists of the Interstellar Union at this time were refused to work further on Earth for transferring technology to earthlings, who used them to kill other tribes, and some ended up on the planet of criminals, although they were not directly involved in these actions.

Krishna at that time, in addition to the Bhagavad Gita, in which he talked with Arjuna about the laws of the Universe and the Spiritual world, also spoke before and after the war with various scientists of that time, in your opinion, like magicians, priests. He talked to them and conveyed to them various laws that people were supposed to use for their growth and development. But when he was asked: “How should we fight?” - At first he answered them that the warriors should stop. But when he saw how much negativity accumulates in the noosphere of the Earth from the fact that there is discord in families (the husband hates his wife, the wife is jealous of her husband), that is, some negative emotions that fall into the noosphere of the Earth in peacetime, it all accumulates there and then he reaches the physical level, he realized that it is impossible at this stage of development to completely stop wars. Every person should have high awareness. Then he gave the rules for constructive war, in which a warrior will not greatly influence his karma, his vibrations.

03:49 Krishna on the rules of constructive war.

Irina: One of the main rules of this constructive war according to the laws of God, if you can talk about it that way. At that time it was so - Krishna was God for them, he was a being who descended from heaven, from a high spiritual level, naturally, who also realized himself as one with God, like Jesus.

He gave these rules. If you want to fight, two armies from two cities or from two countries must fight (so as not to spoil your karma) precisely between each other. Go out into an open field, take up a weapon, first try to come to an agreement among yourself, to reconcile. First, arrange negotiations. If this doesn't work out, then fight against each other on the field. And going into a city and fighting in a city where there are civilians - this (it was believed) has a very negative effect on karma.

Because when a soldier fights in his own or someone else's city, he attracts danger from enemy soldiers to civilians. It was believed that this would negatively affect his karma. If he went out to fight, to defend this city beyond its borders and is already defending there, this did not negatively affect his karma. And if he is in the city, the enemy attacks him, and he begins to defend himself, does not go outside the city, which means he poses the danger that they will destroy everyone.

Similar rules for waging war were already used by Jews and Israelis at the moment when they left Egypt and went to reclaim the promised land, the land of Palestine. There was a time when other nations took it away while the Jews were in slavery. Yahweh, who, by the way, was incarnated by Christ on Tumesout, with the help of Moses, led them out of Egypt and sent them to his land. And since other peoples already lived there and were not going to cede to them the land that they already considered theirs, it was necessary to conquer it back.

Initially, Yahweh settled them in this land. He sent Abraham, the first Jew, to this land. Due to the absence of this people from this land while they were in slavery, it was captured by other tribes who had lived there for 400 years. Even under these conditions, there were still rules of war.

Yahweh conveyed to Moses and Aaron the rules of warfare, one might say, in God's light. First, approach the city and offer it to surrender, that is, to vacate this place, or to come under the protection of the Jewish people, or to go to another land. It was proposed not to attack immediately, but to try to negotiate peacefully, to say: “Abraham, our ancestor lived here, God gave him this land, and now he is bringing us back here.” For the ancients, this was an argument; they all believed in gods. If they don’t listen, then fight. And then there were rules according to which, for example, it was forbidden to show excessive cruelty. You can read everything in the Torah, it's all written.

08:18 Karma .

Irina: What is karma? This is the totality of all vibrations in the spiritual heart at the moment of exit from incarnation.

If during the war a soldier on either side did not feel hatred for his enemy, forgave him, but fought simply out of necessity, which he perceived as good, but at the same time did not have hatred, he went to a higher level. If at the same time he fought and had hatred, then upon his disincarnation he went to a low level.

Hatred is precisely the feeling when you don’t want to see some creature or person. That is, it’s like crossing it out of God’s plan for the Universe.

If this feeling was not there, if there was forgiveness, understanding even of the position of the enemy, understanding that he is fighting, for example, with you, because the ruler sent him, and if he does not go, then he will be killed, from this position he fought - this brought a higher level. This was especially important before the battle, because they could disincarnate in any battle. And at the moment of disincarnation, what feelings he had in his heart, he went to that spiritual level.

09:56 Warriors in the Astral after disembodiment.

Irina: And, by the way, I was a guiding angel (shows pictures), I was incarnated from there. And MidgasKaus was a guiding angel, he reminds me of paintings now. Guide angels are those who meet Spirits after disembodiment and escort them to incarnation.

So, during wars and major battles, the Angel Guides have a lot of work to do. They fly in a large gathering to this place in the Astral and begin to meet Souls, especially those who are in shock from the sudden disincarnation. And it so happens that soldiers from warring armies are at approximately the same vibration level and disincarnate. And if they find themselves at a high level after disembodiment, then they will learn there that they are, as it were, Angels, and they no longer have these material circumstances that were conditioned by their bodies for enmity. And they rush into each other's arms.

And if they both disincarnate at low levels from one army and from another, they may not even notice that they have lost their body and continue to fight there. But it is already impossible to kill the Spirit there. The angels begin to explain to them that it is too late to fight, they have lost their body.

11:27 MidgasKaus about the siege of fortresses.

Vladimir: Some attacking army, in the abstract, approached the city, and this is a fortified city. Naturally, it turns out that there are both civilians and troops outside the fortress walls. So they need to go out into an open field, where a superior army will definitely defeat them? They can't fight inside this fortified city, defend themselves, or what?

Irina: Now I'm talking about the fact that Krishna gave such a rule that if you see that the army is superior to yours, in order not to incur needless disincarnation, you must create all the conditions for reconciliation with this army, accept its conditions. Because the deterioration of material living conditions, for example, tribute or something else, was considered less spiritually dangerous than disembodiment in a state of hatred. Money or some other tribute paid to the enemy made it possible to still live and continue to fulfill the lessons of one's incarnation.

It was not material goods that were put in first place, but the life of this person. Moreover, considering that if they did not agree to peace, and, indeed, there were superior numbers, then all they will achieve is that there will be a siege, they will block all the routes along which food is brought in. The war can continue for a very long time, because the besiegers have the opportunity, for example, to receive water and food from all sides, but the besieged do not have this opportunity. The besiegers have an advantage over the besieged. And they may not even attack the city, just block it so that there will be no water or food. If there is a river flowing there, block it too. Don't even attack the walls, don't waste military strength, the lives of your soldiers, but just sit around and wait.

Vladimir: It's better to give up in this situation, right?

Irina: Then they themselves, weakened from hunger, will encourage their soldiers to surrender this fortress. Because children and women are very sensitive to hunger.

There were, for example, cases when in a besieged city for many months they subsisted on some kind of minimal bread and water; they had some grain left over there. It was somewhere in the east, in China. This happened a long time ago, between the Chinese army and some other, some Japanese tribe. They besieged a fortress (the Japanese), somewhere near the ocean, where a river flowed into this city. This was back in the first centuries of your Christian era. But despite the fact that there was little biological and medical knowledge, people already knew many things from experience. The corpses of animals that died from the plague were thrown into the river that flowed into the besieged fortress. All this water flowed into this fortress. After 14 days, everyone who drank this water was already seriously ill with the plague and with a high fever, they could not defend themselves, and the besiegers entered it. This was the way.

Vladimir: I heard the point of view, we must give up.

Irina: There it is already necessary to compare. If they demand, for example, the destruction of a people, then surrendering in this case means exposing them to death. And this is no longer love either for one's people or for those who came in war. Because this will help lower their vibrations. Here you need to compare that, for example, the value of life is higher than the value of material goods.

15:59 Spiritual rules for storming fortresses.

Vladimir: If the army does not come out into the open field, then the soldiers of the attacking army, who are already destroying civilians because the army did not come out, are there no additional karma for them? It is believed that they are simply fighting according to the rules, even if they are already civilians, since this army has not left the city - is that true or not?

Irina: Yahweh gave the following rules of war: when they did not leave the city, it was just the rule to besiege this city and fight anyway, storm this fortress and fight with the soldiers, they will still be there. And fight with a civilian only if he takes up a weapon. He is already turning from a peaceful person into a warrior. Even if it's a woman. If, for example, she took a spear and began to defend her fortress, she automatically turned from a simple peaceful woman into a dangerous warrior, whom the soldiers could also, not just could, but were obliged to kill during the storming of this fortress.

Vladimir: I understand, okay. The answer is clear. Civilians are still not allowed, even if there is an army there.

Irina: Only if they take weapons.

17:14 Spiritual responsibility and modern weapons.

Vladimir: With modern weapons we have a different situation there, which is not selective, but sometimes it doesn't matter. Fine.

Irina: I think it influences karma even more. Because modern weapons are not spears or swords, not edged weapons. These are certain systems that cause destruction at a distance. If, for example, some soldiers hid in the same house where civilians live, then by doing so they caused death. Both are already responsible for the deaths of civilians. If their enemies, for example, sent a bomb or a missile into a residential building where these soldiers are hiding, then both those who threw this missile and those who hid there will be responsible for the deaths of these civilians.

#448 Murders and military conflicts on Earth – whose responsibility? The power of forgiveness. Help from aliens.

00:20 The spiritual side of the victim's relationship with the killer.

Vladimir: I would like to highlight what should someone who wants to be killed work on? On a spiritual level, they probably know about this.

Irina: What should he work on...

Vladimir: Who do they want to kill if he knows about it? Because if he doesn't know, then how can he work on it.

Irina: Of course, to reconcile with the person. If he knows about this, that they want to kill him, he must do everything possible to prevent this from happening - reconcile with the person. Because allowing yourself to be killed without reconciling and without defending yourself means, firstly, a lack of love for your body, for your life, and this is already a lack of Love and, in fact, for the Soul, for the Soul of the one who kills. Because this is both dislike for your body and dislike for the Soul of the one to whom you allowed to kill you. Because any murder is a violation of the Divine law, which is given in the commandment prohibiting murder. This is given so that the will of intelligent living beings does not interfere with the plan of incarnations. After all, a murderer, he does not know what his plan for implementation is, that of his victim. Maybe he has an implementation plan to relive this negative experience, which, one might say, turned the killer against this victim. And if he kills, then with this negative load he will go to the Spiritual world. But here again you also need to look at the reason for the murder. Either this is the reason for protecting your life, or this is the reason for some kind of revenge. These will be completely different answers.

The more specific the question, the more specific the answer will be. In general, there are enough reasons.

02:29 The spiritual cause of wars. Actions of people to stop wars.

Vladimir: Irina, how can we now, using the Science of imagery, bring the world closer? Practically.

Irina: Even Russia-Ukraine, even Russia-Syria, even Israel-Palestine - any wars, they are an outlet for the accumulated energies of aggression on the physical level. To reduce the duration and degree of anger of people in this war, that is, to make it less long and less bloody, it is necessary to gather in groups every day and conduct meditations on the Science of imagery, directing the Light of Love to the image of the Earth and thereby cleansing the noosphere of the Earth. The same meditation that I showed together with our curators. I showed it to you on February 22. This must be done every day: gather in groups or watch it yourself, turn on the meditation from February 22 and do everything that is said there. It is available on our channel, and the more people do it, the faster what is now coming out in the form of physical war will be cleared.

This is not just an action - it is an exit to the physical level of the aggression that had previously accumulated in our noosphere. And not only in Ukraine and Russia, but also in all countries where military operations are currently taking place.

Now the Earth has begun a new stage of quantum transition. And now this quantum transition has brought a harmonious increase in the vibrations of the quanta of matter. This will, among other things, contribute to the cessation of military conflicts, and people will simply want to make peace, so to speak, no matter what they quarrel about. After all, any war begins first with some minor quarrel, then it reaches the general level. And they may even forget about the original reason. There, anger already responds to another, that is, aggression responds to another aggression.

04:29 Stages of forgiving a criminal.

Vladimir: Our next question is. How to forgive another person if he killed your child or relative?

Irina: How do you forgive yourself when you kill your child? First, if you want to forgive another, you must first understand him. The first stage of forgiveness is acceptance. But acceptance is accompanied first by understanding the other person. Until you understand what motivated him when he did this, you will not be able to accept his right to do this. And if you cannot accept his right to kill and lower your vibration, you will not be able to forgive him. You will continue to say that he had no right to do this, he is bad, he is evil, he must be punished, he must be destroyed. You will have hatred, revenge, anger - all these negative qualities that will lower your vibrations.

First, it is necessary, of course, to send Light to the Soul of the murdered person. It works very well to talk with the Soul of the murdered person, sending him the Light of Love with the following words addressed to the Soul of the murdered person: “I ask you to forgive your murderer,” that is, ask the Soul first, it is in the Spiritual world, and it is also perplexed maybe that's why they interrupted her incarnation.

Do you understand? In the Spiritual world we still have emotions, we have feelings, they go away with us. And, once we have said this, we can talk to our Higher Self, ask: “Why do we need to go through this experience? Why are we in this situation? What is the spiritual reason? - and imagine this person, if you know him, of course, who killed your child or your friend, or relative, if you know his name. If you don’t know, just imagine the image of a person, addressing him “Divine Spirit.”

In fact, all Spirits are divine. Even those who have fallen in vibration, have committed something, some kind of crime - he does not lose his divine nature, he can always return to it, that is, return to the state of Light. And you must first put yourself in his place, ask yourself why he did it, what motives he was guided by.

It is very important to understand here that understanding the motives of the criminal is in no way a justification for his actions. Here it is necessary to distinguish two things: when you understand and when you justify killing him precisely because he had to do it.

No, he did this not because he directly needed to kill, but because simply in his paradigm of reality, this was the way out.

You understand this, and you accept his right to do such an act. Why do you accept the right? Because the right to go against the laws of life, the laws of God, was given by God himself.

If you do not accept this right from another person, it means that you do not love God, who endowed other Spirits with these rights. As soon as you accepted it: “Yes, he had the right, he did something bad, he is a criminal!” Be sure to call things by their proper names. It’s not that “he’s not guilty of anything, but his sacrifice brought him to this point” - that would also be wrong to say, because it introduces distortions in the understanding of God’s law “Thou shalt not kill.”

But he has already done it, this act cannot be done differently in time ago, he has already done it. Now this must be accepted as a fact.

Next, mentally imagine the killer and say the name or call him “Divine Spirit” if you don’t know the name - “I forgive you for murder, for cruelty, for aggression.”

“I understand that you did this (be sure to say that you understand) because of the lack of Love in your heart.” As you understand, a person who is filled with Love will not kill because of some selfish motives, because of some kind of personal revenge. “And I send you the Light of my Love,” it must be said, “so that you are truly happy, so that you know God, and so that you become a bright Divine being.” Here we simply send him Light. We understand that he lacks this Light, and if he does not acquire it, he will remain at the same level of consciousness, this killer. That is, this will contribute to his further similar behavior.

But we send him Light. If he doesn't accept it, we simply send Light to him. And whether to accept it or not is his choice. But I want to say that this contact is real, that is, when we direct the Light to his image, it is directed to the Higher Self of this person who killed. And how he will already suggest the way out of the low vibrations of his embodied part - this is already the choice of this Spirit.

Then we forgave, let go, sent the Light of Love and already dissolved this hatred, anger, anger. We directed our life force to creation, to Love.

For what reason is it necessary to dissolve hatred and anger?

If the murder has already happened, our hatred for the murderer - it will not help neither the Soul of the murdered, nor the Soul of the murderer to become different, nor you yourself - it is simply destructive, which will further spin this wheel of karma.

Vladimir: How can our respected alien friends influence the tragic events now associated with Ukraine?

Irina: Well, how can they influence? Everyone was shot at in Afghanistan, so why didn't they have an impact?

12:05 The way out of conflicts.

Vladimir: In fact, I will paraphrase this question, as if this is already a call - influence.

Irina: In Afghanistan, in Iraq, in Yugoslavia, in Japan, and finally, World War II. The Soviet Union only lost 15 million lives - why didn't the aliens save us? Because these are our lessons.

They will not separate the fighting soldiers until they themselves are harmonized and come to a state where any order to the regiment "Go shoot" will cause him to be indignant and arrest this military figure who gives the order to kill God's children like himself.

When we reach that level of consciousness, only then will we be ready to be accepted into the Interstellar Union.

And while we are fighting with each other, while we are killing, torturing each other, we are not ready with our consciousness. They won't interfere here. Intervention in this case will only bring even more destruction.

Our military structures, which have not yet even harmonized with themselves, when they see the aliens, they will think that they are being attacked from the outside, and will defend themselves against them.

Of course, you can cut them all with a laser, but this is not a solution. This will trigger a guerrilla war against the aliens. How will they stop it now? Well, they will fly in now and tell everyone to stop the war. They won't stop, they'll point guns at them. Of course, they will defend themselves, but they still will not stop the war.

Until they themselves are ready to stop it, and the two sides sit down at the negotiating table, nothing will stop.

In conflicts (family, state) there cannot be one culprit. Everyone must realize their share of responsibility. Every.

It doesn’t happen here that you attack - you’re wrong, I defend myself - I’m right, or vice versa. There is always a mutual share of responsibility here. Until they realize and sit down at the negotiating table, nothing will work out. No matter how much you separate them, they will still accumulate evil in the Soul and try to kill each other.

#449 Intelligent civilizations of our Galaxy. Technology, ideology, science, everyday life. Space flights. Part 2.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/razumnye-civilizacii-nashej-galaktiki-tekhnologii https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=SlpgWTIAc2U

00:18 Background.

Voice-over: In the summer of 1999, a 13-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than 20 years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:12 Introduction of participants.

Valery: (Greeting in Kazakh) Salemetsizder me, kurmetti oriptester! Hello, dear colleagues! I, Valery Sedelev, member of the Cassiopeia team, Doctor of Technical Sciences, Professor, live in the city of Ust-Kamenogorsk, Republic of Kazakhstan. I have been involved in the Cassiopeia project since 2019. I am engaged in a systematic analysis of incoming information, providing it to our subscribers in tabular form.

Today I propose to continue the second part of the broadcast on civilizations not members of the Interstellar Union. Our broadcast was short, it was number 399. This will be part two. During the discussion of that broadcast (there was not much time there), a lot of interest arose. People asked additional questions. There are up to twenty comments in the discussion of each question. I think so, we will now explain all the questions that have arisen consistently in a logical form, and everyone will be happy.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today Laom Street is again present with us, who is one of the leading specialists of the Commission on contacts of the Interstellar Union, contacts with young races that are not included in the Interstellar Union. He is a resident of the planet Burkhad (or Pikran, as it is called) in the constellation Cygnus. I remind you that this is the capital of the Interstellar Union. The capital is, one might say, the informal leader of the entire "Interstellar Union" movement; in our understanding, they do not have capitals so that there would be political control there and completely dictate the will of other planets.

(Laom Street) We are more of an ideological leader.

Valery: Yes, and this is also the first civilization in the Milky Way Galaxy, as I understand it, its age is 300 million years.

Irina: Yes, the first of the humanoid ones. There were also insectoid ones before.

03:17 Laom Street personal information. Property on the planet Burhad (Pikran).

Valery: Okay. Laom Street, I have a favor to ask of you. For specialists who are interesting to us, we add some personal data to our table (I keep it, this is the main table of alien civilizations). Therefore, I will ask you to answer personal questions. How old are you in earth years?

Irina: By age in earth years 11424 years.

Valery: Do you have a family, wife, children? Can I have a little bit of this information?

Irina: Yes, I have a family, three children. First, my wife and I gave birth to them, then we took up scientific work.

Valery: What does your wife do?

Irina: My wife is studying the trajectories of asteroids in the Az2507 star system near the star Xi Cygni. Studies the trajectory of asteroids and their composition. She is an expert on this star system.

Valery: Okay. A question. What do you personally own? Do you have housing, a house, means of transportation? People are interested.

Irina: Thank you. On the planet Burhad there is a law on property. I have property, as you call it. This is an apartment in an apartment building, and the building is multi-story, round and spirals upward (shows blue, bluish walls, and clouds are painted on them).

Valery: This is from the inside.

Irina: Yes. This is not an apartment, but, one might say, one floor. There are several premises that belong to me, my wife and three children. We guarantee a separate living space for every resident of Pikran upon conception. Issued upon his separation from his parents, if he himself wishes. If not, as it happened in our family, then when all the children reached adulthood, we were given a separate room in this house for everyone, so that everyone had a separate apartment (these rooms are isolated), approximately somewhere (in your opinion) three thousand years ago. This is when my last child, my son, reached adulthood and we moved from another city.

And when we started living with my wife, we got an apartment in another city for two, it was smaller. In general, according to our laws, every resident of Burhad can receive a separate residential premises as inalienable property without the right to sell, with the right of exchange and inheritance.

Valery: I also asked about vehicles, we have cars, what about you?

Irina: I have a spaceship, even three of them. One that was given to me at work, one that is personal to me, and one that is mine and mine. You could say it's a family car for children; it can be operated by two people at the same time. It is easy to use and easy to teach children.

Valery: How do you navigate around Pikran?

Irina: If around the city, then we move on public sidewalks that move (shows: you stand on it, and it moves). And if you need to go to another city, then on special public air buses, similar to our airship, it is controlled automatically. We do not need to have a personal air bus. You can, of course, get it and buy it, but we don't have such a custom, because it will only interfere with each other in the sky. We have a lot of residents, more than 27 billion, and therefore we travel mainly by public transport, which regularly runs between the main cities. Or you can turn on planetary mode on the same starship. They fly higher and faster than buses. You can turn on the planetary engine and fly on it too. Not planetary, Irina just calls it something else planetary - between planets, but it is called atmospheric. I call it planetary. Kirchiton, her curator, calls this intra-atmospheric. One that is used to move around the planet without going into outer space.

This is Laom Street in my memory now read.

Valery: Thank you, I'll write this down in the table. What an interesting question.

10:05 Civilizations that supported the creation of the human race with resources.

Valery: Now I have this question. We know that the human race was created with the participation of the genetic fund of the primate of the Earth, the genetic fund of representatives of Burkhad, Tumesout, Selbet. But in one of the broadcasts there was information that there were six civilizations that acted as sponsors. They shared resources and didn't even fly to planet Earth. Resources, in my understanding, could be provided by ships, scientific equipment, fuel, and, in the end, paid. Only one civilization was mentioned - Sho-Hariki. I was surprised, and then I thought: "We must remember someone." Which six civilizations supported the creation of the human race and with what resources did they contribute?

Irina: The entire Interstellar Union participated with one resource or another, because its infrastructure was still used. For example, the same scientists who worked on Earth to create the earth's race could previously study or do internships at Esler. This means that Esler's teachers also participated with some of their own (albeit intellectual) resources, but they participated in the creation of your race.

Those civilizations that provided ships, biorobots and their biological material for experiments (in the beginning there were experiments with other races, but they did not lead to the development of an intelligent creature), these were three civilizations from the Lyra constellation.

These were the Sho-Hariki civilization and the Khantrass civilization (shows). It is located on the border of the constellations Coma Berenices and Canes Venatici. Brown skin, a diamond-shaped head that tapers, and longitudinal wrinkles.

And there was also the Luguar civilization, the Ti-planet of the Silver Clouds, this civilization was discovered by Esler. It is also located in the constellation Ursa Major and also provided financial support for this project. Shows similar to the Tashigans, but with white skin color and a silvery glow. They have smaller heads and are small in stature. They are now in the Interstellar Union. But they observe the development of the Earth from the outside and rarely come into contact.

Valery: I see, thank you. Did the Tashig civilization participate?

Irina: Yes, they flew in as researchers, studied the animal world of the Earth, its underwater world, they studied various animals, for example, whales, dolphins. They studied their behavior and their possibility of evolution into intelligent beings, came into contact with the plasmoids that created their Souls.

The civilization of the planet Tashig and the civilization of the planet Selbet, together, had a project that began almost immediately, about 300 years after the discovery of the Earth. They flew here on one of the first joint expeditions, on the same ship, and studied the possibility of the evolution of the primate of the Earth. But not that common ancestor of yours, but another, who looked more like a gorilla rather than a chimpanzee. This is a different primate, he was taller and had a different brain structure. And even slightly different genetics. They conducted experiments to obtain an intelligent being, but specifically with the genes of Tashig, Selbet and this creature.

But Tashig's genes turned out to be incompatible with this creature, and the Selbetians even added up to 30 percent of their genes. They got a creature, but it was unreasonable, an animal. The intelligent Spirit did not move into him. They placed him in conditions for evolution (there is a special method of raising a creature so that it develops a nervous system and gives rise to intelligent offspring). But they didn't succeed.

There was such an experiment, the whole Galaxy watched it. It is known now only to a few researchers who are interested. Now they have forgotten about it, but I studied it.

16:35 Initial levels of technological development of civilizations .

Valery: I see, thank you, such a complete answer. Now Laom Street, this question is already from subscribers: "Please briefly describe the 30 levels according to the indices of technological development of civilization from the first to the thirtieth." That's how I wanted it. Personally, I answered them like this: "Guys, the first level is to light a fire, and the thirtieth level is to fly from Galaxy to Galaxy, so divide everything into equal parts."

Irina: The first level is not lighting a fire.

Valery: That's what I answered, now I think maybe I'm wrong. We described 24 levels of awareness, maybe it's possible here too.

Irina: The first level, if very briefly (I feel so, we will now talk about this throughout the broadcast, because there are thirty levels after all), well, okay, I'll just give a description.

The first level is what distinguishes what is created by intelligent beings from what is created by animals. That is, these are the first tools of labor and processing of the environment that are used meaningfully. What does meaningful mean? They are not created by instinct. To give analogies that you understand, this is, for example, not a beehive or an anthill. These are meaningfully created tools from improvised means, stones, wooden structures of some kind (if we are now looking at the Earth), which are not always used for their intended purpose. These are the tools or weapons that distinguish this creature from an animal. For example, if two male monkeys can pick up a stone or a stick during a conflict, during a fight, then this is not considered a tool, it is simply a means at hand. And the creation of a certain form so that it can be more conveniently used for this purpose will already be a sign of the very first step.

The second step is the complication of tools. I will now immediately explain that the technological level is only called technological in earthly language, we call it the level of development of influence on the environment, on the material world. Here, not only technology is taken into account, but also the level of science, the level of culture and even religious cults, that is, a certain level of consciousness. Because the level of technology reflects the level of consciousness. Therefore, in our classification, which, as I said earlier, is only one of many, everything is taken into account in totality.

So, the second step is the complication of existing tools, their greater improvement, including the first buildings (shows buildings). Structures that are used not only for life, as was the case with animals - holes or caves. These are the first buildings or shelters that are used, first: for the purpose of burying their dead brothers, so as not to simply abandon them, as animals do, and a little later this is also accompanied by a change in the body of the deceased himself, some kind of manipulation over him. And the second is the appearance of such special buildings not for life, but for the practice of some kind of religious cult, the worship of something higher. Why does this appear in an intelligent incarnate Spirit? Because, unlike an animal, he has a rational Spirit that came from the Spiritual world. He will strive (even with the most primitive tools) to make himself a separate space for his sacred rites.

Valery: I see. I'll interrupt, I now understand how much is required to describe each level.

Irina: Yes, it looks like I need to write it.

Valery: This article probably needs to be written.

Irina: How long will it take me to write it...

Valery: Yes, I would write, but I probably also need to connect then.

Irina: But the third level is the emergence of power over the elements, this can be fire, water, and wind, depending on the planet.

Valery: Does the steam engine belong there?

Irina: No. This is simply the ability, for example, to make a fire, to get it ourselves (if we look at the Earth). Do not take it from a tree set on fire by lightning, but rather the ability to get it yourself. Usually animals are afraid of fire, afraid to approach it, but the rational Spirit - he already understands that he can master it, but at the first two stages he does not understand how. Of course, it can all be connected; we say conventionally that the first level is when, even without fire, they process something there. The second level is when they don't just throw away a deceased member of their tribe, as was the case in a herd of animals, but do something with him, somehow decorate him and take him somewhere to a separate place, that is, they take care of him, unlike animals.

And the third is an attempt at some kind of power over the elements, for example, over fire.

In short, I have to write.

Valery: Irina, Laom Street, then let's do this: we described what level of civilization there was on Venus before the war. He was around four, right?

Irina: Yes.

Valery: And we'll limit ourselves to this then, because we're on the twelfth.

Irina: The fourth level is the creation of certain tools, weapons with the help of fire. This could be, for example, the extraction of some simple minerals from which metals are obtained.

Valery: Blacksmithing.

Irina: Yes, but these will be exactly those that are common in nature, which can be extracted without any complex technological developments. And this level of consciousness corresponds to civilizations in which metals were used for weapons, to create some kind of jewelry. This is the use of all kinds of precious stones.

But the fifth level is the complication of blacksmithing, and the beginning of taming animals. They begin to adapt the animal world to their needs.

Valery: Everything is clear. Let's stop here on this issue. Because it is very interesting. I understand that since the development of nuclear energy is the 12th level, then we must somehow understand these levels for ourselves. And I think our subscribers will now understand that this is not a simple question.

Irina: They determine the level of consciousness. For example, the fourth level is characterized by a certain level of consciousness, when great importance is attached to weapons.

Some social formations are being formed that have a tribal leader, for example. The unification under one leadership is already underway. You know who can be the leader of a tribe; the strongest and most intelligent person becomes it. The rest of the people either came under his command or were in danger of being robbed and killed by another leader of the same kind.

When these people reproduce, for example, food is not only scarce, but difficult to obtain, and there is already a struggle going on. Some people come under the authority of others voluntarily, and if they don't, they can be killed. The leader, first of all, is a protector from someone else, and on the basis of this they begin to make more advanced weapons. When they start smelting metal, even some primitive tools, this is already the fourth stage.

Venus also had its own mineral resources. The use of alloys and performing precision processing work (carving metals, cutting stones with other stones or metals without significant damage to the stone itself, creating all sorts of figurines) is already the sixth level.

Valery: Let's pause, I think if we meet again, we can do this thing piece by piece. Then I will make a general table. I feel sorry for other issues; they will not be touched upon here. Fine?

Irina: Yes.

Valery: Agreed. This is the question. Returning to civilizations equal to Earth, we determined in the past ether completely in digital terms how many there are and what they are like. Are there any of these civilizations that were attacked and destroyed in the same way as the Earth 12 thousand years ago?

Irina: No, we didn't have that. There were wars on the planets themselves, a neighboring civilization attacked or was attacked, which could have arrived from another star system (but was not a member of the Interstellar Union). But to be a member of the Interstellar Union, this happened for the first time. For a civilization that was part of the Interstellar Union to attack someone, it was a shock!

Valery: Everything is clear. We are unique in every way.

Irina: I was born, one might say, almost immediately after this war, on Pikran. My entire childhood was spent in surprise. My parents, my friends, and also at school constantly talked about their shock. About the surprise with which we learned that our friends and comrades, who walked with us towards the Light, wanted to spread intelligent life throughout the Galaxy in order to improve this Galaxy and join other unions of other galaxies, to use every cubic parsec of space for the purpose of intelligent cooperation of worlds (as they said in the Interstellar Union), they so boldly and quickly rejected this ideology of ours. An ideology to which we remained faithful. It seemed unthinkable to us (and to me as a child). And only later I learned, when I began to study political science, that even within the most prosperous societies a conspiracy of destructive forces can be hidden.

32:30 Ashtar Sheran Service in the Solar System.

Valery: Everything is clear. Next question.

Irina: Likes to speculate, right?

Valery: I became scared myself. Are the planets of civilizations that are not members of the Interstellar Union protected by the Interstellar Union and the GFS, similar to the Ashtar Sheran Service in the Solar System?

Irina: Exactly, so that they can fly around the planet?

Valery: Yes, to keep it in order.

Irina: You know, there is no such security anywhere else. And, by the way, this was Ashtar Sheran's personal decision.

Valery: Oh! It should be noted separately.

Irina: He didn't even bother building another planet for himself near any star, he has been flying on the ship for thousands of years. It has already been flying for 12,000 years; it itself is already more than 15 thousand years old. When he flies to one of his bases or to another planet, of course, he walks around it, but almost his entire life is spent on his ship. He sometimes does not stand on solid ground in the natural environment for years.

34:00 Planet Skhureo, equal to Earth in development.

Valery: I can imagine! All clear. Next question. In the previous broadcast, we began to name a planet in one of the civilizations, which is very similar in structure to the earth's. I only remembered two letters: C, X and something else. Then our broadcast was cut off. Is it possible now to characterize some planet that is located in some star system, equal to us in development? What kind of humanoids live there, what do they look like? Let's start with the name at least.

Irina: Let's go. Do you mean Shureo? It is located in the constellation Bootes at a distance of 326 light years from Earth, when viewed from Arcturus (map shows), it is down and to the left towards the constellation Corona Borealis.

Valery: Okay, then I'll ask short questions. What is the mass of this planet? Can you say in kilograms?

Irina: You need to look at the table.

Valery: Okay. Its distance from its star?

Irina: This star is quite large, it has a spectral class, higher in energy than your Sun. Maybe 700 million kilometers.

Valery: I see. Then what is the length of the day in earthly hours, and the length of the year?

Irina: They need to look at the table. This is not just information that will be available to him. They only have it available in special tables. Even to talk about Picran, he must look into special tables. They don't remember such things. Or they remember it specifically for contacts.

Valery: Okay. It's OK. Then what do these humanoids look like, what is their height, life expectancy, appearance?

Irina: Yes, this civilization is similar to yours, but outwardly they are different. They evolved from the likeness of sea turtles, and therefore they have not only a shell, but tough skin. Although they feed their children with something like milk, it is not milk, but some kind of special liquid. It protrudes from special glands at the back of the head. They are oviparous. They have dark green, hard skin that you can knock on. A triangular head, two eyes, a round mouth, and a triangular hole where the nose should be. These are the creatures they are.

They walk on two legs, with membranes between their legs. In the water lived, aquatic organisms, membranes between the toes. They have four fingers, and their hands have long fingers that bend at four joints.

Valery: What is their life expectancy?

Irina: Life expectancy currently in Earth years is around 250-300 years, practically equal to life expectancy on Daraal.

Valery: What about average height?

Irina: Twenty meters, thirty meters.

Valery: Do you have a contactee there?

Irina: No, I don’t have contactees there, I specialize more in humanoid races. This one is considered neither humanoid nor reptilian, but a transitional type.

Valery: I see. They are close to us relative to others.

Irina: Yes, I wanted to talk about this planet, because they are close to you not even in biology, but rather in consciousness. They also have many different countries, now they have about 11 billion people. They have 93 countries that are constantly at war with each other. Burkhad has contactees there, but not me, others.

And how are they similar to you? There are also those who are keen on spiritual development, and those who are at the top of the social pyramid, those who are in power, can prohibit this. They are chasing them. They also have very developed materialism, that is, some of them also want to join the Interstellar Union, but some are not ready, this happens like you do on Earth.

There are also wars, there is even a semblance of abortion, only they do not destroy children who were not born, but destroy laid eggs. Moreover, they have such a belief that if their woman becomes pregnant for the third time and lays eggs, they lay four of them at once, a group of Souls incarnates, she must, together with her man, with her husband (as it will be in your opinion) share a meal consisting of these eggs. A custom that their government is fighting against. In some countries this is legal, no one prevents it. They also have religious organizations created by the Interstellar Union that deny this behavior.

They also have the death penalty, and they even have the death penalty for theft from any official or for long-term non-payment of taxes.

Valery: What technological development index are they on?

Irina: At level 13.

Valery: So they own nuclear energy.

Irina: The next level after you. Yes, they have nuclear energy, they use it, they have very large deposits of uranium. Moreover, their scientists are already creating artificial elements.

They already had, even before contact, several local nuclear wars, but they were limited to individual strikes. There were no Interstellar Union bases there yet, and then, when these strikes occurred, our friends, who were present at the base on their satellite - they also have a satellite, began to clear the area of radiation.

Then it was decided to create bases under this planet in order to prevent further cases of sabotage. And since this planet is very densely populated, the Interstellar Union faced significant difficulties. There were even clashes with their military units that attacked. They have special instruments that read the radiation from our ships. They have nuclear weapons, nuclear power plants.

Why are they at level 13? They are already quite actively flying in space. They have even sent an expedition to neighboring stars. But their spaceships, which they themselves created, are based on the rapid release of light radiation in the form of a beam (showing how this beam bends, and due to the fact that it bends in a vacuum, it pushes this ship). These are not the same as gravity engines. The speed of such an interstellar ship is low. In order for them to fly to a neighboring star in the region of six light years, they need about two Earth months.

Valery: We are far from that. All clear.

45:45 Art on the planet Skhureo.

Valery: In general, I had questions about the war, about something else, do they have art?

Irina: Art? Yes, they have art. But it is in the service of government forces, which in every country that exists there praises its own way of life and criticizes all others. Various means can be used. They have an analogue of your television, only it is more advanced. It conveys more of the reality of what is happening. They can use special computer programs too. They have artificial intelligence that uses images of other countries to create negativity and hatred. For example, they can show about neighboring countries, with whom they are at enmity, that they are involved in some kind of crimes or something else in their country, although this will simply be a false image to create a certain emotion. They have such manipulation with the help of political technologies.

Valery: I propose to close this issue, Irina understands why. It's better not to say, everything is similar to ours.

Irina: Does this remind you of Shureo? He now asked: "Does this Shureo resemble Earth?"

Valery: Yes. I propose to close the question.

Irina: Reminds me. He now says: "What exactly does it remind you of? Because there are many countries?

Valery: Reminds me, yes.

Irina: And they are at enmity with each other?

Valery: That's what I wouldn't want.

47:49 The uniqueness of the Cassiopeia project.

Valery: Let's ask this question. Among those civilizations of the anthropomorphic type that have not joined the Interstellar Union, are there such contactees as our Irina Podzorova and such a project as "Cassiopeia"?

Irina: Among those who did not join the Interstellar Union?

Valery: Yes.

Irina: Not exactly the same as Irina Podzorova, but there are analogues. Of course, work is also underway on these planets. Of course, it is perceived differently in their society.

But I want to tell you that in terms of the development of your project and the number of those Souls who not only learn this information, but transform themselves, the “Cassiopeia” project is one of the unique ones in the Galaxy. And not because the contactee gives information about us, not even for that reason. This is also true in other civilizations. Because, in addition to the information that it gives, it also, as we call it, leads the Souls of people who have lowered their vibrations and surrounded themselves with blocks, to the Light. This is, I think, a rather rare combination for the contactee to also be a guide to the Light of other people. To combine this, it is necessary to have a certain spiritual experience of knowing not only the Light, but also the dark sides of the human Soul. Otherwise, the guide simply will not be able to find out the reasons for the emergence of some negative blocks, because in order to know them, you need to have experience in overcoming them in yourself.

So, he's already talking about me.

Valery: Very good, but I bring you to another question.

49:55 Civilization of the planet Artsamakh.

Valery: I’m actually now impressed by our broadcast with Kalachakra from the Antiverse, as we called it. Is it possible for us to agree on the possibility that, if there is a similar project of anthropomorphic civilization there, create a small astral bridge between Irina according to the formula: Irina, contactee or Laom Street (we consider the curator) and their contactee. We could ask each other very interesting questions!

Irina: Yes. I just brought Shureo to you now. I would recommend that you not talk to them, they have a special psychology there. And talk to a civilization with a biology more similar to yours.

Valery: I just suggest working in this direction, why not? The fact is that our people, of course, perceive aliens as superior to them. When we conveyed the information that there are also enough people like us, and we are not alone, people are transformed. They move towards the Light faster. Therefore, I would like to propose such a question so that we have an astral bridge with such a civilization.

Irina: I can suggest a civilization that is located in the constellation Taurus, Artsamakh, but this is rather their self-name.

Valery: We need the output data. How to find them, who can help?

Irina: I believe that before establishing astral contact, Irina needs to fly there physically, to look at their life.

Valery: I have this question written down. I propose to the Council of the Interstellar Union to allow our Irina, as an exception, to physically visit this planet. Under the protection of a magnetic field, fly over and see their buildings, structures, roads, transport, energy, communications and culture. So that she doesn't get hurt, of course.

Irina: Artsamakh people are quite peaceful creatures, their last war was about thirty years ago, a major clash.

Why are they not part of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light, although they also have contactees there? It can be said that the ideological content of their egregors and religious ideas contradict the ideas of the Interstellar Union. And they go their own way. They have the 15th level of development, they can fly using interstellar flights, they have very developed medical technologies, they can grow almost all plant and animal food in test tubes, in special devices.

They can make interstellar flights, but rarely fly, especially to other stars. They spend a lot of energy on this, they spend atomic energy and a special particle accelerator, which improves the efficiency of the nuclear engine. With it, they can fly one light year in about 4 of your days. But they rarely use this; they have had several interstellar flights. This consumes their energy potential. They focused more on their system.

They live in the constellation Taurus, not so far, by the way, from the Pleiades cluster, but not in the cluster itself, but nearby. I would suggest that Irina fly there first when Kirchiton flies to her in the coming year. I suggest that your administrators, if, of course, they agree, if you are interested, write questions for her and fly to Artsamakh. Then, if you are interested in a dialogue with a representative of this civilization, I will find you a contactee there whom I know personally.

Valery: Great! Irina, did you remember all this?

Irina: And now I'm interested in the question, why do you and he have the same proposals?

Valery: We are in the same astral space, probably.

Irina: Why do you think, Valer?

Valery: I suggest a test. Let him send me a picture or a graph to my astral space (I, as someone who has completed training, have a special "Window" option in my library of knowledge of the astral space; I call it "Thought forms of the interlocutor"). And I can look. By the way, I now propose the following question. We'll get there. Are all these civilizations, planets, stars located in the ecliptic plane of our Galaxy? Or are there those whose star is in the halo, that is, above the plane?

Irina: They are in different planes.

Valery: Why am I asking this, but I wonder, the one that is above the plane of the Galaxy, what kind of starry sky does it have? It must be very beautiful there! Send it to us, me and Irina.

Irina: A photograph (laughs).

Valery: Yes, we'll see.

Irina: Yes, I invite you, I can invite you both to an astral flight and invite you to my ship, which I will place perpendicular to the plane of the ecliptic of the Galaxy. We will go to that part of the ship where the walls can be made transparent. Not transparent, but onto the internal walls of which an image that fully corresponds to reality can be transmitted from the external equipment of the ship's cameras. In this case, there will be an effect of the walls, ceiling and floor disappearing, and we will seem to be in the middle of space and see where everything is. Kirchiton, if he does not have such a ship, let him bring Irina to any Burkhad ship, we will physically show her. And you can visit astrally if you are not a physical contactee. We can combine consciousness with you, you are quite close to me in energy, I will show you through my eyes.

Valery: Great! We will work together in the Astral as a matter of routine.

Irina: He invites you to him.

Valery: Yes, we need to develop. I can now reveal one secret. When you go to Ashtar, I simultaneously connect, go to it, fly up to the ship, and I had a question through the Higher Self, I say: "Can I go to the library?" They say: "Please." I asked the question: "Have I been here before?" They say: "It was."

Irina: What kind of books are there? What language is it written in?

Valery: I don't know. In the end, I say: "Can I switch these windows in your library, the ones that are thematic, to my astral space, so that I can look through them without flying there?" They say: "It's possible." And now I have a special window.

58:50 Civilizations near stars - red dwarfs.

Valery: I have another question, I've had it since the beginning of that broadcast, the first, the 27th and the last. Are there civilizations that live near red dwarf stars? With insufficient lighting, as we understand it.

Irina: There are such civilizations, even their system has been changed, the orbit of the planet is closer.

Valery: Accordingly, they probably have a short day and a short year.

Irina: You know, in fact, this is all regulated by the rotation of the planet. Maybe even at different speeds. Not only distance plays a role, the speed of the planet also plays a role, its inclination, it can stand upright.

Valery: Rotation axis.

Irina: So that it is perpendicular to the orbit, as I understand it, or it may even lie on this orbit, it may occupy some angle.

Valery: We also have an angle, it's 19 degrees.

Irina: He can actually be straight.

Valery: I have run out of questions.

Irina: Dear friends, very interesting information about these civilizations, what happens in the Universe! It was very interesting for me to answer, thank you, Valery, for the interesting questions! And to you, dear friends, thank you for watching this video, for your attention, for your understanding, for your support of our project, which, as even Laom Street, one of the leaders of the Commission for Contacts of our Milky Way Galaxy, has already said, is a unique project in our Galaxy. Maybe not only in ours. See you again!

Valery: Goodbye, dear colleagues!

Goodbye, dear colleagues! Thank you for your attention and for your questions! Goodbye!

Irina: Goodbye!

00:20 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends. Hello, Victor. Hello, Igor. Hello, dear viewers. Today we have another conference on the integration of the science of the Interstellar Union into our earthly reality. Introduce youreself.

Victor: Hello, dear viewers. My name is Victor. I am a radio engineer by training, and a builder by profession. I had questions about the structure of the atom and many others. So that we can integrate the knowledge of the Interstellar Union into our physics and chemistry.

Igor: I study applied physics. Questions arose about the structure of our material world, the interaction of photons, and so on. There are a lot of questions that I would like to cover. I hope we get answers to these questions.

Irina: Hello, dear friends. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today my curators are present next to me: Raom Tiyan from the planet Burhad - a specialist in energy interactions in the environment. Also present here is Larshikh Kugen, a representative of the planet Shimor. Larshikh is engaged in the development and construction of instruments that measure physical reality and the factors influencing it. This is something like our engineer who deals with instruments.

(Larshikh) I am also developing computer programs for these devices. Our engineer is involved with the development of not only devices, but also with their information content. We call this “energy information programs”.

I also studied physics and studied your science, your instruments, so Raom Tiyan invited me to answer these questions. He will answer too.

If you do not specify who the question is for, any of them will answer.

Igor: We have questions for Larshikh.

03:23 Thermonuclear and radioactive energies in the atom.

Victor: We have the first question. At the last conference we were told about the structure of the atom. But there was a misunderstanding. We are interested in what is the percentage of energies of the second level among themselves? These are radioactive and thermonuclear energies - how are they distributed among themselves as a percentage at the second level?

Irina: (Larshikh) I understand the question. At the second level of energy, which you call “radioactive” and “thermonuclear”, one might say, is a single energy, but it manifests itself in two forms. If you look at the percentage: approximately 50/50, with slight deviations depending on the type of elements. Here they are equally distributed, since our science believes that radioactive and thermonuclear energies are equally present in absolutely all atoms, inside them.

04:39 Raom Tiyan about the distribution of energies in the atom.

Victor: Thanks for the answer. I have a second question. What is the percentage relationship between energies at the first level? This is where we have magnetic, electrical, radio wave, thermal and light energies.

Irina: I remember very well that this issue was considered, dear friends, if you read the article. I ask Raom Tiyan to repeat these percentages again.

(Raom Tiyan) So, if we look from the nucleus of an atom, then the energies are distributed in the following ratio (closer and further - this is a measurement not by distance, but by vibration).

It is distributed like this: heat, light, electricity, magnetism - they are nearby, plus radio waves. There are also types of elements where they are distributed differently: heat, light, radio waves, electricity, magnetism. They may change. In both cases, the percentage ratio is as follows: the largest amount of energy of the first level always occupies 40%, the second largest amount of energy occupies 30% of the energies of the first level, the third - 20%, the fourth - 6% and the fifth - 4% . I have already given this ratio.

Victor: Now a clarifying question. In these energies, how are the elements of fire, air, water and earth distributed?

Irina: We gave the decomposition of the electron, proton and neutron according to the elements. What you called a proton and a neutron.

Victor: What I'm specifically interested in here is, for example, in magnetic energy, how many of which elements are present?

Irina: What you call magnetic. We will talk about first level energies, right?

Victor: Yes. About first level energies.

Irina: The energies of the first level together contain the energy of the element of fire 60% and the element of water 40%. For this reason, for all five types of energies: magnetic, electrical, and so on, the elements are generally distributed equally.

08:16 Calculation of the number of quanta by type of energy.

Victor: Everything is clear. Thank you. And such a question. Could you give us a table of the content of quanta in each chemical element by energy? How many quanta are contained in each type of energy for each element?

Irina: You can perfectly calculate this yourself. I gave you the formula.

Victor: You need to multiply 1600 by atomic mass.

Irina: 1600 quanta multiplied by the relative atomic mass, and you get the number of quanta in each element. You can also calculate the percentage of how much energy is contained. I brought everything.

09:12 Frequency characteristics of quanta.

Victor: Okay, then I have the next question. The number of cycles performed by a quantum per second of earthly time for each type of energy of the dense material world?

Irina: Cycles of what?

Victor: At what frequency does the quantum oscillate? Does it have a certain vibration frequency? At what frequency does it oscillate?

Irina: At what frequency do quanta oscillate?

Victor: Yes.

Irina: This is background information. And you need to look at the instruments. Moreover, their fluctuations change. If we now take the example of a quantum of electrical energy, it will not be analogous to your electron. We have different quanta.

Igor: We don't need our analogues. We need your analogues.

Irina: If we look at the quantum of electrical energy, its variability ranges from 35 times per second to approximately 150 thousand times per second. It is variable depending on the energy conditions where it finds itself. From chemical reactions, from the state of aggregation of a substance, from the type of substances surrounding it and the fields that it experiences, it can accelerate or decrease.

In magnetic energy it has a different range of vibrations. If I remember exactly now, from 54, but no fluctuations. The quantum there does not oscillate, but rotates.

Victor: Rotation. How many rotations per second does it make?

Irina: This is recorded by our devices. From 54 rotation cycles per second to approximately 75 thousand. It has slightly different characteristics than the quantum of electricity, and therefore different frequency characteristics. This also depends on the type of substance, on its state of aggregation, on the surrounding magnetic fields. For example, you can influence it with electrical energy so that it changes the rotation speed. There are many nuances there.

And if we take the energies of the second level (which is why it is called the second level), then their frequency of cycles of their quanta is higher. It is already in the region of 120 - 540 thousand per second. This is the case, for example, for a quantum of what we call “thermonuclear energy.” But how does thermonuclear energy differ from radiation energy? Radiation energy also has approximately the same frequency range. But it differs precisely in its effect on substances - on this atom itself and on surrounding substances.

In general, the energy of the second level, as we have already said, is united. But it can manifest itself either like this or like that, depending on the conditions. Potentially, it is one.

Victor: You can ask me to finish. We have already looked at electric and magnetic. And I would also like to know the remaining energies by vibration frequency.

Irina: This is background information. Raom Tiyan says roughly.

Igor: I see. At least we can roughly get our bearings.

Irina: He is in the Astral, he does not remember these frequencies. He needs to at least look in the directory first.

Victor: I see. Fine.

Irina: If he now asks you about the relative atomic mass of something or about the resistivity of copper. Will you answer him without a reference book?

Victor: Yes, everything is clear.

13:46 Raom Tiyan about energy measuring instruments.

Victor: Next question. What instruments do you know that earthlings have for recording the amount of all types of energies in matter?

Irina: You yourself know these devices that measure electricity, that measure heat, magnetic fields, their presence, their strength. There is even one for radiation.

Victor: Yes, we have these devices. But they record the amount of substance released. And the quantity is specific to quanta - we do not have such devices that they can be read.

Irina: Which ones do you have, I said. You don't have quantometers.

Victor: Do you have quantometers?

Irina: We have instruments that can measure the number of quanta in a particular substance, in a collection of substances or in their emission. But they are not independent for us. They are built into other computer systems and instrument circuits. For example, for chemical analysis, biological analysis, into the energy instrument you call a "spectrometer" (for measuring the spectrum of stars, for example), or into the measuring instruments of starships.

They are not independent for us. We use them in the context of some other work.

Victor: What principle are your devices based on? What are they made of?

Irina: Which ones exactly?

Victor: For example, to register the same magnetic energies, quanta.

Irina: To register magnetic quanta, devices are made from a mixture of allotropically modified carbon along with germanium. And all this makes up a certain crystal (shows), which has 12 faces. And about 20 thousand of these crystals make up a plate that captures magnetic fields. And then the instrument scale shows the result in our measurement units.

(Larshikh shows the crystal in detail). It is so elongated, and there are edges along it. This is called nanomolecular harvesting.

Victor: This is for magnetic energy. For electric?

Irina: Germany is approximately 12-15%, the usual silicon ratio is approximately 39-40%. The rest is carbon in that allotropy so that it is subject to melting. Carbon is generally a unique element for the construction of devices.

Victor: It turns out that in most cases all your devices are made from carbon?

Irina: Not all, but it is often included in alloys of other metals, other elements that you call metals.

Igor: Clarifying question. How do you measure? Does the structure of this substance, which serves as a meter, change, or does its conductivity change, and you detect this, or in some other way?

Irina: (Larshikh shows) To measure the number of quanta in a particular substance, you need to shine a special scanner on it. But this is not just a beam, it is wide, like a rainbow, and it runs across the surface.

Victor: According to the spectrum, according to the light spectrum?

Irina: He's like a rainbow. But I only see three colors there: yellow, purple and red. And he runs like a sunbeam. It's like a spectrometer for them, no, not a spectrometer. This is their device that measures quanta. To measure them, they point at it, like you point a thermometer at heat.

Victor: I see. It turns out that they illuminate the device with this light, and the device begins to produce some kind of unit of measurement, right?

Irina: This is a special light field that includes electromagnetic waves modulated at about 35 kilohertz. They are connected together with light waves and due to this they read information and return it to the device.

Igor: And then what role does the crystal play here?

Irina: A reverse wave of this substance enters the crystal. And those crystals that are contained there are arranged in such a way that they fix it.

Victor: Do they release electrical energy later for fixation? Is that how it works?

Irina: They do not emit electrical energy. How can I explain it to you?

Igor: Are they changing their structure? No?

Irina: He says that the energies that they contain, the energies of their atoms, they appropriately transfer to this plate on which these crystals are located, the corresponding vibrations. And then the number is reflected there, how many such exciting waves hit this plate, let's say so.

Igor: But she also apparently separates these waves by frequency in order to determine what other quanta exist there?

Irina: There are different devices. There is to determine a single quantum field. If there is any narrow application of this device. And there are universal ones that simply measure the presence of some fields or some quanta, their composition, that is, the totality of different fields, their direction. We have different devices, in which, in addition to this plate, there will be other parts consisting of other elements.

But in addition to this plate and crystals, you also need a service electronic filling that recognizes these signals and displays them on the indicator, like a robot. It's like your calculator.

Igor: Yes, yes, I see. What characteristics does the device detect? Just the frequency, let's say magnetic energy, and that's all? Or you can also determine by modulation that magnetic energy differs from electrical energy. So you illuminated some object with this rainbow device, and you determined that this was magnetic energy, and it was not confused with electrical energy. Do your energies differ based on vibration frequency or some other characteristics?

Irina: We have different devices that record both the fields and their direction. Not only the one that determines with this beam. For example, on the shells of spaceships there are such plates that make up the outer shell. When some kind of light or some kind of study falls on it, it does not release any ray. But in this plate, reactions are already taking place transforming the radioactivity of X-ray radiation, gamma radiation, in your opinion, and so on - into thermal energy, electrical energy, magnetic energy, which we need.

And if you turn on the device, how much energy has been converted, it will show the process over time. And if you don't turn it on, it won't show. These plates themselves contain magnesium and palladium.

Victor: Can you tell us the percentage of these metals?

Irina: I remember that Kirchiton gave this to me.

(Raom Tiyan) This is also background information. But since Irina asked her, she wrote down this information. This was all given earlier.

24:00 Raom Tiyan on the differences between magnetic and electric quanta.

Victor: Thank you. I have a question. How does a magnetic quantum differ from an electric quantum? Differences?

Irina: Vibration frequency and action. Impact on the environment. They are not only different in shape, they are different components of the first level of atoms. They differ in their impact on the environment, vibration frequency, and can be separated. They differ in the form of rotation, for example, in the form of direction. For you it is a single energy, but for us it is different. Because you can separate the rotating magnetic field separately and the electric field, which is directed in one direction. That is, they also differ in the shape of the field.

25:10 Characteristics and purpose of different energies in the material world.

Victor: Then the difference between an electric and a radio wave quantum? Please describe what a radio wave quantum looks like.

Irina: He doesn't look like anything. This is a portion of energy.

Victor: How does a radio wave portion of energy manifest itself in the external environment?

Irina: Using radio wave energy, you can transmit various information. But it won’t be possible to use it to knock out heat energy from some substance, for example, like using electricity. This is the difference.

Again the frequencies are different. Radio waves, so to speak, are lower in frequency.

Victor: What are the frequencies for a radio wave quantum?

Irina: You have all this in your science. It's in the reference books.

How many are there? Everything that is not light energy is radio waves, that's how you measure it. You have one cycle - one oscillation per second. This is not yet a radio wave, but it is already, one might say, a manifestation of heat energy. Then there are radio waves. But they are also different. What you call radio waves is the same for you.

And we have radio waves, which, for example, come after light. We have an insert there. You need to look in reference books.

Victor: It turns out that after the light spectrum you also have a radio wave spectrum?

Irina: One of the types of radio waves, let's say so.

Igor: The difference between light waves and radio waves and magnetic waves is not only the difference in vibrations? Is there any other characteristic?

Irina: Field direction.

Igor: That’s what I wanted to understand.

Irina: If we look, it is very similar to electromagnetism. Magnetic field - it rotates around the conductor, and the electric field is directed along it.

In the same way, if we look at light, it is more directed as a beam in one direction. Its field spreads like a beam, a field consisting of these quanta. And radio waves - they can, firstly, have different forms. This is not just a shape, how I draw a wave. They can have the form (shows), two waves next to each other seem to go towards each other: one in one direction, and the other in the other. They can have a shape that twists, they can have the shape of spirals. They come in different shapes. Those quanta that are detected in these radio waves are not detected in light radiation, and vice versa. They can mix, but our instruments show this, one might say, as different. This is the first one.

Second. Their purpose is still different. Our science has not simply studied what everything in nature consists of. She studied the purpose: why all this is arranged by plasmoid civilizations, let’s say so. They also have laws for the construction of our matter. So, we also asked them a question: why doesn’t there exist only one light or only radio waves, or something else? That is, why was our dense material world arranged this way? And there were answers that they have different purposes.

This also influenced the differentiation of these energies. Because the purpose of light of different frequencies is precisely so that all dense material beings who live in the physical world can navigate with the help of vision. As for radio waves, we don't have organisms that physically see them. There are those who feel their radiation. But in order to see with their help, so that radio waves are reflected from objects and enter the eyes as quanta of light - we do not have this.

Our ancestors asked the plasmoids when they came into contact with them: why were they created at all (radio waves) if they do not have such a function? And the answer was: "Yes, they do not have such a function. They have a different function - to transmit information. With their help, it's easy to encode some information in the form of sound or image."

Precisely in radio waves. This cannot be done in light waves. This can be done either in radio waves, or, as we have already said, as we are doing, in quanta of the same, for example, gravity, which is transmitted instantly through gluon chains. That is, not at the speed of radio waves.

But in order to switch to this technology, we need special factories that will build these devices. And while they have not yet been built, until people have learned about gravitons, they transmit information using radio waves.

You know: what you see on television, what is transmitted by telephone, mobile or regular - in any case - occurs with the help of radio waves of certain frequencies. They show me airplanes that also navigate using radio waves. Plasmoid civilizations specially created these energies so that when they incarnate into dense bodies, they could use them to transmit information to each other.

We consider it the information component of the atom.

Victor: It turns out that plasmoid creatures communicate with each other via radio waves?

Irina: They didn't create it for themselves. And for themselves, when they are embodied in the dense world.

Victor: Everything is clear, thank you.

Irina: They (show) communicate telepathically.

33:34 The heating process as understood by aliens.

Igor: Irina, ask again. Then it turns out that to convert one type of energy into another it is not enough to change the frequency? Let's say that electrical energy is converted into thermal energy in our kettle, because the frequency changes? Do I still need to change the direction of the field?

Irina: She doesn't transform. We believe this process looks different. Both heat and electricity are initially present in this water. It's just that when one energy is supplied, it begins to accumulate in these atoms and knocks out another, thermal (in this case), from there. Therefore the temperature is rising. If the temperature increases very much, then so much of this thermal energy will be released that it will affect the third level, where there is microgravity, which attracts atoms to each other. And this thermal energy will affect it. Then microgravity will be redistributed in atoms in such a way that it will accumulate between them. And from this, the attraction of atoms to each other will weaken, and the atoms will further diverge.

Igor: We know this process.

Victor: Please tell me what are the most effective ways, for example, to convert electrical energy into heat? What are some of the most effective alloys or materials?

Irina: To what temperature (shows the light bulb) does the tungsten filament heat up?

Victor: It heats up to 600-700 degrees.

Irina: And the light bulb only has maybe 100 watts. Imagine the efficiency!

Victor: For example, we don't need the light to stand out so much. For example, we need to heat our homes.

Irina: You just said electric to thermal.

Victor: In the thermal room, yes.

Irina: Look, 100 Watts is how much electrical energy? Tungsten is a type of metal that, even when exposed to 100 watts, produces a high temperature. Make tungsten pipes, gentlemen.

Igor: We are not interested in this. We want to understand how you set up this process.

36:41 Technologies for heating rooms in the Interstellar Union.

Victor: How do you heat the rooms?

Irina: The walls themselves, the ceiling and the floor, if we are talking about the room, are designed in such a way that where heating or cooling is required, so-called thermostats are built into them.

Victor: What are they made of?

Irina: Thermostats that measure temperature and are set to the same thing. Thermostats are microcircuits that are built between something, but not between blocks of walls (they can be monolithic), but within them, inside. And if the temperature drops below a certain point, then there is a special material that automatically converts the energy of the surrounding building materials into heat.

Victor: What kind of devices?

Igor: How?

Irina: And then, when the energy is transferred, when this temperature is restored, the energy in these atoms is restored through a chemical reaction. This is what happens most often with us. If the premises are located in a place where heating is required. In some cold place, as I understood it.

Substances. We can take, for example, sulfur atoms, a disulfide-carbon mixture (shows), sulfur has some kind of carbon chains. And these chains are in sulfur, since the number of quanta in it is proportional to each other, they give off energy. The carbon chains in these walls are directed from the outer boundaries inwards. And the outer part of the wall has (as the glass shows) sodium, potassium and silicon. Shows a crystal that triggers this reaction by exposing it to external energies of heat or a decrease in temperature or cold.

As soon as information about this arrives there, it starts the reverse process. This all happens automatically.

Victor: Of course, automatically. It turns out that the temperature difference in the walls, in the building material itself, causes it to change its temperature. Do I get it right? The wall itself begins to heat up or cool down.

Irina: Yes, but it all turns out in such a way that the material, which is made of sulfur atoms and with carbon chains, gives off heat. It is aimed so as not to waste energy - to heat the wall itself. It is designed in such a way that heat energy does not accumulate, but rather repels energy.

Igor: What causes heat energy to escape? We are trying to understand the process.

Irina: Due to the fact that this material is configured to repel heat from itself into the room. How does this happen during convection? The sulfur atom is designed in such a way that if it is arranged in a certain molecular lattice, it will not accumulate heat.

Victor: Will he give it back?

Irina: Exactly. I say again that all these materials are obtained using nanotechnology. But with us this is all automated, since humanoids do not do this. In our country, for example, sulfur goes to factories, and ready-made blocks with carbon tubes come out. No, not with tubes, but with chains, they look like tubes because they are arranged in twos.

42:15 Explanations on the production of thermoactive building materials.

Victor: And with the help of what technique do they force the sulfur elements in building materials to be arranged like this? Is it high voltage, pressure, or a kinematic process, that is, some kind of torsion? What techniques are used to create conditions such that sulfur lines up in these tubes?

Irina: First, sulfur is converted into liquid form to create such materials.

Victor: It's clear, they melted it, and what happens next after it's melted?

Irina: After it is melted, it is sent into a special form (shows a triangle that goes somewhere inside, so tall). Mass is directed into this triangle. And then two halves, which are sharp corners, they open. And this sulfur, molten, goes down into a round vat, like a bath. It pours out there. And there, in this triangle, programming occurs. There is a special radiation in the wall of this triangle.

Victor: What energy is emitted? Magnetic, electric, radio wave, what kind of radiation?

Irina: Electrical, radio wave and part of microgravity. This is such a field. This is called a "combined energy field" that influences these sulfur atoms so that they themselves line up in such a way as according to the program. All the impact goes on the nuclei of these atoms.

Victor: I see. What electrical voltage is obtained there, if in our units?

Irina: They don't have alternating current, they have direct current.

Victor: Okay, constant: 1000, 10000 volts?

Irina: It depends on the amount of sulfur. Again, you need to talk to those who work at the plant. I know this from the training program. And I myself was not at this plant.

You need to invite someone who directly works at this plant and programs these particular devices. Because when the mass falls into this round bath, into this shape, there is also a certain static field that prevents these atoms from scattering to other places.

Victor: It turns out that they create an electrostatic field, did I understand correctly?

Irina: There is already a magnetic field and the same radio waves. They seem to convey information. And when there is a static field there, then these pre-programmed atoms (already in advance) do not change their direction when this block freezes.

Victor: Are they lining up in a chain?

Irina: Yes. But very fine carbon powder is also added there - precisely at a certain moment of crystallization.

Victor: Are they adding nanocarbon? In the form of records?

Irina: Like dust (shows). And if you take it, it will be sticky.

Victor: So this is nanocarbon, it turns out?

Irina: She's like dust. It is not visible even with the eye. Very small.

Victor: What carbon particle size?

Irina: I say again, I did not work at this plant.

Victor: Didn't work. Thank you.

46:30 Level of information transmitted from the Interstellar Union.

Irina: We already have exactly 20 minutes.

Victor: We don't have enough. We still have a lot of questions. Okay, thank you very much for the conference today. Thanks to the representatives of the Interstellar Union. And we would like to meet again.

Irina: Dear friends, I thank you for watching this video. Yes, it is clear that their technologies are not entirely clear to us. They showed me more in images. Because, as Larshikh explains to me, there are no such words in my language. And, as I understand it, all field names are not used in our science yet. Because with us they cannot mix, but with them they can.

These are the understandings they have. And therefore, I think, despite the difficulties in our transfer of terminologies, you were still interested. We will definitely continue our conversation a little later. Precisely on specific topics. Because, indeed, our guys ask for background information that is unknown to theorists who are directly involved in certain developments.

They are just doing science. And I remind you once again, dear friends, that such detailed information is already called technology transfer. And to what extent the aliens will do this depends on their permission to transmit this information.

“That’s why,” says Raom Tiyan, “I came. Just to give you a general understanding, a direction, and you have to develop the technology yourself.”

Victor: So that we can understand where to go, at least get direction. Now, for example, they have told us the technology for producing thermal elements; this will be very useful for heating our homes.

Irina: That’s it, a general idea. Special information, which fields create what, is already technology.

Igor: I see, well, at least have a general idea. Then we will develop the technology ourselves. We can at least understand what it is and how it works.

Irina: Okay, dear friends, we will look at the feedback that people will write to us after publishing this video. If such topics are of interest, we will continue to hold similar video conferences. Bye everyone, dear friends!

Igor: Goodbye.

May 17, 2022

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova – contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

Victor – radio engineer, builder;

Igor is a physicist;

Raom Tiyan is a representative of the planet Burhad, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment of the material and Spiritual world and transformations of various energies;

Larshih Kugen is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the development of devices that measure the physical reality affecting them, an instrument engineer.

#452 Human brain potential. Genetics and heart health. Psychology of aliens.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/potencial-mozga-cheloveka-genetika-i-zdorove-serdc https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WcdFSBSMfBg

00:18 Background.

Voice-over: In the summer of 1999, a 13-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than 20 years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:13 Introduction of participants.

Rinat: Good evening, my name is Rinat, I am from Ufa. Surgeon by specialty, Doctor of Medical Sciences. I also teach, in addition to surgery, microbiology and virology.

Irina: Interesting! Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today my curator MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien life forms, will be present with us.

(MidgasCaus) I greet you, dear friends! Greetings, Rinat! Glad to see a scientist, a true researcher of the secrets of the human body and the human Soul!

Rinat: Thank you!

Irina: Rinat has questions. We are listening to you.

02:24 History of the development of our Galaxy. Civilization.

Rinat: I will start not with purely medical issues, but with what interests me, and gradually move on to medical issues. But these questions are, in principle, also part of medicine.

According to the Big Bang theory, our Universe appeared 13.7 billion years ago. It took several more billions of years for stars, new formations, and matter to appear. And somewhere around 10 billion years ago, organic life appeared in the Universe. Surely there were civilizations in the Universe even before you. Let's take our Galaxy, did developed civilizations exist in it? And if they disappeared, then for what reason did they most often disappear?

Irina: According to the history of the Interstellar Union, the very first civilization in our Galaxy was the civilization of those creatures that you call insectoids. They developed near the core of the Galaxy. They are several, one might say, tens of billions of years old, from the moment when they just began to develop, when they passed from animals into intelligent forms. But almost simultaneously with them, around 500 million years ago, there was already reliable information, for example, about the existence of the Burkhad or Pikran civilization, as it is called, and the Shimora civilization.

Many scientists of the Interstellar Union, based on information from the Spiritual World, postulate the almost simultaneous emergence of these civilizations in our Galaxy. Earlier forms were not established; more time was needed for evolution.

We consider civilization to be a community of intelligent beings who form a certain community, as we call it, a community of egregors. This is a social form of consciousness that tends to self-regulate. This is what distinguishes a society of intelligent beings from an externally structured and harmonious pack of animals; it does not carry out activities in the surrounding world that are characteristic of civilization.

If we take dense material humanoid forms, the emergence of civilizations occurred approximately from 8 billion to 500 million years ago. At first there were individual representatives of intelligent living beings on certain planets, only then they began to form societies.

As for other galaxies, there are galaxies older than the Milky Way, and there are younger galaxies that formed later. Galaxies, like stars and planets, have a period of birth, growth, flourishing, decline and destruction, disbandment.

There are galaxies older than the Milky Way. There, accordingly, civilizations are older. An example is Galaxy M-31.

There are galaxies younger (shows) the constellation Triangulum. Or several galaxies that are younger and smaller in size. Firstly, there are fewer civilizations there, and secondly, they are younger in development.

07:26 Cases of the death of intelligent civilization.

Rinat: The second part of the question: are there any known cases of the death of these civilizations?

Irina: To avoid this confusion, it is better to ask not two or three questions in one, but one at a time. He is in the Astral, in an altered state of consciousness, so he has a clear answer to the question.

Rinat: Got it.

Irina: Are there any known cases of the death of civilizations on individual planets?

Rinat: Yes. Developed civilizations. What could be the cause of death?

Irina: In our Galaxy, examples of the death of an entire civilization are unknown. There were cases when civilization was on the verge of destruction and death. Some representatives still managed to save themselves or with the help of other civilizations.

For example, this happened with the civilization known to Irina as Daraal. Their home planet with many living intelligent beings perished; a little more than 3.5 percent of civilization was saved. They flew to another planet, and complete destruction did not occur.

In other galaxies, there were cases when a developed civilization, together with its colonies, for example, on one of the colony planets, as a result of some genetic experiments, developed a very dangerous microbe, which they then could not cope with. An infection was spreading, to which, by the way, other humanoids were immune. They created it for themselves as a result of experiments.

We were given information from Galaxy M-31 that there was such a case. The death of an entire civilization, a certain humanoid race, whose representatives remained only in history.

Rinat: Thank you.

10:01 The limit of human existence.

Rinat: The following question follows from this: given that humanity is created artificially, is there a limit to its existence? Is there a genetically determined limit of existence, a natural gap, or does it not exist?

Irina: What does limit mean? What?

Rinat: Once upon a time there were theories that every living creature has a limit to its existence. The evolutionary period is, say, 5-10 million years. And then civilization degenerates. Isn't this true for humanity?

Irina: Your civilization could potentially exist throughout the existence of the Galaxy. The lifetime of the Galaxy is very long. And even after the end of its existence, it is possible to move to other galaxies. Potentially, humanity, just like any other civilization of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light, like any young civilization that exists in our Galaxy and in other galaxies, can exist until the end of the era, which on Earth is called Manvantara - that is, the end existence of a given cycle of the material world. That is, the Universe in general. The universe is cyclical.

Rinat: If you have questions about terminology, I've been interested in astronomy and cosmology for about 50 years, so I'll understand.

Irina: According to various scientists, the period of existence of the era of the material world is different in each case. The existence of the era of the material world is estimated to be approximately in the range of 280 to 360 billion years. And this is also influenced by the life choices of all Spirits embodied in this Universe. They, following one path or another, can reduce the epoch time or increase it; there are certain influences on this.

Rinat: I see. Thank you!

12:53 Brain potential of earthlings.

Rinat: Third question, next. To what extent will human potential allow us to understand in due time the alien technologies that appeared and developed among them over millions of years in the course of their evolution, and how long might it take us?

After receiving the technology, approximately how long will it take not just to master it, but to understand the technological processes?

Irina: I can only say my personal opinion, which may differ from the opinions of other scientists. My personal opinion is that the brain potential of earthlings is very great.

What does high brain potential mean in our understanding? This means a greater conducting capacity of the neural network for the manifestation of the Spirit that incarnates. A part of the Spirit, which you call the Soul, is embodied in the body. And she has intelligence. The mind consists of three faculties. One of them is called thinking. Most often, it is she who produces thoughts, is aimed specifically at thinking, at processing information, which we just talked about, and at making decisions.

What you just asked about is the ability to process information. In general, for a rational Spirit, not embodied in any body, this ability is potentially equal to the divine. Of course, it depends on the experience of the Spirit, on its level, but potentially God has invested in each Spirit, one might say, his ability to think. Like planting a seed. But how to grow and cultivate this ability in oneself is already a free choice of the Spirit.

As for manifestation through the body, here, indeed, different bodies differ from each other in the possibilities of manifestation of the Spirit, and, indeed, this is genetically determined.

Rinat: I see, I see.

Irina: Yes, I already understand him too.

Rinat: Genetically determined, it turns out.

Irina: Yes. It is for your race that the threshold of genetic determination is quite high. Proof of this is the fact that over the past 300 years the modern human brain has been able to acquire knowledge, skills and technical abilities that were not available for thousands of years.

For example, thousands of years before this, people traveled by wheeled vehicles. And in the last 300 years, another technique has already developed. What is technology? Technology is not only the creation of some socially useful object from metals or their alloys. Any technology must be conditioned by some scientific paradigm.

The scientific paradigm, which was able to give rise to technologies that are available to earthlings in recent times, including computer technologies, including nanotechnologies available to you - all this already suggests that the abilities of your brain in manifesting the Spirit of the Divine Mind are quite great. We believe that you will be able to master this quickly enough. I think so and other scientists. But that's my opinion.

Rinat: I see, thank you.

Irina: Moreover, representatives of your species already live on the planet Disaru. They have the same genetics with minor changes that correct the consumption of animal products. But, nevertheless, their brains are almost the same. The energy system, including all your auras and chakras, energy centers - they are the same as yours. This means that the manifestation of the Spirit is identical. The genetics are almost identical. You can have common marriages and common children without serious genetic interference. However, they are in the Interstellar Union. And there are scientists from Disaru who, after Disaru was included in the Interstellar Union, quickly mastered it all.

But there is one big “but” here. Rapid development of the technologies and science of the Interstellar Union will be possible only if your scientists wish to cooperate with our scientists.

Rinat: Probably it will be. Thank you!

Irina: What is the difference? The sciences themselves about the surrounding material world, both for you and for us, explain certain phenomena. But we explain it from a spiritual point of view. The brain of modern man, and indeed man in general as an earthly species of intelligent being, is tuned to a dualistic perception of the world.

To put it simply, good-evil, truth-false. But for many humanoid races such a division of the brain and such a perception of the world is not typical. This may have its own difficulties, but when joining the Interstellar Union, it will not be just Interstellar Union scientists who will work with terrestrial scientists, but specially trained psychologists who have experience working with dualistically thinking creatures.

Rinat: I see.

19:50 The difference between earthlings and aliens.

Rinat: I would also ask this question, based on the above: why then were we not created in our own image, so that such dualistic moments would not happen? Couldn't this have been done to make integration easier later? Or was it done for some other reason?

Irina: There are no difficulties here. The dualistic perception of the world is also quite adapted. The spirit that incarnates can adjust the architectonics of the cerebral cortex to suit itself, to suit any type of perception. This is what you call expansion of consciousness. It’s just that initially it will be necessary to conduct a dialogue based on a dualistic worldview. It has already been sufficiently studied in the Galaxy, at least using the example of the same inhabitants of Disaru. After all, when they were included in the Interstellar Union, they participated in joint work with other representatives of other races of the Galaxy.

It also makes our work easier because we are working with earthly contactees in the past and currently. Their consciousness, brain, worldview, that is, yours, in this case, is studied. An array of data is being accumulated that helps psychologists, scientists, and neurolinguists.

Rinat: Language learning.

Irina: Not just to linguists, but to neurolinguists.

Rinat: This is just related to work, I will also have a question later.

Irina: Mid, who are neurolinguists?

(MidgasKaus) These are scientists who study the influence of language on the psyche. On human psychology, on his worldview. Because every language has its own system of images.

Do you understand what he's talking about?

Rinat: I see. I understand.

22:20 Language learning by aliens.

Rinat: The next question is precisely on this topic. I understood about the brain's ability to perceive information. This leads to the following question: how much time did you spend learning our language? Were technical means used, or is this just like our language learning format? And, accordingly, we will need to learn the language as we establish contacts, approximately how long will this take? Two or three years?

Irina: To study alien languages, we do not have the same method of learning words and images that you have. Mechanical.

Rinat: How about that, interesting?

Irina: By studying alien (for me) languages we mean not only the study of the earthly language, but also, for example, the Burkhadian language.

Rinat: How long did he study Russian, say?

Irina: How long have you been studying Russian?

(MidgasKaus)If you use your terminology, I did not study Russian separately. The Russian language, earth culture in general, mythology, history of sciences are studied. In your opinion, this is called studying the psychotype. This includes language. About 120 of your days.

Rinat: Total.

Irina: But we use certain neurosensory devices that are built into our computer machines. I have already talked about the fact that at birth, Esler children are given a special injection containing nanochips.

Rinat: I heard, yes.

Irina: These nanochips already have the ability to integrate into our nerve cells. They help cells receive information and transmit it. With the help of these neurosensory systems, information is transmitted to these nanochips. Only then the Spirit itself has the ability to turn to this database as its own data that has been remembered.

Rinat: I see. Thank you! In general, this does not threaten us.

Irina: How will you learn an alien language? You won't need this at first. This will all be translated into your language. We also have an automatic translator (shows). This is a robot, like a box, into which the meanings of words in many languages are put at once. And this robot automatically translates.

You already have similar ones on the Internet that automatically translate the word you enter into text. You can customize the translation of sounds. For example, you say something out loud and there will be text there.

And we have it in audio form. And the translation itself is more accurate. It takes into account the emotional intensity of the conversation. Not just an automatic formal translation, but a translation that takes into account energy. Because the same word can have different meanings depending on emotions.

Rinat: That's the point. But all the same, as we communicate, we will have to learn the language, we earthlings mean.

Irina: Of course, you will be provided with all the databases for teaching any language, any science of the Interstellar Union. But to make this task easier (because the body of knowledge is actually huge), you will also be offered training through a computer, through a neurosensory device. Which types are compatible is studied specifically by our Interstellar Union scientists who are researching chips. The types of chips that can be harmonized with the human central nervous system have already been studied. But this can only be applied after joining the Interstellar Union, because for contactees the mechanism is different.

Rinat: I see. Thank you.

27:49 Restoration of the heart muscle. Consciousness and its influence on cells.

Rinat: A little medicine. It is known that heart muscles do not recover during life. Is it possible to influence this to prolong a person's quality of life?

Irina: You mean they don't recover from necrosis?

Rinat: Yes.

Irina: You have research on the possibility of restoring the heart muscle after necrosis by introducing various genetic drugs that affect cell division.

Rinat: These studies are in their infancy.

Irina: In general, genetic medicine has been studied quite well for millions of years on the worlds of the Interstellar Union. This is still the future for you, but I want to say that genetic medicine can act much more effectively and without side effects, unlike pharmacological medicine. Especially in combination with finding out the spiritual cause of the disease, in this case these are various heart attacks, thrombosis, and so on.

For example, the same thrombosis has dozens of causes, and it is not always something related specifically to blood. Almost always this is a state of the Spirit. Clarification and removal of the spiritual cause, plus influence on the genetic level. It is even possible to have an effect when a substance is administered through a dropper that stimulates certain genes that are switched off from metabolism after the birth of a child. And precisely those genes with the help of which his heart grows during the intrauterine period of development.

I hope Rinat understands what I'm talking about?

Rinat: Yes. It is still very difficult, of course.

Irina: Yes. I know that you have such research. Of course, there are certain forces, including pharmaceutical companies, that do not give them a way. What is available at the stage of heart restoration to an ordinary person, from the people?

Rinat: When we say “folk remedies,” we mean all sorts of tinctures, lifestyle, everything else. I was not interested in this, but it was the medical aspect that interested me. What I heard. What concerned the medical aspect specifically.

Irina: That is, what drugs?

Rinat: Drugs or some kind of influence. Not necessarily drugs, maybe something else. Not like ours, let’s say: he performed an operation, transplanted a vessel, performed a stent...

Irina: In general, regeneration would be possible, but at the site of necrosis, tissue is formed that interferes with this regeneration.

Rinat: Scar tissue, yes.

Irina: Like a capsule.

Rinat: Scar tissue. Fibrous tissue, it turns out.

Irina: He shows me this fabric. It's like a capsule that prevents the muscles that are needed from growing. But on top of this scar tissue, as you called it, it is quite possible to increase the muscle mass of cardiomyocytes. This is possible precisely due to physical activity.

Rinat: Regeneration due to hypertrophy of cardiomyocytes.

Irina: Yes. It grows, but not into the scar itself, but on top.

Rinat: I understand.

Irina: This is possible due to physical activity and increased protein nutrition, especially those containing hormone-like substances and amino acids.

It works very well in combination with physical activity to dissolve energy blocks in the heart chakra. Again we return to the need to eliminate spiritual causes, otherwise the disease will return, perhaps even to another organ.

It also has a very good effect on accelerating the regeneration of all types of muscles, connective tissues, and glandular structures, for example, the same methyluracil in a certain dosage in combination with other factors: physical activity, proper nutrition, lack of stress. Particularly important is proper sleep and meditation - conversation with internal organs. A person can talk to his organs, including his heart, and send Light. This makes cells divide faster, this has long been proven by our medicine.

Rinat: Thank you, I understand.

Irina: For example, we studied the influence of a person's consciousness sending the Light of Love (and this is quite tangible energy, perceptible) on individual cell colonies of certain organs. There were laboratories where they took cells, and people talked to them, sent Light to them, and then scientists checked their activity. You can do the same and the results will surprise you.

Rinat: Thank you! Need to try.

Irina: Yes. Rinat, you can, for example, talk to your heart. Ask him to calm down or, for example, to beat faster. Imagine it and you will see what happens.

Rinat: Thank you!

Irina: This is one of these experiences, but, for example, knowledge of how the body functions correctly and how to treat it correctly is taught in school.

I'm now presenting a lesson on how to teach how to communicate with the body.

36:10 Aliens' attitude towards big-time sports.

Rinat: Next question. Maybe there were such questions, but I'll try to ask. The concept of big sport. You know what this is, right?

Irina: Yes.

Rinat: Is there something similar on your planets? And your attitude to this?

Irina: Similar to big sport? For example, on the planet Esler, Burkhad, Shimor, there is no such thing as competitions between professional athletes who do just that. Only this activity is considered not only meaningless, but not fulfilling the tasks of incarnation, because in the task of incarnation spiritual development is given priority. Physical development only helps him. We have various physical exercises, what you call physical exercises, certain dances to music. There is a certain physical culture, but it is not aimed at winning.

Rinat: To achieve results, right?

Irina: Yes. To competition. For example, on the planet Burhad, on Disara, on the Pleiadian colonies, for example, Tumesout, some kind of competitions are held. For example, who will overtake whom on a starship. But they are carried out, again, among young people, as you say, and are not systematic. It's just that several humanoids agreed on this and are doing it for their own interest. But we don't have a systematic, state-funded movement.

Our finances are aimed at something else: social stability, a strict vertical of power, which allows us to promptly eliminate any hint of corruption or failure to fulfill any obligations to society.

Rinat: I see, thank you! And if, say, a humanoid from Disaru and an earthling find themselves in some specific extreme situation. If we say that we have a slightly different approach: will ours be purely physically in this regard in a more advantageous situation, or are some other factors at play in these cases?

Irina: It depends on what you mean by an extreme situation.

Rinat: We found ourselves in an environment where we needed to adapt for some time until we were taken away. Maybe cold, some difficult conditions, something that requires purely physical dedication, some specific physical potential. A question of survival.

Irina: (MidgasCaus) I understand the question. The fact is that if a representative of Disaru and a representative of the Earth find themselves in any conditions that require physical survival, then the level of consciousness, the level of Spirit, and analysis of the situation also play a role here. Because it happens that even the most trained athletes die in extreme conditions. And the one who, for example, did not fall into some kind of panic, but simply soberly analyzed the conditions, developed an action plan for himself - he survived, although he was not physically prepared.

As I already said, life safety is studied in schools of the Interstellar Union. You have the subject of life safety in the world, and we have life safety in the body. We study how to handle our own body, including in certain environmental conditions. Psychological preparation is already underway there.

For example, Representative Disaru and Representative Earth went into the forest and got lost. This is the simplest situation. A representative of the Earth who understands that he is left without civilization, without any means of subsistence, with wild nature around him - he can fall into a state of fear. And under the influence of adrenaline, he may want to get out of there as quickly as possible and go in any direction, without even noticing the places he passes through that could lead him out of this place. For example, under the influence of his own emotions it is faster to get out of here; he can cross the road without even seeing it. Under the influence of thoughts.

And the representative of Disaru, who is psychologically prepared how to act in these extreme conditions, and he realized that he does not know where to go, he will first bring himself into harmony, approach the nearest tree (he was taught to communicate with the Spirits of Nature). He will communicate with them, understand where he is, and ask them to tell him where people are. And he will act under the influence of their answer, and it can only come intuitively.

When the mind no longer works and cannot say: “I want to go there,” it acts intuitively. Choosing on a whim, as you say. And then, even if he has gone too far and he cannot quickly get out to people, he will know perfectly well that fear will only harm him, and he will remain in this place until he is discovered.

Even if he tries to leave, he will try to leave signs for himself where he went. So that later, if something happens, you can return to the same place.

Rinat: He will work more consciously than our earthling, it turns out.

Irina: You could say yes. Even if he is not so physically prepared, he has a greater chance of escape. Because the one who is physically prepared will simply move on. And then, in the end, without water, without food, in a state of stress, he will lose strength and may, for example, get sick. Something could happen to his health. He may get injured. This physical strength and endurance without conscious control of the Spirit does not provide any advantages. On the contrary, they can be dangerous.

Rinat: Got it, thank you! Agree.

44:29 Human life expectancy.

Rinat: Question: is it possible in the future, after contacts, to make changes to the human genome to increase life expectancy? Because we have a very short life expectancy.

Irina: Such decisions can only be made by the Spiritual world, specifically by Archangel Michael, who is responsible in the Spiritual world for the development of the Earth. If he gives such an order to the scientists of the Interstellar Union, then naturally changes will be made to the genome.

But even without changing the genome, your body can potentially live approximately 210-280 years. By using all its available capabilities in a given period, improving medicine, widespread introduction of prevention, getting rid of various types of harmful substances, stress, proper nutrition - this is potentially a real reserve of your body.

Rinat: I see, thank you!

Irina: This is the body's reserve. But this depends on the purpose of the incarnation, on the period appointed by the Spirit.

Rinat: Isn't the lifespan of our future incarnation determined by the Spiritual world? It is still determined by interaction with the Spiritual world, right? It does not form spontaneously, in other words?

Irina: When you go into incarnation, you can assign yourself a period of incarnation based on certain possibilities of the earthly body. You choose your own implementation date for a reason, but in order to complete some of your tasks. The energy of both yours and plasmoid civilizations, which create connections with the body through etheric channels, and plasmoid civilizations, which create elements for the dense matter of the body, is spent on embodiment. Therefore, the lifespan is not necessarily chosen to be as long as possible. Here, the tasks that the Spirit sets for itself at one or another stage of incarnation are of paramount importance. For example, he thinks: "I choose to be 75 years old. In the first 20 years I will study, the next 30 years I will start a family, work, and at the same time work on developing such and such spiritual qualities." To put it simply, everything is more complicated there. There is also a generic task, a social task, they are also taken into account. And in the future, when I am 75 years old, I plan to leave incarnation at such and such a level. There are definite plans.

Rinat: I see.

48:01 Professional activities of aliens.

Rinat: Maybe my next question will be a little unclear to them. With such a life expectancy, how many professions can you master? They mean it, not us. They live much longer than us, right?

Irina: Eslerites are 400-470 years old.

Rinat: A person works in one profession, it turns out. What is their process? We have a job, a person goes to work, that's how we understand it. What do they mean by work? What are they doing? I went to work - how does this process happen for them?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) For example, I came to work. My work now consists of contacts with earthlings (not only with Irina, but with many contactees in general). In this case, in astral contact.

I'm in my house or wherever I am now (at the base, on Earth), I lie down in a special capsule, one might say, an astral capsule, which resembles your chair. I leave the body, having first given the body all the necessary substances. I leave the body and according to the plan of contacts that I have agreed upon with different contactees, I come for one or another purpose of contact.

Next, after the contact, I return to my body and transmit information about this contact to the brain. Then I have to go into the unconscious Astral state for a few minutes (about 15-20) so that the brain cells are restored. I need about 3-4 hours of sleep a day. But I can divide them into several phases.

My working day is around 10 of your hours. And in the future - communication, for example, with family: with sons, with wife. Any of my personal affairs, obtaining information, including about your science. Reading special texts compiled by the Interstellar Union, which tell, for example, about the situation in the world. I constantly communicate with contactees, and I need new information.

For example, now I'm here for an hour, but after contact I can stay for another forty minutes. I have other contacts planned in the future. I am already coming to another contactee with a different goal. I am here now to answer questions.

We understand work as a useful activity both for our development and for the development of the world. It is useful for my development to bring the light of knowledge, to tell you and the contactee about the Interstellar Union, about science, and so on.

And for the Esler Society and the Interstellar Union, my activity is useful in that with my work, with my work, I bring closer the time of the Earth's entry into the Interstellar Union, because through the contactee I transmit information to the society.

Rinat: I see. Thank you!

52:18 Aliens about signs of brain and mind development.

Rinat: This question, maybe it also sounds earthly: how, with such developments in technology, does your body, your brain (meaning the brain of the population as a whole) avoid the process of degradation?

Irina: Degradation in what sense?

Rinat: It is accepted among us that if technology develops, then a certain degree of brain degradation occurs. We no longer do something, we no longer calculate something in our minds. We don't even have to read, but listen to audiobooks. We just press buttons, we don't have to write. We simply lose many things.

And against this background, how much do you retain the opportunity for progress?

Irina: Yes. I understand the question. The point is, specifically about you, that you are not just losing some skills that you needed in the past, you are acquiring something else. Those that were not typical for previous years. This replacement, of course, must proceed harmoniously.

For example, if you are no longer multiplying in your head, if you are doing calculations, you must use certain instruments. These are certain skills that were not known in the past. But the most important goal is what it is for. For us, any calculations or formulas are not an end in themselves. They are not a sign of brain development (because it is just rote memory), but a sign of the development of the brain and mind, the Spirit in that brain, which is sometimes called the mind (that part of the mind that directly manifests through the brain, some call it that).

Some people believe that mind and intelligence are synonymous. I personally believe that the mind is that part of the mind of the Spirit that manifests through the brain. This is an ability that is manifested in the brain through its capabilities, through its system of neurons and so on.

The brain is trained by solving certain problems. Not only mathematical, but also spiritual problems. For example, moral choice, understanding what to do, what action to choose between seemingly similar options, in order to raise your vibrations in order to become closer to God. This also trains the brain and at the same time gives a lesson to the Spirit, let’s say so.

We have a fairly developed art, various literature, not cinema, but computer-generated models that show the actions of humanoids in this case. We simply do not have such humanoids who would agree to play some roles on a permanent basis.

Rinat: Actors?

Irina: Yes. This is not prohibited in our country, but there are no people willing to spend part of their incarnation on this. It is believed that the time of incarnation is a very important time that must be completely transformed into that person's own spiritual experience. And no one wants to spend time not on finding out information, but on temporarily trying on the personality of another person, pretending to be it.

You can read about it. For example, let’s take your world now, you can read about Ivan the Terrible. This will expand the knowledge of the Spirit, its experience. He will look at how this man lived. What mistakes he made, what right actions and good deeds he performed. What did this lead him to, what was his character, and so on. You can study his biography. But if you play Ivan the Terrible yourself, pretend to be him just to make money, so that people will look at it, it’s easier to create a computer model and program it in such a way that it behaves like that on the computer screen.

Even if I now announce that I want to play an earthling, it will be strange for everyone. Why are you wasting your time to show us this image yourself? If we can watch it in real time. Precisely an earthling.

And Ivan the Terrible? Why are you wasting the time of your incarnation to show it to us, if we can learn about it from historical chronicles? And it will still be refracted through your personality.

This difference is in the way they perceive the world.

Rinat: Got it! Irina, I have two more questions. Do you have time? Can I ask them?

Irina: Yes, of course!

58:50 Aliens about exploring the Universe.

Rinat: I'm interested in this moment. Now the Americans have launched a satellite to study the Universe, there are ground-based satellites, and there are stationary satellites that fly around the Earth to study the Universe. There are telescopes that look in all directions.

What is their principle of knowing the Universe? It probably doesn't make sense for them to build telescopes. It seems to me that it is easier for them to fly than to see some star, say, at a distance of 5000 light years.

Irina: What you call a telescope is currently built into the ship's system. For example, a starship. It can be located at some point in space and receive information about the stars. Where is it located, what is the space around it, what is the nearest star.

There are special devices called (look for an analogue of the term in the contactee's dictionary) spatial cartographs, they are built into the artificial brain of the ship. The brain is like a computer, only it can communicate with the crew (shows such a large computer), which is responsible for all the systems of the ship.

He can navigate by the stars and create a three-dimensional picture of the space where he is located. Because when there is a ship in outer space, the space is above it, on the sides of it and below, let's say so. Bottom and top are relative concepts. Regarding the person who is there in one position or another. Still, it's a voluminous map.

There are also telescopes that can observe distant stars, for example, at space bases. They are there not to observe the stars, but to observe, for example, the gravity beacons through which ships pass in order to record their work. These telescopes can have various devices built into them that record certain radiations.

Rinat: Their operating principle is completely different, it turns out, than ours.

Irina: The telescopes that you have - we had these at the dawn of space exploration. And now they may be interesting, for example, to children. There are analogues for children who study space, in addition to the lessons they are taught at school.

Although there are flights around the Galaxy. For example, in the school curriculum of Esler students there are several flights around the Galaxy, in one class or another. But, nevertheless, a child can study this outside of school. His parents don't always take him around the Galaxy. They don't always have the opportunity, due to work, or for some other reason. But he, for example, wants to study, and astral travel is not enough for him. Which, of course, is very strange, because astral travel is taught by parents even before school.

Rinat: Yeah.

Irina: You have puzzled us!

1:03:10 Space and time. The principle of gravitational movements.

Rinat: And that's what I don't understand, Irina. I listen to you and re-watch some things to understand for myself. I think in one of the first programs you talked about instantaneous movements from one point to another. You said that when you flew, you practically didn't feel any movement, right? And the gluon connection is an instantaneous connection. Does this all mean that space and time are still an illusion? They don't exist by and large?

Irina: From the point of view of the Spiritual world, this is an illusion. How's the illusion? They do not exist in the Spiritual World. But in space these are not illusions. There are simply waves of a certain energy that the devices detect. They can bypass the laws of physics you are familiar with. But this does not mean a violation of the laws - it is simply their continuation in the sense that you simply did not open them, did not explain them to yourself.

Rinat: Only because we don't know this yet?

Irina: These are still the laws of nature. For example, let's take a gravity jump. This is a simple phenomenon that is very similar to hitting a ball on a football field.

Here lies the ball. The football player's foot hits him - he suddenly begins to accelerate.

Rinat: But he still passes through this space in time?

Irina: Yes. He goes through this space. I'm talking analogue now. And the explanation there is this: the force that was contained in the leg of this football player, it gave acceleration to this ball. Simple explanation. And the greater the force applied to this ball, the less its mass, and the less gravity of this planet (maybe this stadium is located on the Moon), the farther the ball will fly. It's a simple mechanism.

And in a gravitational jump (I'm not saying that the effect is similar) the explanation is just as simple. Gravitons, quanta of gravity, which are in every atom, escape, as you call it, from the nucleus of the atom. We call it from the third level of energy. They first overcome the second level of energy, then the first level of energy. The nature of gravitons is to be inside the third energy level. When they were knocked out of there by some kind of energy, forced out (knocked out is just a term that indicates the intensive progress of this process), gravitons strive to return to the third level of this atom.

They fail to do this due to the field that is created and does not let back this gravitational radiation. You know very well that radiation can also have a direction, because after all it is material energy (not subtle and not spiritual). This radiation begins to rotate along a specially created artificial engine circuit, which, naturally, consists of certain substances that can withstand the plasma field, along a special trajectory. If the speed of gravitons in a state bound by matter is practically equal to the speed of photons, then in a free state this speed exceeds the speed of photons by 50 times.

But achieving a maximum speed of gravitons is not required for a gravitational jump. When gravitons rotate in this engine circuit, the speed constantly increases, because they still strive to return, to overcome this plasma field. They strive to return to matter.

The plasma field experiences, one might say, pressure from this gravitational radiation and presses in response. The elastic force of the plasma field is created there; special indicators are on the starship display.

When the speed of these gravitational flows, which resemble a wave because there is inhomogeneity, reaches 4 light times, this gravitational field instantly spreads to the entire ship, because this engine circuit transmits it to the entire ship. But it does not transmit through wires, but through special energy channels that are in the casing. And as soon as the speed reaches 4 light speeds, this released energy moves the ship from one point to another, but not because it dissolves there - this will already be teleportation, this is considered dangerous, because the atoms may assemble incorrectly.

In the brain, for example, if one protein molecule is replaced by another protein in a third of the cells, this is fraught with mental disorders. Instantaneous movement is when space is instantly overcome precisely due to gravitational interaction. At the moment when a ship disappears at one point in space, not at the same moment, but at the next moment (an instant is approximately equal to 1.5 of your seconds) it appears at another. It doesn’t appear at the same second, otherwise the ship will exist in two places at the same time.

Rinat: What is the maximum distance? Or does it depend on engine power?

Irina: From the power of the engine, the type of fuel from which these gravitons are knocked out, from certain characteristics of the plasma fuel, from the mass of the ship and all the contents on it. All atoms of the ship and everyone who sits in it also have gravitational fields, these gravitons, which are contained inside the atoms. And the more there are, the more free gravity is required to move.

It is easiest to knock out gravitons from tetravalent atoms. For example, from fine powder of carbon or silicon, germanium is sometimes used. Let's take carbon as the most common type of fuel or energy source of gravitons (fuel is an incorrect term because it does not burn itself; this term can be used as an image to understand the process). Six kilograms of carbon in fine powder (like graphite) is enough to move a ship and all its contents up to 400 kilograms about 30 light years.

Rinat: Great!

Irina: By the way, when gravity leaves there, the powder will remain the same carbon, but it will be unsuitable for the next jump. It will be suitable for some other needs. But you won't be able to get anything out of there for the next jump.

For example, silicon powder is 40 percent more powerful, but in order to knock out gravitons from there, you need to increase the temperature and pressure in the plasma field.

Rinat: We show large rockets, hundreds of meters. Do you need a fairly large amount of fuel or is there a different principle?

Irina: If the ship is big, there will be a lot of supplies. He has a large plasma generator, which also requires a lot of energy. Since we have no analogue of your electrical energy, much less alternating current, we use the energy stored on the hull of the ship. We assemble it with special devices that are built into this casing using nanotechnology, such as plates. These plates absorb radiation from stars, various waves: gamma, x-rays, and so on.

Rinat: Which are then converted into electricity.

Irina: Yes. They have high energy. A large amount of second level energy in an atom, like waves. But there are also individual atoms there. After all, there is always, for example, scattered hydrogen. And all this comes together into these plates, is converted into a special alloy with a certain palladium content, which is converted into energy. It is not directly converted into electricity, it can take, for example, magnetism, light energy, electricity, and all this together will then be converted into heat or lighting, depending on what the needs are. Because the power plant powers this plasma generator, which must heat a certain amount of gas with heat.

Rinat: Thank you! Yes, it will take us a long time to get there.

1:16:46 Memory lock.

Rinat: Final question: how do aliens erase the memory of contactees? Is there a blocking of information for a certain period of time on the subtle mental plane? Is this similar to erasing people's memories before incarnation?

Irina: If it was physical contact, special electromagnetic fields are induced that affect the signals of brain neurons, and the creation of some memory proteins is blocked.

Rinat: That is, for a certain period of time, it turns out?

Irina: Yes, for a certain period of time, and what has already been produced is erased. One might say, those protein structures that were created due to the perception of this event are destroyed.

Rinat: Then it turns out that this is not like erasing memory before incarnation? Is there a completely different mechanism or principle?

Irina: There already on a spiritual level. When they make physical contact, it's through the body. Therefore, this memory block can be bypassed very easily, especially if there is consent from the Higher Self.

Rinat: Let's say, if this blocking is carried out, after talking with the Higher Self, can the memory be restored? Or is this issue discussed with the Higher Self before that?

Irina: It can be restored. You can ask the Higher Self whether there was physical contact, if the answer is "yes", but the person does not remember, it means that his memory was erased. With the permission of the Higher Self, it can send memories of this, because no physical devices or radiation can block anything. It is in the Spiritual world, and with its consent, it can send these events back to the brain to its embodied part.

Dear friends! Thank you for watching this video! I hope you found it interesting! MidgasCaus told an interesting story, I also listened. Dear friends, thank you for being with us! See you again!

Rinat: Goodbye!

#453 Physical contact! Visit to the Planet of Outlaws. Interview with a prisoner from the planet Disnit.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/poseshchenie-planety-prestupnikov-intervyu-zaklyuc https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=bQQZW6IbCKc

0:18 Preface.

In the summer of 1999, a thirteen-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than twenty years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:13 Start of physical contact.

Maxim: Hello everyone, dear friends. We have a very interesting post today. This is the first time we are making such a recording. For us, these interrogations were always conducted by one of the people who dropped out of the project, so today I personally, as the head of the Cassiopeia project, Rusan Maxim, will interrogate Irina after her flight “in the heat of the moment.”

I know that Irina has just arrived from another contact. She has a real connection. She travels on a flying saucer with one of her handlers, Kirchiton. Yes, Irin, is that so?

Irina: Yes. Hello, dear friends. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. About an hour ago I returned from physical contact with my first curator, whose name is Kirchiton. He is from the planet Daraal. Hello everyone from Kirchiton. Hello to you too, Maxim.

Maxim: A huge hello to him too. These are probably the first words that I heard in the first video “12 Questions That Changed My Life”: “Greetings from Kirchiton,” and I realized that I probably “got it.”

Irish, I know that the planet to visit was not chosen by chance. The planet is selected for your visit by a group of people. These are our administrators, our volunteers. The Outlaw Planet was chosen.

I will ask you to start over, so that those who see us for the first time understand what contacts are, that you have real physical contact. Maybe you yourself imagined something in your head and flew somewhere.

I used to give you a lift, and now I’m sitting in your place, where you used to broadcast. You are now in the big Center, I know. I would like to know how things went for you today? Who drove you today?

Irina: Konstantin gave me a ride today. He is a volunteer at our Center. He brought me and stopped quite far from the meeting place. I had to walk so that the point of contact would not be known. You know about this, you gave me a lift yourself.

I went to the contact point. I waited 5-7 minutes. The plate now appears differently than when I saw it before. She appears under an invisibility field.

I feel a tingling sensation in my shoulders and head. I raise my head, a light green beam shines from above. At first it looks like a star, then it grows and turns into a ray. The tingling begins and intensifies. Then it lifts you up, like in an elevator. Now there is no longer a ladder that he lowered, I went up and then went down it. Now it's lifting along the beam.

The ship is now in artificial gravity. Kirchiton installed artificial gravity and a light beam. There are conditions for contacts.

I discovered another innovation when I boarded the ship. I haven't seen him since last year. You know, dear friends, Maxim, he doesn’t change outwardly. The way I remembered him last time is how he remained.

Maxim: It’s clear, the ships inside do not change.

Irina: And Kirchiton hasn’t changed either. The way I remembered him, that’s how he remained. The same plate, the same room with a hatch in the floor, the same corridor several meters long, the same mushroom-shaped room. This is how it is located (shows). Three windows and the same chairs. With the same handles that were there when there was weightlessness. Now there is no weightlessness, you sit as usual.

But there is one more innovation. Kirchiton was not alone. A biorobot emerged from one of the doors and is now tasked with monitoring physical contacts. According to the Ashtar application he submitted.

06:49 The reality of physical contacts.

Maxim: I see. Irin, tell me honestly. Many people don't believe that you have real contacts. How to understand that this is not a glitch, how to understand that this is reality. Maybe they directed a beam at you and you fell asleep under a tree, did you dream about it all? How do you know if it's real?

Irina: How is it different from sleep? I know that dreams can be very realistic. That is, in a dream you will feel everything. You will walk. Maybe more real than reality itself. But in a dream there is a different state of consciousness.

When you go to the Astral, you do not have the same state of consciousness that you have in your physical body. Of course, I don't argue. I was told that it can also be faked through chips. This is what some ufologists said about physical contacts.

What can I say? I personally don’t see the point in such difficulties: for me to come somewhere or come in non-physical contact. They could make contact in the Astral here too. I never asked for physical contact to be specially tailored to me.

Some say: “They set it up to make you think there was physical contact.” I never asked for physical contact. I don't see the point in doing this. There are non-physical contactees, I know them, they are also contactees.

If they can fake physical contact using chips or some fields, then I think with this technology, it’s not difficult for them to arrange real physical contact. This is my logic.

Several ufologists were talking, and I talked with them. One says that they can make physical contact with her through a chip. So that I could stand and “see” all this mentally with the help of a chip.

As one ufologist wrote: “Why arrange physical contact for her and waste resources?” Another ufologist wrote that if they have such perfect chips that can fake reality for a person, although he is not in it, then with such technologies it will not be difficult to make ordinary physical contact. This is equivalent, as he explained.

I wanted to add: I do not have physical evidence regarding the rules of contact. They told me: “If this suits you, we will carry them out.” This is a matter of faith. Who believes, who doesn't believe. Let everyone decide whether I have contacts or not, based on their heart and understanding. We never convince anyone of anything.

Maxim: Our project never convinces anyone of anything. We leave everything we talk about and what information we convey on faith.

10:05 The path to the planet of criminals.

Maxim: Tell me, Irish, we chose the planet of criminals.

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Tell me, what is your impression? How did you fly, how much time did you spend on it, where did you arrive, where did you land? Such information.

Irina: Now I don't count (as I did the first time) to fifteen or something like that. I judge subjectively. Maybe less than a minute had passed. I know that this time is necessary in order to move away from planet Earth and approach the planet where the flight is scheduled. The gravitational jump occurs instantly. A minute, two or half a minute is spent moving away from the planet and approaching the planet using planetary engines.

Why is this necessary? Because the gravity drive cannot be turned on while in the vicinity of a large gravitational mass. It won't work. Or it won't work correctly.

Maxim: You made a gravitational jump. And where did you end up?

11:14 Organization of life on the planet Shalpor.

Irina: When we left the ship, there was no longer a beam. The door opened, there was a ladder in the floor, we went out. We came out not to the surface of the planet, but like on the Moon. It was a hangar, I called it a "bunker". Metal room, light gray walls, like iron. Several tall people greeted us. I later found out that they were Burkhadians.

There are a lot of representatives of the planets Burkhad, Esler, and Tikht working there. They work as criminal psychologists and their assistants. Security is provided by biorobots. As they explained to me, each criminal psychologist should have no more than four wards in his group.

Maxim: No more than four?

Irina: Maybe one, two or three. An experienced specialist may have four.

Maxim: For four criminals there is one criminal psychologist?

Irina: Yes. Not everyone lives on Shalpor. Some fly (as if to work) from another planet. As they explained to me, only a minority remains to live there. They have special rooms inside the planet, below the surface.

Criminals live on the surface of the planet in different settlements.

First I asked questions. I took out the notebook that I took with me.

Maxim: Irin, we gave you prepared questions. I will ask them to you. Did you take these questions with you?

Irina: We were met by three Burkhadians. The biorobot remained on Kirchiton's ship. By the way, the biorobot looks like an ordinary earthly person. Dressed in a gray earth suit, like a young man of about thirty, tall. You can't tell him apart from a person, although I understand that he is a biorobot. His voice is not metallic, he separates the words very clearly. Punctuation marks and stops are automatic.

Maxim: Were you met by a biorobot?

Irina: When I was taken to Kirchiton's ship, there was a biorobot that must fly with each physical curator. He asked me: "Contactor, is your contact voluntary?" The robot was next to us to monitor the contact.

Kirchiton says: "You see how much contact I have, now we have different rules. Physical curators are trusted, but it is not enough to hand over records from the ship to the Interstellar Union about what happened to the contactee. To prevent abuse, there is a biorobot nearby.”

This happened after Ashtar's statement and our video about the "Union of Six". What if he was recruited into the “Order of Six”?

Maxim: Tell me, please, what does a biorobot look like like a person?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Is this biorobot only for meeting with you or for meeting with other contactees?

Irina: That’s what I didn’t ask. Kirkhiton said that now each physical curator needs to take a biorobot into physical contact with a person from Earth. He was with us. When we went to the planet of criminals, he did not follow us, he remained in the ship. Probably because the Burkhadians came out.

It’s good that Kirchiton took a translator with him. A box that translates in a man's low voice, very similar to Kirchiton's voice. Translates my words into their language, and theirs into Russian. Because I don’t know Burkhadi, and they didn’t know Russian.

We talked, I asked questions and wrote down answers. Then they lifted me to the surface and took me to one of the buildings where the criminals live. They said that this was an exceptional case, because it turns out that criminals are not allowed to meet with anyone, even relatives.

Maxim: Criminals are not allowed to meet anyone on the planet?

16:26 Life of prisoners on Shalpor. Occupational therapy and spiritual lessons.

Irina: Yes. I saw one. I saw how they live.

You need to take the elevator. Their buildings are round. Six buildings stand in the shape of a circle, like a street. One circle, a little further away another circle. Between them there are not stone tiles, but diamonds made of some kind of greenish stone. Around the yard there are plants with round crowns and long blue leaves. They have white tassels like flowers. I didn't approach them, but saw them from afar.

Maxim: I see. Tell me how many civilizations there are on the planet of criminals. Do different civilizations serve their sentences?

Irina: Yes. Civilizations that are suitable for the conditions on this planet: they breathe oxygen, there are no harmful impurities in the atmosphere. These settlements are for them.

Humanoids who need different conditions, a different atmosphere, on the same planet, but on its other side, closer to the pole. They are located under transparent domes. A suitable atmosphere has been created for them, even gravity. They, it turns out, can locally change gravity in one area or another of the planet.

Maxim: How many criminals are there on this planet? And how many civilizations?

18:14 Description of the planet Shalpor.

Irina: I wrote it down, the planet of criminals is called Shalpor. It is located in the constellation Aries, 737 light years from the Sun. The planet is approximately the size of Earth, maybe a little smaller. Gravity is approximately equal to Earth's, but I did not feel the difference. I was told that the gravity is 15-17 percent less than on Earth. They said there were few bodies of water there. There are rivers and lakes, but no large oceans or seas. Almost the entire planet is occupied by land.

They said that she has two Suns. One Sun is very far away, the second is close.

When we reached the surface, I saw the sky was slightly orange. I was told that these were clouds. Behind them is a large orange Sun. When the clouds clear, it is clearly visible as a ball that is three times larger than ours.

Maxim: Interesting.

Irina: When you look, an orange light shines on you from the sky. Not white clouds, but solid cloud cover. Quite warm, even stuffy, like it happens before rain. You look at your hand, and an orange light comes through it.

Maxim: How through it?

Irina: It’s like she’s glowing. If you've seen the sun set, you pose and look like this. Also there.

Maxim: I see. What does the second Sun look like?

Irina: And the second one, I was told, is white, but it is far away. One star revolves around another in six Earth years. Around each other. As Kirchiton said, they rotate around a common center of mass.

Maxim: I see. Let's continue with the recording. You had some very interesting questions that our administrators wrote.

20:56 Methods of working with criminals on the planet Shalpor.

Irina: You asked how many inhabitants of the planet are criminals.

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: This was the first question. I wrote down the questions so I could read them, and then I wrote down the answer.

There are currently 318,342 humanoids on the planet Shalpor. From 117 civilizations.

Maxim: 117 civilizations?

Irina: Yes, today there are 117 civilizations in the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: How do different civilizations get along? Are there insectoids?

Irina: Yes. 318,342 humanoids from all civilizations are currently located. I was told that the figure is insignificant, because the population of the Interstellar Union is several tens of trillions of humanoids.

Maxim: Do they have a very low crime rate?

Irina: Yes. These are criminals who are dangerous to society. There are crimes for which you can limit yourself to a sanction at work or a monetary fine. Here are those who are dangerous to society.

I asked why people are most often condemned.

Maxim: And for what most often?

Irina: I'll finish reading. There are currently 318,342 humanoid criminals on the planet. They live in 27 large settlements - colonies. There are smaller ones. They contain those who have violated internal rules. They are sent into isolation.

Maxim: What does it mean “violated internal rules”?

Irina: They started fights or did something. They didn’t follow internal routines and didn’t go to work.

Maxim: Inside the planet?

Irina: Yes, internal rules.

Maxim: Do they have a separate punishment cell?

Irina: It will be interesting about the punishment cell. They told me how they were treated. There was a question: “How many, on average, are corrected and returned to society in an earthly year?”

Answer: Every year, on average, 10-20 humanoids arrive. Released 5-7. This is the average for the last 10 years.

Maxim: Is it released less than it remains?

Irina: Yes. It's not that easy to get out of there. Not like with us: you served time and that’s it, it’s more complicated there.

Maxim: Yes, interesting.

Irina: There was a question: “Do prisoners take each other out of incarnation there, and what is the punishment for this?”

Maxim: Interesting, yes.

Irina: Answer. Yes, it happens that they take each other out of incarnation because of some everyday quarrels or ideological differences. Or they settle old scores when they meet. The punishment for this is punishment cell. But this is an earthly understanding. This is not a separate chamber, but is located in a natural area. The killer is taken to special caves. There are many mountains on the planet, and there are caves in the mountains.

The humanoid killer is locked in a cave. Air enters it. There is an automatic supply of food and water. In absolute darkness and silence, the criminal must search for what he needs by touch. He has signs showing how you can walk along the wall to the right place. The stones are laid out.

If it is an earthling, it all depends on the physiology of how they feed.

Maxim: Wait, what does earthling mean?

Irina: They explained to me that, for example, one eats once a day on earth, so they will give him food.

Maxim: Wait. You said the phrase: “If this is an earthling.” You meant?

Irina: If there was an earthling, what conditions would be created for him?

Maxim: Got it.

Irina: They have prisoners from Disaru who are close to our physiology.

Maxim: I thought that our earthlings were being kept there.

Irina: Not yet. But if we join the Interstellar Union, then some will have to go there if they commit crimes.

Maxim: Yes. They have no light, only ways to move.

Irina: Yes, there are ways to travel. They can eat and leave waste products behind. If they don’t figure it out in the dark and do it somewhere else, they’ll just live with it.

Maxim: How hard it is to hold a conference in an hour. The brain works differently altogether. I want to remind those who are watching this video that Irina and I are trying to hold this conference at one in the morning after a whole business day at the Center. I try to ask her about the most interesting moments of her trip.

Irina: Criminals in caves are given a minimum of water and food characteristic of their type. And complete sensory deprivation. There are no sounds or lights. Complete darkness and silence. Sensory deprivation lasts approximately 120 Earth days.

Maxim: Aren't these humanoids going crazy?

Irina: When they are left alone with themselves, as a criminal psychologist explained to me, they immediately learn how valuable life is. Not immediately, but within 120 days, they have time to think about what they did.

They remain alone with themselves, with their curators, with their Higher Self. Every living creature has an instinct: to seek light. If he remains in complete physical darkness and does not communicate with anyone, then he begins to look for it within himself.

They come out of the caves reborn, as I was told. They already realize that they have committed terrible violence.

Maxim: Interesting, in 120 days the level of perception of light or something else does not change? It probably changes, but then the humanoid gets used to it. Yes, very interesting things.

Irina: If terrestrial physiology, they have representatives of Disaru. I didn’t ask how they are removed after 120 days; most likely, there is some kind of adaptation. They do not communicate with anyone and are alone with themselves.

The rules that if they kill someone, they will end up in caves, are announced on the very first day of the humanoids’ arrival on the planet. They become familiar with the rules.

They are also required to attend personal interviews with a criminal psychologist, who identifies the spiritual reasons for the crime. Together they are looking for ways to help him remove this negativity. If the convict does not come, the criminal psychologist will write him a character reference that he will not be released even after his term of imprisonment.

Maxim: Interesting.

Irina: If she doesn't go to meetings or is not interested in finding a common language with a psychologist.

The criminal can pretend that he understands everything. But the psychologist asks special questions and reveals the true beliefs of the humanoid, whether they have changed or not.

30:43 Chalpore occupational therapy.

Irina: What kind of work do criminals do?

Maxim: Yes, what are they doing there?

Irina: The most interesting thing is that they work in enterprises (factories) where they produce food for themselves, characteristic of their species. They only import raw materials, but do not produce anything special. They do everything for themselves. They even make dishes, clothes, and furniture. There are those who build houses for future settlers. The use of robots, unlike the Interstellar Union, is kept to a minimum. They have to get used to physical labor, which many have not heard of since childhood, because robots do everything. Such occupational therapy quickly brings them back to their senses. Many of them are accustomed to pressing buttons; biorobots do everything for them.

What if they refuse to work? They are given special coupons, not paper ones, but built into their chips. If the convicted person worked during the day, he goes to a special canteen or wherever he receives food. And if he was not at work and did not fulfill a certain norm, he may be denied food that day. If someone shares it with him, the camera will record it, and he will be deprived of food.

Maxim: Karl Marx was right when he said that labor made a man out of a monkey.

Irina: Those who don't work there don't eat. They must fulfill certain standards, which are monitored by biorobots. They cannot be persuaded, intimidated or bribed. They have their own program.

All the waste they receive, the garbage that remains, they process at special plants. They do everything for themselves and process their waste products.

They also said that there are factories on the planet that produce something for the Interstellar Union. For example, parts for devices, for the same biorobots, any household items. Convicts do not receive wages like ordinary workers; they work for food.

Maxim: I see.

Irina: It is believed that they are returning a debt to the society they have harmed.

Maxim: A very convenient planet. They were brought to the planet, they feed themselves, dress themselves, put on shoes. They are only given the necessary materials to do all this. Yes?

Irina: Yes. Only those materials that cannot be mined on the planet. If possible, some minerals are mined and processed. Technologies are provided by the Interstellar Union, but a lot of manual labor is required.

Maxim: Interesting. What are the next questions?

Irina: Where do they live, separately or together? Are women together with men or not?

I want to say before I read: when we rose to the surface of the planet, I saw a circle of six towers, quite high, maybe as tall as a 10-story building. We went inside one of them, there was a round elevator with dark red plastic walls. We got up. The doors opened and we stepped out onto the landing.

By the way, each criminal lives in a separate, I don't know if you can call it a room. Let's say in a separate sector. It doesn't lock (like a camera). Why lock yourself there? It's impossible to escape from there anyway. It is impossible to leave this planet.

In the sector we entered, there was a Disnit man sitting, and I asked him questions. The wider part at the entrance narrows to a single round window. The triangle-shaped room turns out to be quite small. It contains something that looks like a shelf and a drawer where you can put a minimum of things. Tight space.

I asked: "If the criminal is from the planet Disaru, with the physiology of earthlings, how much space will be allocated for him?" Convicts have different heights. They answered: "For the representative of Disaru, who is very similar to an earthling, 9 square meters are allocated."

Maxim: For every two meters of height, 9 square meters.

Irina: Yes, 9 square meters. It's a small room, but it's still private. They are not in front of each other. They meet, and then they can be with themselves. Why is this considered important? Because in the Interstellar Union it is believed that each creature needs its own personal space, which it will fill with its energy.

Maxim: Irina, you said that it is impossible to leave the planet. Do you know, maybe someone tried to save their relatives and friends on plates? Conduct military operations with capture?

Irina: I asked if there were any attempts to leave the planet. No, it was not. If they had somehow captured the ship, they would still have been able to find out where they were very quickly using the chips. They are looking for them by chips.

37:16 Chipization of the inhabitants of the Interstellar Union. Childbirth on the planet Shalpor.

Maxim: Is absolutely everyone in the Interstellar Union being chipped, or only those who end up on the planet of criminals?

Irina: Many civilizations in the Interstellar Union (IC) chip their inhabitants from childhood, such as the Eslerites, the Daraals, and so on. When representatives of civilizations that do not have chips enter the Planet of Criminals, they are given a special chip that tracks all their movements on the Planet of Criminals and in space. So that he doesn't hide anywhere on the planet and is in plain sight. On the planet, he can hide in the city so as not to be found.

Maxim: Earthlings are against chipping. They say it is a destructive thing. Chipping takes away free will.

Irina: One of the criminal psychologists suggested it to me.

"I heard, I have never been to Earth (this was translated by the translator box that Kirchiton gave me). I have never been to Earth, but I heard that on your planet criminals are kept in separate prisons. There they kill each other and get into fights. At the same time, there is a lot of unrecycled garbage on the planet that people throw away, which pollutes the environment. Why doesn't your government introduce microchipping for those criminals who are in prison, and send them to clean up this garbage, sorting it into categories: plastic, glass, wood, and so on?"

Maxim: This is a proposal from the Interstellar Union and Cassiopeia on how to properly use the labor of prisoners. I understand correctly?

Irina: Not in prison, but take them to a landfill. I say that they will run away from there, they will be tortured to guard them. He says: "Why protect them? Let them collect."

Maxim: I think if the chip is installed, they will be ready to cut off this place to get rid of the chip.

Irina: You can put it, as he said, next to the carotid artery, right behind the carotid artery. If you try to remove the chip, it will cause arterial bleeding.

Maxim: And when you try to install it, it won't cause anything?

Irina: Special microtechnologies are used in laboratories. They can even be administered between two cells.

Maxim: We need Interstellar Union technology to install such chips so that prisoners do not escape.

Irina: You can put it in the head, to the back of the head, from where it is impossible to pull it out. You never know where you can put a chip.

Maxim: They will pull us out from anywhere. Moreover, we do not have nanotechnology. No, there is nanotechnology. But there is no such technology yet to install a chip so that it cannot be identified and removed.

Irina: We don't have separate chips. But we have chips in bracelets. They are worn to track the movements of those under house arrest. They are very difficult to remove. Maybe you can saw them through.

Maxim: Okay, Irin, these are thoughts out loud about the proposal for recycling garbage and the possibility of microchipping prisoners. Although the idea is interesting.

Irina: He says: "There will be a lot of benefit. The planet will be cleansed, and criminals will receive occupational therapy. For many of them, since they have proud Souls, it will be humiliating to dig through garbage.

Firstly, it will reconcile them with reality, with the fact that the world is as it is. Because they will do the dirty work. When they do it, they will gradually understand that there is nothing terrible in it.

And second, they will appreciate life as it was before the crime was committed. Psychologists find that occupational therapy is helpful in helping them rethink the negative things they have done.”

Maxim: We missed the most interesting topic. Have we missed how female and male humanoids live together or separately?

Irina: I already told you what this house looks like. There are four rooms on each floor where I was. They live in large houses - round towers. Separate rooms. Women's houses are separate from men's houses, although they may be in the same settlement.

Maxim: Are there cases of marriages and the birth of children on the Planet of Criminals?

Irina: I asked a criminal psychologist, marriages and the birth of children do not happen. To prevent them from conceiving children while they live in the city, as they explained to me, their reproductive cells are specially blocked. For each race individually, either with a drug or with radiation. But this is temporary. This is done along with the introduction of a chip with which they will be monitored. The ability to reproduce is blocked.

43:33 Types of crimes on the planets of the Interstellar Union. Life imprisonment.

Maxim: Got it, interesting. What is the most common crime for which humanoids end up on the Planet of Criminals?

Irina: Yes, I asked too. The most common crime is the abuse of power on the planets of the Interstellar Union for one’s own personal interests.

Maxim: The Interstellar Crime Union is not far removed from earthlings.

Irina: What do you mean in your personal interests? The ruler of the planet or part of it, of some country, has adopted a law that is not popular with the majority of the people. According to the law of the Interstellar Union, 50 humanoids must gather and write a protest to him in writing that this law violates the rights of the majority. He looks at it for a certain time. If he agrees with this, he changes the law. If he doesn't agree and refuses them (says everything is fine), then 50 people from the initiative group can put forward demands. Demands that he call early elections. For example, if this is the president of some planet, and he passed a law so that he announces early elections for himself or another politician.

The official is obliged to carry out elections within a short period of time. He must announce that the initiative group is not satisfied with the law, and they demand early elections. If he wins the election, the initiative group loses the opportunity to contact him again on the same issue.

If he refuses to hold elections or tries to interfere with the work of the initiative group, they report to the planet Burkhad. There is a Department for monitoring political processes. The president is removed from power, sometimes sent, if there has been some serious offense, to the Planet of Criminals. There is an article "Abuse of political power" (not in public interests, but in personal ones).

They experiment with the negative consequences of something. Not only on planets that were not included in the Interstellar Union, but also with their inhabitants. Scientists can get there. But I was told there are few crimes such as murder, rape, theft.

Maxim: Crimes of a more sophisticated psychological nature?

Irina: Yes, larger ones.

Maxim: Irin, please tell me what percentage of humanoids on the planet are in life imprisonment?

Irina: They don't have a judge, in our understanding. It is, rather, a court of a group of humanoids, which necessarily includes a relative of the crime victim and a relative of the criminal.

They talk to the offender, ask him questions about why he did it. They reach a verdict through voting and negotiations: how much to sentence him to. This is a preliminary deadline. I'll continue reading now.

The verdict of life imprisonment is currently 32 percent.

Maxim: That is, forever?

Irina: Yes. He can come out. To do this, the criminal psychologist needs confirmation that the damage to his Soul has changed and he is safe for society. He will have to convince a criminal psychologist of this, who has seen many such humanoids. The psychologist will work, among other things, with his Higher Self.

Maxim: Do those who are imprisoned for life have a chance to get out of prison?

Irina: Yes, if he changes. If a psychologist releases someone, writing a conclusion that he has changed, but he will commit a crime again and will be unreliable for society, then it is possible to investigate the psychologist's activities and remove him from work. And in some cases, if conspiracy is proven, the psychologist himself will end up there, but as a criminal.

Maxim: I see. Irina, statistically, which race occupies the largest percentage on this planet?

Irina: Tikht, Disnit, Tashig and Orshkars told me. This is the colony of Tumesouta.

Maxim: Are there even Tikhtians, Disnitians, Tashigans and Tumesoutians?

Irina: This is the Tumesouta colony. It is located in the constellation Ophiuchus, called Orshkars.

Maxim: I heard about this colony somewhere. You once told me. What are they like? They grow up to 12 meters, right? Imagine putting someone who lives 25,000 years in prison for life. Can he stay on the planet for 25,000 years?

Irina: Yes. He will remain there until physical death. They do not have the death penalty. If his criminal psychologist who led him leaves, another will come in his place, get acquainted with his case and continue to work with him.

Criminal psychologists must constantly meet with their clients, talk, ask questions, and study their worldview. They have a whole system there.

Maxim: Irina, can you imagine, a psychologist from Esler has lived for 600 years, he goes to his ward, who has lived for 25,000 years. How so? Is it possible to change criminal psychologists? And it happens that a criminal psychologist lives for 25,000 years, while his reptilians live for 700 years.

Irina: Yes, there are different ones.

Maxim: Everything is very interesting.

Irina: Are there juvenile criminals there, and how do they deal with them? At what age can you get there?

Maxim: Who answered, Irish?

Irina: The Burkhadian answered, he is a criminal psychologist. He has been working there for the last five hundred and twenty years.

There are no juvenile delinquents there. Only an adult can get there according to the laws of the planet. On each planet there is a certain age at which a humanoid is considered an adult, responsible for his actions, working, and having completed his primary education. That's how they explained it to me.

I asked how you deal with juvenile delinquents, if you have any? He said it was possible. They are brought up in a special school on their planet, where they committed an offense. Child forensic psychologists work with them.

Maxim: Department for working with minors on the planet.

Irina: Question: “How many years are they imprisoned for murder, violence, corruption?”

As a criminal psychologist explained to me, they do not have specific deadlines. For murder, 10 - 15 years or some other time. The term will depend on the verdict of the humanoids who question him. The group includes a criminal psychologist, a humanoid who was investigating the crime, relatives of the crime victim or the victim herself, if she is alive, relatives of the criminal, and there may be work colleagues who ask questions and decide.

I was told that if they give 15 Earth years for murder, then when this period approaches, he talks with a criminal psychologist. If the psychologist characterizes that the prisoner has realized his crime, then he can get out of there. If he served 15 years and did not realize anything, and a criminal psychologist writes that spiritual work was not carried out, then he will remain indefinitely.

I was told that the verdicts are indicative, the deadlines are preliminary. How much time the convicted person will need, in the opinion of the group drawing up the verdict, to reform. Automatically, upon reaching this period, no one is released.

Maxim: Interesting. In our country only in psychiatric clinics they keep people like this. Yes? No one is released automatically, only with the consent of a council of doctors.

Irina: Yes. Question: “Can an innocent person be imprisoned?”

He was surprised. He said that a thorough investigation of the crime is being carried out. Work is underway with the Higher Self of the criminal. If there is the slightest doubt about guilt, do not use the conclusion, but continue the investigation until it is proven. That's what they told me.

Next I’ll tell you about the Disney guy I asked.

Maxim: Yes, we gave you the task of personally communicating with the prisoner.

Irina: Yes.

54:37 The appearance of a Disney person.

Maxim: What do Disney people look like? Tell us for those who are listening to us for the first time.

Irina: Their height is slightly less than that of a human. The one I saw was a little shorter than me, white skin and an oval head. You can say: a square body, long arms and legs, and eyes like two black coals. Absolutely black, without pupils.

Maxim: Irin, weren’t you scared of the Disney guy?

Irina: I've already seen them. First, a criminal psychologist from Burkhad told me that criminals should not see anyone except criminal psychologists. An exception will be made for the contactee. When we walked in, I saw a shelf and a drawer.

The shelf seemed to be made of plastic, and I placed the box on it. I walked in, and the criminal psychologist and Kirkhiton stood behind me. We couldn't fit all of us in the room. They stood in the corridor, at the door, the door was open, and they heard everyone.

I introduced myself and asked, “What’s your name?” He said, "Harish Thrum." This is how the box translated. The sounds were different. I asked: “What did you do and what prompted you to do this?” I didn't write it down because we didn't have much time.

Harish said that he was a member of a criminal group (such a criminal was specially chosen for me) that was 82 years ago. He has been in prison for 82 years.

Maxim: What is their lifespan?

Irina: About 500 years.

57:19 History of the crime of kidnapping earthlings.

Irina: I asked: “What did you do, and what prompted you to do it?” He replied that he was a member of a criminal group that, more than 80 earthly years ago, participated in the abduction of earthlings. He was in cahoots with an alien from the Order of Six, with some Tashigans, with Disnit and Selbet people. With two Selbet men who were at the base on Pluto. There they deliberately forged cards and documents that would allow passage of an empty ship. And he was with the kidnapped earthlings.

Maxim: Wow. Did they really kidnap our people?

Irina: Yes. They said there were more than 300 abducted. They were not killed, but transported to a planet in the Centaurus constellation. They wanted to create a race out of them, add their genes and train them to create an influence group. Then return their children to Earth so that the children can enter our government and change the laws.

Maxim: Irin, don’t you think this version is plausible?

Irina: They were caught, the Disnit man was sent to Shalpor.

Maxim: Where did they put the children?

Irina: Everyone who was found on that planet was returned to Earth. The memory was erased because psychological trauma was caused.

Maxim: This is one of the groups that was caught. Perhaps there are groups that were not caught?

Irina: This one was caught. I asked: “How did your group get caught?” He said there were about 300 gang members. A new member joined the group, who turned out to be an intelligence officer. He followed them, found out who lived where, and then told the Galaxy Security Service.

Maxim: Great. I would like to talk to him more. I would find out if there are other groups. Maybe they achieved their goal 80 years ago. Biden is 80 years old. Maybe he is the child of the abducted.

Irina: Already with altered genes? I ask: “Whose genes?” He replies that it’s not the Disnit people, but the “Order of the Six” and the Selbet people. They agreed. There were five leaders of the criminal group. He was not a leader, he was a performer.

Maxim: Irin, I heard from many contactees about the experiments that were carried out with earthlings. They say that the experiments were finally brought to their logical conclusion.

Irina: A criminal psychologist told me that sometimes such plans are revealed, and humanoids end up on the Planet of Criminals. I say: “My handlers from the Interstellar Union don’t really like to talk about this.” He responded: “They are scientists, not very familiar with the criminal chronicle of the Galaxy. You need to talk to the special services, they are doing this. Who are your curators? Astrophysicists, biologists, physicists. Not their area of interest. It lowers their vibrations when they They’re starting to get familiar with it.”

Maxim: Very interesting. And what other questions?

Irina: “What prompted you to do this, why did you join this group?”

He replied, “I wanted to help change the laws on Earth so that they would be fairer.” He believed them and sincerely wanted to help. They did not say that they would harm earthlings. They said that they would change the government: “We will gradually introduce this planet into the Interstellar Union. The Earth will be with the Interstellar Union. The government of the Interstellar Union is doing this very slowly, because of which people are suffering. We will speed up this process.”

That is, they were, as it were, for justice.

Maxim: They sing very sweetly, like some media. I understand. What other questions did you have?

Irina: “Did you know that you could be sent to the Planet of Criminals?”

He says: “Yes, of course, I knew it was a crime. We violated the rules of contact. No one asked permission.”

They were selected for some kind of genetic profile, as he explained. He was one of the scientists who took the tests. Researched genetic profile. If a person did not suit them, they simply erased his memory and let him go.

Maxim: I wonder what genetic profile they selected for? You didn't ask?

Irina: So that there are no hereditary diseases, hereditary brain pathologies, so that the genetic profile corresponds to the norm, as they explained to me. They took representatives of the European race so that there were no genetic profiles of other nationalities. For some reason this was important to them.

Maxim: You tell it, and I compare it with information about laboratories in Ukraine. There the genetic profile of Europeans was studied.

Everything is very interesting. I don't know how to compare correctly and what our viewers will think. The information is very interesting.

Irina: What's in these laboratories?

Maxim: Study of the genetic profile of the European race.

Irina: I will ask the Burkhadians to pay special attention to this.

Maxim: Yes, and I ask representatives of the Interstellar Union to pay special attention to the laboratories that were on the territory of Ukraine.

Irina: Are there really earthlings working in them?

Maxim: And I have the same question.

Irina: And I did.

He said that he knew everything, but to help the Earth, as he then understood it, he committed a crime.

There was also a question: “How did your parents and friends react to this when they found out?”

He told me that they reacted negatively. I asked: “What was the negative?” He said: “The last time I talked to them, they tried to persuade me to confess everything and tell everything that happened there about the other members of the group. It is a crime. They didn't understand. My parents were scientists. They are very law-abiding, far from changing society in such a way as to go against the law.”

1:05:25 Work with prisoners on the planet Shalpor.

Irina: “Do the employees of the Planet of Criminals help you understand the spiritual causes of crime and take the path of correction? How do they do this, with what methods?”

He said he was given approximately 115 Earth years. His deadline hasn't come yet. 82 years have passed, or maybe 114 years 8 months, approximately 115 years.

He said it had only been 82 years. I have good contact with a criminal psychologist (in earthly terms, one might say, with a curator on this planet). With a spiritual mentor. He said yes, it helps him realize.

I asked: “What did you realize?” He realized that the laws of the Interstellar Union, which he violated, were not invented in vain. Not for humanity to suffer, but for humanity to become independent.

The intervention of the group was to introduce people with altered DNA and brought up in the MS, so that there would be an influence group, and the laws would be changed artificially. All the same, they would not have been able to change the laws, because the egregors of the planet were not ready for high-vibration laws. They would simply reject them.

I’m speaking now in my own words, as I remember. He explained that in the physical world this would manifest itself. For example, an uprising would be launched by those people who did not accept these laws, because society is not ready. He also realized that each society must, in an evolutionary way, install a ruler who will lead them to the Light. And for this, the whole society must first realize where this Light is.

I asked: “So you understand that you can’t force yourself into heaven?” He explained to me what heaven is. Even the Burkhadian laughed.

Maxim: Yes, it’s very difficult to explain to humanoids what “heaven” and “hell” are when they don’t know it.

Irina: I ask: “In what ways do employees help?”

He talks to a criminal psychologist. The psychologist first asked, did not apply any pressure. He asked why I did it, what goals I pursued, and received explanations.

Then the psychologist brought up questions: “The law that you violated, why was it adopted? Was the law passed to harm someone?” Such questions to explain to yourself the meaning of the law that you violated.

Maxim: Clearly, a competent psychologist does this. He does not explain to the patient what his problem is, but leads him to this problem with questions.

Irina: He said that the psychologist connected him with the Higher Self. They also have such work. The criminal asked his Higher Self where - he did not say block - he said the wrong erroneous illusory mental belief that led him to destructive actions. Where did it originate, at what point, how to fix it? That is, they are working on it.

I asked him three more questions. “If you returned to the Interstellar Union, would you do the same thing?” He said: “No, I have already changed.”

Maxim: In 85 years out of 115 years you can say “no”.

Irina: He says: “No, I wouldn’t do that.” I say, “So, are you ready to go out now?” He says: “If I had submitted a formal request to be released, perhaps my criminal psychologist would have signed his consent, his resolution, his conclusion. But I don’t want to do it ahead of schedule because I think I should be here.” He takes it as a lesson and doesn’t want to leave early.

Maxim: Show me a prisoner who does not want to leave early on Earth.

Irina: He said that his awareness (as I understood him) at the moment is such that how long are his spiritual mentors in the Spiritual world through people, judges who assigned him a verdict, the term is given to him by higher powers. And it's not for him to change that. He has this conviction.

Maxim: Interesting. What other questions did you ask him?

Irina: I asked: "Did you realize your mistake, did you commit metanoia?" I explained to him that metanoia is a change in the mind. He didn't say yes or no. He said: "On the way to it. I don't think I would have done that again. So, I think I've realized it. I took such an action, despite the laws of the Interstellar Union, which I knew from childhood. We have been studying them since childhood. What are the laws, why were they adopted, what benefits do they bring. If I didn't look at this knowledge, it means I missed something. I am very critical of myself now. I don't think I would have done this."

1:11:52 Appeal to the earthlings of the concluded Interstellar Union.

Irina: And the last thing I asked him: "What would you wish for earthlings?"

Maxim: Especially for those who are now in prison.

Irina: Yes, earthlings, especially those who are in your position, only on Earth. He asked me a little about why people get caught on Earth more often.

Maxim: Did you tell him that you can go to jail for stealing a chicken?

Irina: Yes, I said that for theft, for murder most often.

He wanted to convey to earthlings his wish that they would never repeat his path in the sense that it is difficult to see oneself as less than ideal.

Appeal. “When you make a mistake and you are responsible for it, you start to be disappointed in yourself. To avoid having to do this, you must, before taking any action, compare it with your life goals for implementation. Crime was not my life's goal.

If you don’t have priorities in the Spiritual world, then you can very easily fall into the trap of your delusions, which can lead you far from the Light into destruction.”

Maxim: I'll add. Before getting into bad situations, stop using psychotropic substances, alcohol and many other things that change consciousness at the moment of doing all this.

Irina: Exactly. A substance such as alcohol, simple in its chemical composition, affects people with different vibrations differently.

Alcohol is characterized by the fact that it removes consciousness control over blocks, if a person has them. If he hid them, they will come out. If these are blocks of sadness, despondency, depressing emotions and feelings, under the influence of alcohol they will come out in him in the form of a story about his life with tears. The person may start crying.

Maxim: We have a saying: “What a sober man has on his mind, a drunk man has on his tongue.”

1:14:43 The influence of alcohol on humans.

Irina: I even asked Mead, LiSioni. If a person is full of love, there are no low vibrations, no blocks, and he will drink a lot of alcohol. How much can his behavior change, can he become evil?

I asked them questions: “What blocks can manifest themselves in him, can alcohol itself make him aggressive without blocks?” To which I was told that they are not evil. But his behavior will change in the sense that even the love that is in him, if he was very drunk, will manifest itself without conscious control, without taking into account the consequences of his actions.

Maxim: I will love you with my love, right?

Irina: Yes. For example, he has money. And he, loving the whole world and removing the control of consciousness over this money, no longer thinks about how he will live in the near future, he can give it away. At that moment, when he is drunk and when he distributes them, he will consider that he is doing absolutely the right thing. He will not analyze or be critical of his actions. For him everything will be absolutely true.

If he has no blocks, it means he has strong energy. When men and women meet, for example, they can easily form a relationship. All moral prohibitions, possible prejudices, etc. are lifted. A man can easily cheat on his wife because he is showing emotions in the present moment. There is no thought control about how this will affect his family. Emotions come out without control.

Next, I asked him: “Is it possible for a person in a state of severe alcoholic intoxication to still control himself?” I was told (and MidgasCaus) that yes, this is possible, but for a very highly organized consciousness that is constantly in awareness. Alcohol will be difficult to cope with. The person will control himself. If the brain is under the influence of this substance, it will control it with its Spirit. This is a high vibrational person.

1:17:19 Return of the contactee to Earth.

Maxim: I see. What are your impressions of visiting the planet?

Irina: I’ll tell you now. Then we returned to the ship, and Kirchiton brought me back. I got to the car and arrived.

Maxim: Please tell us in more detail how you brought it back. They lifted you from the ground along the beam, and there you went out along the stairs. How to get back?

Irina: Here the plate does not fall to the ground. I'm just standing next to the hatch. The same beam shines on me from the ceiling, then the hatch opens, the beam lifts me from the floor, lowers me into the hatch and onto the ground.

Maxim: Can anyone see this beam?

Irina: If you look from the outside, it glows with a greenish light. You can see that it comes from an empty place and lifts a person if someone is nearby. The beam quickly rises. Not instantly, he descends low.

Maxim: Kirkhiton brought you, you got into the car.

Irina: Yes, I went here. So, dear friends, this is my journey today. I asked the Burkhadian to come to our conference. Perhaps he will have questions on his topic. He is a criminal psychologist.

Maxim: Great. People will watch our broadcast, and they will have the opportunity to ask their questions about the Planet of Outlaws. We will invite him to one of the live broadcasts.

Irina: Yes. They may ask questions about how crimes are investigated, what approximate time frames are given, and what principles of justice they have. You can say a criminal psychologist is a lawyer who knows their criminal laws. He told me that you can start doing things, for example, rewriting the codes of the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Yes, where can I find time for this? Where are 25,000 years instead of the required hundred. More precisely, more than expected, but 100 survived on this planet.

Irish, thank you very much. It’s very interesting how all this happens for you. When I took you to contacts, every time I went with you, talked, asked questions. There is an opportunity to ask you when you are not nearby.

Guys, see you again on live broadcasts. Irish, thank you very much.

You're great, you're very smart. Enjoy your future flights.

Irina: Thank you.

#454 Kinesiology – muscular self-regulation and spiritual meditation. Multidimensionality of consciousness.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=gOPJuMdmnzw

00:20 Introduction of participants.

Elena: Hello, my name is Elena Marshalkovskaya. I study kinesiology, and I have questions for Irina's curators. How to reveal this method? What do they think about this?

Irina: Hello, dear friends. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today my curator, representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations, MidgasCaus, is present here. He says: "Hello."

Elena: Hello.

Irina: Yes, I'm ready for questions.

01:00 MidgasKaus about kinesiology.

Elena: I would like to know if they know anything about kinesiology. How do they read information about kinesiology from us?

Irina: When I studied earthly sciences: biology and medicine according to our sources in the Interstellar Union, I also, communicating with contactees, studied such a discipline as physiology. What you call kinesiology, for me, is an integral part of physiology, which in the past was called biomechanics.

This is the science of the effects of thoughts on the muscles of the human body. Thoughts, emotions, as I understand it. It is the science of the effects of thoughts and emotions on the human body and the movements of the human body on its Spirit.

Elena: Then the question immediately arises. At what levels and plans does kinesiology work?

Irina: On the physical level. Through the etheric level she can work with the spiritual level. And vice versa. The spirit works with the physical body through the etheric level. If we look at a person's aura, at his chakras, then almost all seven levels are involved. The impact of kinesiology occurs on all levels: from physical to spiritual. Up to the seventh chakra.

Elena: Great.

02:53 Kinesiology and stress.

Elena: How does kinesiology work with stress?

Irina: In this science there are special methods of tension and relaxation, which, through certain parts of the physical body, can evoke in a person's memory the memory of the tension that he experienced at the time of stress. From the memory of this tension, through association associated with motor memory, he will come to the image that he forgot. Some unpleasant memory...

Elena: Repressed.

Irina: Yes. We call this "working with associations." If somewhere in the body a person feels tension, and in a certain way, with the help of breathing practices, concentrations on this part of the body can evoke memories that caused this tension in the body.

Always tension in the muscles of the body, which are in hypertonicity, is a sign of the influence of stress hormones. These hormones were released in some situation. A person could forget this situation. Tension helps to pay attention to this part of the body, to these muscles, and the memory comes.

At the same time, you need to ask questions. We call it differently: “Talk to your body.”

04:40 Areas of application of kinesiology.

Elena: Yes, great. Please tell me what problems can be solved using kinesiological techniques?

Irina: Increase immunity, improve metabolism, cleanse the body of toxins, improve the percentage of absorption of nutrients coming from food, including glucose. Thereby helping the pancreas and liver in maintaining stable levels of blood sugar and glucose. Also suppress inflammatory processes and allergic reactions, autoimmune inflammatory processes, chronic infections by increasing immunity. The most important thing is to strengthen the faith that the Spirit can influence the body.

05:43 Muscle testing.

Elena: What is muscle testing and what is it for?

Irina: Which one, on our planet?

Elena: On ours.

Irina: At least a couple of words about how it is carried out, so that he understands what we are talking about.

Elena: We test the muscle so that it gives us an answer. With the help of this answer, we understand where to look for the problem, at what age, at what level, and whether it is possible to work. That is, everything related to muscles.

Irina: Are you testing with a device?

Elena: No, by hand.

Irina: With your spiritual heart.

Elena: I can show you. There is a muscle. I test it: “yes” or “no”. She falls on “no”, but on “yes” she holds on. Thus, it shows changes. It's called "muscle indicators". With the help of an indicator muscle you can test any stress.

Irina: This is a type of communication with the Higher Self. We do this through communication with the inner Light, without the response of the muscles. There is a type of communication when we ask the Higher Self to give us signs through the body. This can be not only muscle movements, but also any sensations. Be it heat, cold, various vibrations, itching, and so on.

This is a type of contact with the Higher Self through the body. But we prefer to communicate mentally, mentally. Because, unlike the answer through the body, we can receive detailed answers to our questions, and not just “yes” and “no”.

Elena: First, testing. The person gives a detailed answer. When he has associations with some problem, then he begins to remember.

Irina: This is a method of communicating with the Higher Self. But we can also talk with the body, and not only with the muscles, with any internal organ. And ask him what bothers him, what he lacks.

We even teach this at school.

Elena: Wow!

Irina: This subject is called “Fundamentals of life safety in the material body.” We study the physical body, its structures (physical, energetic). How to feed it correctly, how to properly remove waste products, how to interact with the microcosm correctly, how to properly keep all muscles in a state of alternating relaxation and tension, so that they develop and at the same time rest. How to properly talk with internal organs if a small problem arises, so that there is no serious illness.

I think we need this item. Do you need such an item, what do you think?

Elena: Of course, it’s very necessary.

Irina: Do you think schools need such a subject?

Elena: Very necessary. I try to introduce gymnastics into schools, which affects children’s fragile minds in order to increase performance, assimilation of subjects and improve people’s quality of life.

Irina: This subject also provides an understanding of the substances that make up the body, the various enzymes, how they interact. The hormonal and nervous systems are seen as two musical instruments in a single orchestra of the body that can be controlled.

10:02 The effectiveness of kinesiology.

Elena: In kinesiology we have more than 300 modalities, different directions. You can cover all areas of life, at all levels: from a physiological point of view, from a psychological point of view. Approach from all sides. I would like to know the answer to the question: how effective are these methods?

Irina: The effectiveness, like any other method, will depend on the person’s internal mood for serious transformations in his Spirit, which led his body to illness or his destiny to disharmony. If you have a serious attitude, then the work will be very effective.

To do this, it is necessary to remember that work on oneself does not end after a person has crossed the threshold of a kinesiologist, kinesiotherapist, went out into the street and went home. The work at home will continue, because the changes that have occurred in his Soul after the removal of various blocks and tensions must necessarily be transferred to the physical plane by new treatment of the people around him.

11:37 Kinesiology and the human brain. Hyperton-X.

Elena: Great. How do these methods affect brain function?

Irina: They stimulate the connection between the cerebral cortex and the nerve nodes that are located in the body, even individual neurons that are located among the muscle fibers. Communication improves, which means the process of movement of a neurosignal along the neuron's axon is accelerated, coordination of movements and understanding of the location of one's body in space, and therefore control of it, improves.

Elena: How do these methods and techniques affect the human body?

Irina: More specifically. Name one method, technique.

Elena: Let's say Hyperton-X. This is work with muscles, ligaments, tendons. Sports kinesiology, which is what I do. To help all people, for athletes.

Irina: What is its essence?

Elena: The point is to relieve hypertonicity from the muscle and restore its functioning to normal movement.

Irina: Removing hypertonicity from a muscle is possible after the block on the etheric and astral body, which provokes muscle tension in this area, is removed. Muscles tense, for example, from adrenaline, norepinephrine in a situation of excitation of instinctive principles. What do you call fight, freeze or flight?

This is a reaction to danger, to any stress caused by the incorrect behavior of other people, in the opinion of a person. All this causes muscle tension, because the body prepares them for intense work. And since no intensive work occurs, a person experiences these emotions within himself, hormones are very slowly removed from myocytes (shows: from small cells).

They can already be removed from the blood, but remain in the myocytes, so tension is observed at the physical level. In energy terms, as I already said, it is called a “block”.

Elena: I see. What can kinesiological knowledge give a person in working on himself? What benefits can they bring?

Irina: They can teach you how to consciously manage your body and how to prevent serious diseases using an accessible, free method. It's like knowledge about physical education. This will save time and money, health in the future, and you won’t have to see a doctor.

Elena: That's for sure. It’s very relevant now.

15:28 Harmonious work of the brain hemispheres. Multidimensionality of consciousness.

Elena: What benefits can brain integration bring to kinesiology? Brain integration is the work of both hemispheres.

Irina: Normally, in the brain of a person who is in a state of wakefulness, both hemispheres work. Of course, one hemisphere dominates, and the other is in second place, but it does not turn off completely. If they work synchronized with each other (shows the corpus callosum). He says that this is an organ for transmitting information between the hemispheres of the brain. If information in the form of neurosignals passes through it freely and harmoniously in both directions, then a person will not have internal contradictions, as you are used to saying “between the mind and the heart.” When a person wants one thing but thinks another, he has an internal conflict.

For example, when a person wants to like someone, but in his Soul he feels hostility. Such ambivalence of feelings is possible only because of the mismatched functioning of the brain hemispheres. Through the left and right hemispheres of the brain, the Spirit manifests its different qualities, its different structures. What you call “thinking” manifests itself to a greater extent through the left hemisphere. And through the right hemisphere, more of what you call feeling, the spiritual heart.

Of course, this does not mean that the spiritual heart does not manifest itself through the left hemisphere. The emphasis is somewhat shifted due to the division into two hemispheres of the brain, which is a unique phenomenon in the Galaxy. Other living beings may have a different brain structure.

Due to the bipolar structure of the brain, two-sided, earthlings are characterized by so-called dual thinking. Since childhood, earthlings have become accustomed to dividing into black and white, right and wrong, good and evil, pain and pleasure. All sciences, all religions of earthlings are permeated with a dual worldview.

Because of this, you have a greater tendency to division, to wars, to conflicts with those who not only pose a danger to you, but with those who disagree, who have a different opinion. Because the consciousness of the Spirit, embodied in an earthly body, tends to demonize or denigrate an opponent who holds the opposite opinion. It is because of duality.

This is not typical for other races of the Interstellar Union. Many races have brains that allow them to easily develop multidimensional consciousness. They see the situation from different sides.

Elena: That is, the body, mind and Spirit must be in unity. Otherwise, disunity occurs.

Irina: When two hemispheres work synchronously, harmoniously support each other, and do not interfere with each other with signals, this indicates that the Spirit, which is embodied in this body, will easily overcome the duality of thinking and reach multidimensional consciousness. Then you will see the world not in black and white, but in the colors of the rainbow.

Elena: Wonderful, I really want to go out. How to connect these two hemispheres?

Irina: How to connect these two hemispheres into one? The Spirit can unite them. You should look at everything through the eyes of the Spirit through your spiritual heart. If some event has occurred, do not rush to define it as good or bad, but look at it from the point of view of its benefits for the development of the Spirit.

The development of the Spirit is the development of Love, compassion, empathy, helping others, mercy, creativity.

Elena: That is, find the reason and return the body, mind, Spirit to balance, in order to understand why this is happening, why this is given to you.

Irina: For this reason, we cannot accept all contactees who wish to contact us. These should be contactees who have learned to interact with their brains and easily adapt to multidimensional consciousness. When a contactee is in constant contact with curators, his consciousness and brain begin to change, and he begins to perceive their energy. If the vibrations of the contactee are very different from the vibrations of the curators, it will be very difficult for him to establish contact.

Elena: Everything must be in unity and harmony.

Irina: Yes.

22:30 The state of the human body after kinesiological correction.

Elena: Okay. What happens in the human body after kinesiological correction?

Irina: Adaptation of the body to a new state of the body. At the physical level, this is the removal of metabolic products from muscles that have been tense for a long time. The level of acids in the blood increases slightly, so the person begins to experience mild dehydration. A person wants to drink to remove these metabolic products from the muscles. And then relaxation begins, he wants to sleep. Because the body is restored in sleep. When the Soul leaves the body and goes about its business, the body undergoes intense recovery processes, accumulating new blood cells and antibodies.

Elena: How interesting. The body works on its own, and the Soul at this moment can be on a walk.

Irina: When a person sleeps, his Soul leaves the body in order to allow the body to recover. When the Soul is in the body, it consumes energy through the brain. The brain spends up to 45% of the body's resources on perception and memory. Even visual perception requires a lot of energy.

Elena: A person cannot recover completely if the Soul is present.

Irina: If she doesn’t fly at least 6-7 hours a day.

Elena: Let's go fly so that the body can rest.

Irina: Give your body a rest, go fly.

Elena: Great.

25:06 The difference between kinesiological correction and psychological correction.

Elena: Okay. How does kinesiological correction differ from psychological correction?

Irina: Most often, psychological work does not include, as a basis, work with the body; it involves work with consciousness. And with kinesiological correction, the same psychological work is carried out, but through work with the body, through tension and relaxation of individual areas, and so on.

Elena: Kinesiology has a comprehensive approach to the human body.

Irina: Yes, along with the body. By the way, these two types can be combined.

Elena: In psychology there is also body-oriented psychology.

Irina: He just said in general psychology, and there are different techniques there. For example, a person lies and talks. Or takes tests, fills out some forms. There are corrective tests: a person fills out tests, at the same time identifies some problems in himself and solves them.

Elena: All the same, in kinesiology you get a more comprehensive approach: working with the body, physiology, psychology and the Spirit.

Irina: Yes, psychology and kinesiology can be combined.

Elena: Naturally. There is specialized kinesiology, which works with psychosomatics and all related diseases. This is a psychological correction involving the body and brain.

In kinesiology, through exercises, you can pump the body to turn it on in order to restore the physical, mental and other levels that allow a person to be in harmony.

27:42 Methodology for controlling your body from MidgasKaus.

Elena: I would like to know how useful such exercises and techniques are. What does this mean for development?

Irina: For the development of the Spirit or what?

Elena: Spirit and physical body, to improve the quality of life, prolong life and youth.

Irina: This question has already been asked, and he answered what kinesiology will give to the body. Immunity, acceleration of metabolism, removal of toxins and so on. The spirit will give faith that the body belongs to it and carries out mental instructions, that it controls the body and can control its processes.

Every person can control processes in the body. For example, talk to your heart. Close your eyes, turn to your heart, send it the Light of Love, gratitude, and you will feel. Elena, say: “I thank my heart.”

Elena: I thank my heart. I already felt it.

Irina: How did you feel?

Elena: Some kind of expansion.

Irina: Now say: “I thank you, my heart, for every minute supporting life in my body. I send you the Light of my Love.” What do you feel?

Elena: The expansion has started.

Irina: Yes, energy. Does he like your Light?

Elena: Yes, finally.

Irina: Is it happy?

Elena: Very much. And I am happy.

Irina: Do you feel it?

Elena: Yes.

Irina: Because you have good sensitivity and good training in communicating with your body. That's why you immediately felt it. But if a person is not yet accustomed to working with these methods, it takes him time to feel it. And you immediately felt it. This proves the effectiveness of kinesiological methods for communicating with your body.

Elena: Wonderful, thank you. It’s interesting how everything works here.

Irina: Yes.

30:31 MidgasKaus about the future of kinesiology.

Elena: Please tell me, what is the future of kinesiology?

Irina: I think she has a great future, at least I would really like it. This will allow you to approach even ordinary physical exercises consciously, with an understanding of spiritual tasks. Simple physical exercise can turn into spiritual meditation.

Elena: Everything is great and very interesting. There are no more questions, the questions are over. Mead told everything very interesting and informative.

Irina: Or maybe ask something else on other topics or about yourself?

Elena: What about yourself?

Irina: Are you interested in anything?

Elena: The ability to easily come into contact with highly spiritual beings.

Irina: It's just a matter of training and expanding your spiritual channel. It expands with each of your conscious appeals to the Higher Self. Make communication and merging with the Higher Self your daily routine, and you will easily feel the curators and communicate with them as with people.

Elena: Sometimes there is a feeling that you are being confused, that there is someone else there.

Irina: Try saying: “Prove yourself in the Light of God.” And ask the question: “Why did you come, what do you want to convey to me, who are you?” And then ask questions or give. Maybe he came to you to ask questions.

There are a lot of plasmoids in our Universe and on Earth, and they exist in space. They fly past a certain space in which you may be. Attracted by the Light of your aura, the Light of your Soul, they can approach you out of interest and try to make contact with you. There is no need to push them away. This is a natural interest in understanding the Universe, which stimulates the Spirit to develop.

Elena: I had this. I taught kinesiology, and someone was always in touch. I ask: “Who are you and why?” He says: "I'm interested." Our Light is interesting. I had a high-vibration girl, and so he came to our Light (and we were also alone).

Irina: Maybe it was her curator who came?

Elena: I asked, not the curators. Just wondering.

Irina: So he flew past.

Elena: No, for some reason he comes from demonic structures, but he is kind. Kind of weird.

Irina: That's good. If it comes from demonic structures to light ones, this is good for the demons themselves. They see an example of the behavior of light Spirits, and in the next incarnation they can remember it. Not the event itself, but those qualities, the Light that people gave them, and go to the Light.

Elena: He said that he liked our communication.

Irina: It’s very good if the demon likes the communication of the light ones. He himself will be able to more easily take the path of Light.

Elena: I'm glad I can help you.

Irina: Yes, if you help the demon get out of the low vibrations in which he finds himself (you don’t do it for him, he must do it himself), but if you help him do this, then you yourself will greatly increase your vibrations. You will be like not only the Angels, but Jesus Christ himself, who came to Earth to do this.

35:36 MidgasCaus recommendations for the period of quantum transition.

Elena: Okay. Now we are in a time of transformation, a time of transition, an interesting time. How not to go astray, how to persevere? One feels either drowsiness or apathy. In different ways, swing. How to survive this, what needs to be done, maybe strengthen, improve, add something?

Irina: If you want to sleep, go to bed.

Elena: What if it’s a working day?

Irina: At least rest for 10-15 minutes. Take a comfortable position, set the alarm for 10-15 minutes and simply allow yourself to go to the Astral. This harmonization is underway. Do you take a coffee or tea break? Replace it with sleep. Even a 10-15 minute nap can significantly replenish your energy reserves and give you vigor and strength for the rest of the working day.

Elena: I see, good, thank you. What about emotions?

Irina: Depends on what?

Elena: The emotional background is discharged or heated, on the contrary. Nowadays people are more reactive in their emotions. No consistency. There is a reaction immediately. Then you realize that you shouldn’t have said it, but it’s too late.

Irina: Are you asking about your emotions now?

Elena: I try to stay in the middle, but people around me try to provoke. They lack either awareness, or strength, or some qualities.

Irina: Accept them as your teachers of Love and patience. And mentally thank them for encouraging you to greater control of your emotions in the Light of Love.

Elena: Okay, but how can you help them?

Irina: Ask what happened to you, how can I help you? Support. If a person gets irritated out of nowhere, it means he has a block that makes him feel bad and hurt. In order to throw out this pain from the Soul, so as not to store it, he pours it out on those around him, over a trifle. But this does not make his block disappear. It's just an illusion that he's feeling better. The block is only getting stronger.

It is important to help the person. If he refuses help, do not respond to this irritation with retaliatory irritation. Since this strengthens his block and can create a block in you, cause distrust in the world and disrupt the purity of the spiritual channel.

Elena: Wonderful, wonderful. I don't even know what else to ask.

Irina: Thank you.

Elena: Everything goes well with the Soul, thank you.

Is it possible for kinesiology to develop in the future, in your opinion? On a planetary level.

Irina: (Mid) I would like this to be studied in your school and in your institutes, so that they talk about it on TV and radio. So that your transmissions are filled with this knowledge about your body, about your Soul and about their relationship. Not an empty analysis of negative events that only provoke people to fear and hatred.

It would be better if this media space were filled with the Light of knowledge and Love, including the Light of knowledge about kinesiology.

Elena: I agree.

Irina: He says: “I wish this.”

Elena: Yes, so that people know about it and understand its value and importance at all levels. Thank you.

Irina: Dear friends, I thank you for being with us. Thank you for watching this video. Indeed, as MidgasKaus said: “We will carry the Light of knowledge, we will carry the Light of Love. Because Love is inseparable from information. Love is truth, and truth is information in the Light of the Creator.”

Let us carry this Light further. I am sure you will also talk about this knowledge at work, in your family, to your children, and parents. It is very important. The work of each of you in disseminating this knowledge is no less important than the work of me as a contactee. So, dear friends, see you again.

Elena: Thank you, all the best.

00:21 Welcome and introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, and today my curator, a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, specialist in extraterrestrial civilizations MidgasCaus, is present with us.

Lyudmila: I greet you, Irochka. Greetings Mida! I am Lyudmila Semykina, a doctor, a practicing neurologist with nearly forty years of experience. I am the mother of two adult children, four grandchildren, and one of these days we are expecting a fifth. I have been working with children all my life and, in general, have always been quite successful. The results were good from therapy, from treatment, from everything. Of course, I have some questions. They exist because my practice is not exactly the same as the popular therapies of other doctors, but it is more effective.

01:43 Indiscriminate breastfeeding of children.

Lyudmila: We have very widely popularized feeding on demand, the so-called when the baby is put to the breast every time he squeaks. And I have already noticed that children who are fed in this way are often dependent on feeding and hang on their breasts around the clock. There is an opinion that endless breastfeeding practically reduces and destroys appetite, and leads to hyporexia, that is, to a decrease, and then to anorexia. I'm wondering if there is a connection between disordered feeding and eating disorders in adulthood? This is how I would formulate my question.

Irina: Yes, you’re right, there is such a connection. If a child cries, this is his language of communication with the world. One of the possible ways for him to announce himself to the world, mom, dad. Communicate your existence and desire to communicate. This may not be a desire to eat at all. It is not necessary (if he cried) that he wants to eat. Perhaps for some other reason he is uncomfortable, or he simply wants to communicate.

A child is an embodied Spirit who adapts to the world where he finds himself. He really needs communication. And when he is not sleeping, when his Soul is not in the Astral, but is connected to the body, his Soul remembers the images that he saw in the material world, and he has a reflex of knowledge, a desire for knowledge. He cries, beckons, calls to him. This is a signal: “Come, talk to me, tell me the words.”

When an adult (mother, grandmother, father) says some words to a child, he listens to them. Even if it seems to you that he is crying and does not hear, he still listens to them, they are deposited in him, forming primary neural networks. The primary ones have already been formed, and he strengthens them and forms new neural networks. You don't have to feed him.

Ideally, when a child begins to cry, the mother can ask his Soul, his Higher Self, through her Higher Self, what he needs at that moment. Close your eyes, imagine the child in your mind and ask: “What do you need, how can I help you?” And the answer will come.

Lyudmila: Yes. Thank you I'm absolutely fine with this answer.

Irina: And if you respond to every cry of a child with feeding, then the child develops a reflex that when he is bored, uncomfortable without communication, when he has any discomfort, then the discomfort is followed by a filling of the stomach and calming. Certain hormones are released. Then he forms this reflex, which will persist into adulthood, and, perhaps, in response to any uncomfortable situation, to a lack of communication, to a lack of Love, a desire will arise to fill his stomach.

Lyudmila: Yes, this is how you chew on your anxiety.

Irina: How do you like this answer?

Lyudmila: Yes, thank you, thank you, Mid, and you, Irochka!

06:26 Memory of birth and early infancy.

Lyudmila: Now the next question. No one remembers himself in childbirth or in early infancy. Who erases this memory for us and when, and for what? For what purpose do we not remember our experiences at an early age? This question has already been asked, and you answered it, but I have a very specific question. This age interval, childbirth, the birth itself and the first year or two years of life, why can't anyone reproduce anything in their memory?

Irina: (Shows the brain) Because those connections that are just being formed in the child's brain, they very quickly disintegrate due to the instability of the protein memory structures that are attached to the membranes of neurons. This causes some fixation amnesia. This adaptive mechanism, specifically characteristic of childhood, is necessary so that the period when the child is just becoming aware of himself in space, he often experiences emotions of bewilderment, surprise, perhaps some kind of fear, is erased from his memory. So that when he accumulates sufficient information to begin learning, this information does not overlap with that in infancy. She can mess things up. This experience exists, it can even be obtained in regression, but it is not required to preserve it for adult life. It's just an adaptation to the world.

08:59 Hyperprotection. Habit. Neuroplasticity of the brain.

Lyudmila: Following the fact that we have now talked about the fact that the child is still adapting, in connection with this I have the following question. And my Self, my identity, my thoughts, my will and abilities, and qualities, are they formed immediately after birth? Is it possible to disrupt the formation of identity in the case of such an absolutely complete merger with the mother, when the connection is inextricable, when the mother absorbs the child with herself, when she does not allow him to be alone for a second. When contact with her is continuous, excessive due to her high anxiety, is there a violation of self-identification when I understand myself as an autonomous unit?

Irina: (Mead speaks) A child, in any case, at a certain age will already understand where he is, that he is separate from the world around him. At first he has a fragmentary perception, then it turns into object-specific, object-figurative, and so on. There are periods of brain development, perception of the surrounding environment occurs, and the mind of the Spirit manifests itself in the form of thinking. From the form that was in utero, a form must develop that is oriented in three-dimensional space among solid objects.

This is not such an easy process. Everything is new for a child (Mead says). Any sound, any image evokes surprise, bewilderment, and a desire to know it. If his mother does not leave him alone, he will still develop a sense of self, but it will be different.

He will feel (Mead says) his dependence on her in that he will imagine her as part of the world around him. She will not be able to constantly be with him throughout her life, because it is impossible for a growing child to always have a mother nearby. His life itself, the event series of life will require more independence from him when he goes to school, for example, but such a child does not have a habit.

What is a habit? This is a specific chain of certain conditioned reflexes recorded at the molecular level in the brain. This makes it easier for the brain to adapt to the world around it. This is called neuroplasticity. The manifestation of neuroplasticity is the ability to develop habits, both beneficial for development and harmful. If he develops the habit of constantly being with his mother, constantly being in her energy, constantly receiving care, love, support from her, then when the very events of life force him to come out of this cocoon (shows), he may experience anxiety, fear, sadness and even resentment on his mother, who allegedly abandoned him, although this did not happen. Such mothers run the risk that their child will be offended by them when they can no longer be around as often.

Lyudmila: Yes, I am satisfied with the answer, because this is what I convey to my mothers, to all my patients who behave like this.

Irina: Yes, it happens that when a person is already an adult, he develops a block of resentment towards his mother for inattention. When we begin to figure out what kind of block this is (even Irina, who leads to the Higher Self), it turns out that at first there was overprotection. Then a completely ordinary relationship (as happens in most families with the separation of the child from the family and placing him in school for several hours a day) is already perceived as a betrayal. Because it hurts. Although the child mentally understands that it is necessary to go to school, and he even feels guilty for this offense, his habit breaks, and this hurts.

14:45 Empathy. Mental anesthesia.

Lyudmila: Yes, that's all true. I am absolutely satisfied with the answer. Empathy is inherent in all people, but I would like to know the reason why it is present in different people to such varying degrees? There are very highly empathetic people, and there are people practically devoid of empathy, what is the reason for this?

Irina: Empathy is a person's ability to experience the feelings and emotions of another person as their own. Its formation is very different; the degree of empathy formation depends on many factors. Firstly, this is emotional contact between mother and child, this is mutual trust. This is when a mother shares her feelings with her child, mom, dad, and other relatives. It has also been noted that in families with many children, empathy is usually higher.

Children communicate with each other, and by facial expression, by a person's movements, by energy, they can feel the energy of another. They understand which requests can be made, for example, to a brother or sister, and which ones should not be made. And this develops into the habit of recognizing unconscious signals of the body, energy, etheric body, astral body already in adulthood. This habit is very good. It helps people communicate, helps them behave correctly in society, and build their relationships at work, for example. It is correct to behave tactfully with people who have different views. Empathy is very useful.

Empathy can be impaired after any psychological trauma that provoked the creation of blocks. This is when one's own emotions do not arise in response to the emotions of another, because one's own emotions are blocked. Usually, whatever emotion is not responded to, that emotion can be blocked in the person. Maybe even someone who was previously empathetic, and then something happened to him and he lost his feelings, this is called mental anesthesia.

Lyudmila: Very interesting, thank you!

Irina: Are you familiar with this term?

Lyudmila: No, I have not heard the term "mental anesthesia", but it is a very capacious term, it is clear to me, because it is psycho-emotional intelligence.

Irina: Another lack of empathy occurs from energy deficiency, when a person does not have enough energy even for his own emotions, he himself is emotionless, for example. His energy is spent on blocks, on some of his experiences, stress. That same emotional dullness in schizophrenia, when a person cannot feel his own emotions. Neither joy nor anger in some situations, a person remains indifferent, apathetic. Most often this happens because his vital energy is spent on containing those blocks in the subconscious that he is afraid to release.

19:15 Subtle processes when sleeping together with a child.

Lyudmila: Yes, great. I like the answers, I'm delighted, thank you. Tell me, please (I'm turning to Mead now), is the practice of sharing sleep with your children common among our interstellar friends?

Irina: Sleeping together? (Mead smiles).

Lyudmila: Yes, exactly sleeping together. And is it true that falling asleep together makes the child dependent on the mother and spoils the quality of sleep?

Irina: In the Interstellar Union, at least on the planet Esler, in our lives, in our families and on those planets of the Interstellar Union where I heard, such forms of behavior are not accepted, are not characteristic of our society. In our society, it is customary to give freedom of space. Moreover, the mother gives space to the child, a separate place. This can be in mom's room, if she wants, it can be in a separate room, but a separate sleeping place is his own space. We even have spouses, husband and wife come to each other's room to exchange energies, and then they can (and most often) sleep in a separate space, because each respects the freedom of the other.

For us, it is not a manifestation of Love that they physically sleep together. When a person sleeps, the astral body separates from him.

When his space is occupied by more than just his aura, another person's dream can cause dissonance. Subconscious irritation towards this person will appear during the day because he caused dissonance. Any misunderstandings about each other. It is customary for us to sleep separately.

Lyudmila: Can I clarify. My special interest is in the question of how much the quality of a child's sleep deteriorates, because they endlessly touch the mother, they make sure that she is nearby, they practically do not sleep, they do not let each other sleep. They wake up a thousand times a night. This chaos happens all night. Such a mother does not allow her child to get enough sleep, nor does she get enough sleep herself. Destroys the health of both.

Irina: Yes, if a child sleeps with his mother, it's not that it's harmful, but again (as he talked about teaching the child that the mother is part of the inner world) it forms approximately the same thing, but only in milder forms, than if she doesn't let him go anywhere at all.

If he does not get used to being alone in his sleeping place, this may form in him dependence on his mother, and the mother may develop subconscious irritation with the child during the day for limiting her freedom. When she sleeps alone, her aura opens up like this, and she feels free, but when she sleeps with someone, and even more so when she sleeps with her child, she subconsciously experiences fear. How not to harm him, not to crush him, to look after him so that he is covered. Even if he sleeps without waking up, she still watches him. This is called "vigil".

Lyudmila: She's vigilant, she's vigilant endlessly.

Irina: And therefore she may develop unconscious irritation towards him during the day. She may begin to be irritated by his actions, his words, his activity, for example (she herself does not understand the reason for the irritation), because her subconscious, the instinct of self-preservation, considers this child an aggressor.

Lyudmila: Yes, that's all true. Moreover, she will then say that he does not let me sleep, this child.

Irina: She may love him very much, but her instinct of self-preservation, because her space was invaded when she was sleeping, will subconsciously consider him an aggressor.

Lyudmila: So he will consider her an aggressor.

Irina: Yes, it will be because he has not yet formed his own energy, his own aura, which is formed at the age of 14. He will be in her energy, so he will not have the feeling that she has invaded him. He will have the feeling that she should always be in this place.

Lyudmila: Yes, that's all true. Thank you.

25:20 Hyperactivity in children.

Lyudmila: My next question. Why do children become hyperactive and restless, and why does the volitional sphere develop behind the emotional one? Is hyperactivity a consequence of overprotection? Such a big question.

Irina: Let's do it in parts.

Lyudmila: Let's go. What causes children to become hyperactive and restless?

Irina: Movement is the need of any child, it is knowledge of the world, it is his ability to quickly grow and develop. Hyperactivity and restlessness can be due to ignorance, lack of understanding of the adults around him, where to direct this energy, to what kind of game, to communicate with nature, to understand the world. Playing with peers is the best way to reduce hyperactivity.

Lyudmila: Physical.

Irina: Yes, physical games with peers and communication with nature, walks, long walks on foot, namely walking, examining something, showing him. Hyperactivity can be caused, for example, by games in a sitting position, when he sits and they tell him, show him cartoons, show him computer games or something else. Due to his level of brain development, he cannot yet fix visual attention for more than about 10 minutes. Therefore, he becomes irritated and wants to throw out this energy. It is best to walk with such children, look for peers with whom they will play. And then everything will be normal.

Lyudmila: Yes. Thank you

27:48 Formation of the volitional sphere of a person.

Lyudmila: And the next question, I will combine them now, because partly I experienced such a transformation. I want to understand whether overprotection is a factor due to which the volitional sphere lags behind the emotional?

Irina: Perhaps. Because in order to form the will, to form the opportunity to manifest one's will to the Spirit that exists (he has already come with it), it is necessary to learn how to manifest it in this world, in this body. To do this, you need to defend your boundaries.

What does it mean? This means conceiving a thought, a desire, a dream and going towards its fulfillment, even if the environment resists. And this shapes the child's will. And if independence is not developed, if all his desires are indulged and immediately fulfilled, without allowing him to achieve this himself, he will simply have no need to develop it. This is pushed back to a later age when he encounters the first difficulties. He will definitely encounter them, because when he goes to school, the children around him will not be at all eager, like mom and dad, to fulfill his wishes. Or pay the same attention to him, praise him the same way, he will be one of many there. This can also cause stress, fear of expressing his will, of developing it further, because he is not used to doing this in the family.

Therefore, we (Mead says) raise our children in such a way that when a child asks for something, we do not immediately give it to him, but show him the way how he can achieve it. This again depends on the age of the child and on the degree of independence, but we encourage independence. Independence also prevents the formation of dependent forms of behavior, which can lead to addictions to various substances, fashion, various totalitarian groups, and so on in adulthood.

Lyudmila: Yes, thank you! A very succinct answer and I am absolutely satisfied.

30:40 Excellent student syndrome, perfectionism.

Lyudmila: Fears of mistakes and the desire for an ideal result, the desire to be perfect is associated with emotional hunger in childhood or are there some other reasons? The so-called excellent student syndrome or perfectionism.

Irina: Yes, there is such a syndrome. This happens because in childhood, in preschool age, parents showed super-attention, hyper-protection, fulfilled all wishes, did not leave him a single step, and as soon as he went to school, he felt emotional alienation, he began to be at home less often. This can also happen if younger brothers and sisters appear in the family. In this case, an emotional hunger begins for the love that he received at an early age. He begins to deserve her in some way. Sometimes the parents themselves contribute to this, when they tell him that I will love you when you meet such and such parameters.

In your love, it is strictly not recommended, I would even say, of course, I cannot say “forbidden”, because everyone goes through their own lessons, but it is not recommended to refuse any child at all. Most of all, a child does not need to develop certain qualities in him, not even to teach him certain actions in the material world, work, studying at school, housework - this is also an important part of education, but the most important thing is development in lacks the ability to love. To love, forgive, help the weak, the sick, who are in a more oppressed position than him, more unhappy. That is, to carry with you Love and happiness. He must feel that he is Light and brings this Light to others absolutely selflessly, without expecting anything in return. And this is impossible without an example of the same behavior of parents. Not when they say it in words, but when they show it, when they show that they are sharing bread with the hungry, sharing clothing with the poor. These may be small things for you, but they instill in him compassion, a desire to show his Love and an understanding that this is the norm.

Lyudmila: Yes, these are not trifles, this is very important, in my opinion.

Irina: It is also not allowed and not recommended to display any cruelty, including in words in the presence of a child. It is not recommended to express any claims to each other in any form in his presence. He doesn't need to know about family quarrels. Protect him from negativity as much as possible, because what you said, which seems like a trifle to you, for his psyche, for his Soul, can be a trauma, can be a block. And the block that forms in the spiritual heart will block the flow of Love that it receives from you. He may lower his vibrations and not feel it.

Lyudmila: I am very grateful! The more responses I receive from Mead, the more I realize that my supervisor has always been in touch with me.

Irina: You also have Mid as a supervisor?

Lyudmila: My supervisor simply did not leave me for a second when I was working, because everything is exactly like that.

Irina: Did you convey the same thing?

Lyudmila: I just know it, I don’t know where, you understand.

35:27 Flexibility of thinking.

Lyudmila: Now I have the next question. I discovered the dependence that children who are helpless and infantile, who acquire skills in organizing leisure time, self-care, and neatness much later, they get sick much more often. Why?

Irina: Do infantile children get sick more often?

Lyudmila: Not infantile. Those who are helpless, who acquire skills for self-service, for organizing leisure time, for neatness. They get sick more often than their peers, whose mental functions are more consistent with their age.

Irina: Because those who later acquire these skills, it means that they have adopted, one might say in a simplified way, ancestral karma, that is, certain behavioral stereotypes in their family, which later led them to some kind of illness. The world's reaction to their helplessness caused a certain negativity in them, perhaps even illness.

Lyudmila: And this is not due to the fact that such hyperactive mothers have higher cortisol levels, it constantly destroys them.

Irina: Cortisol levels are only secondary to certain spiritual states. This is a stress hormone. It is produced during fear, anger, resentment, and so on. A hormone that triggers a chain of certain biochemical reactions in the body to adapt to a dangerous situation, a stressful situation, an uncomfortable one.

And who perceives the situation as uncomfortable? Perceives the Spirit, which compares the surrounding situation with the one that already exists in its worldview as correct. If a person has insufficient flexibility of thinking, then anger automatically arises, a desire to bring the external environment in accordance with the internal environment if something is out of line with it.

To prevent this from happening, I have already said that Love is needed. Love develops, among other things, flexibility of thinking. A person understands that the world is not always the way he wants to see. People are not always what I imagined them to be. Real people can deceive, steal, be rude. This should not cause stress to a person who is ready for the real world, and not for living in his illusion of perception that everyone should line up according to his worldview.

39:04 Development of skepticism.

Lyudmila: Does the inconsistent behavior of parents lead to distrust of people and the world in general? How do you get skeptics anyway?

Irina: Does behavior lead to skeptics?

Lyudmila: Does parental behavior lead to inconsistent behavior? Inconsistent means, now I said this, then they gave in to me, and I changed my mind.

Irina: This can also lead to skepticism, as the development of skepticism. It can lead to distrust of parents if they hid something from him, did not tell him the truth that he learned from others. This can cause resentment and disappointment in him, because he imagined, he has a picture of the world, a child, that his parents love him, which means they always trust him and tell the truth.

For example, an absolutely natural question, where did I come from, and who gave birth to me, and how was I born, is followed by a series of some incomprehensible fairy tales, which the child, when he gets older, learns from his peers (most often this happens) about how things really happen. He finds out in such a way that he begins to understand that if he talks about it with his parents, it will cause their displeasure, that this is some part that needs to be hidden. Although this is a natural divine instinct embedded in nature, and there is no point in hiding its presence from a child. After all, the task of adults is to prepare him just for adult life, including for the manifestation of sexual function with his spouse. And this is impossible without telling the child, naturally, in his language and within the limits of his understanding. There is no need for any medical terms, answers about where he came from, who the husband and wife are, what their functions are in the family, and so on.

Lyudmila: Yes, thank you.

Irina: If a child was deceived or, for example, promised to buy something. The first is when they didn't talk about reproduction. The second is when they promised to buy something so that he wouldn't cry, and then changed their minds. The third point is that the child is persuaded to go to the doctor, he does not want to do this because he is afraid of pain, and instead of explaining to him that this is sometimes necessary for his health, it is necessary to be patient with pain, they begin to tell the child that you are not at all it will hurt. And when he is in pain, he may become generally disappointed in the words of his parents and not trust them.

He can then understand that it is dangerous to trust in the whole world, it can cause pain. This is again the formation of a conditioned reflex arc, only aimed at social relationships.

Lyudmila: Yes, thank you.

42:55 Tasks of the Spirit embodied in a body with an underdeveloped brain.

Lyudmila: Another question. If the Spirit has incarnated in a body with a grossly underdeveloped brain, does this change the structure of thinking, reason, memory and imagination?

Irina: The structure itself does not change, but its manifestation through this brain, which is underdeveloped, changes. That is, the Spirit itself agreed to incarnate in such a body for some reason related to karmic knots with parents, for example. The Spirit itself is not damaged by this; it manifests itself in the body as much as it can. If any structures for interaction with the world are underdeveloped, then he will not be able to fully express himself as a healthy person.

Lyudmila: What then is the purpose of such an incarnation, other than lessons for parents?

Irina: Development of selfless Love for this child, who will never be able to be an adult and thank them, for example.

Lyudmila: Is this a lesson for parents?

Irina: And for him this could be a lesson in patience, that is, adaptation to the body that is. It also depends on what spiritual level he incarnated from. And there are Angels (he is showing me now), from the angelic level they voluntarily sacrifice their incarnation for the sake of such development of Love in their parents. I have seen such cases. It is not necessary that he did something there and he has a body for it. Even those from high levels incarnate, agree with their parents in advance, and voluntarily sacrifice this incarnation, they cannot achieve anything in incarnation.

Lyudmila: I see. Thank you.

44:53 Parents' reactions to the child's actions. What if a child bites?

Lyudmila: Is it correct to say that by providing emotional closeness to the child at the time of his bad behavior, the mother herself stimulates this bad behavior to manifest itself again and again?

Irina: It's very flexible. What does emotional intimacy mean?

Lyudmila: I'm talking about the fact that, for example, a child bites, and the mother smiles in response to this.

Irina: She shouldn't smile. She must make it clear to him that he hurt her, for example, say so.

Lyudmila: She doesn't speak. She sits and smiles. Because he is small and she loves him.

Irina: This forms an understanding in the child, embedding into his worldview the idea that when he caused pain, people will rejoice.

Lyudmila: That's what we're talking about. That is, if the mother did not show emotion.

Irina: Again, if in the future he gets a different experience from other people for a bite, for example. What if he decides to make another child happy? He may not receive a smile in response at all, but something else. And this can also teach him, but if he only communicates with his mother, and it is implanted in him in this way, then this forms understanding in him.

Lyudmila: That this is normal. Yes Yes.

Irina: It's not just normal, but this is a form of manifestation of Love. Hurting another person is a form of showing Love.

Why does he bite? Not because he deliberately wants to hurt. But because his instinct of self-preservation in this case acts as a desire for exploration. And when he puts something in his mouth, he explores it. For him, taking into the mouth means "absorbing." For him, everything is based on instincts, still on images. It all starts from the moment when he took his mother's breast into his mouth. And that means that she brought him peace, Love, satiety, pleasure, and therefore he showed his Love. And since he already has teeth, he bites another part of the body if he is not given an understanding that it hurts.

Of course, you don't need to hit him.

Lyudmila: Of course.

Irina: Just push him away and in a calm tone, looking into his eyes, say in his language that it hurts me: "Stroke this place for me." That is, to evoke empathy in him.

47:40 Child autonomy. Personal space.

Lyudmila: Should a child be given time to be alone without an adult environment, in order to feel his autonomy, at least briefly, so that a state of boredom without animation would stimulate the child's initiative to learn to play?

Irina: This question is very individual. It depends on the age of the child and his condition. They themselves strive to communicate, but this is their instinct.

Humans generally have a herd instinct. As we have already said, this is an instinct to encourage communication and exchange of experience. But you need to encourage him to stay alone. The time, the period of this loneliness, when he communicates alone with his Higher Self, with certain curators, with subtle civilizations, when he learns not to be afraid to be alone, to be in this space and feel safe in it, the time of this stay is very individual for every child. There are no specific schemes here. A child, with a normal attitude towards him from the family, if the adults themselves do not strive to constantly come into contact with him, then he himself will retire and do something gradually, this is also a desire to create his own space. You may have seen children trying to build a house.

Lyudmila: Yes, yes.

Irina: And so that no one goes in there, they hang it with various fabrics, and so that even my mother does not look in there. This is his space, and there is no need to go there without the child's permission.

Lyudmila: Yes, this is indeed a very vivid illustration of the desire for one's own boundaries.

Irina: This is a natural desire to build your own space, fill it with your energy.

Lyudmila: It's very cool that Mead gives such images that we all know.

Irina: The child shows this in the form of play. But this game reflects his natural desire as a Spirit to have his own space, just as he had his home of the Soul, the house of the Spirit, in the Spiritual World. The spiritual house that he himself built. Every Spirit needs this space.

Therefore, I am now turning to those power structures that are responsible for the distribution of housing stock. Please ensure that in those residential buildings where there are children, they have some opportunity to create their own space.

For example, in general, both on Esler and in the Interstellar Union, we have a law that after the birth of a child, his parents have the right, within about three earthly months, to receive a new living space in the same city with one additional room.

Lyudmila: Listen, well, this is just brilliant!

Irina: Naturally, if they decide so, they must hand over their previous housing to the state.

Lyudmila: It's clear, but it's still very humane for the child to immediately allocate space for him where he could make his own place.

Irina: Yes, within three earthly months they should already provide him with it. Good law? And this happens with every child.

Lyudmila: Unfortunately, we are not on Esler yet.

Irina: I say, is it a good law?

Lyudmila: A very good law. The law is excellent, we would like such legislators. Mid can't help us?

Irina: They have already elected him, they write that they want him to be our president. I already say "they already want to vote for you."

52:41 Self-awareness. Speech development of the child.

Lyudmila: Self-awareness is the energy of the Soul to perceive itself. How long after conception does the fetus, while in utero, begin to become aware of itself?

Irina: In the body or outside the body?

Lyudmila: Just like the body, like I am something more.

Irina: He begins to realize himself, his existence as separate from the world, with development that is not intrauterine. Inside the womb, he still continues to be the Spirit; he has not yet completely united with the body. Formation is underway, and he still remembers fragments from his past lives, remembers existence in the Spiritual world, communicates with Angels, but every month he becomes more and more fixated on his body and forgets the fragments of memory that he still had about the Spiritual world.

Lyudmila: Already in utero he begins to fragmentarily forget that he is a Spirit?

Irina: Yes. In general, memory is blocked before incarnation, but when the body is not yet formed, it has residual memory, there is no complete memory of past lives, but there is an understanding that he is a Spirit, an understanding that he lived somewhere before that, it is still there. And when he begins to connect more and more with the body every month, then this memory begins to fade, fade. He fixates first on the world around him, not on himself. The perception of the surrounding world first begins, he does not separate himself from it, and after birth he does not separate him for the first time either.

In general, the first rudiments of self-awareness are already present in infancy. But these are the beginnings, when he has separated from the mother's body, is alone and understands, feels that he is something separate from his mother, something separate from the world around him. The more he begins to focus his vision and study the world around him, the more he develops the area of his brain that is responsible for the manifestation of self-awareness. It appears in its full extent at the moment when he begins to learn to speak. When speech appears in him, when he can already call his mother mom, dad dad, he knows his name, many children already respond to their name in a few months.

Lyudmila: Yes, and, by the way, to the question of speech. Is the early development of speech in children who are independent from their mother related to the fact that dependent children develop speech development very late?

Irina: They may form speech development late in order (subconscious desire) to remain longer under the care of their mother. Because they do not want to repeat the words (although they know them), they attract the mother's attention and desire to engage in them.

Lyudmila: Of course, he can't separate himself.

Irina: This happens.

Lyudmila: Listen, Meade just made me happy today, I'm satisfied, I'm very happy.

Irina: What can you say (as a doctor) about questions and answers?

Lyudmila: These are my thoughts, which are confirmed by every word of Mead. This is all my experience, only in an even greater version.

Irina: I'm very glad.

Lyudmila: I am very grateful for the wonderful answers and for the conversation.

Irina: He says: "You look great."

Lyudmila: Thank you, thank you, and I am very happy to say hello to all our friends from Cassiopeia. I enjoy communicating with you, Irochka, and hug you with all my heart.

Irina: Dear friends, thank you for watching this video. I hope you found it interesting. I thank MidgasCaus, I thank Lyudmila for the interesting questions, I thank you for being with us, I send you the Light of my Love, see you again!

Lyudmila: All the best!

00:20 Introduction of participants.

Maria: Hello, dear friends! My name is Sokalskaya Maria. I am one of the administrators of the Cassiopeia project, and today I am glad to welcome all of you, Irina, our curators at our meeting at the Sacral school on the topic of healing. I give my word to Irina.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! I am glad to welcome you all! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations.

I wanted to tell you that healing is a very important and very complex topic that can be discussed for a very long time, but I want to tell you that healing is not an instant cure for a disease, but it is the restoration of a person's integrity, from the word "whole." Restoring the integrity of man as a being consisting of body, Soul and Spirit. The soul is a mediator between the body and the Spirit, that is, between the material world and the Spiritual world. Simply put, the Soul is the incarnate part of the Spirit. All healing systems are aimed primarily at the Soul. On its connection with the Higher Self. Only through connection with the Higher Self is it possible to correctly conduct the energy of the Divine Plan into our earthly material reality. And I think maybe there are some questions?

Maria: Yes, of course. We have a lot of questions, I think our guests do today. In our school "Sacral" there are several masters and healers who are already engaged in such practices.

Irina: Present with us today, at my request, since the topic is healing, is the chief curator of all healing systems of our Galaxy, the representative of the Spiritual world, Archangel Raphael.

Maria: Great! Thank you, Raphael, for coming to us today, we are very glad to have our friends from the Spiritual World. And, of course, everyone is very interested in learning how this healing mechanism works. We have several master healers today who are already using these methods.

We understand perfectly well that all diseases begin first in the subtle material. On the spiritual plane. Only then do they move to the physical plane. And different healers work with different methods, they do it differently. And today, for example, at this meeting, we have a master from our school, Viky Melsky, who actively helps students of our school with health problems who come to her about this. And she has questions.

Irina: Great! Okay, I'm listening to you.

Viky: You are the founder of not only the “Cassiopeia” project itself, but the whole beginning of the contact work that is now on your channel came from you; many people listen to you. From this, the “Cassiopeia” project was formed in gratitude to those who organized it and after that the “Sacral” school, where people can turn for help. I am glad to work with you, to cooperate, I was pleased to contact you on Skype two years ago. Maxim was there then. Now, it turns out, we have been working at the Sacral school for several months and helping people who ask for help.

04:38 Energy healing.

Viky: Question, if it’s possible: for people, maybe it’s my direction of healing, explain how it works? And the second point is how often would you recommend that they seek help if they need it. Thank you

Irina: Okay. Remind me again what direction you are in.

Viky: I work with the subtle world, as you could see in the Astral, the healing and medical direction of our Solar System, with the Absolute.

Irina: Everything is clear, so tell me more about this system and how often you can apply, right?

Viky: Yes. Because there was a question, recently even a woman came and said: “I found out what plane of incarnation my Soul is from and I, as it were, do not plan to leave it at all. I would like to increase my level of incarnation before I leave, here on Earth, in this incarnation.” I say: “Oh, just on topic. We are having a conversation with Irina, and she will also be able to say something additional.”

Irina: Archangel Raphael answers. I greet you, daughter of the spiritual Sun! Because the physical Sun is a reflection of the light of God in the material world, and those civilizations that live on the Sun, they really help earthlings, come to them and act through their aura, through their hands, even through their eyes (shows).

All existing healing systems can be divided into three types, excluding healing systems that use physical substances such as drugs, herbs, physical therapy and so on. If we are talking specifically about the impact of energies, energies of a non-physical plane, then this healing can be divided into three types.

This is healing with the types of energy that humanoids of different planets produce. Healing produced by various plasmoid worlds. And, accordingly, the Spiritual Plan. But all this is divided only in the minds of people, because often all three listed types of healing merge into one system, where everyone helps each other.

If we talk specifically about your method associated with subtle civilizations, then all plasmoid civilizations are characterized by a system where they see a person in the form of energy matrices or energy waves, and by investing energy in them, they charge this vital energy with their feelings.

They see a person as a ball (shows) and charge him like the Sun, like a star, the Sun transmits its rays. This life energy operates on the etheric plane, the astral plane and the mental plane. This is very similar to, for example, the Reiki system, and other subtle healing systems. But there is a specificity associated with the fact that these are solar plasmoids.

How often you can apply is, of course, an individual question. The main thing is to do it consciously. What is consciously? This is when a person does not just come to you for treatment, but he does this by recognizing and eliminating the spiritual cause of his illness, if he has one. It is also possible to use these energies not for treatment, but for the prevention of various diseases and to increase one's spiritual level. This healing session is a type of contact such as an exchange of information.

Maria: Thank you for your answer. Very interesting.

09:25 Human healing capabilities.

Maria: Tell me, please, can everyone, with a strong desire, develop healing abilities? That is, not only for yourself, but also for others. Or do Souls come here already with such a plan that not everyone has plans to engage in healing?

Irina: Masha, you understand that the very word “desire” in any case is not accidental. If it has arisen, this will most likely be a signal from the Higher Self that there is such a program for incarnation. But sometimes a person can want this even without a program to realize it, acquire this desire already in this incarnation. Because if it doesn't exist, it doesn't mean he can't learn it. If he wants, he can acquire these vibrations already here in incarnation.

I’ll explain now, simply, that they understand the word “desire” a little differently than we do. We have a desire - I wanted it, consciously or unconsciously, I just wanted it. Our word “desire” is somewhat connected with instincts. That is, I wanted to feel good, I wanted to be happy.

They associate the word “desire” more with volitional action. Their desire is always in accordance with the Spirit. This is not the case with us. Our embodied part, the Soul, may want its own, as we say, “ego”. Selfish goal.

Archangel Raphael says that even if the goal was not the Higher Self, to learn healing, then a person can still try to learn this, try to bring Light, goodness and healing to others, but on the condition that if he does this with unconditional Love, this is in in any case it will benefit him.

Maria: Thank you, very encouraging answer. In principle, everyone has the potential to become a healer not only for themselves, but also for their loved ones. For this, again, spiritual development and awareness are needed.

Irina: Yes, everyone has potential, because the forces that are used in healing are the same, from the Divine plane from which all Spirits came. It's all in us.

12:21 The influence of the healer's energy blocks on healing.

Maria: Thank you! There is such a question in our chat. A person dreams that light disks are spinning in the area of his palms. Is this a sign that he is a healer, for example?

Irina: I dream about spinning light disks. It's just that in a dream, when your astral body is separated from your physical body, you begin to feel it. And in the area of the center of the palms of all people there are etheric and astral energy centers, you call them chakras. Only these are mini-chakras through which a person receives and transmits energy.

And before healing, you still need to work on yourself, on your blocks, on your consciousness, on accepting everything that is with Love. Because if a person is not cleansed of negativity, then he will not be able to purely transmit these energies.

Can you hear me?

Maria: Yes, I can hear you well. The question was about a person seeing luminous disks in a dream.

Irina: She sees these mini-chakras in her palms. In a state when she is not sleeping, she simply does not see them through her physical body, but when she falls asleep, she feels them. We all have them, in fact, these luminous disks, we just don't perceive them due to lack of sensitivity.

And Archangel Raphael said that if you want to be a healer, you first need to work on your blocks. Over some kind of rejection. Accept any person. Because if you begin to channel these flows through yourself to people (if you yourself have blocks), these energies will begin to heal you. They will start to clean you up. This may not always be timely in those situations when you are at sessions, you yourself may begin to cleanse.

Maria: Thank you. This is also a very important question for practicing healers. To what extent can their own blocks harm not only them, but perhaps also their patients? Can this cause any harm if the healer himself has some blocks, some negative beliefs, fears, and so on, but he still heals. How is this even possible? Because, indeed, there are healers who work with people, help, but they really have problems, blocks and even physical illnesses.

Irina: Yes, there are such healers. Some healers were healing through the Spiritual world, but their own lesson was that they were seriously ill. There really were such people, and there are such people now. It all depends on the source of energy, where a person gets this energy from.

From what sources can he take it? He can share his life force, or he can share that energy, that force that comes through him from different civilizations or from the Spiritual world, but it all passes through him. In any case, it will all affect the person.

If he himself has some illnesses, blocks, some specific psychological complexes, and so on, then all this can affect the patient only if he has something similar. By vibration resonance. If he has something similar, he can pull it from the healer, or the healer from him, they can exchange. If these vibrations coincide, they will intensify in contact.

That's why I say, a healer is a person who comes into contact with the energy of many people. He begins to exchange energy with them. If he himself has something negative, then by meeting many people he will only strengthen this in himself. This is the energy exchange. And if he has Light, then he will not attract anything to himself.

Maria: Thank you very much, very important answer.

17:34 Healing and creativity.

Maria: Is healing a creative process or is it necessary to act according to certain rules?

Irina: Yes, this is rather a creative process. Each person is individual. Despite any specific treatment regimen that should always be present, there is room for maneuver in these regimens. Still, in any healing system, even where there is a strictly prescribed treatment regimen, there is still room for creativity. The results depend on the healer's contact with the Higher Self, on the problems of the patient himself, on his energy, even on his supervisors; they can tell this healer how to act.

Maria: Thank you very much.

18:27 Healing and children.

Maria: This is a very interesting question about the treatment of children by mothers. We know that until the age of 14, children are in their mother's field. Can every mother treat her child? Or does it still depend on what state she is in?

Irina: It depends on what state she is in and what state the child is in. It depends on what to treat, headaches or something else. This could be a completely different answer. It depends on what happens to the child, what the spiritual reason is.

In this case, if a child under 14 years of age gets sick, it is important for parents to go to their Higher Self, talk to him and ask what is the cause of this illness in the child. If the child himself wants to go to the Higher Self and understands what it is, then it is necessary to give him this opportunity. That is, give him a session. If there is an answer, what is the spiritual reason, ask the Higher Self how to eliminate it. Do this, and only then ask which healing system is suitable and, accordingly, how many sessions, this will all be answered by the Higher Self.

Maria: Thank you very much.

19:58 Healing and nutrition.

Maria: Rafail, please tell me how important it is for a healer to be a vegetarian or to adhere to some other diet?

Irina: This is an individual question. It depends on the desire of the person, on the healer himself, whether he is a vegetarian or non-vegetarian. This is his personal business.

These energies that come into it with food are still processed into the life force that we have in the body. And this vital force passes from person to person. She is charged with his Spirit.

He conveys his thoughts, desires, thought forms, feelings during healing (he is not a soulless robot, he is a human). At a healing session, he still conveys his own, even with curators, because he treats the person with some feelings. And feelings are projected into the outside world through its energy structure. And the feelings are charged with the vital force that is in the body.

Our body is warm, it is our vitality, our energy, and this energy is taken from oxygen and the food that we eat through chemical transformations and the breakdown of molecules. Energy is released, which is then used for our lives. This energy is used for walking, breathing, and all our processes in the physical body.

And no matter what a person eats, plant or animal food, he has the same enzymes that we have had for 12,000 years. They make energy from any type of product, the very life force that charges. But it is always charged with the vibrations of his spiritual heart, and he will share the contents of this spiritual heart.

Maria: Can we say that it doesn't matter what a person eats, what a healer eats, what matters is his thoughts, the energies with which he heals?

Irina: Yes. What is important is his thoughts, the energies with which he heals, and nothing else.

Maria: Yes. Whether he eats meat or is a vegetarian, this has no effect on the quality of his healing.

Irina: If in one case or another he eats it with gratitude. It is clear that if he accepts food from God with Love, gratitude, and believes that it is pure. And if he believes that she brings him some kind of energetic harm, so it will be. He charges his food with his faith.

Maria: Yes. According to your faith.

23:18 Faith, imagination and will as managers of energies.

Irina: Vera. What is faith? We are now talking about faith. Faith is not just energy. Faith is the universal manager of all energies. We have three main managers of energy in our psychic or soul structure - faith, imagination and will. They are somehow united with each other, faith can act on the will and vice versa, but these are our three main managers of energy. Here, there is such a system for controlling a horse as a bridle, three bridles with which we control our energy. Or three steering wheels - this is our faith, this is our imagination and this is our will.

If we wish for something, we will direct the energy. If we imagine something, we will direct energy and fill it with energy, and it will materialize naturally with the help of our will. And if we believe in something. Faith and imagination, if you think that these are synonyms, but they are somewhat different things, because what we imagine, we may not believe in it, and on the contrary, we can believe in things that are difficult to imagine.

Maria: Thank you, Raphael.

25:15 Spiritual and physical causes of diseases.

Maria: Tell me, please, if a simple illness does not go away for a long time, a cold, for example, what can this mean if a person has been sick with chronic diseases for a long time?

Irina: Chronic cold?

Maria: For example, some illness does not go away for a very long time. It may be simple and harmless, but it lasts a very long time, like any chronic disease.

Irina: You understand that we are talking about a very broad question here, which can be answered in any way you like. Please be specific somehow.

Maria: Okay, let's wait until the question is specified.

Irina: Because I now understand the word disease, now I'll start answering about some kind of chronic bronchitis, but in a person, here you go, dermatitis. And a runny nose. And the neck. You see how many diseases were written down at once. Tonsillitis. Thank you everyone! Already something substantive that we can talk about. We'll probably start with skin problems, dermatitis. Disease of the legs and feet. This is arthritis, this is varicose veins, what is it? There are hundreds of foot diseases. Let's also make it more specific. Varicose veins Thank you

So, everything related to skin. Let's do it this way. In general, the causes of the disease. We have, you know, a physical body, we have a Spirit.

I haven't smelled anything for two years. It's already clear.

So we have a physical body and we have a Spirit. We are a synthesis of the material world and the Spiritual world. We are aliens in the physical world in a special, one might say, equipped not even with a suit, but with a biocomputer. So, the causes of illnesses, since we have two natures - physical and spiritual, the causes of illnesses are also physical, and some are spiritual. Moreover, physical illnesses also have spiritual causes, but they can be identified indirectly. I'll just give you an example now. A man walked without a hat in the cold, he had hypothermia, the wind blew into his ears, he had hypothermia, and then otitis media began from hypothermia. It would seem that there is a completely physical cause of the disease. What does his Spirit have to do with it? Hypothermia is a physical cause.

But if we look deeper, we will see that the beliefs that this man had, they encouraged him to neglect his safety and walk through the cold without a hat. He has such mental attitudes, he has such beliefs. But attitudes and beliefs are already the contents of the mental body, that is, the mental body is a component of our Spirit. This person has both a spiritual cause of the disease, that is, the beliefs that led to such behavior, and a physical one directly.

28:47 Causes of skin diseases.

Irina: So, if we are talking about skin problems, like any disease, they have both a physical cause and a spiritual cause.

What physical causes can there be for skin diseases? Firstly, these are various injuries that a person can receive from some objects, from high or low temperatures, burns, frostbite, some kind of scratches, wounds, some kind of physical damage.

Secondly, these can, of course, be infectious diseases. Certain influences of the microcosm that are found everywhere around us and upon contact with human skin (I cannot call them particularly aggressive) affect. The microcosm is its own life, which also requires food and reproduction, they also fulfill their task. And it happens that they meet a person, intersect in such a way that the person seems to them a very hospitable and favorable planet on which they begin to live. And, accordingly, this is imperceptible to a person until a certain period of time, then there are too many of them, and the person's protective resources are reduced. And we see, among other things, there are skin diseases that are caused by microbes. These are, for example, the same acne or boils. Or chickenpox is also an infectious disease that is expressed by a pronounced rash. These are elements on the skin that show that this problem exists.

There are also all sorts of toxic signs, such as poisoning, but these are something like allergic reactions. Allergic reactions also have their own reasons, they can be on the skin. This may be due to too much variety in a person's diverse parasitic flora, when the body does not have time to remove metabolic products. As it is now fashionable to say, "the body is slagged." Slags are toxins. This is the first reason.

The second reason may be that the liver is not working fast enough to remove these toxins.

And the third is a psychological, purely spiritual reason without any damage. It happens that skin diseases and their causes can be purely spiritual without any parasites, without any damage. A person, for example, had no skin damage; all tests show a complete normal level of all microorganisms. The liver is normal, there are no parasites, I have cleaned myself. Everything is fine with him, but there are still violations, for no reason, so to speak. There is no physical reason.

This means that he has some purely spiritual reason, which shows something. It is for skin diseases (skin in the spiritual sense) that this is the border between us and the outside world. And if there are spiritual problems there, then this is a sign that our boundaries have been violated. We feel that someone next to us is violating our boundaries.

What emotions might this evoke? This can cause emotions of hidden irritation, non-acceptance of something, and not only of some person, but also of some situation. Perhaps himself. A person can criticize, scold himself, and from these thoughts he will develop a rash on him as a sign that he is not clean.

33:16 Skin problems in teenagers.

Maria: And, for example, in adolescence, most teenagers have skin problems, can we say that they just have some kind of rejection or what is this connected with, hormonal?

Irina: Yes, hormonal problems. In general, hormones are very closely related to the nervous system. This type of problem is still associated with psychology, more with spiritual reasons. Many teenagers, despite high levels of hormones, have clear skin. You have seen, and there really are such people. It is, indeed, a person who begins to change, begins to grow up, and his emotions manifest themselves very clearly. The emotional sphere begins to swing from positive to negative very quickly. Either one hormone was released - he felt pleasant, then another hormone was released - everything began to irritate him. He still has to learn to work with these hormones and harmonize himself.

It's not for nothing that the words "hormone" and "harmony" have the same root. It happens that because of these emotions (the teenager does not understand what is happening), everything just starts to irritate him out of nowhere. Or he may suddenly feel attracted (quite definite) to a girl. Or a girl to a guy. In class, she may have thoughts about the most adult experiences she has ever read about. She herself is ashamed to admit this, she does not understand what is happening, and begins to scold herself for it. It happens.

Bursts of hormones, including sex hormones. They are normal at this age, as it should be. Otherwise, the body will not mature to reproduce its offspring. But this maturation is accompanied by such thoughts, such feelings, and the girl or boy does not understand what is happening. They may, for example, not accept themselves, their body. Or something begins to irritate them in their parents, in those around them, in school life. This is why it happens to them.

Maria: Thank you!

36:02 Children's infectious diseases. Chickenpox. Schizophrenia.

Maria: Tell me, please, do, for example, childhood infectious diseases like chickenpox or other diseases that all children, in principle, get sick with in childhood, do they have some kind of spiritual reason or are they purely physical processes?

Irina: Spiritual reason. The spirit of man. Tell me, is it an interesting topic, Masha: human interaction with the world of microbes with different vibrations?

Maria: Yes, of course. Collective Souls.

Irina: A person who has varying degrees of purity of the biofield, tell me, the interesting interaction of these people with the so-called pathogenic microbes and viruses.

What kind of interactions do they have? If they have very high vibrations and one Light in the Soul and in the heart, and they love everyone, this does not mean at all that they have lost their physical body and have completely gotten rid of the physical causes of the disease. There are people who believe that if I am high vibrational, I am not afraid of anything, I will now drink a glass of boiling water, and nothing will happen to me. Or I'll swim in the ice hole for half an hour, and nothing will happen to me, because I have high vibrations. But this is far from true in reality. The physical body remains physical. So it is with microbes.

If a person has high vibrations, microbes can still not only attack (they don't attack, they don't wish harm, they don't have desires like a person), they can still live in such a person and can cause illness in him. Another thing is that this person's immunity will be quite high, because he will not release the stress hormone, which depresses the immune system. He will secrete hormones that, on the contrary, strengthen the immune system in someone who is full of Love. Therefore, microbes will have to try harder to undermine his health. They will have to spend more time and resources to defeat this person's immunity, but under some circumstances this is also possible.

If a highly vibrational, highly spiritual person is not careful in everyday life and does not follow the rules of hygiene that are necessary to protect his body from germs, he can also get sick.

Chickenpox is a viral disease that, as Masha correctly said, people get sick with in childhood. Does it have spiritual reasons? The spiritual reasons here are that this disease was caused by plasmoids. The soul of these viruses was also created by plasmoids for a specific purpose.

I asked specifically about the purpose of childhood diseases. When does a child usually get sick? What is chickenpox? This word comes from the word "wind". The child begins to spend a lot of time with other children. He usually gets chickenpox from them. In kindergarten, at school, on the street. And at a certain moment, these viruses that have entered it break through a hole in its protection. The temperature rises and the child breaks out in a rash.

This is a signal for parents to pay attention to the child. So that they love him, take him from the street, move him into the house and take care of his health, his development. A signal to parents that right now they should be with the child (if we look at the spiritual reason for this phenomenon).

Maria: Yes, very good explanation, very interesting.

Irina: By the way, the child may not have had chickenpox in childhood, and he will not be vaccinated against it. Now. They say there are already vaccinations in some countries. In Russia I don't know where it is found. But in some countries it is included in the national vaccination calendar. I don't remember, but I read about it somewhere. If a person is not vaccinated and was not sick in childhood, there is a possibility that, after communicating with a child with a hidden form of the disease (when he does not see it), the disease will continue in adulthood.

Maria: But with complications.

Irina: Adults have different immunity. Cells work differently. Not such a fast metabolism, of course. Many say that adults suffer it more severely. The temperature is more severe; their rash looks more like smallpox. The chickenpox virus is a close relative of the same smallpox.

You see, confirmation: “I had chickenpox very seriously at the age of 24.” Yes, indeed, it means that you didn't get sick as a child, you didn't have such contact, you didn't get sick. That's why the disease is called “chickenpox”; it literally spreads with the wind. What does it mean?

ABOUT! Is schizophrenia caused by plasmoids? It can be caused not only by plasmoids. I'll explain now. Very good question! Although often they are the ones responsible, the whole point is that they do not do it out of malice. There the person himself is involved in such contact of his own free will. Not even by will, but by his vibrations that he produces.

So, chickenpox. If there is one sick child (by the way, he becomes a carrier of viruses two or three days before the visible elements of the rash, when he can already be isolated), the parents may not know, and he can communicate with other children. If there is a patient with chickenpox in this form in the room, when it spreads from the nose, through toys, the probability of an unvaccinated child getting sick (just being with him for several hours in the same room or next to him on the playground) is 90%. It is clear that this is such a virus.

Yes, schizophrenia.

Maria: If we sum it up now, then childhood illnesses are, first of all, lessons of love and spirituality for parents and others.

Irina: It is also very important to say that childhood illnesses are different. Chickenpox is one thing, measles is another, whooping cough is another, but all of them are characterized by the fact that in this condition the child needs to be given increased attention.

44:06 The connection between the time of incarnation and spiritual tasks.

Irina: And it must be said that in ancient times, when there were no advances in our medicine, even when Nicholas II lived (if you watched the broadcast with him), a hundred, two hundred years ago, as the centuries go on, we see that the number of children is increasing, teenagers who died from childhood and adolescent infections. Or they didn't die, but became disabled for life.

If we look at previous centuries, we will see that, despite the fact that people prayed to God, loved everyone, forgave, they had a spiritual life, abstracted from cities (many lived in villages, ate natural products, without electromagnetic waves and similar things that are considered harmful, without GMOs, everything was natural), there was a very high mortality rate of women during and after childbirth and children.

For example, if we take the royal family, the family of Peter the Great. He had, I don't remember how many, two or three wives (I don't remember the details, but you can watch it on air). Of all the children that all his wives bore to him (there were fourteen or fifteen of them), three people survived to the adult age of 18 years. This is from the royal family, where there was care at the highest level, where there were their own doctors, where, naturally, there was the best food. Can you imagine, the tsar is not a peasant. It is clear that the situation among the peasants was approximately the same, if not worse.

And why exactly children, why did they bear the brunt of the blow? There were a lot of childhood infections, and not only childhood, but also adult infections that affected children. There was a lot, for example, of tuberculosis. There were forms that caused meningitis and encephalitis. This is how it is with Tsar Nicholas II's brother, in my opinion, Mikhail (I don't remember who). He died from it, from this form, a fully grown man. There were no funds then. Such Spirits then incarnated at that time in order to undergo such lessons. It is clear that incarnations at a time when there were no medical advances at the required level were also not accidental.

We are now incarnating on Earth, when we do not have medicine like in the Interstellar Union, when they can easily treat diseases that are now a mystery to us. This is also a lesson for us. But over the past 100-150 years, we have practically conquered (if not conquered, then greatly reduced the likelihood of infection) all sorts of childhood diseases like whooping cough and so on. How they do this is all clear. I won't talk about it.

So there was a question. Here you go, hemophilia.

Maria: Yes, a genetic disease.

48:00 Medicine in the Interstellar Union.

Maria: You just touched on the Interstellar Union, and there is a very interesting question here about whether therapeutic massages or healing techniques are used in the Interstellar Union?

Irina: They have mainly preventive medicine. They have long understood that illness of the physical body is much easier to prevent than to treat later.

Preventive medicine starts from childhood, they are taught at school. There are several items. The first is “Psychology of the Spirit”, where they talk about the Spiritual world. There is a subject “Psychology of Family Life”, where they are told about the family roles of a child, mother, father, husband and wife, and how to navigate them correctly. And they have a subject, it’s called “Body Safety”, the safety of the life of the Spirit in the physical world. About the same as our life safety, perhaps, “Fundamentals of Life Safety.” Only for them this subject is not connected with how to escape from an earthquake or how to escape if an atomic bomb is dropped. Or how to survive in the forest if you get lost, they talk about something else.

49:20 Education and prevention of the Interstellar Union.

Irina: Their subject of life safety is related to the fact that they study the physical body, what capabilities it has, what energies it has, what diseases it may have, and how to properly manage your body so as not to get sick. This also includes mental contact with organs. This is the practice that was given to me.

How to fill your body with the Light of Divine Love in order to raise the vibrations of every organ? Every organ is made up of cells. All cells are made up of atoms that love Light, Divine Light, it activates everything at the cellular level. How to talk to an organ if something is wrong with it? If a person feels some kind of discomfort, tension, how to talk to this organ and find out what he wants, what he desires? Maybe he lacks some substances? Maybe, on the contrary, there is an overabundance or something else? This is the first one.

50:27 Conscious nutrition in the Interstellar Union.

Irina: And secondly, they teach, naturally, proper nutrition. But proper nutrition, from the standpoint of the Interstellar Union again, is nutrition - listening to your body, first of all.

Now I'll probably talk about the loss of smell, the person is already waiting.

This means listening to your body and consciously approaching the nutrition process. It's not just that you went, wanted to eat and quickly put it in your mouth just to satisfy your hunger. They have conscious eating. They asked first: "Do I really want to eat, or do I want something else?" Then, when I realized that I wanted to eat: "What do I want to eat, what would I eat now, what would I consume?" Imagine this product, imagine that you are eating it and watch the body's response. What does it say, yes or no.

Such a long process. We don't have time to do this; they have a lot of time. What we grabbed. This often happens: a man was running down the street. I realized that he wanted to eat. He realized that he had 15 minutes left before the end of his lunch break. And he ran somewhere to pay utility bills to the bank. He understands that he will now be late for work. He quickly runs into some cheburek shop. He buys it without knowing what it is made of, without asking his body, and quickly uses it. And this, precisely this, and not the cheburek itself, is unhealthy food. The approach itself.

Maria: The vibrations on which he consumes this cheburek, right? No gratitude, no mood.

Irina: Yes, he, firstly, unconsciously, he did not ask his body what it wants now. Even if he asked, for example, a cheburek came. "I want cheburek or Olivier salad, or tea with bread and mustard." Yes, please, sometimes people want this. This is exactly what he wants. So, he imagined it, and he received a response from the body that he wanted it. Then he uses it. We immediately, unconsciously use it, but they teach their children the wrong way. They are herbivores, okay, but we have races that are also omnivores. There are even predators that mainly eat meat. And there are (like us and Tumesout) omnivores, they can eat everything.

So, they teach their children that if you take milk, plants, animal food, in any case, all this food is matter, it is the flesh of some creatures, those Souls that were embodied there. If these are living plants, green leaves, some fruits with living seeds, then these Souls are still embodied, they have not yet come out, you are eating them alive. They have such an understanding. If it is something like fried potatoes or bread that has already been cooked on the fire, naturally, the Souls have already left and disincarnated. They simply recognize that plants also have a group Soul. If it is an animal, naturally we eat its flesh, the Soul has already come out. Animals can have a group Soul, depending on what kind of animal they are. Or maybe a single one, but in any case it's already out. If it is milk and dairy products, there is no Soul there, we just took it from nature, but in any case it was produced by Souls. This means that in all cases a person, as he is taught, gives thanks.

This happens in their minds. They don't do this out loud, they have mental contact. They take it into their hands. For example, cheburek, what does it consist of? From flour and meat, and onions, but he does not list each, usually multi-component, maybe food. He takes it in his hands and says: "I thank all the Souls who participated in the creation of this food, and I thank God, who gave me the opportunity to use this energy, and I promise to direct it to the development of unconditional Love, I send it to all Souls who participated in the creation this matter is the Light of your Love!" Like that. And only then does he use it.

Maria: Thank you, very good, similar to our prayer, which we used to have, for example, believers of Christian religions.

Irina: Can you imagine if they don't teach differently from childhood?

Maria: Yes, obviously any food they take is for their benefit.

Irina: Yes, they don't think it's harmful or useful, they thank me. And their faith is important. Yes, we also have a prayer of thanksgiving for food in religions, but our people are not used to teaching children this, and from childhood they have gratitude to Souls, gratitude to God and the belief that this food will be beneficial. They don't say that if I eat this it will harm me, or there is too much sugar or not enough vitamins, or too much fat. They don't say that, they give thanks for this matter, absorb it, and their enzymes work correctly.

57:15 Manual therapy in the Interstellar Union.

Maria: Thank you! Still, the question is: do they have massages or not? Do they have any kind of manual therapy? Do they do something like that with the body, adjust it, massage it?

Irina: Yes, there is. They have massages and physical exercises (physical methods). They have physiotherapy, just as we have physiotherapy devices that channel different energies. They have various practices, similar to our cosmoenergetics, only adapted for their bodies, with their vibrations.

58:00 Chorus of the Hymn "Cassiopeia".

Voice-over:

Here is my hand and I am next to you,

Star family Cassiopeia,

Together we will explore the worlds and constellations,

We are one Cassiopeia family!

Here is my hand, Cassiopeia!

May 31, 2022

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova - contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

Maria Sokalskaya - moderator of the VKontakte group, head of the Online Learning project and other Cassiopeia projects;

Viky Melsky - master healer of the Sacral school;

Archangel Raphael is a representative of the Spiritual world, the main curator of all healing systems of the Milky Way Galaxy, responsible for the training of plasmoid civilizations and non-incarnate Spirits, as well as the healing of Spirits embodied in dense material bodies.

00:30 Meeting participants.

Leader of the meeting: Now we give the floor to Irina and Maxim.

Maxim: I won't take much time. I don't understand what we're doing here, we could be shown in a circus with monkeys next to us. We are a project that has contacts with extraterrestrial civilizations, with spiritual structures, with subtle material structures. We have a contactee, Irina Podzorova, if someone had told me a year ago that I would be the leader of this project, I would have twirled my finger at my temple and asked: "What are you smoking?" Therefore, I would like to introduce you to contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations Irina Podzorova, she will tell you everything, what's what and why.

Irina: Greetings to everyone, dear friends! I also greet all the mentors and curators who are now present here in subtle bodies or in astral bodies. I immediately want to say to all respected scientists who are present here: we are an esoteric project. Everyone knows what esotericism is. We are a project that examines the issues that have now been explained here from the point of view of consciousness, from the point of view of spirituality.

My name is Irina Podzorova, I have been a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations since I was 13 years old. To tell you briefly, I was a teenager at that time, lived in a small village and met aliens on a ship, as usual. Maybe you've read about contactees. I met them. You can talk about all this in detail if you wish, if you are interested, watch our videos on the YouTube channel “Cassiopeia”, if anyone is interested in this, I don’t just want to take up your time with this.

Maxim: There is information there for scientists, and there is information for ordinary people as well.

Irina: Because if now the questions start: “How was it? Where were they taking you?” - it will take a lot of time and, perhaps, is needed for something else. I want to say more important things. These are all particulars - what are their names, where are they located, a lot of planets and civilizations can be called. I want to say that I am also a contactee with the so-called subtle-material civilizations, which in our system of knowledge are called plasmoids (similar to plasma), and with the Spiritual world, that is, with the world where disembodied Spirits live. Those who have passed on to another world, as we usually say on Earth.

And now our curators, scientists from other planets, are here in astral bodies (the astral body is a type of subtle body). These are physical civilizations, they live near other stars. To communicate with contactees, they study certain sciences on their planets, and also study the Earth and learn to go on astral travel, this is a type of controlled sleep. To do this, they leave their physical body, retain their consciousness and can answer questions, but through the perception of the contactee at the level of his terminology.

Since I am a contactee, naturally, through my worldview, through my terminology, through my vocabulary, I can convey answers to questions from them. I have already listened to respected speakers.

Everything they said, almost everything is known from our science, from our school curriculum, which is based on materialism, on the priority of matter. Of course, this is not the only worldview system that is possible.

I want to say that all the building blocks of life, which you call molecules, atoms, proteins, nucleotides, they cannot, according to the idealistic worldview that esotericism adheres to, they cannot, without any intelligence, without control, assemble into such complex systems as, for example , cell, not to mention multicellular organisms.

For what reason can they not? There is a very good example. For the same reason that, for example, an explosion cannot cause a factory where letters are made (if it explodes and the letters fall to the ground) to create a book by itself, because they will fall in disarray. Even if we give a billion explosions, ten billion explosions, a hundred billion explosions, what is the likelihood that they will even create the fairy tale “Kolobok”? Not to mention “War and Peace,” for example.

Before you, for example, is the Russian alphabet, consisting of 33 letters. Here I will put in front of you the book of the same Shklovsky “Universe, Life, Mind”. This book contains words consisting of 33 letters. How many letters can you count here? In mathematical language you can count them, you can cut this book into small letters. Now I'll ask you. Here lies this pile of letters, but what is needed for a book to appear?

From the audience: We need natural selection, we know, that’s exactly how it turned out.

Irina: Selection by what? Who selected them?

From the audience: Just probabilities, nothing special. The one who can survive survives, and all the others who are not needed are swept away by selection. That's how it all came about. There is an answer.

Irina: In order for a book to emerge from this pile of letters that we can perceive with our consciousness, we need...

From the audience: But the fact is that this book arose in exactly this way. In the place where we are now, five billion years ago there was a pile of garbage. Without any intervention through selection, a book appeared here and also a glass not of cognac, but of wine. There are no questions here, we know how it turns out.

Irina: Okay, I'll say something that even a child can understand. For this book to emerge from this pile of letters, the mind of this writer is necessary. Because if now, for example, this pile of letters is placed in front of you, in front of me, a completely different text may appear, or none at all. But the letters are exactly the same. Any cell, even the smallest one, even the smallest bacterium, is much more complex than this book. Because it can feed itself, cleanse itself, determine for itself which reactions are necessary for it and which are not, defend itself, reproduce, transmit its information to the daughter cell, from the word "daughter". The book itself is not capable of this, because the elements combined here are not complex enough; one letter is not one amino acid, these are completely different things. But I simply said by analogy, in order to create an image, how complex a creature life is!

While I was just speaking this short text, millions of reactions took place in the cells of each of you, many of which cannot be repeated in the leading laboratories of the Earth without any heating, catalysis, and so on. They go away as if by themselves. You don't think about them, you breathe, you absorb oxygen, you exhale carbon dioxide 16 times a minute. And why? Because oxygen is necessary so that you can turn the food you eat into energy. Who came up with this?

Those beings with whom I contact, they provide the answer to this question. But I emphasize that their science (they have it, they flew here, so they have starships and various devices that are described in our science fiction) is based on what we call spiritual culture. They have a concept of the material world, they have a concept of the subtle world, and they have a concept of the Spiritual world, where all this came from.

And the main thing is that they say that not a single atom, not a single molecule, and certainly not a single star arises without meaning. Without the meaning that can be useful for this Universe, can be useful for the creatures that live in it. Because it takes a lot of energy to light one star. It's not just a cloud of hydrogen being compressed and storing energy in the form of heat, which is then converted by pressure into a thermonuclear reaction. These are enormous energies. And if there are no creatures that can absorb this energy and transform it into another, then the existence of a star is meaningless. This is exactly what the creatures who came into contact with me are talking about.

I am a physical contactee. They physically take me to other planets, they put chips on me. I am also a mental contactee. I am an astral contactee. I can perceive with the help of chips (I emphasize once again, at my level of awareness, at my level of understanding and my lexical vocabulary) what is transmitted to me. Now, of course, you will say that there are many contactees, they convey everything differently, how they differ from religion, and so on. I know roughly what questions may arise.

However, I will introduce who the curators are here.

11:56 Galaxies and the Universe.

Irina: First, I'll briefly tell you how our Universe, our Galaxy is presented to me.

Firstly, they tell me that galaxies are not just collected in one place, but they are distributed in so-called galaxy clusters. One cluster contains, perhaps, several thousand galaxies, then there is simply a cosmic vacuum, intergalactic space, then there is another cluster and thus even they do not see the edges of the Universe. Several billion, already tens of billions of galaxies are known. And even the information that they receive from a resident of that Galaxy, which is located on the edge of their observable Universe, says that the edge is moving away to the same distance.

12:53 Aliens about the development of the Earth at the time of discovery.

Irina: As for our planet. That's what they told me. Our planet was discovered by civilization, again in the language in which they told me, by the civilization of the planet Tumesout, this is the Constellation of Orion. Five million years ago our planet was discovered by their astronauts. When they discovered it, there was life here in the form of plants, animals and microorganisms, but as they explained to me, there was no intelligent being yet. They checked everything down to the fish and some animals. There were, as they explained to me (I know very well how the school curriculum talks about this, but I'm talking now about what they told me), that there were still dinosaurs then. I speak as I am told. I know very well what science says about this.

From the audience: This is what science calls falsification, as proof of the falsity of a theory and hypothesis.

Maxim: Radiocarbon dating may be falsified.

Irina: Now I'm explaining it factually. I can't say now that they tell me "65 million years ago there were dinosaurs" if they tell me like this.

From the audience: In general, dinosaurs still exist today. Birds are actually dinosaurs.

Irina: No, they told me about those classic ones, it's clear that they are not about birds. And, naturally, I asked them the same questions.

Maxim: You also cannot know about this one hundred percent.

Irina: Naturally, I asked them questions about this, as you do now: "They weren't there, why do you say that they were?"

From the audience: At your level of perception. That's what you heard.

Irina: Naturally, I told them: "We have it written that they were not there. Why are you telling me otherwise? I can tell you their answers later. Why do they contradict our picture of the world? And this is so. In some positions they contradict our currently established scientific picture of the world. And not only in the field of dinosaurs, there are other things there as well.

So, having discovered our world five million years ago, they did not find, as I already said, intelligent creatures, they began to observe the creatures that are here, and create conditions for them for evolution, in accordance with the goal of the Tumesoutians.

15:34 Aliens about the appearance of man on Earth.

Irina: Now I'll say a few words about their worldview. They believe that intelligent Spirits incarnate only in those bodies whose brains can perceive an intelligent Spirit. I'm speaking roughly now, the brain, the central nervous system. But there were no such creatures on Earth. The Animal Souls that existed there, they were different from the rational Spirit. According to the teachings of the Interstellar Union, they cannot intersect in one body: an animal cannot incarnate into a human. Why all this was explained to me in detail, I also asked them. And they began to try to promote the evolution of animals, creating various conditions for them so that an intelligent Spirit could incarnate into the body of the first earthling, an intelligent being, not just a monkey, but an intelligent being. But nothing worked out for them, as they told me, they achieved nothing through evolution. And two million years later (that's three million years ago) they interfered with our genetics, took a creature that was not a monkey, but a certain ancestor from the family of primates (they explained to me what it looked like, they said that now it no longer exists), and took his genotype. They took his DNA and began to experiment, inserting different sections of their, as they explained to me, genes. In the language I heard, of course. And, in the end, they began to produce these creatures with the help of the same primates.

And, in the end, the first 18 earthlings were born whose genotype was as follows: 45% were from primates, 15% were from Tumesout, 35% were from representatives of our Galaxy from the planet Burkhad and 5% were from the reptilian civilization of the planet Selbet. And this genotype began to evolve further.

18:03 The Milky Way Galaxy, its civilizations and alliances.

Irina: Now a little about our Galaxy. They explained it to me like this. Currently, there are 727 intelligent humanoid civilizations in the Milky Way Galaxy. They generally call any civilization that has a physical body humanoid, even if they look like insects, whatever they want. Those who have a dense body similar to ours, consisting of substances, we will say, periodic tables. They may be different, amino acids and so on, but any physical body into which an intelligent Spirit inhabits is called a humanoid (again, this is in my language). Some other contactee may say that reptilians are not humanoids, because they understand this issue differently. However, I am speaking now as it was conveyed to me, because here there is already contact at my level of awareness.

Further, of these 727 dense material beings at the present time, 117 are in the so-called Interstellar Union, again, this is at my level. Someone might call it the Union of Stars, the Union of Worlds, or something else, but in my language they called it the Interstellar Union. Naturally, I want to emphasize that they do not speak Russian themselves, they simply learn it in order to communicate with contactees. Before their scientist is allowed to work on Earth, he must study the language, culture, religion, science, psychology and then make contact. Thus, 117 planets make up the Interstellar Union, its capital is located 670 light years from Earth in the Cygnus Constellation, in the language of my first curator the planet is called Burkhad, the planet's self-name is Pikran.

Perhaps some of you have heard about her. They look (naturally, they were shown to me, I communicated with them) like people, humanoid or anthropomorphic, but they are taller than us, about two to two and a half meters, and they have completely white skin. I want to say, looking ahead a little, oxygen, for example, in their atmosphere is 45%, and some other ratio of gases. When they arrive on Earth, they can adapt their body to our oxygen content. But it is uncomfortable for them to stay here for a long period of time: much like in our highlands. And for us to be with them is the same, only if we stay in their atmosphere for more than an hour, then it also becomes uncomfortable there, because in humans an excess of oxygen also causes some short-term disturbances, but they then go away.

In addition to the Interstellar Union, in our Galaxy there is also the so-called, perhaps even better known to some earthlings, the Galactic Federation of Light. Its capital is located in the Pleiades cluster, this is the planet Futissa. But there, it must be said that there are now 27 humanoid worlds and 617 subtle worlds at the moment.

I'll digress a little now. Thin-material or plasmoids are precisely those intelligent beings who have bodies, but they consist (in earthly language, if very approximately) of energy waves. Perhaps you have heard the word “ether”? Ether is not a substance, but a special type of energy that hypothetically filled the space between atoms, which Mendeleev studied. For this broadcast (it’s like in my dictionary) they have completely different words there. It turns out that there are a lot of these ethereal energies.

Now present here in astral bodies: the representative of the planet Burkhad Raom Tiyan, he is a specialist in energy interactions in the material world; LiShioni is from the planet Shimor in the constellation Andromeda, he is a specialist in astral interactions. The Astral World is part of the Spiritual World, which is between the material and spiritual and permeates all subtle worlds. LiScioni studied them and the energy relationships. And here there is also a representative of the planet Esler, who is a biologist and psychologist, his name is MidgasKaus.

They were also listening to you attentively (again, through me, through my perception). Since they are in the Astral, sound waves, naturally, do not reach them; their physical ears, so to speak, remained in their physical bodies, from which they came out to come here. Therefore, they can only perceive this room, you, in the form of energy. Their physical eyes, which perceive the world through the reflection of photons, remained in their bodies.

24:04 Transfer of information in the Astral.

Irina: You have all repeatedly made astral travel, only you call it a dream, and they can enter into the so-called controlled astral travel, when they maintain consciousness. Of course, they have it changed, one might say, trance-like. But in any case, they remain aware, so you can ask them a question. They receive information from their memory and transmit it to me in the form of thought forms; it is not a specific voice. To create a voice, you must first create air vibrations, but they have nothing, they are in the Astral. Therefore it is in the form of thought forms, and a thought form is a thought plus an image. It is put into my consciousness at the level of the mental field (if we are already considering the aura), and when it passes into my consciousness, I translate it into words through my brain, through my awareness.

Of course, each contactee (I don't argue) will do this in his own way. Why will he do it his way? Because we all have different beliefs, cliche phrases that we use all the time. When we translate what we received from somewhere, we will inevitably end up with a slightly different text, or not a little, but it will have some kind of general idea, a general thought. Therefore, if you have studied the messages of contactees, you have probably seen that they each speak, it would seem, about their own things, but you can still find something in common there.

25:48 Subtle material worlds. Conscious and unconscious contacts.

Irina: I want to tell you about the creation of the Universe, I asked questions. They call the entirety of the material world the Universe. In the concept of the material world, they include not only the physical, but also the subtle worlds. These subtle-material beings (from subtle energies) are also inhabited by intelligent Spirits, by the way, the same as us. In one of your incarnations, each of you must have been such a subtle-material being, because otherwise you cannot come to the dense world until you have passed that stage. And these creatures, or plasmoids, as we call them on Earth, are better known in folklore, better known in mythology, because people contacted them and left traces of these contacts in some legends and myths. What is a myth? This is a story about something.

So, they are called plasmoid civilizations, usually called Nature Spirits. You may have heard: Spirits of the forest, Spirits of water, Spirits of fire, but these are terrestrial plasmoids, and there are also stellar plasmoids.

As you know, dear friends, there are such huge stars as, for example, Deneb, Antares, which are many thousands of times larger than the Sun. They release enormous amounts of energy. There are such supergiants near which any organic life is generally impossible, even the most primitive one, which may include some kind of animal or plant Souls.

Then you ask: “For whom is this energy dissipated?” As I already said at the very beginning, according to idealistic teaching, if we put Spirit at the forefront, not matter, something cannot exist without meaning. When there are supergiants, if there are no planets there at all, we have stars, although there are few of them; where there are no planets, there are none at all. Then you will say: “What is their energy for? You yourself just said that it cannot be without meaning?” Yes, I said it.

The fact is that in the chromosphere of these stars and in the core of these stars there are subtle worlds. And the plasmoids themselves, whose subtle bodies are so much higher in vibration, that is, in the vibrations of their bodies, that they are not burned by temperatures of several million degrees Celsius. On the contrary, this energy of heat, this energy of Light, thermonuclear energy feeds them, they live there, develop, solve their specific problems, which are for that world, and feed. These are stellar plasmoids. Both stellar plasmoids and terrestrial plasmoids are very actively in contact with earthlings. There are also a lot of their contactees, they convey various messages.

There are conscious ones who understand that this is not their work. For example, someone gave them a poem. And there is a person who accepts (because he is not aware) their thoughts as his own. He simply wonders where they came from, but nevertheless believes (because he is not in conscious contact) that he is not in contact with anyone. The information that passes through him is still a product of his own creative thought, but also of the contact that exists unconsciously.

29:30 Spiritual vibrations.

Irina: You ask: “What determines who will contact whom?”

Man has a Spirit. In esoteric language we say that it has certain vibrations. Vibrations, I immediately emphasize now (especially for all physicists) that we use the expression “spiritual vibrations” only by analogy with material vibrations. We know that material vibrations are measured in terms of the number of vibrations of the electromagnetic field per second. Spiritual vibrations are measured differently, depending on the proximity or distance from that universal vibration of the Spiritual world that created everything else. It exists, it is named. In our earthly language (in Russian) this is the Primordial vibration of the Spiritual world, which created all the material worlds in their entirety, in all universes, in all densities. And it is called in Russian (but they emphasize to me that it can only be approximately described in our language) Unconditional Divine Love. Everything that is closer to this vibration of the Spirit is higher in vibration. Everything that is further from it is lower in vibration.

30:58 The emergence and development of the material Universe.

Irina: Next is the reason for the emergence of the material Universe. This being can be called God, can be called the Absolute, can be called the Supreme Mind, well, let's use the Russian word God. This is the First Cause of everything. First cause means that it itself has no cause. We were all born from it first. But there is no time there, there is the Spiritual world. Born by encapsulation from the Divine Light of self-awareness, now I am telling you very simply. Then we all lived in eternity, that is, without incarnating anywhere. Then God, as our Father, decided to invent worlds for us where we can express ourselves and develop.

Our world now, our Universe is divided into 59 levels of density. We live in the physical world - this is the third level of density. Above us there are 56 more of these thin ones, they are literally everywhere. On Earth, for example, there are 8 billion people, and there are 15 times more plasmoids: per person, perhaps, there are 12-15 plasmoids (only terrestrial ones, at different density levels). It is only we who believe that we are the only intelligent earthlings. No. There are many other civilizations that live at other density levels. They are also full-fledged earthlings who are embodied here, intelligent Spirits (I am now talking not about animals, but about intelligent Spirits who have their own tasks).

Now you ask: “Why so much?” Because in order to create the Souls of animals, plants, microorganisms, plasmoids are needed. They create their Souls, they monitor their incarnations (they also have a certain number of incarnations, albeit finite). They create the entire biosphere of the planet.

Where there is no intelligent life, they contribute (it would seem at first glance) to natural mutations, so that intelligent life arises through evolution, into which they themselves can then incarnate in the spiritual plane of this planet (as I already told about five million years ago).

Further, in these 59 density levels there are 6048 material energies (total in all density levels). Of these, 9 are just the energies of the physical Universe; they are what make up atoms. Just imagine, out of 6048, only 9 are physical. Therefore, the physical Universe makes up about 7-8% of the entire material Universe, everything else is occupied by the volume of so-called dark matter. Again, this is part of those plasmoid worlds that (I say again, this is not all) can be observed due to their effects of some kind of gravitational and so on.

These 9 physical energies, where did they come from? Everything that the astrophysicist told us now. And where did they come from? I was clearly told that at first there was a subtle-material Universe. First there was the Spiritual World, then the 59th level of density, then the 58th, and it began to become denser. Not on its own, nothing will happen on its own, I already talked about the book. Those Spirits, which we also were, embodied in a new plane and condensed the matter of their plane, and it no longer became the 59th, but part of it descended to the 58th, 57th and further, until all 59 were created.

The age of the physical Universe is told to me more than what was stated here, but they explain to me that there is also a reason for this discrepancy.

Long before her, there were subtle planes where we all lived. There was no physical universe. There were no stars or anything else, we were just in subtle worlds. A star is already a compaction. In order for a hydrogen atom to arise, energies from the subtle plane of which it consists need to be condensed. This is also done by plasmoids, the so-called Spirits of the Elements, which in earthly language we call Spirits of Fire, Spirits of Water, Spirits of Air, Spirits of Earth.

36:04 Types of energy in alien science.

Irina: They take energies from their worlds (ethereal ones, of which there are more than 6 thousand) and from them they put together certain structures that we call atoms. These atoms contain 9 types of material energies, which we call physical in our science.

This is gravity, again it is divided into two types: microgravity, which sticks all atoms and molecules together, and macrogravity, which creates a gravitational field so that objects are attracted to each other. These are two energies. Thermonuclear energy, radioactivity are two more energies. It's already four. And then there is heat, light, radio waves, electricity and magnetism. These are the 9 energies.

Now I want to say right away: for them radio waves are not just some kind of vibration somewhere out there, but this is also a type of energy. Heat is not just heat that cools or heats some area, it is also a certain type of energy. Electricity and magnetism are separated in them.

If you are interested in details about the structure of the atom from their point of view, there is a video on our channel where all this is explained in detail. Scientists, physicists, and engineers asked them questions. If you are, for example, an astrophysicist, you know perfectly well how you can come up with a question so that it can be answered specifically. And there are many such videos. Because a correctly formulated question is already half the answer. When you ask a question abstractly, you will receive an answer just as abstractly. But there they asked specifically those who worked in laboratories, practitioners. They asked questions of a practical nature, what elements are made of, and so on.

I want to say right away that they can only tell me in general terms about the technologies with which they overcome the vastness of the Universe. They do not pass them on to us so that we can repeat them, because the public consciousness must be ready for a certain technological development. Otherwise, the same thing will happen as, for example, in Japan in 1945, where technology was ahead of, one might say, the moral state of society, when one intelligent being does not value the life of another. We all know what came of it.

In practice, I talked about what the Universe is, from the point of view of my curators and our Cassiopeia project, and what we are. We are intelligent Spirits who are immortal and incarnate, by the way, on completely different planets and, naturally, at density levels. Further, if there are any questions.

39:32 First physical contact by Irina Podzorova.

From the audience: This is the question. As a child, I really dreamed that a similar situation would happen to me. It did not happen, unfortunately, although I was sure that, at least in the 90s, there would definitely be full-fledged contact. It was always obvious to me from within that (when my first surprise and amazement subsided) I would ask the question: “Actually, why me?” And I will ask this question. Haven't you asked this question?

Irina: Good question! Of course, she asked the first time I had contact. My first contact was with a representative of the planet Daraal. It was physical contact, I was 13 years old. I was walking along the road, saw his spaceship, and approached them. We met, and they invited me to visit their planet. Naturally, it was difficult for a 13-year-old teenager to refuse an invitation to space.

Maxim: A three-meter creature with three eyes! It was difficult to refuse.

Irina: So what, I already knew that they were aliens. I was already 13 years old, it was 1999. I already knew that if I was invited to fly to another planet by aliens (I already knew from books, from films), and if they live on another planet, they could look like anything. You don't need to look at their appearance, but at their intentions. You may ask me: “Why did I think they had good intentions?” I had such an understanding at the age of 13 that if they had bad intentions to harm me, no one would talk to me, much less invite me somewhere. They would just kidnap me and do what they want. I had such an understanding, and since they invite me, it means they pay attention to my free will. If they pay attention to my free will, then these are beings who will not harm another, because they respect the life of another. I had approximately the same reasoning then, and that’s why I went with it. Then there was a second contact, when they had already installed the chip; by the way, they have a base on the far side of the Moon. There are bases on Earth, but underground, I only found out later.

Iz zal: And where is it located?

Maxim: Four hundred bases.

From the audience: Fine material?

Irina: Dense material ones.

42:23 Features of contactors.

From the audience: Why did you, why were you chosen?

Irina: I ask: “Why me?”

The first curator's name is Kirchiton, you can now even type it in any browser. I asked: “Why did you choose me?” He answered me that, firstly, I am not the only one, they have many contactees. You probably already know that there are contactees. This means that I was no longer the only one chosen. And secondly, they choose people based on the principles of similarity of energy vibrations.

I asked: “What is this?” He said that these are certain characteristics, qualities of the Soul that will allow contacts to be made safely and efficiently transmitted information to people. Even in order to install a chip (it is not just placed in the physical body, it is then integrated with the brain), if a person’s brain experiences energy vibrations that are slightly different from what they need, the chip can even cause harm to the person. The chip can even lead to some kind of mental disorder. The person will have some kind of voice that orders him something, and the person will not control this contact in any way. What will he get other than some kind of psychiatric problem? Nothing. And extraterrestrial intelligence is not interested in people living in such a state. Therefore, they choose a person who can adequately, at his own level, firstly, perceive this contact and pass it on to others, and secondly, at the same time they themselves can remain in a clear consciousness without any distortions and loss of control over reality.

From the audience: In 1999, you said?

Irina: Yes. Further, later, when I met other curators (with MidgasCaus), they told me that each Soul that goes for incarnation has its own tasks. The soul is that part of the Spirit (not the whole Spirit is incarnated, I'll jump ahead a little) that is incarnated. You didn't just come here to live a certain number of years, give birth to children who are also mortal in body, and then go to God knows where. You came here to complete a task that you set for yourself. The most common task is to increase your spiritual level. We have levels in the Spiritual world. The spirit that comes into a person, into a humanoid, into a plasmoid, it doesn't matter, he has a task - to increase his spiritual level, to become closer to the Light, to become closer to God, to become closer to Love. Why? Because it gives happiness and meaning of existence, it gives life.

I asked: "Why was I chosen as a contactee?" They answered me: because this was my task of the Soul before incarnation. I only found out later, not right away. This is how I learned that each person, contactee and non-contactee, has their own task. You too can be contactees, you can be unconscious contactees, you can be conscious, but partially.

45:57 Tasks and difficulties of contacting.

Irina: Now my task in the "Cassiopeia" project (many people have already come to us) is to find out from a person, through contact with his disembodied part of the Spirit (we call it the Higher Self), who his contactee is, who his curators are. And if a person has a desire (if he suddenly turns out to be a contactee), set up conscious contact for him. There are already such examples. For those who came to us, I established contact through the Higher Self, through their own spiritual channel. There are even those who were microchipped as children; chips were introduced. I set up contact for them through the Higher Self, and now they are also transmitting information. There are such examples. But many contactees who came to me when they asked their Higher Self who they were in contact with, when the curators asked whether you were going to carry information, as Irina does (we have a whole project now), people answered them: " No, I can't do this, I have a family, a job, if I now declare myself a contactee and pass on information, the attitude towards me will change."

From the audience: Of course.

Irina: This surprised me a little, but why will the contactee change and what? There are many such people. It turns out that in some social circles (I found out later) esotericism is not welcome. At first this surprised me; this is also part of human knowledge. This is such an unspoken rejection. Therefore, those people who have contact (they may now be among us), many of them (I will put it in very simple terms) are embarrassed or afraid. They have some kind of fear of going out to people and saying: “Yes, I had contact, aliens took me, and they gave me such and such information.” Why did I leave? I could also stay, not tell anyone anything and forget about it altogether. My contact is completely voluntary. I can refuse at any time and live my normal life.

From the audience: I had a question: is it possible to refuse at all?

Irina: Yes, you can. So why did I decide to devote myself to this? This is not easy, especially since we are now doing the Cassiopeia project. This is not just a story, it is a certain work, a certain energy that I direct to this contact, and therefore I live by it, I live by the contact. My goal in life is, firstly, to convey information from the Interstellar Union, which is conveyed to me in completely different areas of life. You can watch more than 400 videos on our channel: about medicine, about physics, about their engines. YouTube channel “Cassiopeia - Irina Podzorova”. You can view. Everything will be there. And by religion.

From the audience: Did the curators approve the project?

Maxim: Yes. The curators approved the project.

49:22 Earth civilization and alien plans.

From the audience: Tell me, do the Supreme Beings have a certain scenario for the development of, say, our civilization?

Irina: Script? You know, I’ll tell you what now, of course, different scientists of the Galaxy may have scenarios, but our earthly civilization is a collection of free intelligent beings. With her elections, she can break any scenario. That is, they can build for us: this year they will fly to the Moon, this year they will finally learn not only to spread radiation, but also to collect it, this year they will establish colonies on Mars, but we are not doing this .

50:05 American video "Interrogation of Aliens."

From the audience: Irina, can I ask a question?

Irina: Yes.

From the audience: Here on your channel there was an American video "Interrogation of Aliens", living people who supposedly were former earthlings and came to us. They were knocked out and interrogated.

Irina: Are you talking about interrogating aliens?

From the audience: Yes. They said that they were from the future, and that there was a nuclear war on Earth.

Irina: Have you watched this video?

From the audience: Yes.

Irina: It was said there by the representative of the planet Tashig who came to me that these were aliens from the planet of their colonies. They were shot down by the Americans (it turns out that we have military intelligence services that deal with such influence on flying saucers). Therefore, evidence is constantly limited to us; there is a purely military-political reason. They said that the entire text of the interrogation was falsified. This was already written by the American military themselves (with captions), it was falsified. But the very energy of this creature (it was also said there that perhaps these were photographs, and perhaps a video) was genuine. This is not just some drawn character.

From the audience: So you can't trust the text, right?

Maxim: They later reported that this was a falsification.

Irina: Then they said that they found a director who filmed it all. When asked where he got the materials, he said: "I drew it myself." But they found some photographs of him from which he compiled this. Now there is computer technology. You put a photo, and with the help of special programs it starts to move. He used approximately the same technology as an animator. He had photographs that he and some special services obtained from somewhere. Or downloaded it on the Internet from real footage of the alien. This video is absolutely public, it is on the Internet, "Alien Interrogation", it is in English. Now there is already a translation into Russian. They said that the energy was genuine and even identified the race that was there. And the text was written by them themselves, they didn't interrogate him like that and the answers weren't like that. They told me that they didn't even ask him such questions, and, naturally, he didn't give such answers.

53:00 Esoterics and money. Community of contactees.

From the audience: Can I ask another question? Do you somehow communicate with other contactees? Do you perhaps have some kind of contactee society?

Irina: We have a project.

From the audience: You have a project, your personal. That's how I understood it.

Irina: We have a project where any contactee can come if they wish, we have a common video with other contactees. But, you see, any contactee who transmits information (well, almost anyone), still wants to create his own project with his own specific rules.

From the audience: Why? If the mission is the same.

Maxim: If you were given a magic wand, would you share it?

Irina: Now I will explain. In our country, any esotericist or tarot reader means a certain contact with plasmoids and so on.

We have one rule in the Cassiopeia project. It is the most important thing, I will call it. You probably know that contactees and esotericists offer esoteric services, ranging from fortune telling on cards to regression and some kind of astral travel. This market is very widespread all over the world and in Russia. And if a contactee or esotericist has started his project, naturally, he decides on the conditions for providing esoteric services to everyone. We also decided on the conditions under which to do this.

We decided that our project “Cassiopeia” provides esoteric services (we have the “Higher Self”, setting up a contact, viewing past lives, we have different ones) only on the condition of the so-called “donation”, payment according to the heart. A person can pay for spiritual knowledge, for spiritual services, not some fixed price, as we do in a store for something material, but for spirituality, after receiving the service, he can pay as much as his heart tells him. Not as much as the heart of this specialist says, but as much as the heart of a person who has received spiritual knowledge says.

And about this nuance. We have already parted ways with many of our contactees, because they can shoot some videos with us, but in order to have any (as you said) joint activity, we must accept the terms of “Cassiopeia”. We cannot accept their conditions for tariffs (5000 for the “Higher Self”, 15000 for astral travel), because then we will break the promise that we made to our curators.

Why did they decide this? They said that, firstly, this knowledge should be available to absolutely everyone, regardless of material well-being. Secondly, they said that any tariff, any fee limits this specialist, this project to a certain salary. And paying according to your heart gives, firstly, the opportunity to join the Higher Self, the Astral, past lives for those who do not have (large) means, for those who like it.

Maxim: In most cases, contact is with those who do not have means, because society considers them schizophrenics.

Irina: They, especially contactees, may have no money at all, no work, they are considered some kind of strange people. There are cases (I've already seen a lot of them in three years) when there is nothing at all, you even have to pay for the ticket and food yourself in order to establish contact with him. There are very different cases when a person without setting up conscious contact can end up in a psychiatric hospital. He just doesn't understand what's going on. My task is to harmonize it as much as possible.

And the second condition for paying according to your heart. What is payment according to your heart? Of course, many people say: "I value my time." But during this time they will give you at least a hundred rubles, at least ten thousand rubles, you need to accept these funds equally from these two people, say: "Thank you and accept!" - and then treat them equally. That's the point.

Maxim: This is after the session.

Irina: Yes. He can come back for a repeat session later. Treat them the same regardless of how much they were able to allocate.

What is the payment according to your heart? The person himself determines, firstly, how much he values this session, and, secondly, naturally, according to his capabilities. As we know, everyone's financial capabilities are different. We absolutely do not need a person who wants to communicate with aliens, to communicate with his curators, to tear something away from himself and then suffer from it. This will only increase the level of negative energy, not decrease.

From the audience: Irina, please tell me, what if you don't have money? If the money issue is not taken into account at all.

There are trained contactees, as I understand it. They don't need to develop anything additional, is such an Association possible? Suppose, I don't even know why, the Earth is on the verge of catastrophe, contactees gather, gather their curators, and try to broadcast something together.

Irina: I already know very well that at first the contactee who comes is not configured, he has no money at all. He is ready to work with pure enthusiasm. When he is already in the mood, when the information is already coming to him, this enthusiasm begins, so to speak, to be broken by the realities of life: “I am wasting my time. I'm wasting my energy. Why should I spend so much on him, but I get nothing for it, and why is he better than me?” Some questions arise that need to be resolved. And here we all see that, for example, he sees around him that doctors are paid, waiters are paid, and here I am doing work (and this is really work), just like that, or what? So, my profession is the lowest? Some questions begin to arise.

Maxim: Irina, the question was probably a little different. Can they even work for free?

From the audience: No. In principle, can they get together?

From the audience: Can they do something collectively?

Irina: If they want, they can.

From the audience: Develop a common platform.

Irina: We have a video where Maria Sokalskaya gathered us, contactees of completely different projects, Selena, Morea, some others were from completely different projects, and we answered the same questions. But we found a common language there, and we made a good video. Do you know what it's called? We got together, talked and each went our separate ways to our own projects. And those contactees who are part of our project begin to carry this knowledge with us.

Maxim: And they speak the same language, which is important.

Irina: Yes, it is also necessary to speak the same language and provide at least the same information in the same format. For example, if I say: “One percent probability of something,” then, for example, saying several times more in response to the same question will already raise questions among the audience. And doubts will be sown. Why do you say this, and this one says this? And we are called to ensure that a person at least, let alone even, believes in aliens (this is not at all the main thing, because for many people faith depends on perception). Some may believe what they have not seen, some may not. The main goal of the Cassiopeia project is for every person who comes to the project to become acquainted with at least their Higher Self.

Organizers of the meeting: Friends, at eleven o’clock, whether we like it or not, we will have to leave this room. The program has not yet been exhausted. We found ourselves a little in the grip of the given club discipline.

From the audience: Can I ask one last question?

From the audience: There were already three last questions, you know.

Organizers of the meeting: Maybe then we’ll do the following. I propose now a short break, and it seems to me that the questions and answers could even be better formulated informally.

Maxim: Yes, by the way, I also wanted to add. We are ready to hold conferences with scientists, and with very different ones. We are not afraid of the information that is given to us. They don’t give you the technology, but they explain everything.

From the audience: How is your contact with other countries?

Maxim: So far I’ve only been with America, but the Americans said that they now have their own project.

From the audience: What about Germany?

Irina: We have volunteers in Italy and Germany.

Applause.

0:20 Restoring the sense of smell.

Irina: The question was about the absence of odors?

Maria: Yes. This is such a hot topic right now.

Irina: I asked Mida about this.

We sense smell through certain cells. For various reasons - physical, spiritual - these cells may temporarily not work, turn off, let's say so. To turn them on again, it is necessary: first, to go to the Higher Self, ask about the spiritual cause of the disease and eliminate it. Depending on the cause, the elimination mechanism will be different.

Secondly, you need to work with your physical body. Accustom your receptors to different smells again. We even have olfactory gymnastics. A person inhales various strong odors every day for a month. As happens, for example, when a person has not walked for a long time and again accustoms his muscles to walking.

Here you again train your olfactory receptors to perceive strong odors first. Moreover, during one exercise they should alternate, for example, 10 pieces each. Inhale completely different smells for a few seconds to teach these receptors to work again. Interesting gymnastics.

As for herbs or any medications, this can only be recommended during an individual consultation, at an appointment, because each body will have its own. Without knowing you, there can only be general recommendations. What suits one may harm another.

02:50 Diagnosis of schizophrenia.

Irina: The next question is about schizophrenia. Please watch my video called Contact for Schizophrenia. Type in YouTube “Irina Podzorova. Contact in schizophrenia." There Natasha asks me questions about schizophrenics, who they might be in contact with, why they have such phenomena, how they can be helped. At least try to explain to them how they can help themselves.

I have a whole video on this topic, and now talking about it, firstly, is very long. Secondly, to put it briefly, schizophrenia - what is the diagnosis?

This is a mental disorder, as is considered in our medicine, which disrupts a person’s functioning in society; he is not adapted to this world. For example, he doesn’t want to communicate with him. He may be aggressive, unable to work, he may have some strange thoughts and voices.

I want to say that I have encountered such people; modern doctors generally diagnose schizophrenia for any reason. Psychiatrists have this diagnosis. One day I met a girl in an orphanage. She grew up without parents and was a naughty girl. Because she did not obey the teacher, for example, she did not want to clean, the teacher sent her to a psychiatric hospital. And simply for disobedience she was given such a diagnosis. Although she didn't have any votes, etc.

So my point is that if you see a person diagnosed with schizophrenia, it may not always be the contactee. A person could be diagnosed based on his character. Maybe he has his own ideas. For example, a person is diagnosed with schizophrenia when he begins to suspect everyone that they want to harm him. He distrusts his relatives. They did something, he was offended by them. I forgot about it, but he has formed a block that begins to send him thoughts from his subconscious that they want to harm him, poison him. And he begins to express this and somehow try to defend himself from them, because he believes in it. But there is no contact as such, it is his own. The video also talks about this.

How can I help him? A person can only be helped if he himself wants it. Naturally, explaining the reason for what is happening to him from a spiritual point of view, leading him to the Higher Self and helping him clear his blocks so that he would definitely work on himself, forgive, love, and bring the Light.

06:18 Healing and energy blocks.

Maria: Thank you. Raphael, please tell me, in what cases can a healer refuse to help a person? Could it be that, for example, his and this person's curators do not give him the opportunity to heal, because the person must go through some kind of lesson. And the healer's treatment fails. What could be the reasons for this?

Irina: Indeed, it may happen that a person does not complete his lesson, and then the curators can tell the healer that he should not be accepted for the session. And it happens that the healer receives this signal, does not understand it, or rejects it, and then they block the energies.

It happens that a person who has received these light energies feels lighter, better, he feels light, but at the same time he has not worked through his mental programs that led him to destruction. And he begins to do evil with the new energies that his curators and healers filled him with. Begins with redoubled energy to destroy his body or the world around him.

For example, you filled a person with energy, he was depressed, he felt good, he felt an increase in strength, but at the same time he did not work through his block, for example, anger at his wife. I give an example because the situations are different. Or a person came to you who was oppressed, depressed, he had weakness, something hurt. You filled him with energies without telling him that he needed to work with himself, to go to the Higher Self.

He was filled with these energies, your curators shared with him, you shared with him, he felt good. He feels uplifted, feels the Light, because he felt the mood of the beings who shared with him, pumped up his aura. He feels good in these high vibrations because they are higher than him. But he still had a block inside him, for example, anger at his wife, which led him to this disease.

He comes home after the session and starts communicating with her, and he has a block. What is a block of anger towards a wife? It is an energy formation that affects consciousness. His wife begins to irritate him with any word, sight, even her smell, for example. He begins to get irritated and, feeling a rise in energy, begins to splash out this energy, this vital force on her. He starts swearing even more. He has more energy, he has more desire to do it. And he lowers his vibrations even more, and hers too. In this case, the arrival of energy may be blocked at the next session. This is one example.

Maria: Thank you. This is always a sign that a person still has not worked through his spiritual problems, blocks, negative attitudes.

Irina: Yes, if your curators tell you that you don't need to accept treatment, and you feel it intuitively, you don't need to immediately refuse. A person needs to say: "I will talk with my mentors, with my Spirit, with the Divine Self, only then will I give you an answer."

There is no need to refuse right away. Get in touch with your Higher Self, ask what is happening, how a person can be helped to receive these sessions, how to prepare. Maybe advise something, maybe suggest the person to work on himself or something else. Only then come to the treatment session.

10:53 Spiritual cause of blood disease. Hemophilia.

Maria: Thank you. Raphael, please tell me, what are blood diseases usually associated with on a spiritual level?

Irina: Blood is a symbol of the energy of life. If a person has a blood disease, then he does not accept something in life, in the world around him. There may be some judgment. Or he feels resentment towards someone. You may have heard the Russian expression "You spoiled all my blood."

They say this as a reproach that she got on his nerves for a very long time. There is also the expression “to strain one’s nerves” or “to spoil the blood.” This is some kind of strong insult. We are talking specifically about spiritual reasons without physical ones.

Maria: How can there be a physical manifestation in this case without a spiritual cause?

Irina: This is not the case. You just asked about hemophilia, hemophilia is a genetic disease that is transmitted from women. Moreover, women have such a set of chromosomes that they are carriers of these genes, but they themselves do not suffer. Although there is a form of hemophilia when both women and men suffer. We're not talking about her now.

What is hemophilia? This is poor blood clotting. Humans do not have the necessary enzymes. In general, blood clotting is a very complex multi-stage process, which consists of 15 indicators. If a vessel is damaged, one enzyme should be released from the platelets, which should act on the second, which should act on the third, and so along the chain everything should reach the liver enzymes. One enzyme reacts with vitamin K, and a very interesting reaction takes place there.

And only then thrombin is released from one blood protein (prothrombin, in my opinion), it reacts with this substance that comes out of the platelets, and in the end fibrin threads are formed, the so-called protein, which becomes thick. It is formed in the form of microscopic threads; it is clear that you cannot see them with your eyes. Blood elements become entangled in these threads: red blood cells, leukocytes, platelets become entangled, and a thick blood clot is formed that clogs the damaged vessel. This is why the bleeding stops. If a person who is genetically fine, from birth has all the factors that were passed on by his parents.

If any gene that encodes the secretion of a protein in any of these chains is disrupted, missing, or its production is impaired, then this enzyme will not be produced. One or more. And this whole chain turns out to be broken. In humans, blood clots very slowly due to completely different enzymes. And if the damage is severe, it may not curl at all. A person’s blood will simply flow out, even from the slightest injury.

How did Tsarevich Alexei get this disease? His mother was born from a family with hemophilia. This comes from women. And who suffered from hemophilia? The same queen who was Queen of Great Britain. This is his grandmother or great-grandmother. Queen Victoria, as you may have heard, has all her sons and grandchildren with this disease.

What caused this genetic defect? Because there were very often close family ties in royal families. Close relationships are when energies are exchanged and very close relatives come into contact.

When conception occurs and genetic information is exchanged between the mother and father of the child, the same, very similar genes may come into contact with each other in the wrong way. From this, diseases hidden in the family appear because of a close family connection.

Any genus that currently exists has some hidden defects of its own, because any DNA molecule contained in cells undergoes mutations, even simply from life. Because the cell is constantly dividing, our DNA cannot constantly copy itself correctly millions of times.

There is still some hidden small defect. And it will be hidden for thousands of years if there are no closely related ties. If they are, these defects (one similar gene plus a second) will overlap each other, and a common mutation occurs that leads to such diseases.

I hope I have clearly explained the mechanism of the occurrence of diseases such as hemophilia and congenital forms of mental retardation, or dementia, when a person does not understand anything and it is impossible to teach him anything. The genetic reason is clear.

Now we come to the Spirit. The spirit incarnates into this body with a genetic defect. Did he know about this? I feel your question.

Yes indeed. When the Spirit chooses incarnation, he knows about this disease, about this genetic defect, and he voluntarily agrees to go through this lesson (for the Spirit this is a lesson) - to go through his incarnation in this sick body.

For what reason? It happens that this is individual for the Spirit, but this is very rare. More often than not, this is a shared lesson with the parents who conceived it.

I have had such cases. I'm at the Highest I found out. There were congenital genetic diseases, but not hemophilia, but others, like cerebral palsy or autism, also have congenital forms. The Spirit agreed in advance with his parents back in the Spiritual World that they would be his parents, that they would be born earlier and meet in such genetics that such a mutation would appear. And it is he who will be born to them to teach them a lesson of care and love.

Often this Spirit comes from the angelic level. If you think that these are terrible sinners from the lower levels, then this is not always the case, although it does happen. It happens that a child is from an angelic level, and his parents are from an average, even low level. Why is that? Because this child came to teach them selfless Love.

Because a child, when he grows up, will not be able to repay his parents with anything. He is sick. And it even happens that this Spirit sacrifices its incarnation, its goals and is born in a sick body, knowing in advance that it cannot achieve anything here. He will simply live as a disabled person in order to provide an opportunity to take care of him.

Maria: Indeed, an angelic sacrifice. And a lesson in Love.

Irina: Yes. And it happens that if a Spirit has incarnated from a low level, then this Spirit also goes through its own lesson. It happens that he lived in some kind of body and was a tyrant, for example. He mocked people and did some experiments. Maybe he even lived on another planet. He made them mutants, and he himself was born in such a body so that he could experience such a life. You should always look individually. I can only give examples.

Maria: It's still very revealing. It is possible for yourself, even without a good connection with the Higher Self, to receive hints in which direction to explore yourself and see what the reasons could be.

Irina: Yes. The causes of congenital genetic diseases (I just gave hemophilia as an example) are quite numerous. Their reasons are hidden in past lives. Now we say “karmic”. This may indeed be karma, not necessarily heavy, or revenge of the Higher Powers, no. It could be another reason.

22:43 HIV. Healing and vibration level.

Maria: Question about the human immunodeficiency virus. For our civilization it is still an incurable disease. We can only support the patient.

Irina: Yes. We already have medications that, if you take them constantly, a person lives a fairly full life. In general, the law stipulates that he should not get together without warning with a partner who does not have HIV (for obvious reasons). Even if he receives treatment.

But I have come across cases in the literature where a woman was deeply in love with a man who was constantly undergoing treatment. She decided to take the risk voluntarily (he told her) and married him. While constantly receiving therapy with modern medications, they lived with each other like husband and wife, without protecting themselves with anything, as they should. And it was proven that the virus in his blood drops to such levels that it is not transmitted to her.

There are medications that keep the virus dormant. But if he stops taking them, they may rise again. It is also a lesson for the Spirit that he was born in a world where we have not yet overcome this disease. Unlike the same cholera, etc.

Maria: Can raising vibrations, awareness, spirituality, acceptance help cure serious illnesses?

Irina: Yes. Someone asked about a sore throat, someone about a chronic runny nose, etc. All these problems with the nasopharynx - runny nose, adenoids, tonsillitis, otitis, which is associated with the respiratory tract - very often these are problems with microbes, with chronic infections.

And not with viruses - streptococci, staphylococci, this is a problem with the immune system. Very often a person begins to be treated with antibiotics. As long as he is treated with them, he is fine. As soon as he stops drinking them, after some time everything comes back again. Such cases happen, I have seen. We are finding out the spiritual cause of this disease, because there is definitely a decrease in immunity.

Physical methods such as physical therapy, herbs, medications can be used. As well as auxiliary energy methods: healing methods, reiki, cosmoenergetics, various healing systems.

But the main thing should be working with the Spirit. You can use immunostimulants, antibiotics, certain herbs or anything else, and a variety of energies. And plus, of course, proper nutrition, rest, sleep, everything that we must observe for a healthy body, and definitely work with the Higher Self.

Maria: Can we say that these are, among other things, blocks, problems with the fifth chakra, if we take the human body and assign a chakra to each organ disease?

Irina: Yes, it happens that these are problems with the 5th chakra, I have encountered them. The fact that the person did not express any negative emotions. And it happens that these are problems with the 4th chakra, because, for example, it is responsible for the thymus gland, where the immune system is located. And if it falls, chronic diseases of this kind appear.

27:17 Varicose veins.

Irina: Varicose veins. What are the reasons? It is this kind of disease, as MidgasKaus told me, that has more spiritual reasons. Because those valves that should raise the blood, when the legs are down, and the blood descends, in order to nourish the muscle cells of all tissues of the legs, the blood must rise against gravity. And to prevent it from going back down, there are special valves in the veins. As it rises, gravity pushes it down and the valve closes, allowing it to be pushed upward.

But this mechanism does not work for everyone; it breaks down. This is a very delicate mechanism, these valves are built into the walls of the veins, which are wrapped around these structures called smooth muscles, which can expand and contract. And because they do not work correctly, these problems with the valves arise. They simply stop closing when they should, and blood pools in the legs. It begins to collapse there due to stagnation, blood clots appear, overstretching of the walls occurs, pain, veins pop out. Plus oxygen deficiency, an ulcer may even develop.

Spiritual reasons are that a person has some emotions, some feelings in the first chakra: fears, mistrust, non-acceptance of the world, which disrupt the contraction of these valves.

Here we work mainly with the Higher Self. We remove acute symptoms with medicines and energy, then we begin to work with the Higher Self. We definitely ask what the spiritual cause of the disease is. And you can already work with this answer.

Maria: Thank you very much.

29:59 Gynecological diseases. Endometriosis.

Maria: I would like to move from throat and genetic diseases to gynecological ones. These are most likely problems with the second chakra, as I understand it. And what can be said about the spiritual causes of gynecological diseases?

Irina: Which ones?

Maria: Name specific names?

Irina: At least approximately, so that I know what we are talking about.

I don’t know what people want to ask about: uterine fibroids or gonorrhea. These are slightly different diseases.

Maria: For example, endometriosis since the age of 15.

Irina: Now, in general, I will talk about all gynecological diseases. They are associated with physical and spiritual reasons. Physical causes include hypothermia and various infections. Including gynecological infections that are transmitted at birth from mother to daughter.

But as long as the immune system is strong enough, it keeps them under control. As soon as it weakens, due to spiritual reasons, stress, for example, various blocks, it all comes out.

Endometriosis is a hormonal disorder. There are certain tissues that must be excreted as a monthly event in women if the woman does not become pregnant. It happens that these tissues, instead of being completely eliminated from the body, begin to move to other female organs and germinate there.

The tissue that lined the inside of the uterus to receive the baby, instead of being shed every month, takes on a life of its own. They move somewhere, grow, and this causes pain and adhesions.

What does it mean? This means that a person definitely has a spiritual reason that prevents him from cleansing himself of these extra cells. In this case they are no longer needed.

Working with endometriosis makes me understand that most often these gynecological problems of a spiritual level are a failure to accept one’s feminine essence. There is something she doesn't accept in her body. She, perhaps, does not accept her, as they say now, sexuality, considers her desires to be bad, begins to somehow suppress them in herself, redirect them, but does them with condemnation of herself.

The second reason is that there may be grievances against yourself, against your mother, and very often there are grievances against your partner. These are problems of the second chakra. Everything related to family, partner, children. Sometimes such problems can cause, for example, fibroids, fibroids in the uterus, and constant bleeding. A person's Soul cries from resentment, but she hides it. And then her uterus (as the female essence) begins to cry blood. It happens that a woman’s soul cries precisely from resentment towards a man who offended her and humiliated her as a woman. Even if she forgot about it, she developed a block.

Why don't we remember our grievances? Because it’s unpleasant for us to think about it, we banish them from memory and get distracted. Gradually these memories fade away. But this does not mean that the block is leaving. If a person does not forgive, but simply pushes an unpleasant memory out of his memory, then there is a high probability of blocks forming in him. By the way, blocks consist of a person’s own energy. A person spends his energy on this.

Even in life she will have weakness, a lack of vitality, because enormous energy is needed to keep this block in the subconscious so that it does not come out. Any energy strives to come out, but a person holds it, as if under a valve, like a boiler under pressure. And this block begins to disrupt the functions of the organs that are located in the area of this chakra. In this case it is the sex chakra, the second chakra.

The soul of a woman cries inside that she was humiliated as a woman, her first love was betrayed. There are victims of violence, for example. Rape happens even in childhood by one's own father or grandfather. Such cases occur during contact with the Higher Self; a person will not tell anyone about it. It’s very difficult to talk about this even to your own mother. Not to mention anyone else. And he carries this within himself, remembers that it happened somewhere, but does not forgive, does not dissolve these blocks.

In this case, the Soul cries inside that they acted so unfairly. But there are no external tears, the woman smiles, but her uterus begins to cry blood. After all, the womb is the essence of feminine energy. This is her center.

Maria: Every woman or girl with such problems first of all needs to go to the Higher Self and pay attention specifically to problems with the feminine essence.

Irina: So ask: what is the spiritual cause of my endometriosis or my fibroids? If resentment and anger are very strong, then an oncological process may occur in the organs that are located in the area of these chakras.

Maria: Yes, these are always very clear indicators of such blocks.

Irina: Cancer causes a lot of pain. In this case, pain is a symbol of mental pain, which was first mental, and then moved to physics.

Maria: Through the body. And cold hands and feet are indicators of what spiritual blocks or problems? Is this again related to blood circulation?

Irina: Maybe with blood circulation, maybe with the level of pressure. The pressure may be weak, there may be blood vessels, stress, hormonal imbalances. Different reasons.

38:54 Methodology for forgiving an offender.

Irina: What was about forgiveness?

Maria: How to help a person forgive if he cannot do it on his own?

Irina: How I do it. If a person said: “I forgive, leave me, I have forgiven everything,” this is not forgiveness. This must be conscious.

Firstly, in order to help a person forgive, he needs to explain all the consequences of his offense. That he will accumulate a block, that this block will destroy him. And not the person he is offended by (he has his own physical body), but the person himself. So ask: are you ready, for the sake of this resentment, for the sake of anger, to slowly undermine the health of your body, to destroy it? Do not scare him that this will definitely cause some kind of illness, but tell him that this may cause some kind of illness and waste of energy. This is just a warning. Resentment is also energy. “If you get rid of grievances, then you can use this energy that is freed for creation, for building your life.”

After this, if he says: “Yes, I want to, but I can’t,” then say: “To forgive him, you must first accept him. Forgiveness is an action of Love. How can you love him if you are offended by him?” First you need to accept. And in order to accept, you first need to understand the reasons why this person acts this way.

Some people understand that you need to justify him in order to take his side. No, that's not an excuse. Just mentally put yourself in his place and try to understand why he did this. Don't justify it, but understand it.

How to do it? We did forgiveness techniques without direct contact with the Higher Self, it was unconscious. And it happens that a person simply works with resentment. For example, he will say: “Yes, I want to forgive, but I just can’t accept it. He had no right to do this to me.”

We ask the person to relax, close his eyes, and imagine the person with whom he is offended. It is very important to know whether this person is still alive or not. If the person with whom you are offended has already left for the world of Spirits, then it is imperative to ask the Higher Self whether there is a necrotic attachment to the Spirit of this person.

Necrotic attachments very quickly drain a person’s energy and vitality. If there is an exchange with plasmoids (even destructive ones), they have life force, and the Spirit of the Dead loses life force after 40 days. He won't be able to share anything with you.

This also delays its development. Because he, receiving energy from you, constantly remembers you, about your conflict situation. This prevents him from focusing on finding other tasks. In addition to energy depletion and illness, there is also karmic responsibility for a delay in the development of the Spirit.

Therefore, it is necessary to ask the Higher Self, if this person, the offender, has died: “Is there a necrotic connection with this Spirit?” If the answer is “yes,” then you need to work with the energy connection first. You need to call this Spirit, just call him in your own words and talk to him.

If he is alive, or there is no connection, then we simply present him. You definitely need to present it. Because if he is in embodiment, this contact is real, and we will work on a spiritual level with the Higher Self of the offender.

If he died, accordingly, with himself. We ask him to come if he has died. If he is alive, we simply ask for your introduction. A phantom will immediately come to this performance; it will be sent by the Higher Self. We can work in this case without the consent and even without the person’s knowledge, because this is aimed at forgiveness, at untying these karmic knots.

This can be done without the person's consent and knowledge. Even if he is offended by you and has not forgiven you, this is his business, these are his lessons, his work. But, most importantly, you can do it yourself. You can ask the person to introduce him and call him by name. For example, if this is mom, dad, grandfather, grandmother, then you need to address them that way.

If these are children, husband, wife or other people, we usually address them by name. Let the person say a name out loud (for example, Kolya) and have him repeat: “I forgive you!” Repeats after you. And he specifically says for what: for cruelty, for aggression, betrayal, adultery, theft, etc. For some specific actions that he did.

At the end, when he feels that he has said everything, it is advisable for him to say on his own why he forgives him. This will bring greater effect. And for him to say: “I understand that you did this because of the lack of Love in your heart.” Here is the understanding that he did this because he did not have Love, and could not act differently at that moment.

Without Love, we can all be very cruel, including you. Justice without Love makes a person cruel, faith without Love makes a person a fanatic, etc. Every good quality without Love turns into its opposite.

So, we say: “I understand that you did this because of the lack of Love in your heart. I send you the Light of my Love (so that the offended person repeats this) so that you are truly happy, so that you know God and become a bright divine being.”

And let him mentally send Light to him, like the sun, direct a ray to him. And ask: does the offender accept the Light? If he accepts, then everything is in order, let the offended one fill him with Light. If the offender closes himself, runs away, does not want to accept, then we ask the person to repeat: “Don’t be afraid, accept my Light, it is absolutely safe for you, it will make you truly happy,” and we continue to fill it.

Then we ask the person how he feels. And when he talks about his feelings, let him say: “I apologize to my body for creating this block. I forgive myself for this offense. I love and accept myself for who I am. I am the beloved daughter of God (or, if it is a man, then the beloved son of God).”

And then let him repeat this form of transformation: “With the power of my Spirit, I transform the energies of this resentment into the energy of confidence, Love and inspiration!”

You can name any three energies: confidence, happiness and Love. But one of them must be Love. And the other two should be any positive qualities, any positive feelings. After this, you can ask him how he feels. He will feel the rush. This is an order for energy to transform when a person has already forgiven.

Some see the Light, some feel goosebumps, warmth or something else. It's all right. Everyone perceives it differently. You will tell the person: “Breathe this energy into yourself!” When he inhales, he receives and distributes it throughout the body. Let him say out loud: “I thank and accept, I love and bless! I promise to use this energy to develop unconditional Love!”

This will complete the forgiveness process.

Maria: I think that this is a universal remedy, a universal medicine, a cure for any ailment in general, with which you can begin the path of healing. In such simple words. Thanks a lot!

00:01 Homeopathy.

Maria: Question about homeopathy to Archangel Raphael. A rather controversial remedy for doctors who practice classical methods do not always take this remedy. And what will they tell us from the Spiritual world about homeopathy, about homeopathic remedies?

Irina: Homeopathy is the so-called similar treatment. A substance is diluted so many times that no molecules of the active substance remain, and this remedy is used.

What does it mean? If there are no molecules left there, then the energy of this substance remains there. Water is a universal solvent not only of substances, but also a substance that remembers energies very well and transfers them to a person.

Why then charge with a similar substance? What is homeopathy? When water is charged with a substance, the intake of which in large doses in a person will cause symptoms similar to his illness. This translates to “treatment like.” For what?

When you charge with similar energy, this water enters the physical body like simple water, but the information, the invested energy, enters the human etheric body. And this energy, since it is charged with similar energy, then it begins to activate the body's defenses against specific symptoms.

Here the body heals itself, charged with a certain energy, not some substance, as in a medicine, this is a different mechanism of action.

02:45 Changes in the physical body as a result of a quantum transition.

Maria: Thank you! A question. Will changes occur with the physical bodies of people during the period of increased vibrations on the planet, during the so-called quantum transition? Will something happen to our bodies on the physical plane?

Irina: We will be healthier, we will be able to control our body more, we will be able to absorb more energy from the spiritual plane. The 30% that we have embodied will still be embodied in us, but we will be able to use the energies of the 70% that are not embodied to a greater extent. We will be able to connect with our Higher Self more easily.

All the hidden abilities of our brain, body, DNA, which are now hidden, are gradually activated in us. This is an easier effect on the material world. This will also depend on how spiritually we are prepared for these changes of the quantum transition. In the best case scenario, we will live in a bright world, which will be part of the Interstellar Union. We will influence matter with our thoughts in such a way that we will easily heal ourselves, for example.

Maria: There is also a specific question about a girl who, at the age of 9, discovered the gift of seeing the past, the future, healing with her hands, and at the age of 25 she had a mental breakdown (she was even in a psychiatric hospital).

Irina: What kind of question?

Maria: Why could this happen?

Irina: This is the only way to find out through the Higher Self; now I'll sit and wonder.

Maria: I see. Could it be that a person simply could not cope with the pressure of the energy that was given to him?

Irina: Yes, that might be the case.

05:22 Foreign languages in the speech of contactees.

Mary: There is a question about the Holy Spirit.

Irina: About speaking in other tongues, please watch my video about Pentecostals. I answered questions from a member of the Pentecostal community who speak in tongues, and our curators answered through me. Everything is explained in great detail: what these languages are, where they come from, and why they are incomprehensible.

I will say this very briefly. It is high-vibration plasmoids that come into contact with people, who are attracted by the Light of Love, faith, and they want to speak to people in their languages, they enter into them and they have such contact.

Why plasmoids? If they are simply spiritual entities (like Angels), they will speak the language of the contactee. It's easy for them. They are disembodied Spirits, and it is easy for them to read information in the language of the contactee. When a preacher preaches and comes into contact, for example, with the Archangels or with his Higher Self, he begins to speak in his own language. He begins to say spiritual things, read sermons - how to come to God. If these are plasmoids, it can be difficult for them to tune in to the language of the contactee (they are completely from another world). They begin to speak their own language.

Plasmoid languages are very strange. They consist of individual sounds because they have subtle bodies. When they want to say something, for example, to thank you for the Light or give some advice, then the person ends up doing something similar to the contactees with plasmoids that we have on the Internet. At the same time, a person can understand, that is, information can mentally come to him at the same time, and he will be able to translate it into Russian. Or he may not understand what is being said and will not be able to translate and interpret this language. Then he will simply speak in tongues. This is a form of contact.

08:08 The doctrine of the Trinity and the Holy Spirit.

Irina: Regarding the Holy Spirit. These words are used in several senses, in several meanings. If we look now, the Holy Spirit is one of the persons of the Trinity in Christianity. The Trinity is God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit. It is believed that the Holy Spirit differs from the Father and the Son in that the Son is born from the Father, and the Spirit proceeds from the Father. It is born and comes out, Christians themselves cannot explain how this differs from each other. This process is happening. For them it is a mental construct that is filled with meaning, which they understand at their level of awareness. “Is born” and “comes out” are different for them.

What does this mean for us? How does this explain the Interstellar Union? How do I personally understand this (in connection with my contacts, in connection with the Higher Self, with the Ray of Christ Consciousness)?

I understand it this way: the teaching in general about the Holy Spirit, about the Trinity, entered Christianity later than the main books of the Bible were written. In the Bible itself, the word Trinity does not appear even once. It's a fact, you can watch everything. It describes some of the qualities of God, which were understood by Christians later, that this is the Trinity.

For what reason did they understand it this way? Christ flew to the planet Burkhad, and the civilizations that transmitted information about the construction of the Christian church (Mirah Count - Archangel Gabriel was there, Jesus Christ himself, his Angels) used their knowledge to build this egregor. They had a question: how to convey information to people about the creators, about the three races that created man. They decided to introduce that God is a Trinity in order to understand that there were three races of gods. Because all of this was based on the Old Testament, where the word "Elohim" was translated as "gods."

Naturally, Christians, reading the Old Testament, translated “gods” in the plural. God, he actually must be alone. According to Christianity, we have one God - we have monotheism, but suddenly we read in the plural. Some kind of contradiction arises in a person, people did not understand what it was. And they decided to explain that if it is written “gods,” then it means the Trinity, three persons.

Then the question arose: who should be included in these individuals. It is clear that the first is God the Father. Who else should we include there? The second is God the Son, who is Jesus Christ incarnate. I see, two, but what about the third? At one time they wanted a third, like in Judaism. Since there is God the Father and God the Son (there was an understanding in Judaism), then there must also be a mother. The Holy Spirit took the place of God the Mother.

In the ancient world, God was believed to be both masculine and feminine. In Christianity, for obvious reasons, because the Mother of God was only human, they could not include her in the Trinity. Therefore, we decided to include the Holy Spirit. By this they emphasized that there were three creators, and all of them were gods, civilizations.

God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit symbolized the three races: Burkhad, Tumesout, Selbet. Naturally, the word Elohim also meant Selbet, but since Selbet attacked the Earth, his image migrated to the image of a serpent, an attacking dragon. This serpent, which later in biblical mythology began to be called Satan, the devil, was just one of the Elohim. Sorry, we won’t introduce Satan into the Trinity either, for obvious reasons. This is God, and not Satan. Therefore, they decided to introduce the Holy Spirit, although it turned out to be a very shaky construction, which was subjected to great criticism by the same Arians. But it still worked with the help of Emperor Constantine and other emperors, who said: “No, there will be a Trinity, period! All criticism is prohibited." It worked.

What was the weakness of this concept? Because we understand that God the Father himself and God the Son himself are also Spirits. We understand that God the Father is also a Spirit, this is not a body, this is not a physical body. Christ Himself said: “God is Spirit.” And Christ said to himself that he was the incarnate Spirit. And the word Holy comes from the word Light, this is the greatest Light of Love. But just because we called the Holy Spirit, this does not mean that God is not a Spirit or not a saint. He is also a Spirit, and he is not sinful. Or God the Son Jesus Christ - we cannot say that he is not the Spirit or is not a saint either, Christ is also a saint. That's why this situation happened. And how do they then differ from all three, if that Spirit, and this Spirit, and that Spirit, and they are all holy. This situation turned out to be interesting. In any case, they called it what they called it.

The understanding of the Holy Spirit as energy arose later. Initially, it was still believed that this was the person who possessed energy. There are many words in the Bible that the Holy Spirit understands the words addressed specifically to him. He reciprocates, mentors someone. It is clear that these are some kind of individual actions. These are not the actions of just some kind of energy such as electricity.

The Holy Spirit (Archangel Raphael smiles) is the energy of divine consciousness that resides in every person. These are the Spirits who were born after the birth of the Firstborn Son. And the maternal aspect of God is hidden precisely in God the Father as in the common parent for everyone.

The Holy Spirit is all of us, we are all Holy Spirits. Naturally, potentially, because there are things that interfere with our holiness, and they are in the spiritual heart. But potentially we are all Holy Spirits. Any Angel is the Holy Spirit manifested in itself. Any demon is a Holy Spirit who is in a state of darkening with the illusion that he is darkness. And communication, when he says: “I communicate with the Holy Spirit,” is communication with the disembodied part of the Spirit. Not only does he feel like a Soul, but he becomes whole, merges with that part of God that is in everyone. Communication with the Holy Spirit is communication with the Higher Self. In our terminology, of course.

Maria: What an interesting explanation and conclusion: the Holy Spirit is our Higher Self.

18:00 Mission and sacrifice of Christ.

Irina: Good question: what did Christ mean when he said: “It is better for me to leave you so that the Holy Spirit may come to you.” Good question?

Maria: Very good question.

Irina: You know the Bible very well! Archangel Raphael thanks you for reading this great book, which contains descriptions of historical events and a description of the laws of the Spiritual world in the language, naturally, of those authors and the consciousness that existed then, through their prism of understanding. So what does this mean?

“So that the works that I do, he will do also, and greater works than these, because I go to My Father.” Quotes the Bible. I know what you're talking about. These words of Christ related to his mission. He told them at that moment that he needed to leave. By what means did he leave this world, you know by what method. You also know how he came and resurrected his body.

So this is the mission of Christ. We have four meetings with him. The mission was due to the fact that he had been preparing his incarnation for a very long time. He created an entire people with a separate religion, with separate laws, completely different from everyone else, so that it was in this people that his future mother could be incarnated.

Why was all this work needed? So that they just hang him on a cross and that’s it? Not only. All this great work, which took place over several millennia, was necessary for him to come into our body, namely the Firstborn Son of God, who took on our human nature. “He took on our human nature” - this means that he united with our energy with his energy. And going through his whole life, he didn’t just pass. He processed these energies within himself and turned them into Light. He knew perfectly well what his likely outcome from the incarnation would be. There was another type of execution, there was a possibility not only on the cross, but when he was crucified on the cross, this additionally created the conditions for this cross to become a symbol of the altar. This is a symbol of dedication to all plasmoid civilizations, these are the four elements. He also gave energy to his Love and to all the plasmoids of the Earth.

When he lived, he transmitted the energies of Love through his body to space. He healed, resurrected, preached (this is also energy), changed vibrations. And when he was crucified, and he was dying, suffering precisely from physical pain, but spiritually he was so high that he forgave his tormentors and wished them Light, although he saw that his mother was standing next to him, and he felt her feelings. Despite this, he was so spiritually high that he sincerely wished the Light for them, he had no evil, no resentment, none at all, despite the fact that they treated him so unfairly. He didn't break any laws. And due to the fact that he died precisely in high vibrations, his energy dispersed throughout all the elements. Since he was crucified on the cross, it was a sacrifice to the plasmoids. Do you know that there used to be human sacrifices? Which, by the way, he canceled, even when he was in the body of a Tumesoutian, flew to Earth and came into contact with Abraham.

Yes, naturally, for all Universes he is the Primordial Spirit. The Universe is only a material world, but it appeared in the Spiritual world. That is why he cannot fall in his vibrations below the 24th level. Not because he can’t do it (that he was forced), but because he will never want it, never at all. He won't do it of his own free will.

Masha already feels the Light, and I feel it too.

When he died in physical suffering, he remained spiritually pure from condemnation and resentment. It was this purity of it that spread throughout all the plasmoid worlds to all four elements. He left his body. Then he returned when the Burkhadians restored his body, and he entered it. In order for him to connect with the body (this was told), he had to erase information about death and even aging from DNA forever. That is, he forever united with his body and thereby deprived himself of incarnations in millions of worlds.

It is clear that he will now remain so. He can only come out of incarnation if he kills his body. It will never get sick, it will never grow old, he will always remain at that age. If he kills himself, he will lower his vibrations, and this is impossible. Or if he allows himself to be killed again now, it will be suicide on his part, because, taking into account all his energetic, physical and spiritual capabilities, he will recognize his killers and will be able to defend himself. If he allows himself to be killed, then this will be equated to suicide in his situation. Therefore, he will remain like this until the end of this cycle of the Universe, when all matter will pass into the Spiritual world, including his body too.

Why did he do this (he knew that he would come, be resurrected, and so on)? So that his Spirit, being in contact with the body in which there is our nature, our DNA, can remotely create on Earth such an egregor that can change the entire planet. In this egregor, a certain ritual will be assigned to transform wine and bread into his flesh and blood (only at the energy level is this real). When a person consciously accepts this into himself with faith, love, prayers, and gratitude, he changes the vibrations of not only his Soul when he prays to God, but also his body. This allows you to increase the vibrations of the body, allows you to subjugate your instincts and follow the spiritual path.

When he died and charged with his energy, he forever changed the noosphere of the Earth. Moreover, since he changed it on a spiritual level, this change spread to the past, the present, and the future. The Spirit of Christ is now forever in our hearts, in the hearts of every earthling, this is already transmitted through genetics.

27:17 The relationship of Jesus Christ to the Earth.

Maria: Why did he choose our planet for such a feat?

Irina: Tell me, Masha, how do you feel?

Maria: What can I say here? I think it's probably the same as everyone else. Extraordinary Light. We know that you have the Christ Consciousness.

Irina: Yes.

Maria: He speaks through you and transmits information through you. You can feel it. This is an incredible feat on a universal scale. But he was also embodied in other civilizations, on Tumesout, for example, and on other planets, why did he still choose our planet, our civilization?

Irina: There was already an answer. He was one of those who was in the Spiritual World (he was not embodied then), but was one of the curators of those specialists who created our race three million years ago. One of the biologists, specialists who did these experiments (he was a man), was precisely the Spirit, who later incarnated into his mother. This was three million years ago. Christ was in contact with him, as the curator of this humanoid. He told him what decisions to make, how to do everything so that the Spirit could connect with new hybrids, and therefore he always felt responsible for all this.

Maria: What interesting, deep, important explanations for understanding religion, our history in general and all the processes that take place among us, for understanding the incredible measure of Love.

Irina: I just told you about his mission. But the words remained a little behind the scenes. So what he said that "I need to leave and only then the Holy Spirit will come" is about the time when he will leave the incarnation and not only the incarnation, but will leave the Earth altogether. In this case, he meant what in Christianity is called the Ascension (ascended from the Earth).

Why? Because when he left, he sent the Holy Spirit, his Spirit, his Christ consciousness, which began to build egregors (he also had the Holy Spirit, like all of us, and now he has it). This ray of Christ consciousness can be in everyone. In every person who does not even adhere to a strictly Christian religion, but who believes in Him, who loves Him. It is His, it is His feat, it is His life that treats this Spirit with Love. If asked, he can install a ray of Christ consciousness into your spiritual channel. This is what he said: “Until I leave, I cannot send the Spirit to you.” He said that then “when I go to Burkhad, I will have an ascension, and, being in that space, I will raise my vibrations.”

And that's not all the victims. He sacrificed himself on the cross, he remains in his body, but there is one more, his third victim.

The acceptance of his energy body and blood is carried out under the guise of bread and wine, which are charged with the egregor of Christianity through the hands of priests specially dedicated to this. Priests undergo an initiation ceremony for this. Inclusion in the egregor. They can channel these energies from the Spiritual world. In receiving (this is called “communion”, from the words “communion, I am participating”), when a person receives, he connects with Christ on an energetic level. This does not mean that he only unites with Christ. This means that he transfers his energetic state, the state of all his chakras, all his blocks and all his attachments to Christ through an energetic connection. This is energy exchange. Imagine, everything with which people go to communion will go to such a pure Spirit. Moreover, they go on around the clock, because we have different time zones, churches are built everywhere, and this happens around the clock. He feels it all the time.

He feels, and in order to raise the vibrations that fall into him in order to help a person, he raises the vibrations in himself so much that it is very difficult to be near him, even for very bright Spirits. That's why he's on the island. He transmits these high vibrations to a person.

That is, he continues to sacrifice himself every second. He experiences all our feelings, all our emotions that come to him. And he was able to create a Christian egregor after he moved to Burkhad and ended up on that island. There they prepared a certain space for him so that he could process these energies. And he will now do this as long as the last earthling is alive. He will do this work.

I also thank everyone, it's very interesting, thank you. I thank the Christ consciousness, I thank Archangel Raphael, I again felt him speaking through me.

When Christ was able to prepare his space, only then was he able to send his Holy Spirit, that is, his phantom plus Christ consciousness for the construction of the egregor.

Maria: I think now we understand even more in our project what we are striving for. So that after thousands of years of such sacrifices, Jesus would finally be freed from this work. So that he does not have to cleanse the noosphere of our planet.

Irina: The words "Second Coming", when he promised to come a second time, he promised to come no longer through birth. To come with your saints, with your Angels, it is written "to fly on the clouds." He wants to fly in with the Interstellar Union fleet to receive us personally.

Maria: Friends, do you now understand what task we face? We ourselves must learn to raise our vibrations and help each other with this.

Irina: Yes, you have goosebumps of energy, this is quite natural, because deep down in your Soul you know all this. You heard all this in the Spiritual world when you came here. Our Earth is a special planet, it is supported by the Firstborn Son of God himself. The one who does not distinguish himself from the Father.

35:35 Prayers to the Mother of God.

Maria: We thank our friends, our curators, disembodied helpers. I remembered the mother of Jesus, the Mother of God, who is now extending her Protection over us for several months of protection, and I have a request to Irina: at the end of our meeting, read this bright, wonderful prayer.

Irina: Yes, this came to me too. Moreover, today (in three minutes) December 4th will come here. And on December 4th there is a holiday called "Entering the Virgin Mary into the Temple." The Mother of God was brought to the Temple. The prayer will be in her honor.

So now let's all close our eyes. This is the practice. Mentally or in a whisper (as you wish) we repeat everything in a single impulse of our Souls, which are now illuminated by the heavenly Light:

Virgin Mary, Hail, blessed Mary, the Lord is with you, blessed are you among women and blessed is the fruit of your womb, for you gave birth to the Savior of our souls. Amen.

And now I want to invite you to read another appeal to her, which I personally love very much, some know it, some don't, but I ask you to repeat it and feel the energies that will come. How do you like these words:

It is worthy to eat as one truly blesses Thee, the Mother of God, the Ever-Blessed and Most Immaculate, the Mother of our God. We magnify You, the most honorable Cherub and the most glorious without comparison Seraphim, who gave birth to God the Word without corruption.

Let's breathe in this energy that she is now sending to us, let's say: "We thank and accept, We love and bless! We promise to direct this energy towards the development of unconditional Love!"

Great! Now open our eyes. Well, how did you feel? Masha, how did you feel?

Maria: Throughout our meeting, I feel the magical energies of you, our curators, Jesus, and each participant in our meeting.

Irina: What do you think of these words?

Maria: They penetrate into the very Soul.

Irina: Yes, heat is energy, there may be tears, everything is correct.

Maria: Well, friends, we just had a healing experience.

Irina: Yes, Love of the Creator. So, really, I think this meeting should be posted with us, right?

Maria: Yes. We will most likely make three parts.

Irina: Three parts, because we are having a long conversation.

Maria: It passed in a flash.

Irina: Yes, me too. How fast!

Maria: With you and with our heavenly friends, incarnate and non-incarnate, time passes very quickly.

Irina: Excellent, I thank you all, dear friends, for your Light, for your warmth, for your Love, for supporting our Cassiopeia project, for supporting the Sacral school, all our masters, for your help in spiritual development, for help for your families. Any bright thought for the noosphere of the planet is now worth its weight in gold. I thank you for raising the vibrations of the space where you are, and I send you the Light of my Love!

Maria: Thank you, friends! Thank you, Irochka! Thank you very much, we love you very much! Irochka, we love you very much and thank you! See you again, friends!

Irina: Thank you! See you again!

#467 DOLMENS - what is it and the role of aliens? Secrets of ancient dolmens. Cassiopeia Irina Podzorova.

---

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/dolmeny-chto-ehto-takoe-i-rol-inoplanetyan-tajny https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=suHqcRbTLgk

00:01 Purposes of dolmens.

Maxim: What are dolmens, Irina? Every time they ask, I have to tell it again.

Irina: Dolmens?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: (LiShioni) These are stone buildings that were built by ancient peoples inhabiting the south of Russia, the southern steppes. They were built both with the help of alien civilizations (there were such dolmens) and independently: with the help of people, animals, moving heavy blocks.

But their goals were also different. For example, these were materials of this shape and made of such stone that shielded various radiations in the environment. Various energies were collected in these dolmens. The purposes are therapeutic, they were treated there. There are goals - for communication with subtle-material civilizations. When a person was placed there, he was covered with a stone, and he was there, as it were, in a silent chamber, cut off from all types of perception: light, sound, etc. And from this he came into contact.

01:23 Funeral dolmens.

Irina: About dolmens the answer was that these are ancient buildings that were built by our ancestors. Sometimes with the participation of aliens, sometimes on their own. But they were built not just like that, but for ritual purposes. That is, they communicated with the Gods there, treated people and buried the dead so that they would move to the Upper World, the Spiritual World. These were the beliefs.

01:49 Spirits of dolmens. Contact with the Spirits of Dolmens.

Guest: Can you tell us something about the origin of dolmens? Why were they created, when, by what civilization?

There is such a phenomenon as the Spirits of Dolmens. Now many people are reaching such a level that they can begin to contact the Spirits of dolmens. What is this phenomenon? Is there any technique that will help a person start making contact?

Irina: (LiShioni) There are many types of dolmens. They were built for different needs. There were so-called funeral dolmens - where people were buried. They were there for treatment. And they are built in this proportion: walls and a special chamber size, the shape of the chamber, which made it possible to attract the energies of plasmoid civilizations from space. In your language, open a portal. Or strengthen it, which already exists, so that representatives of plasmoid civilizations come there, for example, to treat the sick. These are all traces of those religious cults that existed before the adoption of Christianity.

There was also a purpose for some dolmens. This, as you already said, is communication. People, in your language - shamans, went behind these thick stone walls, they were closed there (like a door - an opening). They were there in the dark, in a state: not seeing light, not hearing sound (because sound practically does not penetrate there). And they entered into a state of communication with subtle-material civilizations, with the Spiritual world. For some people who were not very sensitive to these contacts, this was intensified. And then they came out of there and became, in your language, contactees. This could help them initiate contact.

There are many different types of dolmens. And they were built for different needs. But they were built not only by people; it happened that they were helped by representatives of alien civilizations who were in contact there. Some specialists helped move these stones with an anti-gravity beam to make it easier. They didn't completely build for the people, but together they also helped. Not all, but some, were like that.

How to communicate? For each person, in order to simply tune in to contact, the most general advice can be given. Most dolmens are open to access. It's better to do it inside it. Stay alone and try to go to the Astral, tune in, sit in meditation. What kind of energy or astral practices someone does - it's better to do it there.

I will not say that portals are open in all dolmens. They are not open to everyone. But if there is a photo of a dolmen, then we can go there using this photo and see if it is there. In the Astral.

#471 Who is Ashtar Sheran? ALIENS ANSWERS. Cassiopeia – Irina Podzorova.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/ashtar-sheran-o-sebe
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=mfCXr9Mlz1c

00:01 Ashtar Sheran o sebe.

Maxim: Ashtar is with us now.

Irina: (Ashtar Sheran) My name is Ashtar. I am a representative of a planet that no longer exists. It orbited the star Sirius B 12 thousand years ago and died as a result of the war. Now I live on Burkhad and Tumesout, but I spend most of my time on the space station, which is now, at the moment, located at a distance of 37 astronomical units from your solar system, specifically from the Sun. Our space station has a diameter of about 60 km and is shaped like a dark sphere. On our ship there are 2.5 thousand representatives of my world, who have been living on ships and on other planets since the time our planet died.

01:26 How to invite Ashtar Sheran?

Irina: Ashtar Sheran is a representative of an extraterrestrial civilization that previously lived on a planet orbiting the star Sirius B, but as a result of a war with reptilians 12 thousand years ago, this planet was destroyed. Now Ashtar Sheran, together with his fellow tribesmen, lives in space on a huge base; he has not one base, but a large spaceship.

Maxim: I think we will discuss this. Can we do this directly?

Irina: We will invite him, I will tell him through Mid, through LiShioni or through another alien - through Raom Tiyan, so that they ask Ashtar to come.

Maxim: Come on, let's ask him to come to Crimea.

Irina: Yes, to Crimea. He will ask what questions you have for him. Then we said that there were questions about the war - he was a participant in the war that took place 12 thousand years ago. But if we say that there are questions for him personally, I think he will come.

02:28 Preservation of the civilization of the planet Ashtar Sheran.

Irina: Ashtar Sheran is the incarnate Spirit, he is now incarnate, he is already more than 12 thousand earthly years old. He is the leader of the Fleet, which is in space on large ships. He participated in the defense of our planet and the solar system in general from reptilians - in a war 12 thousand years ago. But, unfortunately, his home planet, which was located near Sirius B, died as a result of this war. Because the Selbetians attacked not only the Solar system, but also their system, which was next to the Solar one. They moved to ships and live on ships. They already have entire generations there, more than 25 thousand, as far as I remember, people live on huge ships. The ships are several tens of kilometers in diameter, round, and resemble entire planets.

#475 What is love? How to love unconditionally? Alien answers. Cassiopeia - Irina Podzorova.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/chto-takoe-lyubov-kak-lyubit-bezuslovno-otvety-ino https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=k1fpI22yd-0

00:01 The nature of love.

Irina: The nature of love is to give love, love not with words, but with practical deeds; to give love and receive for it not services, not money, but simply the joy of realizing that you exist, and that there is someone you love.

00:25 Love of God.

Irina: This is the highest Divine energy, the highest Divine power (and feeling at the same time), supports all life, all truth and Light in this world. And the existence of us all also supports us, makes us godlike, because this is the highest, purest energy of God.

00:48 Love and coercion.

Irina: The selfless gift of life, truth and Love - this is love. This gift of Love does not imply any compulsion to go into the light for someone to whom it is alien in vibration.

01:07 The essence of unconditional Love.

Irina: Love cannot be revealed without its practical implementation in favor of those people who are close to you.

The first thing you need to do is to understand that those people who are directly next to you, that is, your loved ones (in this case), are your best teachers of Love. You can train on them. How to do this in order to love them with active, practical, unconditional love (as they call it)?

What is unconditional? It is often called sacrificial. Why is she called that? Because if it is unconditional, it does not require anything in return. And this is to some extent a sacrifice: of your energy, of your time. But only such actions can develop unconditional Love and raise your vibrations.

The first thing you need to do for this is to generally admit that this is necessary for you. Answer yourself the question: “Why is it necessary?” The answer here will be simple: because God gave you life, gave you the opportunity to live on this planet, also unconditionally. He gives you the light of the Sun, the warmth of the Sun, the opportunity to live here, to exist. Gave you land to grow plants and animals. He also gave this to you unconditionally. For this He does not require any gratitude or payment. Just like you are his son or daughter, being in the material world, if you want to be like God (have the highest vibrations), then you must develop this Love in yourself.

How to do it? The simplest method is to ask yourself: “How would I like to be loved, what would I need?” And give this to your loved ones without any, not even self-interest, but simply without even expecting anything in return, just as God does not expect anything from us. He gave everything and seemed to forget about it. It’s not that you don’t demand, you don't even expect gratitude, no matter how people act.

03:39 Selflessness of Love.

Irina: This is Love when they do good unselfishly, without expecting anything in return. Just as the Sun shines without demanding anything in return from plants and gives them life, so does selfless Love.

03:58 Love and material values.

Irina: You understand well that a person who is filled with Love will not be able to keep a lot of money, even if he has it, for the reason that true Love, having money, will begin to spend it in order to help others, without thinking about himself .
